Ribbon Cutting Formally Opens New Road To Staff

Formby Will Speak At Banquet Tonight

Seven-year-old Kimberly Ann Hailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hailey of Staff, this afternoon cut a white ribbon across the new Lake Leon bridge, formally opening the $172,508 bridge and road to Staff. The ribbon cutting ceremony was sponsored jointly by the Eastland and Ranger Chamber of Commerce.

The new bridge and road gives new life to Staff as well as the Eastland-Ranger area, officials of all three towns agree. Without the new outlet, Staff would have become isolated from both Eastland and Ranger when the new Leon Lake dam backs up enough water.

The old Staff bridge, which would have become inundated, has already been torn down.

Principal speaker at the occasion was Marshall Formby, member of the State Highway Commission. Mr. Formby hailed the bridge and road opening, and praised all concerned with the new dam. Eastland and Ranger jointly voted bonds of $1,500,000 — forming the Eastland County Water District — to build the new dam on the Leon River. The reservoir capacity at the spillway is 28,000 acre-feet.

The Eastland High and Ranger High School bands both took part in the bridge opening ceremony this afternoon.

Other talks were made by Virgil T. Seaberry Jr., president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, and by Dr. C. W. Harris, mayor of Eastland.

A tour of the new road followed, with a large caravan of cars taking part. Led by leaders of Eastland and Ranger, the tour proceeded over the dam to Ranger and then over the new Staff Road to Highway 80, by the new filtration plant and then to Eastland.

A banquet will be held tonight at the Connellee Hotel in Eastland. Judge Milburn Long will serve as toastmaster. The invocation will be given by Rev. Bruce Weaver, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Ranger, and students of the Fine Arts Department of Ranger Junior College will present the musical arrangements.

Judge Long will introduce honored guests, including personnel of the State Highway Department, State Parks Board, Eastland County Commissioners Court and directors of the Eastland County Water Supply District.

Mr. Formby will again deliver the main address.

COLD COMFORT FOR "HOT" PILOTS—Frosted dumplings, above, leads a frigid existence in Republic Aviation's 65-degree-below-zero cold room at Farmingdale, N. Y., so that U. S. Air Force pilots will be sitting pretty in all climates when flying their missions. Research engineer Tom Tomlinson conducts tests of the seat, similar to those installed in F-84 atom-bomb carriers. It hugs pilot protectively and, in emergencies, ejects him from the plane and then opens his safety belt prior to parachute drop.

Eastland Echoes

By Casey

"A nickel isn't supposed to be as good as a dollar but it goes to church more often!" — (Aunt Sluz).

As we talked with Eastland and Ranger dignitaries the other day, at the approach to the Staff bridge over Leon Lakesite — the occasion being an advance staging of the ribbon cutting — we got a real thrill out of anticipating the great days when this country shall again be favored with heavy rain and the good old aqua pura rises almost to the floor of that big concrete span. It isn't too much to hope for — and it will be wonderful when we get it!

A story has it that a business college once displayed a large sign outside its building saying: "A Short Course in Accounting For Women." But it was taken down one morning when the principal of the school noticed written across the sign in masculine script: "There is no accounting for women!"

Another one we heard — from Rabbi Isadore Garske of Fort Worth, one of the Brotherhood Week speakers at the Lions-Rotary joint meeting here: It seems that a clergyman, while absorbed in thoughts of his Sunday message, as he shaved, nicked a hunk out of his jaw. But he taped it up and went on to church and held the service. An inquisitive member asked: "Preacher, what on earth did you do to your face?" "Well," he replied, "I had my mind on my sermon and cut my face."

Eastland was represented prominently in picture and story in Sunday's Star-Telegram. A three-column lay-out chronicled the fact that Dr. Robert D. Moreton, son-in-law of Mrs. Dixie Williamson (husband of the former Alma Williamson), is to edit the English edition of an internationally-circulated x-ray manual. Then, featured in the Women's World section, were Mrs. C. Keith Beyette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, and children, Emily and Susan, in a heart-corralling scene, preparing for a teen-age hospitality.

Somebody has said that looking for trouble is wasted energy — all a guy has to do is sit and wait.

Other night Norman Guess asked this writer to dine downtown with his family and the Virgil Moores but one of them — maybe it was Virgil — said: "You may not be used to eating a meal with a couple of live-wire youngsters" ("Trippie" and Susan). The kids did have plenty of spirit but that's something we enjoy about youngsters. So we had as much fun as they did.

J. J. Honea Named Precinct Six Constable

J. J. Honea of Cisco was named to fill the Precinct 6 constable's post Monday by Eastland County Commissioners.

Mr. Honea's appointment came by unanimous vote of the Court on the recommendation of Commissioner J. E. McCannies.

Commissioners also voted to reappoint the Eastland National Bank as county depository for the next two years.

The Court also approved regular monthly bills.

County Youth Gets Calf In Houston Show

An Eastland County boy brought back a calf from the Houston Fat Stock Show.

Ronnie Bostick caught the calf in the Houston calf scramble. Ronnie was accompanied to Houston by Assistant County Agent Rufus Higgins.

Mr. Higgins will leave Wednesday with Pat Agnew for San Antonio where Pat will enter a calf in the San Antonio Livestock Show.

Other Eastland boys who will take part in the calf scramble Saturday will be Ralph Berry, Dan and Don Jobe and Robert Bostick.

CASH PREMIUMS AT EASTLAND COUNTY SHOW ARE ANNOUNCED

More than $1,000 in cash premiums will go to the Eastland County 4-H Club and FFA boys showing winning animals at the annual Eastland County Livestock Show to be held at the old airport, near Eastland, March 25 and 26, according to Luther Wilson, general show superintendent.

Only the juniors will get the cash prizes to be awarded at the show. Adult exhibitors will receive ribbons only, Wilson said. This has been the custom for the past several shows it was explained.

Entries in the fat stock division of fat steers, fat lambs and fat pigs are open not only to Eastland County boys and girls but also to those of adjoining counties. Out of county exhibitors, however, are not eligible at the sale of fat animals held three days after the show at the Eastland Livestock Sales Barn. No animals shown in the breeding classes will be eligible at the sale as has been the custom for many years.

Fat lambs, fat pigs and fat steers will be judged on a packer basis again and prize money will be paid on how the animals grade on the packer basis.

A feature of the show this year will be a special cash award of $10 to either the boy or girl deemed to have done the best job of showing his or her animal in either the fat animal or breeding classes. This showmanship award has not been made in the past although it has been discussed a number of times.

For Pecan Grower— Hobby Developed Into Full Time Job

By Staff Writer

A project that began "more-or-less as a hobby" has developed into a full-time job for B. B. Freeman, who lives approximately 15 miles East of Eastland, and considers himself a small grower of pecans.

Since 1927, when Freeman first planted a small pecan orchard in the deep subirrigated sand of the Cheaney Community, his orchard has now grown to include more than 600 trees that span 56 acres. The nut bearing trees have been planted 60 feet apart allowing space for 12 to each acre.

Freeman said that the trees have just now begun to reach a productive stage. Slightly more than 8000 pounds were harvested this year, which would have been about one-half of the crop in a normal year. Last year's crop topped 6,000 pounds, but the orchard is yet young and the trees do not reach maximum harvest until they are 25 to 30 years old.

First trees were planted in the Freeman orchard in 1927, and were not increased until the mid-30's.

Freeman, recalling his first visits to Eastland County, said that he was brought here to survey the site for the Wichita Falls & Southern Railroad. He met Mrs. Freeman, who has grown permanent in his past few years of service, were friends he made while employed by the railroad which carried him to various jobs in Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Colorado.

A critical problem that has always been a thorn in the side of the pecan industry is the destruction caused annually by crows. Recently, however, a deterrent, called an anti-crow fuse rope, has been developed that adequately discourages such waste. The rope, designed to slowly smoulder when lit, is interspersed with firecrackers, at various intervals, dependent upon individual needs. As the rope burns, it lights the firecracker fuses, which explode seconds or minutes apart, depending on the amount of space allowed for each.

Freeman said that the method has proved relatively economical as compared with the toll of destruction inflicted by the marauders annually.

"Pecan trees at a normal six feet tall when planted will begin production in the third year," the veteran nut farmer stated. Production increases each year thereafter, and there has never been a pecan tree on this continent that

Lions, Rotarians Told

'We Must Learn To Live All Together'

Eastland Lions and Rotarians heard three prominent Fort Worth clergymen — a Protestant, a Jew and a Catholic — tell why they believe in brotherhood at a joint meeting of the clubs held Monday at the Roof Garden of the Connellee Hotel. The affair was the annual Brotherhood Week meeting of the two clubs.

Speakers included Myron S. Baker, director of The National Conference of Christians and Jews of Fort Worth; The Very Reverend Monsignor D. A. Harnett, pastor of the St. George's Church; and Rabbi Isadore Garske, rabbi of the Congregation Ahavath Shalom.

Henry Pullman served as program chairman and introduced the three speakers.

The Rev. Mr. Harnett, the first speaker, told the group that as citizens and co-workers "we must stand together to build this country." He said each person of the panel appears as a citizen with a different religion. "It is not our objective to prove that one religion is as good as another," he said. "As citizens we go before you to ask that you practice brotherhood among your fellow men."

Rabbi Garske stressed that brotherhood is a "key to the problems" of fear that faces the world today.

"We must learn to live one with the other," he explained. Saying that there is nothing new about brotherhood, he said that religiously and historically brotherhood has always been a goal.

The Rabbi said he could not agree with the saying that America is the melting pot of the world. In America, he said, one is not forced to believe as another does, and is therefore not tossed into a melting pot to be made like all of the others. He compared the U.S. with a symphony orchestra, saying that each individual worked with the other to give the finished product.

"Peace based on brotherhood can become a reality," the Rabbi concluded.

Mr. Baker, speaking in the place of Dr. Hayden Edwards, pastor of Polytechnic Methodist Church, who was unable to be at the meeting because of a death in his family, told the group that children are not born with prejudice. "He is taught by someone, and frequently he gets it before he leaves home for school," the layman protestant said.

He concluded the program by saying, "To be loyal to our country, we must be loyal to each other."

Mrs. Roy Fonville Is Buried In Cisco

An inquest verdict of suicide has been returned in the death of Mrs. Roy Fonville Sr., 53, of Cisco, by Justice of the Peace J. R. Bogrus of Eastland. Mrs. Fonville's body was recovered from Lake Cisco near the dam at approximately midnight Friday.

The longtime Cisco resident apparently jumped to her death from the Lake Cisco dam. Recovery of the body ended a search that began about 9 p.m. when her car was found abandoned on State Highway 183 across the dam. The body was lodged against the dam.

Funeral services for Mrs. Fonville were held Monday at the First Christian Church in Cisco at 3 p.m. Rev. Sidney Spain, pastor, was in charge of services. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery.

Officers said Mrs. Fonville suffered a broken right shoulder, right hip and right arm in the fall. The dead woman's husband told officers his wife had been despondent for more than a year. She died on her birthday.

Mrs. Fonville is survived by her husband, a telegrapher for the Humble Pipeline Co. at Cisco; two sons, Roy Fonville Jr., of Cisco and Marvin Lee Fonville of Los Angeles, Calif.; her mother, Mrs. Gertie Richards of Santa Ana, Calif.; two brothers, R. T. Pounds Jr. and Roy Pounds, both of Santa Ana, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Imogene Altenbach and Mrs. Lotie Morris, both of Los Angeles and Mrs. Ruby Blackmoore of Rollins Hills, Calif.; and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Fonville was born Feb. 11, 1902, in Beavert, Mo., and married Roy Fonville June 2, 1920, in Piggott, Ark. The family came to Cisco in 1935 from Iowa Park.

That American Spirit

Here in this venturesome country of ours, the oil industry—especially in the exploration phase—is a good sample of America's "playing to win."

Inasmuch as our community and county are closely tied in with the petroleum industry, emphasis given to this American characteristic by W. Alton Jones in Service is deeply interesting.

"Wildcatters in oil and gas, blood-brothers to the gold prospectors, migratory, famed in song and story as rugged, two-fisted Americans, sink thousands of holes each year," he reminds us. "Eight out of nine are dry—failures. Only an occasional gusher, but the dream of it keeps the light afire in the eyes of the oil and gas wildcatter."

"The American tradition is to find the rainbow's end. We can not afford to lose this tradition. No political action, however plausible, should be tolerated that would dull this incentive to excel, to get on and up in the world."

"It would be a national calamity if oil and gas prospectors should become defeatists and say, 'Oh, what's the use?' Proposals today to restrict their operations should be scrutinized up and down, front and back, by all Americans who recognize that playing to win is one of our most important resources."

Unquestionably, the wildcatter is to be thanked for a great deal of the development of this wonderful resource, which has proved such a blessing to vast areas of Texas—including our own.

New Upside Down Cherry Bran Bread

Cherry Bran Bread is no ordinary quick bread. It's chock-full of red maraschino cherries, fine 100 per cent whole bran and pecans. But, its delicious caramel-like cherry nut upside down topping makes it a truly distinctive bread.

A mixture of cherries, nuts, butter and brown sugar is spread in the bottom of the baking pan and covered with cherry bran batter. When the bread is baked, it is turned from the pan and cooled upside down so the cherry-nut mixture becomes a tempting topping.

To prevent quick breads from cracking on the top, try this trick of food experts. Be careful not to overmix the batter and cover the loaf pan with an inverted bread pan or cover with aluminum foil. At the end of 20 minutes of baking, remove pan or foil and continue baking.

Cherry Bran Bread

Topping:
1 tablespoon butter or margarine ½ cup maraschino cherries
¼ cup light brown sugar ¼ cup chopped nuts
Melt butter or margarine in bottom of loaf pan and sprinkle brown sugar, cherries and nuts evenly over bottom of pan. Let stand while mixing the bread.

Batter:
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
3 teaspoons baking powder 1 cup whole bran
¾ cup sugar ½ cup chopped maraschino cherries
½ teaspoon salt 1 egg, beaten
1½ cups milk ½ cup chopped nuts
Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Combine egg and milk and stir into dry ingredients. Add melted butter or margarine, whole bran, cherries and nuts and mix until well blended. Pour into the prepared pan and bake in moderate oven (350°F) for 1 hour to 1 hour and 10 minutes. Remove at once from pan onto rack. Cool before slicing. Yield: 1 loaf.

Without doubt, some pecan growers are sprinkled over the state and even the nation who would not consider 56 acres, "the orchard of a "small producer."

Kitchen Comment

GOLDEN-CRUST OVEN-FRIED CHICKEN
For one of the tastiest and most easily digested fried chicken dinners you can prepare, try this recipe for "fried" chicken that actually is baked. The pieces of chicken are coated for frying, but instead of being placed in deep fat, they are dipped in margarine and baked in the oven.

(5-6 Servings)
1 3-pound frying chicken, cut up
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ to ¾ cup margarine

Mix flour, salt, and pepper. Roll pieces of chicken in flour mixture. Melt margarine in saucepan. Dip pieces of flour-coated chicken in margarine, coating all sides. Lay chicken in single layer in baking pan 1½ to 2 inches deep. Bake uncovered in moderate oven (375° F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour, until meat can be pierced easily with fork but not until meat falls from bones. Spoon or brush melted margarine over chicken 3 or 4 times during cooking. When chicken is done, remove from pan to hot platter. Keep hot while making gravy. Measure 6 tablespoons of the margarine from the baking pans into saucepan and add 6 tablespoons flour. Stir until smooth. Gradually add 3 cups milk, stirring constantly. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

For other tasty and nutritious kitchen-tested recipes, write the National Cotton Council, P. O. Box 76, Memphis, Tenn., for your free copy of "Make It With Margarine," an attractive new booklet in two colors.

San Angelo's loop-leading Rams, undefeated in Pioneer Conference play, will get their most severe test of the league basketball chase this week as they meet their three closest trailers in a span of five days.

Top billing for the week goes to the San Angelo - Schreiner Institute tilt Tuesday night at Kerrville. The Rams tripped Schreiner, 82-74, two weeks ago at San Angelo. If the leaders can do it again this week, there seems little hope of halting their bid to repeat as conference champs, since all other league members have lost two or more games.

Tarleton State, still without the services of its top scorer, Jimmy Page, will get a whack at San Angelo on Thursday at San Angelo; and fast-improving Ranger will try its hand on Saturday, also at San Angelo. Ranger has supplanted Tarleton State in third place in PC standing after lacing the Plowboys, 77-53, last week at Ranger.

Arlington State's Rebels, still trying for their first Conference win, will meet Schreiner Saturday at Arlington. Their previous session at Kerrville produced a victory for Schreiner, 103-85.

Sweethearts Of Zeta Pi and Xi Alpha Zeta, BSP, Are Crowned

MRS. JOHN GOODE

MRS. BOB KING

Mrs. John Goode and Mrs. Bob King were crowned "Sweethearts" of Zeta Pi and Xi Alpha Zeta Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Saturday night at the sorority's annual formal Valentine party.

The ceremony at the Connellee Hotel Roof Garden took place before a large seven-foot high, heart-shaped Valentine of white and red. Mrs. Goode received her crown from Mrs. Fehman Lund, president of the Zeta Pi Chapter, and Mrs. King was crowned by Mrs. LeJeune Horton, president of the Xi Alpha Chapter.

Both Mrs. Goode and Mrs. King carried heart-shaped bouquets of red carnations. Their crowns were fashioned of red chenille stems, trimmed with pearls and rhinestones.

Each of the honorees was presented a gift from her chapter. Dinner was served buffet style to approximately 50 guests, who then were seated at an L-shaped table. Red and white crepe paper streamers decorated the room.

Mrs. W. H. Hoffmann and Mrs. Norman Guess, representing the Xi Alpha Zeta and the Zeta Pi chapters, respectively, served as co-chairmen in charge of arranging the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hassell brought their daughter, Judy, 13, from Scottish Rite Hospital Sunday to their home here after Judy had recuperated sufficiently from recent surgery there. They will take her back to the hospital for further surgery February 23.

Stork Party Is Given For Mrs. Virgil Moore

Honoring Mrs. Virgil Moore, a stork party was given Saturday afternoon by a group of women of the Church of Christ at the home of Mrs. Allen D. Dabney, 605 S. Seaman.

Hostesses besides Mrs. Dabney were Meses. Harold Courtney, Dwain Lusk, W. A. Leslie, Minton Hanna, D. B. Cox and Norman Guess.

Early spring blossoms of the Japanese Quince and yellow jasmine ornamented the reception rooms of the Dabney home, while the dining table, from where refreshments were served, was centered with cyclamen blossoms and foliage and was laid with a lace cloth over red in the Valentine theme.

Mrs. Harold Courtney and Mrs. Dwain Lusk alternated in presiding at the silver tea service. Spiced tea, cookies and cherry tarts were served. The honoree was presented lingerie and a bottle sterilizer.

Besides the honoree and seven hostesses, the following women of the church registered in the guest book: Meses. Clifton D. Beck, Josie K. Nix, H. D. Reese, W. A. Teasorth, W. W. Linkenberger, Austin Varner, Guy Sherrill and P. A. Wheeler.

The guest book was the ingenious handwork of Mrs. Varner who had fashioned it like a baby's bib with front and back covers of blue cloth, edged with lace and beaded with a pink bow.

Sweetheart Banquet For First Baptist Young People Held

The annual Sweetheart Banquet for the young people of the First Baptist Church was held in the fellowship hall of the church Saturday night.

The Rev. Jim Hicks, pastor of First Baptist Church Chapel, was in charge of arrangements. The speaker, the Rev. Alfred Woodard, pastor of First Baptist Church of Gordon, had as his topic, "A Friend in Time of Need." Bill Blackmon, sponsor of the Young Peoples Training Union, offered the invocation.

Eighty young people attended and registered on a large red Valentine edged with a white net ruffle, with Mrs. O. I. Hooper presiding at this table. The banquet was sponsored by the Training Union and the young people served on various committees. Plate favors were nut cups on white paper doilies with red hearts, which had been fashioned by a committee of young people.

To further carry out the Valentine motif, red and white streamers formed a canopy for the hall and the large U-shaped table was centered at intervals with pseudo-trees which had been sprayed white and from whose branches dangled small red Valentines. These were on red styrofoam bases, festooned with white tulle and flanked by white tapers.

The Sunday School teachers and officers of the Intermediate and Young Peoples Departments served the chicken and dressing supper. The food was prepared under the direction of Mrs. Jess Siebert and Mrs. Edgar Altom.

The romantic yesteryear theme, which prevailed throughout the program, characterized the musical numbers, featuring "Let Me Call Your Sweetheart," sung by Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Treadwell Jr., and the hill-billy songs by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Koch. Mrs. Gene Rhodes gave a poem by Elizabeth Barrett Browning and the program and menu, in small simulated old-fashioned albums, marked places for those at the banquet. An audience participation contest of love songs was conducted with Mrs. Harvey Kimbler as pianist. The Rev. Mr. Hicks "emceed" the program.

The menu follows: Lovers Delight, Wonderful Surprise, Green Ribbons, Golden Days, Mixed-up Love, Bridal Path Blossoms and Queen's Nectar.

The group clasped hands and Howard Upchurch closed the meeting with prayer.

Olden-Gorman Girls Open Series Tonight

The Olden and Gorman girls meet tonight in an effort to decide who will be the district representative in the state playoffs. The two sextets ended in a dead heat to share the conference crown. Both defeated the other for their only district losses.

The game tonight, to be played in Gorman beginning at 7:30, will be the first of a two out of three series. The second game will be unreeled in the Olden gym Wednesday night at 7:30 and the third, if it is needed, will play on a neutral court Friday night.

Their third straight district championship in a row. Gorman is trying to break the Olden girls record. Olden downed the Gorman girls 47-32 in the Gorman gym Friday night to tie up the district, after losing to them earlier in the season in their own court.

The Olden boys downed the Gorman boys 68-34 in winning the district crown.

Mrs. R. Joiner and Mrs. Robert Myers returned home Tuesday of last week from Andrews, where they had been at the bedside of little Mark Scott, who is ill in the hospital there. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Scott.

Quite a tribute was paid to the people of this community in a note received by this writer from Mrs. O. A. Harrison of Wichita Falls, a former resident here, urging the reporter to "write all the news you can about the best people in the world," as has subscribed for a local paper and enjoys every word of it and said, "Tell everybody howdy."

Who said golf is an old man's game? We are inclined to disagree after playing 15 holes at the Lakeside Country Club course Sunday afternoon. We believe the game was created for the younger fellows. And we mean by that, fellows even younger than ourself.

We understand a fellow's supposed to play 18 holes in the hit and chase game. We just couldn't go it, however; not even after Pro John Lively let us use one of those handy push carts.

Our game was pretty good, though, even if we say so ourself, with the exception, of course, of our shots off the tee, our use of the two iron, our approach shots and our putting.

Lively sure does have the course in good shape. Especially when you consider the weather he has had to cope with.

Olden and Gorman's girls will clash Tuesday night in Gorman at 7:30 in the first out of a best two out of three series for the district crown. Olden's girls will be trying to equal the Olden boys in wrapping up the title.

Eastland interest in both of these teams is high, especially since Doris Day of Eastland plays on the Olden sextet, and local cage fans will probably attend several of the games.

Eastland MAVERICKS

The Mavericks really did a good job last Friday night. The boys played their last game and won it. It was one of the biggest upsets of the season.

The Mavericks won 75-73. Dale Slotton made a wild shot with the final two seconds to play to win. They started track Monday.

The band lost a baritone player. Jimmy Payne left us and moved to Midland. He was a senior.

The band played for the grand opening of the new bridge today. They started at 2:30 p.m. The Ranger band also played.

The girls lost Friday night, but they will play Cross Plains tonight and make up for their last Friday night. So let's all turn out to see the game. It will be played here at 7 p.m.

We had a special assembly yesterday. The program was about electricity. And yesterday afternoon we had a brotherhood meeting.

Donald Lee is our second boy for the Ag Class review. Donald is a second year boy. He holds the office of sentinel at the chapter meetings. He was the vice president last year for the Greenhand Chapter. Donald's project last year was one Duroc gilt. He showed her at the Eastland County Livestock Show and won second place honors.

Donald kept his gilt and decided to stay in the hog business. He had 11 pigs and one sow up 'til around September. Then he sold eight pigs. He kept two barrows for the feedlot and one gilt for a litter sow. His barrows are ready to go to market now so I'm going to borrow me some money. Donald is going to help Leo Smith with the chapter hog's at the Abilene Livestock Show.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Turknett and son, Steve, of Stephenville, visited Miss Charlie Chambers during the weekend.

Mrs. Floyd Robertson was in Abilene Monday for a visit with relatives.

Moore... ABOUT SPORTS

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

Who said golf is an old man's game? We are inclined to disagree after playing 15 holes at the Lakeside Country Club course Sunday afternoon. We believe the game was created for the younger fellows. And we mean by that, fellows even younger than ourself.

We understand a fellow's supposed to play 18 holes in the hit and chase game. We just couldn't go it, however; not even after Pro John Lively let us use one of those handy push carts.

Our game was pretty good, though, even if we say so ourself, with the exception, of course, of our shots off the tee, our use of the two iron, our approach shots and our putting.

Lively sure does have the course in good shape. Especially when you consider the weather he has had to cope with.

Olden and Gorman's girls will clash Tuesday night in Gorman at 7:30 in the first out of a best two out of three series for the district crown. Olden's girls will be trying to equal the Olden boys in wrapping up the title.

Eastland interest in both of these teams is high, especially since Doris Day of Eastland plays on the Olden sextet, and local cage fans will probably attend several of the games.

Quite a tribute was paid to the people of this community in a note received by this writer from Mrs. O. A. Harrison of Wichita Falls, a former resident here, urging the reporter to "write all the news you can about the best people in the world," as has subscribed for a local paper and enjoys every word of it and said, "Tell everybody howdy."

World Day of Prayer Be Observed By Group of Churches Here 25th

Plans have been made by representatives of the various churches of the city for the local observance of the annual World Day of Prayer meeting, scheduled for 7-30 p.m. Friday, February 25, at the First Methodist Church.

The purpose of the World Day of Prayer observance is to unite all Christians in a band of prayer and, in the United States, to make an offering for interdenominational missions projects. It is a time when Christians, as individuals, witness to their belief that prayer is a world power for good and as a group they unite to strengthen this power for good in the world.

The program, which will emphasize the theme, "Abide in Me," follows: "Sweet Hour of Prayer," opening song; invocation, the Rev. T. G. Oliphant, pastor of Little Flock Baptist Church; responsive reading, the Rev. Lennis M. Yearhien, pastor, Church of the Nazarene; Intercessory Prayer, the Rev. W. E. Hallenbeck, pastor of the Church of God; Prayer, the Rev. O. P. Shaw, pastor, First Baptist Church Colored; special musical trio, directed by Vivian Jones; talk, "Prayer for World Peace," by the Rev. Eugene H. Surface, Minister of First Presbyterian Church; Prayer, E. K. Henderson; special music, chorus directed by Vivian Jones; presentation of projects for which the offering is to be made; closing hymn, "Flest Be the Tie"; benediction, the Rev. Jackson C. Oglesby, pastor of First Methodist Church.

Participating churches are Holy Trinity Episcopal, First Methodist, First Christian, Church of God, First Presbyterian, The Nazarene, The Little Flock Baptist Church, African Methodist Episcopal Church, First Baptist Church Colored.
