Gray Matter

By JOE GRAY

There's talk going around some of Texas' larger cities of forming another major league and locating major league teams at a couple of places in Texas. The question this brings up is, "where are we going to get the players?" Then after considering that one for a moment the next one is, "Where are we going to get the fans?"

Without paying customers at the boxoffice no major league club can afford to operate any place. Will Fort Worth and Dallas, going in together in a major league venture, support a major league club? Can Houston, or will Houston, support a major league baseball club.

Fort Worth didn't support its entry in Class AAA ball so what reason is there for assuming Fort Worth will do any better in major league ball. There is the argument that people will go out to see the best who wouldn't go out to see second best. This is sort of the condition that exists between major league and high minors like the American Association that Ft. Worth played in the past season.

Baseball has to have players and fans to survive. Without both, baseball isn't going anywhere. Looking back into the years of long ago, it appears that interest in baseball is definitely on the downgrade. The question is, "How long will the major league ball survive, even in the major cities?" That is something baseball men all over the country must think about before they start getting people to invest their money in baseball parks that man never see over a few thousands fans in at any one time.

A few short years ago baseball was more popular in small towns than football, that condition has changed.

Today, I think it is safe to say, that baseball must take a back seat to football in popularity among the young men who actually play most of the athletic games played. If young men of today don't play baseball, baseball will quite naturally die on the vine regardless of the interest old-time fans might have for the sport.

Eastland High School used to field a baseball team in the spring; so did all the other schools in this district. Eastland went to the state semifinals the year the Coleman boys and Temple Harry played for the Mavericks. Some players on this team were offered contracts to turn professional, they were that good.

One of the reasons all the high schools had such good teams then was that every boy played what we called sandlot baseball just about every Saturday afternoon and summer vacation time. Baseball as a sport, though, enjoyed its greatest popularity even before then.

Around the turn of the century and up till World War I baseball was played everywhere a few boys got together. Every crossroads community had a baseball team and some of them were very good.

If Dr. San Poe hadn't gone on to make a den't he probably could have made a good living as a professional baseball player. W. D. R. Owen used to be such a good pitcher some of these sandlot teams used to hire him to pitch games for him and at the same time hire a man to plow for him while pitching. I guess they could call that professional sn today, but if Mr. Owen had turned professional and accepted a contract as a professional pitcher the legal profession might have lost a good practitioner.

The fellows who grew up in these days, of course, didn't play football much. It wasn't popular in the sandlots and most of them probably knew little, if anything, of the game, but they did know how to play baseball.

We used to be right in the middle of the West Texas League here. That league was a Class D member of organized baseball. Unless my memory serves me wrong, Thurber was a member of that league too. At one time Thurber was the largest town between Fort Worth and El Paso along the T & P As a mining town it was a bustling city, prosperous and busy. Uncle Charlie McCoy played ball for them years ago.

But times change things. Coal is no longer the choice fuel it was then, so Thurber's economy, being based on coal mining, died. If the youth of America are interested in playing baseball, the game of baseball will pass out as a major sport. The cities trying to vote themselves into bond-issuing programs for the building of giant baseball parks might do well to see that the parks are laid out in such a manner that football can be played there too.

Collins Explains How to Improve Your Memory

Bill Collins presented a talk on successful memory techniques at the regular noon luncheon meeting of the Eastland Rotary Club Monday.

Collins told Rotarians that they could improve their memories if they would learn to concentrate.

Plans to take a group of Boy Scouts to the Baylor-Texas Tech game in Waco Saturday were also revealed. Rotarians will provide transportation for the boys, who will be guests of Baylor University.

Story of Border Battles Is Told

This is the first in a series of articles outlining the numerous boundary conflicts dating back to 1716, pointing up little known facts which shaped the Texas of today.

The following is released as a public information service by the Attorney General's Department.)

The Texas boundary line stretches over some 4,000 miles and a sizeable portion of it has been forged and tempered in the fiery heat of conflict.

Attorney General Will Wilson is in one of these battles now with the Texas tidelands issue before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Since 1716 to this day its location has been fought over.

The Attorney General, a dedicated Texas historian, looks at the overall picture.

"The cold facts are, regardless of motive, that down through the years there has been bite after bite attempted on our territory," Wilson says.

"The worst and most tenacious of these land biters has been the federal government."

The first conflict arose along the East Texas-Louisiana line between the kingdoms of Spain and France in 1716.

Both nations claimed the Texas area. Each had military forces ready to take action.

While the diplomats wrangled overseas, the French and Spanish on the spot settled the dispute. They agreed on the Arroyo Hondo, a tributary of the Red River between the Sabine and Old Natchitoches.

Then, in 1803, the United States bought the Louisiana territory hazy as to the extent of land involved.

President Thomas Jefferson claimed the Rio Grande as the western boundary.

Spain contended it did not extend west of Los Adaes, a Spanish mission on the site of present day Robeline, La.

As a result U. S. Troops moved into Louisiana, drove the Spanish from Los Adaes and made general preparations for war.

Again local men of war hammered out an agreement. The Spaniard would keep west of the Sabine River and the Americans east of the Arroyo Hondo.

"This created the famous 'Neutral Ground', a strip between Arroyo Hondo and the Sabine, responsible to no one," Wilson points out.

"Overgrown with dense pine forest this was a natural refuge for some wild characters—adventurers, fugitives and outlaws. They played for keeps."

"The wildness is gone now but the old neutral ground has generated a tradition all its own and a breed of independent people whose names and deeds wrote Texas history."

"Today trees cut from the old neutral ground are used to make paper for Time, Inc., a national weekly magazine with its own tart brand of independence. The natives grin and say that the spirit (Continued on Page Five)

Bank Deposits In Eastland Increase

Eastland bank deposits reflected a healthy increase at the Oct. 6 bank call, a statement of condition issued by the Eastland National Bank today reveals.

Deposits at the local bank are $40,616 higher today than they were a year ago at this same time. However, loans and discounts also showed an increase.

Deposits at the bank now total $3,858,424. At this same date in 1958 deposits were listed at $3,817,808. Loans have increased from $1,146,365 in 1958 to $1,372,758 today.

Total resources of the bank are now listed at $4,153,466.

H-SU Ex-Students Hold Area Dinner In Eastland Mon.

Hardin-Simmons University ex-students of Eastland, Shackelford and Stephen counties will be guests of the university at a fellowship dinner to be held at the White Elephant Cafe in Eastland the evening of Oct. 19, Truett Latimer, H-SU alumni director, has announced.

Activities will get under way at 7 p.m. There will be no charge for the meal and no financial solicitation during the evening, Latimer said.

"Your Ex-Students Association is working to organize local ex-student chapters throughout the state," Latimer has written the area alumni. "A nominating committee will present a proposed slate of officers on the night of the meeting. In cooperation with your local officers, we want to have at least one meeting each year in your area. Through this medium, we can help keep you informed on the progress of the university, as well as help promote mutual friendships with your fellow ex-students."

The Eastland program will include a progress report on H-SU's current funds campaign a n/d building program, to be given by the Rev. Byron Bryant, H-SU public relations director; a look at the future by Dr. Lee Hemphill, vice president for development; and a message from Dr. Evan Allard Reiff, president. Entertainment will be furnished by a group of students.

The university's finance campaign, in which solicitation is to be completed by Dec. 31, has a goal of $1.5 million. Approximately half the sum has been raised. The building program includes the new $630,000 chapel - auditorium on which construction is just starting; a new student center slated for construction early in 1960, and other facilities. Already completed is a $165,000 enlargement and remodeling program in Caldwell Hall, H-SU School of Music building.

Large Turnout For Homecoming Meeting Urged

"Come out and help us plan for the 1960 Homecoming," Jim Golden urged today. Golden said the Eastland High School and Homecoming Association would hold a planning session in Eastland High School Auditorium Sunday at 2 p.m.

He added that the only way friends of Eastland High School could voice an opinion in the way to run the quinquennial homecoming was to attend a planning session. "This is your opportunity to voice your ideas and opinions," he said.

The Sunday meetings will hear the original musical composition written by an association member, Mrs. Andy Taylor. Golden said he hoped to get this piece arranged into band instrumentation and recorded perhaps.

Golden said the Colemans will be here from Waco; the Mitchells from San Antonio; the Harrisons from Dallas; the Carpenters and Youngs from Abilene.

"Every person interested in seeing Eastland have larger homecoming in 1960 than she had in 1957 is invited to come out to this Sunday's planning session," the president said.

C-C Directors Named by Tanner

Eight directors have been named for the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

H. J. Tanner, manager, said the new directors are Charles Freyschlag, Henry Pullman, Hood King, Milton Fullen, Dr. James Whittington, Gordon Goldston, Dick Spaulding and Harold White.

YOUR UNITED FUND Girl Scouts Built On Democratic Plan

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of seven articles dealing with agencies participating in this year's United Fund drive.)

By MRS. R. H. ROSS

One of the agencies included in the Eastland United Fund drive is the Girl Scout organization. Girl Scouting is built on the philosophy underlying democracy. Helping others, giving service whenever and wherever it is needed, working with the group toward a common goal, developing qualities of leadership and learning to work under another's leadership—all this is packed into the Girl Scout program.

The Girl Scout program is available to all girls between the ages of seven and seventeen. There are three program levels in Girl Scouting—Brownie Scouts for girls 7-10; Intermediate Scouts for girls 10-14; and Senior Scouts for girls 14-17. The program is geared to the age, interest, and experience of the girls. There is opportunity in Girl Scouting to progress from simple projects carried out by Brownie Scouts to ranks and badges of Intermediate Scouts; to Service Aide and Trail Blaze, programs of Senior Scouts. Throughout the entire program, girls are learning by doing. They are guided by adults specifically trained for Girl Scout leadership.

Now, as a member in the Girl Scout organization without opportunity for special training to qualify her to help girls of the same age to attain the most from her Girl Scout experience.

At all age levels, Girl Scouts have opportunity for camping. Camping, Girl Scout style, is done in three kinds of settings:

AROUND RANGER COLLEGE CAMPUS

By Ranger College Journalism Class

The Student Union Building, which was one of the buildings at Ranger College that had a face-lifting this summer both inside and outside, is the popular meeting place of students between and after classes. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Dallas Puryear, the building is kept open all day every week day and every evening with the exception of Wednesday evening. The policy of making the Union Building facilities available to students at all times was put into effect this year, and has met with popular approval among Ranger College students, for they look on U. B. activity as one of the outstanding features of campus life.

During the mornings many students gather around the tables to drink coffee or soft drinks and discuss the latest news. Others play shuffle board, dance, listen to the music of the juke box, or just talk. They return in the afternoons and evenings as their schedules and other activities permit.

Much credit for the popularity and success of the tudent Union Building as a student center goes to Mrs. Puryear, mother of Jim Puryear, Ranger College coach. Formerly of Miami, Oklahoma, she has been living in Ranger since August, 1958. Mrs. Puryear is always around with a cheerful smile and greeting and gives the U. B. a pleasant, homelike atmosphere. Students enjoy talking with her and appreciate her willingness to listen to their problems and give them encouragement. In addition to keeping the center open during regular hours, she opens it for special parties after football games and other occasions.

Sophomores especially appreciate the recreational activities available through the new policy and envy the freshmen, who have two years of fun and enjoyment to look forward to in association with their classmates in the Student Union Building.

Ranger College is proud to have

Be Ready for a Rainy Day—

... as there's nothing like having reserves stored away for emergencies or for planned needs at a later date. And you are getting ready for the rainy day when you plan for and buy insurance, for such a day could be a cold, bleak one without some advance planning. So begin planning now against the inevitable by advising with this agency, without obligation, concerning an insurance program best suited to your needs.

Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Ramsey attend A.D.A.A. Convention

Mrs. P. Ramsey Attends ADA A Meet in New York

Mrs. Pauline Ramsey, Dental Assistant for Dr. J. O. Jolly of Eastland, attended the 35th annual session of the American Dental Assistants Association at New York City with headquarters in the Statler-Hilton Hotel Sept. 13-17.

Mrs. Ramsey and Mrs. Olga Hoover, First vice president and Executive secretary of the Texas Dental Assistant Association of Waco met in Dallas at 7 a.m. on the 10th of Sept. and traveled to New York and home again in Mrs. Hoover's car.

Mrs. Ramsey was the 12th seated Texas delegate representing the 17th district Dental Assistant Society of Abilene. Mrs. Hoover was elected to the 10th District of the A.D.A.A. as trustee from Texas. Her 10th district covers five states: Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas and Utah.

The lovely little lady in the picture with Mrs. Ramsey is Mrs. Marion Edwards of Ontario, Canada. Mrs. Ramsey and Mrs. Edwards met three years ago at the A. D. A. A. meeting in Miami Beach, Florida. Mrs. Edwards is a Registered Nurse and after 30 years as a Dental Health Nurse, she retired. The following month she was presented to Queen Elizabeth of England. She was given the Medal of Honor and is an Honorary Member of the A.D.A.A. The next meeting of the A.D.A.A. will be held in Los Angeles, Calif. in November of 1960.

Bible Study Is Begun Wednes. By Service Guild

The Wesleyan Service Guild met Wednesday evening in the Methodist Church for their bi-monthly meeting. Mrs. Charles Marshall presided over a short business session, after which Mrs. D. E. Frazer introduced the Bible Study for the year: "The Gospel of Luke".

Mrs. R. P. Haun discussed the Synoptic Problem of the Gospels, relating their similarities and the individual characteristics of each. Mrs. Charles Marshall gave the Individual Portrait of Luke. Mrs. Ruth Poe Herring read and discussed the second chapter of Luke, giving the expressions of Paul as he wonders at the greatness of the sacrifice necessitated by the Incarnation. The title of her discussion was "The Messiah is at Hand". The third chapter of Luke shows the particular interest in the youth of Jesus, as discussed by different members in an open discussion. Luke mentions twice the physical, mental and spiritual development as Jesus, recounting the incident in the Temple at Jerusalem.

The assignments for the next meeting on Oct. 21st are the fourth to the ninth chapters of Luke. There is an outstanding literary quality about this book of the Bible and its appeal is universal. It is humanitarian, as Mrs. Marshall stated, with its special characteristics of the Synoptic Gospels. Luke justifies and upholds the Christian Church.

Those present were: Mesdames Harold Durham, Joe Stephen, Taylor Smith, Mida Everett, Thura Taylor, Ruth Poe Herring, Charles Marshall, R. P. Haun, D. E. Frazer and Miss Loretta Morris.

Achievement Day Plans Are Made By HD Council

Achievement Day plans were made by members of the Eastland County Home Demonstration Association Council Wednesday as the group met in the Texas Electric Service Company Conference room.

The motto, pledge and prayer were led by Mrs. Olive McCain and Mrs. Vergie Hale, council chairman, presided over the business session. The roll was called and reports from each club president were given. Seven clubs reported on club work for the past year.

Mrs. Olive McCain, Phyllis Kincaid and Willie Hines were appointed as a planning committee for the Pecan Bake Sale.

The Council voted to sponsor a bake sale on Achievement Day, November 6 and a committee was also appointed to plan a luncheon for the Council on that day. Rules regarding exhibits and prizes for Achievement Day were reviewed by Mrs. Carroll Shelton, agent.

The nominating committee report was given and their Council officer nominees for 1960 were announced.

Mrs. Bela Tucker and Mrs. C. A. Lassiter, delegates to the recent THDA meeting in Galveston, gave interesting reports on their trip. A brief recreation period was conducted by Mrs. Lassiter.

Shelter Important For Dairy Animals

COLLEGE STATION — Many natural advantages for dairymen are found in Texas. Due to these advantages many Texas dairymen have been led to believe the North would be put out of the dairy business. Yet, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, Northern and Mid-West dairymen are not only still in the dairy business, but are supplying milk to almost every major milk market in the state.

Meekma says that Texas dairymen have taken literally the term "natural advantages." Too long the barbed wire fence has been considered sufficient shade and shelter. Texas dairymen do not require the elaborate, expensive arrangements of the North, but adequate arrangements to provide protection for dairy animals should be provided to protect them from the cold winter rains and the summer heat. In Meekma's opinion dairy cattle should be protected from the summer sun even more so than winter cold.

A pole-type, open shed, which is very inexpensive as construction costs go today, will do an excellent job. The shed should provide 50 to 70 square feet per cow. Well-fed dairy cows do not need warm or elaborate quarters. They thrive when housed in open sheds, protected from prevailing winds and summer heat. Meekma adds that some protection should be provided, at least more adequate than the barbed-wire fence.

demanding its return, the Texans loaded it with powder and the undisputed authority of horshoes, raised the flag with the dare "Come and Take It," and fought the battle of Gonzales.

In 1814 diplomats finally signed a treaty settling the boundary between the United States and Spain—the western banks of the Sabine to its intersection with the 32nd parallel and then due north to the Red River.

Congress in 1848, moved the line from the river bank eastward to the Sabine River's middle channel where it lies to this day.

However, Wilson observes: "Before this line was moved to the middle of the river it ran along the western bank of the Sabine to a point near Southeast of Carthage, went north overland until it reached the Red River."

"Congress moved the river running portions of the line eastward to mid-stream with no provisions as to what course it would take northward from the Carthage area overland to Red River."

"Consequently there is a strip of land about 150 feet wide and some 70 miles between Texas and Louisiana that the turn of events has left shadowed with doubt," Wilson points out.

I CALLED YOU FIVE TIMES FOR DINNER PAW!

I CAN'T DROP EVERYTHING THE SECOND YOU TELL!

DOESN'T WOMAN, THE SOUP IS COLD!

PHOOEY, SUCH A MEAL! THE MEAT WAS OVERDONE AND THE POTATOES JUST LUKE-WARM! THAT COFFEE BETTER BE HOT!

IT WAS HOT!

AND IT SAYS MARTIAL LAW HAS BEEN IMPOSED ON...

PAW, WILL YOU LEND ME TEN DOLLARS?

SAY YOU DIDN'T PAY BACK THE TEN BUCKS YOU BORROWED LAST WEEK!

OH DEAR THAT'S TWENTY DOLLARS I OWE!

A HUSBAND IS LEGALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR HIS WIFE'S DEBTS, SO PAY ME THE TWENTY AND WE'LL BOTH BE OUT OF DEBT!

HOWS THAT AGAIN?

MARTIAL LAW MAY BE TOUGH, BUT THAT MARITAL ONE IS TOUGHER!

I WISH I WAS A FAIRY PRINCESS, DON'T YOU?

NO!

WHY NOT?

CAUSE IT'S SILLY TO DREAM THAT STUFF!

I DON'T THINK IT'S SILLY, WOULDN'T YOU WANT TO BE BEAUTIFUL JUST LIKE THEY ARE IN BOOKS?

WHY WISH FOR BEAUTY...

...WHEN I ALREADY HAVE IT?

THAT NEW BOY IS SO INSULTING! YESTERDAY HE CALLED ME FATTY!

HE CALLED ME A FET!

LOOK! THERE HE IS NOW! JUST TRY TO IGNORE HIM!

HEY, FATTY, AREN'T YOU AND THAT PEST SPEAKING TO ME? HA! HA!

OUR MOTHERS TOLD US NOT TO SPEAK TO STRANGE BOYS...

...AND BOY, ARE YOU STRANGE!

Peace costs money

It takes money to keep our jet pilots up there patrolling the skies. . . .

Money to let our scientists continue their search for answers. . . .

Money to insure that our productive power will thrive and grow. . . .

Money to help our children learn how to make peace lasting.

Yes; peace costs money. Money for research and schools and military preparedness. Money saved by individuals to keep our economy strong.

Money saved by you.

You and your family can be the strongest force of all for peace.
