Countians Join Millions In Watching Historic Changing Of Presidents

Eastland Countians joined the millions observing the resignation of President Richard M. Nixon and the swearing-in of Vice President Gerald Ford as Chief Executive of these United States.

It an anxious time for all, and generally comments expressed by local citizens are those of optimism and hope. There was sadness in the stepping down by Mr. Nixon who will be recorded in the history books as the first president to resign the office.

He said in his resignation speech, the nation needs a full-time President and a full-time Congress.

Mr. Ford assumed the presidency in equally unizue manner, only having served as vice president for ten months after being appointed by then President Nixon to fill the office vacated by the resignation of Vice President Agnew. So, too, the history books will record this unusual rise to the top office in the land by a man who had never faced a national electorate.

Television commentators and editorial writers are presently using the term "honeymoon" in referring to what is hoped to be a close relationship and working together between President Ford and the Congress, where he served with distinction for some 25 years.

Appointment of a vice president remains to be done, and is expected this coming week. In the meantime, Speaker of the House Carl Albert finds himself once again, next in succession.

Mentioned for the vice presidential post have been Nelson Rockefeller, Charles Percy and others, as well as an editorial endorsement Friday for George Bush of Texas.

By Albert J. Forbes, staff artist Christian Science Monitor

America will now begin making preparations to celebrate its Bicentennial in 1976 with a new president and vice president.

How like a good family this American system is. It has its ups and downs and it has its weaknesses.

But celebratable is the fact that it has its unlying strength.

Founded on a belief in God, it wavers only when its people wander from that basic principal.

Severely tested, we believe this United States of America will survive the rigors and agonies of what has been dubbed Watergate with all of its shocks and mind - wracking revelations.

The 200th birthday in '76 and the preparations leading up to it should be an excellent time for all Americans to re - dedicate themselves to the principals upon which this country was founded. We can't help but add new praise for the leadership that led our founding fathers to compose and adopt the documents which we subscribe to today.

Without judgment, it's now recorded the the Chief Executive of this nation resigned his office because he stood accused by his colleagues and the nation of violating a principal of one of the document's stipulations, and chose not to commit himself and the nation to a long and painful trial under the provisions laid down by the same documents. We believe he acted in the best interest of all.

Credit wisdom and divine guidance to the framers of the Constitution who so skillfully put it together this way regarding the President:

Article II, Sec. 4: "...he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the Officers of the United States."

In the very next section (4), - - "All civil officers removable by impeachment. - - 1. The President, Vice President and all Civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors."

By his own admission, in the revelation of the taped conversations, Former President Richard M. Nixon curtailed the normal function of the Federal Bureau of I Investigation in its investigation of wrong doing.

Just back from a land where people - made laws are an unfamiliar concept, we especially appreciate this country, its laws and its principles.

As it always has been and ever will be, it's a good day for us all to say:
"God Bless America"

Quarterback To Hold Auction

"Anything auctionable" is being sought by the Eastland Quarterback Club to benefit the Eastland Public School Athletic Program.

That's the word from Auction Chairman W.J. Stone, who is in charge of the event which will be held Saturday, Sept. 7, at the Old Gym beginning at 10 a.m.

Col. James T. Wright, auctioneer of statewide fame, will be doing the honors.

"What's auctionable?" some might ask, and Stone is quick to answer, "Just about anything except old clothes, which don't auction too well", he said.

"We'll accept farm equipment, tools, just about anything that will sell."

Arrangements are made for easy pick-up of donated items which will be stored before the sale. Persons may call 629-2621 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., at which time Quarterback Club crews will make rounds picking up the items.

Club President Buck Wheat will be in charge of storing farm equipment and the like of large items.

"This is the time for full garage cleaning", Stone said.

Notice
There will be a golf scramble at Lone Cedar Country Club, Sunday, August 11, at 1:30 p.m.

LET'S ALL join in pledging ourselves to support President Gerald Ford and our Congress in the days ahead, with a hope that this nation's inflationary problems can be solved as well as the other domestic situations that exist.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY Emory Walton reports that stepped - up efforts are being made to curb the unscrupulous sales techniques of some traveling salesmen through this area. Persons, particularly senior citizens, who may have reason to question the authenticity of unknown salesmen are urged to ring the D.A.'s office for advice before signing checks or handing over cash. Recently reported incidents include high - pressure insurance and vacuum cleaner salesmen.

LET'S HELP the Rev. Steve Church, very active minister of the First Christian Church, who d like to see an active tennis program here. He knows that it'll take some hard work and effort to get the courts in good shape, but like so many, he's sure it can be done. We'd nominate him to head up a drive to get the tennis balls flying.

WITH SCHOOL bells just getting ready to ring, many are hoping that staffing can be arranged to equalize and lower class loads in some areas, and maybe some more thinking can be done on fixing up the junior and senior high school buildings.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

The state Constitutional Convention, as authorized in Section 2 of Article XVII, has adjourned without recommending changes in the State Constitution.

Section 1, Article XVII, of the present Constitution authorizes the State Legislature to propose amendments to the Constitution either in regular or special sessions. This is the only method of changing the C Constitution at the present.

Study during the past 21 months clearly reveals that the present State Constitution does need to be recoded and brought up to date. Farm Bureau leaders in convention and meetings for a number of years, have expressed their fear that the state and national constitutions are being eroded seriously. Study of these matters reveals that the intent of the national and state Constitutions have been changed in many areas. These changes have been made primarily by court action.

FEDERAL COURT DICTATORSHIP

Congressman Bob Poage placed in the Congressional Record of July 22, 1974, pgs. 86850- 52 a very excellent article: "Dictatorship of Federal Courts" by State District Judge Ed Gossett. Judge Gossett begins his discussion with the following quotation by Thomas Jefferson:

"It is a very dangerous doctrine to consider the Judges as the ultimate arbiters of all of our Constitutional questions; It is one which would place us under the despotism of an oligarchy."

The following quotations set forth some of the key points made by Judge Gossett.

In the last twenty - five years, our Supreme Court has become a super legislature responsible to no one. It has become a continuing Constitutional Convention without an elected delegate. It has become a dictatorship, unlimited. It has made a shambles of the C Constitution.

Under the authority of Baker v. Carr, Reynolds v. Sims, Gray v. Sanders and other cases, state constitutions, state laws, state courts, and all state political institutions have been at the complete sufferance of federal courts. Federal courts have nullified numerous provisions of state constitutions, held hundreds of laws, both state and federal, to be unconstitutional, and have dictated to all state courts and to all state political organizations.

We have been in war most of this century to make the world safe for democracy. We have fought some of those wars, i.e. Lorea (33,629 killed, 103,284 wounded) and Vietnam (46,000 killed, 304,000 wounded) for the specific purpose of giving those people the right of self - determination and self - government. We have helped to create at least a dozen independent states in Africa on the theory that people have a right to self - determination. Ironically, at frightful expense, we have tried to spread democracy all over the world while destroying it at home. Incongruously, our foreign policy has been anti - colonial while our domestic policy has been colonial.

The most liberal member of the Constitutional Convention must be turning over in his grave at what our Supreme Court, in the last twenty - five years, has done to his Great Charter of Liberty, a charter for the separation and limitations upon governmental powers, his system of checks and balances, so painfully contrived, has been destroyed.

The Federal Judiciary has nullified the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution, which specifically states "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Judge Gossett devotes most of his article to a discussion of the criminal side of the question. He quotes a number of court cases, which reveal that the Supreme Court has virtually turned this country over to those who promote crime.

Peanut Queen Contest Features Conn Organ

Once the mighty sounds of the Conn Electronic Pipe Organ will be heard at the annual State Peanut Queen Contest August 17 at 8:00 p.m. at Eastland Elementary School. Seated on the bench of this large theatre organ will be Dora Nell Finch.

To the people of the pageant, she is no stranger. This will be the seventh year for Dora Nell to provide the music and help fill in with entertainment. This year will be quite a change for her role. She was asked to produce the show with the help of the Eastland

Procedures Announced For Peanut Mold

Procedures have been announced for excluding from price support peanuts found to have visible Aspergillus Flavus Mold, according to Robert F. Spreen, State Executive Director, ASCS. Since this mold can produce toxins, Federal price is not being offered on peanuts containing it.

"Careful observation of the regulations governing peanuts with A. Flavus Mold is important to the producer", Spreen cautioned, "since failure to follow them can result in loss of price support for all peanuts produced on a farm."

When peanuts checked by the Federal-State Inspection Service prior to marketing are found to have visible A. Flavus Mold, the producer may choose to turn the lot over immediately for marketing as segregation 3 peanuts, without price support, or he may choose to have the peanuts cleaned and re-inspected by the end of the next working day. If visible A. Flavus Mold is found upon re-inspection, the load must be immediately delivered to an authorized buyer or to the local producer association as segregation 3 peanuts, without price support.

Once inspected and found to contain A. Flavus Mold, peanuts may not be retained by the producer for seed or any other use without losing price support.

Any producer who fails to follow these new procedures for any lot of peanuts found to have visible A. Flavus Mold will lose price support eligibility for all remaining 1974 crop peanuts marketed from his farm, Spreen said.

He added, "If peanuts ineligible for support should be placed under loan anyway, liquidated damages will be collected from either the buyer or the producer, whichever is found accountable. Rate for damages will be seven cents per net pound."

Jaycees. "With the help of the Jaycees and their wives, and the State Board of Peanut Association, I will be happy to do everything I can to help make the pageant a success."

"I love to work with people, and the Peanut Pageant offers a lot of opportunity for the contestants. Everyone of us involved with the pageant in one way or another has given a lot of thought and time to its success. The best part of the entire pageant is meeting the girls and sharing the different experiences. I guess you could say that it is just a lot of fun."

Dora Nell has been playing professionally since the age of 13. Among her many teachers has been the world famous organist, Don Baker.

She has played numerous concerts, supper club engagements and has appeared on TV and radio programs. "I guess you could say that I have played for everything except a hanging."

Her theatre organ styling is unique, and her brilliant playing has delighted audiences all over the state. She has added something new for this year's pageant that will certainly cause a lot of talk. How about an organ with five keyboards????

□ Dora Nell is the staff organist and teacher for the Conn Organ Studios of Abilene, Texas. Appearing with her at the pageant and also performing for the audience will be two of her students, Randy Ford and Craig Shewmake.

Bible Popular As School Text

Teaching Bible Literature in the English departments of the nation's schools is becoming more prevalent every year. Most of these courses use only the Bible as a textbook, and the King James Version is popular because of its poetic style, according to Mrs. Katharine Fugitt, head of the English Department at Fairfield High School in Hamilton, Ohio. Resource books in Mrs. Fugitt's Bible Literature classes include a concordance, a Bible dictionary, and several copies of The Living Bible, a modern paraphrase of the Bible. Mrs. Fugitt is typical of the English teachers who find Bible Literature courses popular electives and who initiate such studies because they deem a knowledge of the Bible vital to the well-read or "educated" person. She says she doesn't expect her students to know everything in or about the Bible, but "there's no excuse for not knowing where to go to find out." As English departments add new electives to their courses of study and teaching schedules, the Bible taught as literature is being included as fast as teachers can be found who aren't afraid to teach the course. "I volunteered to teach Bible Literature because I thought I was well-qualified, having studied the Bible most of my life," Mrs. Fugitt says. "I didn't know as much as I thought I did, however, and had to study diligently to stay ahead of my classes. The kids kept coming up with questions I didn't have the answer to," she states. "I've spent more time in preparation for this course than for anything I've ever taught." Just how many high schools are offering this elective is unknown. Even the state departments of education likely do not know just how widespread study of the Bible really is because the local high school generally lays out its own course work. Since Fairfield High School in Hamilton is on the quarter system, Mrs. Fugitt has from 90 to 100

In each class she teaches on the Bible. She has had several thousand students in these two elective courses since it first began several years ago. "One of the primary purposes of the course is to make the students familiar enough with the Bible that everyday allusions, and allusions in literature, can be easily understood. For example, when someone says to them, 'I see the handwriting on the wall,' they know he's referring to the story in Daniel 5:5, or if they say 'as old as Methuselah,' they know it's old." As long as the Bible is approached as literature and discussions of denominational belief are not allowed, both pastors and parents seem to favor the course. Mrs. Fugitt says she has had only one minister and one parent who have called her to say they'd like to visit the class to see how she handled it. Neither one showed up. She has had no negative reactions and no remarks from anyone, she says. "I've had numerous calls from teachers in other schools in other cities, inquiring about the course and wanting to discuss a curriculum through which they could begin similar Bible study courses in their school's English department," says Mrs. Fugitt. "I would say that about half the students who sign up for Bible Literature I (Old Testament) or Bible Literature II (New Testament) know some Bible stories but can't place them in the Bible. Fewer than one-tenth of the students have any depth knowledge of the Bible which would affect their way of life," she observes. The secret of success in teaching the Bible in high school seems to be to leave theology or sectarian religious beliefs completely out of the course of study. Mrs. Fugitt declines to identify herself with any denomination or faith group, although she is a Christian and has definite convictions based on her knowledge and belief of the Bible as the Word of God. Although a student may use any Bible he wishes in the Fairfield High Bible Lit. courses, Mrs. Fugitt teaches primarily from the King James version. She says she emphasizes to her students that the King James Bible is used for its "literary value," but that "some of the modern translations are more accurate because of the Dead Sea Scrolls and other archaeological discoveries since the King James version was translated." The Living Bible is used to help clarify difficult passages of the Bible. Some students who have little Bible background use it almost exclusively, but all of Mrs. Fugitt's students use it for reference. Asked how she feels about The Living Bible, Mrs. Fugitt simply says, "Well, I keep two on my desk at school, I have three at home, and I've asked the school librarian to order 10 more for my classes. Many of my students carry it." "There are lots of kids who think they can't be tough and show an interest in religion," Mrs. Fugitt continues. "But they can find out about the Bible in Bible Lit. without their peers thinking anything about it." This English teacher, and many of her counterparts in other high schools with whom she has discussed the matter, believe that kids will "buy anything that is kept interesting and yet challenging. Not too easy, not too hard, and yet interesting.

To Sound Or Be Sound

BY GEORGE SIMS I was reading an autobiography by Albert Schweitzer and was amazed at his capacity to concentrate on many things at once. While at medical school he wrote a book on Bach, QUEST FOR THE HISTORICAL JESUS, AND MYSTICISM OF THE APOSTLE PAUL. During his spare time, suppose, in this period of his life he wrote a pamphlet on building pipe organs. In producing the best sound, he mentioned 3 areas to consider: 1) the position of an organ in a room, 2) whether the organ produced the wind from low, high, or low, high and the two together, 3) the best quality of sound comes through a mechanical organ and not that louder through electricity. Analogies are poor illustrations because they never cover completely the metaphor. But, I am not searching for completion, only a small illustration. Schweitzer wanted listeners, over the entrance to the room. Position is important to us. Not just any position, but the right one. The Bible teaches that God has given each man at least one talent, and Jesus has some harsh words to say to those who do not use what has been given to them. He says that they will have their talent taken and given to another, or they will be pruned off the true vine and burned. Jesus was against unproductivity and unfruitfulness. This is a negative way to say that God has a place for you. I have a 42 year old cousin who has been in a wheelchair all of her life. She received her first job with remuneration when she was hired to help in a church nursery. There is a black cook in a restaurant in Houston who takes pride in tossing, two eggs in the same pan, into the air and catching them so that they land on the opposite side unbroken. There is a man on a steamboat whose job is to keep the engine room clean. This is a never ending task. Steam, dust and soot are in constant production. Why does he do it? He says, "For the Glory of God." Mrs. Billy Graham says that she does her housework chores because she finds a divine calling there. I could go on but I think you get my message. It is a great tragedy to know a person dies without Jesus Christ. A catastrophe of equal sadness must be a lost life. 2) Organs with the wind coming from the low position give a full sound engulfing the listener. A sound coming high is intensive and confronts him. Having both gives a wider variety of sound. An organ with one sound is limited. Jesus Christ came to show us that how we have limited ourselves. We can see, touch, and hear the world we live in. Existing alongside this physical world is a spiritual world, a storehouse of truth and a vitality that we have not tapped. This spiritual realm becomes apart of us when we are born into it. This birth is accomplished by God, Himself. He removes the guilt, takes off the charge of spiritual death, and gives you the power to overcome sin. Sin prevents us from finding life with meaning. By being born into the spiritual realm which is called the Kingdom of God, one discovers that are in the fabric of our life; we must die to self before we can live, we can accept happiness and suffering from the same inner posture, we find the worth of individuals, we find love as the law of life, servanthood is the bloodstream of society, etc. You will never thrill to the dongs of the ages or ever find a place to stand in inner wholeness unless you are born into the Kingdom of God. 3) Schweitzer was not against progress, but he was against replacing mechanical pipe organs with quality sound for electric organs that sound louder. Life gives off a dull, loud sound of artificiality. I am not a condemning progress. I am considering the loss of appreciation for what was real and a reverence of life. We have filled our lives with things: a new car, a new house, a new boyfriend, a new hairstyle, college degree, and annual income of $12,000.00, movies, music, a good time. Where does it all lead: right back to the beginning of the list. A life of pleasurable things is existence in a circle. You break out of the circle and discover new avenues in yourself and a vastness in this creation when you develop honesty in yourself and search for the right and good and true. A lot of people are good and say they are for the right. But look what they do to their body control with alcohol, how they miss use sex, how they treat their children. Look how they treat their neighbors. A search for honesty and truth must begin in your own body which is like a temple when Jesus Christ lives with you. Settle for anything short of honesty and truth and you come up with a life that id occupies with a lot of everything, yet short on fullness and quality in anything. Schweitzer was thrilled when only one organ was restored and maintained in the mechanical craftsmanship with which it was built. God always draws near when ever a man in his brokenness cried to Him for "HELP". Youth Director First Baptist Church

The Bible offers so much material that it's possible to put together a course like that." Mrs. Fugitt says she's learned more in teaching the Bible than "I have learned in any other subject. I have no way of knowing what it has done for the lives of my students, but I hope it has had an impact on them." "No matter whether they believe that Jesus is the promised Messiah, or a prophet and not the Messiah, or that he was just a man, or is a fictitious character - there's no way they can get around the fact that He has influenced their lives."

The Light Touch

By Clint Bray

There are two kinds of people who don't say much: Those who are quiet and those who talk a lot.

Best time to is when you don't have the time.

Flattery is the only arrow that never misses its mark.

Back in the days of gunslingers, before deodorants, a shoulder holster was the only "underarm protection".

Confidence is simply that quiet, absolutely assured feeling you have just before you fall flat on your face.

You can have confidence in the smart styling and easy care clothing at BRAY'S in Eastland and Ranger.

Garden Spot

The nice break we have had from the hot, dry summer is a good reminder to plant a fall garden. Mrs. P.A. Cox of Eastland and others have requested that we put some information on fall gardening in this column. Gardening came on like gangbusters this spring, and many home gardeners enjoyed the sweet taste of success. But for Eastland County the gardening season continues the year round. That means getting the land prepared and getting transplants started as soon as possible for a fall garden.

Many popular vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, and squash can be planted during August.

Also, the so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted at this time for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

First of all, get the land into good shape. If a garden was planted this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall planting.

For new gardens, apply two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 10-10-10 per 100 square feet and working it into the soil. If plants make slow growth, a light amount of fertilizer may be applied between the rows and watered into the soil.

Of major importance for a successful fall garden is an adequate water supply. Since planting is done during hot weather, sufficient water is needed for germination and early growth. Light waterings three to four times a week may be necessary to keep the soil from drying out and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since it allows the seed to be started in areas sheltered from high temperatures and drying winds.

Of course, as with all gardens, a wary eye must be kept for such problems as weeds, insects and diseases. However, the quality and flavor of many vegetables grown in the fall are superior to those from spring gardens.

Colorful and attractive eggplants make a good addition to any fall garden and they will provide an abundance of good produce until the first killing frost this fall.

Set out plants in the garden 12 to 16 weeks before the average date of the first killing frost, which is about now. Only a few plants are needed for the average family. Set plants 18 to 36 inches apart in the row and allow about 36 inches between rows. Use a starter solution to

WONDER WHOM "THEY" WILL DECIDE TO OSTRACIZE NEXT?

We had a nice crowd at the 42 and 84 party last Friday night, the 2nd of August, here, at the Wayland Community building. Mary Greenlee of Eastland brought two lady friends with her. Polk and Daisy Valliant, also from Eastland were here.

We would like to invite other people, who like to play 42 and 84, from your community, to show up around here at 7:30 p.m. each first Friday of the month.

The rains of last week were really welcome in this community, total around 3 inches so far.

WHEN HECK WAS A PUP

insure vigorous early growth. Fruit will be ready to harvest within 75 to 90 days after transplanting. These can be harvested from the time they are one-third grown until they are fully ripe.

Give some thought to growing peppers. Plant peppers now also.

Six to eight plants satisfy the needs of the average family. So it's generally easier just to buy pepper plants than to try to grow your own from seed.

Set the plants 18 to 24 inches apart in rows 30 to 36 inches apart. Peppers will be ready for harvest from 65 to 80 days from transplanting.

Snap beans are a "winner" in fall vegetable gardens. They're easy to grow and produce a high yielding and high quality crop in the fall.

For a steady supply coming to the kitchen, plant every 10 days to two weeks, keeping in mind the number of days remaining before the average date of the first frost.

Bill Cody Show Set August 22,23 In Sweetwater

Bill Cody, grandson of world-famous Colonel William F. "Buffalo Bill" Cody, will headline the Bill Cody Wild West and American Heritage Show set for August 22, 23, and 24 in the Sweetwater Coliseum. Cody, an attorney in Cody, Wyoming, is an author, national lecturer, television and radio panel personality; owner-operator of Bill Cody's guest ranch and public relations representative for special events.

Cody was born January 4, 1913, at Buffalo Bill's Scout's Rest Ranch, North Platte, Nebraska, the son of Fredrick and Irma Cody Garlow. Soon after young Bill's birth, his parents moved to Cody, Wyoming. Following the death of his famous grandfather in 1917, and his parents in 1918, Bill was legally adopted by his grandmother, Louisa M. Cody.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska and Harvard Law School, Cody served five years with the U.S. Army, discharged with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Bob Estes, producer of Bill Cody Wild West and American Heritage Show, says it is a "nostalgic recreation of the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show that thrilled frontier audiences of yesteryear." According to Estes, the show will follow the same format as the original Buffalo Bill Wild West show, providing a thrill a minute for every member of the family.

The fast-paced show will include champion Indian dancers of the International Indian Exposition of Anadarko, Okla., bucking horses, Longhorn-bucking bulls and steers, Hackberry's Buffalo stampede, a stagecoach, trick riding and roping and lots of cowboys and cowgirls.

Estes is a well-known rodeo producer, having produced shows all over the nation as well as Europe. Proceeds from the show will benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in its work with handicapped children and adults from throughout the southwest.

8:00 p.m. shows are set for August 22, 23 and 24 in the Sweetwater Coliseum. Tickets are priced at $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for children. Tickets are available now at Boss 'n Hoss Western Wear in Sweetwater, Luskey's Western Wear in Abilene and at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Estes added that the purpose of the show, in addition to benefiting the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, is to provide "honest-to-goodness" family entertainment for people of the Big Country with heavy emphasis on the frontier traditions that serve as the foundation for this great nation.

will premiere in Sweetwater with consideration being given by one of the nation's largest booking agencies to touring the show nationwide. A representative of the agency is planning to fly in from Chicago to catch the performance.

Berlin Neighbors Seek Same Goal - But Walk Different Paths

Sunday, August 11, 1974

BY GAY NELL O'BRIEN
Our East German guide told us in a "nice" way that the Communist plan to rule the earth some day.

When asked about the possible reunification of Germany, his answer: "No way, until West Germany is socialized. The socialization of the whole world is inevitable so some day Germany will be unified again", left little to the imagination.

The former World War II Nazi infantryman, Paul Baumgardner, 51, spent over a year in a prisoner of war camp at Huntsville, Texas, north of Houston. He said, "I fought for crazy Hitler in World War II and was happy to be captured. Then I came back to East Berlin because this is where I grew up."

Irony of ironies, Don Reid, publisher-emeritus of the Huntsville paper who was a member of our tour group, got the scoop story of the trip!

To understand the ideology of this devotee to communism, all one needs to do is to read the World Book's interpretation of Communism, Russia and Lenin. To understand that it has not worked out the way Karl Marx and Lenin, its founder, predicted, one needs only to look at history!

The Communists have not given up though. They hope to win us and our allies over by topping us politically, intellectually and economically.

Almost all governments today, by necessity and for humanitarian reasons contain some socialism, but America must have a "turning back" from the "overskill" socialistic direction we are heading if free enterprise (the primary difference in Democracy and Communism) is to survive. Communism is complete socialism with all its undesirable side effects, and this is what we must steer clear of!

To some, the Communists' ideology may not seem bad. The methods used to put it into action are corrupt, and to our way of thinking, it can never be a really successful way of government.

There will always be politically ambitious persons in any society, but in a Communist country when the wrong person reaches the top, there is no way to relieve him except by a possible revolution.

Also to us, it seems that Communism destroys so much initiative in people. One would have to be state oriented to ever excel professionally without threat of life.

It makes us wonder if our country's current trend toward shoddy workmanship and sagging productivity could possibly be linked to our increased socialistic tendency.

It is interesting to note that only two percent of the population of the Soviet Union are registered Communists. The rest must continue to placidly live under it whether they agree or not. One reason for such a small membership in the party, they told us, was lack of time of ordinary working people for all the demands made.

They boast that their government takes care of everyone. We wondered (How?) when we saw very old women sweeping public squares and streets and other such examples.

Communism praises the equality of the people. Of course, all people should have equal opportunities, but as far as the people being treated equally in Russia--this is simply not so. Those who do excel and find favor with the system certainly enjoy higher standards of living. We have no doubt that the higher a person ranks in the party, also, the higher his standard of living!

A West German editor did not express any doubt about the East German guide's statement of Communist intentions.

Alex Springer lives with the danger of the Communist threat. He built his huge and modern newspaper plant, the largest in Europe, against the west side of the Wall in the early 1960's as a symbol of "courage not defiance". Mr. Springer does not believe in "fooling around" with the Communists, and encourages a hard-nosed policy for non-Communist countries.

The newspaper has received several bomb threats, etc. We walked on to a large balcony over a roof and right up to the wall below. Here and through the newspapers' windows we took pictures of the Wall and wreaths placed alongside it for those who were shot in fleeing East Berlin.

Our guide of West Berlin told us that the reason the Communists built the wall when they did, was that they were losing all their factory workers with the flood of refugees into West Berlin every day.

Springer believes that "detente" is a "peaceful expansion of Communism" because of the Communist concessions that have gone along with it. Listening to an editor who knows that there are 160,000 Communist divisions right across that wall, we were speechless.

A Pillar In This Area For 51 Years

The power to use energy efficiently this summer is in your hands.

When it comes to home air conditioning, one of the best things to do for efficiency and economy is to set your thermostat at 78-80 degrees.

For each degree above 75 degrees, the energy used for cooling is reduced by approximately 5%.

If you are going to be away from home for several hours or longer, either raise your air conditioning thermostat several degrees to a warmer setting or turn it off.

Here are some other things you can do:

Replace disposable filters or clean permanent type filters as required. Clogged filters make the air conditioning unit work harder and use more electricity.

Keep doors, windows and fireplace dampers closed to keep cooled air in and hot air out.

Keep direct sunlight out as much as possible. Use awnings over windows, or close draperies and blinds, or pull shades.

MRS. RONALD HOES
...nee Kathy Jones

Miss Kathy Jones And Ronald Hoes Are United In Marriage

Kathy Lynn Jones and Ronald Hoes were united in marriage at the First Baptist Church in Eastland, Saturday, August 10, 1974 at 8:00 p.m. with the Rev. Haston Brewer officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William Morris Jones of 502 Oakwood, Eastland. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Hoes of 625 Norwood, Hurst.

Organist was Miss Becky Hanna and pianist was Miss JoAnn Baker, both of Eastland. Soloist was Mr. Randy Rexroat. He sang "And I Love You So" and "Wedding Prayer". Dr. Neill Humfeld of East Texas State University in Commerce was the trombone soloist. Dr. Humfeld played "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white silk organza and nottingham lace gown designed with a high neck, lifted waist and full bishop sleeves. Lace formed the neck and circled the sleeves of the gown. Lace in vertical rows accented the bodice. White satin accented the lifted waistline and ended in a bow in the back. The lace was repeated at the flounce of the A-line skirt and completely circled the hem and chapel train. Her chapel length veil fell from a Juliet cap of lace beaded with pearls and accented with a satin bow. For something old the bride wore her grandmother's cross; something new, her wedding attire; something borrowed, her mother's ring; something blue, a blue garter made for the bride by Mrs. S.W. Poe. The sixpence in her shoe was given to her by Miss Verna Johnson. Her bouquet was of white roses with greenery and baby's breath and was carried on a white Bible covered for the bride by Mrs. Bill Anderson. Inside the Bible, the bride carried a handkerchief given to her by Mrs. E.J. Turner.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Bill Jones, sister-in-law of the bride, of Dallas. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rocky Maynard of Eastland, Mrs. Johnny Magin of Stephenville, Mrs. Phillip Arther of Eastland and Miss Cindy Hoes, sister of the groom, of Hurst.

Attendants of the bride wore full length blue flocked organza gowns over satin with empire waists trimmed in lace and with short puffed sleeves. A self ruffle formed the neck. Ruffled lace gave a yoke effect to the front and back of the bodice. They carried nosegays of blue carnations and baby's breath.

Best man was Mr. Larry Hoes of Hurst, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Mr. Don Webb of Commerce, Mr. Jerry Badgero of Fort Worth, Mr. Will Witten of Dallas, and Mr. Harvey Putsche of Denison. Seating guests were Mr. Mike Jones of Beeville, brother of the bride; Mr. Steve Blair of Eastland, Mr. Don Webb and Mr. Harvey Putsche.

Flower girl was Miss Natalie Haddock of Commerce, cousin of the bride. She wore a dress identical to the bridesmaids. Ring bearer was David Jones of Las Cruces, N.M., nephew of the bride. Candelighters were Miss Cindy Allen of Eastland and Miss Pam Towns of Marshall. They wore full length dresses of blue flocked organza over satin. A piece of heavy lace accented the empire waists. Randy Jones, nephew of the bride, and Amy Simms of Georgetown, presented each guest at the door with a wedding scroll.

Mrs. Jones chose for her daughter's wedding a full length gown of blue nottingham lace and chiffon. It was designed with a lace bodice featuring a V neck and long fitted sleeves. The lifted waist was defined by a satin ribbon in matching blue and a deep band of lace circled the hem of the gown. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Hoes chose a long gown of polyester rose lace featuring a cowl neckline and long pencil sleeves. Polyester crystal pleats fell from the high waist that was accented with a contour self belt. Her corsage was also a white orchid.

The church was decorated with a large arrangement of white gladiolas, blue ball mums, and baby's breath in a large white urn flanked by candelabras and greenery. Votive candles lined the choir rail. The pews were marked by small candelabras adorned with greenery.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Registering guests at the reception was Mrs. Miss Jones of Beeville, sister-in-law of the bride. Pianist was JoAnn Baker, who played background music during the reception. The centerpiece was a white carnation arrangement with baby's breath in a silver bowl. Her cake was a three-tiered cake in total white. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl. Serving at the bride's table were Misses Vicki Roiz of Irving, Sandra Lee of Purlima, Teresa and Michelle Rex of Houston, cousins of the bride.

The groom's table was covered with a royal blue velvet cloth with a bird cage centerpiece. The cake was chocolate topped with a wedding coach. Serving at the groom's table were Paula Lund and Mrs. Keith Luttrell of Eastland. Also assisting at the reception were Mrs. Clint Bray, Mrs. T.M. Fullen, and Mrs. E.J. Turner.

For a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Arkansas, the bride chose a blue and white jacket dress with white accessories. Her corsage was white rose buds taken from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Eastland High School and will be a Junior at East Texas State University in Commerce. At E.T. she is secretary of Tau Beta Sigma Sorority, Secretary of the E.T. band, and on the Dean's List. The groom is a graduate of L.D. Bell High School in Hurst. He will be a Senior at E.T. next year where he is President of Kappa Kappa Psi Fraternity, President of the E.T. band, member of Phi Eta Sigma and on the Dean's List.

Rehearsal dinner was held at Lone Cedar Country Club and was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hoes.

Following the wedding trip, the couple will live in Commerce, Texas.

NOTICE

LEWIS-VERNER MEMORIAL FUND ESTABLISHED

The years of our life are three score and ten, or even by reason of strength fourscore; yet their span is but toil and trouble, they are soon gone, and we fly away.

With this Psalm in mind, the members and friends of the First Christian Church of Eastland have established a special memorial fund. The money to be given is in memory of Ruth Lewis and Thelma Verner, both past members of the church and both musically gifted.

This fund is specifically to be applied for the purchase of a sanctuary piano. The estimated cost is $1,000.

The events of life and even life itself are too soon forgotten. The community is invited to participate in preserving the living memory of these two fine Christians through the giving of this special memorial fund.

DALE O. BAKKER

Dear friends,

Man is basically a social creature who lives his life in fellowship with others. At no time does he need an expression of this supporting fellowship more than at the time of mourning. Jesus said, "Blessed are they who mourn for they shall be comforted". He certainly was referring to the comfort afforded by our relatives and friends as He was of God's supporting presence.

Respectfully,

Dale O. Bakker

I 20 Will Meet Standards When Completed

When a new stretch on Interstate 20 between Eastland and Ranger is completed late in 1975 all the Interstate highway in Texas Highway Dept. Dist. 23 will meet Interstate standards.

Lawrence Schulz, district engineer of Dist. 23 headquartered in Brownwood, said Monday that the project is 35 percent complete and should be finished by the latter part of 1975.

The project, which stretches from two miles east of Eastland to 8 of a mile west of Ranger, is under contract to T.B. Brown of Tye for $5,798,498.

The work includes building new main lanes and frontage roads. Schulz said the west-bound lane of the present highway will become the new north frontage road. He said the present eastbound lane will be incorporated into the new westbound lane.

The work involves grading, putting up new structures, laying a flexible base and surfacing.

Another stretch of Interstate 20 in the district is also being repaired. The area includes six miles from the Callahan County line to one mile west of Cisco.

Schulz said the piece of highway already meets Interstate standards but needs resurfacing.

"It's out of shape and weak", Schulz said. "We're adding a two-inch thicker surface over the existing surface."

Schulz said work is scheduled to begin Tuesday. The project is under contract to Bontke Brothers Construction Co. of Abilene for $421,213.

Schulz said the repairs on both sections of the interstate were necessitated partly from the severe ice storm in the area during the winter of 1972 and partly from heavy loads and age. Schulz said also that Spur 490, 3.5 miles west of Eastland, was completed about two weeks ago. He said the one-mile spur extends from Interstate 20 north to Highway 80.

Schulz said that two more contracts will also be let in July. He said bids will be taken July 24 for an overlay one mile east of Ranger to one mile west of the State Highway 16 intersection. He said the 5.6 miles of work would cost about $628,000.

"It will be a heavy overlay to level up and strengthen the existing surface", Schulz said. He said the project should be completed this year.

Schulz said bids will be taken July 25 for an overlay on State Highway 6 from Carbon to Gorman. The 11.3 miles of work will cost about $157,000, he said.

"We hope to finish the project this year, if we get enough asphalt and rock", he said.

Schulz said the reason the 5.6 miles of work on Interstate 20 would cost four times as much as the 11.3 miles on State Highway 6 is because the surface on the Interstate will be 2 1/2 times as thick as on the state highway. Also the Interstate is four lanes and the state highway is two lanes, he said.
