

Bypass Route Around City Is Authorized

A six-mile loop to carry the U. S. 80 freeway around Big Spring was authorized Wednesday by the State Highway Commission.

The commission designated the bypass for development to freeway standards as soon as funds are available.

The action came as no surprise to Howard County officials. The county commissioners approximately two months ago requested that the loop around Big Spring be surveyed so that the acquisition of right-of-way could be started.

It has been known for several months that Highway Department planning called for an alternate route around Big Spring as part of the long-range Highway 80 development program.

Actual construction of the bypass was expected to be five or 10 years in the future, but commissioners called for the survey so that right-of-way could be purchased a little at a time as funds become available.

In authorizing the loop yesterday, the highway commission said that the relocation of the interstate route around Big Spring is necessary in order to obtain right-of-way within "economical standards." The commission set 300 feet as desirable and 260 feet as the "absolute minimum" for the roadway.

Construction of a divided four-lane highway completely across Howard County already has been started or programmed. Work on the segment from Big Spring westward to the Martin County line is nearing completion, while county commissioners still are attempting to secure necessary right-of-way for the road in the eastern half of the county. Completion of the right-of-way from Big Spring to Coahoma is due in the next few weeks and contract for that portion of the freeway is expected to be let promptly.

No right-of-way has been secured between Coahoma and the Mitchell County line.

Highway Department surveys have not been completed for the bypass, and acquisition of that right-of-way won't be started for some time.

Meanwhile the Fourth Street highway project through town is rapidly shaping up. The south side of the street has been topped from the mid-town area to the west city limits, and topping was being placed on the north side this morning.

Graders and rollers were in use today on the east sector of the Fourth Street project, and it is expected that topping operations will start there just as soon as the west sector is completed.

Part of the county sector of Highway 80 between the old airport terminal building and the railroad tracks has also been topped and base has been prepared for the application of topping between the railroad tracks and the point where Fourth and Third Streets will intersect.

Some of Third Street between Coleman Hill and the planned traffic circle east of town has also been topped. In several places the topping has slipped off the highway and patch work is expected to fill in the faults.

Apparently all the curbs and gutters have been laid, and most of the base has been ready for paving. All that base on the west sector of Fourth Street which has not been topped has been treated in preparation for the topping.

The highway commission also designated 9.6 miles of state road in Nueces County for expressway development. The Nueces road will extend from the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station to an intersection with State Highway 286.

City Prosecutor Steven E. Perakos said the four were booked on an alleged violation of a Connecticut law which forbids persons to claim to be a deity.

Man Says He's Christ; Mental Tests Ordered

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP)—Psychiatric examinations were ordered in City Court here today for four Polish refugees facing blasphemy charges, among them a man who exhibited wounds in his hands and feet and claimed he was Jesus Christ. All four claimed to be 2,000 years old.

Police said John Tschaplinski, 50, when arrested yesterday, was wearing a crown of thorns, causing him to bleed from the head, and wore a loin cloth made from a diaper.

A seven-foot wooden cross with four spikes and a stack of $20 bills were found in his kitchen.

Police said they had taken him into custody several weeks ago after he was found passing out $20 bills at the New Britain General Hospital, but they released him after questioning.

Crash Victim Is Transferred

2nd Lt. James W. Leaton, seriously burned when his T28 trainer pancaked onto the landing area at Webb AFB on Wednesday, was in Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio Thursday.

A burn team from Brooke flew here at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday and ferried Lt. Leaton to San Antonio at 10:30 p. m. His condition was described as fair when he left here.

Lt. Leaton, a member of Class 55-0, was making his final approach when his propeller-driven plane stalled and plopped to the field. It burst into flames.

He sustained a fractured ankle and lacerations.

Four officers in a pair of T33 jet trainers, which tangled at 20,000 feet southeast of Forsan early Wednesday apparently suffered no more than bruises and scratches when they parachuted to safety in northern Sterling County.

Jury Panels Selected For County Court

Judge R. H. Weaver has set the next two weeks for the trial of criminal cases in County Court.

A jury commission this morning selected 20 30-member jury panels for service during the two weeks.

Eleven cases, all involving drunken driving charges, have been set tentatively for trial next week. Approximately 10 other cases will be called for trial the following week.

Judge Weaver will call the list of next week's cases on Monday, but no trial will be started until Tuesday due to conflict with other business, including the Monday morning commissioners' court meeting and hearings in Probate Court. Next week's jury panel will be ordered to report Tuesday morning.

The two weeks of criminal trials will wind up the December term of County Court. A jury panel also will be called for Feb. 14 for a week of civil suit trials. These will be the first jury cases heard in the February term.

On the commission selecting the jury panels this morning were P. A. Ratliff, Mrs. Don Newsom and Joe Williamson.

Congress Hears Eisenhower Request Bipartisan Harmony

Both Parties Are Declared 'On Trial'

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower appealed today for bipartisan harmony and told the new 84th Congress both parties are "on trial" in the free world's struggle to win enduring peace and prevent an atomic "holocaust."

In a State of the Union message noting the shift in control of Congress from Republicans to Democrats, the President declared America's prosperity outlook "is good"—that "business activity now surges with new strength" and that personal income after taxes is "at a record level."

As for the international situation, "there has been progress justifying hope, both for continuing peace and for the ultimate rule of freedom and justice in the world."

"But sobering problems remain ahead" and they require continued heavy spending—two-thirds of the entire federal budget expected to run about $4 billion dollars—to buttress the free nations against any Communist aggression, he said.

"The massive military machines and ambitions of the Soviet-Communist bloc still create uneasiness in the world," he said. "All of us are aware of the continuing reliance of the Soviet Communists on military force, of the power of their weapons, of their present resistance to realistic armament limitation, of their continuing effort to dominate or intimidate free nations on their periphery."

"Their steadily growing power includes an increasing strength in nuclear weapons. This power, combined with the proclaimed intentions of the Communist leaders to communicate the world, is the threat confronting us today."

"To protect our nations and our people from the catastrophe of a nuclear holocaust, free nations must maintain countervailing military power to persuade the Communists of the futility of seeking their ends through aggression."

The President's prepared 7,500-year "there has been progress justifying hope, both for continuing peace and for the ultimate rule of freedom and justice in the world."

Both the grand and reserve champion bulls came from Scurry County, and both had the same birthday on different ranches.

Calls For Emphasis On Air Power

He called for emphasis on modern air power in readying the nation for any attack, and for "reduction of forces in certain categories"—an obvious reference to the cuts planned in Army, Navy and Marine manpower.

On the domestic front, there was a formal call for hiking the 75-cent minimum wage to 90 cents an hour. That would mean a pay raise for 1,300,000 workers now covered by the minimum wage act who are earning between 75 and 90 cents an hour.

So far as the general administration program is concerned, the new aspect this year is that Eisenhower must count even more heavily on the Democrats—now in control of Congress—for a big measure of cooperation in getting it enacted.

"Democratic leaders already have pledged cooperation in the foreign policy and national defense fields, and the President noted today that he has 'already... expressed assurances of unreserved cooperation' in these areas."

There has been no such exchange of pledges on domestic issues, but Eisenhower declared that "the strength of our country" requires teamwork on a broad scale.

With Democrats and Republicans alike casting an eye ahead to the 1956 elections, Eisenhower put it this way:

"Our quest for peace and freedom necessarily presumes that we who hold positions of public trust must rise above self and section—that we must subordinate to the general good our partisan, our personal pride and prejudice. Treasonously, with united purpose, we must fortify the material and spiritual foundations of this land of freedom and of free nations throughout the world."

"As never before, there is need for unhesitating cooperation among the branches of our government."

"At this time the executive and legislative branches are under management of different political parties. This fact places both parties on trial before the American people."

"In less perilous days of the past, division of governmental responsibility among our great parties has produced a paralyzing indecision. We must not let this happen in our time. We must avoid a paralysis of the will for peace and international security."

The President's message was divided into three main parts, he said, to the three main purposes of the federal government:

"First, to maintain justice and freedom among ourselves and, to champion them for others so that we may work effectively for enduring peace;

"Second, to help keep our economy vigorous and expanding, thus sustaining our international strength and assuring better jobs, better living, better opportunities for every citizen;

"And third, to concern ourselves with the human problems of our people so that every American

American Citizen Is Held In Panama Chief's Slaying

By LUIS NOLA
PANAMA (AP)—Panama police held a 34-year-old U.S. citizen incommunicado today in connection with Sunday's slaying of President Jose Antonio Remon. They were questioning at least 70 suspects in the gang-style murder.

Police said they picked up Martin Irving Lipstein—tentatively described as a schoolteacher from New York—at the airport 24 hours after Remon and two other men were shot to death at Juan Franco race track.

Authorities said they had released another U.S. citizen, Roy Bettis, 36, a native of Waukegan, Ill., who is employed by the Canal Zone administration but lives in Panama City. Bettis was questioned about the activities of one of his truck drivers on the night of the murder. National guard headquarters said they had no information against Bettis.

News of these developments came after police announced that ex-President Arnulfo Arias, one of the first arrested, had been moved to national guard headquarters in Chiriqui province 200 miles west of here.

Arias, an arch political foe of Remon, was picked up at his plantation 300 miles west of here shortly after the slaying. Authorities later said the murder weapons were German-made Schmeisser machine guns of a type confiscated from Arias previously.

Arias was ousted from the presidency in 1951 in a coup headed by the national guard force, then under Remon. Remon was elected president for a four-year term in 1952.

Police were tight-lipped about Lipstein, but reliable sources said tests made of his clothing showed traces of gunpowder. Informants said police became suspicious because of his unkempt appearance and his excited reaction Monday when told he could not leave Panama because outgoing flights had been canceled.

Authorities said they were trying to find out why Lipstein had sailed for Italy from Vera Cruz, Mexico, Dec. 17, then decided to disembark at Guaira, Venezuela, and come to Panama.

Reliable sources said Lipstein was a native New Yorker, educated at the University of Southern California. They said he had taught school in Los Angeles two years ago.

Patrolmen Just Sit But Violations Drop

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Gulf Freeway, also called the Houston-Galveston Expressway, is being turned into one of the area's safest thoroughfares instead of the most deadly as formerly.

Houston Traffic Lt. L. H. Ellis said it was all because of eight motorcycle officers conspicuously posted atop freeway overpasses during rush hours.

"That's all the cops do—just sit there looking ready for speeders."

"We're not out there to give tickets," one said. "We just want to be seen."

Scenic Mountain Car Mishap Gives Two Minor Injuries

Two Webb AFB airmen received only minor injuries in a Scenic Mountain accident that demolished their car early today.

The car, a 1947 Studebaker, was torn up when it plunged over an embankment and landed on its top. A-3C Ronald Porter and A-3C Arthur J. Allison were driving from the top of the mountain when the vehicle left the road and tumbled over a retaining wall near the entrance to the Big Spring State Park.

Porter received lacerations of his leg. Allison received a head injury thought to be minor, although he still complained of a headache at noon today.

The accident occurred about midnight, according to Deputy Sheriff C. H. Ferguson.

President Gets Frequent Applause During Address

Eisenhower turned and shook hands warmly with Rayburn.

He was interrupted frequently by applause during his State-of-the-Union address today. One such break came when he mentioned United Nations efforts to obtain the release of 11 American flyers imprisoned as "spies" by Communist China.

The mention was in a passing way in connection with a statement that "we must continue to support and strengthen the United Nations."

Accompanying him to the Capitol and looking on from a gallery were Mrs. Eisenhower and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower. Among those in the gallery with them were Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, wife of the vice president, and Mrs. John Foster Dulles, wife of the secretary of state.

The lawmakers on the floor rose and applauded when Mrs. Eisenhower came in, wearing a black suit trimmed with rhinestone buttons, a small black breton hat, and a mink stole. She responded with a bright smile.

The President entered the chamber and everyone stood and cheered as William "Fishbait" Miller, House doorkeeper, announced him.

The ovation lasted almost two minutes and was resumed briefly when Speaker Rayburn introduced the President.

The President acknowledged it by raising his hands over his head and smiling broadly. He was wearing a gray suit, blue shirt, and dark tie.

In the President's immediate surroundings, members of the legislative corps and high government officials. Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin was among them.

U.S. military leaders were present in addition to Cabinet members and civilian officials.

At the outset of his speech, the President devoted five minutes to a personal text to congratulate Rayburn on his 73rd birthday anniversary today. That produced a short ovation for Rayburn.

Eisenhower turned and shook hands warmly with Rayburn.

In the era of outward good will surrounding yesterday's change of congressional control from Republicans to Democrats, key administration officials moved swiftly to open the doors to two-party consultation on which they obviously pin their hopes for enactment of major Eisenhower legislative proposals.

Secretary of State Dulles arranged a breakfast conference with Sen. George (D-Ga.) for a general discussion of the international situation.

George, top Democrat in service in the Senate, yesterday was elected president pro tempore of that body, formally switching control to the Democrats. Next week George will become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Secretary of Defense Wilson sat down yesterday with the incoming and outgoing chairmen of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Senators Russell (D-Ga.) and Saltonstall (R-Mass.), to discuss the military program.

Announced plans to reduce the size of the nation's ground forces already have prompted Russell to suggest that the committee take a thorough look at the nation's military needs before approving any changes in personnel goals. Saltonstall agreed that proposed military manpower cuts will be explored fully.

"The issue of what Congress does about it will turn on whether we have enough manpower for the

Robinson Steer In Arizona Finals

Lloyd Robinson and not Perry Walker had the champion Hereford steer in the Arizona National Livestock Show at Phoenix, Ariz.

The Associated Press erroneously reported Perry's 1,250-pound T-O calf as the top of its class. Wednesday evening word came through from Phoenix that it was Robinson's T-O calf that paced the Herefords.

There was no explanation for the mix up except that perhaps there was a transposition in reporting. The two exhibitors were listed next to each other in the catalogue and one had No. 139 and the other No. 140. Apparently the livestock reporter at Phoenix got on the wrong line.

County Agent Durward Lewter was optimistic over chances of Robinson's steer to take the grand championship of the show. The calf already had beaten practically all top contenders in winning the breed title.

Final judging was delayed until Thursday in order that Arizona's governor could be on hand.

Walker was unable to accompany his calves to Phoenix because his 2½-year-old son, Terry, suffered a broken leg Sunday.

Robert Lomax won first place in the middleweight class. Sue White was third and Ann White fourth. Lorin McDowell Jr. had a seventh place in his division.

Wife of Senator Stalks Out On Neuberger Talk, Has Verbal Tiff

By ED CREAON
WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The wife of a Republican senator stalked out last night on a speech by Oregon's new Democratic Sen. Richard L. Neuberger assailing "character assassination" in political campaigning. Mrs. George W. Malone, wife of the senator from Nevada, boomed and then left the crowded Presidential Room of the Statler Hotel while Neuberger was speaking. Neuberger, sworn in yesterday as a senator, shared the speaker's platform with Vice President Nixon and New Jersey's new Republican Sen. Clifford P. Case at the annual congressional dinner of the Women's National Press Club. Neuberger said a "distinguished member" of the Republican party engaged in below-the-belt tactics in the 1954 campaign. He named no names. Some Democrats have accused Nixon of such tactics. The vice president listed Neuberger as a "left-wing" candidate at Pocatello, Idaho, last Oct. 25. Nixon did not join in a burst of applause which greeted Neuberger's first reference to "character assassination." He did join in the handclapping at the end of Neuberger's talk, however. By that time Mrs. Malone—known to friends as "Katie"—had left the room, declaring in audible tones: "I've had all I can take."

District Scouting Leaders To Meet Tonight At HCJC

Scout leaders in the Lone Star district are rolling 10 meetings into one at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Howard County Junior College Auditorium. The occasion will mark the installation of new district officers with Charles Weeg succeeding Dr. Frank Dillon as chairman. Besides the sessions for the Cub, Scout and Explorer leaders, there will be meetings for the seven operating committees of the district. Committee chairmen have been asked to secure as large an attendance as possible from their members. Details of the Scout circus will be talked along with plans for the annual Buffalo Trail Council meeting here this month.

most friendly to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Malone remained at the table. Some 70 senators and several hundred other persons, including a number of Eisenhower administration officials, attended the dinner. Neuberger, the final speaker, said that if both Democrats and Republicans agree to campaign "on issues and not on character assassination" then "we will have contributed something to American life which will endure in all the years ahead."

Assailing "guilt by association," the new senator said Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California, avoided such tactics and was completely fair in Oregon speeches he made against Neuberger last fall. Nixon stuck to pleasantries and avoided political controversy in his own brief welcoming address. Case said in another brief talk that the test the voters will apply to both Democrats and Republicans in 1956 will be the degree of support they give to President Eisenhower's program.

FHA, Bank Dispute Slows Loan Program

SAN ANGELO (U.P.)—Because of a disagreement between the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) and regular lending agencies the emergency livestock loan situation in West Texas is in something of a snarl, a newspaper says. The San Angelo Standard-Times said yesterday granting of the loans in the area was "slowed down" and that "it appears to be much the same picture in other FHA offices." "About 40 loan applications are stalled in the FHA office in San Angelo," the newspaper said. But Howard C. Warner, in charge of the San Angelo FHA office, said the drought relief loans to ranchers were not completely cut off. "We're getting some loans approved and some turned down," he said. Meanwhile, in his State of the Union address to Congress today, President Eisenhower said: "Because drought also remains a serious agricultural problem, I shall recommend legislation to strengthen federal disaster assistance programs. This legislation will prescribe an improved appraisal of need, better adjustment of the various programs to local conditions, and a more equitable sharing of cost between the states and the federal government." The President added that he later would submit recommendations designed to assure "steady alleviation" of the "most pressing concerns" of farmers. The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Assn. said it has asked Gov. Allan Shivers and members of the Texas delegation in Washington to try for a quick solution of the problem. The Standard-Times explained the situation like this: Last year the FHA began granting loans to farmers and ranchers who had borrowed their limit from banks and regular lending agencies. However, before the loan was granted the banks had to sign a 3-year-non-disturbance agreement. In each case the income from a ranch was divided equally between the FHA and bank in paying off the loans, the newspaper said. "Now the FHA is asking a larger percentage of income before it will agree to a 1955 loan for a rancher who borrowed from the FHA in 1954," the Standard-Times said. In some cases, the story said, the FHA is asking for an agreement that the 1955 loan will be paid in full before any payments are made on a pending 1954 FHA loan or on a bank's original loan. Where 1954 loan payments could be spread over three years, the FHA is asking that 1955 loans be paid within one year. "The banks said the FHA is breaking its original agreement to split income for loan payments," the Standard-Times said. "They say the FHA committed itself on the split payment plan for three years. And as first lien holders the banks are not approving the 1955 loans."

Closed-Circuit TV Introduces Humble Product

The state's first closed-circuit telecast was used Monday afternoon by Humble Oil & Refining Company to introduce a new high octane gasoline, soon to be on the market. Through the medium of television, Humble was able to introduce the new product to 4,000 agents, dealers, and sales people all over the state at the same moment. The one-hour announcement program originated in Dallas and was transmitted via coaxial cable to auditoriums in 10 cities over the state where Humble representatives were waiting. The story of the new gasoline—called "Esso Extra for '55"—was told through demonstrations and graphic illustrations by sales and refining specialists. Humble research scientists termed it "the highest octane motor gasoline ever marketed in Texas" and said it resulted from "a long range research program aimed at producing the best fuel for the high-compression engines of 1955." Freeland Austin, local Humble distributor, and all Humble dealers in Big Spring and Stanton participated in the session Monday at Lubbock. F. A. Watts, sales manager, told them and Humble people throughout Texas that the new Esso Extra will improve the performance of any car. G. A. Mabry, advertising manager, outlined an extensive advertising and sales promotion effort starting Friday.

INCOME TAX FACTS New Law May Save You

(This is the first in a series of articles on income tax changes which are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)
The "Ideas of March" will no longer hold any terror for the average taxpayer, but the new tax deadline of April 15 can be just as alarming if you don't start early to prepare your federal income tax return.
To help you get started this newspaper is publishing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. Use these articles, together with the instructions that come with your federal income tax forms, to guide you in making out your return.
Most taxpayers report their income for the calendar year on a cash basis, and the new rules are explained here as they apply to these typical taxpayers. Anyone who uses a different fiscal year or reports on an accrual basis should check the official instructions to see how he is affected.
Last August the Internal Revenue Code was completely overhauled by Congress and thousands of changes were made affecting taxpayers. It is estimated that every year, a million taxpayers overpay their income taxes by a total of more than $100,000,000. More millions of taxpayers pay less tax than is due, making them liable for assessments, interest and possible penalties.
With the many changes of the new law there is even greater danger of mistakes this year unless you read the instructions and prepare your tax return with great care.
This is a good reason for starting long before April 15. Here's another:
If you find that more tax has been withheld from your wages than you actually owe, you will be entitled to a refund of the difference. The sooner you file your return, the sooner you are likely to get your refund.
What are the chances of a refund? Well, your tax will probably be less because of the reduction of approximately 10 per cent in tax rates since last year, but you have been getting the advantage of this reduction all through the year in the form of reduced withholdings from your pay.
Many newly authorized deductions, however, may cut down your tax bill below the amount

Man's 1913 Liberty Head Nickel Phony

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (U.P.)—B. F. Rimmer read in the Corpus Christi Caller of an expert coin collector visiting here with a 1913 liberty head nickel valued at more than $10,000. Rimmer quickly called the newspaper. "I've one too!" he exclaimed. Expert J. V. McDermott of South Milwaukee, Wis., convinced Rimmer the nickel was a phony. The date on many 1910 and 1912 liberty heads have been illegally altered to appear as 1913 coins. Only five 1913 liberty head nickels were made and the whereabouts of each is known.

For Smaller Types

Petite Martha Vickers, one of the busiest actresses in Hollywood, tells some points on how a small girl should dress. You'll be seeing Martha on NBC-TV's "Fireside Theatre" early this month.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY Smaller Girl Avoids Frills For Simplicity

Pot Plants Deserve Special Treatment

By ANNE LEFVER - Did you receive a pot plant for Christmas or New Year's? Simple precautions in the care of them will add to their span of life and beauty.

In the seeds. This will prevent water from standing around the seeds and rotting them before they can sprout.

Most homes, especially those heated by a central unit, the air may be a bit dry for the plants. For this reason, place them as far from the source of heat as possible.

Gladiolus bulbs should be planted now. In order that you may have the earliest blooms possible, put them six inches or more apart and the same depth in rich well-drained soil.

Don't give house plants too much food as this will burn them. It should not be applied too near the stems when it is given. Water should be given in amounts that the plant can absorb, since the roots will rot if they are allowed to stand in damp soil.

Now is the time to plant hardy annuals, such as larkspur, poppies, cornflowers, pinks, alyssum and calendulas. Spade the soil deeply and mix well with a large amount of humus. If you have a hot-bed or seed plat, you may start pansies and tuberous begonias in them.

Most plants prefer tepid water, rather than cold, as the growth of the root system will be checked if the water is too cold. Cyclamens should always be watered from the bottom. This is done by placing the pot in a pan of water and allowing it to remain long enough for the top of the soil to become moist. African violets will also benefit from this kind of watering.

This is a good time to study seed catalogues and make plans for the cleaning and planting to be done later.

The narcissus and hyacinth bulbs, potted for forcing, may now be brought into the house at two-week intervals. If some of the hyacinth spikes appear rather short for blooms, place a cone of paper over them for several days. This will make them grow before they start blooming.

Outside, there isn't too much work to be done. Those pruning shears should not be unheated unless you have a shrub of the buddleia family. Old clumps of daffodils may be given with a lot of soil left around them if you just must do it. This will probably delay their blooming a short time, but it will prolong the season since they will bloom after the ones which were not moved.

Sweet peas may be planted now if you have not done this earlier. Remember to sprinkle sand in the bottom of the trench before putting

Fashion's Prediction Told For '55

AP Newsfeatures - Here's how women will look in 1955, as a few famous designers predict:

Ether Dorothy: Women will have more curves than points. Sex appeal will be more subtle for daytime but more rampant in evening fashions.

Hairpin Lace

By CAROL CURTIS - Sufficiently modern-looking to be used in the most modern of rooms is this dark brown and gold thread chair set made in fast-moving technique in hairpin lace. You can adapt the set to any color; use either gold or silver for contrast. Actual size detail in pattern, all instructions.

Lilly Dache: The natural look in fashion and beauty will be replaced by the "super-natural" look. Both clothes and cosmetics will plainly show that they have improved on nature. There will be little pride attached to having been born pretty. It will be more important to show that you know all the glamor tricks. There will be more redheads than blondes. Hats will come back in a big way.

Send 25 cents for PATTERN No. 626. YOUR NAME, ADDRESS, PATTERN NUMBER to CAROL CURTIS, Big Spring Herald, Box 229 Madison Square Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Cell Chapman: Women will look leaner, taller and more sleekly groomed than before. The cute "starlet" type of beauty won't appeal to anybody; the well-bred beauty with brains and emotion will be the ideal. Women will like looking pale and interesting.

The NEEDLEWORK GUIDE, 30 pages, 150 designs for knitting, crochet, embroidery, hairpin lace, dozens of beautiful color transfers. Order as you do needlework patterns. Only 25 cents.

Sally Victor: The slim silhouette coming in will inevitably bring more hat with it. Some hats will be wider, some higher, some brighter in color, but however they draw the eye, hats will be essential to the overall fashion picture.

Congressional, Judicial Pay Raises Urged

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — A move to give members of Congress and most federal judges an 80 per cent pay raise got top priority rating today in the House Judiciary Committee.

And if Committee Chairman Celler (D-NY) has his way, the House will have an opportunity to vote on the legislation within a month. "It will be passed too," he said in an interview.

Celler, who introduced the pay hike measure at the opening of the new House session yesterday, said he will ask the Judiciary Committee to consider it within the next few weeks. House leaders don't want to delay action on the bill until next year, when all House members are up for election.

Separate legislation to raise the pay of postal workers and all other federal employees by perhaps 5 to 10 per cent is scheduled for early consideration by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

"The increase in the cost of living, the increase in comparative salaries in business, the inequities within the whole government salary structure amply justify these adjustments," Celler said. His bill would make the pay of members of Congress $22,500 annually, exclusive of a $2,500 expense allowance. Congressmen now receive $12,500 plus the $2,500 expense item.

Justices of the Supreme Court would be raised from $25,000 to $35,000 with the chief justice receiving $500 more than the associate justices, as he now does.

Circuit judges, Court of Claims judges and judges of the Customs and Patent Appeals Court would be boosted from $17,500 to $25,000.

District judges would receive $22,500, a raise of $7,500. Judges of the Customs Court and the Tax Court would be raised from $15,000 to $17,500.

U.S. attorneys and their assistants would be given salaries based on the size of their districts and their duties, the range being from $12,000 to $20,000 for the attorneys and from $5,000 to $15,000 for their assistants. Their pay now is fixed by the attorney general.

Wichita Falls Boy Wins State Jaycee Contest 2nd Time

For the second consecutive year, a student of Wichita Falls High School has been the state winner of the Voice of Democracy contest. He is Mike Daves, a senior. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Daves.

The "Voice of Democracy" is a contest sponsored on the local level by the individual Jaycee organizations; on the state level by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mike is a staff member of the Wichita Falls High School paper, the Coyote News; a member of the Latin Club; vice president of the National League and a member of the Senior Council. Only 16 years of age, he is a licensed Methodist minister and plans on making a career in that profession. Already becoming well known throughout the state for his speaking ability, he won the 1954 state essay contest on Methodist Hospital; placed second in the Texas Interscholastic League regional contest and in the regional Optimist declamation contest.

As Texas winner, he will compete in the national contest, which also will be judged by transcription. There will be entrants from each of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii. Four co-equal national winners will be selected, each receiving a $500 scholarship and week-long expense-paid trip to Washington, D. C. and Colonial Williamsburg, Va.

Second place winner in the Texas contest was Gwen Lareau, a senior at Abilene High School, with third place going to Marjorie Harris, who attends Booker T. Washington High School at Dallas.

Filipino Urges Asian Economic Union Plan

MANILA (AP)—Vice President Carlos P. Garcia said last night the Philippines would urge Manila Pact nations to establish an Asian economic cooperation union to promote regional trade.

"It would also strengthen the resistance of member nations against Communist aggression," said Garcia, who also is foreign secretary.

He said the plan would include a currency system, similar to the European Payments Union, which would clear trade barriers arising from currency differences.

Grain Fraud Case Indictment Upheld

HOUSTON (AP)—Federal Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally refused yesterday to dismiss an indictment against E. H. Thornton Sr., former general manager of the Galveston Wharves, and several officers of a grain firm.

Thornton and several officials of the Bunge Corp. are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government through collection of export subsidies on inferior Canadian grain.

The trial has been set for Jan. 21 in Galveston.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

This is another one of those poems by that fellow anon, who seems to have written many a 'cherce' item down through the years:

"I think that I shall never see
A satisfactory referee,
About whose head a halo shines,
Whose merits rate reporters' lines;
One who calls them as they are
And not as I should wish, by far.

"A gent who leans not either way
But lets the guys decide the play;
A guy who'll sting the coach who yaps,
From Snyder Hill or old Hillaps.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God could referee."

When the University of Kentucky basketball team knocked off St. Louis University, 82-65, recently, Texan Bob Burrow scored 25 points for the Wildcats.

Butcher Cattle Prices Higher At Wednesday Auction

Butcher cattle were selling from 50 cents to $1 higher while stocker cattle remained steady at the Big Spring Livestock Auction Company's sale Wednesday.

Fat bulls sold for 13.50, fat cows from 10.00 to 12.50, butcher cows from 8.00 to 9.00 and canners from 7.00 to 8.00.

Fat butcher calves went for 16.00 to 20.00, stocker steer calves for 18.00 to 19.00, heifer calves for 14.00 to 16.00 and hogs from 18.00 to 19.00.

An estimated 500 cattle and 20 hogs went through the ring.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A 10-month-old alligator.

Are alligators natives of any place besides the continent of North America?

Yes, they are found on two other continents. Alligators of special types live in parts of South America and China has small alligators.

Q. What about Egypt?
A. Egypt used to have far more alligators than it has today.

Q. The Nile?
A. Egypt does not have alligators, but it does have crocodiles. The crocodiles are far less common nowadays than in the past, but the Nile has some of them, especially in the headwaters of the mighty river. Other crocodiles live elsewhere in Africa, including the valley of the Congo River.

Q. Which are more dangerous, alligators or crocodiles?
A. Crocodiles are far more dangerous. It is possible for an alligator to injure, or even to slay, a human being, but they seem never to seek people as victims. Crocodiles, on the other hand, sometimes pursue human beings. They can run rapidly. Many an African who has dared to take a bath in a river has been snapped up by a crocodile.

Uranium Hunters, Thanks To Old Law, Infest Ranches

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.S.)—Hold them about trespassing or intruding.

The Texas Legislature in 1919 gave landowners who had bought land from the state the right to lease land for oil and gas. The state wanted a one-sixteenth royalty. The landowner could get that much or more, just so long as the state received one sixteenth or half of any amount more than that.

But the 1919 Legislature hadn't heard about uranium and didn't worry about such minerals. Neither did the ranchers.

So the rights for minerals other than oil or gas belong to the state. A citizen can go hunting them.

And prospectors fan out over the ranchlands every weekend.

Directors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn. were expected to use strong words today in passing a resolution here asking for the same rights on uranium and other minerals they now have on gas and oil.

Fort Worth Atty. Oliver Fannin says a new law is necessary.

"And that's what we need," said a cowman, before every one of the 7,300,000 acres of land involved is infected with uranium hunters.

"It's not just weekenders that are doing it," the ranchers complain. "Every doggone store clerk in the Southwest is writing Sears and Roebuck and Montgomery Ward for Geiger counters. They plan to spend their two-week vacations hunting A-bombs on our ranches."

An Egyptian-sponsored fleet of Phoenician sailors circumnavigated Africa about 600 B. C.

Texas Tech's History Will Be Compiled

LUBBOCK — Mrs. Ruth Horn Andrews, daughter of the first president of Texas Tech, has been engaged to write the college's history. She will arrive here Feb. 1 from New York to begin her assignment.

Mrs. Andrews, a Lubbock resident for more than 20 years, took both her bachelor's and master's degree from the institution and then served on its English faculty from 1933-1944. At various times she served her father, Dr. Paul W. Horn, as secretary and hostess.

"Mrs. Andrews is personally acquainted with everybody who significantly affected the course of this college during its early years," Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president, stated in announcing her appointment.

Texas Tech is especially fortunate, Dr. Jones said, in being able to undertake a history while most of those men and women responsible for the development of the college are still alive. Texas Tech, now in the middle of its 29th year, was established in 1925.

It is hoped that the history can be published in conjunction with Tech's 30th anniversary celebration in June, 1956.

Bond Forfeited In FHA Fraud Case

HOUSTON (U.S.)—Judge Allen B. Hannay yesterday ordered forfeiture of a $5,000 bond on James Lester Bennett, 30.

Bennett, in jail at Refugio, was to have faced trial here on charges he made false statements to a government agency. He is awaiting trial in Refugio County on state charges of defrauding residents of that area with a home repair scheme.

The federal charge, to which Bennett pleaded innocence June 23 in Galveston, alleges he and two associates secured payments from Federal Housing Administration but did no actual repair work.

New Trial Motion In Libel Case Is Denied

LAREDO (U.S.)—A motion for a new trial for Santos de la Paz, publisher of the weekly Corpus Christi "La Verdad," was denied yesterday by Judge R. D. Wright, 49th District Court.

De La Paz' attorneys filed notice of appeal.

The publisher was convicted by a Webb County jury recently of criminal libel and given a six-month jail sentence. The libel case grew out of statements in the weekly about Manuel G. Raymond, former Webb County judge and South Texas political leader.

Southwestern Oil Operator Succumbs

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (U.S.)—Daniel Archibald McDougal, 59, former Texas and Oklahoma oil man, died in a hospital here yesterday.

He was one of the original operators in the Glenn Pool Oil Field of Oklahoma. He served as mayor of Sapulpa, Okla., and was a member of the state legislature. He was widely known in Oklahoma for Anti-Saloon League activities.

McDougal headed the Chevalier Corp., which owned 200,000 acres on the Florida Gulf Coast and was one of the backers of the deep oil test near Forty-mile Bend in the Everglades.

Less Drastic Slashes Loom For U.S. Military Branches

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's armed services appeared today to face a somewhat less stringent belt tightening than was in prospect a week ago.

Top House Democrats let it be known that a strong national defense, rather than a balanced budget, would be their primary consideration in guiding appropriations in the new Congress.

And President Eisenhower, in a letter to Secretary of Defense Wilson made public late yesterday, accepted Pentagon proposals for continued reduction in personnel strength, but mentioned force levels slightly above those originally proposed.

Eisenhower said he contemplated an armed force strength by next June of about three million—or 60,000 more than the Pentagon had proposed. He said it would not be wise to fix a "rigid" target for 1956, but he thought a "goal" of 2,850,000 could be aimed at—with any further material reductions dependent upon an improved world situation.

Wilson had suggested a 2,815,000-man level by June 1956.

At the Pentagon, the word was passed that a "resurvey" since manpower goals were announced Dec. 20 resulted in the 35,000 increase for 1956. The Army, which would bear the sharpest reduction, apparently would get about 25,000 of the 35,000.

Lamesa Country Club Approves Rebuilding Plans

LAMESA — Extensive remodeling and expansion plans are to get under way soon on the Lamesa Country Club house. Stockholders voted overwhelmingly in favor of the building program.

Stockholders in a meeting Tuesday evening voted in favor of equal membership donations to carry out the expansion plans which will in all probability get under way within the next 15 days.

A recent fire destroyed the pro's shop and caused extensive damage to the ballroom, dining room and kitchen, resulting in an insurance settlement of some $7,000 which will be used in building the wood, concrete and brick structure, in addition to an approximate $15,000 donated by members.

The increase in size of the club house will be 3,000 square feet, exclusive of two concrete porches, a patio, pool service and caddy service alcoves amounting to an additional 1,700 square feet.

Expansion of the structure will include a more spacious ballroom, 90x32 feet, a 36x18 1/2-foot kitchen, and a 16x22-foot pro shop.

New additions will be a 24x16-foot ladies lounge, rest rooms, showers and lockers. A 24x16 men's lounge will be added, as well as additional showers and lockers. A pro's workshop and storage space, and an extra bedroom for the pro's apartment have been included in the plans. A large south porch eight feet wide, adjacent to the first tee, will extend sixty feet in length to accommodate golf spectators.

Adjoining the ballroom, a patio enclosed by a low brick rail will overlook the new swimming pool and wading pool built last year. For greater privacy and protection from inclement weather, a high tile wall will enclose the pools on the north and west sides. Additional club storage space and convenient entrances have also been mapped in the plans.

The kitchen will be equipped with a commercial range and additional cold storage units. Slightly damaged furnishings will be renovated with others being replaced.

Bob Van Wie, president of the club, said plans would be put in the hands of a contractor as soon as all club members had been contacted.

Edwards Selected To Fill Unexpired Dawson J. P. Term

LAMESA — James R. (Jim) Edwards has been appointed to serve as justice of the peace for the next four-year term by the Dawson County Commissioners Court, replacing the late D. M. Campbell.

Edwards, 48 years old, was sworn in by County Judge Aubrey Boswell, shortly after the appointment was made Monday.

Edwards served two years as Chief Deputy Sheriff of Crosby County from 1937 to 1939. He served in the Bethlehem Steel Ship Yards at Terminal Island, Calif., repairing and installing guns on battleships during World War II.

In the July Primary, Edwards sought the position of Justice of the Peace and was defeated by a narrow margin of 167 votes by Campbell who had held the office for 18 years prior to his death. Campbell's re-election would have been his 10th consecutive term.

Harvard Prof Says Charges Unfounded, Delivers His Speech

HOUSTON (AP)—A Harvard University professor of geology delivered a lecture here last night without incident although American Legion charges in advance of the address linked him with Communist front groups.

Dr. Kirtley F. Mather called the charges ridiculous and said the "American thing" for his American Legion critics here to do would be to "shut up."

"I have never heard of two or three of the groups," Mather told reporters here. "Four or five quoted from my publications in their material. In two or three instances, it was a case of mistaken identity."

Mather said he was proud to have been associated with "four or five of the organizations."

"They should never have been cited as subversive," he said.

He named two as the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee and the American-Soviet Science Society.

The first, he said, cared for wounded Loyalist veterans of the Spanish Civil War. The second, he said, "was formed about 1940 to translate Russian scientific works into English."

Investigation Set In Death Of Man Jailed After Crash

HOUSTON (AP)—Mayor Roy Hofheinz and the city council have ordered an investigation of the death of Lufkin man who went to jail instead of to a hospital although he had a skull fracture.

The mayor and council acted yesterday after hearing a plea from the dead man's sister, Mrs. D'Alce Kennedy of Houston.

Lewis Roby Perry, Lufkin, died of a skull fracture Dec. 26 after a traffic collision on Christmas Eve. Hospital attendants said he was not seriously injured, and Perry was jailed on a drunk driving charge.

Mrs. Kennedy told the council she believed an investigation should be made. The hospital, she said, already had absolved itself of any blame.

IT HAPPENED

Dollar A Second

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—A gunman who couldn't wait his turn to get to a cash register last night robbed a supermarket of $492.

Police said he walked to the head of a long line of shoppers with a can of coffee in one hand and a pistol in the other.

Judy Bryan, 19, cashier, said he told her, "Keep still and you won't get hurt."

After scooping bills and change from two registers, the man walked out with many customers unaware of the robbery.

Best By Experience

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—When City Atty. Charles Baskins decided to go on a vacation he recommended his father Les Baskins for appointment as acting city attorney during his absence.

At a City Council meeting yesterday the elder Baskins looked over a proposed ordinance and commented, "This ordinance doesn't say what it ought, and might not have the effect intended."

The question of who wrote it arose and the reply was "Charles Baskins."

"Well, he needs some instruction then," father Baskins said as he prepared to redraft the proposal.

Small Girl Learns Use Of Artificial Limbs, Can Climb

BOSTON (AP)—Bright-eyed constance de Stasi, who is not quite 3, thrilled several onlookers yesterday merely by climbing a flight of stairs. She is a triple amputee.

Her left leg, right foot and right hand were amputated when she was 13 months old because of a rare blood circulation condition.

She smilingly demonstrated the artificial limbs developed for her by Joseph Aveni, head of the amputee department of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co.

Aveni said she behaved as a normal child as soon as the limbs were fitted to her: "She ran, jumped, climbed—and sometimes fell down."

Federal Employees' Benefits Meet Set

Employees in 13 government agencies located in Big Spring have been invited to a meeting at the post office to discuss unemployment benefits for federal employees, announced Leon Kinney of the local Texas Employment Commission office.

The meeting will be held Friday at 3:30 p.m. in the Civil Service Examining Room in the basement of the post office, Kinney said. Only government employees have been invited to the meeting according to Kinney, and federal benefits under the new law are all that will be discussed.

Hanoi Is Slowly Modeling Itself Into Communist Mode Of Life

By JEAN PIERRE LEFEVRE

HANOI (U)—This capital of North Viet Nam slowly is modeling itself on the Communist pattern after weeks of difficult adaptation.

Buildings, trucks and swarms of coolies are busy demolishing the former Square of the Governor General in the center of the city to build a "Red Square."

The Communists have received long Russian-made gray cars — mostly Zims. With the Molotovs — the Russian-made trucks which the Vietnams used during the war — Hanoi again has traffic jams.

For a few weeks before and after the arrival of the Red administration Oct. 10, Hanoi was a dull city. Some of its inhabitants had left for the country in fear of troubles after withdrawal of French troops. Those who remained did not leave their houses. The streets were deserted.

Everybody seemed eager to demonstrate a deep humility to please the Communist leaders. Most men put on khaki Chinese-like suits. They let their beards grow to look like Ho Chi Minh.

Tailors were among the first to reopen their shops, but for a long time displayed only uniforms in their windows.

Now that they are a bit more accustomed to the Communist regime, men and women again have donned their traditional colorful costumes.

The new regime, however, is one of austerity. When the French troops left the city, all movie houses, bars and restaurants closed their doors. Most of the restaurants have reopened but their proprietors have branched out. They sell books, too.

Big and expensive Chinese restaurants have tried unsuccessfully to resume business. They have practically no customers.

For the time being, the only prosperous merchants are those who at almost all street corners sell cheap soup. Around each of their improvised shops, dozens of soldiers and civilians can be seen, sitting on benches, eating hot soup.

The movie houses, after offering all available pictures on the Vietnam campaign against the French, are now announcing for the near future a picture on Dien Bien Phu being prepared in Moscow. Russian and Chinese pictures alternate with Italian and even American ones. Almost all the American movies are Westerns.

A great number of newspapers are sold every day. They are displayed on the sidewalk, along with portraits of the main Communist leaders. A government-owned book shop sells all classics of the Communist world, some in Indochinese dialects. Pornographic books have disappeared.

The native district of Hanoi is not much changed. It is always busy, with all its shops full of goods which only a small part of the citizenry can afford.

All these stocks are supplied through the French-controlled port of Haiphong. The administration of Haiphong has forbidden all exports toward North Viet Nam. But individuals are allowed to buy limited quantities of goods in Haiphong: two tins of condensed milk, a few yards of cloth and some soap.

As a result, the two trains daily between the two cities are crowded with people bringing back to Hanoi all they can buy.

Heart On Wrong Side Brings Quip

OMAHA, Neb. (U)—Peter Molland viewed with amusement the look of Maj. Robert F. Glock's face when the armed forces medical officer found Molland's heart on the right, and not the left, side.

Surprised as he was, the major had an answer. Said he of Molland: "With his heart in the wrong place, he ought to make a dandy sergeant."

Molland, 19, is a victim of dextrocardia, meaning his internal organs are all on the wrong side. He came three years ago from England and has been working on a farm near Randolph, Iowa.

Chicken Proves Freak

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (U)—Mrs. W. T. Gilcrease says one of her chickens whose head was cut off Saturday has been running for four days. "I simply don't know what to do," she said. "It makes me feel kind of funny to be around a bird that's supposed to be dead but isn't."

Film Star Won't Rewed After All

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Marie McDonald says she isn't going to remarry shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, after all.

The 30-year-old actress and the wealthy Karl, 40, were divorced last Nov. 22 in Las Vegas, Nev., after he agreed to a $350,000 settlement for her. They recently took a trip to Europe and said they tried to obtain marriage licenses in several European capitals but were refused. Karl was Miss McDonald's third husband.

First TV Stock Buyer

Obie Bristow (center), prominent Big Spring and member of the Texas Legislature, became the first to sign for stock subscription in Big Spring Television, Inc., new corporation formed with plans for constructing a TV station here under the FCC grant to the Big Spring Broadcasting Company. The corporation is offering a first issue of stock at $1 per share, hopes to place much of this locally because of the community interest in a TV station, said Jack Wallace, president. Wallace is at the right, and on the left is Matt Harrington, sales representative handling the issue.

MRS. BARKER CAUBLE
... she's prepared for a big appetite

Menu In Need Of Spicy Mexican Dishes? Local Cook Offers Four

As blustery weather should make an appearance and along with it hearty appetites it won't faze Mrs. Barker Cauble, 204 Lexington.

She is well-prepared with a complete, filling Mexican menu that she turns out with ease. Her recipes for Spanish Rice, frijoles, chili and enchiladas are given below. They are simple to prepare, appropriate for this part of the country and guaranteed to satisfy ravenous appetites.

The interview with Mrs. Cauble was rewarding not only because of the recipes she gave us and the delicious fruit cake and coffee she served but it brought forth an interesting tale about her great, great grandfather.

Seems he was a hostage on a Spanish pirate ship once and to while away the time he carved with a simple pocketknife a small coconut shell. Mrs. Cauble is proud to have it in her possession now. Finely carved, it bears her ancestor's initials on one side and his sweetheart's on the other, also the legend "E Pluribus Unum" and the outline of a sailing vessel.

A lover of antiques and family records, Mrs. Cauble has her family's coat-of-arms dating back to 1086 in England. She counts among her favorite collector's items a 200-year-old platter her family once used to served stuffed, roast pig, complete with apple.

Mrs. Cauble likes gardening, cooking and sewing, painting and refinishing furniture. She and her husband have made his grandfather's old dining table go a long way. They used it to make a coffee table, bedside lamp, night table and still have some left that they'll turn into something else useful.

She does her own wallpapering and in her hall she has even drawn, freshhand, a rose and trellis design on the wallpaper.

Now for those tasty Mexican dishes:

SPANISH RICE

Ingredients:
2 cups cooked rice
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
4 slices breakfast bacon
1 tablespoon chili powder
1/4 medium-sized onion, chopped
Salt to taste

Method:
Into baking casserole place a layer of rice, tomatoes, bacon and onion. Make a second layer and last place a layer of rice on top. Blend chili powder and salt in tomato juice and pour over mixture. Cook in medium oven 30 to 45 minutes.

FRIJOLAS

Ingredients:
2 cups uncooked beans
1 teaspoon soda
6 cups hot water
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons chopped onion
2 slices breakfast bacon, chopped
2 tablespoons catsup
1 can tomato paste
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper

Method:
1 quart water
Soak beans and soda in 6 cups hot water for about 1 hour. Drain and add remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat approximately 3 hours.

In her chili recipe Mrs. Cauble uses no grease for preparing the meat.

Ingredients:
1 pound lean ground beef
2 tablespoons onion, chopped
2 tablespoons green pepper, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon chili powder
1/2 cup hot water

Method:
Place meat in skillet over medium heat, stirring frequently. Cook until meat turns gray color, separate, and becomes crumbly. Add onion, pepper and salt and pepper.

ENCHILADAS

Ingredients:
1 recipe for chili as given above
8 tortillas
2 cups grated cheese
1/4 cup minced onion

Method:
Heat tortillas, one at a time, in hot fat until they are softened. On each tortilla place chili, cheese and minced onion. Roll and place in baking casserole. When all tortillas have been thus prepared, pour remaining chili and juice over tortillas. Cover with cheese and cook uncovered in moderate oven about 25 minutes.

CHILI

Ingredients:
1 pound lean ground beef
2 tablespoons onion, chopped
2 tablespoons green pepper, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon chili powder
1/2 cup hot water

Method:
Place meat in skillet over medium heat, stirring frequently. Cook until meat turns gray color, separate, and becomes crumbly. Add onion, pepper and salt and pepper.

Tomato Hollandaise Enlivens Vegetables

Hollandaise is one of the best basic sauces. Supposedly of Dutch origin, it is essentially an emulsion of egg yolk and margarine or butter. Combined with tomato, Hollandaise sauce adds a spicy taste to the flavor of cooked asparagus, broccoli, new cabbage or baked fish.

TOMATO HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

Ingredients:
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon tomato paste
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
1-16 teaspoon salt
1-16 teaspoon ground black pepper
Dash of ground cayenne pepper
1/4 cup butter or margarine

Method:
Combine the first six ingredients in the top of a double boiler. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Gradually beat in the butter, one tablespoon at a time. Beat until thickened. Remove from heat and serve at once. Makes 1/2 cup.

Hot Bran Muffins Perennial Favorite For Winter Menus

With recurring northerly blowing all the way from the Arctic to Big Spring, a hot bread at meal-time certainly boosts the morale. Hot muffins are high on the popularity poll at breakfast, lunch, supper or between meals at snack or tea-time.

The versatile muffin can also be served with cold meats and salads. Bran muffins are always a favorite. They can often be re-heated in a chafing dish in case these happen to be any left over.

BRAN MUFFINS

Ingredients:
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup sugar or molasses
1 egg
1 cup bran cereal
1/2 cup milk
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Method:
Blend shortening and sugar, or molasses, thoroughly; add egg. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add alternately with milk. Add bran. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Let stand about 5 minutes before removing from pans.

APRICOT BRAN MUFFINS

Ingredients:
1 cup bran
1/2 cup milk
1 egg
1/4 cup shortening
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/4 cup brown sugar
12 cooked apricots, drained

Method:
Combine bran and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add egg and shortening; beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar, only until combined. In the bottom of each greased muffin cup place 1/4 teaspoon melted butter, and 1 teaspoon brown sugar and 1 apricot. Fill muffin cups about 2-3 full with batter; bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Yield 12 muffins.

Another flavor variation is to mix raisins in the bran muffin batter.

RAISIN BRAN MUFFINS

Ingredients:
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup bran cereal
1 cup milk

Method:
1 egg
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Rinse raisins and drain. Soak bran in milk 5 minutes. Add lightly beaten egg, shortening and raisins. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt and add all at once to first mixture, stirring only to moisten. Fill greased muffin pans about 2-3 full. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 12 to 15 muffins.

Buttermilk Gives Soup Tart Taste

Adding sweet milk to canned soup is a standard method for getting a rich, thick soup dish. Using buttermilk instead of sweet milk, however, gives an additional tart flavor, even when served chilled. Here are several ways to use buttermilk with soup.

BUTTERMILK CELERY SOUP

Ingredients:
1 can cream of celery soup
2 cups chilled buttermilk
1 tablespoon chopped chives
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash of white pepper

Blend all ingredients; chill. Serve in chilled soup bowls.

BUTTERMILK PEA SOUP

Ingredients:
1 can cream of pea soup
2 cups chilled buttermilk
4 slices cooked bacon, chopped or 1/4 cup dried beef, lightly fried

Method:
Blend all ingredients, except croutons; chill. Serve in chilled soup bowls topped with croutons.

BUTTERMILK BERMUDA SOUP

Ingredients:
1 can cream of tomato soup
2 cups chilled buttermilk
1/4 bunch watercress, chopped
Blend soup and buttermilk; add watercress; chill. Serve in chilled soup bowls. Makes 4 servings.

Proposal Offers Sound Approach To County's Road Development

County Judge R. H. Weaver has advanced what seems to us an entirely sensible approach to the problem of more permanent roads for Howard County. Based upon revenues in the road and bridge fund, Judge Weaver told the court he felt that the county could manage to build 10 to 15 miles per annum of permanent type roads. In addition to providing more convenient and faster all-weather transport, the roads would cut down on maintenance occasioned by wind erosion to the vast network of dirt roads. Up to a point this would be true, but somewhere down the line the maintenance cost on permanent roads also would get to be a considerable item but when that time came the county would have a fine system of roads and would find the maintenance money more effectively applied.

Commissioners agreed that the plan was a sound one and expressed the hope that such a program can be inaugurated. In this connection, it seems to us that the best way to inaugurate it, if such is found feasible, is to summarily inaugurate it. In this connection, the judge and Commissioner G. E. Gilliam, brought up once more the matter of a county engineer. The county has not had an engineer for some time and immediately prior to that the position was not competently filled. Getting the right person is a problem, but if the salary is raised, and it is made clear what the opportunities and responsibilities of the post offer, an engineer can be found. Under a systematic program of building permanent roads, he would be more than essential. The commissioners court is pointing here in the right direction.

If You Accept Sunspot Theory, We May Be In For A Dry Summer

Prof. Hurd C. Willett of Massachusetts Institute of Technology has had news for farmers and ranchers of Texas. A strong believer in the sunspot theory of weather-making, Dr. Willett in Look Magazine predicts a dry, hot summer for Texas, but says the Galveston, San Antonio and Fort Worth areas are in for heavy downpours of rain this fall. His theory is that sunspot activity affects the upper atmosphere, which in turn affects the world's wind system. Getting down to cases, the MIT meteorologist thinks Amarillo will be one degree colder this winter with 5 inch less moisture. Fall weather will be normal with 5 inch less moisture. The same general pattern, he thinks, will apply in Abilene and other areas throughout 1955. Meteorologists, like all other professionals, sometimes disagree and there are some who disagree with Dr. Willett on his 1955 predictions. One whose name escapes us for the moment believes we are in the midst of a seven-year drought cycle, but that cycle will be broken in mid-career, which should make 1955 a pretty good rain year. Sunspot weather-making moves in cycles of about eleven years—that is, the maximum of activity occurs at 11-year intervals. Wet or dry, hot or cold, West Texans know one thing for certain—sure: our region lies in a semi-arid area, and probably will continue to experience periodic droughts for all time to come. Recognition of this situation is the beginning of wisdom. We must adjust our practices to a known fact, periodic drought. That calls for the practice of dry-land farming and ranching, making the most of available rainfall. Much has been done in this respect, much remains to be done. For cities like Abilene, it means a continuous battle to create and maintain more and larger lakes and reservoirs. That is the biggest problem that confronts our municipalities, and their lives depend on seeing it through.

Girl Scout Handbook Yields To One Citizen's Objections

There are days when I feel shot with luck, and this is one of them. When I was a mopee, there was no Girl Scout troop in my home town. At the time, it was a cause of grievous concern to myself. For years, I raved with a paralyzing inferiority complex born of the knowledge that I had grown up without mastering the intricacies of the slip knot. When I observed other, more fortunate, women lighting cigarettes merely by rubbing two sticks together, I slunk away overwhelmed by my inability to start a fire with anything other than a match or a pilot light. But today I sing hosannas to my patriotism and my escutcheon are pure and undefiled by membership in any organization that has been forced publicly to confess its horrific deviationist errors in the field of youth will pardon the expression, please; I can hardly bring myself to write (H) internationalism. To atone for its inexcusable dialectical error of mentioning the United Nations favorably in a previous edition of its handbook and for admitting that other nations do exist in addition to the United States, the Girl Scouts have hastily issued a new revised handbook that sees, hears and says nothing. The Girl Scouts have wisely bowed to the dictates of a Robert Le Fevre, a former Florida newscaster, who is now an employee of Merwin K. Hart and his National Economic Council. Mr. L. Fevre objected to the unexpurgated edition of the handbook, which advised every person to do his best "to help the United Nations to succeed." If the name Robert Le Fevre has an unfamiliar ring, perhaps that of Merwin K. Hart will strike a bell. For the past 15 years, Mr. Hart has been continuously and variously accused of Fascism, anti-Semitism and anti-American democracy by many persons including the late Harold Lyles, Rep. Joseph Clark Baldwin, and Isaac Don Levine, one of the nation's most dedicated anti-Communists. Mr. Hart has even advised citizens of his like persuasion to acquire guns and ammunition and facility in using both, just in case. If the Girl Scouts are smart, they will acquire side arms and begin target practice at once. By this time, the girls have surely learned that it is better to be safe than sorry. The Girl Scouts also have found a brilliant solution for the Chinese problem now bedeviling the Western World. The girls have simply swept China under the rug. Where the old, offending manual admitted that China produced both tea and bamboo, the new, revised handbook points out that tea comes from India and bamboo from the Philippines. If they want to stay on the alkaline side, the Girl Scouts also will ignore the grim fact that the United States is now depending upon the United Nations as its last best hope of freeing innocent American prisoners wantonly held in Communist Chinese jails. All the time I have been earnestly washing my hands, I have been conscious that I am open to the charge of guilt by association. On several occasions during the Girl Scouts' annual cookie sale, I have purchased same. But, thank God, I ate the evidence and nobody can prove nothing on me!

POTOMAC FEVER

WASHINGTON — Ike will send Vice President Nixon on a good will tour of Central America, Nixon is never more popular than when south of the border—especially with Democrats back home. The French Assembly has decided, by vote of 227 to 200, that if the Russians advance, the Germans deserve the honor of being shot at first. Gloria Vanderbilt leaves her husband, Symphony Conductor Leopold Stokowski. The trouble with May and December marriages is that after May comes June, July and August—to say nothing of Frank and Bill. The probably will ask Congress to boost the minimum wage to 90 cents. Running against the New Deal in 1952 worked so well that Republicans have decided they need more of it to run against in 1956. The American Medical Association says women live longer than men because they worry less about their problems. Natch. Women don't have to face the kind of problems most men are married to. Postmaster General Summerfield ends the distribution of "junk mail." You mustn't confuse "junk mail" with bills. "Junk mail" is the other kind of letters you throw away without looking at. The French assembly has decided, by Insurance firms cut auto insurance rates for women drivers under 25. Young women make better drivers than older women—chiefly because they do most of it from the front seat.

Indian Payoff Lauded

WOOD RIVER, Ill. (U.S.)—"The Indian was a smart cookie," says Mrs. Frank Lamanke who plans to file with the U.S. Department of Interior as a reservation-born American Indian. "He was canny enough to demand payment for what he had already lost." Upon registration with the department, she will stand to receive about $15,000 as her portion of the amount to be paid to the Comanche tribe for tribal lands. A one-quarter Comanche, Mrs. Lamanke is the great-granddaughter of Quamash Parker, described by her as a fine example of the noble redskin who took at least 100 white scalps.

Dogs Guard Store

BOSTON (U.S.)—Two Doberman Pinscher dogs patrol a big department store here at night. The dogs are adept at sniffing out hiding thieves, store officials say.

Moonshine Is High

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (U.S.)—County officers report moonshiners have set some kind of an altitude record. A raiding party of sheriff's deputies found a moonshine still atop 2,970-foot Chimney Top Mountain near here.

Democrats To Have Some Questions To Ask On Slashes In Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—What does it profit a man to save his mofey if he can't protect it from an enemy? In a nutshell that's what many Democrats say they want to know about the cuts which President Eisenhower proposes for the armed forces. His administration, particularly Secretary of Defense Wilson, is in for stiff quizzing by the Democrats who took control of Congress yesterday. Judging from what they've said, they will ask:

Is the administration, for the sake of economy, reducing the armed forces to a point where they can't protect this nation's interests? Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) says he's afraid he's looking at "bargain-counter" defense. Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) says he's afraid this country's vital military strength may be lost in the name of economy. And Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), who will head the House Armed Services Committee, says he will call Wilson before him for a full explanation.

Mr. Wilson who started the ball rolling Dec. 20 with the announcement of a big reduction in the armed forces, particularly in ground troops. Why the cut? Less fear of war in part, Wilson told newsmen. The State Dulles told newsmen several days later when they asked if the military cuts were the result of less fear of war. That wasn't the reason, he said. He said improvement in weapons meant the military forces needed fewer men. This apparent conflict raised this question: If one said one thing, and one another, what was the real reason? Was it to save money? Reduction in ground troops meant this country would be less able to throw in troops against the Communists if they attacked anywhere in the world. The United States might retaliate with air power but unless native troops were available to stem the Red assault where it occurred, air strikes might not be enough. The crisis in Indochina last year was recalled. The Communist-led Vietminh were tramping the French. There was danger they might take all Indochina. The administration had to consider the question of intervening. It was reported later Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff and member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, opposed intervention on the grounds he didn't have ground troops to back it up. In June 1952, in the midst of the Korean War, the armed forces totaled 3,636,000. When that war ended in 1953, it was possible to reduce to some extent the number of men under arms. As of today the armed forces number about 3,218,000 a reduction of 418,000 since June 1952. The administration now proposes a further cut to 2,850,000 by June 1956, a reduction of almost 800,000 men since 1952. Eisenhower gave an explanation in a letter to Wilson, made public yesterday. This letter, backing up Wilson, may have been intended to take some of the heat off him. The explanation goes like this: (1) This country must be ready to meet any form of aggression, since no one can predict how it will come; (2) this country must depend as much as it can on new weapons and scientific development in order to cut down on manpower and save lives; (3) this country must be able to retaliate fast against any attack in order to discourage such an attack in the first place; (4) since no one can foretell how long the cold war will last, keeping up the minimum necessary defense force will be a drain on the economy so expense must be spared where possible; (5) the United States will have to have forces able to help out other peoples if they're attacked.

Massive Car Provides Problems In Household

By SAUL PETT (For Hal Boyle) NEW YORK (U.S.)—A friend of mine has a new problem which is relatively rare but quite human. His problem involves an expensive automobile—no how to pay for it but how to live with it. You see, my friend Don lives in a small, middle-class suburb, which means nobody is really loaded or really hungry. There are very few $5,000 cars in town, Don runs his own business, which provides a comfortable income. Still, it's not a big tip income. But Don's wife's uncle has such an income, and the cars to match. He's so proud of his four-wheeled light cruisers he'd be extremely pleased if his favorite niece's husband owned one. And so it came to pass that Don's old car was dying with the shakes and shudders. To replace it with a new model of the same brand would cost almost $3,000. So this wife's uncle said, "You can have my '54 car for $3,000," which as every boy on a scooter knows, is a bargain. Without thinking, Don said Sure, he'd take it as soon as he could sell his old car. Since then he hasn't been sleeping well. He and his wife have had some heated discussions. But she insists he can't back out of the deal now because it would "hurt uncle's feelings." Besides, their younger children have tried the push-button windows and the gadget for raising and lowering the radio antenna and the gismo that squirts water on the windshield and they won't hear of any other car. But Helen, their eldest child, insists, "I positively will not be driven to school in that car. Everybody will say we're trying to be too fancy." Don has measured and remeasured his garage. While the car is shorter than the Queen Mary, it positively won't fit his garage even with the bikes and power mower removed. He could lengthen the garage. Yes, but will the local building code allow him to build out in front of the house line? Or will he have to get a new house?

Highway Patrol's Radar Units Don't Qualify As 'Speed Traps'

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald. —Editor's Note.

You can hear a lot of talk around town about this business of catching speeders with radar being "unfair." Some people see the invisible arms of radar as a mid-century representation of what the comic-strip writers used to portray in the form of a motorcycle cop hiding behind a billboard. And there appears to be some confusion as to the meaning of the term, "speed trap." A speed trap, to a great many drivers, is any method used by a patrolman to nab them in the act of speeding. Actually, a speed trap is that practice sometimes engaged in by municipal authorities to finance their provincial operations on proceeds from traffic court. They might go out to the edge of town, near the spot where the State Highway Department has posted signs announcing that the legal speed limit is 30 miles per hour, and put up a sign of their own declaring the speed limit to be 20 or 25 miles per hour. The city sign would be in small letters, and possibly be situated in some spot where it would likely be unnoticed. The motorist would come along, see the conventional 30-mph sign and proceed into town at that speed. But soon after he passed the dim, local speed sign, probably without seeing it, a constable or some other neighborhood officer would flag him to the roadside and inform him that he was "speeding." The officer might also assess and collect the fine on the spot. That's a "speed trap," and we'll be among the first to admit that they're unfair. But such quasi-legal blackmail has nothing to do with radar. Nor with a motorcycle officer parked behind a clump of bushes, for that matter. Radar is merely a means of clocking the speed of a moving automobile or truck. It's no different from clocking the rate of travel with the speedometer in the patrol car, except that it doesn't require a chase. And speaking of fairness, you might inquire as to whether the highway patrolmen consider it "sporting" to be forced to risk their necks at high speeds in order to corral some careless driver. The officer who was killed in the heat of the 100-mph chase in Grand Prairie the other day should be the answer to that one. To be perfectly frank—and fair—the Texas Department of Public Safety has posted signs warning fast drivers that speed laws are enforced by the use of radar. Just for the benefit of those who think they're doing no wrong as long as they don't get caught. WAYLAND YATES

Austin Recollections—Raymond Brooks

Political Playback

His long service on the Interstate Commerce Commission has made Walter M. W. Splawn seem like a figure of distant history in Texas. I can recall an incident of his career before he went to Washington. Dr. Splawn was small, frail and intellectual-looking. He wore very thick glasses, even back in those days before his sight progressively failed him. That made his eyes seem double their size. Actually, he seemed to give one the impression of a disembodied intellect swimming free of human bounds. And his intellectual and scholarly powers commanded recognition. He was a member of the Railroad Commission. One mid-Saturday afternoon, a brief announcement came from the University of Texas regents, and at the same time, a three-line announcement from the Railroad Commission. The regents had unanimously elected him president of the University; he had resigned his commission office. The Austin newspapers got out an extra, to announce what was a completely unexpected election. A sentence in one of Dr. Splawn's books made it clear he did not underrate his professional qualifications. It was a book about railroads, and Dr. Splawn in a matter-of-fact way pointed out that it was not intended for, or addressed to "the ordinary reader."

One of the consistent paying hosts of the time offers a reminder of an established routine in the Capitol Press Room a few years back. It was called the "gumbot." Nobody knows who invented the name. That was in the days when the Press Room regulars included Tuttle Thornton, Jack Fernandez, Eddie Newton, Gordon Shearer and myself; and when in-and-out members included such writers as Upshur Vincent, Walter Hornaday, Boyd Gatewood, C. D. Waide, Clay Grove and Cecil Dickson. Each afternoon, preferably when there was a visitor, or visitors present, someone would speak "gumbot." There would be replies, equally meaningless, of "O, T." and Newton's favorite, "P. U. B." The gumbot was an intricate matching game, the loser pay for coffee. The point was that it always worked out so a visitor or guest would get stuck, and none ever could figure out how it happened. The matching was more fun than the coffee. The rejoinders were not references to the federal alphabet agencies, not veiled pleadings like "lighter than Deacatur." They were the initials or nicknames of some of the favorite, or most frequent victims of the game. I'll have to see if Gordon Shearer remembers the pure-fire "system." I can't.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippmann

Ike Will Use Demo Support For Foreign Trade Changes

The President has chosen as his first important business with the new Congress the issue on which the Eisenhower Republicans and the Democrats are in the fullest agreement. The issue is the liberalization of international trade, and the measures to promote it include renewal for three years of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, greater simplification of the customs procedures, and tax reduction to encourage American corporations to invest capital abroad. There was a majority for these measures in the old Congress. But the control of the committees by the Old Guard made it impossible for this majority to express itself. The committees have now come under the control of the Democrats who favor the program and it can, therefore, be brought out and voted. Inasmuch as nothing in politics succeeds like success, the President has been very well advised to make this easy and quick demonstration of his real working majority. In giving priority to the trade program, the President is emphasizing the change which has occurred in the political situation as a result of the election. For this program which now has priority is the very program which failed in the last Congress—not because the country was against it, not because the majority of Congress was against it, but only because the legislative machinery of Congress was controlled by the opponents of the program. Since they are no longer in control, the blockade of the policy has been lifted.

There is much talk about how coalition politics will affect Republican and Democratic party prospects in 1956. This is an interesting speculation. But at this date it is really a parlor game. For nothing serious and practical can be done about it at this time one way or the other. The compelling fact is that the Democrats and the Eisenhower Republicans must collaborate. While no one can know who will get the most ultimate political benefit out of this collaboration, what is certain is that the first to show signs of wishing not to collaborate will suffer enormous damage. The trade program is, we must admit, a ready-made subject for the new coalition to work with. The trade program has been investigated, debated, enacted, negotiated, and administered for over twenty years and there is nothing, or nearly nothing, new or surprising that can now be said for or against it. Almost all of the Democrats and a good half of the Republicans in the Senate are familiar with it and are convinced of it and are committed to it. There are not many other big issues where the same measure of agreement, the same degree of familiarity, holds true. There, agreement will have to be reached by consultation and debate within the coalition. That will be necessary even on subjects like the national defense and the maintenance of our alliances, where in fact there is wide and fundamental agreement.

New 1955 Ford Tractors Are In Two Power Series

Since Henry Ford pioneered the mass production of tractors in 1917, Ford Motor Company has concentrated on one size of tractor. For the first time, when the new Ford farm tractors go on display at Big Spring Tractor Company, 1101 Lamesa Highway, on Friday morning, there will be five models in two power series.

The full three-plow tractors are the most powerful ever built by Ford. All five models have Ford's three-print implement hitch with advanced hydraulic implement control.

Development of the 600 and the 800 series for the 1955 models represents a new trend, Lloyd Wasson, head of Big Spring Tractor, pointed out. In August of last year the company entered the full-line farm machinery field with a spread from plows and cultivators to combines, corn pickers and hay balers.

Air Force Again Taking Observers

S-Sgt. Cecil Deakins, Air Force recruiter, stated today that applications for Aviation Cadet (observer) are again being accepted in his office. Applicants will be sent to Lackland AFB for testing and if accepted will be assigned to a class within four months.

Aviation Cadet applicants have not been solicited since September, Deakins explained, because of a huge backlog of applications. The Air Force recruiting office is located on the second floor of the Wasson Building.

Federal Judge Hits Appropriation Size

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Congress is so stingy with money for Federal Courts, says Federal Judge Sherrill Halbert, "it has impaired the ability" of those courts to function properly.

"I think it is a disgrace . . ." said Judge Halbert. "If the Congress of the United States continues to cut down the money that is available for the operation of the Federal Courts, I think we might just as well close our doors and turn everyone loose."

New Series For Ford

Visitors to the Big Spring Motor Company Friday and Saturday will find not one series but two in the 1955 Ford tractor models. For the first time in its history, the company is making two series, the newest being the 800-type shown above. It boasts five-speed transmission, 30 per cent more power, and is a full-three plow tractor designed for heavy work in all types of soil. The slightly smaller 600 series has nearly two score improvements.

Gull Drops Clam, Striking Woman

MYSTIC, Conn. (AP) — A heavy clam, apparently dropped by a sea gull, shattered a second story window of an insurance office here Tuesday and struck Mrs. Dorothy Bailey on the head as she worked at her desk.

She was treated by a doctor for cuts and released.

Natives say it is not unusual for gulls to bombard the downtown buildings with clams and scallops, but people are rarely hit. Dropping clams on hard surfaces from heights is the birds' way of opening the shell.

O. Henry Award Winners Announced

Jean Stafford of Westport, Conn., is the first place winner for the 1955 O. Henry award; it was announced today. The award of $300 was announced simultaneously with the release of "Prize Stories 1955" which was published by Doubleday and Company, Inc.

Miss Stafford's first prize story, "In the Zoo," originally appeared in The New Yorker magazine. One Texan, John Graves, is included among the award winners for his story, "The Green Fly." It appeared in Town and Country,

Out-Of-Town Dating

Gather 'round, fellows and gals. Out of town dating can be the most fun ever, if you know the rules. Thanksgiving, football games, college proms, and Christmas provide excellent excuses.

Are you a smoothie from the word go, who can handle the unexpected date dilemmas which this kind of dating brings?

Boy, if you extend the invitation to your lady fair, you also foot the bill. This means you don an apron and spruce up the family guest room or make reservations at the local hotel. For major meals like lunch and dinner, you feed her.

Girls, you'd better bring some money, too. Breakfasts, magazines, room service tips, plus the tip for the maid when you leave, are your problem.

When staying in his home, a fellow up thank-you note and gift for his parents or younger brother or sister are in order.

The lobby of a hotel serves as a living room, just as in the girl's own home. When the boy arrives for his date, he uses the house phone to call her room. She then comes right down.

The same is true when he brings her back. He does not walk her to her room any more than he would walk her to her bedroom door in her own home. The lobby or living room again is sufficient.

When flowers are involved, it is better to have them sent by the florist or perhaps taken to the girl's room by a bell boy, than to present them in the lobby. Most girls like to primp a bit before the mirror with a pretty coiffure. Her own living room might be the perfect setting for a goodnight kiss, but not the hotel lobby. No girl, or fellow either, wants that tender moment of parting to attract the attention of dozens of strangers.

In this instance a few minutes parked away from the bright lights and crowds gets everyone's vote, provided, parents insist—it is only a few minutes.

Have fun!

Southern Governor Pose Used In Kansas

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Police reported a 44-year-old man stepped into a hotel lobby Tuesday, introduced himself as "the governor of Mississippi" and said his plane had been grounded in Wichita.

The hotel manager personally escorted him to the presidential suite.

Detective Richard Brown said that after the man had wine and dined the manager became suspicious and telephoned Mississippi. He learned the governor was still in his home state.

The manager called police and John W. Lott, a 44-year-old machinist, was arrested on charges of violating hotel laws. Detective Brown said Lott admitted posing as the governor and then drew $5 from his pocket—his only funds.

All-West Texas Naval Unit Being Filled Up Rapidly

Chief R. E. LaFon, local recruiter for the Navy, states that young men interested in joining the "All West Texas" company should contact him immediately. Elsewhere in this area, applications are stepping up and the total number of men necessary to form the company may soon be reached.

Nine more applicants have been received at Lubbock, he said, and it appears that more than enough enlistees will be signed up before the final date, Jan. 18.

Recruiter LaFon pointed out that a volunteer in the service spends four years on active duty and four years as a "standby" reserve. The draftee must spend two years on active duty and six years on "ready" reserve. Men on "ready reserve" may be called up before men on the "standby reserve", he explained.

Thus, a young man must fulfill eight years of military service and considering the added benefits of technical training which an enlistee receives, Chief LaFon believes a young man has more to gain by joining up.

The recruiter, who is stationed in Big Spring permanently, can be contacted in the basement of the post office building until he finds permanent office space.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations is going to ask both President Eisenhower and former President Truman to address the 10th anniversary assembly the international organization plans to hold in San Francisco next June, informed sources report.

Scandinavia Due Pooled Market

By GUSTAV SVENSSON
STOCKHOLM (AP) — The three Scandinavian countries are planning to bolster their economies by creating a joint market of their 14 million persons.

The project envisages the gradual breaking down of customs and other barriers to free trade among Sweden, Norway and Denmark. It is expected eventually to double the "home market" of Sweden and could enlarge the "home markets" of Norway and Denmark four times.

One of the most important aims is to increase the competitive capacity on the world market by facilitating specialization and mass production.

Last autumn, the Scandinavian prime ministers meeting appointed a joint cabinet committee to survey the economic fields where the joint market could be established most rapidly and with the greatest advantage to all three countries.

The fields of production to be examined include iron, steel, metals, chemicals, lumber, wood pulp and ores. Pharmaceutical industries, electrotechnics and a large number of semifinished products also will come under survey.

New industries would be started as joint projects when the national market of only one of the three countries would be too narrow to make them profitable.
