In the Wake of the Debate

Dr. Jim Whittington, Eastland physician, and Glynn Covington, former Ranger school board member and safety director for Lone Star Gas Co., debated the merits of consolidation for the school districts in Eastland County Monday night.

The following are excerpts from the two speakers' prepared notes:

Dr. Whittington, speaking for the consolidation, emphasized the need for a comprehensive study of the measure.

He read a letter, a copy of which he said had been sent to Wendell Siebert, Eastland school superintendent.

The letter read, in part: "I notice in the Eastland Telegram that you have been elected president of the consolidation of the Eastland County School Boards. I would like to congratulate you. I know that you are an able leader. If you lead the county school boards as well as you have led the Eastland school board through the years, you will do a wonderful job."

In another paragraph Dr. Whittington wrote: "I would like to offer this suggestion to the group. If they really want a true report that is not influenced by any conflicts of interest, I would suggest an out-

Potent Albany Lions Topple Mavericks, 56-0

The power-packed Albany Lions trampled the Eastland Mavericks 56-0 before a homecoming crowd of several thousand in their stadium in Albany Friday night.

There was a great deal of speculation as to how the opponents decided on the final score.

Some guessed that the magic number "56" might have been symbolic of the year in the past when the Mavericks had a winning ball club.

Others guessed that the Lions might have planned a point for each fan in the Eastland stands.

The Mavericks looked better in the field in bitter defeat than did Eastland by its poor representation of faithful football followers in the Eastland stands on a perfect football night.

The Lions picked up 13 points in the first quarter, added 35 in the second, but didn't add any more until the last.

During the last 17 seconds of the game Eastland was on the Lions' two yard line, but saw their chances for scores fade as they retired four downs.

At halftime the EHS band did a precision marching performance that brought "ohs" and "ahs" from the packed host stands.

During the third quarter with the absence of the Albany first-string veterans, Eastland kept opponents' scores off the books, but played most of the time on their own end of the 50, as was true most of the game.

The Mavs met Cross Plains in Maverick Stadium next week.

WARRANTS OUT

Grand Jury Indicts 5

The 91st District Court Grand Jury returned five indictments before they adjourned Wednesday until Monday, Nov. 6th.

Two of the indictments were for assault with intent to rape; one was for enticing a child for immoral purposes; and two for burglary.

Warrants for arrest of the indicted parties were issued by the district clerk's office, but haven't been returned.

EJH Dogies Battle Clyde To 6-6 Tie

The Eastland Junior High School Dogies scrapped the Clyde Pups to a 6-6 tie in Maverick Stadium Thursday night.

The visitors scored first on a 35-yard scamper in the third quarter.

The locals were scoreless until the last quarter when Johnny Moylan found a hole and raced 60 yards for a TD.

And the Dogies were on the two-yard line getting ready for more when the final whistle blew.

Coach Joe Ingram's young footballers played head-up all the way with Jerry McCullough and Ronny Hughes showing real spirit on defense.

Next week the Eastland team takes on Ranger Jr. High here at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, and faces Cross Plains the following week.

First UF '100 Per Centers' Are Vassarette Employees

Employees of the Hollywood Vassarette Co. in Eastland have become the first organization in Eastland to subscribe 100 per cent to the United Fund this year.

Every single employee pledged support in less than an hour Friday morning, and won for themselves the distinction of being the first "100 per centers" in town.

And their as-let unparalleled effort took place even before the official campaign got underway.

The drive officially begins Monday at 7 a.m. at the kick-off breakfast.

Donald Kinnaird Jr., chairman, said in announcing the first 100 per centers.

"This display of total participation from one organization is one of the finest we've seen in Eastland, and I feel that it may be symbolic of our whole campaign."

"We're hoping to make it one concentrated drive for two weeks and reach our goal," he said.

Hollywood Vassarette employe about 180 women from Eastland and surrounding towns.

The chairman and other campaign officials expressed laudatory praise for the cooperation of the women in contributing in the United Fund.

He also expressed thanks to Mike George, manager here, for encouraging the effort at the factory.

New Books In Brief Review

Mrs. A. E. Cushman, Librarian The Library Committee of the Thursday Afternoon Club have announced several new books purchased for the Eastland Public Library.

Dark Rider by Louis Zarn, is a remarkable novel that teems with life, based on the real life of Stephen Crane.

Ring of Bright Water by Gavin Maxwell. This unusual novel has been on the best sellers list for weeks. It is a unique blend of lonely beauty, and earthy wit in nature. People who loved "Born Free" should love this book.

The Judas Tree by A. J. Cronin is by far the most realistic that he has ever written. It is about a rich charming and accomplished doctor who at last come to grips with himself as a chain of events bring back the past.

Savanna by Janice Holt Giles, is the latest work by this popular author who writes about the early settlers of Kentucky and the South.

United for Success—Beginning Monday

Team captains and United Fund workers Monday at 7 a.m. at First Methodist Church for breakfast.

It's the kick-off for the annual drive and according to chairman Donald Kinnaird Jr., everyone needs to be in their place.

A lot of advance work has already been done. The advance gifts committee has been making contacts—and getting results.

Several firms in Eastland are almost to the 100 per cent mark, and all with at least ten employees will be announced in this newspaper when they reach that goal.

Eastland Boy Scouts, one of the participating UF agencies are getting into the act. They'll start off by being a reminder service Monday morning and later they will distribute handbills telling the UF story.

The goal is $6,838 and Kinnaird says that his workers hope to wind up the campaign in two weeks.

Other than the Boy Scouts, participants are the Red Cross, YMCA, Salvation Army, Camp Fire Girls, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation and Texas United Fund.

Patsy Fox Crowned Credit Union Queen

Miss Patsy Fox, 1959 graduate of Olden High School, and three-year employe of Hollywood Vassarette Co. in Eastland, was crowned queen of that company's credit union Thursday.

Patsy is a second generation employe. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lottie Fox, who also works at the company here.

The petite, pretty brunette was elected Credit Union queen by her fellow employes, and became the organization's fifth queen.

Runners-up for queen honors and reigning in Queen Patsy's court are Mrs. Frances Dooley, a supervisor from Ranger, and Mrs. Shirley Clifton, a machine operator from Carbon, and formerly of Eastland.

Miss Fox is a machine operator and looked especially regal in a special net-over-pink silk dress during the coronation.

The festive event was held in the company's lounge area, and there was a pronounced hush as Patsy was called forward to receive the crown.

Crowning was done by Mrs. Margaret DeFord, who received the same honor last year. Patsy was presented a gift by the company.

Thursday was National Credit Union Day and the scene at the Eastland company was repeated throughout the nation.

About 80 per cent of the employe in Eastland participate in the union. Manager Mike George, reported.

Former Credit Union queens are Hazel Tackett, 1957; Altha McCormick, 1958; Pauline Hill, 1959; and Mrs. DeFord.

Refreshments of coffee, soft drinks and home-made baked delicacies were served during the coronation.

Ranger Youth Arrested for Vandalism

A 12-year-old Ranger youth was arrested Thursday afternoon by Constable Ralph Veale, for vandalism.

Veal received a call from C. R. Rodgers of Cheaney community, about 9 p.m. Wednesday, informing him that a rent house he owned had been badly damaged inside and out. Veal reported that doors, windows, window screens and electrical wiring had been demolished in the house. The house had just recently been vacated by renters.

Veal said that a Cheaney youth, not implicated in the incident, gave him sufficient leads whereby he was able to make the arrest Thursday afternoon.

Charges were not filed against the youth, but his parents will make all necessary repairs to restore the house to its original state, Veal said. The house is located about 10 miles southeast of Ranger.

Service Men's Job Right Protected Up To 4 Years

Congress has amended the Universal Military Training and Service Act to assure persons called to military service during the present military buildup that their civilian job rights will be protected for up to four years.

That fact has brought a lot of calls to Regional Director George M. Dunlap of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Veterans Reemployment Rights here. Individuals, employers, and labor organizations have a variety of questions about the new law, he said.

Basically, the law gives members of the Armed Forces protection of their civilian job rights for up to four years of military service, voluntary or involuntary. The recent amendment provides that those reentering the military after August 1 of this year will not have prior service counted in the four-year period.

"If the amendment (Public Law 87-391) had not been passed, individuals who had served four years during the Korean crisis would not have been eligible for protection under the law," he said.

Dunlap explained that the law also removes the requirement that persons rejected for military duty must have requested a leave of absence from their employer to take physical fitness examinations. It also insures that those who are called for preinduction examination are entitled to remain in their employment pending a final decision as to whether they will be inducted or rejected.

Jaunty new beauty with a road-gentling ride! JET-SMOOTH '62 CHEVROLET

In came the new '62 Chevrolet—and out went the days when you had to plunk down a big bundle to ride around feeling like a king.

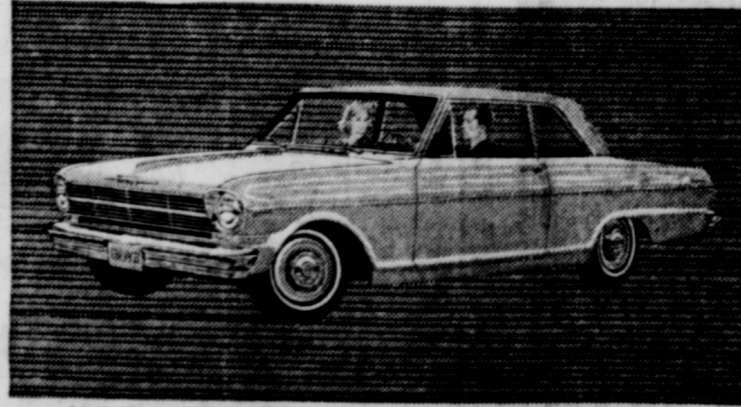

Look at that fresh styling—clean, graceful, tasteful, isn't it? Imagine opening one of those big solid doors, slipping in, sinking down into those sofa-wide seats and taking in the rich new decor. Now, you switch on your engine—a fuel-shy 135-hp. Six or a hustling 170-hp. V8 (both are standard)—or your choice of new V8 vigor up to an optional-at-extra-cost 409-hp. whirlwind—and go, man, go.

Sturdy, stylish and a stickler on savings! THE NEW CHEVY II

How ruggedly simple and dependable can a car get? Here's the answer in a sprightly new line of new-size cars—nine models including sedans, station wagons and the soon-to-be-available hardtop and convertible. They're packed with all the dependability you know you can count on from Chevrolet. And they sport many a neat engineering feat. For instance, sturdy easy-riding Mono-Plate rear springs that eliminate the rubbing and squeaking of multi-leaf springs. Front fenders that bolt on for easy, economical replacement. A low-weight, high-strength body. A fuel nursing 90-hp. 4-cylinder engine or a sassier 120-hp. 6 (you have a choice in most models). If you're ready to do some plain and fancy saving, just have your Chevrolet dealer talk Chevy II to you.

Isn't that Jet-smooth ride something, though? At each wheel a big steely coil spring turning the road into cream and over 700 sound and vibration insulators turning the car into one big quiet zone.

Ahead of you are front fenders with steel undershirts that give extra protection against rust, slush and stones. Behind you there's that goods-gobbling deep-well trunk that loads at bumper level. Really, about the only thing the new Jet-smooth '62 Chevrolet leaves to be desired is—a prompt powwow with your Chevrolet dealer.

Pete Shotwell Is Lions Club Tuesday Speaker

High in the hills, handicapped youngsters find hours of happiness at the Texas Lions Camp near Keerville, Eastland Lions learned Tuesday at their regular luncheon meeting.

Pete Shotwell of Abilene, one of the directors of the camp, spoke briefly to the Lions and then a film showing the work of the camp was shown.

Shotwell is athletic director at Murry College and holds the distinction of having coached three Texas high schools to state championships—Longview, Breckinridge and Abilene.

He has long been associated with the Lions Camp and encouraged the Eastland Lions to recommend children who may be qualified, to the intake committee, of which H. R. Garrett, who was program chairman, is a member.

The free summer camp with group and individual activities is open to blind, deaf, mute and crippled boys and girls ages seven through 16, who can participate fully in the modified camping program offered.

The camp operates five summer sessions beginning the first Sunday in June and each camping period is 13 days.

The camp is dedicated to providing the crippled, blind, deaf and mute youngsters of Texas with a camp of their own where they can have the same kind of summer recreation normally available to other children.

In Remembrance of My Husband, William L. Baker.

We met upon a morning trail
Clasped hands;
And laughing,
Helped each other climb.

Sometimes we slipped
But, with each other's help,
The trail seemed smooth,
And short the climb.

At noon we lingered for awhile,
Hands clasped,
Then made the slow descent.
Nor minded rubble rock.

Somehow along the trail
Dusk found us,
Unclassed our hands,
But could not lose our hearts.

Debate—

etc., at a cost, conservatively estimated at $2,000,000.

"It is unfortunate that we cannot initially talk more on the pros and cons of better education, but available money is one of the major factors in determining what can and cannot be done."

"Actually," Covington said, "what would happen (should the schools consolidate) is this: 29 teachers and administrators would be terminated, their present annual salary is $173,000 would be earmarked to go back to the state to pay on existing indebtedness plus cost of new construction."

Covington used a chart and said: "Let's look at teachers not allowed by the state, (under the consolidation) but absolutely necessary as good as that which we presently have. All of this must be paid out of local tax money (annually):

- "One assist. supt., $6,000;
- "One assist. band dir., $6,000;
- "Five vocational agriculture teachers (state pays for 2—county now has 7), $29,000; three teachers to replace load now carried by nine superintendents, $13,500; and three traveling band and music instructors, $18,000, three traveling voc. ag. teachers, (plus mileage), $17,400, and three traveling economics teachers, $15,900 (these last three categories are for traveling teachers who would teach in the remaining junior highs and freshman classes remaining at the present school sites, should the upper three grades of all the schools be consolidated.)

"Total for additional teachers is $127,000. "We will consider teacher salaries above base allowed by state, but necessary if we are to compete for teachers with other 4-A AAA schools. All of this additional money must come out of local taxes."

"Superintendent, $5,000; head coach, $3,000; assistant coaches (4 at $1,500) $6,000; band director, $2,000; head science department, $1,500; 146 classroom teachers at $500, $73,000; and junior high and freshmen coach for basketball, football, physical education and full-time teaching load (seven at $500, $3,500.) All for a total of $94,000."

"The $94,000 plus $127,000 for additional teachers, plus $40,000 for extra transportation cost due to the Eastland County School Board's maintenance of present, plus extra equipment; plus $9,000 for a minimum of nine buses at $5,000 each figured over a five-year period (average life); plus $60,000 in interest on present indebtedness and cost of proposed new plant at $2,000,000, equals $3,000,000 at three per cent; making grand total of $330,000 for a ten-year period, plus the cost of the $2,000,000 new school plant, equals $5,300,000 that the consolidation would cost out of local tax money, and affording educational facilities equal to what is being offered now."

Continuing, Covington said, "Of prime consideration is the problem of better education, as mentioned earlier if this would result then we would necessarily have to weigh all the other objections against this one. Our opinion is that the reverse would result for several reasons."

"1. The geographic area is too large and too evenly populated to make such a plan practical or desirable."

"2. Such a consolidated school would result in less teachers—or more students per teacher. This is where most of the so called incentive aid comes from, when a school is as large as 1600 ADA one teacher is allowed per each 26 students. In a school of our size one teacher is allowed per each 25 ADA."

"3. There would be a loss of community spirit among students as they would lose their identity with their neighborhood, church and community. This would no doubt result in increased juvenile delinquency."

"4. Larger schools must necessarily be organized along progressive lines. Many educators feel that so called progressive education has set us back many years. The pendulum that swung way to the left after World War II is now swinging back to the thing that originally made us the greatest nation on earth."

"5. An original argument was advanced that more subjects can be offered. We have shown that it is unfortunate, but money does play a part—actually we will be able to offer less because of our present state aid will be earmarked to pay existing indebtedness plus cost of construction.

"6. We know that state accreditation committees will cause schools to lose accreditation if they do not keep up with prescribed standards. We know that we have a clean bill of health in the Ranger School District and do not even expect a visit for 6 or 7 years."

"7. We know that our standards are high. We have students come from other states who have A report cards and that they make C's in our school. We also have students transfer to other schools in the state that are good B-C students—they make A's in the other schools and when they return to Ranger again make to B-C."

"8. We know that our buildings and entire school plant has been improved, additional teaching aids have been purchased, our science laboratories have been improved, new desks have been installed, fluorescent lighting has been installed and many other improvements made to cause us to do the best possible job of educating our students."

"We think that our teachers are doing a good job of preparing themselves in keeping up with new ideas, ones that work. We think to move out of such a school plant into a so called neutral High School would be extremely poor judgement."

"We are opposed to the consolidation plan because the loss of churches and schools completely eliminates the reasons for a town existence, and the loss of a high school, initially, would certainly affect the spirit de corps of the community and its students."

"We are opposed to the consolidation plan advocated, because we still dare say that we are Americans. We believe in the rights of individuals and communities to determine their own course of action and feel that consolidation should take place only when the people, the elected school board members and the school administration feel that such action is desirable."

In his rebuttal, Dr. Whittington read what he called "silly-tistics" which show that "you can prove anything with figures", he said:

- "Under conditions that now exist there is:
- "One school board member for every 50 pupils;
- "One school board member for every 2½ teachers;
- "One school board member for every 360 students;
- "10 high schools for 3,600 students, (12 grades)
- "One school board member or superintendent; for each 248 people in Eastland County;
- "Debts for the next 32 years—pays for buildings that are already obsolete;
- "Our school district were, and still are, designed for horse and buggy operation;
- "Schools are teaching the same way they taught 25 years ago, but offering less subjects; and
- "High schools with 7, 9, and 10 in graduating classes."

Incentive pay figures upon by both debaters are as follows:

For the entire county:

For the consolidation of the nine districts:

Incentive aid payment, $1,512,225.

Local money now paid on old debts	775,471
Total amount available for use	$2,287,695
Debt	$1,500,000
Available after debt	787,000

For consolidation of six districts:

Incentive aid payment, 922,298.
Local money now paid on old debt	475,471.
Total amount available for use	$1,397,760.
Debt	783,164.
Available after debt	$ 614,605.

(This shows that almost as much surplus money can be obtained through incentive aid by consolidating the six districts, excluding Cisco, Rising Star and Scranton, because their existing debts are greater, according to Dr Whittington.)
