Dulles Declares Sooner Parley Held The Better

WASHINGTON UM -Secretary State Dulles said today there could well be a five-power conference to settle the future of Trieste before the United States and Britain withdrew their occupation

The sooner such a conference is held the better it will be for Western defenses against communism in South Europe, Dulles teld a news conference.

The secretary said it would take considerable time for the 7,000 American and British troops to be pulled out of Zone A. American and British diplomats are discussing in London, he added, technical problems involved in the withdrawal.

The United States and Britain announced Oct. 8 that they would turn over their zone of Trieste, known as Zone A, to Italy once they have withdrawn their troops. Yugoslavia, which lays claim to Trieste, threatened to march in its troops if Italian forces moved in.

The proposed five-power conference would include the United

SW Intersectional Record Undergoes Major Change

11 Of 18 Tilts Won By Clubs

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, (M-Last year about this time the Southwest Conference was in the doldrums. It had its worst intersectional football record

But that's all changed now. The conference can swagger a littleit has an excellent intersectional of 11 victories against only seven losses and either is ahead of or tied with the other sections It leads the Pacific Coast 1-0. the East 2-1, the South 5-3 and is tied with the Midwest-Missouri Val-

Yet the Southwest has only one team in the nation's top 10, which is an old, old story. Competition is so fierce inside the conference that it's a virtual impossibility for any team to go through a season undefeated. That hurts the nation al record.

Rice and Texas A&M have won all their intersectional games. Southern Methodist has won two out of three, the loss being by two oints to Georgia Tech, still member of the top 10. Southern Methodist rates 11th. Rice lost only to Southern Methodist by five points and is 12th. A&M, which lost only to Baylor by a single point, isn't even in the top 20.

Baylor has managed to stay updefeated despite fierce Southwest Conference competition and this coupled with its three intersectional victories got it into third place in the nation. But that's this week, Saturday the Bears could lose to Texas Christian, a team that earried Michigan State to the final gun (Michigan State rates sixth). Then where would Baylor be?
If you don't think Southwest Conference strife is tough look over the results of the seven games that have been played. One was decided by one point, two by five, two by seven, one by nine and one

The reason: Few of the Southwest Conference schools ever go outside their state for athletes. Texas produces more high school players than any other state and there's no need of going Steer Stadium beginning at 8 p.m. gets about the same type athlete.

The conference has five intersectional games left to play, the first coming Saturday night when Rice meets Kentucky at Houston. Remaining then will be TCU vs Washington State Nov. 7, Arkansas vs LSU Nov. 21, Arkansas vs Tulsa Nov. 28, SMU vs Notre Dame Dec. The conference appears bound to finish ahead in intersectional play for the season. It will have to win only one of those games to nificant development in the mud-splattered game. In fact, it ranks among the all-time thrills supplied by local teams

The tension was overpowering. Vernon had been on the march most of two periods. The Lions had surged to the Big Spring four and gave every indication they were going to tie the score, after which an extra point would have sent them ahead.

Then something happened. The Lions moved three yards in two plays, bruising into the center of the line, then could go no further. They tried again without success and, on fourth down, attempted to circle right end where the Vernon ball carrier (Jerry Pearson) was fielded beautifully by first Brick Johnson and then Wayne Medlin. Why didn't Vernon pass? No one knows. Local coaches feared Oklahoma meets a strong Kansas the Llons would take to the air and breathed a sigh of relief when they State eleven and UCLA tests Cali-

What ever the reason, the failure of the drive took the starch out of the Vernon attack. The Lions were never the same ball club after that. They found they couldn't move anywhere on the field and Big Spring actually was on the verge of gefting another score when the end came The Steers seconed to have caught their second wind in the stand the Lions to have expended theirs. The weight advantage the Steers had, which always becomes more pronounced on a muddy field, began to tell on the Lions at that point. After a slow start, J. C. Armistead has emerged as one of the top scorers in the conference. He's banked 36 points now, all of them in the last three games.

It runs his two-year scoring total to a robust 120 points. He picked up 84 in 1952, half of his touchdown runs coming on sprints of him, as was the case Friday night, he keeps moving for precious yard-age. When the locals need a yard or two or three, he's usually the boy they call on to get it, and he rarely fails.

As for the Steer blocking, it is so much improved this year over last, there's no comparison. Good blockers are made, not born, and it takes hard work. The precision blocking has meant the difference between a winning

But to those who believe that the only sound base for ultimate understanding is upon agreements forged gradually and painstakingly through contact and contending, the forum is important.

If, therefore, there is anything to the concept of many thinkers that the fundamental conflict today is one of ideas, then the U. ### McCarthy Attracting Followers, Benson Should Get Some Also

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

It occurs to me that the case of a group of distinguished and patriotic Texans pre-senting a new Cadillac to Senator Joseph R. McCarthy is the first such, that I can recall, wherein the citizens of one state have paid such a substantial tribute to a senator from another state.

In fact, I very much doubt, if ever before citizens of Texas have ever openly and above board done as much for one of their own members of America's Finest Club for Gentlemen

To my way of thinking this is a good thing, because I think Senator McCarthy is a good man and well worthy of the support of the American people in his great crusade against communism in high places in this government. One thing that, indeed, commends him to me most highly is the hatred for him shown by Nancy Astor and Eleanor Roosevelt. It has been observation that whatever they are against will be found, by time, to be

In the coined phrase of "McCarthyism" both the Communists and thousands of otherwise stalwart and patriotic, but misled, American citizens have found a common meeting place. The smartest thing the Communists in this country ever did, for the purpose of advancing their own cause, was to coin that word and then manipulate around until they got it on the tongue of so many good and loyal

In his time Moman Prewitt of Oklahoma City was one of the greatest crim-inal lawyers the Southwest has ever known. He defended hundreds of murder cases and never had a client executed. remember hearing him say that if a laywer has a client with a poor defense, that lawyer should never allow the jury to try his client, but to try the prosecuting attorney or one of the witnesses, or even the judge, instead.

That has been the tactical course pursued by the Communists in this country. They have managed, in American minds, to divert attention from themselves by putting Senator McCarthy on trial before the bar of American public opinion.

But Joe McCarthy is an ex-Marine, some-thing the Communists and personal and partisan political foes, almost overlooked. Joe McCarthy is a fighter-not a bushwhacker but one who fights in the open. The trick of the criminal lawyer isn't working, and more and more Americans are holding caucus with their consciences and are being convinced that they've been wrong about him, and they're coming around the mountain, hundreds of thousands strong, in the unyielding conviction that if it hadn't been for Joe McCarthy's courage and perseverance and capabilities this country might have been, right now, in a much worse fix than it actually is in, which is bad enough at the best. If isn't hard to understand why Harry Tru-man doesn't like Joe McCarthy, Nor is M hard to understand why Edgar Hoover, db rector of the FBI, not so long ago spoke in praise of McCarthy and McCarthy's search for Communists in high places. Pubting the two of them side by side I'd take J. Edgar Hoover's judgment over Harry Truman's any day.

And right now it is much the same with Secretary of Agriculture Benson. There are farmers who are against him, but in the final analysis they're farmers who either do not understand him, or who will not be satisfied with a fair opportunity to belp themselves, wanting more than that.

There are politicians who are swinging hatchets for Benson's scalp. Some of them have even stooped so low as to attack him on religious grounds, even though this country had never had a Secretary of Agriculture who has stood more sturdily for the principles and fundamentals of American democracy. There are the politicians who attack him, who seek to make him most unpopular just simply as a means of perpetuating themselves in office. They don't want to be pulled off the public teat because of the glory (and cash) they find there. They're selfish to the extreme that they would sacrifice almost anything to keep themselves in public office, and away from honest labor in a competitive world.

This nation came into being because the founding generations joined hands to build. It is in the state it is in today because countless thousands have joined hands to tear down. Joe McCarthy jumps on the Communists, and thousands of otherwise good Americans then jump on Joe Mo-Carthy.

Secretary Benson tries to help the American farmers reach that point at which they can help themselves, and then the politicians and their followers jump on Benson, because they know that when the farmer gets to where he can belp himself the politicians can no longer keep him and his vote under their domination and he will kick their stripe away from the public teat where they've found such security, gaudy comfort and so many cocktail parties with cozy nooks and paid great deal of trouble is certainly in store for the Republican administration from the already restive Republican party in Congress, If the Congressional Republicans conclude that it does them no good to be against Eisenhower. And as has been clear even while Eisenhower's pres tige has been unchallengeable, being against a President-any President-is a deeply ingrained Republican habit, non-transferrable asset."

The idea that Eisenhower's popularity is 'non-transferrable" was born, of course in Wisconsin, where the defeated Republican candidate ran on a "support Eisenhowever platform. With the Connecticut elections, t he idea has taken somewhat deeper root. The Republican slogan in Connecticut was "support Eisenhower and Lodge"-and in many towns the Republicans took a bad shellacking. West Haven, for example, went Democratic for the first time since 1933.

A Democratic victory in New Jersey or California or both, therefore, could send the Republicans into a panicky tailspin, and deeply undermine the President's authority. There are, moreover, remarkable similarities between the special election in Wisconsin and the forthcoming New Jersey election to fill the vacated seat of Rep. Clifford Case.

Like the late Mervyn Hull in Wisconsin, Case is an extremely popular Repubgubernatorial nomination.

As in Wisconsin, the Democratic candiunderground) that "Ike's popularity is a Republican. Democrat Harrison A. Williams is telling an and sundry that he If this notion becomes fixed dogma, a is "running on Cliff Case's record," while the organization Republican candidate George Hetfield, is telling the voters to "support Eisenhower."

Finally, as in Wisconsin, the Democrats have a ready-made issue. In Wisconsin. this is the unpopular farm policy of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, In New Jersey, it is the relationship between the Republican gubernatorial nominee. Paul Troast, and the convicted labor racketeer, Here, to be sure, the similarity ends. The Wisconsin district has a long Progressive tradition, and has often gone Democratic in Presidential elections. The New Jersey district has been solidly Republican, with only one slip, since the memory of man. In 1952 for example, the district went Republican by a lopsided vote of almost two to one.

Publicly, therefore, the Democrats are heavily discounting their chances, They are preparing to claim a psychological victory if the race !f close. But privately, they think Williams has an outside chance. Apparently the Republicans think so too. A Citizens for Eisenhower committee is being revived locally to help Hetfield, and a Republican National Committee troubleshooter, Bernard Lamb, has arrived on the scene for the same purpose.

Within a few days after his arrival, he was employed as a draftsman by a small electrical company in Yonkers, His first salary amounted to $2 a day.

Less than three years later, the General Electric Company was formed. This was a union of two good-sized electrical com-panies, and it absorbed many small companies, including the one for which Steinmetz worked. An officer of the new corporation left a record of his first meeting with Steinmetz, which I wish to give in shortened form:

"I was startled by the strange sight of a small, frail boy with a large head, long hair . . . an old cardigan jacket . . . seated cross-legged on a work table.

"The moment he began to speak, I felt the power of his piercing but kindly eyes ... here was a great man, who spoke with the authority of accurate knowledge . . .

The city of Schenectady became the new home of Charles Proteus Steinmetz, His middle name, by the way, was a nickname of college days, which he later adopted legally.

If Steinmetz had so desired, he could have asked for-and received-a huge salary. As it was, he was content with a moderate income. He wanted enough for food, clothing and shelter and-very important-for a workshop or laboratory adjacent to his home.

Engineers, scientists and inventors came visit the small, hunch-backed man with the big brain. Thomas Edison was his friend, and a visitor from abroad was the famous scientist, Albert Einstein.

They follow the strictly Stalinist technique that confession of error must always be public and even untruthful to satisfy those who are to do the forgiving, which they never do. Some

Many persons who were once associated with Communist causes and espionage groups actually did not understand what they were doing because they did not understand the nature and strategy of this conspiracy, just as their critics do not. liowever, a prolonged discussion with them of their experiences provides invaluable leads to the hard core. How complex this problem is was evidenced by the effort of a most distinguished law firm in New York to have Robert Morris disqualified as a candidate for judicial office because of his exemplary work in uncovering the conspiracy within the Institute of Pacific Relations. These are great lawyers, generally so regarded, but they are babes in arms in their understanding of how they and other like them are used as covers in this vast conspiracy. In any event, defense will continue tember quarter this year will not to cost a lot, he indicated, and when it will decline is still a guess. Later in the week, after a talk to the Department of Commerce Business Advisory Council at a meeting in Pebble Beach, Calif., phrey told reporters there will be another deficit in 1955, unless "we can very substantially reduce our military expenditures. Earlier, President Elsenhower told his news conference he could not say the budget would be balanced next year. In a speech at Detroit, Budget Director Josep M. Dodge said it would be at least as hard to produce a balanced budget next year as it was this year, when the administration accepted $3,800,000,000 deficit.

W. Randolph Burgess, deputy to for debt management and fiscal affairs, told a Washingmeeting of business writers last week he could not predict a balanced budget next year. That, be said, depends on "what is done in the Pentagon, and on the broad world situation."

The administration source who said there was still hope for a Director Dodge, but not at the cash balance next year also said Pentagon. there was little hope for a balanced conventional budget.

That means the government hopes to spend no more than it takes in from all sources, including in the corporation income tax rate he other government public trusts. Trust receipts belong to the trust, not to the government, and so are not counted in the conventional budget as income balancing outgo. mated at $3,800,000,000 but the cash deficit at only a half-billion.

Since Social Security rates are to be raised one-third next year. the government may have more unexpeded trust fund receipts than this year to help it toward a cash balance. Perhaps it will have 414 to 5 billions, compared with about ; 31/2 this year.

However, this is not certain. Any significant increase in unemploy-ment, now at rock bottom, could raise trust fund expenditures, cutting down the amount left for the government to spend. That suggests a look at the three hopes for a balanced cash budget next year:

1. That spending cuts, chiefly in defense, of 4 to 5 billion dollars would make up for the 41/2 billion dollars estimated revenue loss from eliminating the excess profits tax and cutting the personal intax rate 10 per cent on Jan. 1. The best Secretary of Defense Wilson has yet publicly suggested is a cut of two billions in defense spending next year. An experi-enced observer at the Pentagon said any idea that defense spending can be cut five billions "may seem reasonable to the minds of Secretary Humphrey and Budget

2. That Congress may pass tax laws by next April that would prevent any loss from present rates. Excise tax revisions, and a drop from 52 to 47 per cent are on the books for April, at an estimated revenue loss to the government of $2,300,000,000.

It has been suggested the corpo ation rate cutback might be held to 50 per cent, that excise rate cutbacks might be moderated, and that other excises might be im-In one way or another, if there is to be no revenue loss next spring, Congress-in an election year-must pass laws to retain or add an estimated $2,300,000,000 bits on the taxpayer's purse. 3. That there will be no big business downturn, a hope which now looks like a lot better bet than the first two. There has been a very small dip in business activity, but the econ-omy is rising so high and unemployment is so low that business and government economists mostly agree that any general dip will e shallow. Even a fairly small economic decline, if general, could cost the government a lot, William B. Biggs, vice president of the Bank of New York, recently said in & published analysis of budget propects that a slowdown like that in 1949—when industrial production fell off 8 per cent-could create a 17 billion dollar deficit next year, if scheduled tax cuts take place Additionally, hard-to-contro items like the cost of farm price supports could knock all budget estimates in the head.
