> "You ought to see a French man drive in Paris," he said. He's just back from a trip to Europe and Northern Africa and he said one of his wild-driving California buddies was so startled by the average Frenchman's driving that he refused to get behind a wheel of a car in Paris. He had rented one to see the sights in, but traffic was so reckless he parked the thing and phoned the rental agency

a trip of some sort or other California going back to the days of Model T's, and I guess this w be the last one. They're plowing up all of the orange groves t make room for housing project out there and with the destruction oranges I think another ymbol of a way of life is passing.

Edwin Pentecost lives in Cov ma, Calif. I looked for him in the shone book but there are only two Pentecost's in the book. Neit of them match his name and wasn't able to make contact with m. Ralph Simmons lives in South Pasadena but I couldn't find his ame in the phone book. He must listed by his initials. Monroe Birdsall lives in Inglewood, didn't get to talk to him. Arc and Monte Hays live in Lo Beach, but I didn't find time eall them up as I got hit in Long Beach when two cars collided on downtown street. One of them bounced off the other and hit me broadside on the lefthand rear door. Scotty says it'll cost about $113 to fix that damage. The accident sort of un-nerved my nother and she was for getting out of Long Beach after that hapened, which we did.

In San Diego I did call up the am Sproleses (Frances V a n Geem) and it was there I found out that Myrtle was back in Temple. She was here in Eastland when we left. Frances had just talked with her father a day or wo before and had more news on
