Criminal Justice Committee Studies And Acts On Crime

Almost four years ago, the Criminal Justice Advisory Committee was formed as a part of the South Plains Association of Governments.

The ever-changing world created a need for the Criminal Justice Committee. Its function is to study criminal justice in different aspects such as courts, bail bonds, jury service, police efficiency, juvenile delinquents as well as adults and the elderly in trouble, and the whole spectrum of criminal justice.

Through this committee, several counties in a region can band together to help solve some of the problems in crime.

In December, Bailey County Judge Glen Williams was appointed chairman of the committee. Other members include Ralph V. Graham, committee vice-chairman, and the executive director of the Central Plains Community Action Program, Plainview; Capt. Wm. A. Cox, Juvenile Division, Lubbock Police Department; George W. Miller, District Attorney, Floydada; Mrs. Jan Halleman, Texas Youth Council Parole, Lubbock; Judge Roger McMurray, Plainview; Mrs. David Newby, Post

Texas; Judge Ben Noble, Littlefield; Kent R. Hance, attorney at law, Lubbock; Sheriff C.H. "Choc" Blanchard, Lubbock; Wright Carlisle, Ralls, Texas; and James E. Tippitt, Chief of Police, Brownfield.

The committee and SPAG fund many worthwhile programs in this area. All programs must have sponsors to be funded by the committee. The local governments pay only 25% and the federal and state governments pay 75% of the project.

In 1969, the committee spent less than $100,000 on projects in the 15 county region. In 1970, they spent $233,000; in 1971, $365,200; and thus far in 1972, $285,000.

The committee has made many reports and done quite a bit of research on various projects. Recently, with the help of Robert Stack, formerly of Muleshoe, the committee prepared the Uniform Jury Questionnaire. This set of questions for prospective jurors to save time during court proceedings gained national attention.

The committee has studied the legality of inter-county agreements and put this into effect.

The legal aspects of multi-county purchases was also studied. Cooperative purchasing agreements for sheriff's cars, maintainers and other supplies could save counties money if all the equipment was purchased together.

The Criminal Justice Advisory Committee, through SPAG, has set up Police Training Schools that are constantly available for refresher courses for law personnel. A four year course in law enforcement is even available to young men and women who through this program may receive $1800 of federal money a year to get a degree. After college, if the person works in law enforcement, 25% of the loan will be taken off each year he works.

Another project of the committee is the Law Enforcement Library that has been established at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

One of the latest projects is that of riot control equipment. Bailey County is in the process of buying this kind of equipment, not necessarily out of fear of riots, but for use in this county in other areas of law enforcement and to be

Morris Nowlin Attends JP Conference

Bailey County justice of the peace, Morris Nowlin, was among 172 JPs completing a 40-hour educational program in Lubbock this week conducted by the Texas A&M University Police Training School.

Justices from 104 West Texas counties attended the sessions under a grant from the Texas Criminal Justice Council to A&M's Engineering Extension Service.

The JP program was broken into two 20-hour sessions, the first held in September emphasizing duties and responsibilities.

This week's program included speakers on highway safety, criminal traffic law, gamelaws. Cont. on Page 2, col. 1

DIVISION	GOAL COLLECTED
Advance	$8,000 97.48%
Com.	1,000 35.76%
Employee	1,500 79.55%
C. Farmers	2,000 29.95%
Rural	1,000 27.90%
Prof.	1,500 63.57%

The total percentage of the Area United Fund now collected or pledged is 76.42%.

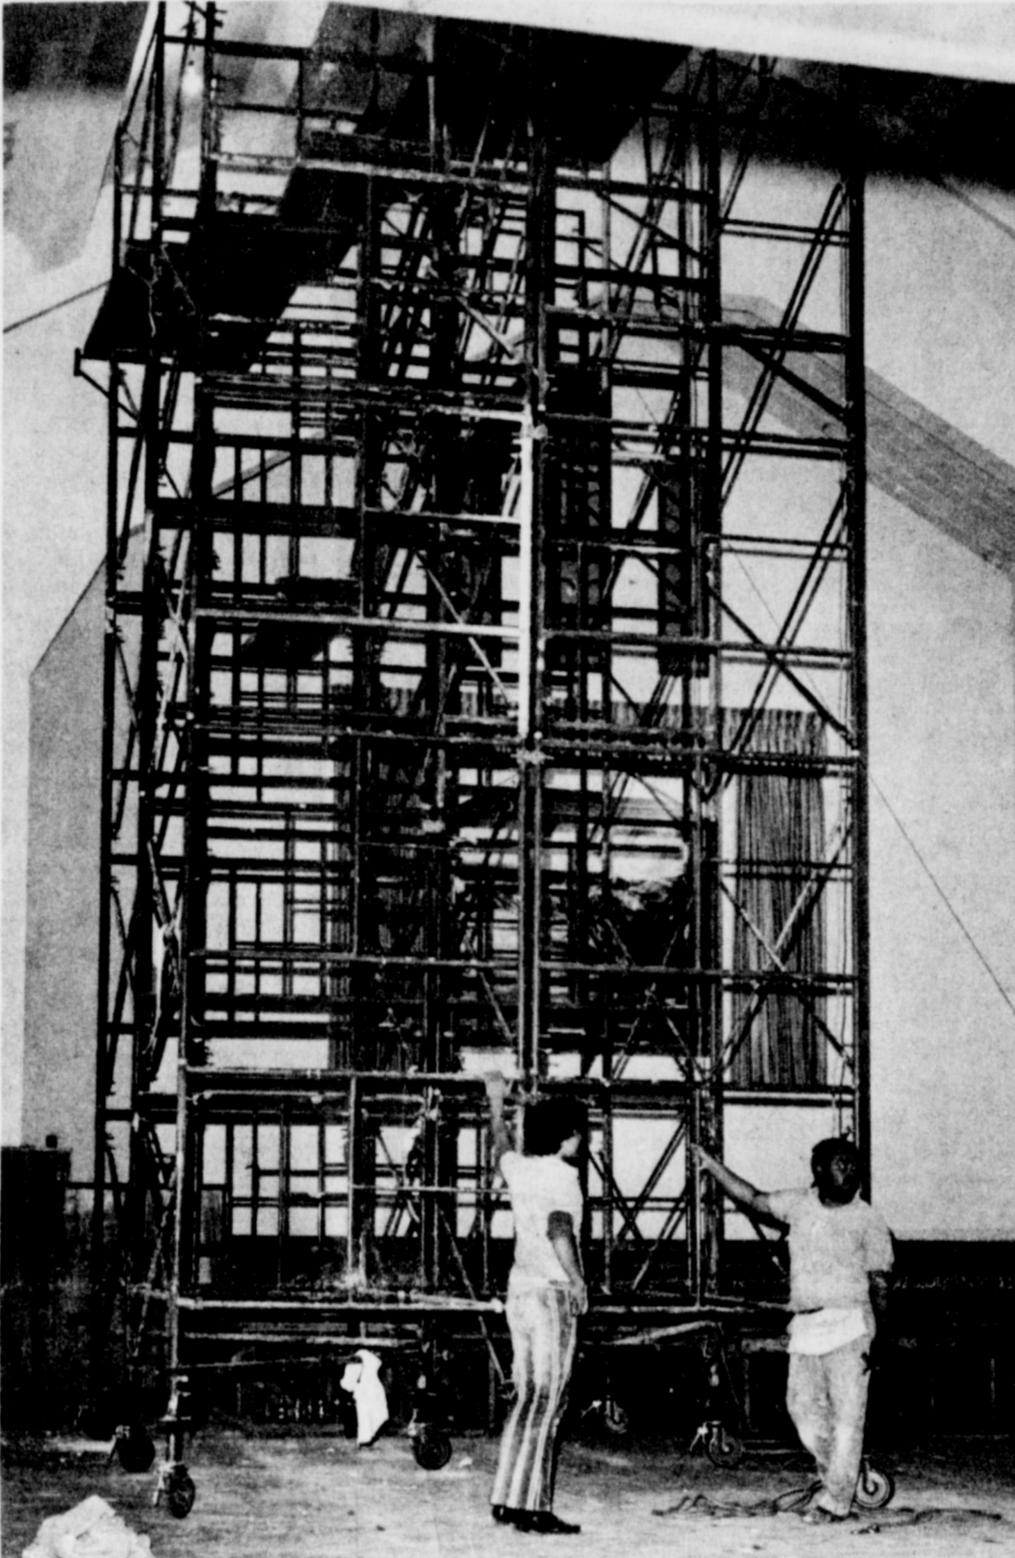

As the above figures prove, the Rural and City Farmers are lowest on the list, followed by the Commercial Division.

Also, the figures show that 27% of the businesses in Muleshoe (advance division) have contributed over 52% of the total goal established by the 1972 United Fund campaign.

This 27% consists of approximately 70 of over 250 business in Muleshoe. The other businesses make up the Commercial Division.

This year, the Bailey County Junior Livestock Show alone distributed $3,800 of United Fund money as prizes.

For the continued success of the Muleshoe Area United Fund, it is imperative that every one gives his fair share. IF YOU DON'T DO IT, IT WON'T GET DONE.

CHURCH RENOVATION UNDERWAY . . . An extensive renovation project is underway at the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe. The interior is being completely remodeled at a total cost of approximately $40,000. These two workers are shown beside the huge scaffolding that is being used to redo the ceiling of the auditorium. Rev. Doug DuBose, pastor of the church, reported that Easter Sunday has been set as the goal for completion of the renovation project with dedication to be held in May.

Baptist Church Begins Renovation

The First Baptist Church has started a six-weeks renovation. The renovation is expected to cost around $40,000.

Included in the renovation will be to install wall-to-wall carpeting; put in faceted glass windows; redo the ceiling; redesign the platform and choir loft; to install a new, modern sound system; have new heating and refrigerated air conditioning installed; and will have a control panel at the back of the church to raise and lower the lights.

While the renovation is in progress, church services are being held in the educational building of the church. The

Use Of Reseal Encouraged By GSPA

The huge grain sorghum and corn crop of 1971 is still taking its toll on market prices. We still feel that with the settlement of the dock strikes, a good sign up in 1972 Feed Grain programs, and farmers holding for higher prices, there is a fair chance that market prices will strengthen.

U.S.D.A. announced last month that they would extend the reseal program to the 1971 crop of grain sorghum that is in commercial storage. The 1970 crop will be called in. This church has set Easter Sunday as the goal to have the job completed and to be back in the new building.

The new building will be dedicated in May along with the new Allison Ray Precure Memorial Building at the Spanish Mission. This 2700 square foot building is almost completed and now houses two classes of kindergarten.

In the future, besides housing the Goodwill Kindergarten classes, it will have sewing classes; cooking classes, featuring classes on canning; vocational classes; and tutoring classes for students. This building only lacks some touch-ups before it will be completely finished.

Three Way B-Ball Girls

The Three Way Junior High School girls won the District 6-B Basketball title in a play-off game with Whiteface at Pep February 21. The play-off game was close with the final score being 21-18 in favor of Three Way.

Mary Ann Perez was top scorer for Three Way with 19 points. Rhonda Smith was high pointer for Whiteface with 11 points.

District 6-B includes Bula, Bledsoe, Whiteface, Pep and Three Way.

Starting forwards for Three Way this year were Mary Ann Perez with 200 points during the season, Connie Richardson, 145 points, and Lee Ann Abb, 132 points. Other forwards are Karen Corkey, Cindy Hutcheson, Kim Petty and Lottie Meadows.

Wednesday, March 1, will be the last day to register to be a qualified voter in the April 1 election. On that day, elections will be held for the Bailey County Hospital District Board, the Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees, and for the City Council.

Due to new voter regulations, any person, 18 years or older may vote in the election if he or she has registered in the Bailey County Tax Office in the courthouse at least 31 days prior to the election.

According to Bailey County Tax Assessor, Jean Lovelady, approximately 2700 voters have registered as of this week. This is way short of the total number of people in the county that are qualified to vote.

As of the present date, no one has filed for a position on the school board. The terms of Eugene Black, W.E. Meyers and Aubrey Heathington expire this year.

In the city council election, the terms of councilmen Kenny Heathington and Frank Ellis will expire. To date, no one has filed in this race. The last day for filing in the City Council election will be Wednesday, March 1.

The Bailey County Hospital District Board has five directors whose terms are expiring. They are Dr. Charles Lewis, Marvin Drake, Mrs. Bernard Phelps, Neal Dillman and Creston Faver.

To be able to vote in the Bailey County Hospital District Board election, one must have personal taxable property such as household goods, television set or car, for example, according to Ernest Kerr, an election judge.

All three elections will be held on Saturday, April 1, 1972.

Send Delegate To Meeting

The Lubbock Major Resource System Advisory Council will be organized at a special meeting at the Lubbock City Hall, 914 Texas Avenue, in the City Council chambers on the second floor, at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, February 29.

An invitation has been extended to all libraries to have a representative present at this important meeting.

The Muleshoe Area Public Library qualified as a Size Three Library in the Texas Library System.

Jay Harbin has been chosen to represent the Muleshoe Area Public Library as a delegate to this meeting.

The invitation was also extended to city officials, library board members, county judges, mayors and others interested in Library development in Texas.

For further information, call the Library, 272-4707.

Joe Damron, Mrs. Tom Bograd, Mrs. W.D. Moore, Dr. B.E. Sanderlin and Mrs. Sam Damron.

Tuesday, March 21, was selected as the date for the Arthritis March in Muleshoe. The purpose of the march will be two-fold: first, to obtain a list of arthritis sufferers of this area so that they might receive literature and other help from the executive office in Midland, and second, to obtain funds for the operation of this chapter as well as for national research.

Mrs. Damron said that statistics show that the number of diagnosed cases of arthritis in the West Texas Chapter alone is 100,000, which is roughly 10 per cent of the population. It is the disease that affects a larger percentage of the United States population than any other, second only by heart disease, and yet, less is granted for research by the federal government than to almost any other disease.

Rural Rental Housing Loans

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans in rural areas to provide rental housing for persons with low and moderate income and for persons who have reached 62. Rural areas include open country and places of not more than 10,000 population which are rural in character and not closely associated with urban areas.

Applications are processed without regard to race, color, creed or national origin.

RRH loan funds may be used by a borrower to build, buy, or repair apartment type housing, usually constructed on the style of a duplex or similar multi-unit dwelling of four or eight units.

Funds may be used to buy and improve the land on which buildings are to be located; supply appropriate recreation and service facilities; provide water, waste disposal, heat and light systems; provide lawn seeding, shrubbery, tree plantings or landscaping and other measures that beautify the housing and make it an attractive addition to the community.

Loans may not be made for housing which is elaborate or extravagant in size, design, or cost or for nursing, special care or institutional types of homes.

Rental housing loans are available to profit and nonprofit applicants such as individuals, trusts, associations, partnerships, cooperatives and corporations.

means that a farmer can continue to hold his 1971 grain sorghum under the government loan program throughout the coming year. Without this announcement, a farmer would be forced to redeem his grain by June 30 or CCC would foreclose on the loan and take over ownership.

After June 30, CCC will pay storage costs on resealed grain, and the farmer pays only the interest on the loan. The re-seal program had been extended to farm-stored grain last fall. GSPA had been insisting that this provision should be made for commercially stored grain also. GSPA Executive Director, Elbert Harp, commended Secretary Butz for allowing this re-seal program.

Farmers using the loan and re-seal program will be able to receive any increase in market prices during the coming year.

Borrowers must be unable to finance the housing or the improvements with personal resources or credit from other sources, and must agree to provide rental units or units for cooperative purchase to eligible individuals or families.

Borrowers must also possess the character, ability and experience to meet loan obligations.

Rental housing units can be occupied by families and individuals with low and moderate incomes and persons who have reached age 62. The maximum income level for occupancy by persons other than those who have reached 62 will be established by the Farmers Home Administration. Occupants will not be discriminated against because of race, color, creed or national origin.

The maximum repayment period on an RRH loan is 50 years. Loans made to individuals and profit organizations presently bear an interest rate of 7-1/4 percent. Private nonprofit organizations may qualify for reduced interest rates. The maximum size loan that any borrower may receive is $750,000. When the financial position of the borrower improves to the point that he can repay or refinance through a commercial lender, the loan contract provides he shall do so.

The eligibility of an RRH borrower is determined by a local committee which is made up of the county supervisor and a three member local committee.

The planning and development of rental projects must be completed in accordance with applicable local building codes and ordinances. For larger projects, the applicant must provide complete architectural services. The architectural requirements may be waived for small projects only when adequate professional plans, specifications, and site plans are available. The Farmers Home Administration reviews the plans and inspects the construction as it progresses to help the borrower obtain sound and acceptable housing. Loan funds will be disbursed under Farmers Home Administration supervision.

Vaccination Campaign Underway

COLLEGE STATION—Horse-owners throughout Texas are urged to "get the jump" on VEE. Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis, that deadly sleeping sickness of horses. All horses that were not vaccinated last year should be vaccinated as soon as possible.

It was less than a year ago that the disease swept into the state from Mexico, killing hundreds of horses in its path.

The 1972 campaign against VEE calls for vaccination of all equidae (horses, mules and donkeys) not vaccinated last year, points out Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In addition to Texas, the vaccination campaign will include the Gulf Coast states and states adjoining Mexico. All these states have been designated "high risk" states by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Armstrong lists four categories of horses that should be vaccinated now—(1) unvaccinated horses that have recently moved into the state; (2) foals born since last year's vaccination drive; (3) foals vaccinated under six months of age; (4) horses that were overlooked and never vaccinated.

Officials of the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Service believe that VEE will break out again even though the disease was confined to 25 Texas counties in 1971. So, it's important to vaccinate now before mosquitoes which transmit the disease emerge in the warm months ahead, emphasizes Armstrong.

Starting guards this season were Felipe Perez, Shannon Souder and Etta Warren. Other guards were Belinda Ray, Judy Nutzler, Gloria Sampson and Sheryl Lynsky.

A multi-regional probation service for juveniles and minor offenders is the planning stages by the committee to help rehabilitate criminals.

The committee also funded the "New Directions Program" in Lubbock. This program will help unwed mothers in this area by allowing them to finish school and providing them with personal help. It is in conjunction with the Lubbock Public School System and houses 55 girls at the present time. Girls from Muleshoe will be allowed to attend this school.

Other projects include: the new teletype system in Muleshoe; a program for furnishing extra law enforcement officers and cars during special events; helping with probation officers; set up a detective service at Levelland; helped to consolidate the Post sheriff-police departments; and set up training schools for justices of the peace.

On a whole, the Criminal Justice Advisory Committee was developed because of the need of a vehicle for the state to do business through county commissioners courts.

Mr. and Mrs. C.H. (Bud) Holdeman have returned home from Temple where Holdeman underwent surgery at Scott and White Hospital. He is now recuperating at home.

The Drug Abuse Center at Plainview, set up by SPAG and the committee, has already proven useful to this county. It is basically for juveniles, 13-25. Youngsters with drug problems can be committed by the courts to the center or can be treated as out-patients on a volunteer basis. This center was funded through the committee.

Sausage Friers 4-H Club Takes Tour

The Sausage Friers of the Progress 4-H Club have met three times recently. The first meeting was in the home of the Ernest Ramm's, Ruth Ramm, leader, and assistant leader, Alta Ramm, discussed plans for the cooking group and the group discussed what they would enjoy cooking.

For the second meeting, Mrs. Ramm picked the girls up at school. They toured three grocery stores to compare prices of fresh, frozen and canned foods. They decided to cook two vegetables that none of the group had eaten. The Club then toured the Muleshoe Locker. Vance Wagon showed the girls through the locker, starting from the time the beef, swine or sheep are killed, cooling the meat, curing the pork and smoking it, to cutting and packaging it. "The Club wishes to thank Wagon for conducting the tour," states Ruth Ramm, club leader.

At the third meeting, held in the Ramm home, the group made yeast bread. Lovetta Black and Glenda Rasco made the topping while Carol Sue Black and

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION--"Meats take a large share of our food money, so it pays to be economical when shopping for meat," said Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Watch newspaper ads for money-saving prices on cuts of shoulder roasts and steaks, quarter loin, loin roasts, liver, smoked picnics and ham portions.

"If you're thinking in terms of beef, best choices this week will be rib roasts, round steaks, chuck roasts and ground beef," the specialist said. "Liver is a good choice for both economy and food value. Try a liver casserole with onions. Frying chickens cost about the same as last week and continue to be a good value. Some stores will feature whole chickens this weekend. That's a good chance to buy and freeze for future use, according to Mrs. Clyatt. She reminded that when shopping for poultry, remember the label of inspection is a guide to wholesomeness. The USDA grade shield assures standardized quality.

Oranges and grapefruit--two of the best natural sources of vitamin C--remain in abundant supply. Apples are still a good buy, either by the pound or by the bag. Add a special treat to menus by using fresh strawberries now available at local markets. Bananas and pears are also good buys.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are important items in diets for persons of all ages. Choices in most plentiful supply include potatoes, green cabbage, hard shell squash, dry yellow onions, carrots and sweet potatoes. Moderately priced broccoli, eggplant, cauliflower and bell peppers lend variety to menus.

Well Told "So Fred has given up smoking?"

"Yes. On the advice of his doctor, at the request of his wife, and by command of his mother-in-law."

WEDDING PLANS ANNOUNCED . . . Mr. and Mrs. S.P. Stockard of Muleshoe announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Rickie, to Richard Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Warren of Muleshoe. Miss Stockard is a 1971 graduate of Muleshoe High School and is a freshman at West Texas State University in Canyon. Warren is a senior at Muleshoe High School. The couple plan to be married June 8, 1972, at the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe.

Conservatism is often just camouflaged selfishness. It's surprising how many people do little work.

Hayes Selected All South AAA Basketball

Johnny Hayes was selected on the all-south AAA basketball team. This team is selected by the sports writers of the Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

Johnny has been an outstanding player for the Muleshoe Mules for the past two seasons. He is best known for his shooting ability. In district play Johnny hit 75 for 165 for a shooting percentage of 46 percent. A couple of teams in the district used a special defense to keep him from scoring. He was still able to average 19 points a game.

Other than his shooting ability, Johnny was very effective against the press and many times had the responsibility of setting up the Mules offense. He was also selected as a captain for the 1971-72 Mules. Congratulations to Johnny on being selected to this team.

John Tower United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

Services For Jimmy Dean Held Saturday

Jimmy L. Dean, 63, died at 10:45 Wednesday night at Wichita Falls, Texas, where he had been for one week.

His home was at 824 South Main in Muleshoe. He had lived in Muleshoe since 1924, moving from Fredrick, Okla., where he was born on March 15, 1908.

He was a farmer and a member of the Methodist Church. Funeral services were held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in the Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home Chapel of the Chimes. Rev. Charlie Seerest, Baptist minister from Tulsa, Okla., and Rev. Doug DuBose, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe officiated. Interment was in the Bailey County Memorial Park under the direction of Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Nellie Dean of Muleshoe; and one brother, Emmett Dean of Muleshoe.

seminar known as Wehrkunde and held in Munich, Germany. I also visited with the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean; with NATO command headquarters for Allied Forces (South) in Naples; U.S. Naval Headquarters (Europe) and the 3rd Air Force and 20th Tactical Fighter Wing in Upper Heyford, England, and with members of Her Majesty's Government in London.

As a member of the Senate Armed Service Committee, I feel it is important to gain a first-hand assessment, to the extent that it is possible, of the need for our NATO commitment and for the needs of our servicemen who are fulfilling that commitment. My attendance at the NATO seminar and with our naval and air force personnel did much to aid me in judging these needs.

There is continuing concern on the part of our European allies that there will be substantial reductions in American force levels committed to NATO at a time of growing Soviet threat on the NATO flanks. The Norwegian Sea has become virtually a Soviet lake and the Soviets are continuing their naval buildup in the Mediterranean.

I have returned to Washington even more convinced that any U.S. force reductions in the European Theater would be manifestly unwise. Such action would be contrary to our own national interest if indeed it is in our national interest to maintain a position of global influence that makes us a major factor in the preservation of a peace characterized by political stability, free commercial intercourse and a climate in which developing nations may pursue self-determination.

It is essential, at a time when the Soviets have taken the initiative in convoking a European Security Conference and when there is movement toward talks aimed at mutual and balanced force reductions between NATO and Warsaw Pact forces, that the U.S. presence be maintained at least at present levels.

If we should withdraw U.S. forces from NATO now, then the Warsaw Pact nations will have little incentive to agree to mutual reductions on both sides.

In my mind, our NATO forces should actually be augmented. We should give serious consideration to the possibility of im-

LAMB WINNERS . . . Lazbuddie showmen swept all five trophies in the lamb show at the Parmar County Junior Livestock Show. proving our naval capability in the Northern Atlantic. In the Mediterranean, our anti-submarine warfare capability should be improved and the deployment of additional fixed base aircraft is also desirable.

My conclusion is that the modernization of our total armed force is required. We should modernize our navy, keep production lines open for sophisticated aircraft, increase our research and development efforts, and take steps to encourage our military personnel to remain in the services. If we do not follow this course, we shall fall behind the Soviets both quantitatively and qualitatively in a short time. Additional defense expenditures, in the range of 5 to 6 billion dollars over this fiscal year, is warranted for next fiscal year and my committee will be conducting such an increase this calendar year. It should be apparent to all that the Soviets are bent of becoming the single world super-power. Over the long pull, it is clearly not in our own national interest for that to be accomplished.

To reiterate an old but accurate theme, there is no substitute for a credible American presence in Western Europe and on its flanks. Our allies should be encouraged to face up to the reality of Soviet power, to understand the magnitude of Soviet ambitions, and at once be convinced of American determination to maintain well known, our allies, out of apprehension, will be moved toward unilateral accommodations with the Soviets. Such actions would weaken the West and weaken the United States.

I would like to add a word about economic matters. Unfortunately, a delay in my departure forced me to abandon my plans to visit the trade negotiations with some of the Europeans I visited. I have felt that the United States should obtain improved trade arrangements in return for dollar devaluation. Some progress has been made with the Common Market through the Brussels talks and I feel that we have done about as well as could be expected under the circumstances. In addition to these short-term arrangements, I believe that all of our major trading partners are willing to go into extensive long-term negotiations next year. It is now time for the Congress to proceed with dollar devaluation, and that legislation will soon come before the Senate Banking Committee of which I am a member. I will keep you abreast in the future.

Pig Show Slated For March 5-6

Lubbock -- Finished pigs will take a back seat to young swine at the first Texas State Championship Feeder Pig Show, slated for March 5-6 in Athens. "The show is open to the general public and there is no entry fee," reports Dr. Gilbert Hollis, Extension area swine specialist at Lubbock and a member of the state-wide committee for the show.

He says the show is limited to entries of eight pigs weighing from 40-70 pounds each. There will be three classes, based on the average weight of the entries. The grand champion entry will pocket $400, while the reserve champion will get $200. Judges for the event will be "Pig" Paul of Willow Springs, Mo., Dr. T.D. Tanksley, Jr., of Texas A&M University and Bill Brown of Memphis, Tenn. A feeder pig sale will follow the judging. The deadline for entries is March 1, Hollis reminds. Management Affects Corn, Grain Prices

COLLEGE STATION--Interested in picking up some additional profits from corn and grain sorghum this year? Then take a close look at your management practices, suggests Dr. Wendell Horne, plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Certain management practices can effectively reduce disease losses to corn and grain sorghum with little or no additional expense," says Horne. An important consideration is crop rotation. Rotating with an unrelated crop will reduce populations of disease-causing organisms in the soil and will keep actual disease losses to a minimum.

According to Horne, a key management practice is wise variety selection. "Many disease resistant varieties have yield capabilities equal to or greater than susceptible varieties."

The plant pathologist encourages producers to become familiar with the diseases of corn and grain sorghum so that they can be recognized. Also, knowing which diseases are most likely to occur gives a producer a head start in planning preventive programs.

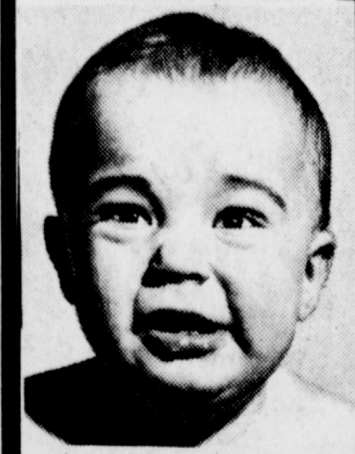

"Take time to observe and identify disease problems each year," urges Horne. "Then you can avoid the field with a serious disease problem in coming years."

Another step in warding off disease problems in corn and grain sorghum is Johnsongrass control. Johnsongrass is closely related to corn and grain sorghum and has almost all the diseases which affect these crops. It's an excellent host of maize dwarf mosaic virus (MDMV) and can carry the virus through the winter in underground rhizomes, explains Horne. In the spring aphids carry the virus from infected Johnsongrass shoots to corn and grain sorghum.

"Get the jump on costly corn and grain sorghum diseases," advises Horne. "Stop by your county Extension office for a color publication showing these diseases and providing additional information on management practices."

In need of a Pull...

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Economic Stabilization

Questions and Answers

Q.-I'm a new car dealer. Can I comply with Price Commission posting requirements by posting the "sticker price" of cars sold during the base period?

A.-No. You must post your actual sales prices during the base period. The actual price for a new automobile may be considerably less than the "sticker price" and may vary from dealer to dealer.

Q.-What factors are considered when an exemption from wage-price controls is made?

A.-Among the factors considered in making an exemption are:

1) The objectives and requirements of the stabilization program;

2) Whether the economic sector is characterized by a large number of sellers and frequent price fluctuations, with a minimum of inflationary pressure;

3) Whether international transactions are involved or whether, in some special situations such as insurance, domestic firms would be at a disadvantage with respect to international competition because of economic controls on price increases;

4) Whether there is a clear basis for establishing a fair and equitable price because of the nature of the product and the selling process;

5) Whether prices are self-assessed or characterized by a strong element of mutuality;

6) Whether other controls have been established by law or by other regulatory agencies;

7) Whether other nonexempt sectors will serve as an effective restraint on an exempt sector; and

8) Considerations of administration and enforcement, including the ability to effectively enforce the controls in sectors with significant inflationary impact. Q.-I know that raw agricultural products are exempt from price controls, but how do you know what is considered to be a "raw agricultural product"?

A.-Agricultural products which retain their original physical form and have not been processed are exempt from price controls. Processed agricultural products, namely, those which have been canned, frozen, slaughtered, milled, or otherwise changed in their physical form, are not exempt. Packaging is not considered a processing activity. Thus, while fresh potatoes, packaged or not, are exempt from controls, frozen french fries are not, while live cattle are exempt, steak cuts are not.

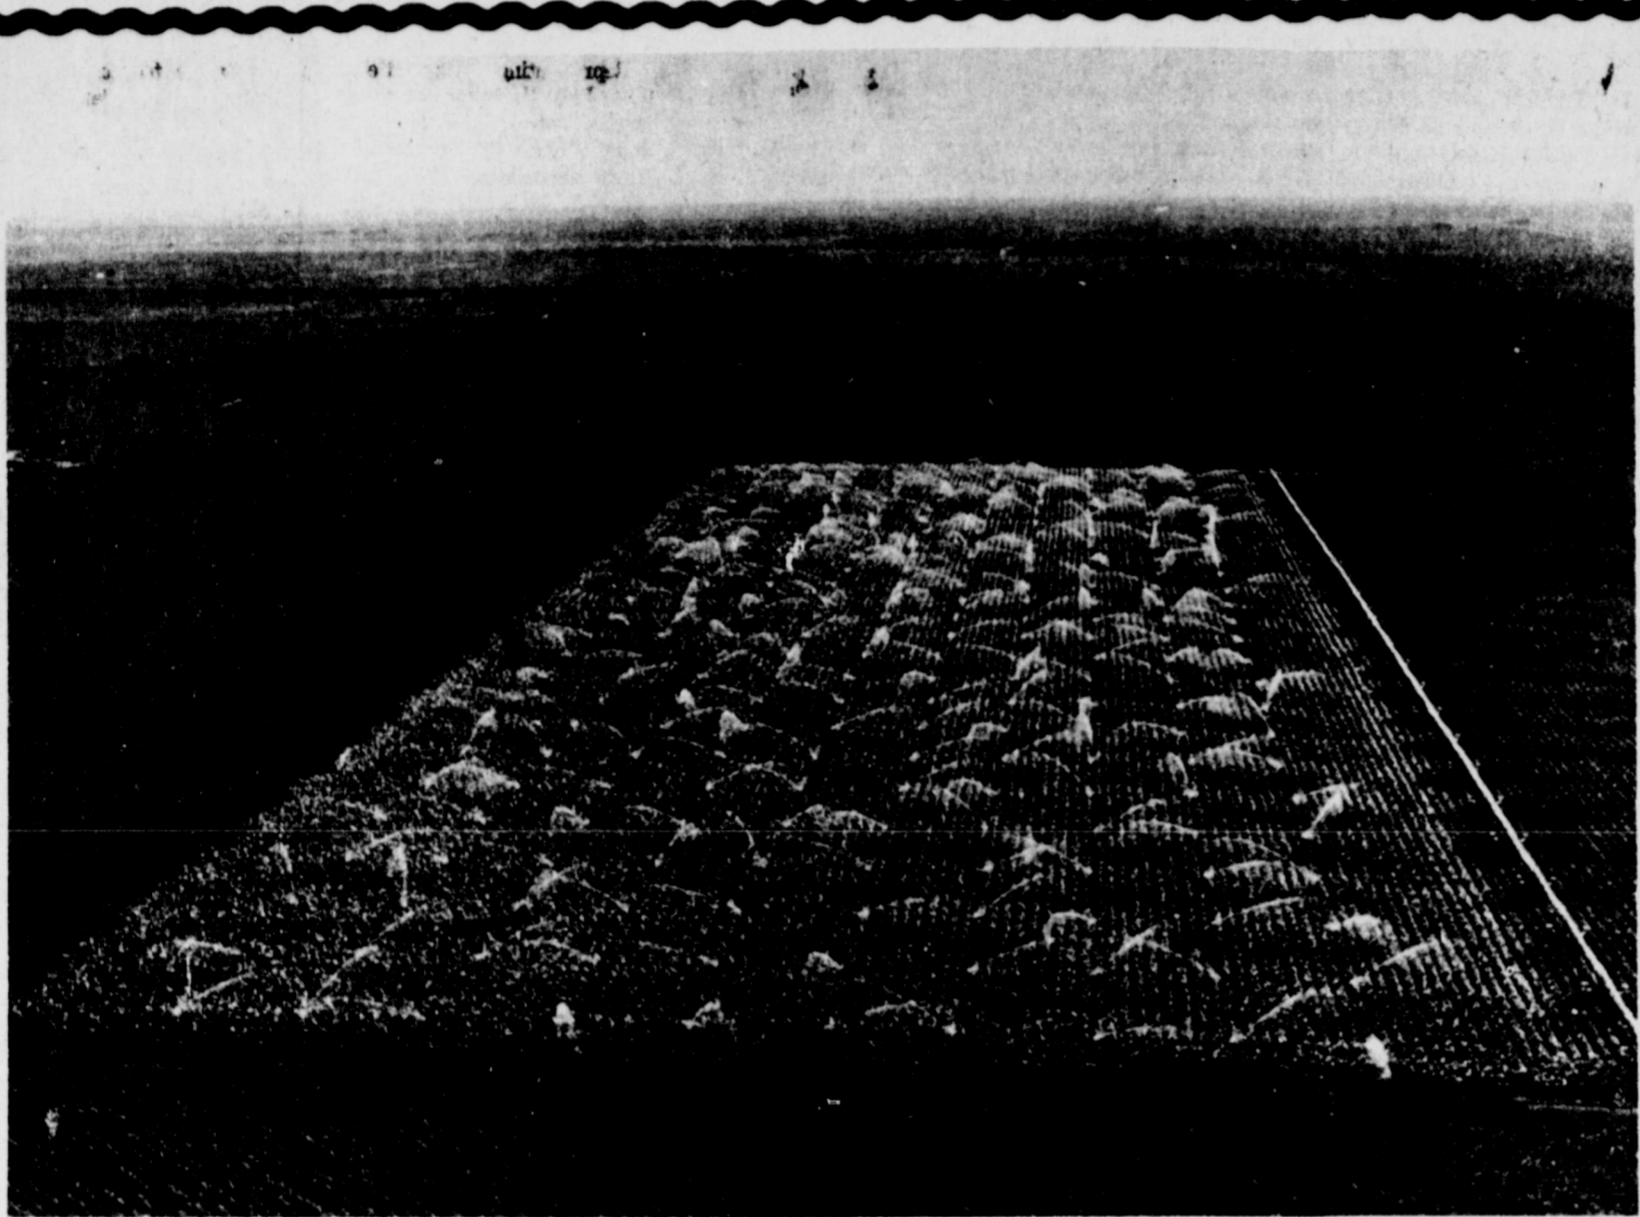

Q.-Do firms who are required to notify or report their price increases have any protection for trade secrets that might be revealed to the Price Commission?

A.-Yes. Under recent amendments to the Economic Stabilization Act of 1970, such information is considered confidential. It may be disclosed only to other Stabilization personnel for the purpose of carrying out the Economic Stabilization Program or when relevant in any proceeding under the Act.

Q.-If a firm has a range of salaries for the same job what wage or salary can be paid to a new employee?

A.-The employee may be paid any salary within the range which the qualifications of the applicant justify as long as the annual aggregate increase paid by the firm in this job classification does not exceed the 5.5 percent standard set by the Pay Board.

Meet Our Tri-Matic Family

Big John: $1,725.00 per 1/4-mile sprinkler line. Tri-Matic 320 Self Aligning-"Alfalfa King" waters 320 acres row crop. Sprinkler spacing 30'x50', twelve 1/4 mile sprinkler lines watering 11 acres per set, 22 acres per day. 800 G.P.M. to 1400 G.P.M. Waters from either end of trail line.

Little Joe: (Our latest family addition) $1,770.00 per 1/4-mile sprinkler line. Tri-Matic 200--economy Self Aligning. Great for hay or row crops. Waters up to 200 acres row crop water capacity, 600 G.P.M. to 1200 G.P.M. 7 1/4 acre per setting 14 1/2 acre per day--fast moving and efficient. No manual aligning needed.

Martha May: $1,700.00 per 1/4 mile sprinkler line. Tri-Matic 160 (mama of them all) A real dollar saver (she just might be a little Scotch). Waters 160 acres row crop. Five 1/4 mile sprinklers running. Not Self aligning. WHO KNOWS, MARTHA MIGHT BE LIBERATED, then she could handle as much water as Big John.

The new generation, Big John and Little Joe, align themselves and are real smart. They don't sprinkle on themselves any more like other systems. Why! They don't even make a muddy track.

The life expectancy is more than double!

Tri-Matic family plan is not finished so don't be surprised. (We are expecting something exciting)

TEST FLIGHT OF THE SR-71--During the Lincoln Day recess, I had the opportunity, at the invitation of the Secretary of the Air Force, to test fly the highly sophisticated SR-71 reconnaissance aircraft at Beale Air Force Base, California.

As a former Air Force jet fighter pilot who has flown many aircraft, I can safely say that the SR-71 is one of the most advanced components of our defense system. This highly classified plane plays a vital role in this country's overall military posture.

I have always been and remain today committed to the policy of this country's continued military superiority over any other nation in the world. With $78 billion already spent on defense for the United States this year, it is important that at least a few of us in Congress -- as representatives of the people -- evaluate firsthand some of the military hardware for which so many of our tax dollars are being spent. I am pleased that, as one of only a handful of the 535 Members of Congress qualified to test fly aircraft such as the SR-71, I am able to afford Members of Congress that firsthand evaluation.

As a result of my flight, I am now far more knowledgeable about the plane and will be making a report on it to the Secretary of Defense, Secretary of the Air Force and my Colleagues in the Congress. DISALLOW MORE BEEF IMPORTS -- Upon hearing that the Cost of Living Council was considering easing beef import quotas, I wired Donald Rumsfeld, Director of the Council, last week urging him not to allow more imported beef into this country.

That such action is even being considered causes me grave

Cotton Meeting Scheduled

The past, present and future of cotton will be scrutinized at the Sixth Annual Cotton Production Meeting of the South Plains Development Program in Lubbock, March 8.

The conference is slated for 1:20 p.m. in the KoKo Palace, according to Billy C. Gunter, SPD program coordinator and district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The program was started in 1967 to furnish South Plains agribusinessmen, producers and homemakers the latest information to increase income and family living standards.

The cotton meeting will open with Dabney Wellford, who is an economist with the National Cotton Council. He will cover such questions as the qualities of cotton that will be in demand this year, as well as his views of cotton marketing and prices in the future.

Roy McClung, Cochran County agricultural agent, will discuss cotton irrigation and seed quality. He will be followed by Dr. Levon Ray of the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. Ray will report on some of the current cotton varieties, problems in producing them, and needs for the future. The researcher is noted for his pioneer work in the development of narrow row cotton varieties that are rapidly increasing in popularity over the nation.

John J. Seibert, Extension economist from College Station, will cover the aspects of forward contracting of cotton. Walter Wells of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will explain the new provisions of the government farm program and also producer options in the feed grain program.

Marvin Sartin, Extension area economist at Lubbock, will conclude the program with a discussion on how South Plains cotton producers can fit the government farm program into their farming operations.

"The meeting will cover key items concerning the cotton industry on the South Plains," says Dr. Robert Metzger, Extension area cotton specialist, "it is open to anyone interested in the West Texas cotton industry."

The meeting is being sponsored by the area county agricultural agents and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

it that way and have worked to keep it that way. Even during harsh droughts, with cattle prices at terribly low prices and cattlemen going broke, the cattlemen of this country still wanted no part of the Federal Government's meddling with the market.

Since more than adequate provisions have already been made for the importation of foreign beef, it is most unfair, now that the market is getting better, for the Government to think about tinkering with it by easing import quotas or imposing price controls.

VOTING ATTENDANCE REQUIRED FOR MEMBERS OF CONGRESS -- I introduced last Thursday a joint resolution which, if adopted by the Congress and ratified by the states, will amend the Constitution by requiring Members of Congress to be recorded on at least 70 per cent of the roll call votes during a session of Congress or lose their jobs.

If this amendment is added to the Constitution, all it will do is to require Members of Congress to be present to do what they were elected to do -- be present to represent their constituents and vote on legislation before the Congress. If a Senator or Representative is not recorded on at least 70 per cent of the roll call votes during a session of Congress, under this amendment the office would become vacant and the state from which he was elected would be notified of the vacancy. The only exception to that required 70 per cent voting record is when a Member of Congress is excused or necessarily prevented from being present due to illness or official business.

It seems to me that, especially in view of the salaries Members of Congress receive, there isn't any good reason why Congressmen should not be required to be present to do what they are paid to do. I certainly intend to do everything I can to see that this amendment is adopted by the House of Representatives, and I urge you, if you agree, to contact your friends and relatives around the country and ask them to write their Congressman in support of this much-needed amendment.

GIVES MINESWEEPERS

Washington--The United States has given six minesweepers and a small repair ship to the Indonesian navy. Defense Department officials said the 120-foot, wooden-hull minesweepers, each mounted with a 40mm gun, had been declared excess by the U.S. Navy.
