W. A. Robertson's Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Robertson of the Flatwood Community had their children as guests to celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday, January 12, 1964. They were married at Carbon in 1904.

The family enjoyed a bountiful noon meal served from a table centered with a traditional tiered wedding cake.

The children and their families present were T. E. Robertson, Breckenridge; Gladys Herrin, Merkel; Oleta Leamon, Merkel; O. O. Robertson and B. W. Robertson of Eastland. Verlie Dover of Stephenville was unable to attend but was represented by her daughters, Glenna Geer and Doris Brown of Abilene with their families. Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Horn called during the afternoon.

Mrs. Stubblefield Services Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Maude Stubblefield were held Tuesday at 2:00 p.m. in the Carbon Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. J. B. Cole, officiating. Mrs. Stubblefield died about 10 p.m. Saturday shortly after being taken to a hospital in Marshall following a stroke.

She had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Glen S. Schreiner, and family since the death of her husband, Claude G. Stubblefield in March of 1961. Rev. Mr. Schreiner is pastor of the Methodist Church at Marshall.

The body arrived by train in Eastland at 12:38 p.m. Monday where Hamner Funeral Home had charge of arrangements. Interment was in Murray Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Stubblefield resided near Carbon for many years where he was engaged in farming and ranching until his retirement shortly before his death.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Schreiner and two grandsons, Brad and Scott Schreiner; five sisters, Mrs. Inez Williams of Houston, Mrs. D. M. Loving of Stephenville, Miss Clara Hutchins of San Angelo, Mrs. Jude Allen and Mrs. ow Moragne of Austin; two brothers, Miles Hutchins of Breckenridge and Daudie Hutchins of Austin and a host of other relatives and friends.

Poll Tax Sales Lag Pitifully; Deadline Nears

"Poll taxes are a voter's best friend" — and in Eastland County the tax receipts don't seem to have many friends.

With the Jan. 31st deadline just days away, the sale of poll tax receipts is lagging, according to the County Tax Collector's office.

The 1963 tax receipt is an absolute must for voting, and there's a lot of voting to be done in '64.

The Courthouse tax office reported early in the week that only 1,280 receipts had been issued plus 154 exemptions, so there are still a lot of unqualified voters so far.

The Courthouse office sold 251 receipts in October; 90 in November; 305 in December; and 475 the first 12 days of January.

Last year, 3,467 were sold by the office in January, it is reported.

In 1962, the county reported 4,254 tax receipts; and 5,034 in 1960.

Voters will need tax receipts for the school and city elections in April, the primaries in May and the general elections in November, and any other special elections which might be called during the year.

The price is the same — $1.75, which assures you a ballot.

CWF Of Christian Church To Have Bake Sale Friday

The Christian Womens Fellowship of the First Christian Church will sponsor a bake sale Friday, January 24, at 9 a.m. in the Church annex.

The ladies invite the public to have coffee, pie or cake on their coffee breaks Friday morning. Cakes and pies will be sold by the piece or whole, according to the ladies.

There will be work in the Entered Apprentice degree Friday night Jan. 24th, at Eastland Lodge No. 467, A.F.&A.M. Lodge will be opened at 7:30 p.m. All Masons are invited to attend.

REJECTIONS HIGH

4 Men Inducted In January; 8 Are Due To Go In February

Eight young men have been ordered for induction into the Army in February, and four were inducted in January, the Selective Service Board office in Eastland reported this week.

Ordered for February induction are Ralph W. Clary, Richard L. Rogers, Joe D. Walton and Frank W. Weiss, all of Cisco; Kenneth R. Welch and Wallace R. Preston, both of Gorman; Jackie R. Nelson of Okra; and Clarence H. Williams of Breckenridge.

Selected for January induction were Jerry F. Flemmings of Rising Star, Jerry A. Clower of Eastland, William M. Patton of Ranger and Roger G. Broyles of Cisco.

A total of 75 percent of the number sent for pre-induction physicals in January were rejected for physical, mental or moral reasons, the board reported.

The average county rejection percentage if 50 per cent, and last October, there was 100 per cent rejection, it is reported.

In line with the new national policy, the local board will begin classifying 18-year-olds in February.

The state draft quota for February calls for 517 men, compared to 812 for January.

J. L. Brashears, Pioneer Resident, Dies At 91

James Luel Brashears, 91, retired stock farmer and one of Eastland County's earliest residents, died at 7 a.m. Monday in Eastland Memorial Hospital.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Hasston Brewer officiating. Burial was in the Eastland Cemetery with Hamner Funeral Home in charge.

Born May 25, 1876 in a log cabin on the bank of the Leon River, near what is now known as the Staff community, he had lived in Eastland for all his life except for two years.

Mr. Brashears recalled several occasions as a child when he saw Indian parties riding out on raids for horses and food. However, his family never experienced an Indian raid.

He married Miss Prudie Cooper in Ranger on November 15, 1896. The couple celebrated their 67th wedding anniversary last November.

A year earlier, the couple had been feted at a large anniversary party marking 66 years of married life.

Survivors include his wife; one son, B. M. of Sanford; five daughters, Mrs. Gussie Dawson of Tulia, Mrs. Valentine Niver of Pampa, Mrs. Beatrice Lewey of Kermit, Mrs. Mattie Barrow of Fort Myers, Fla., and Mrs. Goldie Alfred of Dallas; six sisters, Mrs. Ella Westbrook of Snyder, his twin sister, Mrs. Mollie Monroe of Pauls Valley, Okla., Mrs. Tine Baggett of Cleburne, Mrs. Ola Riley of Weatherford, Mrs. Stella Wilkie of Pampa and Mrs. Delcie Watt of Kansas.

There is a tradition in the Shenandoah Valley that only young courting couples can stir the boiling apple butter.

Charter Study Reported; Other Business Handled

The Eastland City Commission passed on first reading an increase in local telephone service during a long session Monday evening that included talk of selling land, live-stock auction water rates, revising the city charter and routing Interstate 20 through Eastland. Notable absent was discussion of the recent "smoking ordinance."

Next reading on the telephone rate hike will be Feb. 17th, and the increase will go into effect jointly when proposed Ranger and Cisco increase are approved.

Phone users in Eastland will, under the new rate, pay $10.50 per month for business phones, up from $9 (no increase in extension costs); $5.50 for private residence service, up from $5; and $4.25 for party-line residence service. (Only two-party lines are serviced in Eastland.)

The increase will afford Southwestern Bell Telephone a return of 4.16 per cent return on their investment, Mr. R. J. Looper, Dallas company executive, said. He and District Manager Bill Booth of Cisco appeared before the commission and sought the increase.

Virgil Seaberry disqualified himself from voting; Dale Trout asked that some action be taken; and Dr. M. A. Treadwell said that judging from recent telephone company incidents in Houston, "We don't really have a choice, do we?" Dr. Treadwell added that he feels service in Eastland is excellent.

Long distant rates are not affected, Booth said.

The commission refused a request to give free water to the Livestock Association-Sheriff Posse show facilities north west of town, but did vote a $50 donation to the organization. Pete T. Kendall, Johnny Aaron and Clint McCain appeared, asking for city help on the water costs at the show grounds. Commissioners agreed that they want to continue to meter and charge for water to keep up with what is being used, but granted the donation in view of the service performed for young people by the groups.

Bulldogs Notch 47-45 Triumph Over Eastland

Ranger High's 1964 cage crew topped the Eastland High Mavericks, 47-45, in a school-boy rounball thriller unreeled on the Ranger hardwoods Tuesday night.

It was the Bulldogs' third District 10-A triumph against a lone loss.

The tilt was a nip-and-tuck-er from the opening tip-off to the end. The RHSers were ahead by a thin four points at the half, 24-20. They managed to stay ahead of the invaders until the final quarter when the Mavs led by a 6-point bulge.

Again it was Johnny McGee who paced the point-makers, accounting for 27. Arthur Mendoza was second high man for the Ranger quintet with 14.

Eastland's top scorer was Mike Miller who tallied 15 points, and Terry Treadwell and Jim Moylon were close behind with 13 each.

Eastland won the girls' contest, 52-33. Sue Graham's 20 points led the winners and Carolyn Key meshed 18 for Ranger.

Ranger took the "B" tilt in another thriller, 23-21.

Efficient Phone Operator Serves 'Above and Beyond'

By H. V. O'BRIEN

People are people, and not just numbers. And a local telephone operator proved it Sunday afternoon, when she played an important part in perhaps saving a life.

At 3 p.m. Operator Mary Stroebel answered a call on the Cisco switchboard. The Eastland caller had dialed "0" and then in a weak voice said, "This is 1316. Will you please call 2277 and tell her I'm sick and need help." The caller then hung up.

Miss Stroebel rang MA 9-2277 in Eastland and Mrs. Z. Bourland answered. She was given the message, and told by the operator that if she didn't know whose number had called, that she would help her find it.

Mrs. Bourland knew. It was the number of Mrs. Pearl Bourland of 203 S. Walnut St., who is known affectionally by many in this area, as "Aunt Pearl."

Mrs. Bourland, who lives at 115 Garvin St., rushed to the Walnut St. address to find her aunt seriously ill following a heart attack.

Aunt Pearl was taken to Eastland Memorial Hospital, where her condition was listed as satisfactory at mid-week.

The operator who took that cryptic message and followed through to see that the message got to the right person, has five years service with the company. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stroebel of Cisco.

The analysis, that was made of the 15 congregations, revealed a "personal schedule" was the general weakness. It was shown by talks, demonstrations and illustrations that a personal schedule will make room for regular ministerial activity and meeting attendance, said Eugene Sipe, presiding minister of the Eastland Congregation.

'Begin Here' Dallas Paper Says Of Eastland Ordinance

(ED. NOTE: Continuing a report on what others have said and or saying about Eastland's "no-smoking" ordinance, this editorial from the Dallas Times Herald is offered. It's titled "A Good Place to Start.")

News that the first town to ban cigarette smoking was in West Texas surprised few Texans — and news that it was Eastland surprised no West Texan at all.

In West Texas the natives have learned to shoot fast. And first, West Texas is a land where you live with opposition all your life. The summers are 100-degrees hot; West Texas winter winds have sent Eskimos shivering back to Nome. The sandstorms awe even the old settlers, and it always needs to rain.

In that kind of surrounding a man has trouble enough staying alive without adding cigarettes to the menace.

The moral certainties of West Texas are of times as hard to survive as its natural uncertainties. The predominant religious outlook matches the land, hardshell. It is the natural habitat of the hell-fire preacher, and prohibition is a majority persuasion — as bewildered drinkers discover, hop-scooting between scattered enclaves of legal liquor dispensation. Now Eastland has added the fateful cigarette to the demon rum in an attempt to curb hurtful appetites of the flesh.

Actually, we're only kidding about West Texas and all its tribulations. It's the greatest place in the world to spend certain days in the spring, summer nights, the football season and a lifetime as an individual. As a county, it may make a man fight harder to survive, but it lets him survive in style.

And Eastland, which grew up on the hard civic fare of being an oil boom town, is doing nothing but showing the rest of the world that there are still some places where people can try any dang thing they're big enough to tackle.

If the battle to save men's lungs must begin, we say let it begin here.

Library Notes

MRS. A. E. CUSHMAN, Librarian

554 different people read books from the Eastland Public Library during 1963. 410 of them were young people and 144, adults.

They read all kinds of books but the most popular among adults were historical novels and mysteries.

The teen-agers read mostly classics from the high school reading lists and the juniors had many, many choices.

These 554 patrons read 5,713 books last year; the young people reading 3,226 and adults 2,487 books. Mrs. Helen Shaw read 304 books during the year which averages better than 25 books per month.

The Library bought 164 new books, 348 were donated, and 9 were given as memorials, making 512 added to the library during the year.

The Library Committee of the Thursday Afternoon Club announces these new books:

"Faith is a Star" — Gammon

"Rags of Glory" — Cloete

"The Daughter of the Pagan" — Divine

"Thomasina" — Gallico

Ray Nash was chosen Library Patron of the month of December for having read the most of any young person.

Mrs. White Is Speaker at DKG Chapter Meet

Beta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held its regular monthly meeting at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 11, at the Federated Women's Club in Cisco.

Program topic for the meeting was "Changing Political Patterns in America." Mrs. Ella Andres White, in her discussion, used some quotes from Seymour Lipset's book "The First New Nation." In this study of U.S. development, the author has established by factual evidence that the United States has achieved a more stable, democratic government than either France or Germany. Representation by geographical area has aided in the development of a strong two-party system in national and state politics. The author include among a number of issues that should challenge all Americans, and a note of warning that unless "we achieve equality for all, the American experiment may very well fail."

Another source of information used was a review by Will Durant — "Too Much Freedom Hurts Americans?" One inclusive question stressed was, "Did we forget to make ourselves intelligent when we made ourselves free?"

For the business session the president, Isadore Grimes, presided. Plans for the annual February birthday luncheon to be held in the Victor Hotel dining room were made.

The hostess group for the meeting were Mrs. Beulah Smith, Mrs. Ruth Poe Herring, and Miss Nettie Thornton. Other members attending were Mmes. Miriam Bledsoe, Veda DeBusk, Rose Defebach, Vivian Grantham, Minnie Hill, Alice McCanlies, Bertha Mehaffey, Dee Peters, Ruby Lee Pirtle, Murl Reed, Olive Schaefer, Lois Whitaker, Misses Verna Johnson, Anna McEver, Louise Snoddy, and Alda Nordyke.

County's Arid Rangeland Needed Snow's Moisture

By Soil Conservation Service

Rangeland conditions in Eastland County are not the best, for this time of year. The rainfall pattern of 1963, a dry summer, shortened the forage reserve going into the winter. Brush-infested pastures also contributed to low forage production. Approximately two-thirds of the rangeland in Eastland County is considered to have a medium to high priority brush problem. Mesquite, oak, juniper, and mixed low brush and cactus are steadily spreading over the Rangeland.

To make the problem more understandable, brush takes from 120 to 240 gallons of water to produce one pound of dry forage. Grass requires from 80 to 90 gallons of water to produce one pound of dry forage. Expressed another way, an inch of rain over an area of grass will produce 340 pounds of dry forage. An inch of rain over an acre of brush will produce 160 pounds of dry forage. This shows the importance of water conservation and utilization on the rangeland.

Brush eradication is almost impossible, but it is possible to control brush. The density of the brush determines the intensity of treatment. Tree dozing, rootplowing, and basal treatment with herbicides are the primary controls practiced on mesquite. Chopping, dozing, and chaining, along with sprout control by goat-ing, are the primary controls practiced on oak.

In most cases, where brush is a problem, a seed source of the better grasses is needed. Seeding of native and introduced grasses is done following brush control.

Management, deferment of treated pastures, will determine the success of the treatment, as well as, frequency of control measures. There is some forage reserve on treated pastures currently; however, stock are grazing only current growth on winter grasses in brushy pastures, with little or no reserve feed.

The control of brush is an expensive operation; however, a brushy range becomes a liability rather than an asset. Future generations will benefit from the efforts toward conservation of the grazing resources now. The American people are providing, through the United States Department of Agriculture, share the cost programs for farmers and ranchers, which enable them to carry out these needed treatments. In many cases with out such costs share assistance, the job could not be done.

Persons interested in further information concerning brush control or reseeding should contact E. E. McAllister, Work Unit Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service; Emmett Powell, County Office Manager, Agricultural Stabilization Service; J. M. Cooper, Eastland County Agent; or Clint McCain, District Supervisor of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District.

Jan. 13 Meeting

The Eastland County Home Demonstration Council met in the conference room of Texas Electric Service Company on Monday, Jan. 1.

In a candle lighting ceremony, Mrs. Beverly Nicholson, county home demonstration agent, installed new council officers for 1964. Mrs. Dora Schaefer, chairman, presided during the meeting with Mrs. L. B. Mayhew, vice-chairman, leading the opening exercises.

Reports from seven of the eight clubs in the county were read. Mrs. Clint McCain, treasurer, reported that the council had secured the concession stand for the Eastland County Livestock Show to be held March 13 and 14.

A list of the 1964 council standing committee recommendations was given to each club president to be presented to the eight clubs in the county at their next meetings.

Recreation was given by Mrs. Nicholson in the form of a contest on parliamentary procedure. Twelve members of the council and five visitors attended the meeting.

The council will meet on Monday, Feb. 10 at 2 p. m. at the Texas Electric Service Company.

NO SMOKES — This is the way Times-Herald Staff Cartoonist Bob Taylor saw the Eastland no-smoking ordinance, indicating that the city council might have set fire to their tongue, in passing the ordinance. The inscription on the hat reads "Eastland City Council."

The Readers Write . . .

. . . and Write, and Write, and Write

EDITOR: By the end of the year of our Lord 1965, after months of bitter debate the Congress of the United States had passed a constitutional amendment prohibiting the use of tobacco in any form and while the 1th amendment was no longer THE Prohibition amendment the reproctions were striking in their similarity. It was from those same hills of Kentucky and Tennessee from whence once flowed a stream of mountain dew that illicit tobacco issued forth. The name Smoky Mountains took on a greater and more sinister meaning.

Fortunes were made in bootleg cigarettes and the Bureau of Internal Revenue stung by the staggering loss of tobacco tax struck harder at income tax evaders and brought about the end of President Johnson's tax cutting program in order to keep the government from bankruptcy.

The political scene was altered almost beyond recognition. The bitter campaigns waged for and against the amendment swept from office many of those favoring the week and only a few like "Coffin Nails" Kelly from Chicago's south side and "Butts" Bollinger from Jersey were able to hang on despite congressional Committees and being disowned by the national parties.

Indeed, to say that a politico came out of a smoke-filled room was more ruinous than being branded red. Smoke easys sprang up like mushrooms but were stamped out almost as soon as they were born due to an electronic device which could detect the smoke from several blocks distance as unerringly as the nose of a teacher walking into a classroom.

Behind the scenes subversive elements worked to gain recognition and renewed trade with Castro's Cuba in order to facilitate the smuggling of Havana cigars. A wave of anti-Indian sentiment swept the country when it was at last realized that in offering the peace pipe the Indians were secretly laying the grounds for a cancerous slaughter of pale-faces.

A malady resembling D. T.'s and the shakes seized addicts and it was not uncommon at any time to see a person throw a nicotine fit on main street.

As those poor lost souls sought release many turned to chewing gum. Wrigleys and Beachnut gum stock became so desirable that A. T. and T. was all but forgotten.

A new generation of actors and actresses for commercials sprang to the fore and stars faded from the scene if they could not simultaneously chew and smile without resemblance to a mule eating barbed wire or a cow masticating her cud. Of course the full face type like Martha Ray and Joe E. Brown still shone if anything more brightly.

Finally action met with reaction as thesis must meet antithesis. Small splinter church groups began to form with total abstinence from gum as their main creed. The gum which replaced the ash tray and resembled the brass and flowered porcelain spittoon of the tobacco chewing era their predecessor the cuspidor. Laws have been passed to forbid throwing of gum from cars as a hazard to health man and livestock and because numerous autos have become ensnared in masses of the stuff causing the vehicle behind to ram them. Rear end collisions have risen eight hundred per cent. Further, more recent surveys show that sixty three percent of all men rejected by selective service have been disqualified by cause of foot and leg defects caused by stepping in too much gum at an early age and additional research now being conducted is certain to show a correlation between gum snapping and ear defects. Couple this with the dangers of lock jaw (induced by bubble gum on one side and denture adhesive on the other) and we have a menace to our nation that staggers the imagination.

Dear fellow citizen, do not be deceived by those who claim that the ten cent pack tax on gum is vital to national prosperity. It is to fight this menace to our fair land that I offer myself as a candidate to you the voters of Eastland County, Texas. Thank you all for your vote.

Gordon S. Clark

EDITOR: I received an article, from my son Herman L. Hassell, Jr., which appeared in the Chronicle-Herald at Halifax, Canada on Wednesday, January 15, 1964, on the No Smoking ordinance.

Herman L. Hassell, Sr. Eastland, Texas

EDITOR: I would like to ask you a question. Knowing full-well that this country is founded on the principles of personal freedom, how can you condone a city ordinance prohibiting a citizen of the United States, or anyone living in this country, from smoking? Granted, cigarettes are not a necessity and can cause more trouble than they are worth, but the use of them is a personal decision, is it not?

This makes smoking a personal freedom and the preservation of this freedom is what keeps this country great. By using the threat of corrective action by law as a deterrent to smoking you are condoning the restraint of personal freedom. Once this is allowed, even in such a small way, it could conceivably blossom into something terrible.

Look at it this way, if you will. Since automobiles take more lives each year than many diseases, smoking included, suppose a mayor, or governor, somewhere, decided to make driving illegal within the limits of his authority. Suppose since television is showing the wrong kind of entertainment to people, someone decides that nobody can own a T.V. set within the bounds of his authority. These are only a very few of the personal freedoms that COULD be eliminated by such actions as yours.

I don't live in your community but if I did and you proceeded with this plan of yours, I would see to it that I didn't stay very long. It wouldn't matter whether or not I was personally affected by this action. It would be the action itself that would make me want to get out.

Mr. Pierson, I ask you to consider, very carefully, the move you are making. Smoking may not be good for us, but it is up to us smokers to decide whether or not to quit now.

Sincerely,
Mr. Dennis G. Slade
6924 N. Greeley
Portland 17, Oregon

(ED. NOTE: This newspaper has neither condemned nor condoned the smoking ordinance, yet.)

EDITOR: Today I read of your law banning the sale and smoking of cigarettes within your city limits. I am a non-smoker who has always felt that cigarettes were detrimental to ones health. I have many times been irritated by cigarette smoke from some inconsiderate smoker who felt that everybody enjoyed the aroma of cigarettes. I am against all forms of smoking.

However, as much as I detest smoking, I am even more disturbed by people who feel they MUST lead other people's lives; who feel that they and they alone know what is good for the public. I thought that Prohibition had proved for all time that when a minority of people ram a distasteful law down the throats of the majority, the majority will find ways to circumvent the law. Children will see their parents break this law every day in the privacy of their homes and they too will develop a contempt for this law. Eventually, this contempt will be directed against ALL law in general.

I believe that everyone, as Free individuals, should have the right to decide for themselves whether or not to smoke. The loss of an individual's freedom to select and choose for himself I consider to be a far greater threat to one's health, both physical and mental, than any possible effects from smoking.

Respectfully,
Marshall Fruman

EDITOR: The lovely surprise gift is deeply appreciated. Thanks, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hubbard and baby, Joanne Rising Star, Texas

(ED. NOTE: Miss Joanne was Eastland's First Baby of 1964.)

EDITOR: In our January 14, 1964 Times Herald Record I read the enclosed clipping. (About Eastland's no-smoking ordinance.)

I don't think it is being fair to the people. What about old folks who have smoked for years and now in their old and last few months or years should they have the only pleasure taken away? United States is suppose to be free, but is it?

My mother is 72 years old and has smoked for 55 years and she says she cannot stop. If N. Y. State ever bans cigarettes I would buy them for her at any price. As you know there is always black market and I would be one of their many best customers at any cost.

I don't think any state should ban cigarettes, smoking is a pleasure to some older folks. I think it is each person's own business if smoking harms their health. I don't believe they cause any harm.

I was in bad health before I smoked, in fact I feel better since I began smoking.

Sincerely,
Mrs. H. P. Delamarter
Middletown, N. Y.

EDITOR: The City Fathers should go into the advertising business as their stunt on smoking is a cure; as it has obtained publicity for unknown, unheard bit of what? Nevertheless, it is now infamous for what?

Prohibition encouraged more drinking and thanks to the city fathers it will now be impossible to dissuade the younger smoking or start the habit.

City fathers you are to be congratulated, for what, we'll decide later. However, make sure your in the cigarette black market business.

Sincerely,
Jim Stable, Jr.
York, Pa.

EDITOR: Earlier this morning, as I was returning to my quarters, I happened to notice some of my buddies grouped around a news stand laughing at what they saw in the morning paper. They called me over to see what some crazy Texans had done this time. When I saw the headlines and read the article, it became all too apparent that they had something to laugh at me about. My hometown had really done it this time!

The headline on the front page read: "Texas Town Forbids Cigarette Smoking, 3 Years in Jail. The date line gave Eastland, Texas (UPI). The story, which you are probably fully aware of, gave the details of how Eastland's city council had passed a city ordinance prohibiting the sale or use of cigarettes within the municipal limits.

Although I don't want to be too critical of a probably "well intended" minority of citizens, I think that this article must surely be a prank, or a publicity stunt. I don't think that the men we have on our city council would be so naive as to try to use their positions to force the citizens to do something that should only depend upon the individuals de-charter study committee, and recommended that the matters be placed on the April ballot so that the people can vote on them.

The recommendations of the group (made up of J. T. Gregory, Willard Griffin and Donald Kinnard Jr.) included: The procedure for annexation be changed; the power to set city employee salaries be with the commission; future amendment procedures be simplified; that the terms of mayor be held to two consecutive terms; and that obsolete portions of the charter be updated.

The commission agreed to sell a 150 by 200 feet building lot from a tract facing the T&P Railroad in the northwest part of town to John Hernandez for $100. Earl Conner Jr., attorney for the railroad made the request, and represented Hernandez. Further leasing agreements are to be worked out with Mr. Hernandez it was pointed out.

The commission refused Mayor Pierson's request for "unqualified and unanimous backing" in his fight to keep Interstate Highway 20 inside the city limits.

A motion made by Seaberry that "The city commission resolves that Interstate 20 remain in the city limits of Eastland" carried with all voting "yes".

During the discussion, commissioners agreed that they would rather the highway go "two miles south of town than two blocks south of the courthouse."

Commissioner Troutt asked that a city financial statement be published in the local newspaper. The commission agreed and City Manager Lewis Tiner was instructed to prepare one with the city's auditor for publication.

It is a show of bad judgment when the elected officials of a city use their positions to make a joke of their orders. It makes a person wonder if he should take any of these mens declarations seriously.

Perhaps when the next elections come up the citizens will stop to think about a serious minded, constructive city council that would be interested in the competent fulfillment of their obligation, rather than the lighter aspects of prankish publicity.

Bill Moylan
