

Honor Paid to Clyde Garrett by Congress

Special respect has been paid to the late Clyde L. Garrett by members of the 86th Congress. The following remarks are taken from the United States Congressional Record:

OMAR BURLESON: Mr. Speaker, I rise to officially announce to the House the death of the Honorable Clyde L. Garrett, a former member of this body and a distinguished predecessor of mine, who died at Eastland, Tex., on Dec. 18, 1959.

Many of you who served with him in the House will receive the news of the passing of Judge Garrett with a profound feeling of sorrow. You will remember him as I knew him personally, a kindly and considerate man who served his constituents, his State and his country with integrity and dedication.

Clyde L. Garrett had an illustrious career in public office. He was honored many times by the electorate in the community he was born and reared and where people knew him intimately. This is always a great compliment to any man.

He served Eastland County as county clerk and as county judge. While a county judge, he was president of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas, a very high and signal honor.

He served the U.S. House of Representatives in the 75th and 76th Congress and, of course, those of you who served with him will remember him best in this period.

Subsequent to his leaving Congress, he held a highly responsible position with the Veterans' Administration as a loan guaranty officer, and retired in 1955 to return to Eastland among his lifelong friends who contribute to the community life of that area.

His most recent activity prior to his death was that of president of the Eastland County Lyndon Johnson-for-President Club. In this capacity he had plans for active work in behalf of Senator Johnson for the Democratic nomination in 1960.

Our Nation, this community, and his neighbors have lost a valuable friend and a devoted leader in the passing of the Honorable Clyde L. Garrett.

I know that those of you who know him in the Congress will join with me in expressing deepest sympathy to Mrs. Garrett, his two sons, Carl L. and Clyde W., and his three daughters, Mrs. L. E. Maley, Mrs. John Seeling and Mrs. Paul Pate. It is our hope that they may find some consolation in the memory of a husband and a father whose life was well spent in honorable service, and in knowing that a host of friends grieve his passing.

MR. PATMAN: Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

MR. BURLESON: I yield to the gentleman from Texas.

MR. PATMAN: Mr. Speaker, I join with my colleague in expressing sorrow by reason of the death of the Honorable Clyde L. Garrett.

I served with Judge Garrett in the House of Representatives for the four years he was a member. I came to respect and admire his devotion to duty, his integrity and his courage.

He was a man who was exceedingly attentive to the problems of others and was always willing to lend a helping hand to his friends and to causes and problems in which they were interested.

In those days between 1937 and 1940, the issues of our Nation were acute and changed rapidly. Just prior to the war years there were many instances in which it was tremendously difficult to know what was right and what was wrong. It was a time when a thing may appear as of today, and tomorrow would prove wrong, and vice versa. They were troubled times and times which required the most conscientious judgment. It was a time of change, a time of what might be termed adventure into the uncharted events which we now know were seriously confronting us. He met the issues of the day with the courage, the determination and convictions which identified him as one of the most able and most respected members of this body.

I join with others in extending deepest sympathy to his very fine family.

MR. POAGE: Mr. Speaker, when Judge Clyde L. Garrett died this past Dec. 18, I lost a personal friend, and his community lost a man who had contributed much to it over the many years which he served the people.

I came to Congress with Clyde Garrett in 1937, and had that close relationship which all of you recognize when you belong to the freshman class. It is natural that members who started in the Congress together are drawn a little closer and have a feeling of affinity in the common experience. Before coming to the Congress, I claimed Clyde Garrett as a personal friend, and that friendship was cemented more closely during the four years that he was a member of the House. He had for years been the respected friend of my wife, whose family home was in Eastland, and of all of the members of our family. Continuously through the years that friendship has matured and grown to the very end of his life.

I attended the funeral of Judge Garrett in Eastland, Tex., and there witnessed the host of friends who came to pay their last respects. At that time, as during his life, he manifested a touch of greatness by reason of the friends about him. Every acquaintance knew Judge Garrett to be a loyal and sincere friend, and an outstanding Christian citizen.

It is with a profound sense of loss and a time of mourning which I feel at the loss of this friend. I associate myself with you who have expressed similar sentiments, and in this way express my sympathy for his wife and the fine sons and daughters who survive him.

MR. MAHON: Mr. Speaker, I wish to join today with the gentleman from Texas and other colleagues in taking note of the passing some time ago of the Honorable Clyde L. Garrett, a former colleague from Texas.

I knew Clyde Garrett before I came to Congress. I learned to know him intimately during his service here. He and I and our families were warm friends. While serving here, he demonstrated a devotion to duty and principle which marked him as a worthy and able servant of the people of his district and of the Nation as a whole.

Mr. Garrett was a humble man who sought diligently to do his job as a representative of the people. It was my privilege to cooperate with him on many matters of general interest to the people of West Texas. He served the (Continued on page two)

Bank Stock Increase to $100,000 Is Okayed

Approval has been granted the Eastland National Bank to increase the firm's capital stock from $50,000 to $100,000, H. T. Wilson, president, announced today.

Wilson said the approval came from the United States Comptroller's Department. Stockholders and directors of the bank approved plans to increase the stock at a meeting last week. At the same time approval was granted to increase the surplus account from $50,000 to $100,000.

A 100 percent stock dividend was declared making the new capital structure possible. A total of $50,000 was transferred from undivided profits to capital stock and $50,000 was transferred from reserves to the surplus fund. The switch left $62,000 in undivided profits. The increase in stock will enable the bank to increase its loan limit to $200,000.

Stockholders will be re-issued new certificates and the stock will have a par value of $20. Wilson said the move reflects the bank's "growth in the community" and the "stability of the bank."

Stockholders re-elected officers and directors of the bank at their meeting. J. P. McCracken is chairman of the board, Wilson is president, Russell Hill and James Fry are vice president, James Reid is cashier and Inez Harrell Bourdeau and Grover E. Hallmark are assistant cashiers.

Members of the Board of Directors are McCracken, Hill, Wilson, J. A. Beard and Dr. M. A. Treadwell.

Final Rites Held Today For Lloyd Clem

John Lloyd Clem, 62, former Ranger resident, died at 1 a.m. Tuesday in El Paso. He had been ill about a month. He was born March 12, 1897, in Copperton, Tex.

Funeral services were held Thursday at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Ralph E. Perkins, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery, under direction of Killingsworth Funeral Home.

Mr. Clem was a member of the Ranger Masonic Lodge No. 738, Scottish Rite at Dallas and Shrine at Fort Worth. Masons will be in charge of graveside service. Mr. Clem came to Ranger as a small boy and attended Ranger High School. He later owned and operated a dry goods store here, then moved to El Paso six years ago. He married the former Miss Lydia Belle Horn in Ranger December 21, 1924.

He owned a real estate business in El Paso.

Survivors are the wife; two daughters, Mrs. Betty Bettinger of Fort Worth and Mrs. Wanda Johnson of Midland; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Weekes of Ranger and Mrs. Belle Jones of Odessa; five grandchildren.

Funeralbearers were: Felton Brasher, Sr.; Lloyd Brown, W. A. Lewis, Kenneth Kirk, C. B. Pruet, Carl Page, and Frank Penn, all of Ranger, and Roy Baker of Strawn.

1960 Census Office Opened In Abilene

Establishment of a district office for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing at 174 Cypress St., Abilene, was announced today by Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas.

Max V. Mossholder will be supervisor of the district office. He will direct a force of 19 crew leaders and 284 census takers in the following counties: Callahan, Comanche, Eastland, Erath, Fisher, Hamilton, Jones, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Parker, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, and Taylor.

Taking the 1960 Census nationally will require the services of 160,000 enumerators, 10,000 crew leaders, and 400 district supervisors, all temporary workers. The district supervisors, working under the general direction of the permanent regional field directors, are responsible for all phases of the census in their districts. Duties of the district supervisor include the recruiting of the crew leaders, obtaining space for crew leader training, recruiting and training a small office staff, reviewing the completed questionnaires, and direct supervision of the field canvass which begins on April 1.

Prior to the start of the census, all households will receive in the mail an Advance Census Report Form, a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form, which contains the basic population and housing questions, gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

Establishment of the new chapter in Ranger will aid schools in this area not only in convenience, but in cutting expenses, also. Chapter's available to area schools prior to establishment of the Ranger chapter were in Abilene, Wichita Falls, Ft. Worth and Brownwood, and cost area schools quite a bit in travel expense for the officials. With the establishment of the Ranger Chapter, schools in this area will be able to get officials without having to pay so many miles travel expense.

All officials are members in good standing of the association, well qualified, and include several former coaches. Fees and travel expense will be based on present Texas Interscholastic League schedules.

Following are the names of members of the Ranger Chapter of the Southwest Football Officials Association, school attended and positions qualified to officiate.

Elton Ables, North Texas, umpire, head linesman and field judge. Sam Aills, Centenary, referee, umpire, head linesman and field judge. Roy Barrett, Hardin-Simmons, referee, head linesman, umpire and field judge. Carl Black, Texas A & M, referee, umpire, head linesman, and field judge. Morris Campbell, Texas Tech, umpire, head linesman, and field judge. R. E. Carroll, Arlington State, referee, umpire, head linesman and field judge. L. R. Conn, referee, umpire, head linesman, and field judge. T. R. Craig, Ranger College, head linesman, umpire and field judge.

Marking themselves as one of the most improved teams in this area, the Eastland Mavettes downed the Baird girls, 48-29, Tuesday night in a non-district game played in the Eastland gym.

The Eastland girls had downed the Baird team earlier in the year by one point. This time, however, it was Eastland all the way. Judy Seaberry led the locals with 26 points. Wanda Arther had eight points, Patsy Hollis and Kathy Jones each had six and Yvonne Green had two.

Tena Urban, Judy McMillan, Beverly Kline, Kay Morton and Joyce Robertson led the Mavettes on defense.

The Eastland girls will play Ballinger here Monday night in a district game. There will be an A and B team game, with action beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Mavs Whip Ranger; Play Winters Here

With one eye on Cisco, the Eastland Mavericks moved past Ranger, 57-27, Tuesday night to remain in the District 7AA race.

The victory gave the Mavs a record of two wins and one loss in district play. The locals beat Coleman last week and lost to Cisco by five points.

Eastland started slow with the Bulldogs, playing tight defensive ball and controlling both backboards. After building up a 10-0 lead the Mavs led 12-4 at the end of the first quarter. At halftime it was just 17-9 and the score was 32-17 at the end of three periods. In the final quarter, paced by Martin Day, the Mavs found the basket and ran up the score.

Coach Spike Dykes had nine players in the scoring column. Day led the pack with 18 points, Otis Green had 12 and John Wilson nine. Dean Richie led the visitors with 12 points.

Eastland's B team also posted an easy win. The B teamers won, 44-35, in a game which wasn't anywhere as close as the score might indicate. Raymond Lusk led the sharp-shooting B teamers with 15 points.

In other district play Cisco remained undefeated by beating Ballinger, 72-44, and Coleman beat Winters, 52-46.

Rhodes' Roundup

By Oran Rhodes

Howdy! Hurrah! The finals are over. It was a hard fight but it is finally over. I certainly hope that everyone came out all right. I passed and I am very thankful for it. The teachers have strained their eyes grading but they are still going strong which is witnessed by all the lessons I have for the next week.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Spike Dykes. They have a new son and Coach has been walking around on clouds for the past week. The event caused Coach Dykes to miss the first half of last Tuesday night's ball game.

As far as basketball goes, this past week has been an exciting one. Last Tuesday night in the district opener, the Mavericks lost a good game to Cisco 44-33. The non-scoring Mavericks threw up a defense that threw the high and mighty Lobos into confusion. The "B" team also lost to Cisco.

Friday night the Mavericks won a thriller at Coleman. The Mavs won the game in the last three seconds by a score of 38-36. The Mavs hit a poor 29 percent while the Bluecats hit over 50 percent, but again the Mav defense saved the day. The Mavs played Ranger here last Tuesday night and will play Winters here tomorrow night.

The Mavettes won a district game over Cisco last Tuesday night at Cisco by a score of 51-47. The Mavettes played Baird a nondistrict contest last Tuesday night. They will play Ballinger here next Monday night.

Please come out and see these ball teams play. They are doing a fine job and it would certainly help to have a good crowd once in a while. I suppose that about wraps it up for now. See you.

Are you kind to vegetables when you cook them? There are some rights and wrongs for cooking vegetables. A good cook is a vegetable's best friend because she cooks and serves the vegetable so that it retains the largest possible amount of food value. Tastes fresh and good and has an attractive appearance.

Refrigerate all fresh vegetables except potatoes, dried onions, winter squash, parsnips and rutabagas, as soon as possible after purchasing or harvesting. Wilting and exposure to air and light cause a great deal of loss of essential nutrients. All leafy vegetables and broccoli, cauliflower, peas, beans, carrots, celery, green onions, radishes, and cucumbers, should have moist cold. Store them in the crisper pan of the refrigerator in moisture-vapor-proof wrapping, such as aluminum foil, cellophane or plastic.

Wash and clean vegetables carefully. Dirt may hasten spoilage. Drain off excess water, but store while moist for better crisping. Trim away bruised or spoiled areas to prevent rapid spoilage. Do not pare or cut up vegetables before storing. Do not buy more vegetables at one time than you can refrigerate satisfactorily.

Do not buy more frozen foods—or any other frozen foods—at one time than you can store in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator or home food freezer. Frozen food should be stored at 0°F. or lower.

Some cooking rules to follow are: Never allow pared vegetable to soak in water. Nutrients that are soluble will be lost. Use a minimum amount of water that will cook the food without sticking. The loss of vitamins and minerals is held to a minimum. Begin fast and cook quickly. Reduce cooking time by bringing the foods to a cooking time quickly. This protects vitamins by limiting the time they are exposed to water, heat and air. Avoid violent boiling to keep vegetables whole and decrease the loss of water-soluble substances. After food boils, reduce heat to maintain steam. Cook in covered utensils without stirring. Stirring puts in extra air and air destroys certain vitamins. Cooking in covered utensils keeps green vegetables natural color. Use the cooking liquid. It contains vitamins and minerals. Vegetables retain more food value, flavor and have more eye appeal if served while they are firm and colorful. Do not use soda, as it destroys vitamins. Serve potatoes and carrots with skin for maximum food value. Shred cabbage or salad greens only just before serving to preserve the vitamins. If you must prepare ahead of time, store in a plastic bag, in crisper pan of refrigerator or tie loosely in a clean, wet towel.

Use saucepans with tight cover to retain steam, flat bottoms that fit heating unit so that they will be more efficient, and straight-sided pans to utilize heat for cooking and use less water.

Good Taste

Inviting Two In Presence Of Others

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if I was wrong in the following situation: The other night as we were leaving a friend's house and my husband and I and another couple (also friends of ours) were standing in the doorway saying our good-byes, I invited the host and hostess to our house for dinner the following week. I did not, however, include the other couple in the invitation and my husband thinks I showed very bad manners by extending an invitation to them in the presence of the other couple without inviting them too. Was I wrong?

Answer: I'm sorry, but I agree with your husband that you were very tactless. You should have called your friend the following day to invite them to dinner.

A Brother Introduces His Sister
 Dear Mrs. Post: My brother introduced me to a business associate of his the other day, as follows: "Mr. Smith, may I introduce you to my sister." He did not mention that my name is Mrs. Jones. I say this introduction was inadequate. He says the fact that I am his sister was all that mattered. Which of us is right?

Answer: If you were unmarried, he would be right. But since you are married and have a different name, you are right. To say "my sister" would naturally be taken for granted that your name is the same as his. He should have added after "my sister"—"Mrs. Jones."

Gloves At A Cocktail Party
 Dear Mrs. Post: At a cocktail party, is it necessary to remove one's gloves to drink a cocktail?
 Answer: They may be left on if everything you touch is dry. For instance, if the glass has a stem on it and the little canapes are dry, you need not take off your gloves. If the glass is moist and whatever you pick up is buttery, you naturally take at least one glove off.

Bungling Generosity
 Dear Mrs. Post: The other afternoon I went to lunch with a friend and another girl whom I had never met before. When the check came she (the new acquaintance) picked it up saying that she would treat my friend to lunch-leaving me to walk up to the cash register to pay my part of the bill. I thought this very rude. Wouldn't it have been better for her to treat our friend at some other time? They see each other often for lunch, or am I being too critical?

Answer: She should either have offered to pay for both of you or said nothing and assumed that each of you would pay your own share.

Wedding Breakfast Must Be Limited
 Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married at a nuptial mass and a wedding breakfast will follow for just the immediate families and closest relatives. My fiance and I both have a great many friends and we would like to invite to the breakfast but finances will not permit this. We thought of having them come in after the breakfast to wish us happiness and then serve light refreshments. Would this be proper, and if so how should this be noted on the invitations?

Answer: It will not be very polite to your friends to have them wait with nothing to do while you and your families have your breakfast. It will be better to have them in for light refreshments first and then have your wedding breakfast after they leave.

Hors D'oeuvres On Picks
 Dear Mrs. Post: When hors d'oeuvres are served on picks, should the food be eaten off the pick or removed and eaten in the fingers?

Answer: Off the pick, which is there to avoid soiling one's fingers.

Telephoning To A Boy
 Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper for a girl to call a boy on the telephone?

Answer: If she has anything of importance to tell him, it would be quite all right, but not just to pass the time in idle conversation.

Mrs. Post Offers Readers Leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her booklet, No. 501, entitled, "Etiquette of Weddings," send 25 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of (this newspaper), P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Terms Of Endearment Before Strangers

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I own and operate a small store. Very often my husband will have to ask me a question about something and he always calls me "dear"—even in front of customers. I have tried to tell him that this is in bad taste in business but he persists in doing it. Perhaps if I can show him something from you about its being in bad taste, he will stop doing it.

Answer: Terms of endearment are not in best taste in the business world. Before personal friends and customers you know very well it would be all right. But even so, it is best to avoid it because if he gets into the habit of doing it, he is almost certain to do it before strangers.

Men At A Bridal Shower

Dear Mrs. Post: Two other girls and myself are planning to give a shower for a friend who is to be married shortly. They want to invite both men and women friends of the bride and groom to the shower. Every shower that I have ever been to was strictly for the girl friends of the bride and the men would drop in later. I would like to know if such a shower is in order.

Answer: Showers are generally for the bride alone and only her best girl friends are invited to it. However, it is not unheard of in the present day in some communities, when the shower presents sometimes take the place of wedding presents, to include friends of both the bride and bridegroom. It would be in very bad taste to invite them to a personal shower to which the guests bring wearing apparel for the bride.

Showing Guest The Way

Dear Mrs. Post: I live on the second floor of a private house. The front door is always locked. Whenever anyone comes to see me I have to go downstairs to open the door. If the visitor is a man friend, do I let him go up the stairs first, since he is my guest, or do I precede him?

Answer: You go first—not only to show the way but because a woman always precedes a man.

Spoil Sports

Dear Mrs. Post: Quite often my husband and I and several other young couples go out dancing. After the dance, the others like to go somewhere to have something to eat. Neither my husband nor I like to eat late at night and the last few times we asked to be excused and went home after the dance. I understand we are being called spoil sports by some of them for doing this. They seem to feel that as we are part of the group we should go with them even if we don't have anything to eat. What do you think?

Answer: If there was just one other couple and your refusal to go with them kept them from going, you might then be considered a spoil sport, but as there are several other couples, there is no necessity for you to join them.

May He Wear A Tuxedo?
 Dear Mrs. Post: My wife and I will soon celebrate our twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. There will be an evening reception in one of the private rooms of the hotel. It will be an informal gathering of friends and relatives. My wife is going to wear an afternoon dress. Would it be proper for me to wear my tuxedo. The only dark suit I have is rather shabby and my other suits are in the brown family. My daughter does not think it will be proper since my wife is not wearing an evening dress. Will you please advise me?

Answer: In the evening, it has always been, and still is, correct for a gentleman to show his respect for the lady he is with by wearing evening clothes, whether she does so or not.

When To Give A Shower

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has recently become engaged but no date has been set for the wedding as her fiance is in the service. I would like to give a shower for her some time soon but wonder if it would be proper to give it before the wedding date has been set.

Answer: While there is no definite rule about this, I think it would be wiser for you to wait until the date of the wedding has been set.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-15, entitled, "Manners in Public," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of (this newspaper), P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Picture of a Promise

*Sure, she's a grand old flag!
That's why we salute her.
That's why we pledge allegiance to her.*

That pledge, in its simplest terms, is another way of saying, "Count me in. You're my country and I love you and need you. Your problems are my problems, and I'm with you all the way."

Your country's biggest single problem is the perpetual responsibility for keeping the peace its people want. You can help with this problem by remembering this:

Peace costs money. Money for military and industrial strength. Money for science and education. And money saved by individuals — by you — to help keep the economy strong.

Bonds provide this money. Every Bond you buy is an important, personal pledge of allegiance to your country. Think it over. Are you buying enough?
