Suzanne Butler Praises Auxiliary's Girls State

"I gained more than a cherished memory from Girl's States," Suzanne Butler told Eastland Rotarians Monday. "I have a start on the road to becoming an adult citizen in a free nation."

Suzanne, who will be an Eastland High Senior this year, attended Bluebonnet Girls State in Austin this year with all expenses paid by the American Legion Auxiliary of Eastland.

Here is the content of her talk at Rotary Club Monday:

It is my pleasure and honor to have been chosen to represent Eastland at the 1960 Bluebonnet Girls State by the local American Legion Auxiliary with all my expenses paid by that organization. Girls State is exactly what it is—a state set up and governed by 400 girls from all parts of Texas. Some of these girls are positively brilliant. Some are beautiful and some are brilliant and beautiful. Anyway, being associated with so many outstanding girls was certainly a great experience. I couldn't help but wonder a bit what I was doing there.

When I arrived at Girls State, which is held in Texas School for the Blind in Austin, I was assigned to City D, County So. I was a member of the Nationalist Party and I served in the House of Representatives.

There were assemblies in which speakers presented new ideas and stimulated challenging thoughts. Discussion and questions followed each assembly.

Study sessions to give information about city, county and state government were held. City, county and state government were set up and elections were held. We learned about legislative action as we wrote and passed bills and resolutions in the House and Senate. Capitol punishment was one of the subjects of debate in House. We also had an opportunity to serve on state boards, to participate in trials—in short, to be the government in action.

There were two political parties at Girls State. The Nationalists and the Federalists. They conducted in the same manner as the Democrats and Republicans. We had our noise, banners and campaign speeches. Each party drew up its own platform.

The Honorable Price Daniel, governor of Texas, delivered the address for the inauguration of the state officials of Bluebonnet Girls State. We were all present at the inauguration in the rotunda of the State Capitol. On our trip to the capitol we visited the governor's mansion.

I enjoyed speeches made by such speakers as Mrs. B. J. George, president of the Legion Auxiliary, Jack Cox of Breckenridge and others.

But, most of all, I enjoyed the speech of Donald Peters, commander of the Texas American Legion. He said, "One should be proud to be a Texan and one should be proud to be an American. That patriotism has taken a back seat and we should do everything in our power to bring it back. We must remember our obligation to God and to our country! We must fight communism. It is the greatest disease that the world has ever known. There are more communists than Christians and communism has been active only 40 years while Christianity has been active for thousands of years."

The counselors and staff of Girls State have grown from 12 to 50. Girl State requires an operating budget of approximately $15,000. There are 31 employees to prepare the meals and clean the areas occupied. There are also a number of employees of the School for the Blind who give freely of their time and energies to make our endeavors a success.

We had a full busy schedule with almost every minute accounted for. It was our chance to study and to learn more about citizenship. We can be really free only when we are informed citizens. However, Girls State wasn't all work and no play. We also had entertainment and recreation.

We had one outing at Barton Springs, which we all enjoyed. At night we had hab sessions, slumber parties and kitchen raids. The American Legion Auxiliary, sponsor of the Girls State program, has given their time, effort and means to develop a program in which citizens of tomorrow learn by doing, a program in which the younger generation learns the cost and reward of life.

National Guard Troops Parade At Fort Hood

Eastland County's two National Guard units played key roles in Saturday's 49th Armored Division parade at North Fort Hood. Ranger and Cisco units, with many men from Eastland in both outfits, took part in the "Lone Star" Division's parade.

The approximately 10,000 officers and men passing the reviewing stand with military officials and civic dignitaries saw more than just their reviewing officers. They got a good look at 15 unit sweethearts who were "out front" during the annual Governor's Day Mounted Review.

The hundreds of visitors also saw the division's newest addition of the atomic age—a battery of "Honest John" rockets. Sharing the reviewing stand with Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, the Adjutant General of Texas, who reviewed the troops, was "Miss 49th Armored Division"—Miss Sharon Tipton of Pasadena. Maj. Gen. John L. Thompson, Jr. commands the Forty-Ninth.

The Governor's Award to the outstanding unit was won by Company B, 1st Medium Tank Battalion-112 Armor. Its home station is Irving, and its commander is 1st Lt. Robert F. Prush.

The 249th Quartermaster Battalion, Austin, was awarded both the outstanding battalion and the champion recruiting battalion trophies. Its commander is Lt. Col. Vernon Scofield. The champion recruiting company was Company D, 2nd Medium Tank Battalion, Fort Worth. 1st Lt. Wilborn Whitmore is the commanding officer.

The weekend festivities marked the midway point in the division's 13th intensive summer training period. Units will return to home stations July 31.

SOUTHWEST PEANUT RESEARCH FOUNDATION

Peanut Growers Organize Research to Help Themselves

The peanut farmers in Texas and Oklahoma have organized the Southwest Peanut Research Foundation to provide for a program of research and promotion to be paid for by the growers out of voluntary assessments placed on themselves. Through the cooperation of peanut buyers, 50¢ a net ton will be deducted on a voluntary basis from each ton of peanuts marketed in these two states. If all farmers participate, this will result in $50,000 to $75,000 being available each year to finance research and promotion to help peanut farmers.

The Southwest Peanut Research Foundation is being sponsored by the following organizations: the Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association, the Texas Farm Bureau, the Oklahoma Farm Bureau, the Oklahoma Farmers Union, and the Southwestern Peanut Shellers Association. The Board of Directors, whose members are named by the participating organizations, consist of the following members: H. C. Dean, Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association, Route 1, Comanche, Texas; Dean Kirk, Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association, Route 1, Gorman, Texas; Floyd L. King, Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association, Rt. 3, Hydro, Oklahoma; Wesley Swearingen, Texas Farm Bureau, Route 3, Sealy, Texas; Carroll Smith, Oklahoma Farm Bureau, Rt. 1, Lookaba, Oklahoma; Leland Stanford, Oklahoma Farmers Union, Route 1, Shawnee, Oklahoma; and Sidney C. Reagan, Southwestern Peanut Shellers Association, 3840 Greenbrier Dr., Dallas, Texas.

The purpose of the Foundation is to foster and promote research in any and all phases of production and marketing of peanuts in order to improve efficiency, lower the costs of production and marketing of peanuts in order to improve efficiency, lower the costs of production and marketing, and thus improve the net income to the producers and to promote the increased usage of peanuts and peanut products. The promotional phases are limited to 8¢ per net ton and will be handled exclusively through the National Peanut Council. The Foundation is prohibited by its charter and by-laws from engaging in and providing funds for any legislative and political purposes.

The Board of Directors of the Foundation will work closely with the Experiment Stations in Texas and Oklahoma in developing and carrying out a research program on peanuts.

The following officers were elected by the Board of Directors: Dean, Chairman; King, Vice Chairman; Reagan, Secretary; Ross Wilson, Treasurer. Wilson is manager of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association with offices in Gorman. The headquarters of the Foundation is in the office of the Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association.

The establishment of the Southwest Peanut Research Foundation marks a major movement on the part of an important segment of the agricultural community in Texas and Oklahoma to help themselves. There are about 22,000 farmers in Texas and 18,000 farmers in Oklahoma who commercially produce peanuts. The value of the peanut crop to farmers in Texas in 1959 was about $20 million dollars and in Oklahoma was about $13 million dollars.

MARIE BONEY SAYS

Rheumatic Fever Can be Lived With

It's a slow, hard lesson, but you learn it: rheumatic fever is not the worst thing in the world. It is not something you would ask for your child, but after the first horrified reaction, you accept it and live with it, thanking God children do grow up to lead normal lives, defective hearts and all.

It's been several years since our fourth-grader first became sick. She's tall for her age, stands straight, and looks healthy enough to make one wonder how she could ever have been sick. It takes less than a day for her to succumb to fever and look as though she'd never known a healthy moment.

Seven years: times almost past our endurance. . . . have you ever seen the blood clot inside a child's veins? Sat beside a bed, held the hand of a heart-broken girl, tried to explain why she must miss an entire month of school? Watched your Brownie stare wistfully from the side-lines as her troop hiked around the block?

There have also been moments of delight. A child who lies abed day after day has time to read, think, and day-dream. Greater curiosity, increased knowledge, drawings, childish manuscripts are the results.

One of the hardest things to do is "let her go" upon the doctor's orders. It is as important that a child be allowed normal activity when able to handle it as that rest be strictly enforced when necessary. Yet it is so tempting to say "Stop running", "Stop off that bicycle", or "Don't swim". Discipline is harder still. It takes special nerve to spank tiny legs which have so recently been stiff with pain. Or not to place every desired thing into fingers which yesterday could not open of their own volition. However, we agreed long ago that she was not going to be sick emotionally, so petted and spoiled as to be incapable of coping with life and other people.

We have ever banished from the sickroom those who wring their hands and moan. She receives no sympathy except that offered to any child with a cold or the measles. We want her to understand that, while the disease robs her of some freedom, it offers her no crutch. She can never hide behind it to escape life.

Rheumatic fever is but one of many illnesses among children. I feel sure that all the parents of these who are victims of any such disease would say with us that your interest in our children is appreciated. We are grateful for your concern, your prayers, but not your excessive sympathy.

Save that for those who are in greater need of it: the child who has a compulsive need to always be the center of attraction; the child who has a flagrant disregard for any authority; the one with the uncontrolled temper; the one who must face a bewildering world on his own decisions, because his parents shun all discipline to let him be a spoiled but so unsure child.

Rehabilitation Program for WW II Vets Ends

A training program which has been the key to independence for nearly two-thirds of a million disabled World War I veterans passed from the American scene Monday, July 25, Edward P. Onstot, manager of the VA Regional Office in Dallas said today.

It is the 17-year-old Public Law 16, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, enacted in March, 1943, while the war was raging at its hottest.

For most disabled World War II veterans, the program came to an end four years ago in 1956. But a special four-year extension was granted to certain exceptional cases, mainly veterans so badly disabled they couldn't have come in under the 1956 deadline.

More than 615,000 disabled World War II veterans received training under the Law, Onstot said. Nearly 35 percent aimed for professional, semi-professional and managerial occupations, compared with only 23 percent of the nation's total labor force holding such top-level jobs.

Another 38 percent trained for skilled trade and industrial occupations; 14 percent studied farming; 11 percent clerical and sales jobs; the rest, a variety of occupations. Onstot said a VA study revealed that 95 out of every 100 rehabilitated veterans were employed, and that nearly all were using skills they learned in training. The survey also showed that the average weekly pay of the disabled veteran after completing training was nearly twice as great as it was before he started.

Onstot said that a companion program for disabled Korean veterans still is in full force and has several years to run.

Moran Student Among Group Taking Special Howard Payne Math Prog.

Twenty-four Texas students are participating in the second annual summer science and mathematics training program at Howard Payne College for exceptional high school students. Included in the group is John Culwell Dyer of Moran.

The institute, which opened Monday, July 18, is being financed with a grant of $7,350 from the National Science Foundation. The Howard Payne Division of Science and Mathematics has received grants totaling $165,655 in the last three years from the National Science Foundation, to conduct three summer institutes for high school teachers, two summer training programs for secondary students and an in-service training program to be held during the 1960-61 school year for high school teachers.

Dr. Leonard Daniel chairman of the HPC Division of Science and Mathematics and head of the Chemistry Department, will serve as director for the five-week student training program opening Monday. Assisting on the instruction staff will be heads of three other Science Division departments—Dr. Fred Inman, physics; Dr. Chris Jordan, biology; and Dale Maness, mathematics.

Charles Brewster, HPC senior from Blanket will serve as head counselor and recreation director for the participating students. Also serving as counselors will be Frances Lamb of Brownwood, who graduated at HPC in May, and Robert Liu, junior from Hong Kong.

Each morning, the participating students will have two hours of classwork in physical science and one hour of work in either biology or modern concepts in mathematics. During the afternoons, they will work on individual research projects in biology, chemistry or physics or participate in a group research problem in mathematics.

Also included in the five-week program will be two two-day field trips—one to the Fort Worth-Dallas area and another to the Austin-San Antonio area.

Students who will participate are exceptional science and mathematics students who are between their junior and senior years in high school of AA classification or lower.

Teachers Must Keep Up With Changing Methods

Austin, July—School is out, but Texas teachers still are in the classrooms. Most of them simply have switched roles—turning from being teachers to being students.

One out of four Texas public school teachers goes back to school each year, a survey by the Texas State Teachers Association shows. They need to brush up on new teaching techniques and to find out what has been happening in their field.

Just as a pharmacist must keep pace with new drug discoveries and physicians and dentists must keep up with new professional findings, so teachers must "hitch their wagon" to the fast-changing era of the satellite—not to a star.

Teachers in both the sciences and humanities are faced with the job of learning tremendous amounts of new material. Many textbooks are almost obsolete before they are published, and the teacher must supplement the textbook from other sources.

This back-to-school movement is at the teachers' expense, except to the extent that some secure scholarships of fellowships to help pay the bills. School children reap the rewards by having better teachers.

An estimated 25,000 Texas teachers—out of approximately 85,000 total—will be enrolled in college courses beginning this summer.

The figure is based on a survey of Texas junior and senior colleges by TSTA. The 58 colleges answering the survey, out of 88 queried, said 17,603 teachers were enrolled in their courses during 1959-60, and they expect 18,491 for the year 1960-61, beginning with summer school. Those attending the 30 schools not reporting would bring the estimated total up to 25,000.

Many other teachers must find summer jobs in order to enjoy the luxury of teaching next fall.

So, for most teachers, summer is work—not vacation.

Now you Republicans don't get us wrong. The Republican party works the same way nationally. Texas Republicans who are in Chicago this week carry a lot more delegate votes than they do influence.

The plan we have just mentioned is one of two which we think would be fair to our state. We would like to see it followed. If it is not, there is just one plan left for Texas which will work. We must truly become a two-party state, with two parties on the courthouse level as well as national level.

Veterans Home Loans Shows June Increase

Every phase of the GI loan program registered increased activity during the month of June, the Veterans Administration announced today.

Applications for home loan guaranty increased 7.1 percent in June, totaling 13,558 compared to 12,655 in May.

GI starts were up 11.2 percent in June to 7,711 from May's total of 6,935.

Appraisal requests for new units were up 5.7 percent to 15,213 in June, the highest since October 1959.

Requests for appraisal of existing units were up 9.5 percent to 7,061 in June. This was the highest total since October 1959.

World War II veterans have two more years in which to obtain Veterans Administration-guaranteed home, farm and business loans, Edward P. Onstot, manager of the VA Regional Office in Dallas said today.

Under the new law just signed by the President, both World War II and Korean conflict veterans can continue to apply for direct loans from the Federal government if they live in designated rural areas where GI loans are not obtainable from local lending institutions, Mr. Onstot said.

The new law authorizes Treasury Department advances of $150 million in each of the next two years of this direct loan extension program.

New expiration date for the guaranteed loan program for World War II veterans, and for the direct loan program for both World War II and Korean veterans is July 25, 1962, Mr. Onstot said.

Korean veterans may continue to seek VA-guaranteed loans through January 31, 1965, through previous legislation. The GI loan interest rate of 5-1/4 percent remains unchanged by the new law.
