

Eastland Echoes

By Casey

"Common sense is genius dressed in its working clothes." — (Emerson).

The frequency with which area affairs are staged in Eastland is a source of pride to folks around about. The other night there was a West Texas Ranchers' meeting here; early in June there's to be an Eastland-Ranger-Cisco Lions installation, with newly-elected Dist. Gov. McDonald of Fort Worth the guest of honor, and these are just two of the numerous instances of our town's being the focal point for sizable activities. It's a nice thing for all concerned and good publicity for Eastland.

Son: "When you have your tonsils removed they call it a tonsillectomy. When they remove your appendix, they call it an appendectomy. What do they call it when they remove a growth from your head?"

Dad: "I give it up, sonny. What do they call it when they remove a growth from your head?"

Son: "Haircut." — (Cheer).

Nell (Mrs. Frank) Hightower, downtown with Frank Sunday night, had had the Mother's Day thrill of a message from her daughter, Shirley — now wife of Staff-Sgt. Jack G. Kelly — in Muechen, Germany. She'll be 21 Wednesday and it will be her first birthday away from home. Wonderful occasion — Mother's Day — bringing joy to many hearts. Sometimes we think that as people rush pell-mell in their race for success or at least to keep up with the modern tempo, they greatly need the pause that a bit of sentiment provides.

E. M. Kinnison, Eastland realtor, who grew up in and operated business in, Missouri says that he finds it easier to make trades in the West. "They're more venturesome," he says.

Doc Whittington says that just about the time he gets to sleep at night, "Here comes Casey in that (censored) ol' truck, and wakes me up." He's scheming to put the driveway over on Joe Stephen's side, now. Actually, we figure Doc sleeps too much. Another great man, Thomas Edison, slept only 4 or 5 hours a night.

Drouth Relief Continuance Is Announced

The drouth, relief program, as to feed purchases, is being continued in Eastland County. Emmett Powell and George I. Lane, respectively ASC and FHA chiefs, have learned.

Burleson Describes Fight For Peanuts

Congressman Omar Burleson writes this paper, describing the fight to retain peanuts as a basic commodity, that "the fate of the bill is now up to the senate and, of course, there is a big question mark as to whether the president will approve or veto the measure."

Concerning the legislative battle, he said: "After a hard fight, we managed to retain peanuts as a basic commodity and by a vote of 266 to 201 returned to the 90 per cent of parity by repealing flexible price supports."

In a speech on the floor of the House, Congressman Burleson said there "is no question but this is an effort to hack away at the foundation of the entire farm program."

"I would not indulge in a general and make a blanket accusation that every member of this house who supports this amendment does so for the purpose of wrecking the entire farm program or that he is opposed to it. I do state, however, that many of those who have spoken have indicated enough for a fair mind to conclude that they oppose any phase of a farm program and that the lowly peanut is not the only crop or commodity involved. I regret to see injected in this debate any inference that one economy of the country is entitled to preferential treatment at the expense of another but that is the tack taken by those who would destroy the price-support system for peanuts as one of the six basic commodities.

"I urge and beg the members of this House not to accept this amendment. Those of you from the city areas are victims of false propaganda if you believe for one minute that the end users of peanuts and peanut products are going to benefit by removing peanuts as a basic commodity. I think I am correct, and if I should be in error, I stand here subject to challenge, but I believe the record of testimony before the Committee on Agriculture will bear out that certain representatives of the candy-manufacturing industry have admitted under cross-questioning, that if peanuts were given to the manufacturer, the size of the candy bar would not be increased, nor the price decreased. Yet, they appeal to you in the name of school-children that the consumer must be protected from the high prices demanded by peanut farmers, who are struggling for their very existence. You

Progress Of Y Told Rotarians

Lengthy strides made by the Y movement, comparatively young in Eastland, were described to Eastland Rotary by program-speakers Monday noon at the Connelley Hotel.

Jimmy Hughes of the public schools faculty, who will direct the summer Y program and Hubert Westfall, one of the movement's sponsors here, gave the description.

Mr. Hughes said that the various events set up for the summer will touch the lives of youngfolk here from the first grade on up through high school, "giving our young people interesting recreation in a Christian light."

Mr. Westfall stated that the Hi-Y went on a trip to Austin the past week-end and that the Hi-Y and the girls' organization, the Tri-Hi-Y, both will journey to Abilene this weekend to attend the Y Carnival.

Concerning the Austin trip, he said that the 21 boys — accompanied by Messrs. Hughes, Charles Harris, Neil Day and himself — attended the state track meet Saturday, stayed at the Y that night, next morning held a devotional, as it was Sunday, and toured the capitol structures and other points of interest, before returning home that afternoon. He said: "The youngsters had a great time and didn't give us a moment's worry of any kind."

Mrs. Arthur Murrell, president of the Y here, said that wonderful cooperation had been extended the movement and mentioned the contribution of gasoline for the trips by the Civic League and Garden Club as an example of generous support.

Principal Wendell Siebert of the high school, superintendent-elect, a guest of Program Chairman Floyd W. Casebolt at the meeting, had received the following letter from Mr. Westfall:

Eastland, Texas
 May 9, 1955

Mr. Wendell Siebert, Superintendent, Eastland Schools.
 Dear Mr. Siebert:
 This is to convey, to you and to the faculty and school board of the high school, my gratitude for the opportunity of accompanying the Eastland Hi-Y group to the State Track Finals at Austin. This group was composed of the

EHS Honor Grads Revealed; Finish Commencement Plan

SEA OF DESTRUCTION — "Captain" Virgil Bailey, 34, of Falkville, Ala., stands at the prow of the good ship Storm Cellar, surveys the sea of destruction which poured over him while he was safely below decks. At least three persons were killed and many buildings leveled along the storm's path.

Eastland Haydite Ruggedness Is Proved At Nuclear Detonation

Haydite lightweight aggregate from Eastland and Texas engineering know-how made possible the residential-type structures which stood up with minimum structural damage during the nuclear test detonation at the AEC Nevada test site last Thursday, Everett E. Knott, general manager of the Eastland plant of Texas Lightweight Aggregate Co., has revealed.

Two homes using Texcrete masonry units and two using Haydite concrete slab construction were built on the test site by Texas Industries, Inc., parent company of Texas Lightweight Aggregate Co., as a contribution to the civil defense program.

Haydite aggregate for a large part of the Texcrete units and concrete slabs was shipped from Eastland earlier this year.

Cedric Willson, chief engineer for Texas Industries and a project consultant during the test, reported to Knott today on details of construction and damage to the homes which withstood the awesome blast better than had been generally expected.

The four buildings came through the explosion with no significant structural damage and protected equipment stored in them remarkably well, Mr. Willson reported.

Two of the concrete houses were located on "Doomsday Drive," a simulated residential area just 4,700 feet from ground zero. They were the only houses left standing on the 4,700-foot line, seven-eighths of a mile from the heart of the fearsome detonation, the Dallas engineer said. They suffered only slightly cracked walls and broken windows.

The two other concrete structures were located 10,500 feet from the spot where the bomb was exploded. There was no structural damage to either of these houses, Mr. Willson said. The residential-type concrete structures built for the test were four-room and bath houses containing approximately 1,000 square feet of living space, Mr. Willson said. Construction was conventional and the houses all had overhanging flat roofs.

Two types of houses were built at both the 4,700-foot line and at 10,500 feet. One type was of Texcrete lightweight masonry units, and the other was of precast lightweight Haydite concrete slabs, no other material being used. Roofs of both types of house were of identical six-inch reinforced lightweight slab construction.

Partitions in the houses were Texcrete concrete units in the masonry home and precast concrete slabs in the Haydite house. The concrete masonry house, which was vertically reinforced with half-inch steel rods, was on a flat slab foundation. The slab had a thickened edge which formed a beam around the perimeter.

The precast concrete house was on a foundation of drilled piers. The top of the piers after the concrete was poured was 14 inches below the finished floor so that the wall slabs themselves acted as beams. After the walls were set on the piers, a 10-inch sand fill was put inside the rooms and a four-inch concrete floor was poured on top of that.

There was no damage to the lightweight concrete slab roofs on any of the houses, Mrs. Willson said. In the houses built of Texcrete masonry units, no mortar joint was destroyed and none of the concrete units showed damage, although paint was pock-marked and chipped by flying glass, he said.

Windows were blown out and outside doors were torn off hinges in all the houses, Mr. Willson reported. Venetian blinds were rolled into an unrecognizable ball of metal by the blast.

Food stored in the cupboard of one of the concrete houses on "Doomsday Drive" — including cans, bottles and jars of jelly — was perfectly protected, Mr. Willson said. Food on the table in the same kitchen also appeared to be undamaged. He said the only mannequin he saw that was not blown over by the explosion was seated at this kitchen table.

Communications equipment in the Texcrete and Haydite houses at the 4,700-foot line was well protected from the blast, Mr. Willson said. A small radio station in one of the houses was knocked off the air but not badly damaged. A complete dial telephone switch board could have been put back into operation within three minutes after the explosion, Mr. Willson said he was told. It was undamaged except for one lead wire bringing current into the house.

"At the back of the houses on 'Doomsday Drive' heavy double telephone poles were sheared off like toothpicks, indicating the enormous force of the blast, Mr. Willson said.

There was no structural damage at all to either of the concrete houses at the 10,500-foot line, Mr. Willson said. The only thing that was a total loss in the house of precast Haydite slabs was a metal garage door, a large mirror had fallen off the wall, but in general the furniture was well protected, he said.

The gas stove in the kitchen of the precast house was in operating condition following the explosion, he said.

The device that burst over the Nevada desert Thursday had a force equal to 35,000 tons of TNT — more powerful than any other witnessed at close range by non-military and technical observers.

After the explosion, Mr. Willson and others braved the test area, still "hot" with radiation, to not effects of the cataclysmic detonation. Friday, after the official inspection, the Dallas engineer made an independent survey of the area.

Texas Industries, Inc., one of a number of private industries which participated in the test as a contribution to the civil defense program, is the nation's largest producer of lightweight concrete aggregate building materials.

Class of 1985!

It would take a long time to determine who won the bet—but we'd be willing to wager that the lad in the picture winds up owning a Cadillac!

We feel so confident because he is starting out like a typical Cadillac owner.

Preponderately, Cadillac owners are self-made men. They just emerge—from everywhere.

But they are usually marked, quite early in life, by industry and thrift and the will to succeed.

That's why we say that this wonderful lad—out earning money to make himself self-sufficient—is very likely to wind up owning a Cadillac. Looking at him, as he labors, we estimate the class of 1985!

We hope we are around to deliver his car when the great day arrives—for it's a great thrill to hand out the keys when an owner comes in for his first Cadillac.

It's worth a lot to see the smile on his face and the gleam in his eye as he settles himself behind the wheel —studies the instrument panel to make sure of the controls—and floats away in the direction of home and a family celebration.

Of course, for the lad in the picture, the thrill of that first Cadillac is still a great many years away.

But how about you? Is the time coming close for your dream of a Cadillac to come to a happy ending? If so, we'd be happy—indeed—to see you.

This is a wonderful year for owning a new Cadillac—whether it's your first or your fifth or your tenth. Never before has Cadillac performance been so marvelous—its beauty so arresting—its comfort and handling ease so delightful. It is more decisively than ever—the Standard of the World!

Why not come in today—and check this for yourself? We'll give you the keys and a car—for the most revealing hour you ever spent in a motor car.

Cheaney Chatter

Mrs. Bill Tucker

Numerous visitors were in evidence at the annual cemetery working Saturday at Alameda. Old-time residents of Cheaney and Alameda communities always make the trip back for a day of reunion and fellowship together, some coming many miles to be here for the occasion. Dinner is spread from well-filled baskets at noon and a song session follows in the afternoon.

Some of those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Warford and son, Don Mr. and Mrs. Billy Warford and son, Stephen and Mr. and Mrs. Walton Massey, Duane and Lowell, all of Baytown, Tex.; Dr. Albert Duffer, Brownwood; Mrs. Rilla Scott Williams and Mrs. Vera Scott Beck of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Walton, Sweetwater; Miss Minnie Walton, Brownwood; and Miss Ester Prestidge of Mexia.

Several Cheaney families had visitors over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Thompson of Avanal, Calif. visited their aunt, Mrs. J. P. Strickler, Mrs. Thompson will be remembered as the former Thelma Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatley Dean had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Davis, a niece and her husband of Orange, Tex. and Mrs. Davis' son, Jack Wilson, also of Orange.

Visitors in the Jack Revel home for Mothers Day were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Revel and children of Lovington, N.M., and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Revel and David of Gorman. Others were a brother, Arthur Richardson of Wichita Falls, a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Dwyer, also of Wichita Falls and a nephew, Alton Stehle and son Robert of Midland. Beware of the Spring Months—

... when we usually have hail and wind both destructive elements that we can do little about except to expect and prepare for. The No. 1 cost to property owners in this season of the year is hail damage to residence and business properties but windstorm damage to plate glass is a close second. One city in Texas last year reported a half million dollar loss on plate glass. Guard against these hazards with adequate insurance coverage. Now is the time to see us before it is too late.

SO MUCH MORE CAR... AT SUCH A LOW PRICE!

Have you compared price tags on Plymouth and the other two low-price cars lately? And, have you checked prices on the medium-price cars that claim they cost as little as Plymouth? If you have, you've discovered three facts of great importance:

BEST BUY NEW; BETTER TRADE-IN, TOO

Model for model, all low-price cars are priced about the same. But the Plymouth price includes such items as electric windshield wipers, an oil bath air cleaner, resistor-type spark plugs, and a high-output generator; items you have to pay extra for on the other cars. (And don't be fooled by the claims of medium-price cars that they cost as little as Plymouth; add total prices—you'll see the difference quickly.)	Prices of the big, beautiful Plymouth are surprisingly low! At Plymouth's low prices you get a car that's not only larger and roomier than all the other cars in Plymouth's field, but actually bigger than some cars costing many hundreds of dollars more! And when it comes to endurance, Plymouth leads them all! That's why there are more Plymouths used as taxicabs than all other cars combined!	When you compare VALUE, Plymouth is like the high-price cars in everything but the price tag! It's the only low-price car this year with all-new, Forward-Look styling. In powerplants, Plymouth offers the thriest, smoothest six, and the most powerful standard V-8 in the lowest-price field. Inside, it's the roomiest, most comfortable car of "all 3," and has the greatest visibility of any low-price car.

A lot of people are finding out that Plymouth's low price offers the most value per dollar of any car in its field. So many people, in fact, that Plymouth sales have been record-breaking this year. See your dealer today, and you'll see why the big swing this year is to PLYMOUTH.

Junior-Senior Banquet Held In Astrological Setting

One of the outstanding events of the graduation season is the annual banquet given by the Eastland High School Junior Class honoring the Seniors.

This year it was a festive occasion held Friday night in an elaborate setting which transformed the gymnasium into a terraced garden under the stars. Arranged by the Juniors and their sponsor, Miss Loretta Morris, the entrance had been fashioned into a foyer with a pair of simulated rock urns holding salt cedar trees against a white latticed wall interlaced with ivy and pastel blossoms.

Inside there was a canopy of royal blue streamers shot with silver stars which hung to the horizon one side and at the ends of the gym. On the other side a simulated rock wall had been erected with an ivy design above, forming a garden with a wall on one side.

A wishing well of mock stone, whose red and green canopy was draped with ivy and whose top was encircled with trailing ivy and flowers, was on synthetic grass, flanked by white wrought iron chairs. A large silver moon hung at one end of the room.

The band stand and the piano had been decked with royal blue and pale blue paper and another arched white trellis, entwined with ivy and blossoms, was noted in a corner.

Lighting was by candlelight. Pale blue and pink star-studded candles in pale blue and deep blue star holders lined the tables, and alternating these at close intervals were ceramic heads of young women filled with lacy frills and pansies, forming hats. Lacy place mats were used over royal blue and a royal blue strip lined the center of the tables. China nut cups with blue handles and the silver star and moon studded pale blue "Memory" booklets were place favors.

The "Memory" booklets included the printed programme, the menu, the faculty, the Seniors and Juniors, the Alma Mater, two pages for autographs and three pages for "memories."

Leo Stambaugh, Junior Class president, was toastmaster; Bill Smith, Senior, offered the invocation; Leo Stambaugh, Junior Class president, gave the welcome talk and Doug Warren, Senior Class president gave the response. Janis Little played violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Scott; Senior Prophecy was given by Yvonnia Davis and Clyde Evatt, Juniors.

Music was furnished by the High School Combo — Jo Ann Hollis, Carl Kinnison, Rosemary Jones, Carl True, Freddie Taylor, Ernest McAlister, Terry Gattis, David Carothers, Geraldine Johnson, Lou Ann Corbell, Alice Cushman, Janis Little, Martha Freese, Linda Huckabay and Bennie Cogburn, with Darrell Gene Basham directing in the absence of F. R. Woodard, High School Band Director.

The Senior Class Will was read by Helen Flowers and Neal Edwards, Seniors.

The menu, printed in keeping with the starlight theme, follows: Little Dipper, Zodiac Special, Milky Way, Northern Star, Astronomer's Choice, Half Moon, Star Dust, Floating Cloud and Big Dipper.

Serving the meal were the following Sophomore girls: Sylvia Latham, June Warner, Dixie Day, Betty Westfall, Barbara Dalton, June Jordan, Jean Whitten, Barbara Hightower, Betty Jones, Pat MacMoy, Barbara Holloway and Sarah Sims.

During the "Prom" which followed the banquet, three Senior mothers, Mrs. Russell Hill, Mrs. Wayne Caton and Mrs. S. S. Faircloth, served punch from a crystal bowl on a table laid with lace and centered with snapdragons.

GUESTS FROM KERMIT — Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Stiles and sons, Tony and Tim, of Kermit, spent the weekend in Cisco and Eastland, visiting his mother, Mrs. Nora Stiles, here, and her mother, Mrs. L. A. Burkett, Cisco.

Tuna Is Fine Catch When Fishing for New Spaghetti Recipe

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

THIS recipe for Tuna Pompons with Spaghetti is a two-way gift from the sea for the homemaker who perennially faces the question, "What in the world can I serve that's different?"

It's a nutrition-packed, tasty answer to the problem when a meatless meal must be served, and it's a real treat for lovers of sea food. You'll enjoy this party day-any day dish. Be sure and add the recipe to your menu file.

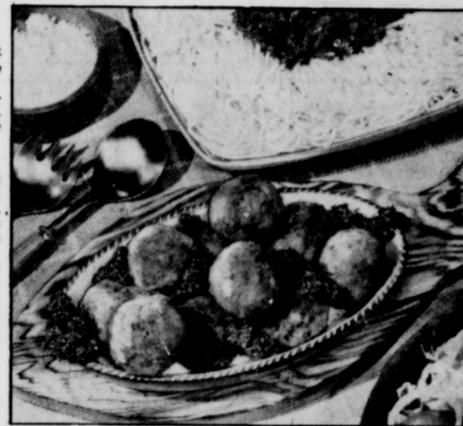

Tuna Pompons With Spaghetti (Makes 4 servings)

Two 6½-ounce cans chunk-style tuna, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, 1 6-ounce can tomato paste, 1 teaspoon oregano, 1 teaspoon salt, freshly ground pepper, 2 eggs, ¾ cup fine dry bread crumbs, ¼ teaspoon marjoram, 2 tablespoons margarine or butter, 1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces spaghetti.

Drain tuna and reserve oil. In a saucepan combine 2 tablespoons tuna oil and onion; cook over low heat until onion is golden color. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, oregano, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper; mix thoroughly. Cover and cook over low heat 20 minutes, stirring occasionally.

In a bowl, combine tuna, unbeat eggs, ½ cup crumbs and marjoram; mix thoroughly. Shape tuna mixture into 8 pompons. Roll in remaining crumbs. Melt margarine in skillet and cook pompons over medium heat until lightly browned. If desired, add browned pompons to tomato sauce and cook 5 minutes.

Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Serve tuna pompons with cooked spaghetti and sauce.

Spaghetti is a real catch for the meatless-menu seeker when it comes to the table garnished with Tuna Pompons and sauce.

IT'S ALL BUICK

-AND ALL YOURS

for the price of a smaller car!

(Come in and check it!)

YOU certainly can throw out your chest and call this strapping big Buick yours.

Because—as any comparison shows—the dollar difference between this brawny beauty and the well-known smaller cars is now virtually erased.

So if you've been holding back, thinking a Buick was out of reach—let yourself go. You can afford a Buick if you can afford any new car—and the price tag we'll show you proves it.

Buick Sales Are Soaring To New Best-Seller Highs

That's a major reason for the phenomenal success of Buick today. So much so, that production and sales are hitting new peaks to move Buick more firmly into the tight circle of America's best sellers.

And a companion reason for this soaring popularity is Buick's full line of cars to give you a choice in any price class—the bedrock-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

But pure and simple, it's all the automobile you get for your money that's winning so many new owners to Buick.

It's the extra pride you feel, the extra room you enjoy, the extra comfort you get, the extra safety you sense—from Buick styling, Buick size, Buick ride-engineering, Buick solidity of structure.

It's the extra lift and snap and ginger you get from Buick high-compression V8 power—and the fun and thrill of bossing such eager might.

As we said—if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—even with the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo™ at modest extra cost.

So why settle for anything less than a Buick? Drop in on us, take the wheel, press that pedal, and see for yourself what a whale of an automobile—and a whale of a buy—today's Buick really is.

†Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series

DID YOU KNOW-

- that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
- that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three well-known smaller cars?
- that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

Thrill of the year is Buick

— CAN YOU SEE • STEER • STOP SAFELY? CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS — WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM —

Enjoy cooled, filtered air for less than you think with Buick's AIRCONDITIONER. It's a genuine Frigidaire

Tax Office Close Plan Is Final,
Burleson Thinks

Efforts to keep the Eastland internal revenue office open have been unavailing, it is learned from Congressman Omar Burleson, who admits that "we are faced with a limit as to what can be done toward changing it, short of legislation." Ellis Campbell, district director, has said that he accepts entire responsibility for closing it, claiming that the "post-of-duty" office here is not justified by the case load.
