Joe Wanted Cohn Kept In Dark On Pal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy told Secretary Stevens about the time G. David Schine was drafted last fall that Schine was indispensable to his investigation subcommittee, but he didn't want his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, to know he felt that way.

In a monitored McCarthy-Stevens telephone call of Nov. 7, read at the McCarthy-Army hearings today, McCarthy was quoted as saying: "For God's sake, don't tell (blank). He would go right back and tell Roy."

This line was not included in the transcripts of his calls which McCarthy himself released for publication over the weekend.

It never was disclosed who the person was that McCarthy was cautioning Stevens not to tell.

Sentators conducting the McCarthy-Army hearings looked at the transcript, but decided the person mentioned by McCarthy was not connected with the present controversy, and that his name had just as well be kept secret.

McCarthy's comment that the unnamed person "would go right back and tell Roy" came after McCarthy told Stevens that Schine "is one of the few things" he had seen Cohn, "completely unreasonable about."

McCarthy had said that Cohn "thinks Dave should be a general and work from a penthouse of the Waldorf."

Schine, wealthy New Yorker who was an unpaid consultant to the McCarthy subcommittee, was technically drafted Nov. 3 but did not actually report to training camp until Nov. 10. He was given a week after technical drafting in which to work on McCarthy subcommittee business.

Among other transcripts going into the record were those of three talks between Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) and Secretary Stevens. In one of these, McClellan advised Stevens to beat McCarthy to the punch.

Stevens had telephoned McClellan Feb. 20 to discuss his clash with McCarthy over alleged abuse of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker by McCarthy's subcommittee.

McCarthy "hopped on me pretty hard," Stevens said, when the secretary told McCarthy he was not going to allow Zwicker to come back before the McCarthy subcommittee.

McCarthy told Stevens at that time that he was under subpoena to testify the following Tuesday.

Stevens told McClellan he was willing to go before the McCarthy subcommittee at the "appropriate time," but was undecided whether Tuesday was that time.

McClellan suggested that Stevens consult an attorney and "beat him to the punch" by announcing that he was requesting to appear before McCarthy.

In a second call from Stevens to McClellan on Feb. 21, Stevens said "I certainly appreciate the way you, Sen. Symington and Sen. Jackson have viewed this thing," McClellan, Symington and Jackson are the Democrats on the McCarthy subcommittee.

Stevens declined Sen. Mundt (R-S.D., acting chairman of the subcommittee for the current hearings, as "very much distressed" over reports of abuse of Zwicker. Stevens added Mundt was anxious to see the record of the Zwicker hearings.

Stevens, during the conversation, said parts of the record of the Zwicker hearing had been deleted. McClellan suggested that Stevens ask the official reporter for a full record. Stevens said he had affidavits as to what happened, but wanted to give them to the subcommittee and not the press.

IS CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP

Highway Patrolman Amon Jones got caught in his own trap Saturday night. Deciding to check motorists on the Snyder Highway for speeding, he turned his car into what appeared to be an ideal parking spot beside the road. The spot was not "ideal," and Jones' car sank to the frame in mud.

A wrecker was called to pull the patrol car back on the highway.

Sgt. Moody's Death Revealed

Death of Sgt. Charles Vernon Moody in action in Korea on Jan. 1, 1951, has been confirmed through identification of his body.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Moody, 1514 Tucson, his parents, received information from the Defense Department during the weekend. Identification was made possible through his "dog tag" and verified through a check on dental work, the department advised.

The remains are in Japan and will be dispatched to the United States.

Mrs. Moody said Monday that she and her husband would ask for them to be sent here for burial in the family plot.

Sgt. Moody was dispatched to Korea at the outbreak of the war there. He was once reported missing but fought his way back to his company. Then, after Christmas of 1950 his unit awaited a move by the Reds. When it fell suddenly on Jan. 1, 1951, the unit was completely overwhelmed by a horde of Chinese Reds. When the ground was riddled, there was no trace of Sgt. Moody. For three years there was no further information, and then, after repatriation of all prisoners of war, information gained through others in his company indicated that he had been severely wounded. On the strength of this the Defense Department presumed him to be dead. Subsequently, his body was found among the remains of GI remains which were exhumed.

In a second call from Stevens to McClellan on Feb. 21, Stevens said "I certainly appreciate the way you, Sen. Symington and Sen. Jackson have viewed this thing," McClellan, Symington and Jackson are the Democrats on the McCarthy subcommittee.

Stevens declined Sen. Mundt (R-S.D., acting chairman of the subcommittee for the current hearings, as "very much distressed" over reports of abuse of Zwicker. Stevens added Mundt was anxious to see the record of the Zwicker hearings.

Stevens, during the conversation, said parts of the record of the Zwicker hearing had been deleted. McClellan suggested that Stevens ask the official reporter for a full record. Stevens said he had affidavits as to what happened, but wanted to give them to the subcommittee and not the press.

Also read into the record was another monitored call between McClellan and Stevens, March 1, in which the senator said he was "surprised when you got off there with that gang without anybody with you."

This appeared to be a reference to the now famous "chicken luncheon" between Stevens and Republican members of the McCarthy subcommittee at which a memorandum of understanding was reached.

McClellan told Stevens his remarks "are not critical," adding: "We were left out of it."

McClellan also told Stevens he took the position that it was "a Republican quarrel."

Jury Selection Starts In Texas Insurance Case

AUSTIN (AP)—Selection of jurors in an insurance receivership case with vivid political overtones began today in 98th District Court.

One of the two topflight political figures called as witnesses in the case was present when Judge Charles O. Betts called the case to trial. He was Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney and candidate for governor.

Both Yarborough and Gov. Allan Shivers had been subpoenaed at the request of Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd.

Shepperd yesterday said he would not require their presence this week.

But Yarborough appeared today, saying the subpoena was a court order and it would take a court order to release him. He said he hoped to be in Dallas tonight for the formal opening of the campaign in which he is seeking for the second time to unseat Shivers as governor.

Yarborough had charged that the summons was an attempt to "sabotage" the opening day of his campaign.

Yarborough was temporarily excused to resume his campaigning after being sworn in as a witness. He planned to leave immediately for Dallas.

The attorney general is seeking to place a Houston insurance firm, Lloyd's of North America, into permanent receivership. Ralph Hammonds, top man in the Lloyd's organization, decided to fight the state's suit after the firm was placed in temporary receivership by Judge Charles O. Betts.

Hammonds fired the first blast that led to the political involvement. He said that John Van Cronkhite, former executive assistant to Shivers and publicity man for his 1952 campaign, had been hired at $1,000 a month "to get cordial relations with the insurance department."

VanCronkhite, who is still doing organization work for the State Democratic Committee, denied he had had any political influence on behalf of the Hammonds firm. He said he quit when he saw the firm could not get its affairs in order.

VanCronkhite has accused Yarborough as being the real attorney for Lloyd's, saying that Herman Jones, Austin attorney, is the "front." Yarborough called this "an infamous falsehood."

Shepperd asked that Shivers and Yarborough appear as witnesses along with insurance commission officials and other attorneys for an apparent thorough airing of the entire matter.

The attorney general has charged that Lloyd's of North America was fraudulently organized and is now insolvent, and is asking that it be liquidated. He is also asking that it be prohibited to do further business with it.

The Lloyd's case is one of several involved in state court actions. A grand jury here has returned nine indictments on criminal charges at Beaumont, El Paso, and Ennis.

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP)—Eight carloads of tourists stranded in deep snow on Trail Ridge Road awaited rescuers early today.

Chief Ranger Barton Herschler said several plows were working toward the cars and he was certain the road leading from the vehicles to Estes Park, a distance of about 18 miles, would be open in a few hours.

Herschler said 25 to 30 persons were stuck at the 12,100-foot level along the Continental Divide as a summer storm lashed Colorado with snow, rain, hail and high winds across the eastern part of the state.

The blizzard blew into Rocky Mountain National Park as scores of tourists and local travelers were motoring along the highest sustained highway in the world.

By dark, Herschler said, snowdrifts three to four feet deep blocked the motorists.

The ranger chief said the motorists suffered no real hardships.

Democratic Greetings

Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate in the last presidential election, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president, exchanged greetings at Columbia University in New York. ## Governor Candidate Holmes Promises Noise But No Mud

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN (AP)—Lots of noise and no mud was promised today by J. J. Holmes, Austin contractor who hits the campaign trail this week seeking the Democratic nomination for governor.

Holmes named Bob Kaiseley, Ft. Worth, as campaign manager, and Kaiseley promptly announced: "It's the squeaky wheel that gets the grease. You'll be hearing plenty from us—lots of noise and no mud."

Kaiseley also pronounced this as Holmes' campaign slogan: "I'm not mad at anyone—I'm just running for governor."

Holmes, 47, announced for governor several weeks ago but he has done no active campaigning. Kaiseley said today that Holmes was planning a "crackers and cheese" campaign with no big spending but a maximum of direct contacts with the people.

Holmes is running on issues and he will take them straight to the folks," Kaiseley said. Holmes will open his campaign with a radio talk at Abilene tomorrow, along with a citywide handshaking tour, Kaiseley said.

Holmes will go to Lubbock Wednesday; Amarillo and Pampa Thursday; Wichita Falls Friday; Sherman-Denison Saturday.

Kaiseley said Holmes would make many speeches and campaign heavily between now and July 24, date of the Democratic primary.

Holmes is the father of four sons whose ages range from 19 to 25. Two of them are Korean War veterans. Two will be in the University of Texas summer school.

Kaiseley said they would help Holmes in his campaign. Holmes has been tied up on two big contracting jobs and just recently has managed to delegate their management to other men.

Both Texas Telecasting and Big Spring Broadcasting Company have had applications pending before the FCC for several months for the Channel 4 TV permit. A third applicant for the channel, Big State Broadcasting Company of Big Spring, withdrew earlier.

Wallace explained that a preliminary hearing on the KBST application still is set for June 21 in Washington. If the application is found to meet Federal Communications Commission requirements, it is possible that final action might be taken in July or August, Wallace said.

Judges Make 5-3 Phillips Case Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court decided today the Federal Power Commission has authority to regulate prices of natural gas sold by Phillips Petroleum Co. to interstate pipeline companies.

The decision overturned a ruling by the commission that Phillips was not a natural gas company within the meaning of the Natural Gas Act and the agency therefore had no jurisdiction over its rates.

Justice Minton delivered the 5-3 decision. He was joined by Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Reed, and Frankfurter.

Justices Douglas and Clark wrote dissenting opinions.

Justice Burton joined in Clark's dissent. Justice Jackson took no part in the case, which the high court had once refused to review.

This letting stand a circuit court opinion which had overturned the FPC ruling.

Phillips produces and gathers natural gas in Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico and carries it to 10 processing plants in Texas and New Mexico. After processing, the gas is carried in pipes for from 240 to 1,480 feet and sold in interstate commerce for resale to five pipeline companies.

Justice Minton, for the court majority, stated that "regulation of the sales in interstate commerce for resale made on a so-called independent natural gas producer is not essentially different from regulation of sales when made by an affiliate of an interstate pipeline company."

Minton added: "In both cases the rates charged may have a direct and substantial effect on the price paid by the ultimate consumers. Protection of consumers against exploitation at the hands of natural gas companies was the primary aim of the Natural Gas Act."

"Attempts to weaken this protection by amendatory legislation exempting independent natural gas producers from federal regulation have repeatedly failed, and we refuse to achieve the same result by a strained interpretation of the existing statutory language."

In his dissent, Clark said the majority opinion "brings every gas operator, from the smallest producer to the largest pipeline, under federal regulatory control. Clark added:

"In so doing, the court acts contrary to the intention of the Congress, the understanding of the states, and that of the Federal Energy Commission itself. The Federal Power Commission is thereby thrust into the regulatory domain traditionally reserved to the states."

After the commission ruled it had no authority over Phillips' rates, the case was taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, which decided the case.

ON TRUCE SUPERVISION

By EDDY GILMORE
GENEVA (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and Russia's Vyacheslav M. Molotov were reported by French sources to have had a "useful" exchange of views today on supervision of the proposed Indochina cease-fire.

The two met 50 minutes in what was described as "a cordial atmosphere," but were unable to reach an agreement on composition of a commission to police the cease-fire.

The French were reported, however, to have come around to the Soviet position that at least one Communist nation would have to be included in the supervisory agency. Molotov was reported to have insisted upon this as a minimum.

French sources said Bidault now believes something can be worked out by taking three Asian nations—possibly India, Pakistan and Ceylon—as a base and adding one Communist country and one Western nation to form the commission.

Bidault was understood to have told Molotov he was firmly opposed to any commission in which the Communists and non-Communists would be evenly divided, such as the Neutral Nations Supervision Commission in Korea. This body consists of representatives of Switzerland, Sweden, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Bidault also opposed supervision by a mixed French-Vietnamese commission, unless such a body is limited to observation roles under control of an international commission.

The French foreign minister and Molotov also talked briefly about steps to speed up the military talks.

'Joe Must Go' Drive Failure, Nearly Made It

SAUK CITY, Wis. (AP)—The Joe Must Go Club announced today it failed to obtain enough signatures on petitions to recall Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

The club issued a statement signed by its officers declaring the drive to secure signatures, which ended at midnight Saturday, did not reach the 403,904 signatures required by law.

The club did not report on the number of signatures it did obtain. The statement said that while the group failed to obtain the signatures it needed, it felt certain that:

"The effort produced results which proved beyond doubt that the anti-McCarthy sentiment would see him defeated in an election today, and the effort was so successful as to compel consideration of a future recall campaign.

Even if the number of signatures had been sufficient there was no certainty of a recall election. Still to be settled would be the legal question of application of a federal constitutional provision which makes each house of Congress sole judge of its membership.

By law the petitions for a recall election need 403,904 signatures—25 per cent of the last vote for governor—within 60 days. That deadline was midnight Saturday.

The last estimate of signatures obtained was "almost 375,000." A club official said there were 180,000 signatures and only "a grim, fighting chance" of succeeding.

But if the number of signatures falls short, the club is ready to start anew in November.

Rebel Troops In Position All Around French Delta

By LARRY ALLEN
HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietnam troops which crushed Dien Bien Phu have wheeled back into position all around the defense lines guarding the vital Red River delta, the French high command announced today.

The rebel forces form a gigantic pincer threatening an all-out assault to drive the French from their north Indochina bastion.

Barring the slim chance the Geneva conference might stop the war by ordering a cease-fire, indications increased that the Communist-led rebels will hit the delta with everything they have before the end of June.

A French army spokesman said rebel infantry units—estimated at upwards of 20,000 troops—had completed their movements back to the bases from which they moved to capture Dien Bien Phu. Other rebel troops reportedly were moving toward the delta area from the southwest.

The French continued to build up their forces in the strategic area, pouring in reinforcements from other parts of Indochina and from Europe.

In an all-out assault, the French expect the rebels to try first to encircle Hanoi by severing the road and rail lines linking the city with the port of Haiphong, 64 miles to the east.

Stranded Tourists In Colorado Peaks Awaiting Rescue

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP)—Eight carloads of tourists stranded in deep snow on Trail Ridge Road awaited rescuers early today.

Chief Ranger Barton Herschler said several plows were working toward the cars and he was certain the road leading from the vehicles to Estes Park, a distance of about 18 miles, would be open in a few hours.

Parr, Pal Due In 79th Court

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP)—Two key men in the Duval county political picture were scheduled to appear today before Dist. Judge A. S. Broadfoot, probably to have criminal date set. They are George B. Parr, the county political leader, and C. T. Stansell Jr., former Duval county auditor.

Parr is charged with assault to murder. Stansell is charged on 17 counts of forgery.

Both were indicted Friday by a Duval county grand jury which has been probing the county's financial affairs. It was the grand jury which was picked after Judge Broadfoot dismissed a previous jury. Judge Broadfoot was appointed district judge after C. Woodward Laughlin was removed by the State Supreme Court for misconduct.

Parr is free on $25,000 bond and Stansell on $5,000 bond.

Parr and Stansell went to the trial's office Saturday to post bond. They had to wait three hours while papers were prepared.

"This is a hell of a note," Parr said. "Man gets indicted and can't get arrested."

Parr declared the indictments were "so obviously" politics.

The political leader, whose affairs are being probed by State Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, is accused of assault to murder on Cristofel Ybanes, a retired Mexican farmer. Ybanes said Parr rifle-whipped him after Parr accused him of laughing at Parr Aug. 17, 1953.

Second Houstonian Charged In Murder

MANSFIELD, La. (AP)—A second Houston, Tex., man has been charged with murder in the May 15 rifle slaying of Deputy Sheriff James Gamble of DeSoto Parish (county).

Charged yesterday was Darwin Crabbe, 28, following a night of questioning.

Jasper Self, 35, also of Houston, was charged with murder in the case last week.

Crabbe was arrested in Houston Friday night and taken to Center, Tex., on the Louisiana border, where he was turned over to DeSoto officers. Crabbe's lawyer protested in Houston against Crabbe being arrested and taken to Mansfield.

Self was arrested May 27 in Houston. He waived extradition.

A third man has been arrested but not charged.

Gamble was slain and a patrol partner, Ralph Shelton, seriously wounded when they stopped to offer aid to a car stranded in mud on U.S. 171 north of here.

Strike Continues In Three Divisions Of Bus Company

DALLAS, (AP)—The Continental Trailways bus strike continued today as the Federal Mediation Service sought to bring both sides back to the bargaining table.

Charles Lums, Dallas, a spokesman for the strikers, said the issue was wages and pensions. The company said the principal issue was an attempt to consolidate three bargaining units into one.

Lums said top wage paid Dixie division drivers was 5 1/2 cents a mile. He said Central drivers make 7 1/2 cents and Western drivers 7 cents. He said the company had offered Dixie division drivers 7 cents.

Bus operations are affected in parts of Nebraska, Texas, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Louisiana, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Oklahoma.

More than 700 drivers are on strike and bus operations on 13,000 miles of lines in 12 states have been stopped. No pickets have been established. The company said 40,000 passengers a day were affected.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Tiny objects in the ooze at bottom of the ocean. (Highly magnified.)

Anyone who crosses the Atlantic or the Pacific is likely to exclaim, "The big ocean!"

The waters of the Atlantic spread over an area which is larger than Africa, North America, South America and Australia combined. The Pacific Ocean is larger than all the continents together!

Salt water covers almost three-fourths of the surface of the globe. The depth of the ocean differs widely.

At beaches, people sometimes swim in ocean water which is only a few feet deep. A mile from shore, a swimmer might be in water 5,000 feet deep, or even more.

Surveys of the ocean have led to an estimate that the average depth is about two and one third miles. The deepest places ever found are in the Pacific. One of these is known as the Emden Deep, because the German cruiser "Emden" took a sounding there 27 years ago. The depth was reported to be six and seven-tenths miles.

Eighteen years later, men aboard an American war vessel took a sounding 40 miles north of Emden Deep. At this place, which is near the island of Mindanao in the Philippine group, the depth is more than six and one half miles. The place is known as the Cape Johnson Deep.

In the Atlantic Ocean, north of Puerto Rico, the water is almost five and four-fifths miles deep. A sounding was taken there by the U.S.S. "Milwaukee." It marks the deepest place found so far in the Atlantic.

Judging by the deep places, we may rank the Pacific as the deepest ocean, the Atlantic as the second deepest. After them come the Indian, Arctic and Antarctic Oceans.

Atomic Energy Commission Is Seeking Easing Of Act's Provisions For Secrecy

By ELTON G. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secrecy provisions of the Atomic Energy Act are so tight that the United States can't tell its allies what it learns about Russia's nuclear weapons.

The Atomic Energy Commission is asking Congress to include, in revision of the law, a section specifically to permit exchange of intelligence information in the "evaluation of the atomic capabilities of potential enemies."

A literal interpretation of the atomic law — and the AEC leans over backward in cleaving to both the letter and spirit of an act which contains drastic penalties for violation — is responsible for the curious situation.

The present act, which the commission recommends be amended to allow some exchange of various atomic information with friendly powers, contains a definite ban on communication of "restricted data" to any foreign nation or national intelligence source on the capabilities or intentions of a foreign power is classified as restricted-top secret, secret or confidential.

This means that even information on Soviet atomic tests, picked up by seismograph (recording earth shocks at long range), by analysis of upper air showing traces of radioactivity or by intelligence coming from agent sources cannot be passed on to Britain or other allies unless there is a public announcement by the White House.

Exchange of information is a two-way street. Britain, feeling that the tight provisions of the American Atomic Energy Act have choked off all data coming from the United States, is keeping her own information to herself, including intelligence on Soviet atomic developments.

The AEC put its proposal for permitting exchange of intelligence into the general, over-all recommendation for permitting exchange of other information with allies, including the suggestion that the President be authorized to determine what data on design and manufacturing methods should be transmitted to allies.

Europe Starts Its Experiments In International TV

LONDON (AP)—For the next month, West European television viewers can tune in on an eight-minute TV hookup. TV experts said the 45-minute debut of the network yesterday was a huge success.

The long-awaited experiment got under way with views of the Fete de Narclisses in Montreux, Switzerland, a carnival commonly known as the "Battle of Flowers." The pickup then shifted to Vatican City, where Pope Pius XII broadcast an apostolic blessing.

The network plans to transmit a daily program for a month. Nations participating are Britain, Belgium, Denmark, France, West Germany, The Netherlands, Italy and Switzerland. Sponsors hope the net can be made permanent.

Rep. Regan Against Reclamation Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Ken Regan (D-Tex.) has come out with a statement strongly opposing the proposed Upper Colorado River reclamation project, recommended by the House Interior Committee of which he is a member.

Regan said the billion dollar project would create a "gigantic new federal hydro-electrical power empire" for the benefit of "inefficient, uneconomic" irrigation developments.

Only reason for building the three major dams involved, said Regan in his statement yesterday, "is to put the federal government into the power business to make money to subsidize the irrigation features of the immense project."

Tasmania Has Flood

HOBART, Tasmania, (AP)—The worst flood in 20 years brought Hobart, Tasmania's capital, to a virtual standstill today. Five inches of rain in 48 hours put streets under water and marooned thousands in their homes.

Although Gibraltar long has been a symbol of impregnability, some military men now believe its military importance is slight.

DATE DATA

'Dime-A-Dozen' Kisses Quickly Lose All Value

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Dear Miss Brandow:

I am fourteen, in a new school, and dying to date. Most of the boys aren't interested yet, so when I attended a girl friend's party where she introduced me to a boy who seemed to like me, I was thrilled.

After the party we all went riding and as everyone else was paired off, that left Larry and me together. We parked and the others petted, but I didn't let Larry even kiss me.

The next week we double dated and went to a school club meeting. On the way home we parked and this time I let him kiss me. That was two weeks ago and he hasn't called since. It was my first kiss and when I told Mother about it she said she was ashamed of me.

At fourteen, by a few unintentional missteps, a girl can blackball herself for the remainder of her teen years. Yet, without any experience, it's hard to know what you should and should not do. Sometimes there's just one way to find out.

I hope you've profited by this experience. Don't misunderstand. There's nothing wrong in a kiss — if it is with the right boy at the right time in the right place. Your mother was not objecting to the kiss, I am sure, but to the circumstance surrounding it.

The painful lesson to be learned in this episode of your life is this: "Dime a dozen kisses aren't valued."

As you become a more seasoned dater you will learn that it is never smart to throw yourself at any boy, particularly the first boy who shows an interest in you.

Next you never kiss on a first date no matter how infatuated you are when you are scheming to keep his interest high not only that night but next week and next month as well.

If you are really date-bait you will have something besides your sex to keep him lured, and your kisses will be bestowed only upon special heats rather than on any Tom, Dick, or Larry.

Wholesome kisses represent real feeling; deep friendship, and by the very nature of their sacredness require privacy. The kisses exchanged in the back seat of a car in the presence of another couple are cheap because instead of being meant for the loved one alone, they are but a tawdry, show-offish display of sex appeal.

Boys date two kinds of girls. To one they give their roving hands; to the other they give their heart.

Ten Die In Fiery Crash

OWINGS, Md., (AP)—Eight men and two women died in a flaming head-on auto collision near Lyons Creek early today when one of the cars approached a curve on the crest of a hill in the wrong lane of traffic.

One of the cars, a convertible, was in "full blaze" when Thomas Eozzolo, assistant chief of the North Beach volunteer fire department, arrived on the scene.

The automobiles were so mangled it was difficult at first to determine in which direction either one had been traveling.

All but one of the passengers in the two cars were thrown from the wreckage. The other died in the burning convertible. There were no survivors.

Police said the vehicle driven by Robert E. Abell, 24, Silver Spring, Md., was in the wrong lane of traffic on Maryland Route 414 and caused the crash. The driver of the other car was Clarence M. Thomas, 34, Olivet, Md.

Other victims in Abell's car were identified by police as John P. Schweinhout, 24, Robert Lee Schweinhout, 20, Milton E. Stottmyer, 20, all of Silver Spring, and an unidentified boy about 19.

Victims in the other car, beside Thomas, included Earl E. McCroskey, 24, and Mrs. Benjamin Thomas, 55, both of Olivet, and Norman T. Carey and Helen P. Carey, 25, both of Baltimore.

'Turnpike Fever' Is Spreading Over U. S.

By ARTHUR MERIMS
(For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK (AP)—Some call it "turnpike fever." Others, "toll roaditis." Symptoms vary, but the malady is highly contagious. It quickens the pulse of investment bankers, lawmakers and state highway officials and produces a rash of public demands for better roads.

So far, there is only one known cure—float a huge bond issue and begin constructing a multilane speedway of the future, with toll booths at appropriate intervals.

Tomorrow, Kentucky will auction 28½ million dollars of turnpike revenue bonds to finance a 40-mile toll road from Louisville to Elizabethtown. On June 16, the New York State Thruway Authority will come to market with 300 million dollars of similar obligations, second part of a financing venture to build a 427-mile toll road from New York City to Buffalo.

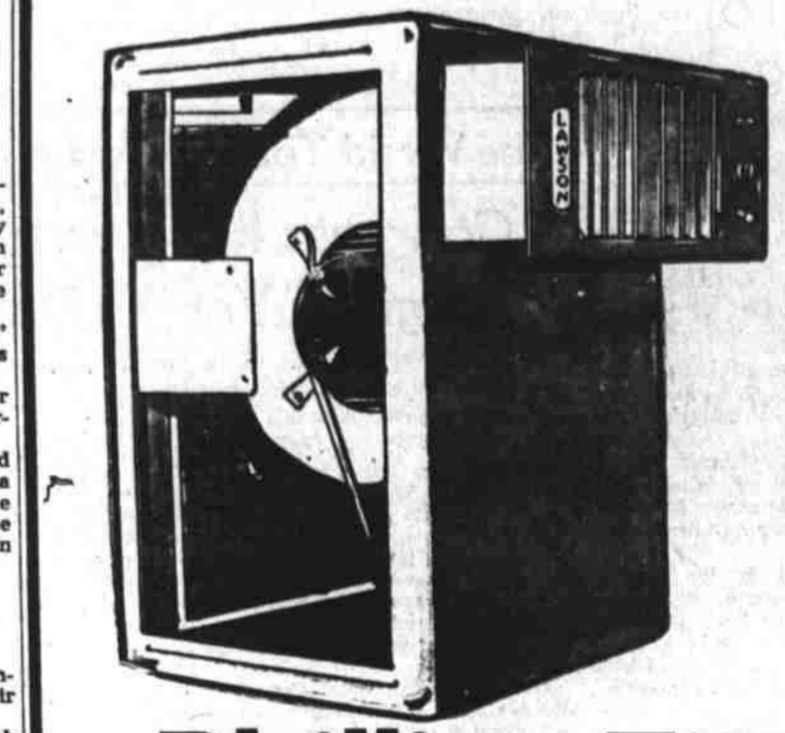

But this is only a sampling. Financial circles around Wall Street, the men whose job it is to raise

Workers Rally To Back Regime Of Guatemala

GUATEMALA (AP)—Guatemalan workers gathered at four Communist-organized mass meetings yesterday to organize vigilante defense units. The rallies served as a show of support for President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's leftist government.

The meetings were called by the nation's two biggest labor organizations—the General Confederation of Workers (CGTG) and the National Confederation of Farmers (CNCG). Both are controlled by the Reds.

The CGTG sponsored one meeting at the seaport of Puerto Barrios. The CNCG rallies were held in Guatemala City, El Progreso and Zacapa to lay the foundations for a farmer's militia to defend "the national sovereignty."

Some newspapers have reported this militia would be armed with weapons discarded by the army. Gen. Carlos H. Sarti, army chief of staff, said, however, the army had no connection with the project.

Guatemala received a 10-million-dollar arms shipment last month from Stettin, in Communist-ruled Poland. As a result, the army reportedly is getting rid of some of its older weapons.

The former chief of the Guatemalan air force, Col. Rodolfo Mendoza Azurdia, fled the country yesterday in a private plane. Informed sources said he had received asylum in neighboring El Salvador.

Col. Mendoza got away by tricking airport guards with the excuse he wanted to go on a test flight. Newspapers reported he was accompanied by his brother Miguel, also a colonel and a former under secretary of defense.

Miguel is considered a leader of the opposition to the Arbenz government and is said to have been on the wanted list.

Daniel Says South 'Slow' In Providing Good Negro Schools

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Daniel (D-Tex.) says the South was "slow" for a long time in providing equal schools for Negro children but now is spending much more money on them.

In an appearance on the Facts Forum television program yesterday, Daniel repeated that he hopes white and Negro citizens of "good will" can sit down together "and work this out."

Of the Supreme Court decision banning segregation in public schools, the Texas senator said, "We can take care of this problem on a local basis."

Daniel expressed belief separate schools will be continued on a voluntary basis in many parts of the South and said experience in Texas showed Negroes prefer their own schools.

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—If Kenneth A. Green, a Democratic candidate for county judge in New York State, should get South Carolina support of some kind, here's the reason:

Edmund G. Grant, Democratic candidate for township commissioner here, has been distributing packets of matches with advertising ordered to boost his candidacy.

That is, he was distributing them until he found the manufacturing firm had sent him Green's match packets.

"Well," Grant philosophized, "at least he's a Democrat."

Firemen Do Some Wrecking To Free Child From Duct

NEW YORK (AP)—Firemen resorted to a little house-wrecking to free 7-year-old Ida Esperanza from a rooftop air duct in which she got caught yesterday.

First the rescuers cut off an entire section of the tin duct from which only the top of the child's head was showing.

Then they lowered the section six stories down an air shaft. At the first floor they broke through a bathroom wall, reached into the shaft and grabbed the section of tin pipe.

They cut the tin apart and freed the girl, who was scared but not seriously hurt.

Smell Of Gasoline Nearly Too Much

SHAFTER, Calif. (AP)—Two 13-old boys liked the smell of gasoline so much they almost sniffed themselves to death. Constable Blake Witcher said today.

He reported Johnny Love and Henry Blair took a two-gallon can of gasoline into a car and closed the windows. A neighbor found the boys unconscious and a resuscitator squad revived them.

Witcher said they told him, "We just liked the smell of gasoline."

Philadelphia School Fire Claimed Arson

Police said turpentine had been spilled at three separate places in the building. Two classrooms were badly damaged and the custodian's quarters were virtually destroyed.

Can't Believe Anyone

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two strangers stopped Joseph Matthews, 68, and his wife Helen, 56, as they were about to enter their North Philadelphia home yesterday after closing the restaurant they operate nearby.

"If it's money you're after," Mrs. Matthews said quickly, "it's there."

The pair grabbed the bag and sped away in a car driven by a third man. The bag contained some scraps for the family cat. The day's receipts of $75 were still in the restaurant safe.

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—Customers in a bar were crying in their beer Friday.

The reason? A tear gas bomb kept in the safe of the Blackstone Club as a precaution against safecrackers broke when a bartender closed the safe door.

Bismarck firemen arrived with smoke ejectors and found patrons continuing to drink beer, but with tears rolling down their cheeks.

Evidence Strong That U. S. To Furnish Advisors In Indochina

Application of a Greek-style military set-up in Indochina to save that country from the Communist rebels begins to shape up. As a matter of fact this was suggested by U. S. military men months ago, and might have been established then and thus made Dien Bien Phu impossible, but the French military commanders opposed it as a blow to French pride. The plan was to have U. S. military advisors, with overall authority, to train and direct the operations of the French Union forces. In Greece under General Van Fleet it worked like a charm and soon brought the Red rebels under control. Yet no American took part in actual fighting. They served as trainers and directors. One reason the plan would work exceptionally well in Indochina is that the Vietnamese seem to be at odds with the French—indeed, many have an acute aversion to their leaders—but Americans are reasonably popular and could get along well with the natives. One indication—and it is a compelling one—that we may soon go into Indochina on the set-up prevailing in Greece is France's action in relieving her military and civil commanders in Indochina and replacing them with a single individual who will hold both positions. The new commander is the French chief of staff, General Paul Ely, currently in Washington conferring with U. S., British, New Zealand and Australian military chiefs on matters affecting Southeast Asia. American public opinion would not support the sending of U. S. troops or military units into Indochina at this time. However, the sending of a Greek-style military mission there is something else again, and since all nations do it regularly there is no question of involving us in war with Red China in consequence. The new French unified command in Indochina is the same that prevailed when the late General de Lattre was making the place hot for the rebels. Its re-institution is pretty strong evidence that the U. S. is about to be invited to try to do in Indochina what it did for Greece.

Senate Housing Bill Likely To Pass And Stimulate Building

The administration's over-all housing bill went whooping through the Senate on a voice vote minus only a few of the features asked for by President Eisenhower, but including his public housing proposal that had earlier been rejected by the House. The only roll call vote on this complex piece of legislation was on that feature, and it carried 66-16. Under it, Mr. Eisenhower's request for authority to build 35,000 public housing units a year for four years was granted in full. The House had rejected that provision 211 to 126, but it is better than an even guess the House will eventually accept the Senate version. Public housing is a potent political issue in the country's larger cities, and this being election year the House probably will see the light—especially in view of the conservative Senate's overwhelming approval. The bill as it passed the Senate provides liberalized government-insured credit for home buyers, the stepped up sub-subsistence program and new safeguards designed to prevent future abuses in government-aided housing. It provides lower down payments on homes and longer repayment periods for mortgages under FHA. On an $8,000 home, the down payment comes down from the present $850 to $400, and on a $16,000 home it drops from $3,200 to $2,200. There is a change in home repair loans, which remain at a top $2,500 repayable in three years. The Senate doubled the amount of money available for insuring GI homes, from 100 to 200 million dollars. The farm housing program was extended, and farmers can now get government-insured mortgages without putting up their whole farm as security. There is also a new program for FHA insurance for home-trailer mortgages. If the bill as passed by the Senate comes out of conference committee in substantially its present form, home building activities should be continued at a high level, thus maintaining the construction industry as one of the nation's economic mainstays.

The Oppenheimer Case; Another Man, In France, Fared Better

PARIS — The novelist and critic, Haakon Chevalier, named in charges resulting in suspension of J. Robert Oppenheimer as scientific consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission, has denied emphatically that he had ever sought information from Oppenheimer about atomic developments in 1943 or at any other time. Chevalier is one of the many intellectual friends of the brilliant Oppenheimer whose interests extended far beyond science to literature, music and politics, and their friendship has continued down to the present. "I never talked with Oppie," Chevalier told me, "on the basis of providing information to anyone. I reported to him that George Ellerton had approached me and that I was deeply disturbed since I knew his Russian connections. As you know, he had lived in the Soviet Union and had a wife and child there." Chevalier says he was never a Communist or a pro-Communist, and he ascribes the present furor to the witch-hunting mood now prevailing in America. He gave me a photostatic copy of a letter from Oppenheimer on stationery of the Institute for Advanced Studies. The letter to "Dear Haakon," dated February 24, 1950, is as follows: "Thank you for your good letter of February 21. I can understand that an account of my testimony before the House Committee would be helpful to you in seeking a suitable academic position at this time. I cannot send it to you because I had never myself had a transcript, and because the committee ruled at the time that they desired to keep, and would keep, the hearings secret. But I can tell you what I said. "As you know, I have been deeply disturbed by the threat to your career which these ugly stories could constitute. If I can help you in that, you may call on me. "As Chevalier told the story in his small Montmartre apartment, Oppenheimer in 1943 had to pull away from his group

Congress Has Much Of Administration Program Yet To Deal With This Year

WASHINGTON — This is a quick look at what Congress has done in 1954, what it hasn't done, and may do, before the lawmakers go home to face the voters in the November elections. They want to quit here by July 31, so they can campaign for reelection, but probably won't get away until some time in August. Eisenhower has said he wants his program, or what happens to it in Congress, to be the campaign issue. His Republicans run Congress. He has leaned over backwards to get along with them. But he has put them on the spot. Last December he said the Republican party doesn't deserve to retain control of the government until Congress puts through his program. Last week he said he could think of nothing more important to the United States than its enactment. The margin between Democrats and Republicans in Congress is so close that: (1) none of Eisenhower's program could be passed without some help from Democrats and (2) the Democrats could block passage any time they banded solidly together. In the House there are only four more Republicans than Democrats. In the Senate the lineup is 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and 1 Independent, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon. So far Congress has passed only six measures which could be considered of major importance: (1) joining Canada in the St. Lawrence seaway; (2) a defense pact with South Korea; (3) creating an Air Force academy; (4) extending major excise tax rates to cover the 1954-55 fiscal year; (5) providing for federal highway construction; (6) increasing the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corp. Because the Democrats stuck together, two of Eisenhower's proposals were shelved: revising the Taft-Hartley labor relations law and lowering the voting age to 18. Last week Congress started rolling forward passage of a wider social security program and the kind of housing program Eisenhower asked for. The House approved a bill to add almost 10 million people to social security coverage while increasing both the benefits and the tax. The

That Splitting Headache

One Way To Distinguish Army Old-Timer Has Been By Girth

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note. One of the ways a soldier fights boredom is trying to lift all the rumors he hears going about his encampment for the true facts, for the stories circulate about the average base about as freely as the air. The bearer of tidings, good or bad, always finds a ready audience, although the individual tuned in on the program could well have started the rumor, in the first place. Some things never change and that method of communication apparently never will. The Department of the Army came out with a directive recently that should make for choice comment among the GI's, especially the career soldiers. The plan calls for the restoration of prestige and authority of the Army's non-commissioned officers by establishing new "specialist" ratings, effective Jan. 1, 1955. The approved plan emphasizes leadership by establishing only leaders in the top four enlisted pay grades as NCO's and recognizes administrative and technical ability with the Specialist category. No one is going to get a pay reduction but, under the plan, NCO's will rank above all Specialists. The Army thinks the plan will promote increased effectiveness, efficiency and discipline and improve morale throughout the service. No rating, NCO or Specialist, will be lost through transfer, says the Army. No changes in titles or insignia of NCO's—corporals, sergeants, sergeants first class and etc.—is planned. Specialists will have distinctive insignia and their grade will include E-7 (for Master Specialist), E-6 (Specialist First Class), E-5 (Specialist Second Class) and E-4 (Specialist Third Class). For a long time, I found it fairly easy to ascertain how much service a soldier had by his size, or lack of it. It wasn't hard to tell the old-timers from the privates, or newcomers, because, as they added experience and authority, they always put on more weight. The top-kicks of most any outfit were big, hefty fellows because they ate well and left the menial chores to some one else. The supply sergeants and especially the mess sergeants were invariably men of great girth, too. It may not be that way anymore, however. Some of the brass overseas have been sounding off to the effect that the men in the ranks carry too much weight, physically, that is, and they'll have to trim down, or answer to their superiors. If their recommendations to eliminate more attention to their hash marks. That's the snoot carried out, I'll have to pay a sure way of distinguishing between the grizzled veteran and the raw recruit. —TOMMY HART

Any Tour Of The Hawaiian Isles Must Be Done By Means Of Plane

HANA, Maui, Hawaii — Any romantic ideas I may have had of sticking a hibiscus blossom behind an ear, boarding an old freighter and doing a leisurely tour of the Hawaiian archipelago has gone up in the smoke of modernity. That is, unless I can afford my own freighter, sailboat or rowboat. The only passenger service between the lovely islands of this archipelago is now by air. Unless a man files or is willing to swim, he does no voyaging among the islands (assuming he isn't in the yacht-club class). This news comes as a distinct shock to me, if not to W. Somerset Maugham, James Mitchell, et. al. Not to mention Hollywood! All those delicious stories of long, sunny days spent in tropic idyll aboard a slow boat wandering among Pacific islands is now pure, in a manner of speaking, fiction, at least as far as Hawaii is concerned. Passenger service by boat among the islands ceased to exist two years ago when the plane took over. There is, literally, shuttle or commuter service now between the islands, and in that steady old work-and-war horse of the airlines, the DC-3. The few freighters still in inter-island service are no longer permitted to carry passengers. The DC-3 isn't nearly as big or as fast as the DC-7 in which United Airlines set a dawn-to-dusk record in its recent flight from New York to Honolulu. But the DC-3 purrs steadily up and down the archipelago, and come to think of it, she does not entirely lack the romance of the slow freighter. The hostesses on the Hawaiian Airlines are triple-threat girls. They not only perform the usual duties of airline hostesses, but can and do (1) sing and (2) dance that gave the deepest lesson in unity. They presented, row on row, one of the major costs of the Normandy landing, a mighty Allied effort that saw 326,547 men, 54,186 tanks and vehicles and 104,428 tons of material poured across the beaches in six days. In the first 24 hours of the assault, American forces suffered some 18,000 casualties on Utah and Omaha beaches. Lt. Col. Russell R. Rab of East Orange, N.J., estimated 85 per cent of the visitors to the cemetery yesterday were French. They are just friendly to Americans, he said. Almost every French family in this area lost someone during the war. Several veterans who fought on this same beach 10 years ago had returned for the pilgrimage. There also were dozens of Normandy veterans in the special honor guard of about 400 U. S. troops brought here for the ceremonies. The feeling they seemed to share was expressed by Lt. John J. Moglia of Hempstead, N.Y., who said: "I always wanted to come back to see this piece of terrain under different conditions. Now the places I could never forget are hard to find. If it weren't for the cemetery, the beach would look like a summer resort. Most of the obstacles that were here 10 years ago are gone now." "Yes," said Lt. Col. Albert H. Smith Jr. of Baltimore, Md., who hit the beach in one of the earliest assault waves. "It's amazing there are so few of the scars of war left. The years have been kind to these hills that we beat up so." When the speeches and ceremonies were over, the honor guard, still carrying rifles, began to wander among the rows of marble crosses. Each had been decorated with small French and U.S. flags. "Some of the fellows left quite a few friends here," said Lt. Robert Lindorf of Chicago. Under the chill, overcast sky, the soldiers walked about among the crosses. Some knelt at the name they had sought and found. Several took out their handkerchiefs and wiped away tears they had made no attempt to hide. One stood with bowed head, his rifle held downward with both hands, until it was time for the honor guard to go on to Utah Beach and the next ceremony. The men under the white crosses were alone again—but they had been remembered by men who fought side by side with them 10 years ago. That was more than speeches and blowing music and flying flags.

French Show They Still Remember D-Day's Dead

OMAHA BEACH, France (AP) — What was it like on the beaches of Normandy 10 years after D-Day? The French people showed yesterday they haven't forgotten the 9,485 Americans still in St. Laurent Cemetery and those thousands of others who died here but are buried in their homeland. French Tricolors decorated every small town to welcome visitors. More than 25,000 turned out to hear speeches at Utah Beach by France's President Rene Coty and U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. President Eisenhower's personal representative, Gen. J. Lawton (Lightning Joe) Collins and Gen. Lee T. Gerow, commanders of the two American corps that landed here on June 6, 1944, were among the host of high-ranking Army, Air Force and Navy officers present from half a dozen countries. There were bands, lines of marching men and speeches about unity at half a dozen celebrations in Normandy, but in the end it was the 9,485 crosses at St. Laurent, just behind Omaha Beach,

Don't Count Too Heavily On A Sharp Boom In Defense Outlay

WASHINGTON — History doesn't always repeat. But the human mind does. At the time of Korea, the American mind rushed back to Pearl Harbor. Defense outlays would soar. There'd be short ages, rationing, price control. Effect: A scramble for sugar, canned goods, automobiles, washing machines—nearly everything that was unobtainable the last time. Yet, it soon became clear that the mind-anticipation—ran far ahead of events. Now, after Indochina—after the fall of the fortress of Dien Bien Phu—thoughts are hurtling back to Korea. This is another set of Communist aggression. There'll be a big step-up in defense outlays. We'd better turn our thinking caps to inflation. Isn't that what a defense boom inevitably brings? That's the mood of the minute among business analysts and business men. It's helped along by circumstantial evidence. At his last press conference, President Eisenhower said he had not decided whether to ask Congress for authority for armed intervention in Indochina. But, he said, such a course had been discussed. Inference: Where there's discussion there's apt to be fire. Further, the President has asked Congress for an additional appropriation of $1,100,000,000 for military construction. The sole suggestion of where or how the money would be spent was a trifling $500,000 item for a communication system in Alaska. Another inference: We're getting ready for something somewhere. And stockpiling of metals, long planned, has begun. The government has contracted for 100,000 tons of Chilean copper, thus taking a $60,000,000 load off the world market. At the same time, lead and zinc markets have moved confidently upward in expectation of stockpile purchases. Finally, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has returned from his tour of the Far East. So the guess is: He's back with an excuse to change the defense program. We've waggled a big tongue at the Russians and the Chinese, but haven't backed it up. Now we need the big stick. Is it possible the mind's reverting to the past, even though conditions are dissimilar? On his arrival here, Secretary Wilson told reporters that armed intervention in Indochina was most unlikely. Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, as reported here last week, has insisted that expenditures will be down in the 1955 fiscal year. The administration's philosophy is to maintain a steady, but strong, level of defense—a program we can live with for the long pull, a program which would go on regardless of setbacks or victories in the long, cold war. There is this essential difference between today and Korea. When the North Koreans pushed across the 38th parallel in 1950, the United States was caught with its defense plants down. Defense outlays had been drastically curtailed. They were running around $15,000,000,000 a year. Almost overnight, that goal was raised to $60,000,000,000—a three-fold increase. Now, defense outlays are running around $46,000,000,000 a year. They've come down from a peak of about $33,000,000,000—as part of the administration's plan to keep the program in balance, to prevent overstocking of military supplies, which might become obsolete. Cuts so far have been largely in tanks, guns, ships, ammunition, and propeller aircraft. We still have heavy schedules for thermo-nuclear weapons, jet airplanes and other new weapons. Our armed strength—in terms of personnel and equipment—is three and one-half times what it was at the time of Korea. We're not starting from scratch. So, the question arises: On what would we step up defense outlays? Already, some anticipatory buying by business men has occurred. The reasoning runs: Business is getting better. And even if the rise doesn't continue, defense buying will boom it along. The stock market—Wall Street—has rallied to that thesis. Thus, the stage could be set for a psychological letdown. Therefore, as a consumer and business man, it would be well not to bet everything on an upward whoosh in defense. It isn't utterly inconceivable that the administration knows what it's doing and means what it says.

She has the drive and determination necessary to keep her on top as a popular star. As we chatted together the other day in her CBS-TV dressing room, Phyllis looked as fresh and cool as any girl could—despite the fact she had been rehearsing under hot television lights and that it was over 90 outside.

"I think a great part of staying cool is wearing the right clothes," Phyllis confided. "If you have on something open at the throat and at the sleeves and if you choose a material which is well ventilated it helps a lot to keep you cool."

"I think eating lots of meat makes me feel the heat more," she added. "I am more comfortable with a salad or a light lunch, and during summer I usually order cottage cheese and fresh fruit. "When I was in the East last year I ran into a terrible heat wave. I found that my make-up lasted much better if I put ice on my face first. I'd rub on ice, dry my face and then apply make-up. And when I could I kept my skin tonic on ice."

"When the thermometer is high, the lighter the make-up you use the better," Phyllis remarked. "After I've put on make-up I splash my face lightly with cold water and blot off the moisture. This makes your make-up wear better."

Phyllis spoke about protecting your daintiness in hot weather. "I'd rather use a deodorant twice a day than run a risk of suddenly finding that it wasn't working. I don't think you can take too many precautions in hot weather. I use a deodorant bath powder too—it has a lovely scent. And I like a deodorant cologne to spray my hair."

"A girl can't be too careful about keeping the smell of what she had for dinner out of her hair," Phyllis laughed and added: "I remember reading a short story where the boy broke his engagement because every time he kissed his date he could tell what she had for lunch."

"If you can't brush your teeth after eating you can chew chlorophyll gum or have a bottle of mouth wash handy to freshen your breath."

If you want to beat the heat this summer, take a tip from Phyllis Avery and eat for hot weather, dress for it and protect your daintiness from head to foot.

First Week Alone On Paper Worse Than Tending Baby

By ANNE LAFEVER

Now I think I know how a mother feels when she is left with the entire care and responsibility of her first baby! Carol Mitchell, my co-worker on the Woman's Page, has been gone a week. Each day, I have breathed a sigh of relief as I have left the office, much as that new mother must do, when there is no upset during the day.

There are so many things to remember and to plan for, and usually I don't finish one thing before something else has to be started. There's the matter of arranging for different appointments, someone who will give a recipe, someone to pose for the dress parade column and a newcomer, to name a few.

And if you think that people form in lines to have their pictures made—think again. You have no idea of the good feeling it gives when a woman says, "Why yes, I have a good recipe, and I'd be glad to give it to you. No, I don't mind having my picture made." We all ways want to answer, "Bless you!"

Then there is always the worry that not enough news will come in to make a sufficient amount of copy. We can always use what we call "time stuff," but readers had much rather know who gave a backyard supper or returned from a good vacation trip.

Anyway, here I am at the end of the first week with the Sunday edition nearly complete. There have been no major catastrophes—much to my surprise, just a few misplaced headlines and wrong titles. But I still insist that I have a kindred feeling with that new mother, "because I'm just as scared as can be—I have an advantage over her, though, because once a paper is "put to bed" there is no three a.m. feeding.

New Instant Coffee Adds Convenience With Quality

One of the newest and most welcome additions to the field of "instant" food preparations is Instant Maryland Club coffee. Instant Maryland Club was put on the market this week, to the joy of those housewives who are having to do their cooking "on the run" these days.

The makers of Instant Maryland Club have given their product a quality and style that lifts it out of the "quick snack in the kitchen" class and makes it worthy of those most demanding in their coffee flavor. It's described as having "the richest flavor ever offered in instant coffee."

Instant Maryland Club is packaged with such distinction that it would look quite at home on the living room coffee table. Its handsome gold-label jar is too "elegant" to be stuck away in the back of a kitchen cabinet. The quality and style of Instant Maryland Club should come as no surprise, of course, following, as it does, the pattern of its sister Club coffee.

New York Rape Victim Dies; Second Alleged Sex Killer Held

NEW YORK (AP)—A schoolgirl rape victim died yesterday shortly after her alleged attacker was jailed without bail on charges of committing the assault and three other murders.

John Francis Roche, 27, a husky, good-looking steamfitter, was the first of two alleged sex killers seized by police over the weekend. Police first got their hands on him when he was stopped Saturday for driving through a red light.

The second alleged killer, arrested yesterday, was Norman Royce, an 18-year-old Negro who police said admitted raping and killing three Negro women.

He aroused suspicions, police reported, as he stood on a rooftop munching crackers and watching detectives examine the body of his latest alleged victim, 66-year-old Mrs. Isadora Goomes.

His open shirt revealed scratches across the stomach. Police began to question him and under intense questioning, they reported, he admitted strangling and raping Mrs. Goomes and two other women.

The most recent victim charged against Roche was Dorothy Westwater, 14, who died without regaining consciousness four days after she was raped, stabbed and bludgeoned. Her crumpled body was found last Wednesday in the hallway of the apartment house where she lived with her family in Manhattan.

The attack spread terror through the neighborhood, already stirred up by the sex slaying of waitress Marion Brown, 17, less than two months before.

The killing of Miss Brown on April 8 was one of the murders with which Roche was charged. Other slayings that police said he also admitted were the fatal stabbings of Mrs. Rosa Chronik, 85, last Nov. 15, and taxi driver Alex Jablonka, 43, on April 18.

Roche kept his curly head bowed at his arraignment. He was held for a hearing June 21.

An ex-convict, he was reported to have a police record of burglary and larceny dating back to 1944. For a time he was confined to a mental institution in Monticello, N.Y.

However, Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Herman told reporters: "There is no basis for believing there is anything wrong mentally with Roche, both on his criminal record or talking to him."

In questioning their second alleged killer, police said they learned that the crackers Royce was eating when first questioned had been bought with five pennies stolen from the victim's pocket-book.

Police said Royce told of meeting

Mrs. Goomes as she entered the building where she lived and of throwing a noose around her neck.

They said the youth demanded money and when her purse produced only five pennies, he tightened the noose and demanded more. Then "she just died on me," Royce was quoted as saying.

He then quashed her lifeless body, police said.

Similar rape-slayings which police said he admitted were those of Mrs. Margaret Branch, 40, Jan. 2, and Mrs. Kathleen Stewart, whose body was found in the Polo Grounds May 28.

Royce was booked on charges of homicide and rape.

Yoshida Gets Bills Approved

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida tonight won approval of a controversial police bill and a decision by the Diet to censure the Socialist party members involved in Thursday's Diet brawl.

The Socialists, who contend the Diet was adjourned by the riot, boycotted today's session, permitting Yoshida's Liberal (conservative) party to win quick approval of the censure decision and the police bill.

The latter measure calls for centralization of the police force in the national government. The left and right wing Socialists bitterly opposed the step on grounds it would lead to a police state.

A Diet committee, also boycotted by the Socialists, voted to present

Wives Too Eager To See Husbands

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Two Navy wives, hurrying to meet their husbands' destroyer, went right off the end of the pier in a taxicab.

The taxi sped down the pier yesterday and the driver slammed on the brakes—too late. The cab went over the edge and bumped down onto a cement platform four feet below.

Mrs. Nancy T. McFadden, 24, suffered back injuries and Mrs. Walter S. Crosswell was bruised. The McFadden's baby daughter Connie was not injured, nor was the cab driver.

The husbands were aboard one of four destroyers of the Navy's Sighting Duck Division, home after seven months at sea. They were given emergency leaves to visit their wives at Seaside Hospital.

Corruption Charges Are Issued in Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—An Iranian Parliament member has accused government officials of widespread corruption, including the peddling of 60 million dollars worth of rationed sugar to black marketers.

Speaking to the Majlis (lower house of Parliament) yesterday, Deputy Mahdi Mirashrafi also charged customs officials looted 1 1/2 million dollars worth of goods from a warehouse here May 20. He said a fire which demolished the giant shed was set to cover up the theft.

Divorcee Owes Life To Phone

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP)—A 30-year-old divorcee today owed her life to a transatlantic telephone call from the man "I cannot face life without."

Mrs. Elizabeth Evans was seriously, but no longer critically, ill, as police told this story of a near-fatal marital triangle.

Mrs. Evans took an overdose of sleeping pills Saturday, then telephoned John Hurd, 45, in London. Hurd, representative of an American airline, heard a "thud"—then there was silence.

He quickly called Mrs. Evans' number but got a busy signal. He called his wife Cecilia in Burlingame. She alerted police. They broke into Mrs. Evans' apartment and found her lying unconscious on the floor, dressed in a complete wedding ensemble.

Nearby were two notes—one from Hurd to Mrs. Evans saying all was off between them and he was going back to his wife, and one from Mrs. Evans to Hurd saying, "I cannot face life without you. I am sorry you couldn't see the wedding ensemble."

Mrs. Hurd told police she and her husband separated early last year and he met Mrs. Evans. Mrs. Hurd said they had been reconciled. She plans to join her husband in England soon.

In London, Hurd told a reporter the incident was "a tempest in a teapot." He refused to discuss it.

In St. Louis, relatives said Mrs. Evans' first husband was William H. Evans of Pittsburgh. They were married in 1938 and divorced in 1941. She was reported to have married in August Evans in World War II and divorced him after the war.

Veteran Cowboy Dies At Roping; Services Today

COLORADO CITY — The thinning ranks of the oldtime cowboys lost another member Saturday night, as William Ward Jenkins, 67, Cuthbert stockfarmer, died of the redoxe grounds in Colorado City of a heart attack.

Likely, the end came as "Moe" Jenkins would have wished—a rope in his hands and a good horse between his knees. On Saturday nights, the local Three R Club sponsors calf-roping contests. Jenkins, a three-time winner of the old timer's calf roping event at Stamford, had roped and tied his third calf of the evening about 10:30. He remounted and rode toward the judge's stand, but began to sway, slumped forward and fell from the saddle.

W. R. Motley III, riding marshal of the club, and others rushed to his side and attempted to give him artificial respiration. An ambulance was called, but apparently no one had died as he fell.

Motley said that prior to the fatal ride, Jenkins had been in good spirits and had been "joshing" the other contestants.

Jenkins was born in Georgetown Jan. 19, 1887, and moved to Cuthbert in 1893. He had been a cowboy since his teens and had worked for many of the ranches around Sierra Blanca.

A veteran of World War I, he carried a plate in his head as a memento of a wound suffered in that war. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and had married Ida Goodwin at Cuthbert, in June of 1919.

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at 4:30 from the First Christian Church in Colorado City. Rev. Bruce Clark, pastor, was to officiate and burial was to be in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son.

Funeral services were Tom Davenport, Bernie Grable, Roy Warren, Howard Rogers, Goodwin Simpson, of Colorado City, and Harold Jenkins of Henrietta.

He is survived by his wife, daughter, Mrs. Preston Thompson of Fort Worth; three brothers, C. E. Jenkins, of Henrietta; John Jenkins of Dallas, and Leon Jenkins of Colorado City; two sisters, Mrs. Bertha McGahey, of Los Angeles, California and Mrs. Edna Green of Dallas, and two grandchildren.

Bonds Forfeited In County Court

County Judge R. H. Weaver this morning ordered the forfeiture of bonds which had been posted in nine persons who are charged in County Court.

None of the 10 appeared for the calling of the docket this morning. County Attorney Harvey Hooper, who moved for the forfeitures, said bondsmen for the nine had been notified last week that the cases would be called today.

Three other defendants answered this morning. A jury panel has been ordered for 10 a.m. Tuesday to hear the cases.

The defendants who failed to answer when the docket was called this morning were W. B. Wilson, charged with driving while intoxicated; Bernardo Garcia, charged with unlawfully carrying arms; F. L. Hall, charged with aggravated assault; Charles Tom Daniels, E. L. Reed, Steve Jones, Benjamin Curry and John Ross Sims Sr., all charged with driving while intoxicated; and Chono Garcia Nunez, charged with aggravated assault.

Official said they presume all of the bonds were for $500. Docket did not show size of the bond in some cases.

Answering when the docket was called this morning were Tincy Merritt, and Leonard Earl Ellison, each charged with driving while intoxicated.

W. A. Hutchins, who was charged on Feb. 22 with driving while intoxicated, changed his plea to guilty and was fined $75 and costs.

Kay Lee Denby, who was arrested during the weekend by Highway Patrol officers, was charged in County Court this morning with driving while intoxicated. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

Road and bridge expenditures for the month were $20,499.05. Remaining in the fund's balance is $129,395.62.

Other major monthly expenses include officers' salary, $9,959.85; general, $6,977.56; right of way, $4,765.17; and sinking, $3,689.70. A balance of $333,529.23 remains in county funds. Total receipts for the month were $119,375.89. Expenditures were $157,366.40.

Lease On Labor Camp Is Asked

Three representatives of the Howard County Farm Bureau conferred with county commissioners this morning concerning the leasing of the old city-county farm labor camp in northwest Big Spring.

The Bureau asked a 10-year lease on the property. The camp would be used as a reception and processing center for Mexican nationals brought here to work on farms, the spokesmen said.

The Farm Bureau would construct a new building at the camp and be responsible for maintenance of the existing buildings. The Bureau representatives asked for a decision on the matter by Tuesday night. Commissioners said they will confer with city officials and attempt to give an answer by that time.

The city and county cooperated in the construction of the camp several years ago. In the past, it has been used by transient farm workers seeking employment here or elsewhere.

Commissioners also were to discuss preliminary plans for beautification of the courthouse grounds. Possibility of an additional clerk for the county tax office was up for consideration today.

Farm Bureau representatives conferring with the court this morning were Marion Edwards, Johnny Walker and Ross Hill.

Woman Killed When Car Flips At Seymour

SEYMOUR, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Ralph E. Donnell, 21, wife of a Platteville doctor, was killed last night when her car in which she was riding overturned one mile east of here.

Dr. Donnell and a son, Woody, 8, received minor injuries.

Highway patrolmen issued a pickup order for a truck said to be involved in the accident. They said the Donnell car swerved to miss an object protruding from the coming truck and overturned. The truck did not stop.

Four Accidents Are Reported

Four automobile mishaps, apparently without injury, were reported to law enforcement officials over the weekend.

A car which sheriff's deputies found resting in a field at the U. S. Experimental Farm was confiscated. Deputies said the car was driven through the farm fence at 12th and North Bell, and that the owner was not there when they arrived.

A head-on collision on the Howard County Fair Association grounds Sunday afternoon resulted in considerable damage to two cars. Drivers Ella Patterson Craft and Weibert Darnell Jr., both of Big Spring, were apparently unharmed, officers said.

The collision occurred as the cars were being driven through a gate from opposite directions.

An accident at 3rd and Gregg Streets about 8:50 p.m. Sunday involved drivers Anthony E. Green, Webb, and Dennis D. Shiel of Odessa.

A car operated by Glennon A. Lavrenz of Webb collided with a parked truck at the Phillips 66 Drive In Cafe about 1:30 a.m. Sunday. Officers said Lavrenz's vehicle was badly damaged. The accident occurred as the airman turning off the highway into the parking area.

Kitten Is Sought For Rabies Tests

Jet Theatre Sign Damaged By Vandals

Vandals shattered the illuminated sign at the entrance to the Jet Drive-in Theatre last night, Juvenile Officer A. E. Long said today.

Rocks were thrown against the sign causing extensive damage. The juvenile officer said he expects to make some arrests in connection with the incident. Some distinct tire prints were left at the scene and some smooth stones were gathered in hopes they would disclose some fingerprints, he said.

Tests Of Luther Edger Indicate Water Cut Off From Pay Zone

Tests of Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1-B Phipps, west edger to the Luther Southeast Field, indicate that water has been cut off from the pay zone. Observers believe the project will make a good well, it having swabbed lead and 11 barrels of new oil in six hours before being acidized.

A total of 82 barrels of oil and no water flowed in 18 hours at Seaboard No. 1 Simpson, north edger to production in the Oceanic Field.

A wildcat location was spotted in Borden County by Panuco Oil Company. It is the firm's No. 1 W. T. Sims, located about 17 miles north of Gail. Magnolia staked its No. 1 J. T. Middleton in the South-east Welch (Spraberry) Field of Dawson County.

Borden
Seaboard No. 1 F. B. Simpson, 3,105 from south and 467 from east lines, 24-33-3n, T&P survey, is still being tested today after flowing 92 barrels of oil in 18 hours. Flow was through a 20-64th inch choke, and gas-oil ratio was 750-1. There was no water. Total depth of the project is 8,195 feet. It is a north edger to the Oceanic Field.

Panuco Oil Company No. 1 W. T. Sims, 650 from north and east lines, northwest quarter, 43-97-H&C survey, is a new wildcat location 17 miles northeast of Gail. It will be drilled by rotary to 8,000 feet.

Pan American No. 1-B Good, 774 from south and 860 from east lines, 23-33-3n, T&P survey, is reported at 3,394 feet in lime.

Phillips No. 1-B Clayton, C NW SE, 1-R Phlipps, T&P survey, is pumping, but as yet there are no gases.

Hanley No. 1 Beal, C SE SW, 24-31-3n, T&P survey, bared to 7,604 feet in black shale.

Republics Natural No. 1 McDowell, C SE NW, 24-25-H&C survey, hit 3,820 feet in lime.

Oceanic No. 1 McAdams, C NE NW, 26-33-3n, T&P survey, is drilling at 5,101 feet.

Dawson
Magnolia No. 1 J. T. Middleton, C NE NW, 2-4-D. L. Cunningham survey, is a new location in the Southeast Welch (Spraberry) Field. It will be drilled to 7,950 feet. Location is about 7 1/2 miles southeast of Lamesa.

Magnolia No. 1 Foster, C NW NW 22-36-4n, T&P survey, recovered 110 feet of slightly gas-cut mud on a drillstem test of the Pennsylvania from 10,158 to 10,230 feet. The test was for an hour. Flowing pressure was 182 pounds, and the 15-minute shut-in pressure was also 182 pounds. Total depth is now 10,266 feet in lime.

Howard
Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1-B E. N. Phipps reportedly swabbed 39 barrels of load and 11 barrels of new oil in six hours. Operator is now preparing to acidize with 500 gallons. The water has apparently been shut off, and tests are now from perforations between 9,915 and 9,925 feet. Location at 5,965 feet, on the central-west side of the Luther Southeast field, is C NE SE, 10-32-2n, T&P survey.

Lone Star No. 1 Bryson, C NW SW, 22-32-2n, T&P survey, swabbed dry after acid treatment in open hole between 9,905 and 9,915 feet. Operator used 1,500 gallons of acid. The 5/8-inch string is bottomed at 9,905 and the total depth is 9,913.

Lone Star No. 1 Walters, 2,310 from north and west lines, 34-34-1n, T&P survey, is preparing to drill out 5 1/2 inch casing set at 3,150 feet. Total depth is 3,200.

Southern Mineral No. 1 W. H. Homan, C SE NW, 45-33-3n, T&P survey, is trying to regain lost circulation at 5,665 feet.

115 Sign Up For Sessions

A total of 115 foodhandlers registered for the morning session of the State Department of Health foodhandlers' school today. Approximately 200 were expected to register this afternoon, said Lige Fox, city sanitarian.

A lecture was delivered this morning by C. B. Breddove, instructor from Austin, on foodhandling and bacteria. He also showed a movie and passed out literature on the subject.

Subject for discussion tomorrow will be "Preventing Food Contamination and Spoilage." The morning sessions are at 9 a.m., and the afternoon class starts at 2:30. The two classes allow cafe personnel working on either shift to attend.

Fox said the school was postponed until June this year so that students working during the summer could attend. Past schools have been held in May before students completed their school year. Any interested student not now attending the foodhandlers' course is urged to register.

Deadline for registration is tomorrow, Fox said. Those who successfully complete the course will be awarded a certificate in sanitary foodhandling.

High School Starts Summer Enrollment

Summer school registration, along with that of the band school, started Monday at Big Spring High School.

Roy Worley, principal, said that it was important that those intending to take summer school studies enroll by Tuesday morning. The classes will operate from 8 a.m. to 12 noon five days a week and for eight consecutive weeks. Therefore, little time can be lost.

There will be work offered in English, math and social studies, he said. Pupils may earn as much as two one-half credits though they obviously could not be in the same subject.

Pupils for the special summer band school and clinic are to enroll on Monday and will continue until 10 p.m. The same schedule will be followed through the week.

Day classes will be held Monday through Friday with some classes starting as early as 7 a.m. Evening classes will be from 7 p.m. to 8:50 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

HCJC To Continue Registering Pupils

Although classes got under way Tuesday, registration for the summer term at Howard County Junior College will continue through Saturday.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that enrollment for the nine-week term started Monday morning and would continue daily until 5 p.m. throughout the remainder of the week. Registration for evening classes will start at 8 p.m. Monday and will continue until 10 p.m. The same schedule will be followed through the week.

Day classes will be held Monday through Friday with some classes starting as early as 7 a.m. Evening classes will be from 7 p.m. to 8:50 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

southern fringes of the delta. These infiltrators have added to the Vietminh's estimated 100,000 regular, regional and guerrilla troops already inside the delta.

The rebels have stepped up their widespread attacks on defense posts throughout the delta and intensified sabotage of French communication systems. Union forces battled rebel units around several small French-held posts yesterday.

French and Vietnamese troops drove across the Day River to push Vietminh besiegers back from encircled Phi Lu, a key road and rice center 30 miles south of Hanoi. American-supplied French bombers also plastered rebel bases in the area.

The action relieved, at least temporarily, Vietminh pressure on Phi Ly, whose fortifications form an important bastion in the southern sector of the delta area.

Vietnamese Premier Buu Loc said in Saigon, meanwhile, proposals at Geneva for a cease-fire "cannot in any way threaten our national unity." The Premier returned yesterday from a month's absence in France, where he initiated two treaties which he said "recognize the total independence of Viet Nam and its free association with France."

Vietnamese political leaders have feared the Geneva conference might produce a partitioning of Viet Nam.

Steeds Open Series With Odessa Tonite

Back from a very successful road trip that saw them pick up three wins in four starts, the Big Spring Broncs launch a four-game home stand here this evening with the up-and-coming Odessa Oilers. Game time is 8:15 p.m.

The Oilers covet Big Spring's fifth place position in Longhorn League standings. Both teams are intent on dislodging some team in the first division, whether it be Midland or Carlsbad.

Both teams are long on power and shy of pitching. In their last series, the two clubs split a twin bill in Odessa.

The Broncs are apt to get a look at the Oilers' ace hurler, Wes Ortiz, tonight and surely will be faced by the cagey right-hander in the series. Ortiz has pitched up eight wins against only one loss.

Bronc Pasture Tender

Jim Sampson, newly acquired outfielder of the Big Spring Broncs, came to the local club via Albuquerque from San Francisco. He's a rookie and bats right-handed.

Cayuses Scramble San Angelo Again

SAN ANGELO, (SC) — Hard-hitting Big Spring rallied in the final two innings to again strap San Angelo, 14-10, here Sunday afternoon.

The victory gave the Cayuses three wins in four road starts and moved them within 4 1/2 games of fourth-place Midland. It was also their 20th success of the 1954 season.

Bertie Baez, the Big Springers' third pitcher, received credit for his sixth win of the campaign.

Five runs in the final two innings turned the trick for Baez and for Big Spring.

The game was a see-saw affair with the Broncs jumping to a six-run lead after two and a half innings. The first four runs came across in the second on six base hits and a Colt error. Bob Martin, Jim Zapp and Bob Doe got singles sandwiched around the miscue and a fielder's choice. Then Frank Maren, starting pitcher, Jim Sampson and Tony Martinez followed with three more one basers for the four runs.

Zapp's 400-foot home run with Bob Martin on base accounted for two more Bronc runs in the third. Quincy Barbee slammed out a three run homer after Jerry Fineman had singled and Dick Adams walked. This cut the Big Spring margin to 6-3 and the Colts whittled another run off it in the fourth on an error, a balk on Maren and Jerry Fineman's double.

San Angelo moved into an 8-6 lead with four runs in the fifth inning as 10 men went to the plate. A double by Morgan, singles by Fineman and Ed Peacock, a hit batsman and a Big Spring error accounted for the markers.

Floyd Martin's seventh home run following a walk to Sampson and Martinez's single put Big Spring back into a 9-8 lead in the sixth. San Angelo tied the score on Morgan's double and Russ Agne's single in the bottom of the sixth.

The Broncs took the lead to keep in the eighth on a walk, a double by Julio De La Torre and Bob Baez's triple, all good for two runs. Three more runs crossed the plate for Big Spring in the ninth on a double by Baez, singles by casions, he retired the side on strikes.

The Tigers got away to a good start, plating eight runs in the initial frame.

In all, the Bengals collected a dozen hits, Bernardo and Hernandez each had two hits for Big Spring.

Joe Cadenhead was on the hill for the Tigers in the second game while Gus Fierro hurried for the Indians.

Fierro kept the Tigers off balance with an assortment of pitches, striking out ten.

Cadenhead got nine of the Indians on strikes.

Tigers Defeat Grandfalls, Are Held To Tie By Tribe

Ynez Yanez's Big Spring Tigers kayoed the Grandfalls Eagles, 14-3, in Steer Park Sunday, then had to settle for a 2-2 tie with the Big Spring Indians in the second game of a double header.

Darkness forced the two teams to quit after seven innings in the afternoon.

Gil Silva pitched the Tigers to victory in the opener, which counted in Lone Star League standings. He set the Eagles down with two hits, both of which were garnered in one inning.

Silva, former member of the Big Spring professional team, fanned 18 players. On three different occasions, he retired the side on strikes.

The Tigers got away to a good start, plating eight runs in the initial frame.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The Big Spring High School baseballers should be able to hold their own against all other District 3-AAA teams next spring.

Outside of Carl Schlemeyer, the Odessa Bronchos had only an ordinary club this year and Carl will be gone.

Big Spring loses a fine battery in Frank Long and Jimmy Hollis but adequate replacements are coming up.

Incidentally, Spec Gammon of the Odessa paper says Schlemeyer will definitely play football at SMU.

Comments Spec: ".... They'd better make room in their history to place Schlemeyer's name along side Doak Walker, Kyle Rote and others . . .

"Don't be surprised if, in a couple of years, the SMU Mustangs revive their famed aerial circus with the Odessa led doing the chunking."

San Angelo thought it had itself a pitcher that could win in the Longhorn League until it discovered Lefty Jim Carson was a classman and not a limited-service player.

He had been offered to the Colts by Shreveport, where he failed to make the grade.

Carson had a 13-13 won-lost record for sixth place Odessa last year.

There are more than 750 municipally owned golf courses in the country and, of those, Texas has the most, 55.

Foy Fanning, the former Muni pro here who now holds a similar job in Abilene, raises parakeets on the side. They say he can't see his birdies for the birds.

Julio DeLaTorre, the Big Spring third sacker, is well ahead of his home run pace of a year ago, when he clubbed 18 for Midland.

If he maintains his present pace, he'll get around 30, which would exceed anything he's ever done in the past.

Joe Riney topped last year's Big Spring team in circuit clubs with 35.

Pepper Martin holds the all-time Big Spring record, with 30 to his credit. That was back in 1947.

In 92 games a year ago (the Broncs quit, after that), the team had only 69 four-masters. At this writing, they had 33 and, from all indications, were just beginning to open up with the long-range artillery.

The San Angelo club gave up on Charley Watts because it had too many third basemen.

Now, Watts is tearing the cover off the ball for Artelis and Hillis Lawry, who was playing the hot corner for the Colts, has gone on the inactive list due to a bad leg.

Patterson Moves Into Big Time Against Joey Maxim

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, 19-year-old unbeaten graduate of the Olympic ranks, moves into the big time tonight to box Joey Maxim, former light heavyweight champion of the world, in an eight-round match at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway.

The Brooklyn Negro will give away at least 10 pounds and years of experience to the cagey Maxim, who hasn't fought since he failed to win back his title from Archie Moore at Miami Jan. 27. Maxim, 32, is a 7-5 underdog.

Because Patterson is only 19, he is not allowed to fight more than eight rounds under New York law. Many think the short distance will be a handicap to Maxim, notably a slow starter.

Patterson has won 13 in a row.

Wright Second In Golf Meet

KERMIT (SC) — Bobby Wright of Big Spring lost out in the finals of the annual Winkler County Invitational Medal Play Golf Tournament here Sunday to Bob Hellinghausen of Monahans.

The playoff went two extra holes after the two had tied at 221 strokes in regular play.

Wright had tied the match on the 18th hole with a spectacular 52-foot putt for an eagle three.

The Big Springer gained six strokes on the last nine holes with an amazing run of golf.

The two were even on the first extra hole, then Hellinghausen won it with a par three on the 20th. Wright's tee shot strayed to the left and he had to settle for a bogie.

Wright had tied for medal honors Friday. He shot a 73, along with O. T. Adams of Midland.

Wright and Hellinghausen had finished 54 holes of golf with identical scores of 221.

Spudders Acquire Frank Salfren

SWEETWATER (SC) — The Sweetwater Spudders of the Longhorn League have strengthened their infield with the addition of Frank Salfren, a third sacker.

Salfren was acquired along with pitcher Ollie Ortiz in a straight cash deal with the Roswell Rockets.

In a separate transaction, pitcher Steve Nunes was traded by Sweetwater to Roswell for pitcher Gil Hernandez. Hernandez had a 4-2 record with Roswell.

Jim Lea, Southern California's NCAA quarter mile champion, falls to the track as he crosses the finish line a winner over J. W. # Minnie Minoso Again Big Gun As Sox Sweep Pair

By JOE REICHLER

Orestes (Minnie) Minoso, cited by Ted Williams as "potentially the greatest player in the American League," has thrust himself boldly into the running for the most coveted honor the junior circuit has to offer—the Most Valuable Player award.

No player—and that includes Williams, Al Rosen and Yogi Berra—has done more for his club than Minoso. As the season comes to the one-third mark, the 30-year-old outfielder leads the circuit in runs batted in, runs scored, and triples. He is tied for the lead in stolen bases and in the top five in hits.

As Joe Coleman, continuing his fine comeback, beat the Yankees 7-4, for his sixth victory but the Yankees won the second game, 5-2, as Allie Reynolds outpitched Don Larsen.

Boston's Red Sox went on a home run binge to defeat Detroit, 7-4. Homers by Ted Lepcio, Milt Bollinger, Harry Agganis and Jackie Jensen accounted for all Boston's runs.

Philadelphia's Phillies outslugged the St. Louis Cardinals, 11-8, to tie Milwaukee for third place in the National and advance to within a game of the runner-up New York Giants. The Phils got all their runs in the first and seventh innings.

Houston skunked Dallas, 6-0, as the Eagles tumbled into last place.

Shreveport stayed in a tie with Fort Worth for third place, just three games back of San Antonio, by whipping Tulsa, 4-1, on Bud Hestlet's 3-run homer in the eighth inning. Clyde King had held Shreveport to three hits and was leading 1-0, when Mel McGaha singled and scored the tying run on a sacrifice and Ed Mickelson's single. Then Hestlet drove the ball over the left field fence.

San Antonio and Oklahoma City are locked in a battle for first place but the club that's doing the most good right now in the Texas League is Houston.

The Biffs, a flat last most of the campaign, have won seven of their last nine games, risen from eighth to fifth and are breathing on the necks of the first division clubs.

But a fly in the ointment comes from the skid of the Dallas Eagles, the 1953 pennant winners and favorites to repeat. Dallas slumped into the cellar Sunday as the Eagles dropped their seventh game in the last 10. It's the lowest ebb in some time for Dallas.

Oklahoma City pulled within a game of front-running San Antonio when the Indians split a double-header with Beaumont while the Missions were taking a 13-inning 7-5 drubbing from the charging Fort Worth Cats.

Clint Weaver doubled in the twelfth to drive in two runs and give Fort Worth its victory over the league leaders.

Beaumont beat Oklahoma City, 9-8, in the first game, slamming six runs across in the fifth inning. Dave Hillman limited the Indians to seven hits. Oklahoma City came back to capture the nightcap, 5-2, as Vicente Amor also twirled a 7-hitter

Gore Calls On Administration To Decide Stand On Indochina

By JACK BELL
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said today it is time for the administration to make up its mind about what course it intends to follow in combating communism in Indochina and Southeast Asia.

Gore said he agrees with an assertion by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican Senate leader, that the free world has come to a "jumping-off place" and cannot afford to let the Reds continue talking at Geneva while they swallow territory in Indochina.

"I agree with Sen. Knowland's view, but Congress can't take the lead in this matter," Gore said in an interview. "Before Congress can act at all, the administration must make up its mind what it is going to do."

"We seemed to have assurances previously that the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of State Dulles had made the decision that we must fight, if necessary, to keep the Communists from overrunning Southeast Asia."

"But last week the President said he hadn't made up his mind about submitting to Congress any proposal for authorizing action in that area. Whom are we to follow: the state, or the President?"

Knowland said in a weekend interview he believes the next 30 days will see one of the decisive turning points in history, with the free world either deciding to act or, by failing to do so, letting Asia slide to the Communist.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said yesterday there appears to be little prospect of U. S. involvement in Indochina, "but I think it could come in a subsequent period. Speaking on an NBC radio-television show, Bridges said he favors use of the atomic bomb in Indochina instead of using American troops. "To save American lives I would use the atomic bomb anywhere," he said.

Appearing on the same program, Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said the Eisenhower administration has had a "hot and cold" policy and that as a result, "there isn't a man walking in the streets of America that knows what this administration is going to do about Indochina."

While Knowland suggested that the United States might have to bypass Britain and France and seek what allies it could find in the Pacific, Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said in a speech at Louisville, Ky., yesterday that whatever this country does "we must keep our allies with us."

Wiley, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he believes the time has come "when the free nations of the world must take the initiative in bringing the Indochinese situation before the United Nations for appropriate action."

"Allen W. Dulles, director of the agency, is understood to have received assurances to this effect after the senator charged last week that the CIA presented an even more serious situation of Communist infiltration than did Fort Monmouth, N.J."

The Times story continued: Dulles, a brother of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, went to see President Eisenhower and pointed out to him the harm that could result from an indiscriminate airing of affairs in the CIA.

The position of Dulles, the CIA director, is that its global operations can thrive only if it is discreet and secretive. He believed it could be virtually wrecked if it is embroiled in public hearings.

Ike Is Determined To Prevent Probe Of Secret Agency

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today President Eisenhower is determined to use his executive powers to the limit, according to informed sources, to prevent an investigation of the Central Intelligence Agency by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

A Washington dispatch to the Times by Anthony Leviero reported: "Allen W. Dulles, director of the agency, is understood to have received assurances to this effect after the senator charged last week that the CIA presented an even more serious situation of Communist infiltration than did Fort Monmouth, N.J."

Crowd Attends Borden Reunion

GAIL (SC) — Almost 1,000 Borden County pioneers and members of their families gathered here Sunday to observe their second annual Homecoming.

This event, at which a barbecue dinner was served, was sponsored jointly by the Borden County Sheriff's Office of which Sheriff Sid Reeder is president, and the Posse of which Sheriff Sid Reeder is president, and the Posse's auxiliary, with Mrs. Frank Miller, president.

Joe Evans, El Paso cowboy preacher, humorist, author, and philosopher was guest speaker. Also on the afternoon program in the auditorium of the Gail High School was David Dorward, a 60-year resident of the county, and for the past 50 years the county's druggist.

The first of these homecomings, held last year, honored Mr. and Mrs. Dorward. She was one of the county's first school teachers and her first school was a half dugout in a ranch pasture. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dorward have been active church workers during their entire residence in the county. One of their sons, Russell Dorward, accompanied by his wife, came here from Mexico, where he is a rancher, to attend the event. Others traveling a long distance for the event were Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Mitchell of South Dakota.

Boom In LP Caused By Storage

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A survey of producers and marketers of liquefied petroleum gas shows they are utilizing underground caverns to the extent that a storage boom has been created.

The Oil and Gas Journal reported today that there are more than 100 of these inexpensive below-surface caves in the United States. They have a total capacity of more than nine million barrels.

Sixty-five more projects are being planned or are being constructed, the Journal disclosed, which bring total capacity to 14 million barrels.

About 88 per cent of LP gas is produced in Texas, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and New Mexico, the same areas where most of the caverns are being located.

The need for such a large amount of storage, the Journal points out, is caused by the seasonal demand for gas. In the summer, when consumption dips and production continues, a surplus develops. This reserve is then put underground for winter use.

Salt domes are the usual locations for the caverns. They are washed out with water through a well bore and the dissolved salt is pumped out, creating room for the gas. To remove the gas, water is forced into the hole and the LP is forced up the well into tanks or pipelines.

Palomera Under Escort To Texas

CHICAGO (AP) — Texas officers were en route home today with Marion B. Palomera, 37, charged with murder in the burning death of his business partner in Texas.

Palomera, Yoakum, Tex., was taken home by Sheriff Jack Gary, San Marcos, and Texas Ranger C. E. Miller, Austin. They expected to reach San Marcos Wednesday night.
