

Dodgers Halt Losing Streak With 8-3 Win

BROOKLYN, Sept. 30 (AP)—Johnny Podres, celebrating his 23rd birthday, silenced the Yankees' big bats today and the Dodgers won the third game of the World Series, 8-3. The Yanks still had a 2-1 lead in the series after winning the first two games in their own park.

FIRST INNING
YANKEES: Podres pounced off the mound for Cerv's slow bouncer and threw him out. McDougald raised a fly to Snider in short center. Furillo charged in to make a nice running catch of Berra's sinking liner. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.
DODGERS: Mantle backed up for Gilliam's high fly in center. Reese walked. Snider went down swinging. Campanella hit a home run into the centerfield stands scoring Reese ahead of him. Furillo lined to Mantle in right center. Two runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

SECOND INNING
YANKEES: Mantle crashed a home run into the center field stands. Skowron lined a double over Robinson's head. Howard rolled out, Robinson to Hodges. Skowron held second. Martin struck out.
Rizzuto singled to left and Skowron scored when Campanella took Amoros' throw and then dropped the ball in making the tag. Skowron crashed into Campanella causing the ball to roll into the Dodger dugout. Rizzuto was awarded

New Jet Pilots Told Of Need For Courage

Courage, both physical and intellectual, is the hallmark of armed forces personnel, particularly military pilots, Guilford L. Jones, 118th District Attorney, told members of Webb AFB's jet pilot class 56-A this morning.

The district attorney said the course of training the class had just completed was a stern test of both mental and physical training. The graduation speaker had described courage as a "many-splendored thing," involving the ability to make decisions, perform unpleasant duties as well as take physical risks.

He reminded the new pilots that their responsibility is to help in the enforcement of the laws which govern nations. Jones used as an analogy his own profession of enforcing the laws which govern individual acts.

Jones declared that freedom is not God-given, but is man made. "It must be preserved by man and can be lost by man," the DA warned. "Freedom is maintained by men who adopt the profession of arms and display both physical and intellectual courage."

The graduation exercises were held in the base academics building. Col. C. M. Young, Webb commander, presented the 44 new pilots with their wings. Robert N. Perry was commended as the class' honor student.

Underwood Heads HCJC Student Body

James Lee Underwood, Big Spring, has been elected president of the Student Association at Howard County Junior College. A winner on the first ballot, Underwood is a sophomore student majoring in pre-law and plans to attend the University of Texas at Austin when he leaves HCJC.

Other Big Spring students named in balloting Wednesday and Thursday to student association offices were Vice President Jimmy King, Treasurer Betty Earley and Secretary Jan Burns. Miss Burns was also elected on the first ballot.

Freshman class officers were all chosen from among Big Spring students. They are president, Pat Porter; vice president, Bob Jones; treasurer, Lefty Reynolds; and secretary, Anna Bell Lane.

Robert Robertson, Forsan, president, was the only sophomore class officer chosen on the first ballot. Elected in the runoff were Robert Patterson, Gay Hill, vice president; and Betty Waters, Big Spring, secretary.

Sophomore student council representatives were Charlie Welch, Tarzan, Jimmy Robinson, Clovis, N. M., and Jimmy Castleberry, Meadows.

Freshmen student council representatives were LaVerne Cooper, Betty Earley and Billy McIlvain of Big Spring.

The council will hold its first meeting Monday.

Disastrous Floods Hit Mexican Coast

Flood Ravaged Highway

Knox County Deputy Sheriff H. C. Stone surveys flood damage on a farm-to-market road west of Knox City after flood waters began to recede. The Brazos River changed its course here and completely destroyed about 1,500 feet of pavement, leaving a new "river" in its wake.

Hurricane Death Toll Reaches 400

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Disastrous new floods roared down on Mexico's Gulf Coast today in the wake of Hurricane Janet as the killer storm beat itself out against the Sierra Madre Mountains.

The worst of three hurricanes that smashed into east Mexico this month, Janet already had killed at least 200 Mexicans plus 200 other persons on Caribbean islands.

In the storm's wake, torrential rains swelled rivers already flooding from the northern Tamaulipas state to Veracruz. The toll of dead and displaced was expected to rise hourly.

The three big trans-Caribbean hurricanes — Gladys, Hilda and Janet — already have caused an estimated 600 deaths in Mexico. Property damage is reckoned at some 200 million dollars, almost half the national government's 1955 budget.

Janet's course was obscured during the storm's late hours by the havoc its 120-mile-an-hour winds wreaked on communications. Nautica, a port of 1,500 persons about 75 miles north of Veracruz, was the only populated place in the path. It had just reported a growing gale and high water when connections were abruptly cut.

Veracruz, important port of 120,000, had braced itself for the full force of the hurricane. Janet conspicuously sidestepped the city, but accompanying rains and excessively high tides inundated the port, only four feet above sea level. Main streets were under several feet of water.

Tampico, already under water from the two previous hurricanes and the flooding Pannoco River, reported a new rise in waters. Exhausted from their three-week battle against winds, floods and disease, thousands abandoned the city in a mass exodus.

Tampico's food supply was dropping daily, medical supplies were low, and both typhoid and dysentery had broken out. More than 35,000 refugees from among the city's normal population of 110,000 were still being cared for in concentration centers.

It was believed most of the country's estimated total of 200 deaths from Janet occurred on the Yucatan Peninsula. The towns of Chetumal, Xcalak and Bacalar were virtually wiped off the map when 125-mile winds leveled their wooden buildings.

Reports from Merida, Yucatan, said 125 bodies were buried in a common grave at Chetumal yesterday and that more were being found in the debris. Filers estimated the total dead at Chetumal alone at 170.

Woman Pastor Held In Ike Letter Threat

HOUSTON (AP)—A 50-year-old woman was in the Harris County Jail today on a federal charge of sending a threatening letter to President Eisenhower.

Mrs. Jonnie Mae Shaulfer was remanded to jail by U.S. Commissioner Ralph Fowler after she admitted writing the President a letter which said in part:

"I shall be the means of your death and were it within the providence of Almighty God I would kill you myself, but other hands shall do so at my direction."

The letter itself was addressed to Mr. Dwight David Eisenhower. Mrs. Shaulfer is a pastor of the non-denominational "Church of America."

She said she had been in correspondence with many government officials, warning them and exhorting them to turn from their ways.

Mrs. Shaulfer moved to Houston six weeks ago from Brenham where she and her 84-year-old husband own a large country home once used as the Brenham Country Club.

In Brenham a few years ago Mrs. Shaulfer attracted some attention by throwing rocks through the front of a liquor store. She is known for vigorous opposition to alcohol in all its forms.

The woman claims to be a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She said that her chief interest is in protecting the Constitution of the United States.

Kidnaping Suspects Freed Under Bond

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—Roy Bryant and John W. Milam, charged with kidnaping the 14-year-old Chicago boy they were found innocent of murdering, were freed under $10,000 bonds today on the kidnap charge.

An all-white male jury at Sumner in neighboring Tallahatchie County took 67 minutes last week to find the half-brothers innocent of murdering Emmett Louis Till.

When questioned about the heart attack the President suffered last Saturday, Mrs. Shaulfer replied: "I don't think I was directly responsible."

Her letter to Eisenhower, she said, was not her first to a president. "I count it a privilege to fight for the Constitution," she said.

She added that she has two sons who served in the Marine Corps and the Navy but that "I'm out of touch with them. They aren't familiar with my views."

ONLY 9 PICKED Washburn Jury Search Continues

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Attorneys refused to give up today in their search for 12 unbiased jurors to try Harry L. Washburn on a charge of murder.

Only nine jurors have been picked from a total of 112 prospective jurors questioned. Most of those turned down said they had a fixed opinion as to what Washburn's fate should be.

Of 14 veniremen remaining to be questioned this morning, the first 11 were excused after being questioned. Another panel of 75 was scheduled to report at 1:30 p.m.

Washburn watched very closely as the veniremen were questioned. There still was doubt that 12 men and women who are unopinionated and believe in the death penalty—which the state is asking—could be obtained.

Washburn is accused of killing Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver, 51, his former mother-in-law, last Jan. 19 with a dynamite bomb that was hidden in a family car.

Not a single juror was picked yesterday afternoon in five hours of questioning 25 persons from a panel of prospective jurors.

However, defense attorney Clift Tupper remained optimistic. "We're going to get a jury," he told reporters, "maybe tomorrow."

X-Ray Survey To Begin Here Today

The mass X-ray equipment was being moved into the court house this morning for the beginning of the chest X-rays here today at 1 p.m. Approximately 600 were X-rayed Thursday at the State Hospital.

Persons may be X-rayed from 1-6 p.m. today and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. The hours will be the same each day next week. The X-ray program is sponsored by the Howard County Tuberculosis Association.

All seven members of the Gordon Jackson family had escaped unharmed from their blazing frame house until 4-year-old Kathleen ran back into the blazing ruins to rescue her doll.

She perished in the flames along with her mother, Mrs. Mildred Jackson, 29, who rushed into the burning house to save the girl. Another daughter, Patsy May, 6, who followed her mother back into the fire, died a short while later in an Oph hospital.

The father, 35-year-old Gordon Jackson, got Patsy May out of the house with her clothes aflame. He was badly burned. A 2-year-old boy, J. G. Jackson, toddling behind the father, was seriously burned. The father also pulled him out.

Child's Love For Doll Brings Death To 3 Of Family

OPP, Ala. (AP)—A child's love for her doll cost the lives of three members of a tenant farmer's family near here early today in a fire that destroyed their home.

'Business As Usual'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's Cabinet decided today there are "no obstacles to the orderly and uninterrupted conduct" of the nation's foreign and domestic affairs during the President's illness.

He has just had a physical checkup at a Temple hospital and the doctors there reported he is making good progress. He faces two more thorough examinations before the medical men will be willing to give him a ticket back to Congress, but Johnson is confident he'll make the grade.

The morning Johnson was host to Adlai Stevenson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn here, he was up before 7 a.m. and driving a group of newsmen and photographers over the ranch to show off his fine fat Hereford cattle and wool-matted sheep. He avoids strenuous exercise, but by a rigid diet shared by Mrs. Johnson—who gives no appearance of needing it—the senator has trimmed his weight to 175 from 220. He stays outdoors much of the time. His face is lean and tanned, his eyes sharp, his speech crisp, his walk deliberate but positive.

Johnson is up early every morning but takes a long afternoon rest including a nap. Then he works late—sometimes until 11:30 p.m.—and says he sleeps extraordinarily well.

It's The Same Sad Tale This Week--No Winners

Someone got all the words right some of the time, but no one got all the words right all the time—and thus it's the same sad story: No winners again on the Cashword Puzzle!

A total of 10,924 solutions were submitted, the second highest number on record in The Herald's word contest.

The prize total goes up to $475 base next week, with another $50 if the winner is a regular subscriber of The Herald. There is a $2.50 payment if entries are mailed on a postcard instead of in an envelope.

Several firms are also offering a bonus of $150 if the winning entry is left in their places of business. So for goodness sake, won't you please win it? For the official solution of this week's puzzle, please turn to Page 2.

Johnson's hopes of returning to the active leadership in the Senate are especially significant in view of revived Democratic optimism that would help put a Democrat in the White House next year, but they would not take unfair advantage of the President in the process.

Preparing For Martin County Fair Opening

Mrs. Nell Fryar was putting on the finishing touches to the Lomax community exhibit Friday morning in anticipation of the opening of the Martin County Fair at Stanton at 3 p.m. Mrs. Lawrence Adkins and Mrs. Doris Bliskard had been giving a helping hand to shaping the display. Scores of other exhibits were packed into the Martin County Barn, where the fair is being held. Judging was to be completed before the fair opening, except for livestock judging Saturday morning. The fair remains open until 9 p.m. today, although it may shift momentarily today to Buffalo Field where Stanton meets the Odessa B team in an 8 p.m. football game.

THE WEATHER

BIG SPRING AND VICINITY: Fair and warm with light showers, tonight and Saturday.
High today 83, low tonight 68, high tomorrow 80.
Highest temperature since date 87 on 11-11-1924, lowest 33 on 1-22-1945, maximum wind gust 41 on 1-22-1945, this date 18 in 1941.

WATER SHORTAGE

Taxpayers Repeat Gripe; In Reverse

By ROGER D. GREENE
WASHINGTON (U)—Fifteen years ago the residents of Grand Rapids, Mich., complained bitterly at the expense of building a 35-mile-long pipeline to bring water to the city from Lake Michigan.

Today the city's taxpayers are grumbling: "Who built that one-horse system back in 1940? Now we've got to build one a lot bigger."

A 48-state survey by The Associated Press shows the Grand Rapids episode is typical of hundreds of U.S. cities and towns.

Caught in a three-way squeeze between fast-growing population, booming industry, and recurring dry spells, countless communities are suddenly discovering their water facilities just won't do the job.

Only three states — Idaho, Mississippi and Rhode Island—reported no water shortage problems.

Inequities, smoldering feuds and open conflicts have arisen in many areas as water supplies run low. Laws involving water rights have become extremely complicated and conflicting. In the East, where the old Roman and English law of riparian rights prevails, you can be sued by just about anybody who thinks your use of the water is "unreasonable."

In the West, which still clings mostly to the pioneer law of first come, first served, some water rights date back to the gold-rush era.

Just a few months ago, in Texas, the State Supreme Court ruled that the city of Corpus Christi acted within its rights when it pumped huge quantities of water from wells near the town of Pleasanton and transported it via the Nueces River more than 100 miles to Corpus Christi—even though the Pleasanton wells suffered from the city's "invasion."

Texas is desperate for new water supplies, and even Michigan, surrounded on three sides by 87,170 square miles of fresh water, has its tongue hanging out in many places.

In the booming Detroit area, some 20 outlying communities which have sprung up in the mass march to the suburbs have been tapping the city's water supply. As a result, Detroit has been forced to install a new 200-million-gallon pumping station, and police-enforced water bans have been clamped down in the area.

Detroit's giant auto industry is watching the situation with serious concern: It takes 15,570 gallons of water, mostly for cooling hot metals, to produce one automobile.

In Arizona, officials report that unless new water supplies can be found, 800,000 acres now under cultivation may go idle. The state's underground water table in some places has dropped as much as 150 feet in 10 years—18 feet in the last 12 months.

California, with a population of 13½ million which is expected to reach 23½ million by 1975, is working feverishly to bring in new supplies but is pumping water from ground sources at an alarming rate. The overdraft is estimated at a staggering 1,000 billion gallons a year.

Colorado, with water shortages in nearly every section of the state, gloomily watches the Colorado River quench the thirst of distant states while its mile-high capital, Denver, sweats out a critical shortage.

Experts say New Mexico's underground water table is dropping so fast in the eastern High Plains that supplies may be exhausted within 40 years.

Contrary to the picture in many states, North Dakota reports that its ground-water tables have risen "tremendously" as a result of abundant rains over the last decade. Officials say the state hasn't had a crop failure stemming from drought in the last 15 years.

Sultan Offers To Step Down In Favor Of Kin

RABAT, French Morocco (U)—Embattled Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa offered today to quit the Moroccan throne if he can turn his powers over to a member of his own family.

The first public break in the 74-year-old ruler's determination to keep the post the French gave him two years ago came after French Resident General Pierre Boyer de Latour du Moulin ordered the arrest of his chief aide, protocol chief Aber Rahman el Hajoul.

El Hajoul sped off in his white Cadillac before dawn toward Casablanca, two jeeps of police in hot pursuit. Boyer de Latour charged the protocol chief, a Europeanized man in his mid-30s, had exercised "inadmissible pressure" on the Sultan, who refused to quit.

Although Moulay Arafa attempted to put conditions on his long-expected departure, his troubled hold on the throne appeared to be drawing rapidly to an end.

French Premier Edgar Faure's government has promised Moroccan Nationalists to remove the old man as the first step in a settlement to end the violence in the North African protectorate and give it some measure of self-rule.

State Bar Sets Committees To Handle Grievance Cases

Maurice R. Bullock of Fort Stockton, president of the State Bar of Texas, this week announced two steps the Bar is taking to guarantee that attorneys live up to their qualifications as "officers of the courts."

Bullock announced a prosecuting committee in each congressional district to handle grievance cases against lawyers; and the appointment of John R. Grace of Hearne, general counsel of the State Bar, to head prosecution of such cases on a statewide basis.

Committee appointments in the 19th Congressional District include: Robert B. Snell, Lamesa; Alvin R. Allison, Levelland; Elton Gilliland, Big Spring; and Joe Sharp, Plainview.

Bullock's appointments were made on the recommendation of Lloyd A. Wicks of Rails, State Bar director for the 19th District.

The state bar chief said if the grievance committee of any district decides that a case filed against a lawyer for misconduct or malpractice is of such a nature that it should be prosecuted, the prosecuting committee, assisted by the general counsel, will be charged with bringing the alleged offender to trial.

He said this is the first time in the history of the State Bar that a special prosecuting committee in each congressional district has been

Russia Frees German PWs

MOSCOW (U)—The Soviet Union, keeping its promises to the Germans, is releasing 9,636 German war prisoners.

The Moscow press today published a decree of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet ordering 8,887 of the prisoners freed outright.

The Presidium said the other 749, because of the "special gravity" of their offenses against the Russian people, would be handed over for further disposition to the East or West German governments, depending on their original residences.

Premier Nikolai Bulganin told West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during their talks here earlier this month that Russia would release the prisoners. This was the principal condition Adenauer fixed for opening diplomatic relations between Moscow and Bonn.

The West Germans claim the Soviets have not accounted for 80,000 to 100,000 German prisoners, but Bulganin insisted Soviet records show only the 9,636. He agreed, however, to make a further check.

The big question in the West has been whether the Russians would give West Germany or Communist East Germany credit for negotiating the prisoners' release. The Presidium's decree divided the credit. It said the action was being taken in response to requests by both West and East Germany and because of the long period since the war ended.

Here's The SOLUTION To CASHWORD PUZZLE NO. 34

Explanation Of More Difficult Clues

- CLUES ACROSS:
- 4. For a thief, it is natural to be grateful to a man who gets him off, thus enabling him to cheat the law. Many a thief will merely think that man who lets him off is a fool. Gets inners that he has been apprehended by the law; Lets is not necessarily the case.
 - 7. Trawler is the stronger answer to the clue. Practically every child has been in a Trailer of one kind or another—even a box on wheels can become a Trailer.
 - 10. Solo best fits the clue. In Polo, practice in playing it is certainly expected to improve a team's, or a player's performance. As for Solo, there might be no playing at all required—as in the case of singing a Solo, for example.
 - 14. "Shameful" favors Shout. To hire ruffians to shoot a man down is certainly far more than "shameful".
 - 15. "Though very old" favors Cat, which, because of its age, may no longer be of use in catching mice, etc. The age of a Cot, which is more commonly considered as a bed for a child, is immaterial. A Cot may still be kept for sentimental reasons, no longer of use.
 - 17. An ordinary Jug would not make a good present, whereas a "nice, ornamental" one might do so. "Nice, ornamental" is an unnecessary description for Rug. Mug is not favored.
 - 18. Throng is best. "At coronation time" (not "at a coronation") covers quite a broad period, and thus favors Throng. The Throne is only "much in evidence" at the actual crowning ceremony.
 - 21. Snare is best. Since only animals Snarl at animals, it would be more apt to say that a Snarl might frighten another animal away since there are two animals involved. A Snare might frighten an animal away.
- CLUES DOWN:
- 3. Pep, yes. The child might be much too young to have a Pen; and it might be best, for various reasons, for it not to have a Pet—for medical reasons, for example. But every loving mother wants her child to have Pep.
 - 12. During a Rout, it is not uncommon for there to be displays of courage by some of the many men involved. In a Bout, the boxers may put up a display of courage—not more than one display at one time. Thus the plural form favors Rout.
 - 15. Confute is best since it usually requires intelligence to disprove the arguments of a speaker, which is what Confute means. It often requires little intelligence for the average heckler to Confuse a speaker, which can usually be done by constant interruptions, stupid questions, etc.

NO WITCH DOCTOR

Negro Leader Is Well-Educated Man

(Editor's Note: Last week this space was devoted to Ross Carlton, the Dallas lawyer who leads the progressive Texas Citizens Council. Today, the subject is a leading exponent of integration.)

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff
"I like to get to the bottom of things," said the stocky, light-skinned Negro.

"In Africa I'd have been the tribes witch doctor. If I'd been born in darkness I'd have gone to the depths of darkness."

"I was fortunate to be born in America, in the light."

U. Simpson Tate, Southwest regional counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, thought a moment and added:

"I know the penalty of ignorance and backwardness."

Tate's job is to go into the court-rooms of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico and fight for Negro rights.

Right now he gives most of his time to defending their rights to attend public schools on the basis of equality. He says he has been treated fairly and even kindly by white lawyers struggling to keep Negro children out of their schools.

Tate, 35, has a square, impressive face. His eyes are lined from a lifetime of reading ("I like knowledge for knowledge's sake.") There is gray in his hair and his small mustache but his eyebrows stand out darkly against his brown skin.

Tate's lesson in the penalty of ignorance began on the farm in Monroe County, Alabama, where he and nine older brothers and sisters were born. His father reached the third grade, his mother the fifth or sixth . . . and then taught school.

When his mother died the Tates moved to Jackson, Miss., where Tate finished eighth grade. No Mississippi Negro school went beyond the eighth grade.

His father died and Tate went where many Negroes were going then—into the meat packing plants of Chicago. He soon moved to St. Louis where he lived with an aunt and became a railroad dining car waiter.

"The dining car waiters were what you call 'sports' and when they came in off their run they would make a tour of St. Louis taverns," Tate recalled. "I developed a taste for liquor. My aunt and I came to a parting of the ways."

He joined the Navy after seeing a sign saying "Join the Navy and see the World." He spent his enlistment as a messboy at Annapolis Naval Academy, learned barbering on the side, and discovered for the first time that some Negroes have college educations.

"I decided I wanted a college education," Tate recalled wryly.

Tate was then 21. For the next 25 years—until he was 46 years old—he kept himself in various schools and colleges by barbering, slicing bread, choir singing, selling insurance and other jobs.

He emerged with a master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania and a law degree from Howard University. He had his education in full measure.

He also had a job, as auditor for the CIO United Federal Workers union in Washington, D.C. But he quit because the union "became identified with a left-wing faction of the CIO and I saw there was no place in it for me."

Tate set up a Washington law partnership with Austin Fickling, now assistant U.S. district attorney for the District of Columbia, and Leon A. Ransom, a Howard University law professor who set scholastic records in graduating from Ohio State's law school.

He was just beginning to taste the fruits of a quarter century of study when an old classmate asked a favor. Thurgood Marshall, now renowned as NAACP's chief counsel and Tate's classmate years before at Lincoln University in Pennsylvania, asked him to take the Dallas NAACP post.

He arrived in Dallas Nov. 2, 1948 and has been busy ever since.

Until a few months ago his office was in an old building on Jackson Street. It was part of about $300,000 in property given to the Dallas Community Chest by Mrs. Pearl C. Anderson, Dallas Negro woman. The NAACP's new office—two rooms—is in a two-story insurance building at 2606 Flora St.

His law books are in box-like shelves lining the walls, in which hang pictures of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Abraham Lincoln and the late NAACP president Walter White. NAACP members, among them many white people, are in and out all the time.

Tate lives alone in a 5-room white frame house with no television or air-conditioner but a wide strip in back where "I have grown as many as 14 vegetables at one time, not to eat but just to see things grow." There's a truck driver across the street, a special delivery messenger on one side, a mattress company worker on the other.

"I'm proud I'm getting old without a loss of faith in mankind," said Tate. "I sincerely believe the great bulk of the people of the South, white and black, believe in the basic tenets of democracy."

Texas U. Gets Kellogg Grants

AUSTIN — Two grants from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich. will aid the cause of education in this region.

The University of Texas has a $55,200 grant to support an intensive effort to improve school administration in the Southwest. The program, which includes the cooperative efforts of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas will cover four years.

Another $45,000 has been advanced by the foundation to support a program to develop adequately prepared school principals.

"More and more our hope for educational efficiency rests upon having able men and women in the school principalship," said L. D. Haske, dean of the university College of Education. Attention will be focused upon work inside school systems, rather than upon the college campus. Long range objective is to develop procedures and content that will enable each school system to produce the kind of principals it needs for the years ahead.

"I decided I wanted a college education," Tate recalled wryly.

Fire Under The Powder Keg

The agreement under which the Soviet Union has contracted to sell arms to Egypt has the U.S. and Great Britain understandably perturbed. They have made a direct appeal to Moscow to help in limiting the sale of heavy armaments to Egypt and the Middle East, but as of this writing Moscow was saying nothing.

Soviet "new look"—the acid test of those brassy smiles the Communist highbros have been cultivating. It is the first real opportunity, in terms of military cold-bloodedness, for the Soviet to prove its sincerity by meeting President Eisenhower's formula of "deeds, not words."

Opportunity To Learn

Regardless of the young man's qualities and capabilities, we believe most Americans of whatever political faith would agree with President Eisenhower's policy of giving Vice President Nixon a wider range of activity and a greater amount of information on the presidential office than any vice president ever enjoyed.

the atomic bomb project after he was sworn in as President, from Secretary of War Stimson. For the first week in office he spent every spare moment, day and night, being briefed on the intricacies of foreign policy, and hearing for the first time that Russia was already winking out of its Yalta agreements.

J. A. Livingston 4-Year College Scholarships Open

This is in praise of selfishness—more politely known as self-interest. It's in praise of capitalism, in which self-interest is given wide rein. Finally, it's in praise of the Ford Foundation, which, by seeing that the nation's mental capital is replenished, regenerated, and not wasted, is helping to preserve America's brand of capitalism, of which it is such an outstanding product.

principals of the nation's high and preparatory schools will be asked to nominate candidates to compete for four-year National Merit Scholarships. After screening, the more promising candidates in each state will then be given the supervised Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board.

Specifically, this is a chortle of gladness that the Ford Foundation has contributed $20,000,000 to establish the National Merit Scholarship Corporation to provide college educations for the young men and women of America—not on the basis of family wealth, or ability to make touchdowns, but on the basis of educational potential—on the basis of capacity to be of service to society, to capitalism.

The highest scorers in these tests will be asked to send school records, biographical data, and recommendations from teachers and others. Then the awards will be made—on the basis of scholarship and well-roundedness. Race, religion, or color are to be ignored as criteria.

Here is the complete answer to the charge that this is a country for the rich. Here is capitalistic self-interest hard at work.

Initially, about 300 scholarships will be awarded. But the goal is 4,000, if contributions permit. Other contributors, along with Ford and Carnegie, were Sears, Roebuck & Co. and Rime, Inc. The amount of the scholarships will vary. A winner whose family can well afford to pay will be given a token honorarium. A poor boy will have all his expenses paid—tuition, books, board and room, etc.

Mindful of this, corporations have been generous in recent years in their gifts to colleges and universities. The list of givers is a Who's Who in Industry—Union Carbide & Carbon, General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Electric, Scott Paper and so on.

These merit scholarships come under the head of human husbandry. We look upon copper, oil, coal, iron as America's great resources. A bad error. Brains, ability, and a thrust-forward spirit in youth are far more important assets—to be exploited, developed and nurtured, not squandered, Resources, without brains and knowhow, equal nothing.

Right now, and every fall hereafter, the

The "poor boy makes good" saga has become an American cliché. Yet many a poor boy who might have made good with the proper training never had that training. His brains and ability were lost. The National Merit Scholarship Corporation contributes to protect society—and me—against such loss. And it protects business and capitalism too.

In spite of such cultural adornments as washing machines, air conditioners, and nylon, this is still a tooth-and-claw world. General Electric, Westinghouse and Allis-Chalmers not only compete with one another but with companies all over the world. Great Britain has proved how tough that competition can be—in making low bids on several American power jobs. In the world of the future, American corporations will undoubtedly compete more and more with one another, with other western nations, and with Russia—this last, peaceably, we hope.

We can't afford to fall behind in this competition. Industrial efficiency is measured by the number of manhours required to convert iron ore into steel, raw petroleum into gasoline, cotton into shirts, and steel into electronic computers. But the better the man behind the processes, behind the machinery, the greater the efficiency.

So, when the Ford Foundation and business men provide funds for the training of youth—and for the support of universities—they are being selfish in the most enlightened sense. They are perpetuating their own class—the managerial, industrial and technological elite—by seeing that this country has a continuing supply of intelligence and knowhow. They are underwriting the long-term industrial efficiency of tomorrow—as well as its culture.

Hal Boyle World Series Is The Worst—Gee, Thanks!

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidewalk reflections of a Pavement Plato:

Do you feel like going into hibernation every year when baseball holds its World Series?

There is something emotionally wrong with an adult who becomes upset or depressed because his favorite baseball team loses.

1. What Eisenhower's decision will be on running again.

Many thoughtful people do. They can't stand the frightful mass hypocrisy that grips the American people at these periods of general lunacy, a spectacle disheartening to all who hope for progress in the human race.

Baseball is a national pastime only for submarginal groups. Here are the real national pastimes of most adult Americans:

2. If he doesn't run, whom will he support as the man to carry on the program he has launched.

Who are you for — the New York Yankees or the Brooklyn Dodgers? That is the "croo-shu!" question. Many an honest man, if he told the truth, would reply: "I couldn't care less which team won if they both were made up of polar bears. What do they mean in my life?"

While on the subject of denouncing professional baseball, there is one other thing I would like to point out. The World Series is just about the worst example of —

3. In all the confusion, there are some certainties: The Republicans will depend on Eisenhower in the 1960 campaign in one way or another.

But tradition makes cowards of us all. Millions of Americans affect a phony interest in the outcome for fear that — if they expressed the frank fact — that all professional baseball gives them a big fat yawn — they would be looked upon as radicals trying to destroy the American way of life.

(Editor's Note: Boyle never finished this piece, the big hypocrite. Somebody just gave him a ticket to today's game — and off he ran.)

4. As any real year-round fan knows, a World Series audience is snobs, not baseball enthusiasts.

Attendance is a sign of prestige, that you're one of the people in the inner circle. A ticket is a badge of success.

A dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan is as lonesome at a World Series game as a music lover at the opening night of the Metropolitan Opera.

5. But this means coming up with a nominee who supports the Eisenhower policies and who is support-

However, it is difficult for anyone with common sense to work up any deep sympathy for the forlorn baseball addict unable to beg, buy or steal a World Series ticket.

Excited, he shifted into reverse and backed into a 10-foot ditch. More excited, he jumped from the car and fell face downward into a puddle of water.

Institutional investors include: pension funds, life, fire and casualty insurance companies, mutual savings banks, mutual funds, personal trusts, estates, guardianships, investment clubs, educational institutions, religious foundations and profit sharing plans.

Traders watching this week's nervous market have been asking: What are the institutions doing? These have many of the largest holdings of stocks. And when they enter the market it's news.

A Senate subcommittee is eyeing the general role of the institutional investor in the stock market.

The institutions point out that because they neither rush in rashly to buy nor panic easily and sell, they are a stabilizing influence on the market.

Breach Of Promise

SINGAPORE (AP)—Six pretty Malay girl receptionists with easy smiles and charm are making travel more pleasant on the Maylayan Railway. But trouble is brewing.

Traders and estates are more important as sellers than as buyers. Pension funds account for a much larger percentage of total purchases than they do of sales.

The railway traffic operating union complains that the management had promised that present employees would have first choice when vacancies came to be filled.

Instead, the union charges, the management broke that understanding by appointing the six girl receptionists at stations in Singapore and Kuala Lumpur "whose only connection with the railway was that they had probably travelled once or twice by train."

Texas Beats U.S. Average In World Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Easterners who think of Texas mostly in terms of prairies, cowboys and oil wells would find a few surprises in the latest issue of "Maritime Affairs."

Published here by the Committee of American Steamship Lines, the September "Maritime Affairs" says Texas exports now are 2 1/2 times the per capita national average and are increasing at nearly 3 times the national rate.

A million Texans have jobs that benefit directly from foreign trade and merchant shipping, the magazine says. It reports that in 1953, the latest year for which complete figures are readily available, shipments from Texas included cotton valued at 272 million dollars; petroleum products 163 million; wheat 143 million; chemicals and chemical products 66 million; machinery and vehicles 56 million, and rice 40 million.

"Texas is almost a model of two-way international trade," the magazine says. "Its well-balanced industrial and agricultural economy has learned to make ships work for it." It gives these further statistics:

Imports through Texas ports in 1954, largely to supply Texas industries with raw materials, were valued at 341 million dollars. All exports and imports through Texas ports last year had a total value of a $1,300,000,000, not counting a $100,000,000 worth of defense department shipments.

Nearly 4,000 ocean-going ships, including foreign flag as well as American-operated vessels, call annually at Texas ports.

These facts are stock-in-trade to a tall, trim 53-year-old Houstonian in Washington—Tom P. Bartie, a vice president of Lykes Bros. Steamship Co.

Bartie handles details of contracts with the government in connection with operation of five separate trade routes Lykes ships follow over the globe. He also seeks business for his company at foreign embassies and among American manufacturers sending their products abroad.

"Our ships sail out of ports all along the Gulf of Mexico," he said in an interview. "Sometimes I find people back here amazed to learn the volume of shipping to and from Texas ports."

"In fact, I wonder whether the average Texan stops to realize how vital shipping is to our state."

Born just outside of Houston at Conroe, Bartie has literally grown up with the shipping industry of Houston. He went to work in 1919, when just out of high school, with a steamship company operating out of Houston.

"That was just four years after the 5-mile ship channel was dredged giving us an outlet to the sea," he recalled.

"It was a real event when a ship came up from Galveston. We all stopped our work and went out to watch her tie up, or turn around." In 1929 Bartie went to Dallas to work for the Port of Houston, acquainting business men with the advantages of shipping through Texas' new port. He remained in Dallas until 1932, returning to Houston to join up with Lykes. He was sent to Baltimore by Lykes in 1935 and remained there until 1945, when he came to Washington to open up an office here. In 1951 he was made vice president.

During his years in Dallas, Bartie met and married the former Patsy Pruitt. They have a son, Tom Jr., 16.

Coffee Prices May Tumble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Coffee prices should tumble before the year's end, more than erasing the recent retail price boosts which ranged up to 4 cents a pound.

This was the consensus today of trade observers here, who noted a world surplus of coffee is expected and new harvests start coming to market in November and December.

Prices might break even before November, the observers said, should coffee-growing Brazil soon go ahead with a long-rumored currency devaluation which would make her coffee cheaper in terms of U.S. dollars.

SGT. LAZO GETS DIPLOMA
Maj. Wall presents certificate

Webb Sergeant Gets High Grade On AF Course

M-Sgt. Julian S. Lazo, Headquarters Squadron Section of the 3560th Maintenance and Supply Group at Webb AFB, has received a certificate of graduation from the Aircraft Maintenance Officer's Course with a general average of 96.

The certificate was signed by Col. M. A. Kempton, Commandant of the USAF Institute, and was presented by Maj. Riden Wall, group commander, in a ceremony in the office of the M and S Group commander.

Accompanying the certificate was a letter from Col. Kempton and one from Maj. Wall, congratulating Lazo on his achievement.

Sgt. Lazo has been at Webb since his activation. He enlisted at Fort Sam Houston in 1930 and has served continuously since that time. He said that he had spent many years in the practical side of maintenance of aircraft, but that the course provided answers to many questions that had plagued him through the years.

Lazo said that he spent three to four hours, twice each week, in addition to Saturday and Sunday afternoons, in preparation for the examinations.

The sergeant is married and has three children; one boy and two girls.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The main highway between Laredo and Mexico City was shut off for the second time within a week yesterday by Hurricane Janet.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Big Dame Hunting

Dear Miss Brandow:

It seems so hard to interest boys unless you are willing to pet, and every girl seems to have such a lot of competition in getting dates. Then when she finds one she likes, he doesn't like her. Why?

Betsy

What is and what seems to be are often two different things. Suppose we evaluate this statistically and not according to heart-throbs. Each year there are 107 boys born in comparison with 100 girls. Wars and dangerous jobs leave each generation with more adult women than men, but this has no substantial bearing on high school age people.

Actually there are not quite enough girls to go around during the teen years.

Competition for dates is greater than it used to be for a nice girl because so many girls have lowered their standards. When boys want a fling they don't pick the girl with "standards," but when they get rose-covered cottage ideas you may be sure that Miss Particular is the one who heads the list. It's the petters who are forever stuck with more petting and little hope of a rewarding home life and security.

The best reason for not petting that I know of is this. If you like the fellow a lot you're running a terrible chance of losing him by permitting liberties.

When you find your ideal you wonder why you aren't his. There are loads of possible reasons, but if you like him because you have a great deal in common, then it stands to reason that it is entirely possible for him to be attracted to you.

Men, you surely know, like to hunt and fish for the sport of it. They like the thrill of succeeding in the face of difficult odds. No girl who is too willing or easily won gets her ideal.

Make him think he is achieving something in winning your interest. It will inflate his ego, give him untold personal satisfaction, and he'll love you for it.

No man mounts over his mantel the head of a moose who fainted at his feet.

Thurman To Head District US Drive

DALLAS (AP)—Ira L. Thurman of Big Spring, has been named chairman of District No. 23 on the Texas united defense fund, the state-wide group which will sponsor USO's campaign for $640,000 in Texas this year. This district includes Howard, Martin, Mitchell, and Nolan counties.

Thurman was appointed by John Butler, Midland, who is regional campaign chairman of the forthcoming fund appeal to carry on the services of the USO.

EVIDENCE SHOWS

Kremlin Rejects Inspection Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Moscow radio broadcasts provided new evidence today that the Soviet Union has in fact rejected President Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of aerial inspection and military blueprints in advance of an agreement on a complete, global disarmament program.

While avoiding criticism of Eisenhower, Moscow broadcasts recorded here are beginning to attack it as an "inspection-without-arms-reduction plan."

One broadcast contended it would tend instead to speed up arms output if one nation, found itself lagging behind the other.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin sent the President a long personal letter last week in which he raised many objections to the plan. He did not object to the principle, but argued that the steps Eisenhower proposed should be taken as parts of a fully developed arms reduction system.

Eisenhower's idea has been to short-circuit the lengthy negotiations necessary to develop a global program and get the United States and Russia to take directly the simple and dramatic actions he outlined as a means of creating world confidence in their peaceful intentions.

Some qualified officials privately considered Bulganin's reply "a polite rejection." Others publicly took the line that it kept the door open for further negotiations.

The Moscow broadcasts recorded here were made Sept. 27 and 28.

The one Sept. 27 was a broadcast for Russians of a Pravda article by M. Marinin, who argued:

"Some people propose to divide international control and the arms drive into two parallel lines which would never meet."

What Your Quarterback Membership Does

Mayor G. W. Dabney has proclaimed Saturday as Quarterback Day in Big Spring, urging residents to become members of the Quarterback Club. It is not, as some suppose, purely a football organization but one for all high school athletes. To illustrate this, the mayor called together representatives of the various sports backed by the Quarterback Club—Jimmy Byce for basketball; Rick Terry, baseball; Richard Engle, track; Stormy Edwards (in front of the mayor), golf; Jerry Graves, football; Jacqueline Smith, tennis; Clara Freeman, cheer leader; Shirley Ray, volleyball. So there it is—exactly as the mayor says—an entire program that needs everyone's backing.

L. M. Roberts Dies Here Today

Lemuel Marion Roberts, 65, resident of Howard and Martin counties for the past 35 years, died this morning in a hospital here. He had been ill for about a month.

Mr. Roberts farmed in both Howard and Martin County since moving to this area from Rannels County in 1920. He was born Nov. 8, 1883, in Rannels.

He was a member of the Church of Christ at 14th and Main.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his wife, Mrs. L. M. Roberts of Big Spring; five daughters, Mrs. J. B. Shockey and Mrs. Cecil Shockey of Knott, Mrs. L. R. Lewis of Big Spring, Mrs. E. D. Holcomb of Lamasa and Lillie Mae Roberts of Big Spring; four brothers, Monroe, Sidney, Archie Lee and Howard Roberts, all of Abilene; five sisters, Mrs. J. W. Miller of Big Spring and Mrs. Willie Starks, Mrs. Buster Franklin, Mrs. Vada Lee West and Mrs. Zona Cameron; all of Abilene; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Church of Christ at 14th and Main with the minister, Lyle Price, officiating. Interment will be in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of the Nalley Funeral Home.

Palbearers will be Donald Allred, Barney Nichols, Henry Sample, Roy Williams, Floyd Howland, Varney Jones and Lonnie Smith, all of Knott, and Tom Castle of Big Spring.

Attack Fatal To A. F. Johnson

Arthur Felton Johnson, 54, of 1905 Donley Street, died at 11 p.m. Thursday following a heart attack.

Funeral for the long-time resident of Big Spring has been set for 2 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Johnson had suffered an acute attack about 9 p.m. Thursday and was rushed to the hospital, where he rallied slightly before he died two hours later.

Born in Baird on Nov. 19, 1901, he moved here 35 years ago and was employed in the Texas & Pacific shops. When the railroad was dismantled, he became the boiler inspector for Webb AFB, a position he held at the time of his death.

He was a long-time member of the First Methodist Church.

The Rev. Jordan Grooms, First Methodist pastor, will officiate and burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of River Funeral Home.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Audrey Johnson; two daughters, Mrs. Felton Louise Hoeger, San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Dorothy Jean Burnham, Big Spring; two grandchildren, his mother, Mrs. C. E. Johnson Sr., Big Spring; three brothers, J. T. Johnson, C. E. Johnson Jr., and Jack F. Johnson, all of Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Mrs. A. A. Porter, and Minnie Earl Johnson, all of Big Spring; and several nephews and nieces.

Palbearers will be Jack Owens, J. S. Swindell, A. E. Walker, Clyde McMahon, L. D. Chrane and Ted Frost.

Beginner's Driving License Approved

Fourteen-year-old Wynell Fortenberry was approved for a beginner's driving license Thursday by a Citizens' Traffic Commission.

Betty Harris was charged with forging a check for $30 and passing the instrument to E. W. Alexander. Name of Buse Lloyd was signed to the check. Complaint was made by Alexander.

Fair Weather U.S. Prospect

There was a little cooling and rain in some areas but fair, pleasant weather appeared in prospect for most of the country today.

The rain and cool weather moved from the Midwest southward during the night and this morning extended from Oklahoma to the Ohio River Valley. Thunderstorms brought heavy falls in some areas, with more than an inch at Fort Smith, Ark., Paducah, Ky., and Huntington, W. Va.

Heavy rain fell in south and central Illinois yesterday, with 4 1/2 inches at Effingham in less than an hour and 3.31 inches in Decatur in three hours. Hall and strong winds were reported in many parts of the storm belt.

Circus Performer Hurt In Abilene

Eric Trostely, 23, high wire performer for the Gil Gray Shrine Circus, was injured critically in a 40-foot plunge at Abilene Thursday evening.

Trostely had performed with the circus here in four shows on Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday evening a guy rope anchoring his balancing wire broke, causing the wire to go slack. He plummeted face down to the earth. Some 3,000 horrified spectators witnessed the fall, which came right after his tie hang. Full extent of his injuries had not been determined.

Midlander To Speak At Appreciation Meet

Rev. R. Gage Lloyd will be the emcee of the Servicemen's Appreciation Dinner here Oct. 4. The dinner is being given in the Settles Hotel at 7 p.m. in service station operators by the gas and oil wholesalers.

Over 100 men have already made reservations for the dinner and more are expected. Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest speaker.

MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP)—Airlines were higher today, but the rest of the stock market declined in early trading.

The airlines had the benefit of the statement of the defense secretary that military spending is higher than estimated.

Grain in that section ran between 1 and 2 points at the outside, the best the market could do, while issues elsewhere were around a point.

Lower divisions included the steel, autos, most chemicals and airlines. Many leading issues, and the railroads, were trading as at a moderate pace though.

For the first time this week, the tape was able to keep pace with trading.

Yesterday's market broke the recovery stride that had been going on since the severe Monday fall. There was considerable irregularity during the day, and in the final hour enough selling developed to send the entire market down.

About 30 called during the evening.

Instead of going into a "late summer slump," gardeners should be especially busy during the end of September and the first part of October. There are fall gardens to be planted, bulbs to be ordered or, if they are on hand, to be set out, and beds to be spaded and fertilized.

Irises and day lilies are good plants for this country because they withstand heat and drought so well. Plant some of each now, or dig those already in the garden, divide and re-set them.

Seeds of larkspur, bluebonnets, cornflowers, pinks, sweet William, candytuft, alyssum, daisies, columbines and calendulas may be planted for early spring blooming. It's time to plant pansies in a cold frame or outside where they can be kept moist and shaded.

Long, slow soakings should be given to azaleas, gardenias and camellias since they are forming buds and need this deep moisture. Roses, too, need a good watering once a week at this time of the year.

Many annuals, and some of the perennials which have "allowed down" in their blooming, may be shocked into late-season flowering again if the tops are cut back, all faded flowers removed, and the plants are cultivated, fertilized and watered.

Careful and thoughtful planting in suitable locations will give the bulb gardener a display of color from February until late spring. A good rule to follow in planting bulbs is the old idea of having the depth of the bed the measure of three times the diameter of the bulb at its largest place.

Bulbs for snowdrops, snowflakes, jonquils, scilla, crocus, narcissus, grape hyacinth, Roman hyacinth, Dutch iris, freesia, tulips, daffodils, and amaryllis should be planted from this time until the middle of December.

Lawns should receive attention now, with a feeding and an ample supply of water. Bare spots should be seeded, and new lawns may be started. Grass should not be cut too short for winter.

Plan now for brightness in the house with potplants from cuttings made now. Cut branches of coleus, shrimp plant, verbena, plum-bago and geraniums straight across the stems. The slip should be about four inches long and should be rooted in damp sand or in a combination of sand and garden soil.

Root herbs, too for winter growth indoors. They like poor soil, but require plenty of water.

Seventh grade Tri-Hi-Y girls elected officers when they met Wednesday afternoon.

The officers are Cleo Thomas, president; Fredda Bonifield, vice president; Judy Foster, secretary; Modesta Simpson, treasurer; Gretchen Briden; Bobbie Bennett, parliamentarian; Sally Adair, reporter. Sponsors are Betty Joyce Grand and June Ann Day.

Guest speaker, Ike Robb, talked about football and the training necessary. Devotion was given by Miss Bonifield.

New members include Sandra Lackey, Sylvia Richardson, Lillian Burnett, Dianna Hughes and Sharen Agee.

Kate Morrison P-TA

Gilbert Freitas was named secretary of the Kate Morrison P-TA when they met recently at the school. The group discussed plans for a project and a membership drive. They decided to give a prize of two dollars to the room winning the attendance record at the meetings. The next meeting will be on Oct. 11, which is a change, just for this month, in the regular meeting date.

Midway Baptists Host To WMU Association

LAMESA — The Lamesa Association WMU Thursday at the Midway Baptist Church and installed officers for the year.

Mrs. Eva Dean Gipson, Midway, took office as president and was in charge of the meeting which started with a 1 p.m. covered dish luncheon. Panel discussions also were included on the program.

Others installed were Mrs. A. C. Woodward, Midway, treasurer; Mrs. L. V. Holly, Five Mile, recording secretary; Mrs. Ernest Moore, Lamesa, prayer; Mrs. Lewis Esteridge, Ackerly, mission study; Mrs. Howard Chapman, Woody, stewardship; Mrs. Arthur Thomas, young people's director.

Local Girl Leaves For WAF Duty

Today A-3C Ann Rainbolt Kay left Big Spring after being here for a brief leave, to report to Lowry Air Force Base in Denver, Colo.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rainbolt, A-3C Kay has just completed her basic training at San Antonio at Lackland Air Force Base.

A graduate of Southern School of Technology in Houston in March, she enlisted in the U. S. Air Force July 5. She is now ready to assume her duties as a draftsman, for which she received training in college.

A-3C Kay has enlisted for three years, but states that she may stay in longer.

"It offers security and I would advise the service for career minded women. I am sorry I waited as long as I did," she said.

First Baptist Has Kick-Off Banquet

Miniature footballs, blue and gold goal posts with crepe paper streamers decorated the tables for the Sunday School Kick-off banquet of the First Baptist Church Thursday night. Guest speaker was the Rev. Jim Goins, pastor of the Bellevue Baptist Church in Midland.

About 150 Sunday School workers were present for the dinner and program afterward. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Pat Patterson, Mrs. Beulah Bryant, Mrs. S.M. Smith and Mrs. Wayland Yates.

Bill Myer, director of music at the church led the opening hymn, followed by the invocation by J. A. Coffey, the minister, Dr. P. D. O'Brien and Le Roy Hollingshead, Sunday School superintendent, outlined the plans for the coming year.

Mr. Myer and Jodie Miller presented a special song.

Bulbs for snowdrops, snowflakes, jonquils, scilla, crocus, narcissus, grape hyacinth, Roman hyacinth, Dutch iris, freesia, tulips, daffodils, and amaryllis should be planted from this time until the middle of December.

Lawns should receive attention now, with a feeding and an ample supply of water. Bare spots should be seeded, and new lawns may be started. Grass should not be cut too short for winter.

Plan now for brightness in the house with potplants from cuttings made now. Cut branches of coleus, shrimp plant, verbena, plum-bago and geraniums straight across the stems. The slip should be about four inches long and should be rooted in damp sand or in a combination of sand and garden soil.

Root herbs, too for winter growth indoors. They like poor soil, but require plenty of water.

Seventh grade Tri-Hi-Y girls elected officers when they met Wednesday afternoon.

The officers are Cleo Thomas, president; Fredda Bonifield, vice president; Judy Foster, secretary; Modesta Simpson, treasurer; Gretchen Briden; Bobbie Bennett, parliamentarian; Sally Adair, reporter. Sponsors are Betty Joyce Grand and June Ann Day.

Guest speaker, Ike Robb, talked about football and the training necessary. Devotion was given by Miss Bonifield.

New members include Sandra Lackey, Sylvia Richardson, Lillian Burnett, Dianna Hughes and Sharen Agee.

Kate Morrison P-TA

Gilbert Freitas was named secretary of the Kate Morrison P-TA when they met recently at the school. The group discussed plans for a project and a membership drive. They decided to give a prize of two dollars to the room winning the attendance record at the meetings. The next meeting will be on Oct. 11, which is a change, just for this month, in the regular meeting date.

No Ogling

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — It's o.k. to watch girls, but ogling is out under a new city ordinance. The City Commission defines ogling as "to look or glance at furtively."

But that doesn't bar the right to a long look or a short stare. "That's our constitution and a privilege," said one commissioner.

"IN REMEMBRANCE OF ME"

For almost two thousand years the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper has been celebrated by Christians everywhere. Though variously interpreted by the churches, though administered with different ritual, it has always remained our unifying bond . . . the Communion of the Church with her Lord.

On World Wide Communion Sunday Christian congregations all over the globe will assemble to celebrate this Communion. Each will follow its own accustomed usage, exercising the right of religious freedom that the free peoples of the world treasure so highly. And as millions receive the Sacrament they will be conscious of the joyous faith that unites them with one another and with Christ.

This is a century of crisis in which those who treasure their spiritual heritage must stand together . . . must face with courage the alarming growth and ruthless power of an atheism dedicated to the overthrow of both freedom and religion.

Join your fellow Christians at The Lord's Table!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Birth of Jesus

TIDINGS OF JOY TO ALL PEOPLE BROUGHT BY ANGEL OF GOD

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
IN THIS lesson we begin a new series, starting with the birth of Christ, which we customarily study at Christmas. St. Luke was not only a physician, but an historian. While Bible students have doubted the historical correctness of his account of the reasons for Joseph and Mary's journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem, later research has proved that Luke was correct.

Caesar Augustus, who decreed a general tax to be paid by each person in his own town, ruled over the whole Roman world from 30 B.C. to 14 A.D. His was a peaceful and mild rule, which aided the spread of Christianity. Quirinius was governor of Syria, and Herod ruled as king of the Jews, subject to Rome.

Joseph was of the house of David, so he must go to Bethlehem, known as The City of David, to pay it. He took Mary with him, as she was expecting her first child. This also fulfilled the ancient prophecy that the Messiah would be born in Bethlehem. The khan at which they wished to stay was crowded with others

Scripture—Luke 2:1-10
"Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

The angel told the shepherds they would find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger. Then suddenly the heavens were filled with a great multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men."

After all these centuries we are still looking and working toward that peace on earth. In God's own good time we will achieve it. The shepherds lost no time in going to Bethlehem and finding the Babe, and they went away praising God for all they had seen and heard. Mary, however, kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

MEMORY VERSE
"Fear not, for, behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people."—Luke 2:10.

who were in the town for the same purpose as Joseph. There was no room for them, as the "inn" was not an hotel with a landlord to look after guests, but we read that it was "an inclosed space surrounded by open recesses with paved floors, raised a little above the level of the ground which served as sleeping or resting chambers."

The stables may have been in a limestone grotto, and there Joseph and Mary spent the night. There Mary brought forth her firstborn, a son, who she had been told by an angel of God should be named Jesus. Evidently no other woman was with her because Luke tells us that she "wrapped Him in swaddling clothes and laid Him in a manger." So, in such humble circumstances the most important of all earthly births occurred.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

"And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid."

"And the angel said unto them, 'Fear not, for I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.'"

The Jewish law were accomplished, they took the Babe to Jerusalem to "present Him to the Lord." Also they prepared to offer a sacrifice, also according to the law, of a pair of turtle doves or two young pigeons.

Now in Jerusalem there was a devout man named Simeon, to whom it was revealed by the Holy Ghost that he should not see death before he had seen the Lord's Christ. He came to the temple, and when the parents brought in the Child Jesus, Simeon took Him in his arms, blessing God and saying,

"Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace, according to Thy words: for mine eyes have seen Thy salvation."

Very briefly we must also mention the ancient prophetess Anna, who also recognized the Child as the Lord's, and she too gave thanks to the Lord and "spoke of Him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem."

Then Joseph and Mary, according to St. Luke, returned to Nazareth, "And the child grew and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him."

Picture Showed Exact Word Meaning In Egypt

By RAMON COFFMAN
Each year, in these times, millions of boys and girls start to learn the alphabet at about the age of six. They find out the names of the 26 letters, and the sounds which these letters represent.

Things were different in ancient Egypt. Only a small percentage of the people ever learned to read and write. Those who did learn were chiefly those who wanted to become priests or scribes. The scribes were scholars of a sort; they wrote down words spoken by their masters or employers.

Q. How many letters did the Egyptians have in their alphabet?
A. The number of letters changed with passing time, but ranged from 20 to 30. The common Egyptian alphabet in use about 5,500 years ago had 23 letters, or sound signs. Three of the letters were for three ways of speaking the letter "a."

A picture of a reed represented one of the "a" sounds. The Egyptian word for "reed" was "ake."

Q. When a certain word had 7 p.m. and Bible study Wednesday at 7 p.m.

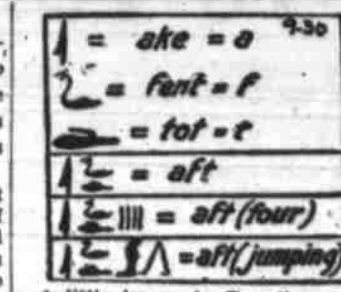

BUSINESSMEN'S BIBLE CLASS
The Businessmen's Bible Class will meet at 9:15 a.m. Sunday in the ballroom of the Settles Hotel.

BUILDERS' BIBLE CLASS
The Builders' Bible Class will meet at 8:30 a.m. Sunday in Carpenters' Hall at 906 W. 3rd St. Coffee and doughnuts will be served prior to the lesson. All denominations are invited.

WEBB AIR FORCE BASE
Chaplain Charles J. Fix will conduct the Protestant service Sunday morning at 11 at the base chapel. His sermon will be entitled "The Glory of Faith." Sunday School will be at 9:45 in the chapel annex.

For Catholic worshippers, confessions will be heard from 7 to 8 Saturday evening; Mass will be said at 9 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. at the Base Chapel with Chaplain William J. Ludlum officiating.

Death Sentence Given 11 In Political Slaying
MANILA (AP)—Eleven persons were sentenced to death today in the Lipa city court for a year-old political slaying, the Philippine News service reported. They included the former police chief, Esteban de Guzman of Rosario.

A little lesson in Egyptian writing.

different meanings, how did the Egyptians show what they meant when they wrote that word?

A. After writing the word, it was common to make a picture to show which meaning was intended.

Take, for example, the Egyptian word "aft." A scholar reports that this word had 15 different meanings in the Egyptian language!

One meaning of "aft" was "four" and another was "jumping." Three letters were set down—ake, fent and tot, otherwise "a," "f" and "t."

To make sure that the meaning of "four" would be plain, an Egyptian made four short, upright lines in addition to ake, fent and tot.

At another time, when he wanted "aft" to mean "jumping," the writer would add pictures of legs to the sound signs.

Steers Launch Conference Season Against Palo Duro

Ambitious Dons Inexperienced

TEAM RECORDS	PALO DURO	STEERS
13 Andrews	13 Wins	13 Wins
6 Yalata	7 Wins	7 Wins
13 Totals	20 Wins	20 Wins

Palo Duro High School of Amarillo gets its chance at knocking off the defending co-champions of District 1-AAA, the Big Spring Steers, off their roost in an 8 p.m. battle in Amarillo this evening.

The Longhorns, who shared the title with Breckenridge last year and the year before, have yet to win a game this year. They were tied by Andrews, 13-13; and last weekend yielded a 7-0 verdict to Yalata.

Palo Duro, ambitious but young and inexperienced in the football world, can point to a 500 won-lost record after two starts.

The Dons lost to an AA power, Dumas, 12-6 in their first game but came back to measure Enid, Okla., 13-6, last week.

The Palo Durans yielded the winning touchdown to Dumas in the last nine seconds of play and scored the winning TD against Enid in the final 45 seconds of milling.

Palo Duro is coached by John Reddell, who learned his football at the University of Oklahoma under Bud Wilkinson and who has had coaching tenures at DeKalb, Texas, and Classen High in Oklahoma.

Of the boys who are out for football at Palo Duro, 16 of them had experience with Amarillo High School's team last fall. Only Frank Brown, a 180-pound back, won a varsity letter with the Sandies, however.

Football enthusiasm is high at the Amarillo school, however. Sixty boys asked for uniforms when the workouts got under way late last month. Fifty are still with the team.

Local fans haven't been able to figure out why the Steers haven't been able to get going.

Their attack sputters and roars to life like a balky old Mopar Ford.

However, their defense has left little to be desired. Led by All-Stater Jerry Graves, the Longhorns have been tough as a boot on offense, especially when their goal line is threatened.

This Longhorns have shown excellent spirit throughout the week, however, and may be ready to roll tonight.

Big Spring is in top shape physically for this one, which starts an eight-game conference season for both teams.

After tonight, the Bovines take a week off from conference play. Their next game will be against Levelland in the local stadium Oct. 14.

Forsan Lads Win 27-13 Verdict

FORSAN, (SC) — Forsan Junior High School's six-man football team battered Silver in its opening game here Thursday night, 27-13.

Dewey Howard counted the first TD for the Bison on an eight-yard run in the first quarter. Tommy Willis accounted for the extra point.

Willis got the second six pointer in the second period on a 12-yard scamper and Randall Fowler sprinted across for the point.

Later in the round, Mike Honeycutt, son of the coach, Frank Honeycutt, got loose on a 23-yard run for a TD.

In the fourth, Fowler shook loose for 34 yards and a Forsan score. He then converted.

Silver got both its touchdowns in the fourth, one on a 40-yard pass play from Lindsey to Reid and the other on a 35-yard run following a short pass, Lindsey carrying it across.

Rodney Allison, Howard and William Conger played fine defensive ball for Forsan.

Buffaloes Seek First Victory

FORSAN, (SC) — Forsan's Buffaloes seek their first six-man football victory of the year here tonight, meeting Dawson in an exhibition battle at 8 o'clock.

Red Brunton is still a doubtful starter for Forsan. He has an injured knee.

The young Buffs have lost games to Ackerly and Knott, Dawson is of unknown strength and has not been scouted by the Buffs.

Admission prices for tonight's game are 30 and 25 cents.

Shoulda Been A Fielder: Byrne

BROOKLYN (N.Y.) — Tommy Byrne is a frustrated pitcher who wishes he'd been smart, like Babe Ruth and changed to an outfielder.

"I've always had ambitions to be a hitter," the wiry North Carolinian said today after pitching and batting the New York Yankees to a 4-2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the second game of the World Series.

"If I had it all to do over again — but it's too late now — I'd have been an outfielder."

Byrne, uncorking a strikeouts slider in the clutch, yesterday became the first left-hander both to go the full distance and beat the right-hand-power Dodgers during the entire year.

Rugged Linebacker

A star in the Palo Duro line, who will see action against Big Spring tonight, has been Drew Sparlin (above), who plays tackle on offense and linebacker on defense. He intercepted a pass in the final minute of play against Enid, Okla., last week and ran 49 yards to score the winning touchdown. Sparlin weighs 185 pounds and stands 5-foot-10.

A junior-sized edition of Bronko Nagurki, named Wayne Fields, shredded the Abilene Lincoln line as Marion Crump's Big Spring Ninth Grade Yearlings defeated the Longhorns, 20-19, here Thursday night.

Though the statistics might indicate otherwise, the spirited Yearlings deserved the win and, with any sort of break, might have beaten the visitors two or three touchdowns.

The Lincoln gang used an on-sides kick to get the ball and drive for one of their TD's.

Everytime Big Spring had the ball, it moved for sizable yardage. The trouble was, it was on the defensive for all the third period and part of the fourth as a result of the on-sides kick.

The game opened up on a spectacular note, when Benny McCrary — who played an excellent game throughout — took a handoff on the kickoff and raced 79 yards to score for Big Spring. He benefited from good blocking along the way.

Stunned but far from beaten, Lincoln scrapped back and got a TD without losing possession of the ball. The Longhorns drove 66 paces to pay dirt, with Larry Boley and Nick Gonzales alternating at lugging the leather.

Boley got the final 13 yards on the "belly play," which Abilene used to great advantage throughout the evening. Boley then added the point on a run and Lincoln led, 7-6.

It was to be a short lived lead. Big Spring returned the kickoff of its own 37, in three plays, the Yearlings advanced it to their own 47, from which point Fields roared through the line, broke free and won the race to the end zones. J. B. Davis cake-walked into the end zones for one of the points that actually won the game.

That made it 13-7 Big Spring and the Yearlings widened their advan-

Ward School Football 11's Begin Season On Saturday

Coaches have been named for the nine Ward school football teams, which begin play Saturday morning in Steer Stadium.

Earl Penner will be back to guide West Ward. He led the Cowboys to a co-championship last year. West Ward tied for first place with Airport.

Bernard Raines will again tutor the College Heights team. Emmett Hutto returned as the Kate Morrison coach while L. D. Spradling will again serve Central Ward as its mentor.

New coaches are Phillip Joseph Kasky, Airport; Edward McConnell, Park Hill; D. R. Gartman, East Ward; Doyle Maynard, North Ward; and Aubrey Armistead, Washington Place.

Eight weekends of football are on tap, with play winding up on Nov. 23.

All games will be playing in Steer Stadium. The players will wear tennis shoes, rather than football cleats. Each game will consist of four six-minute quarters.

Any boy who has reached his 13th birthday before the first of September is ineligible to play.

The schedule:

Billies, Klondike Tangle Tonight

KNOTT, (SC) — Knott is favored to upset Klondike in a District 6-B six-man football game here tonight.

The Billies have lost to Garden City and won from Forsan and Sterling City in starts to date.

tage with a second period TD when Fields wormed his way through an opening in the line and breezed 42 yards to score, after McCrary had put the Yearlings in business with an intercepted pass back on his own 24.

Abilene took the second half kickoff and marched 60 yards up the glory road to a touchdown, getting new leases on life on fourth down running plays on two occasions.

Finally, from the three, a pass from Kenneth Bentley to John Stowe clicked for the TD and Abilene trailed, 20-13. When Boley tried to run for the extra point, however, he might as well have been rinning into a brick wall.

Abilene there upon worked its sides kick and proceeded to move 33 paces to another TD. Boley going over left tackle the final 11 yards for the tally. Bentley tried again to run the ball across for the PAT and failed. That proved to be the ball game.

The Yearlings were content to play possession ball, after that, and more than fought the Longhorns on even terms down to the wire.

The locals lost the ball on a fumble down around Lincoln's 16 one time but got it back the same way on Abilene's 45.

Roger Flowers and Bill French combined to give the Yearlings' fine quarterbacking. Bentley was a wizard at handling the ball as Abilene's "man under."

Scotty Ellison, Stan Copeland, Chubby Moser, Frank Williamson, Jackie Phillips and Bobby McAdams were a few of the ones who played excellent ball for Big Spring.

Big Spring's record now stands at two wins and two losses. The loss was Lincoln's first. The Longhorns had opened the season with a 26-6 victory over Brownwood.

Underdog Texas Team Plays USC

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A spirited but underdog University of Texas football team goes up against the Southern California Trojans tonight and the Longhorn hopes may rest on the throwing arm of a sophomore quarterback, lanky Joe Clements.

The Trojans, rated high in the Pacific Coast Conference, winner over Washington State and Oregon by top heavy scores and blessed with tremendous seasoned talent, are favored to turn back Texas by at least two touchdowns.

Kickoff in Memorial Coliseum is set for 8:30 p.m., Pacific Standard Time. A crowd of 50,000 or more is expected.

Key man in the multiple-style offense for USC is halfback Jon Arnett, who scored four touchdowns and kicked four points after touchdowns for a total of 28 points last week against Oregon. He leads the nation scorers, with 43 points.

Clements, who stands 6-3 and weighs 173, zoomed from fourth string quarterback to the top in Texas' upset loss to Texas Tech and victory over Tulane. The 19-year-old son of a one-time star pitcher at Texas, Jubilo Clements of Huntsville, has completed 22 out of 30 passes for 299 yards and four touchdowns. He leads the nation in passing and total offense.

Coach Ed Price named Clements, Walt Fondren and Joe Youngblood at halfbacks and Jimmy Welch at full as his starting backfield. Jess Hill, USC coach, nominated Jim Contratto for the starting role at quarterback. Arnett and Don Hickman at half and Gordon Duwall at full.

The Trojan line averages 219 pounds to 205 for the Longhorns and the backfield 184 to 180. Overall, USC 206, Texas 196.

This is the first meeting between the schools and Texas' first appearance in California.

Coahoma Bullpups Vanquish Colorado City Club, 20 To 6

COAHOMA, (SC) — The Coahoma Junior High School Bullpups rang up their fourth straight football victory here Thursday evening, defeating the Colorado City Juniors, 20-6.

Harold Aberveg scored first for the Pups on a 15-yard run off tackle early in the first quarter. Eddie Allen added the points with a run.

Early in the second, Allen broke free and churned 80 yards right through the line for a six-pointer. Randall Reid missed the try for point but Coahoma led, 13-0.

Colorado City held the Bullpups scoreless in the third period but early in the fourth, Allen, Marco Westmoreland, Tom Hodnett and Aberveg pounded the CC line and chewed up yardage to the ten, from where Allen boomed across in one lunge.

Allen ran across the point and Coahoma found itself with a comfortable 20-0 lead.

Colorado City scored on the final play of the game on a five-yard

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The Big Spring Steers and their followers will be part and party to a significant event tonight. They'll help a new high school take the wrappings off on its first conference football game in history.

The new school is, of course, Palo Duro, of Amarillo and the unwrapping takes place in Amarillo.

Palo Duro High, they tell me, is quite a place. It comprises five buildings and nine square blocks in fast growing Amarillo (which will have a third high school in a few years).

The student body itself voted that the school's athletic team be known as the Dons. The name was submitted by Robert Echols, Barbara Hise and Billy Dye "because of its originality and dynamic quality." The name "Don" was at first a title of honor in Spain, bestowed upon men of substance and power.

The school's colors—royal blue and white—were also picked as a result of a school election.

How many know how the Big Spring Steers came by their nickname? Most of the oldtimers know that Joe Ward, an alumnus of the University of Texas, changed the nickname of the club from Jayhawks after he arrived here to assume coaching duties around 1924.

John Riddell, Palo Duro's first head coach, was quite a star in his high school days at Classen in Oklahoma City.

He was a three-sport letterman. Later, he was a three-year starting end at the University of Oklahoma, where he played under Bud Wilkinson.

He performed on the Sooners' National Championship team in 1930, as well as the 1931 Oklahoma baseball team, the NCAA's best that year.

Last year, he directed his old school, Classen, to a 9-2 won-lost record on the gridiron. His team was ranked among the first ten in Oklahoma schoolboy circles. (High school football is taken about as seriously in that state as it is in Texas).

The Steers, incidentally, have been scouted in recent weeks by Bert Brewer, who used to draw his pay checks from Big Spring High School. He was an assistant football and head track coach here, before quitting to go into defense work at Amarillo.

This desk has been bombarded with letters, cards and telephone calls of late, most of them originating in Fortson. The good people there want it understood that an action picture taken of the Ackery-Forsan six-man game last Friday night had the wrong caption under it.

The picture identified Tony Starr and not Travis Schafer as the ball carrier.

The photo proves two things: That the people out there like their football and they read their paper.

The fellow who wrote the cut lines has 'done his time,' standing in the corner.

Bobby Maxwell, the stellar golfer from Big Spring, has been named captain of the 1935-36 North Texas State College links team.

HERE TONIGHT

Lakeview Rockets Host Blackshear

Lakeview's Rockets carry their undefeated, untied record into Steer Stadium tonight, where they meet the powerful Blackshear Leopards of Odessa at 8 o'clock.

Blackshear, boasting a 1-2 won-lost record, is an AA school. Big Spring plays in Class A.

Blackshear is coached by Vernon Hendley, Lakeview by Theodore Brown.

Big Spring has beaten Lamesa, 13-6; Slaton, 26-0; and Littlefield, 25-0 in that order.

Alvin King has scored five touchdowns for the Rockets. Clarence Williams two and Ernest Byrd, William Toles and Charles Evans one each.

In their last two games, the Rockets have rolled up a total of 575 yards rushing to 139 for the opposition.

Blackshear will be crippled for the contest, both of Hendley's quarterbacks are on the injured list. They are Ernest Allen, who had two teeth knocked out in the team's last start, and Willie Richison, who has an injured side.

In addition, end Lester Hall is favoring an injured leg.

Forsan Stages Meet Saturday

FORSAN, (SC) — Officials of the Forsan Country Club are all set for the annual Invitational Tournament, which will be held here starting at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Wayne Monroey, tournament chairman, has announced that entry fee for the tournament has been pegged at $3.

Linksters have through today to qualify for the meet. Those qualifying must play in company with at least two other golfers.

Only those who tour the course today will be eligible for the medal prize.

Two nine-hole rounds will be played in competition Saturday morning while the 18-hole finals will be staged tomorrow afternoon.

Turley, Podres Set To Twirl

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (U.S.)—Crafty old Casey Stengel led his high and mighty but crippled New York Yankees into Ebbets Field today poised and prepared to polish off the frustrated Brooklyn Dodgers in quick order.

Despite the disability of Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer, two of his leading guns, the grizzled manager was confident his American League champions would sweep the World Series in four straight or, at worst, in five games.

The odds-makers apparently agree. They made the Yankees a prohibitive 5-2 favorite to win their 17th series and sixth straight against the Dodgers.

Not since 1921 has a team, after losing the first two games, gone on to win the title. That year the New York Giants did it against the Yankees. But that was in best five-of-nine games series. Never has it been achieved since the present four-of-seven system was restored the following year.

"I know those fellows have a good club," Stengel said last night, several hours after "the Yankees had whipped the Dodgers 4-2. "But we got a better one. I also know that two of my power guys will be missing—maybe for the rest of the series—but I've got some pretty good fellows on the bench too."

"Playing in their park don't scare me none either. It makes no difference to my guys. They won a couple of pennants for me on the road and if I remember right, they did all right in Brooklyn in other years."

Having turned back the winless Brooks with two left-handers in the Stadium, Stengel gave the third-game assignment to Bullet Bob Turley, the right-handed ace who never before has appeared in a series game.

Walter Alston, who saw his two top right-handers blasted off the hill on successive days, switched to a left-hander, Johnny Podres, who has made one World Series appearance, in 1933.

Largely because they are the home team, the Dodgers have been made a slight 11-10 favorite to win their first game.

Occasional showers were forecast in the morning with clearing during the early afternoon.

A sellout crowd of some 34,000 was expected.

The injury to Bauer forced Stengel to make a change in his lineup today. Bob Cerv, who replaced Bauer yesterday, was the new starting center fielder with Elston Howard in Bauer's place in right and Irv Noren in left. Against a left-hander, Bill Skowron replaced Joe Collins at first. Alston also made a change, starting Sandy Amoros in left and shifting Junior Gilliam to second base supplanting Don Zimmer because the Yanks started a right-hander.

Bauer's injury came during a double play in the first inning. Roy Campanella tossed him out at second as Gil McDougald fanned. Bauer, trying to evade the tag, pulled a muscle in his right thigh which forced his exit two innings later. Mantle, still plagued by the torn muscle in his right thigh, is not hopeful of seeing action in the series, except perhaps as a pinch hitter.

In contrast to Wednesday's defeat at the hands of Whitey Ford, yesterday's loss to Tommy Byrne left the Dodgers stunned.

They could understand losing to one left-hander but to be beaten by two southpaws in succession was more than they could take. It was something that hadn't happened all year.

To make matters worse, Byrne held their fearsome right-handed beld to five hits as he became the first left-hander to go the distance and beat the Dodgers in more than a year.

Byrne, a 35-year-old Baltimore native who now makes his home in Wake Forest, N.C., fanned six, including the dangerous Duke Snider with a man on base in the eighth and Gil Hodges for the last out in the ninth.

The Bronx Bombers collected only eight hits off four pitchers, but they put together four singles, after two were out in the big fourth to score all their runs.

Billy Loes was shelled from the mound in this big inning, going the way of Don Newcombe the day before. And as in the first game, the bullpen came through in fine style, not permitting a run after that. Don Bessent, Karl Spooner and Clem Labine allowed only one hit through the last 4 1-3 innings.

The Dodgers had gained a 1-0 advantage when Pee Wee Reese doubled and scored on a single by Duke Snider. The Dodgers' chance for a big inning fizzled when Elston Howard threw out Snider trying to stretch the hit into a double.

Loes, who had pitched a strong three innings with the help of two double plays, appeared out of the woods in the fourth when the Dodgers pulled off another twin killing following a single by Gil McDougald.

But Yogi Berra singled to left and Joe Collins walked. Howard drove in the tying run with a single and Billy Martin put the Yankees ahead 2-1 with another one-bagger. The bases were filled when Eddie Robinson, batting for Phil Rizzuto, was hit with a pitched ball. Byrne, a good hitting pitcher, then drove in the winning runs with a two-run single to center.

At this point Manager Alston replaced Loes, a move many second guessers among the crowd of 64,707 thought should have been made earlier in the inning.

Byrne, a 35-year-old Baltimore native who now makes his home in Wake Forest, N.C., fanned six, including the dangerous Duke Snider with a man on base in the eighth and Gil Hodges for the last out in the ninth.

The Bronx Bombers collected only eight hits off four pitchers, but they put together four singles, after two were out in the big fourth to score all their runs.

Billy Loes was shelled from the mound in this big inning, going the way of Don Newcombe the day before. And as in the first game, the bullpen came through in fine style, not permitting a run after that. Don Bessent, Karl Spooner and Clem Labine allowed only one hit through the last 4 1-3 innings.

The Dodgers had gained a 1-0 advantage when Pee Wee Reese doubled and scored on a single by Duke Snider. The Dodgers' chance for a big inning fizzled when Elston Howard threw out Snider trying to stretch the hit into a double.

Loes, who had pitched a strong three innings with the help of two double plays, appeared out of the woods in the fourth when the Dodgers pulled off another twin killing following a single by Gil McDougald.

But Yogi Berra singled to left and Joe Collins walked. Howard drove in the tying run with a single and Billy Martin put the Yankees ahead 2-1 with another one-bagger. The bases were filled when Eddie Robinson, batting for Phil Rizzuto, was hit with a pitched ball. Byrne, a good hitting pitcher, then drove in the winning runs with a two-run single to center.

At this point Manager Alston replaced Loes, a move many second guessers among the crowd of 64,707 thought should have been made earlier in the inning.

double play in the first inning. Roy Campanella tossed him out at second as Gil McDougald fanned. Bauer, trying to evade the tag, pulled a muscle in his right thigh which forced his exit two innings later. Mantle, still plagued by the torn muscle in his right thigh, is not hopeful of seeing action in the series, except perhaps as a pinch hitter.

In contrast to Wednesday's defeat at the hands of Whitey Ford, yesterday's loss to Tommy Byrne left the Dodgers stunned.

They could understand losing to one left-hander but to be beaten by two southpaws in succession was more than they could take. It was something that hadn't happened all year.

To make matters worse, Byrne held their fearsome right-handed beld to five hits as he became the first left-hander to go the distance and beat the Dodgers in more than a year.

B TEAMERS, 8TH GRADE IN ACTION TOMORROW

The turf at Steer Stadium is going to be fairly well worn down after tomorrow afternoon.

Four contests involving ward school teams are scheduled to be played there tomorrow morning. In the afternoon, the Big Spring High School B team takes on Abilene's power-laden reserves at 2 p.m., after which Charles Caraway's Eighth Graders meet Bonham Junior High of Odessa. That one will probably get under way around 4 p.m.

The B team has broken even in three games, winning one, losing one and tying one.

The club has been a mild surprise all year. At one time early in the training season, as few as 12 boys suited out.

However, the squad has now grown to 30 and there are any number of excellent prospects in the group.

Probable offensive starters for the Shorthorns are Gerald Davidson, center; Don Davidson and Maxie Carey, guards; Earl Parkinson and Donnie Bryant, tackles; Guinette Gibbs and Bobby Suggs, ends; Billy Johnson, quarterback; Ronnie King and Mike Hull, halfbacks; and Wesley Grigsby, fullback.

On defense, linebackers Roagan Adams, Bobby Laudermark, Glenn

SMU Is Happy With Woodard

DALLAS (U.S.)—A request for the dismissal of Southern Methodist football Coach Woody Woodard prompted Athletic Director Matty Bell to say yesterday that "SMU is happy with him."

Addressed to "Dear Mustangs" and on stationary letterheaded "Mustang House Cleaning Committee," an anonymous letter demanded that "Woodard must go" and be replaced by Doak Walker, Mustang history maker, who the letter said is available for the coaching job.

Whittington and Billy Bob Satterwhite; ends Ricky Terry and Jimmy Evans and tackle Bobby Hudson will see action.

Illness has hit the ranks of the Eighth Graders and Caraway is not sure who he will use.

However, it appears Don Dorsey will be at center, Bud Bridges and Gaston Lackey at guards; James Drake and Jimmy Whitefield at tackles; Bobby Evans and Billy Engle at ends; Donnie Everett or Taylor Lewis at quarterback; J. B.

The B teamers have tied Andrews, 13-13; lost to Odessa, 13-6; and won from Lamesa, 13-6.

The Eighth Graders have lost to Andrews, 29-13; shaded Lamesa, 7-0; and won on a forfeit from Sweetwater. The Sweetwater team left the field at the time the score was 14-14.

Big Spring Trio Enlists In Navy

Three Big Springers left here Thursday for Amarillo to complete their processing for enlistment in the Navy.

George Robert McAllen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. McAllen, 1608 11th Place, was a 1955 graduate of the high school and qualified for the electronics field. He enlisted under the Navy's High School Graduate Program.

Gary Raymond Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Porter, 214 Mesquite, was a member of the local U. S. Marine Corps Reserve Unit and he retained his rank on enlisting in the Navy.

David Lenn McIntyre, son of Mrs. Ruth Cobb, 501 Union, was employed at the Piggy Wigly store on Eleventh Place at the time of his enlistment.

All three will receive boot camp training at San Diego, Calif., and then will receive a 14 day training before being assigned a permanent school or duty station.

Stepbrother, Sister Held In Baby's Death

NEW ORLEANS (U) — A stepbrother and sister were held for investigation of murder today after an abandoned baby they admitted was theirs died of exposure and ant bites. The infant died in a hospital less than half an hour after 24-year-old Mary Louise White admitted abandoning it. Police Capt. William Dowie reported. Dowie said Anthony Walgamotte, her 21-year-old foster brother, confirmed her story that he was the father.

Heart Expert Calls 2nd Term Not Advisable

NEW YORK (U) — Dr. Paul D. White, noted Boston heart specialist who attended President Eisenhower, said today that if he were Eisenhower he "wouldn't want to run" for a second term. Interviewed on the NBC television show "Today," Dr. White was asked if he believed it would be possible for the President to serve a second term in view of his recent heart attack. Dr. White replied: "Many things are possible that may not be advisable. It is up to him to make the decision. He may or may not have complete recovery. If I were in his shoes I would not want to run again, having seen the strain." The doctor added: "It remains to be seen how active he can be in the future." However, he said all signs were "very encouraging" and that the President's morale was good. "I talked at some length with the President last Monday," Dr. White said, "to tell him just what the situation is as we see it medically." "He took all this in and I'm sure he'll be an excellent patient." The internationally famous physician expressed the view that it will be a good thing to permit Eisenhower to initial a couple of documents as is planned tonight. "It seemed wise to allow him to do it," said Dr. White. "It is good for his morale. It involves no extra work and no worry. The extra job will do no harm I'm sure."

Flowers Color Swiss Landscape
By HOUSTON HARTE
GENEVA (By mail) — It may be that as the Italians can have flowers almost the whole year round they do not go in for summer and fall flowers like the Swiss. It is startling to drive into Switzerland from the south and find flower boxes in almost every window of every city and farm dwelling. There are flowers everywhere about a Swiss farm house, which in most cases is a two-story dwelling, barn and dairy all in one continuous building. The ground floor is almost inevitably built of native granite and the upper floors of native unpainted woods which in time take on almost a black color. Flower boxes are hung from most of the lightposts in downtown Geneva. The box is a circular pan fastened entirely around the post about 12 to 14 feet from the sidewalk. In the pan grow masses of geraniums and petunias, bordered with miniature begonias and some sort of ivy. Switzerland in summer and early fall rivals Italy and France for outdoor eating. The terraces of all the hotels have wide open air dining balconies which are lined with brilliant flower boxes. Texas is a drab place compared to southern Europe. Parks along the quays provide shelter from the sun. Convenient benches invite the weary. Flowers and flowering shrubs adorn the whole area. Cafes and hotels line the streets facing the quays. It is not in the big cities only that this development was undertaken and finished years ago, but also in nameless little villages. The little city of Locarno on Lake Maggiore is known to Americans only as the spot where the Locarno Pact was signed in the days when we all hoped for peace without being willing to pay a price for it. Its beautiful waterfront is a masterpiece to Swiss foresight in making an investment in the tourist trade. It is a city of about 50,000 but it has a five-million-dollar esplanade where another 50,000 tourists spend the summer. In Lugano, 25 miles away on the same lake, the same development has provided the same tourist trade. Here in the particularly attractive esplanade is a bust of George Washington, with the simple statement "George Washington, 1732-1797." The founder of our country only 65 years old! Switzerland fathers three of the mighty rivers of Europe. At the top of the Gotthard Pass you can almost see the origin of the two most important rivers of France and Germany. At Andermatt you look into the Rhone Glacier, which is the first source of the River Rhone. It flows on to make Lake Geneva and then out to the Mediterranean. On the other side goes the Rhine. It flows through Switzerland, then makes a part of the border of Switzerland and Germany and at Basel turns north-west to the North Sea. Not far away the Po rises in the mountains of the Canton of Ticino, flows south and east to create the rich Po Valley of Italy and empty into the Adriatic. There is even more contrast this year between the American motor cars and those made in Europe than ever before. Our new models are larger, while the European models appear to be smaller than ever. General Motors has an assembly plant outside of Bern which Europe. You see many Chevrolets, Oldsmobiles and Cadillacs. Ford and Plymouth have sold many cars here, and Ford has a plant in France, making a slightly Europeanized model of the Ford. Studebaker has outdone itself in Europe. It is way ahead in Italy, France, and Switzerland in proportionate sales as compared to its sales in the United States.
