Jaycee's Charter Night Banquet Slated Tonight

The Eastland Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has already made itself felt in Eastland, will officially become a club here tonight when a Charter Night banquet is held at the White Elephant Restaurant. Some 200 persons are expected to be on hand for the occasion, including some of the state's leading Jaycees. Dick Wadsworth of Irving, state Junior C-C president, will deliver the main address. Lewis Timberlake of Stamford, national director, will present the club charter and install officers of the club. Dick Spalding is president of the club, Virgil Moore is first vice president, Donald Kinshard Jr. is second vice president, Mike George is secretary-treasurer, James K. Smith is state director and Ben McKinnis, John McGasson, Elton Ables and Ralph Ross are directors. Lloyd McGrew, extension chairman of the Cisco club, will be on hand to give a brief outline of how the Eastland Club was formed. Cisco sponsored the Eastland Club and helped work out early problems. The Eastland High School stage band, under direction of Phil Hewett, will provide entertainment. John Slaughter headed the committee which planned the banquet. Dr. James Whittington headed the meals and facilities committee.

Loan Sharks Long Lane May Have Turn

Away back in 1919, the Texas Commission of Appeals, in handing down an opinion involving loan sharks, denounced their operations as being "conducted in utter disregard of private rights and the public good." Pointing out how widespread the activities were, the judges declared that, in one city, more than 1,000 workers in a single industry were being victimized. In 1927, a joint committee of the two houses of the Texas Legislature was appointed to study the problem. The committee's report found that "unnecessary suffering, resulting from extortionate rates, does exist in our State in the business of making small loans to needy borrowers." That there was no change in these deplorable conditions was evidenced 10 years later when a writer, Booth Mooney, in a series of articles in the Texas Weekly, branded the loan shark business as "a gigantic racket that affects the entire State." Their "evasion of taxes adds to the burden of taxes that must be borne by legitimate business," he said. Time rolled by and thousands of Texas families continued to be preyed upon. The San Antonio Bar Association estimated, several years ago, that one-tenth of the salary income in San Antonio was wasted, for all practical purposes, by its payment as excessive charges to extortionate lenders. Recently, the president of the Houston Better Business Bureau estimated that $15,000,000 a year was being collected in such overcharges in that city. Yes, the record shows that the evil of the loan shark has long been recognized and there has been the realization that something should be done. At last, Texas has an opportunity to end this condition. A thorough study of the problem was made by the Texas Legislative Council, consisting of 21 members of the legislature and headed by the Lieutenant Governor. The Council unanimously recommended an amendment to the State Constitution; and both the House and the Senate, by overwhelming votes, have submitted the amendment to the people. When the voters go to the polls in the general election on Nov. 8, they will find Amendment No. 4 on the ballot. By voting for this amendment, the citizens of Texas will make it possible for the loan sharks to do away with the loan sharks and all the economic loss and human misery which their activities produce.

Prepare Now For Winter Livestock Care

This is the traditional season of "dog days"—it is too hot to work and too dry to fish. Farmers and ranchers, however, cannot afford to be dull and lazy during these late summer days. Winter is not very far away and now is the time to make preparations for carrying the livestock until next spring. B. J. Ragsdale and G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialists, have offered a few suggestions that will help the livestock owner prepare for the months ahead. Rangelands needing an increase in the number of better perennial forage grasses should be deferred until the end of the growing season, the specialists say. This deferment will insure seed production and natural revegetation as well as increasing the vigor of existing plants. Vegetation produced before frost will furnish winter forage as insurance against a hard winter. Grain and hay stubble fields may be utilized to facilitate deferment of native rangeland. This is also a good time to plan for temporary winter pastures to supplement native range. The specialists also recommend an intensive fall livestock selection program to cull low producers and lessen grazing pressure. Late summer is a good time to secure hay and grain for winter supplemental feeds, Ragsdale and Hoffman continue. Hot, dry weather during August and September will greatly increase fire danger, and the specialists warn that range fire prevention and control campaigns should be continued. The specialists conclude by saying that now is the time to plan for fall harvesting of seed from tall perennial grasses. After all of these things have been done, the extra labor can be used for noxious plant control.

September and October Designated As Texas P-TA Enrollment Months

The months of September and October have been designated parent-teacher membership enrollment months by official proclamation of Governor Price Daniel. Said the Governor, in part, "The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers was founded on October 19, 1909, to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community. Hundreds of thousands of men and women have united to carry on the Congress program since the call of that first memorable meeting. "Few, if any, organized groups have enjoyed such a tremendous growth. This undoubtedly is due largely to the organization's challenging program which appeals to men and women of all occupations and professions. "Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, in recognition of the outstanding accomplishments of the Texas Congress, do hereby designate the months of September and October as parent-teacher membership enrollment period and call upon the citizens of our state to assist this distinguished organization's important program." Mrs. T. W. Whaley of Kosse, president of the Texas Congress, said in her September message to the membership: "September, rather than January, should usher in the new year, or so it seems to us in parent-teacher work. It is the beginning of a new school year with all that it entails. So let P.T.A.'s throughout the land lend a helping hand, hand and head wherever and whenever needed." Mrs. James C. Parker of Grand Rapids, Mich., national president in her membership message, declared, "The incredible growth of our membership is proof that more men and women seek and find in the P.T.A. broad, open highways to serving children, their communities, and their country. There is need for all, room for all, and a pledge that all find abounding opportunities to 'Strengthen the Home, Source of Our Nation's Greatness.' The Texas Congress has advanced to third place among the states in membership, by passing the former third-ranking state of Illinois. Texas is preceded by California and Ohio. Membership now stands at 720,792, showing the largest annual increase in six years. There are 2,784 local units in the state."

New Library Books

The Library Committee of the Thursday Afternoon Study Club have announced the arrival of eight new books at the Eastland Public Library. This is the South by Robert West Howard is an anthology of Southern life past and present. This lovely book was given in memory of Miss Cecelia Haas by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Seaberry, Sr. Thomas Wolfe, a Biography by Elizabeth Novel, who spent many years compiling the material for this book. She was Thomas Wolfe's literary agent and close friend. With painstaking detail, Elizabeth Novel has written a powerful yet tender book about a great and irreplaceable American author. Walk Egypt-Vivian Williams. This is the kind of novel, rare for these days, which readers will not merely like; they will speak of "loving" it. Its scene is the Georgia hills and the story of a girl's regeneration. The Georgia country, its people, and their humorous, wise and colorful talk, are completely alive. The Exploits of Tommy Hambleton-Manning Coles. In this big, three-book omnibus are: Drink to Yesterday, A Toast to Tomorrow, and Alias Uncle Hugo. The Judge is Reversed-Patric Quenton, a Mr. and Mrs. North mystery. Music an Art and a Business-Carpenter, was presented to the Library by the Music Study Club. Pilgrims in Paradise is the latest of Frank G. Slaughter's long line of successful novels. Harvest of Beckoning is by a young Texas author, Johnnie Barber Bradford who now lives at Stephenville. This volume is her fourth book of poems. EASTLAND NATIONAL BANK "On The Square" MEMBER F. D. I. C.

MARIE BONEY SAYS:

One Week of School Is Very Educational

School has been in session only one week, but already parents are realizing that going to school is good for children. It's educational. Students learn things. Consider Susie. Could she recite 60 versions of Charlie Chaplin Went to France in four different voices and at five various rates of speed before she started to school? Or sing "My mother sent me to the store, she told me not to stay; but I fell in love with a blue-eyed boy, and stayed till Christmas day?" "Salute to the captain how to the queen; turn your back to the dirty old king" may begin to grate on parental nerves after the 40th utterance, but it sounds pretty good compared to "Here comes the bride, fat and wide; stepped on a turtle, and down came her girldle", which Junior sings loudly from the top cross-bar of the gym set. All one can do is hope the neighbors understand that such are learned during recess on the school ground, and not in the home. Naturally, with all a student must memorize at the recess period, he is too tired to study, phonics or the multiplication tables. However, this does not mean he is not agile at math or English. In fact, if creative thinking counts for anything, he is an outstanding student. Parents may be inclined to believe those wide-eyed tales of pure horrors and tortures the teachers subject students to during class room hours, but logic forces them to admit that the authorities really wouldn't allow all that to go on. Not that children deliberately lie, but they do take a unique view of homework assignments, tests, and teachers. Then in math, this nine-year-old child has alone and unaided determined exactly how much chance he has of being detected if he splits his pencil eraser against the blackboard while the teacher's back is toward the room. He had to estimate the distance from point X, his desk, to point Y, the blackboard. After calculating the supposed rate of speed of object A, the eraser, per foot, target E, he had to multiply E, by the distance from X to Y, to obtain Z. To Z he added B, the necessary second to turn his studious attention to his open book after A struck Y. He subtracted from this sum (C) the time it would take the teacher to jerk around when the missile hit the target (D) and got F, his chance of not getting caught. He has just solved the equation: Y minus X times E equal Z. Z plus B equal C. D minus C equal F. Being completely fair about it, do you actually think he should be forced to stand and recite 2 times 4 equal 8?

No Traffic Deaths Reported In County

Eastland County highways apparently escaped from the Labor Day holiday traffic with no traffic deaths, while the traffic accident and deaths throughout the nation was mounting toward a National Safety Council prediction of 460 deaths. Monday night there were 380 reported traffic deaths with the figure mounting rapidly as the reports were being accumulated. The total number of deaths, counting traffic, boating, drownings, and other accidents was 559 at 11 p.m. Monday. Although there was no accidents reported on the highways in Eastland County during the holidays, an Eastland County couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown of Eastland, was injured in an accident in Abilene Monday. They were riding in a car driven by Lee Adkins of Brown of Lubbock. Texas traffic deaths were predicted by the National Safety Council to be 29 for the three-day weekend. Reports Monday afternoon showed the figure to be 23 and was expected to soar over estimated figure as the homebound traffic increased Monday night.

Years to Build, Seconds to Destroy

. . . is a tragic reminder to those who are underestimating their worldly possessions without adequate insurance protection. Years of effort, savings and accomplishments wiped out in a single catastrophe. It could be only a fire, a tornado, a collision, or something you can't imagine such a thing. It can happen anywhere, at any time, to any one, without warning. Insurance will help in tragedy so why be unprepared?

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Bailey Jones, who has lived in Austin for a long time, was the star slugger of the Brady baseball team back in 1921, when I used to see him in action.

He always has a good story—for instance there was the time that Brady was playing Rockwood. The visitors were at bat and a line drive hit with great power, bounced off the glove of the centerfielder — (call him Williams). Jones was playing right field and had raced over. The ball struck his glove but he knew he couldn't hold it, so he knocked it back to the centerfielder, who held it for the out.

As if that wasn't enough, in that same game, Jones figured in another remarkable play. He had started toward the diamond from right field to advise the pitcher what kind of pitch to throw to the batter, a veteran whose strength and weaknesses at the plate Jones was familiar with.

But the pitcher didn't see Jones coming in and went ahead and threw. Jones was out of course away out of position. The serve was to the batter's liking and Bailey saw the ball hit with great force toward right field. He turned and raced in that direction but didn't see the ball. Meanwhile he glimpsed his teammates and, amazingly, they were going in.

He became aware of a weight in his glove, looked down and there was the ball. He must have instinctively thrown up his hand at the crack of the bat and had caught it without knowing it!

The catch had been made before he moved out of his tracks. Had he been in his proper place, it would have been a clean hit.

The batter, as they passed each other, growled, "You are sure lucky." Jones grinned and replied, "Shucks, anybody would know where to play for you."

There was once a plagiarist who entitled his book, quite appropriately, "Under False Colors."

New 3 3/4% interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new 3 3/4% interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to 2 3/4% for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra 1/2% from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic 1/2% increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

Legislative Needs In Farm Program Pointed Out

Southern commissioners of agriculture, having made clear their views of what is needed in the way of a Federal farm program at their recent 1960 session in San Antonio, are awaiting the outcome of the November election and the next session of Congress to see what develops.

Among other items, the Southern commissioners warned against the delegation of too much administrative power in putting any Federal farm program into effect.

It was pointed out that "the experience of the past seven years has clearly demonstrated the danger of allowing too much administrative leeway in farm legislation—in effect, delegating legislative powers to the administrative branch of the government. During this time all of the administrative powers have been used negatively to wreck the farm program."

"As a result it has been unnecessarily expensive, which too little benefit to the farmers, and surpluses have piled up in certain commodities to the point of the ridiculous. This has been by design, not mere bungling, and by making the farm program unpopular with the people has enabled the administration to back away at farm legislation. This could not have happened if our farm program had been more broadly based in concept and legislative provisions to carry out its intent had been more rigidly drawn.

"The time has come when we should seek to avoid more piecemeal, patched-up or piece-meal legislation for agriculture. The urgent need now is for a program to meet the total needs of agriculture and give it stability."

"The continued steady decline of our farm population may soon reach a danger point. Automation in farming operations and steadily increasing crop and livestock yields will ultimately reach a limit. Our rapidly increasing total population, together with our growing per capita demands for agricultural products, could in the course of the next 20 years place us in the position of being a nation of scarcity rather than one of abundance. This will happen unless we provide an economic atmosphere for farmers which will halt the trend toward further shrinkage of our farm population.

"There is too much at stake for any one person or party to make political capital of the farm problem. It strikes at the very heart of our economy and way of life, and it should transcend party lines."

"Both the potentialities and the problems are now plainly visible and can be dealt with on both a current and long-ranged basis. Therefore, now is most especially the appointed time for the kind of broad farm program we need and must have."

Start them off right... with proper light!

You'll be giving your youngsters real help with their homework when you provide them with proper study light. Good light helps prevent eye fatigue... aids concentration... encourages good study habits that lead to better grades. Check your children's study light now. Make sure they have enough light and the right kind of light for easy, comfortable seeing.

For best light from a table lamp, use a 150-watt bulb. A diffusing bowl is recommended to prevent glare.

Two wall lamps with 100-watt bulbs in diffusing bowls may be used when study table is placed against a light-colored wall.
