Vacationing?

Making plans for that annual two-weeks off? If you are, we know you're excited about it, and envision it as going to be the finest you and your family have every taken. We hope it is. Be sure and take some necessary precautions before you leave, and practice the same kind of precautionary actions while you're away, because we want everyone of you to come back to our town. Experts say it's a good idea to leave your home in as near an "occupied" looking condition as possible. That is, don't leave tell-tale signs that you're away. Be sure and stop the milk deliver, and ask your paper boy or call our office, and have your paper temporarily suspended or we will save it for you here. Lock the screens and doors, and it's a good idea to leave a key with a neighbor and give them some kind of general idea of how they can get in contact with you if an emergency should arise. Always felt that it's a good idea too, to let the local police know that you'll be away, and by nature they'll keep a protective look over your place. (Of course you'll need to let them know when you get back.) After departure, enjoy your "two weeks with" rather than trying to push yourself, your family and the family bus too hard. Might be well to tell yourself that you're not entering a marathon race, and just sit back and relax. And as you visit this place and that place, catch that six-pound fish, or develop your tan, we'll just bet that your friends and loved ones at home would like to know about it. So drop a post card to the Telegram occasionally and we'll pass along the news of your vacation. And if you're like we were, you'll have fun, it'll do you good . . . and you'll be glad to get home. Have fun!

Things Are Sold In Eastland!

Now that's a trite statement and just about every body knows it for the truth—but apparently not quite everybody. Merchants in Eastland will tell you that you can get it here, and regularly do, with newspaper advertising. And Chamber of Commerce officials will tell you that Eastland is a pretty good little retail center—people come from miles to shop here. And so, just like 'Lil Orphan Annies, this just makes us all glad all over. However, you might like to know that the election supplies with which you will vote in the General Election in November, apparently are being brought from a supplier in Houston. An insignificant fact had the materials not been obtainable locally. But such is not the case. These materials are purchased regularly by a three-man committee made up of the County Judge, the Sheriff and the County Clerk. The Honorable County Judge, thought to be the presiding officer of the committee, was informed of the availability of these materials several weeks ago. But the Houston company has the order, we understand. Perplexing, but then perhaps dealing with an out-of-town salesman through the mails is more convenient than using a telephone—or walking across the street. Who knows?

TidBits

Taxes are low, so all in all our taxes are cheap compared to anybody. But there might be some advantage to having a higher valuation and lower taxes. Reason for this, we understand, is that prospective businesses and/or industries executives, being busy people, don't really take the time to evaluate our whole situation. They might be prone to ask "What's the tax rate?" Our people answer "2.50," and before we've had a chance to add or explain low evaluations, the exec says, "That's so, well, the rate in Podunk, Texas is only $1.25. We'll move there."

Might be worth some head-scratching, don't you think? Shon't really be talking about fishing or swimming on such torrid days, rather than such learned tax matters, but don't think of many things that affect us all more.

Another note we've been hearing to discuss with you has to do with a new city hall. It seems to know that negotiations have been underway for a few weeks by the city dad in regard to several pieces of property.

Don't believe any kind of deal has been worked out, in view of the miriad details involved, such as what we do with the present city government abode. It would make a nice vacant lot, don't you think?

The Jaycees are just raring to go into the mark development business out at Lake Leon, and seem only to be waiting for a "go-ahead" from the Water Board.

Jaycee Prexy Bill Crocker keeps asking Board Prexy Charles Freese-hog "What about it", and Charles has had to explain that the Board hasn't been able to get together due to funerals in Ranger and other matters.

Bill even has an idea for coin-operated mercury vapor lights, which are being used at Lake Whitney, and which make fishing mighty good, we hear.

The club has also accepted the gift of a billboard west of town from Don Pierson, and are in the process of preparing copy to be used on the billboard. And we understand the copy will be a departure from the usual "Welcome to . . ."

They plan to have painted on the giant billboard such things as "Eastland needs a bakery, etc., based on the results of the poll the club made last year of residents' opinions of what's needed here.

Knowing the enthusiasm and general success the Jaycees usually have with projects, we're suggesting that the individual "needs" be attached to the billboard in non-permanent fashion, so that as each one is rained, another one can be displayed.

We've decided that the

The meeting was called by Roger Blackmon, Assistant County Agent, to instruct 4-Hers on the methods used in making an Achievement Record Book. This type of record book is different from the ordinary record book, as it contains pictures, news clippings and stories of the 4-Hers accomplishments.

Attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Boyd, Kathy, Buster and Barbara, Mrs. Jimmy Lee and sons, Tommy and Bobby, all of Cisco; Mrs. Ray Williams, Barbara and Sarah Jo and Mrs. Gabe Wright, all of Gorman; Rickie Robinson and Donald Eaves of Carbon; David Boland of Seranton; Erwin Grenzwelg, Darwin, Butch and Linda Pharr of Nimrod; Mrs. Bill Harrison and Phillin of Eastland, David Cox of Eastland, Mrs. Jack Williamson and Larry Don of Ranger and Mary Margaret Clark of Morton Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Abbott of route one, Eastland talked with their son, Pvt. Richard D. Abbott, on Friday night. Pvt. Abbott is stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Recreation Opportunities Seen As Valuable To County

Eastland County has its share of recreation opportunities. These include lakes for water sports, golf courses, and assorted playgrounds that are attracting more and more people each year.

It has been estimated that it would take $25,000,000 to duplicate the man-made lakes that have been built in this county. Certainly, it would take a sizeable sum of money to rebuild the country clubs, golf courses and other facilities for recreation.

Recent impetus has been given to the task of providing more and better facilities to entertain people who are devoting more and more time to recreation. The county has been alerted to the value and potential of the tourist dollar. Tourism ranks third as a source of income in the United States as a whole.

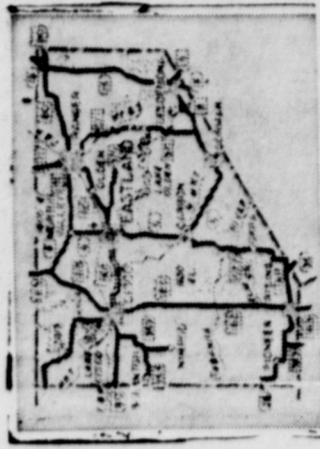

Figures for the year 1960 showed that 8.6 million tourists spent some 457 millions in Texas alone. Nationally, the touring public spent 25 billions in seeing the country. It has been estimated that this figure will reach 35 billions by the year 1965. Certainly, Texas and Eastland County will want to have their full share of this staggering sum.

It has been determined that if your town can attract 24 tourists a day or nine out-of-state cars this will be equal to an industry with a $100,000 annual payroll. This fact brings home the importance of diligent effort on the part of Eastland County towns to work hard to create and maintain recreation opportunities.

Eastland County has a significant start in an effort to become a center of tourist attractions. Cooperative efforts on the part of all towns promise to offer rich rewards.

FORWARD

By J. W. S.

A RECENT news report from Washington is quoted as follows:

"The Senate agriculture committee approved June 6 eight watershed projects in six western states. This completed congressional action on Two-Wagon Creek in Oklahoma and Leon River in Texas.

The projects and estimated costs include:

"Texas - Northeast tributaries of Leon River, 202,880 acres in Comanche, Erath, and Eastland Counties, $3,023,952."

THIS PROJECT was a companion project but not the one on which some work was recently done in this county. Mr. W. G. Kirk, president of the First National Bank at Gorman, reported that the project that his group has started is the Sabanno Creek Watershed project.

These creeks heads up between Cisco and Rising Star and goes into the Leon River below De Leon. It does not flow into Lake Leon.

It is our understanding that in this program the Soil Conservation Services help work up projects. They provide for a series of small dams along the creeks. These dams provide small lakes that prevent flood damages, provide water for small-scale irrigation and, perhaps, for fish stocking.

THERE HAS BEEN some opposition to this program based partly on the idea that if you ask Washington for money you will have to repay it in the form of increased taxes. Others point out that the program was created on the recommendation of experts in the fields of soil conservation and that the projects offer considerable benefits to those who obtain them.

Perhaps it would be well for the agriculture and civic leaders of this county to study the matter further before allowing the project to die from lack of interest.

MORE AND MORE tourists are stopped in Eastland these days as the result of the flow-er flag that Postmaster Marjorie Johnson and her staff have painted and nursed beside the post office building. This project promises to prove more valuable to Eastland as the post office grounds receive publicity far and wide.

CISCO HAS BEEN toying with the idea lately of re-opening its old Lake Cisco Park Zoo, which was a real tourist attraction before the depression of the 1930's caused it to be closed. Work parties of Jaycees and business men recently have been cleaning up the zoo area, which still has animal quarters, walkways, flower areas, etc.

Cisco also has considered lighting up the interior of the lake dam and make it available to tourists. This dam is an engineering wonder and folks who tour it are always surprised with what they see.

GLAD TO HEAR that the folks of Rising Star have undertaken a very ambitious program for community improvement and industrialization (Continued on Page Three)

Stay Afloat And Stay Alive Is Suggestion Of Red Cross

WASHINGTON, D. C. — you are caught. For the millions of Americans who will take to the water this summer — a probable all-time high — the American Red Cross has issued its annual early summer advice on how to stay afloat and stay alive.

June heralds the start of the aquatic sports season in most parts of the country, and with the rapid multiplication of home-owned swimming pools, farm ponds and motor-powered boats, the Red Cross estimates today that over 100 million Americans will use the water this summer for recreational purposes.

Said Alfred W. Cantwell, national director of Red Cross Safety Services, "Since our water safety training program was inaugurated in 1914, the annual number of drownings has declined by 1,400, despite a near-doubling of the population and an astronomical increase in aquatic activities through the joint efforts of all organizations in the water safety field.

"But there are still 6,500 drowning a year — the major, if not the only, cause of death resulting from recreational use of the water. It is to help prevent these deaths that we issue this safety advice."

1. Learn to swim. If you can swim a little, learn how to swim better. (Check with your Red Cross chapter for upcoming classes.)
2. Always swim with a companion. Make sure someone is near by to help if you need it.
3. Swim in a safe place. The presence of lifeguards usually indicates the area is safe for swimming.
4. Know the area. Before diving, make sure the water is deep enough and that there are no hidden objects such as submerged rocks.
5. Respect the water and know your limitations. Don't go beyond safe limits or your swimming capacity.
6. Use discretion. Wait at least an hour after eating before swimming, and don't swim when overheated or overtired.
7. Try to remain calm in case of trouble. Assume a face-up floating position, keep your hands under water and slowly move your hands and feet.
8. If your boat overturns, stay with it. Most small inflatables will float, even small boats with water.
9. Don't depend on a tube or inflated toy to hold you up.
10. In river swim in a swift current. Lifeguards will tell you how to recognize these conditions and how to save yourself if

Your Boat Trips

If you're one of the 40 million who'll take to the water this year to enjoy boating, now is the time to brush up on the rules for safe boating. There are booklets and pamphlets available from such sources as the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and the Outboard Auxiliary Club of America, and from manufacturers and dealers in boats and motors. If you're a boat owner, get one of these booklets and study it.

There are certain basic precautions that all boaters should know and observe, but the cardinal rule is a very simple one: Display good manners afloat. Show proper respect for others and, most often, you'll get the same treatment in return. A second cardinal rule: Use a little common sense. It doesn't take much knowledge of boating to know that a big lake on a windy day can be dangerous to a small craft.

Don't overload your craft. The more you put into the boat, the easier it is to capsize. Don't stand up or change seats while the boat is under way. If you must move about, keep low in the center of the boat and hold on to the gunwales.

Buzzing a dock, wharf or an abandoned craft marks you as an irresponsible skipper. Don't do it. You may miss. Watch your wake.

Never venture too far from shore on a large body of water in a small craft. Sudden squalls can play havoc with unwary boaters.

If your boat overturns, stay with it. The chances are good that, sooner or later, someone will pick you up. Very few accidents result in fatalities. The physical condition to hold up for a long swim, particularly in rough water.

Many Jobs Are Tied To Trade

DALLAS — Some 4 million American jobs depend directly upon foreign trade, and the percentage of such jobs in Texas is nearly twice as high as the average for the nation.

In compiling such figures, the government found that in 1960 exports supported more than 3 million American jobs twice as fast as U. S. growth.

The midland ride of Paul Revere was only one of that patriot's contributions. He cast his net wide and cast his net as the average for the nation.

In compiling such figures, the government found that in 1960 exports supported more than 3 million American jobs twice as fast as U. S. growth.

Looking for bulletins and literature on hydroponics — science of growing plants in water and without any soil — was Dave Perkins, former dairyman of the Rising Star area. His son Paul, who hurt his back in the service, is now back home and working with his dad. I have been told that the armed services even a lot of their vegetables by this method in Japan right after War No. 2.

Leaving for the Foy Warlick farm, due north of Rising Star by a few miles recently, to check on the rats eating feed in the barn there was Joe Webb. Joe headquarters in Eastland but works over a wide area in central and west Texas for the Rodent Control Division of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Sandra Warlick has started feeding another Angus calf for the 1963 County Livestock Show. She got the animal from Charles Rutherford, prominent business man and rancher of Rising Star. Sandra did a good job on her calf that she fed and showed at the spring show.

Around The Country Corners

Although 'curry' in spots the newly completed Farm to Market Road No. 2869 is a delightful drive through the heart of the peanut belt of South East Texas. The road is a real gem that year old. It goes right through country town Eastland County. It turns due south for the final run of a few miles into Gorman. Saw J. L. Morrow there near Komo building a new fence in front of his place, right along the new road, recently.

It was real easy to locate and order a few Black Diamond Watermelon seed of the yellow necked type for T. A. Byrd, Pumpkin Center, recently after being promised a few from the patch. Most Black Diamonds are a red fleshed. Hope Mr. TAB and his farming partner, Pete Parker, Eastland, grow a lot of the melons.

Seen at the Sears 4H Club pig distribution recently — Erwin Greenwell, and his Erwin grand sons, Darwin, Butch and Buster.

They live south of Cisco. The boys parents are Mr. and Mrs. Garland Pharr.

Also at the pig distribution was Park Plambeck. Pleasant was Park recently purchased some good Duroc pigs at the swine auction at Llano for his son, Park, Jr., and Victor both of whom are in the Cisco FFA.

Sadie Brizendine, Rising Star told me recently about an old black cow that she had. Said that she has a ready raised two good calves up to about 400 lbs. weight on her and now has 2 more young ones on her.

She and Fred live on their farm about a mile and a half east of the "Winkie City" on Highway 26.

One of the first jobs I ever did after coming to the county was to help Sadie doctor some of her turkeys for worms. That was a good many years ago. They now have worms medicine that you can put in the drinking water or you can buy feed that already has the worm medicine in it. Easy way. Times sure do change.

Community farmer, told me the other day about his 18 acre half that destroyed his 18 acre cotton field to the extent that it had to be plowed up. Said that it also ruined his grapes. Conrad has one of the largest vineyards anywhere in the county.

Incidentally, our sandy soils here are as good as anywhere in Texas for grape growing. You have to spray about 5 times through for producing good quality grapes, free of the Black Rot fungus.

Saw my good friend Doss Alexander of Pioneer recently. Doss has been ill but is now up and about. He had a stay in a hospital in Temple for sometime but is now back at home. Few people know it but Doss is a native of San Saba County and was a banker in the Rio Grande Valley for a short time soon after World War No. one

U. S. D. A. Entomologists at Mission, Texas has positively identified three samples of maggots sent in from Eastland County as Screw worm larvae. They came from north of Cisco, south of Cisco and East of Ranger from the Sam Kimmel Ranch, the C. L. Rich farm, and the Jim Hamilton place.

An encouraging note, Jimmie my Potts told me at A&M recently that nearly all of the screw worm eggs examined in South Texas now were sterile.

All stockmen in the county who have not made their contributions to the screw worm eradication program are urged to do so. Any bank in the county or the Production Credit office at Eastland will accept it. It is income tax deductible. We have been dragging our heels on the financial support of this worthwhile program.

Has Wide Array Of Grill Meats

COLLEGE STATION — Few things add to a better job of whipping faded summer appetites than those coming from a backyard barbecue. The backyard chef has a wide array of meats available but because F. Z. Beany, blossom, poultry marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that the broilers.

In addition to the broilers for chick-quitting, the specialist says you'll need to plan a complete menu. Potato salad or corn-on-the-cob go good with chicken and a mixed green salad, an appetizer tray, sliced bread or rolls and a beverage will make for eating suited to the taste of just about anyone, adds Beany.

The sauce used during the chick-quitting process is mighty important. If you don't have a favorite recipe, the specialist suggests you pick up a copy of M. P. 312, "Let's Have a Chick-quitting" from your county extension office and try the sauce he likes.

The publication also contains other information which outdoor cooks can use to advantage.

Included is a discussion of grills and barbecue pits. Hints on cooking, including starting the charcoal fire and heat requirements. Beany calls attention to safety hints which can help make the air-fair even more pleasant and enjoyable, including the tools you will need to do a first class job.

This final reminder from the specialist, don't cook the chicken too fast. Allow plenty of time for the job and when it is finished, you'll put a product on the table that you and your guests will enjoy to come.

Producers desiring to plant wheat in 1963 have been requested to make application for a new grower wheat allotment before July 1, according to Emmett E. Powell, County Office Manager of the Eastland County Agricultural Extension and Conservative Service.

The deadline leaves a scant one and one half weeks to file for a new allotment.

Powell announced that for the first time in several years, producers will be charged for checking destroyed excess peanuts. The charge will be $4.00 per farm plus $2.00 for each plot in excess of one.

It was stated that the same charge will be made on destroyed cotton, grain sorghum, just bank base crops and, in the past, the destroyed plots must be a regular three or four sided plot, with irrigation furrows not being accepted. The reporter must be able to measure the acreage in the plot with a steel tape.

Concerning warehouse storage, Powell said that the storage loans are available to eligible producers for wheat and grain sorghum. Farmers should contact the County Office and see about a loan. Sales receipts are to be turned in to the County Office for the 1962 marketing year as to the month shared year and the number of head.

All area producers were reminded that June is the last month that Coastal Bermuda grass may be sprigged under the ACP payment program.

Powell added that another news bulletin concerned land grain sorghum program. This land may not be grazed from May 1 to December 31; neither may a crop of any kind be harvested from the diverted acreage.

Field work will begin soon for measuring cotton, peanuts and diverted acreage. The help and cooperation of the crop reported will be appreciated, Powell concluded.

Over Million Vets In Texas

The latest survey made by the Veterans Administration shows there are 1,466,000 war veterans now living in Texas, according to Edward P. O'Neil, manager of the VA Dallas Regional Office.

Of this total number, 786,000 are veterans of World War I. There are 280,000 veterans of the Korean Conflict, while an additional 223,000 veterans, already listed with the World War II veterans, saw service also in the Korean Conflict.

Texas also has 130,000 veterans of World War I according to the latest VA tally, while an additional 7 veterans of the Spanish-American War, the Indian Wars and career ex-servicemen who now receive compensation reside within the state.

The total number of veterans as of December 31, 1961, the date of this survey, stood at 22,338,000 with 15,133,000 World War II veterans; 4,342,000 Korean Conflict veterans; 2,511,000 World War I veterans, and 147,000 other veterans including Spanish-American War, Indian Wars and career ex-servicemen, comprising the Regular Establishment.

Most of the South Central Texas German settlements were established during the first days of the Texas Republic and early statehood.

Turkey Growers Will Ballot On Marketing Plan

Eligible Texas turkey producers have been urged to vote in the upcoming referendum on the proposed national turkey marketing plan. The vote is a F. K. E. 11 n g order. Votes may be cast between the dates of June 18-22.

Though there are unanswered questions, the basic issues of the order are fairly clear, according to extension poultry marketing specialists. The outcome of the referendum can have a great influence over production, both in method and volume.

The referendum may be sponsored by two-thirds of the producers voting favorably, or if those voting favorably hand, led two-thirds of the total turkey marketers in 1961, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service announced.

Growers who have not certified their volume vote with their ASCS office should do so immediately. Those who growers may do this as late as the voting period, it was explained that by doing it in advance of the referendum, it will allow all volume votes to be verified properly before the vote.

The specialist urges all producers who want more information on the referendum to contact their local ASCS office at an early date.

Coin Collecting Interesting Hobby For Couple At Ranger

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Van Bibber, of Ranger, Texas, are enjoying a hobby that is popular all over the world. They are collectors of rare coins and are known as numismatists to fellow collectors.

Considered as one of their rarest finds is a 1942 over 1941 Mercury dime that was found in a roll of dimes from the Commercial State Bank in Ranger. This coin is valued at $70.00. Another rare is a 1937D Buffalo nickel valued at $35.00.

Camping Booklet Offered Public

A new camping booklet has been issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to give people information on five thousand of camp and picnic grounds in the nation.

The booklet covers the pleasures of outdoor camping. Basic rules for campers are outlined, and campers are cautioned to be careful with fire, and to leave camp and picnic grounds clean.

LAKESIDE GOLF COURSE HAS GOOD REPUTATION IN REGION

Play began on Sept. 15, 1949, at the Lakeside Country Club, which has been constructed with modern facilities.

The club, now known as the Lakeside Country Club, is located just on the northeast outskirts of Eastland near the Lake Eastland Dam.

Looking Forward

Charter members, those who had a $50 paid-up membership, were able to vote. Charter membership was confined to 150 and a contract for use of the land on which the golf course is located for the use of the Lakeside Country Club was received on Thursday, Jan. 26, 1950.

The contract called for a 25-year lease on the golf course with an annual rental of $50 per year to be paid to the city.

Lake Leon Built In 1956 Without Any Federal Aid

When you have your "fun in the sun" at Lake Leon, you can enjoy it in knowing that the pleasure spot of West Central Texas was built with out subsidies or federal tax dollars.

The hundreds of fishermen (and this term is becoming to include more and more fishermen) and other outdoor enthusiasts, come to the lake and gladly pay the nominal fees for permits which help operate the lake.

The cooperative spirit displayed at the fun-spot today echoes the cooperative spirit in which the modern reservoir came into existence seven years ago between Eastland and Ranger.

The water lovers who flock to the lake seem to realize that the small fees (30 cents per day each for fishing and boating permits or $5 per year each) are a lot more cheaper than would have been the lake's cost under federal "cooperation."

Corps of Engineer experts told local representatives that the construction of a dam across the Leon River would cost $6.5 million.

"Not so," said the locals, and formed themselves into the Eastland County Water Supply District, and built the lake for five million less—35-year bonds for $1.3 million were voted, and will be returned in 1987.

And being a thrifty lot, the board bound itself to directing all revenue from the lake toward retiring the bonds early.

"We're ahead of schedule," Charles Freyschlag, chairman, says today, and adds, "we hope to stay in that position."

The bonds were voted on Aug. 1, 1952, but the board paid only interest until after the construction period—Aug. 1, 1956. $100,000 had been paid back in yearly payments of $2,000. This year the board will begin to make $25,000 payments.

The thirty managers, made up of successful businessmen from both towns, will allow themselves only funds from the licensing fees for upkeep and development of the lake facilities.

Lake-keeper James Johnson is also paid from these funds. Sale of water to Eastland and Ranger and ten cent-per-100 valuation tax rate provide cash for the retirement of the bonds.

When you're going after fish or planning a water-skiing outing, you probably don't think a lot about the costs, etc. You're probably more interested in 1,800 acres of water a shoreline of 35 miles. In case you're asked, the dam and overall length of the dam and spillway is 5,000 feet with a maximum height of 87 feet. And if you're skin-diving, the depth of the water at the dam is 67 feet.

Take your time and spend a spell—here's overnight accommodations at the lake with public plinking facilities.

So all in all, the two cities not only have been provided with an adequate water supply, but the residents have been handed an outdoor recreation area, second-to-none. As more and more people turn to the outdoors for fun and relaxation, more and more are finding that the best roads lead to Lake Leon.

Lone Cedar Country Club Is Result Of Area Cooperation

The Lone Cedar Country Club, located on the shores of Lake Leon, is very unique because it represents a lot of cooperation from people throughout Eastland County and adjoining areas.

The club, which has 163 members, has complete dining club facilities— from a dining room with excellent food to a golf course that promises to be more popular as time goes on. What is more, the property is completely free of all debts.

It was in January, 1959, that the believers dropped their guard and marveled in the beautiful wonder.

Earlier in 1955 when the finishing touches were put on Lake Leon, a group of progressive county businessmen saw a dream for a true Country Club for the entire county. Each city alone could not provide enough money to build a first class club; these leaders decided to go together and build a swank social center for Eastland County.

From the first, the unbelievers far outnumbered the believers, but after each obstacle was overcome, more and more volunteers joined in their efforts.

At the outset, the original group pitched in enough money to purchase 25 acres of lush land overlooking the north shore of Lake Leon. Since that time, more acreage has been purchased and several thousand feet of shoreline now adds to the advantages of the club.

In 1955, the 20 men in the founding organization applied for a charter from the state incorporating the club. After that, the membership rose to 64 and then finally to 238.

Bob Presley of Cisco served as president of the club at the time of its opening in January of 1959. The club's hostess was Mrs. Beola Pierce.

It is important that everyone do his part in keeping our country free. Buying an extra bond during the Freedom Bond Drive helps the Treasury meet the mounting costs of keeping the peace. Chairman Parker pointed out.

The clubhouse is furnished with attractive, practical furniture.

The club is open to any social affair upon reservation.

The club recently formed a Duplicate Bridge Club, which is directed by Lloyd London.

George Kellum, outdoors editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, wrote April 6 in his column: "Lake Leon undoubtedly has produced more large strings of 3 1/2 to 6-pound bass this season than any other lake in the state."

Besides such excellent fishing, the seven-year old lake, which is equidistant from Eastland and Ranger, is also popular for its boating, swimming and water skiing.

This attracts large Saturday afternoon crowds. During the Revolutionary War plans for the coming month include a July 4th picnic, which is an annual affair.

David Pickrell of Ranger is president of the club, and Don Russell of Eastland, is serving as the manager.

April Savings Bonds sales in Eastland County were $33,460, according to Guy Parker, chairman of the county Savings Bonds Committee. During the first four months of this year the citizens of this county purchased $295,039, which represents 39.4 percent of the 1962 goal of $750,000.

Sales in Texas for the four month period, January through April, were $33,240,439, which represents 71 percent of the Freedom Bond Drive goal of $75,000,000.

The U. S. Treasury's current Freedom Bond Drive is being well received throughout Texas. Citizens of the Lone Star State realize that their purchases of U. S. Savings Bonds are a tangible contribution to the economic and defensive strength of our nation. In these trying times it

Civic Push Being Placed Behind Development Of Lake Cisco

Major civic programs of the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations in Cisco for the past few years have stressed the importance to community economy of developing Lake Cisco to its full potential as a water sports center.

The 40-year old lake, which has long been known for fishing has been in the development stage as a place for boating and recreation for only a few years.

The ambitious program of the Chamber of Commerce and the city commission, which is paying good dividends in large crowds of fun seekers, promises to reward the community with a hefty boost in its general economy as the lake development continues. In recent weeks, management of the whole property was turned over to a new Board composed of a half dozen enthusiastic civic workers.

A master plan for the Lake Cisco area now is under construction and study.

Fishing has been improving for several years with large strings of black bass, crappie and catfish reported regularly.

While fishermen have been coming to Lake Cisco in increasing numbers, the skiers and boating enthusiasts have also "discovered" Lake Cisco. Much of the 35-mile shoreline has cliffs from a few feet to 30 feet high, and these serve as a windbreak. You can usually ski on Lake Cisco when other lakes are too rough for boating.

The city has opened the shores for cabin building in the past few years. There are now more than 50 cabins in the lake area.

The lake's attractive north shore has been opened to cabin building this year, and sites have already been obtained by some 23 persons. Four cabins have been completed there, and improvements are visible in most of the others.

Lake Cisco Park is the scene of fun from one to a dozen family reunions every weekend from May 1 to September 1.

The lake is easily accessible. It is located two miles north of town off Highway 380. A new hard-surfaced road has been approved to the water's edge and is scheduled to be built this year. The lake is comparatively free of brush and undergrowth.

It was in June, 1920, that the City of Cisco started the $2,250,000 project. The water is held by an Amberson type hollow concrete dam—125 feet high and 1,190 feet long. When full, the lake impounds 30,036 acre feet of water—some 20 billion gallons.

On the shores of the lake are a nine-hole golf course and the Cisco Country Club and the Lake Cisco Swimming Pool, which is 400 feet wide and 700 feet long and attracts thousands of swimmers each year.

The Lake Cisco Swimming Pool has been attracting unusually large crowds this year. It is 400 feet wide and 700 feet long and requires 11,000,000 gallons for a filling. The pool is the center of attraction in Lake Cisco Park, which includes a skating pavilion, miniature golf course, and other concessions. Several dozen picnic tables and barbeque pits are available to the public in the park.
