Lone Rider And Bride Continue Trip To L. A.

Jessey Hearn of Antlers, Okla., (The Lone Rider), and his bride of 23 days, the former Mrs. Opal Ince of Santo, were in town Friday enroute to Los Angeles, Calif. to publicize the third annual Antlers Homecoming for Pushmataha County residents, on June 14, 15 and 16.

In 1945, a tornado almost completely destroyed the town and approximately 18,000 residents were forced to move. Purpose of the journey from Antlers to California is to locate former residents of Antlers.

Hearn, deputy sheriff of Pushmataha County, had traveled 275 miles on his horse, Rex, when he became ill in Santo. There he met and married his bride after a 22-hour courtship.

The Not-So Lone Rider, continued his journey Friday morning and have six weeks to complete the trip. They hope to return to Oklahoma in time for the homecoming.

The journey is being sponsored by the Purina Company, who furnishes food for the horse; the Wrangler Company, clothes manufacturers; Clyde Hinsley Lumber Co., Johnny Hicks Photo, Charlie Cooper and the Antlers American Newspaper.

Participants in the contest include Central Drug, which is donating the hair dryer; A&C Studio, the portrait; the White Elephant, a meal for four; Dick Dixon and the Majestic Theater, complimentary theater tickets; and the Eastland Telegram, the Bible.

Any member of the family may nominate their "mom" and sponsors have indicated that judging will be on originality and aptness of thought.

Those who want their mother to win, should list the qualities she possesses, which make her "the greatest Mom," the sponsors say.

There are no age limits: she may be a very young mother or one that's very old.

Mother Of Year's Identity Will Be Revealed May 12

Additional prizes have been announced for Eastland's Mother of the Year, who will be picked in a contest now underway.

Prizes already announced include an electric hair dryer, a white zipper Bible and an 8 by 10 portrait, according to Dale Troutt, owner-manager of Central Drug.

The winning mother will also receive a meal "out" for her family and an evening's entertainment at the theater.

Entries are already coming in and Thursday at 5 p. m. is the deadline for depositing them at the special Mother's Day box at Central Drug.

An impartial committee will select the winner, based on a brief statement written by those who believe their mother should win. Entrants are asked to use the blank (found inside this newspaper) to tell in 25 words or less, why "their mom is the greatest."

The winning mother will be announced in the Eastland Telegram Sunday, May 12, and her picture will appear on the front page of the paper.

Participants in the contest include Central Drug, which is donating the hair dryer; A&C Studio, the portrait; the White Elephant, a meal for four; Dick Dixon and the Majestic Theater, complimentary theater tickets; and the Eastland Telegram, the Bible.

T&P Railway has announced that it will have a display at the banquet, as will all manufacturers in Eastland, for what will be a parade of Eastland-made products.

These exhibits will be installed on the patio near the entrance and will provide an area of visiting and looking prior to the opening of the banquet.

shouts when finals are completely finished. Then starts the college students biggest worry — Where to get a job for the summer? Almost all college students, male and female, need summer employment in order to help their parents put them through school. Most merchants don't realize how badly these students need jobs and consequently they are turned down. I, for one have been hunting a job since the first of February.

Also this is the time of term themes. I was lost when I started writing mine. I had to check out a book from our library and read it from beginning to end to write my theme.

Last week all the students in the dorms who wanted to live in the dorm next year were assigned our new rooms. That was a pretty exciting time to most of us, but the most exciting time we will have is when we finally get our grades for this semester and find out if we passed all our subjects.

I thought you might be interested in some of the meanings of the slang we use here and in most colleges. Fink — means anyone you don't like or who does something to irritate you. Stud — stud means a cool cat or someone who is cute or dressed real nice.

These are just examples but you can see they can almost mean anything or anyone. Hope to see you all pretty soon.
