

Mavs Drop 41-40 Tilt to Winters

WINTERS overcame a four point handicap in the final quarter of play Friday night to edge Eastland, 41-40, in the Mavs' home gym. The District 7-AA loss greatly hurt Eastland's hopes for a district crown.

The Mavs led 33-23 going into the fourth quarter, but William Grissom paced the visitors in the final period as Winters outscored the Mavericks 12 points to seven.

Winters led 11-10 at the end of the first stanza, but the Mavs held a 24-21 halftime lead. Grissom was high scorer for the night with 19 points. John Wilson paced the Mavericks with nine points. Otis Green had seven, Phil Lewis two, Mickey Garner eight, James Lewis four, David Whitten two and Don Wilson eight.

The loss left the Mavs with a 2-2 district mark. Winters now holds a 3-1 record, but Cisco continues to lead the district with a 4-0 mark. Coleman has two wins and two losses, Ballinger has won one and lost three and Ranger has a 0-4 record.

In other district games Friday night Cisco easily defeated Coleman, 67-50 and Ballinger edged Ranger, 55-47.

Texas Electric Hosts Appliance Dealers Thurs.

Electric appliance dealers and wiring contractors of Eastland, Ranger, Gorman and DeLeon were guests of Texas Electric Service Co. Thursday night at a dinner meeting held at Lone Cedar Country Club.

Purpose of the meeting was to present a summary of sales promotional plans designed to help sell more electrical appliances in 1960. E. A. Willeford, sales and public relations expert, was guest speaker.

Bill Collings served as master of ceremonies at the meeting and outlined the company's goals for the coming year.

Dealers were told by Willeford that "selling is an art." He derided the old belief that anyone can sell, saying that there are four requirements a good salesman must have. The speaker said a good salesman must look, think and talk successfully. He said he must have ambition, must have enthusiasm and must have the ability to simplify his messages.

The work program was prepared by a special committee headed by chairman Roger I. Parker after several conferences with business and civic leaders during ten days.

Conservation Progress Good During Past Year

By SCS TECHNICIANS

Nineteen fifty-nine was a good year of conservation progress in this area. The application of complete coordination programs of land management by cooperators of our two local Soil Conservation Districts show much progress in keeping soil and water in place.

Much progress was made last year in keeping cover on range-land and in improving stand of better grasses. This grain was brought about through proper use of grass by light or moderate stocking. Eastland work unit records show an improvement of about 20,000 acres being properly used last year. In addition over 6,000 acres were deferred from grazing for a period of time for natural reseeding and range recovery. Examination of ranges show excellent growth of young seedlings last year from seed produced by better grasses in 1957 and 1958. Seed maturity of better grasses last fall, however was generally poor in this area due to dry weather in late summer and early fall.

On cropland much progress was made in keeping land covered through leaving crop residues on or near the surface of the soil for soil protection. It is estimated about 7,000 to 8,000 acres on cooperators farms had good crop residue management. In addition about the same number of acres were treated with some type of cover crop for soil improvement. Another noticeable trend in conservation was increased use of rotation hay and pasture type of cropping systems. This largely involves the use of perennial grass or alfalfa on the land for several years followed by small grain or other field crops. About 1,600 new acres received this treatment last year. A portion of this land is in the conservation reserve and as such is receiving a fairly intensified soil conditioning treatment. The other portion was generally grazed or had hay removed and did much to relieve grazing pressure on native grass-land.

Mechanical practices were established at a good rate last year. 107 farm ponds were built for better grazing distribution. Over three miles of diversion terraces were built on some thirty farms. Diversion terraces are large terraces usually used to divert excess outside water away from cropland or to increase or decrease the watershed for a farm pond. Terrace systems were built on twenty nine farms for a total of over forty miles. Practically all of the above practices were installed with the aid of A.C.F. cost sharing assistance offered through our local county committee.

In addition to actual on the ground installation of conservation practices advancement was shown toward local conservation goals through new individual district conservation plans. Fifty four land owners in their area became new cooperators with either the Upper Leon or Palo Pinto Soil Conservation Districts. Forty four basic conservation plans were developed with dis-

Simplified Income Tax Form 1040-A Used By Many

Treasury records show that one out of every four taxpayers use the simplified income tax Form 1040A," says Arthur E. Fogle, Administrative Officer, of Internal Revenue Service, Abilene.

Revenue's midget (size of an average bank check) tax form may be used by individuals with total of less than $10,000, consisting of wages reported on Form W-2 and not more than $200 in dividends, interest, and wages not subject to withholding.

Husband and wife may file a joint 1040A return for '59, if their combined income doesn't exceed the stated limits.

Taxpayers using Form 1040A automatically claim the standard 10 per cent deduction allowed for such personal expenses as contributions, interest payments, medical expenses, and such. Taxpayers with allowable deductions for these items in excess of 10 per cent of their income for '59 must use the standard Form 1040, if they wish to claim them, Logie explained.

Taxpayers with incomes under $5,000 may figure their own tax, or have Revenue do the chore. Taxpayers with incomes of $5,000 or more must figure their own tax.

Form 1040A must not be used when taxpayers claim "head of household" or "surviving spouse" status; dividends received credit; or retirement income credit, "sick pay" exclusion; deducts for travel, transportation, or "outside salesmen" expense; or estimated tax payment credit, the IRS representative said.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

We should be freer in the expression of our appreciation of others. Back in the 1920's when I was a visitor in Mineral Wells, an acquaintance called my attention to a tall man wearing a dark overcoat in a hotel lobby, with the remark, "He wrote 'The Slow Train through Arkansas'."

Thomas W. Jackson! I remembered the name well, for as a small boy had I not read his book while actually traveling on a slow train in that very State? The jokes were new to me; and how I chuckled over them and re-told them.

My first impulse was to go over and tell him how much his books-for he wrote several others, including "Through Missouri on a then I thought, "He wouldn't be interested in meeting me," so I didn't. Now, years and years later having written some books myself, I know that a writer is always glad for anyone to tell him that his writings have given pleasure.

When I was a little boy, our family lived in Benton, Ark. Our physician was Dr. Gann. He wore a silk hat-maybe it was just once, no some special occasion, but the circumstance so impressed my young mind that his memory is always associated with a top hat. He officiated when my sister, Marion, was born. One time, however, when I needed his services, he was out of town, so another doctor was summoned. I had fallen out of a small wagon and had cut my chin on the stump of a sapling in our yard. The wound left a scar and I remarked, "There wouldn't have been one if Dr. Gann could have been here."

Nearly 25 years later, I re-visited Benton on business and, having a little time before my train arrived, I inquired about Dr. Gann. He was still living but had retired. Learning the location of his home, I thought I'd pay him a visit. There were several persons sitting in the yard, back from the sidewalk, and even in the gathering dusk and without his silk hat, I recognized the elderly physician. Then came the thought "He doesn't remember me and he won't want to be bothered," and so I walked on. Not many years ago, in driving through Benton, I saw, near the cemetery fence, the monument at his grave.

Being older now myself, I realize he would have been glad for a former patient to have greeted him as a faithful physician.

We should be freer in the expression of our appreciation of others.

Dr. Forrest C. Feezor
... Brotherhood Speaker

Forrest Feezor Will Speak at Gorman Church

Dr. Forrest C. Feezor, Executive Secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be the speaker Tuesday evening, January 26, in First Baptist Church of Gorman. At this meeting of the Cisco Association Brotherhood, the Gorman Brotherhood will serve a Chili supper from 7 to 7:45, and the program will begin at 7:45. According to Herbert Ekert, president of the organization, this speaker is no exception to the rule that Cisco Association Brotherhood always has outstanding speakers and programs.

After having served Texas Baptists as executive secretary since 1953, Dr. Feezor will retire this year. Before becoming secretary, he served as pastor of the Broadway Baptist Church in Fort Worth and the First Baptist Church in Waco. He is a graduate of Wake Forest College, where he lettered three years in football and four years in basketball.

He was vice president of the Southern Baptist Convention in 1951-52 and before his selection as executive secretary he was president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. S. E. Carter, program chairman, urges that the men and boys in this area take advantage of this rare opportunity to hear this great servant and leader in the kingdom for more than 34 years.

WHY DO I DO WRONG?

the summer of 1956 two ships crashed into each other with tremendous loss of life and property. For a few days before the collision the crew of one vessel realized the crash was coming. They reversed the engines and everything they could do to avert the blow, but it availed little because the great ship was caught in the power of its own momentum. It was going straight toward the other ship and nothing could be done.

There is a quality similar to momentum. The desires we have and the habits we form, because of the very nature we have, become powerful forces which we reckon with in deciding the course of life. They cannot be made life effective until they are broken. They can be evil or life-giving and destructive. Wrong desires are a common problem. Even Paul, the apostle of our Lord, was led with evil. He said: "I would I do that I do not do" (Romans 7:19). The shallow man, who has not honestly appraised his life, would claim that he does not face this problem.

Honest, sincere people find to their despair, that sometimes they do evil things they do not want to do.

This problem is real — there is no denying it. But the very sense of conflict within us is evidence that all is not lost and hopeless. There is a better way, a way of escape. Paul also said that his hope for deliverance was "through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 7:25). The answer to the wrong in our lives is not found in perfunctory performance of intricate rituals or in the meaningless recitation of creeds. The answer is in a person, Jesus Christ, our friend and Saviour.

The Christ of the New Testament was willing to touch lepers and to visit the homes of sinners. He personally forgave and restored repenting men and women and he wept over Jerusalem because of that city's sinful and stubborn rejection of God's love. He is aware of your sins and will forgive you if you approach him in repentance and faith.

Baptists know that Christ lives today and is just as personally concerned with the need of every man. He will help YOU to forsake your sin and to be your best.

Jehovah's Witnesses
JOE WATTS, Minister

Meetings to be held at the Kingdom Hall, 204 North Dixie Street, for the week of January 24, are as follows.

Sunday: 2 p.m. Watchtower Bible Class. Subject for study, "The Seeking Of Peace." Caption text, 1 Peter 3:11,12.

Tuesday: 8 p.m. Bible Study. Chapter three of textbook, "Your Will Be Done On Earth." Subject, "The Need on A Sanctuary."

Friday: 8 p.m. Ministry development Class; 9 p.m. Ministry School as follows. Written review on material for previous four weeks. Reading of Psalms 43:1 to 50:23.

Also at the service center, 308 West Third Street in Cisco, Bible Study each Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Joe Watts, presiding minister for the Eastland congregation, in commenting on the subject for discussion Sunday, which is also the year-text for the 1960 service year, said, "the inspired Bible writer Peter, in expressing his prayer for peace-seekers to whom he wrote his first letter said, 'may undeserved kindness and peace be increased to you by an accurate knowledge of God and Jesus... 2 Peter 1:2,3. We can therefore appreciate why, in seeking to find peace, we need to get knowledge, not only of Jehovah God but also of his sacrificed son Jesus Christ."

As a result of peacefully ministering this knowledge to others throughout the 1959 service year, 86,394 have associated themselves with Jehovah's witnesses. Of this number 86,345 have dedicated their lives to Jehovah's service. As a result the Watchtower Society organized 2,104 more congregations. That meant that every day in the year, six new congregations were established forty members in each. To all who are looking for the peace that surpasses understanding, Jehovah's witnesses invite to study with them," Watts said.

Who Discovers the Discoverers?

"A professor can never better distinguish himself in his work than by encouraging a clever pupil, for the true discoverers are among them, as comets amongst the stars." CARL LINNAEUS

Somewhere in this mighty land of ours, a gifted youth is learning to see the light of tomorrow. Somewhere, in a college classroom or laboratory, a dedicated teacher is gently leading genius toward goals of lofty attainment. Somewhere the mind of a future discoverer—in science, engineering, government, or the arts—is being trained to greatness. Our nation has been richly rewarded by the quality of thought nurtured in our colleges and universities. The caliber of learning generated there has been responsible in no small part for our American way of life. To our college teachers, the selfless men and women who inspire our priceless human resources, we owe more than we will ever be able to repay. Yet how are we actually treating these dedicated people? Today low salaries are not only driving gifted teachers into other fields, but are steadily reducing the number of qualified people who choose college teaching as a career. At the same time, classrooms are beginning to get overcrowded. In the face of this, college applications are expected to double by 1967, if not sooner. This is a severe threat to our system of education, to our way of life, even to our very existence as a nation. Our colleges need help—and they need it now! If you want to know more about what the college crisis means to you, and what you can do to help, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

Hudson of Eastland. The rules for the Flatwood Club were read by Mrs. Buleah Turner and were approved and accepted. The members of the club contributed to the March of Dimes when Mrs. Turner passed the "iron lung." Mrs. A. H. Brown brought the white elephant. The club adjourned at 4 p.m. to meet next with Mrs. J. W. Young.
