Poll Tax Campaign Underway

Only 750 poll taxes had been sold at the County Tax Collector's office Friday—and there are only nine days left for purchasing 1963 voting rights.

Deputy Ott Hearn reported that sub stations are in operation in Rising Star, Gorman, Cisco and Ranger but reports have not been turned in yet.

Only 159 were sold since the first day of January. Prior to the first, the Eastland office had sold 591.

The Jaycees are planning to help poll tax sales again this year.

The club has had Chamber of Commerce Secretary Nancy Pryor deputized and she sold receipts from a desk in the bank lobby Friday from 4 to 6 p.m. and will repeat for late buyers again next Friday.

Also the Jaycees will stage another "tax party" at the chamber office on Thursday, January 31st, for those who have still failed to buy their taxes by the last day.

President James Smith said that coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Voters in Eastland can look forward to an interesting voting year in '63—if they have their poll tax receipts.

The school bond election is expected probably next month, and a city commission election is on tap the first Thursday in April.

Three commission posts will be up for re-election this year.

And as long as there's the right of petition, there's no telling what other elections may be just around the corner.

Where Are the '30 Acres'?

LOCATION OF THE 30 ACRES

Lots 58 and 47 represent the two 15-acre blocks now owned by the school.

The "X" in Lot 47 is the suggested approximate location for the new elementary school.

The location of the lots in relation to other landmarks is shown:

At top right is the blacked-in Courthouse square. At lower right is the present South Ward School. Immediately north of the proposed new site is located the present West Ward. The Junior High School and High School buildings are to the east of the West Ward building. (The three existing school buildings are indicated by the three squares near the center of this map.) The Little League Field is just south of the High School, and the Football Practice Field is shown (by P.F.) diagonally across the intersection from the new site.

Dick Johnson Is Bowl Chairman

Dick Johnson, Texas Highway Department engineer here, has been named general chairman of the 1963 Peanut Bowl. Johnson will be in charge of over-all planning for the fourth annual event, which will be held Sept. 14th.

President James Smith also said in announcing Johnson's appointment, that a complete list of committee assignments will be ready soon, and that planning for the event will begin "right away."

A county-centered spring carnival was also discussed and the club is considering such an event in late April.

In cooperation with a commercial firm that will furnish a wide assortment of rides, the club will build and operate booths of fun for a tentative one-week show, to be held in Eastland, and extend invitations to area towns to participate.

Talk also got underway at the Thursday night meeting about the annual Outstanding Young Man Banquet, which will be held Feb. 7th.

Service and civic clubs will be asked to nominate their choice for the OYM in Eastland and the one picked most deserving will be honored at the banquet.

The Sept. 14 date for the Peanut Bowl will be considerably earlier this year and will pit Cisco and Ranger junior college teams in their first game of the year. Contracts with the two schools are already signed.

It was reported that the club netted about $30 on the circus they sponsored here in December.

Nominating committee James Smith, Grover Hallmark and Mike Collins. Election Banquet to be March 7.

Three commission slots will be up for election this year.

Trott was an unsuccessful candidate for a city post in the 1962 election.

This is Smith's first entry. Reports are that at least two other men plan to announce for the election, which will be held Tuesday, April 2nd.

Trott is co-owner and manager of the recently re-located and newly decorated Central Drug on the north side of the square. A native of East Texas, he has been in Eastland since 1959. He was administrator at Eastland Memorial Hospital for two years before purchasing the Davis Drug, formerly located on the south side of the square.

He is a member of the Jaycees, the Lions club, the First

Germany and Perkins, who have each served three terms for a total of six years, have announced that they will not be candidates for re-election. Fullen is at this time undecided, but said that he will announce his intentions soon.

TUESDAY

Public to Be 'Schooled' At Series of Meetings

It'll be back to school for a great number of Eastland people this coming Tuesday.

The entire day will virtually be spent in a series of meetings, planned to inform the public on the proposed building plans and problems faced by the school board.

Board members, their architect and financial advisor, will first present a program for a joint meeting of the local Lions and Rotary clubs at noon at the White Elephant Restaurant.

Then at 3:15 p.m. at the Eastland High School auditorium, members and guests of the local Parent-Teachers Association will also get the same program.

Approximately 30 other citizens have been invited to attend a meeting at 7 p.m. at the school to hear the program.

Guest speakers will be Architect Daniel Boone and Morris Dudley, Dallas investment banking firm.

The board met in special session Tuesday evening with the city commissioners and discussed the proposed building and problems involved at the site.

The school owns a 30-acre tract in the southwest part of town, blocks 47 and 58, located between east-west streets of Conner and Sadosa, and between the north-south streets of Ostrom and High.

Madera St., if extended, would bisect block 47, on which the school board hopes to build the new school. The site is about equidistance from the two present West and South Ward buildings.

But there are plumbing problems. County Surveyor Tommy Magness, who has been surveying the site in relation to the area, told the group Tuesday that the nearest sewage entry would be about a block east of the northeast corner of Block 47, and that the two points are virtually level, but a gully lies between the two which would probably prevent going that route.

He suggested a gravity line from the southeast corner of Block 47, by way of an eight-inch line, running south, crossing Highway 6, and to the extreme southeast corner of town where a sewage pump station is now located. At the Tuesday meeting Magness said that he had not checked the incline sufficiently to determine if the line would function by gravity.

Supt. Wendell Siebert said Thursday that Magness had reported that he had found that the gravity line would work.

"About 45,000 feet of 8-inch pipe would be required," Magness said.

The board and the commissioners saw the first pictorial representation of the proposed air-conditioned plan Tuesday, and were told by Siebert that the architect plans for 500 students, in 16 classrooms, the building to be built in a "Y" shape, with eight classrooms on either arm. The primary grades would therefore be separated from the older youngsters, Siebert said.

"Is it expandable," Council Chairman Virgil Seaberry asked, and Siebert answered "Yes," after first having misunderstood Seaberry, and thought he asked if it was to be "expandable."

The school's population would be between 350 and 400 students, the superintendent said, and classrooms would be 25 by 30 feet, and with one verticle window, suitable for use as a fire exit.

Board President M. H. Perry explained that the bond company had indicated that the interest might be 4.07 per cent on a 35 year program and 4.04 for 30 years. Neither have been agreed upon, he said.

Block 58 is located directly south of the City Park and 47 is directly south of the present West Ward building.

An alternate site was suggested but found to be inadequate. It was Block 62, immediately west of the City Park, lying between High and Folts and Valley and Sadosa streets.

Siebert said that the rule-of-thumb for sites is five acres for the building plus about one acre for each 100 youngsters—therefore a nine to twelve-acre block would be needed for Eastland's elementary need.

P-TA To See Sketches Of Elementary School

Water color sketches of the proposed new elementary school will be displayed for members of the Eastland Parent-Teachers Association Tuesday afternoon.

Meeting at 3:45 p.m. in the Eastland High School auditorium, members and guests will hear Daniel Boone, chief architect for Boone and Pope, elaborate on the school designed by the Ablene firm at the request of the Eastland School Board.

Floor plan of the school and that of the proposed gymnasium will also be shown by Boone.

Explaining the cost involved in building the school, he gym, and a vocational agriculture shop will be Morris Dudley of Almon and McKinney, Dallas investment banking firm.

He will give a studied estimate of the cost involved in retiring the necessary bond debt and will discuss the possible impact on taxes.

All interested people are invited to the meeting.

The water color sketches will also be displayed at the joint meeting of the Eastland Rotary and Lions Clubs at noon on Tuesday and at the citizen's meeting in the High School auditorium at 7 p.m. that evening.

IN DISTRICT COURT

114 Criminal Cases Await Trial Here

By H. V. O'BRIEN

The year-old assault-to-murder case scheduled to be tried Monday in 91st District Court will be watched with a great deal of interest.

Not for the case itself, but for an indication of the movement of the wheels of justice in the county.

Only 22 criminal cases were tried last year.

The case set for Monday, which was postponed twice in 1962, is one 114 untried criminal cases pending in the court.

Cases set next week are among the 114 untried criminal cases pending in the court.

Seven of the 22 were jury-tried and 15 were non-jury cases.

Five criminal cases were dismissed last year, as well as 94 civil cases.

Juries heard four civil cases, and 55 were non-jury civil cases.

A total of 83 of the 114 untried cases stem from grand jury indictments and the remainder come to the court as transfers from justice, county and out-of-county courts, including three from Duvall County, filed in 1955 for misappropriation of public money.

(The Duval cases are still on the local books because prosecuting attorneys from that county and/or the state attorney general's office didn't appear.)

Of the 114 cases, one dates from 1952; one from 1953; one from 1954; three from 1955; 13 from 1956; 14 from 1957; 8 from 1958; 20 from 1959; 20 from 1960; 18 from 1961; and 14 from 1962.

Local School Near Free of Court Order

The Eastland schools should be "out from under" the federal court order on Friday, Feb. 1st.

That's the calling date for the outstanding bonds, and technically the 1941 order should be void on that day.

The local school district is calling 44 of the outstanding bonds, and its financial firm, Almo and McKinney of Dallas is calling the other 50.

The firm will turn the 50 into refunding bonds at three per cent—which will be a saving because some will go to four for the school.

114 Cases -

(Continued from page 1) are it will be listed among the 114 cases . . . from wife desertion to operating a semi-trailer without a license.

Burglary is the most prevalent offense among those on file—22 cases.

Divorces appear to be easy to get in this county—75 were granted in 1962 and not a single one tried was denied.

Three annulments were also granted.

However, after working all year, the court was still those divorce cases further behind at the end of the year, than at the beginning.

On Jan. 1, 1962, 56 divorce cases were pending; 87 new cases were filed during the year; 75 were granted; and nine were dismissed—leaving a backlog on Dec. 31 of 59 cases.

The court started last year with 70 tax cases pending; tried none and had none added; ending '62 with the same 70.

There were 148 civil cases pending on Jan. 1 last year. During the year, 124 new ones were filed. Even with the 59 that were tried and the 94 that were dismissed, the court still ended up with 119 pending at year's end.

The court had 141 criminal cases on file during 1962—110 carried over from the preceding year and 31 new ones filed or transferred in.

Five dismissals and the 22 trials totaled 27 disposals, leaving the 114 still to go.

Statistically, 100 of the criminal cases have been on the books for over a year without trial; 82 for more than two years; and 34 for more than 5.

By offense, here is the way the pending cases tally out:

- Habitual corpus, 2; swindling with worthless check, 6; driving while intoxicated, 8; theft, 11; misappropriation of public money, 3 (Duval); removing mortgaged property, 1; wife desertion, 3; false swearing, 1; worthless checks, 1; altering a prescription, 1; exposing private parts to a minor, 1; felony swindling, 1; forgery and passing, 2;
- Swindling (first and second offense) 8; theft by false pretense, 1; burglary, 22; operating a semi-trailer illegally, 1; theft over $50, 3; concealing stolen property, 1; forgery, 6; selling alcoholic beverages, 2; carrying gun, 1; negligent homicide, 1; disturbing peace, 1; disposing of mortgaged property, 1; swindling, 2;
- Removing mortgaged property from county, 1; aggravated assault, 1; possession of alcoholic beverages for sale, 5; massive forged instrument, 1; obtaining money by false pretense, 1;
- Auto g-in after passing, 1; assault with intent to rape, 2; parking on roadway, 1; no Texas registration, 1; threat to kill, 1; drunk in public place, 2; enticing child for immoral purposes, 1; assault with intent to murder, 1; and child desertion, 1.

Two sale-of-whiskey cases were transferred to 91st District Court from County Court Jan. 15, and nine (including four DWIs, 2 possession and 3 sales) cases were transferred Jan. 3.

A recent check of records in County Court showed 76 untried cases pending there.

One of the cases, an assault with intent to rape, filed in 1960, was brought to trial once but ended in a mistrial because of separation of the jury—and still awaits trial.

Mrs. McIlvain Is Hostess to Olden HD Club

The Olden Home Demonstration club began the new year of work Jan. 14, with Mrs. I. B. Walker calling the meeting to order.

Mrs. DeAlva Edwards led the group in the opening exercise. Devotional, given by Mrs. Jessie McIlvain, was taken from John 15:2-4. Mrs. I. F. Tally gave the roll call, which 19 members answered with "A label that's misleading."

Minutes of the past meeting were read and approved. New yearbooks were distributed to each member by Mrs. Walker. Following the business session, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Beverly Nicholson, Home Demonstration agent, who gave a very interesting and informative program on "Marketing and Food Selections." She also explained the yearbooks and issued literature of "Picture Selection, Framing and Arranging."

Following adjournment, the group enjoyed a social hour with refreshments of cookies and coffee were served by the hostess, Mrs. McIlvain, to Misses Lawrence, H. F. Cannon, Talbot Walker, Stella Jarrett, Fox, Edwards and Jim Everett. Next meeting will be Jan. 28th with Mrs. Moseley as hostess.

Jack Cozart Gives Screwworm Program

Livestock-owning Farm Bureau members can help carry out one of their policies and at the same time help themselves by participating in the special drive to raise screwworm eradication funds during the week of Jan. 21-26, according to the Eastland County Farm Bureau president Jack Cozart.

The Livestock auction market of Texas is sponsoring the special one-week campaign to help the Livestock Animal Research Fund meet its undersubscribed $1 million goal. Approximately $1 million more is urgently needed to continue the eradication program now in progress. Unless this amount is raised, there is definite possibility that the program will be halted just when success is in sight.

County Farm Bureau delegates to the TFB convention in San Antonio in November adopted a resolution which states: "We favor and endorse the Screwworm Eradication program in the Southwest and urge Farm Bureau members to participate in it. We also recommend that the Texas Farm Bureau help secure non-federal matching funds from contributions, fee, and/or transfer of available funds."

Cozart stated Farm Bureau cannot ask for appropriations to finance the continuance of the eradication program. The delegates soundly defeated a proposal that would permit the organization to request an appropriation from the state.

"In order for the Jan. 21-26 campaign to be successful it will need the wholehearted support of livestock owners as well as auction markets. Although many livestock men have contributed their share in the program earlier, they will want to give again to assure riddance of the costly screwworm from this county. Those who have not contributed have a special obligation to give now to support a program that will help all livestock owners", stated Mr. Cozart.

County Farm Bureau leaders can play a vital role in the future of the eradication program. Although many have supported the program well, they now have the opportunity to help again. The 84,842 members of Farm Bureau in Texas own a substantial majority of all livestock in the state.

Through their democratically adopted policies, they have stated their desire to see the program completed without going to the public treasury," Cozart added.

What Do You Know About Your City?

An Eastland woman's club has recently learned quite a bit about local government — among other things that the city is operating under an antique city charter.

Mrs. H. J. Bulgerin recently had charge of the program for the club and decided on the city's charter as topic for discussion.

She prepared 16 questions and in checking the members, found that few knew the answers about the charter.

In fact three questions remain unanswered and this newspaper would welcome information from readers who believe they know the answers.

The members did learn that the city operates under the commissioner-city manager type of government. Most already knew this, but few realized that the city Charter was adopted as far back as April 2, 1923.

Mrs. Bulgerin explained that, according to the charter, the city's water works may be used only for improvement.

The annual Chamber of Commerce dinner event, dormant for the past several years, has been set for Feb. 26, according to president, James Rutherford.

The date was set and committees named at the regular Chamber meeting last week. The program committee members are Charles Rutherford, chairman, B. A. Butler, H. McDonald and A. D. Jenkins. Members on the Arrangements Committee are, John Pruet, chairman, Bill Dennard, Mutt Carroll and H. K. Neely, Jr. meats to the water property. Can the city collect a poll tax?

"Yes," says the charter, in fact $1 a year for persons from 21 to 60 years old.

According to the charter, how often is a statement of the city's financial status required to be published, Mrs. Bulgerin asked.

Her answer: "A commissioner's financial report should be published quarterly and the city manager's monthly financial report should be published each month."

The club members learned that the board of commissioners is made up of five persons, each serving two years. Two commissioners are elected one year, and three the following year.

Date for the annual election is the first Tuesday in April, and qualifications for an office are one year of residency and 25 years of age.

"What are the maximum salaries?"

By the charter, $6,000 per year for the city manager; $1,800 per year for the city clerk; $1,800 per year for chief of police; and $1,200 per year for policemen.

"Yes," the city has a Corporation court, and the city manager is its judge.

The three unanswered questions:

"Who were the first commissioners elected?"

"Who was the first chairman (mayor)?"

"Who was the first city manager?"

The club members also learned one other item about the city government—

There is no salary for the commissioners.

Ag Teacher Sims, Family Are Subject of Column

Dub Sims, Eastland High School vocational agricultural teacher, and his family were subjects of a column by Bob Cooke, farm editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, this past week.

Dub is in the midst of his first year at EHS, and judging from his background of livestock raising and showing, is well-qualified for the post.

Cooke said in his column: "Twenty-one years ago, Frank H. Sims Sr. of Haskell launched two of his three sons on a calf feeding project in Haskell County that has been more than ordinarily successful."

"The move has influenced a number of people and will continue to affect lives of youngsters who are now in the calf feeding business."

Frank Sr. was manager of the Brown & Davis Ranch, about four miles northeast of Stamford, in 1942.

"He purchased a couple of good calves from his employers, steered them and gave one to Frank H. Jr. and one to Ray, the middle of the three sons."

The supervisor of the two Sims boys was Frank W. Martin, who was beginning his first year as Haskell County agricultural agent.

That first year, 1942, Frank Marti and Frank Sims Jr. scored a grand championship

Frank Sims Jr. did not win another title until 1945 when he had a other grand champion at Wichita Falls.

"Also, it was a B&D bred Hereford."

"In 1947 Ray Sims, now completing his first full year as Coleman County agricultural agent, showed another B & D steer to the championship of the Wichita Falls show."

"But Dub Sims, the youngest of the three, achieved the greatest success. He showed a calf to the championship of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth in 1955. It, too, was a Brown & Davis Hereford."

school facilities now, he said, and to put the two together at either site would be impossible.

It probably would be necessary also to pave quite a bit to the proposed site—Madera St. from Commerce to Sadosa and about two blocks on Sadosa, it was pointed out.

Guesses were that it might cost some $25,000 for sewage, paving fire protection, etc for the 30-acre tract.

James T. Wright Commended By Veterans Office

James T. Wright, Eastland County veterans service officer has been commended by the State Veterans Affairs Commission for his support of the veterans program here and in arranging for most of the $475,788 paid to veterans during the past year.

A letter, signed by Executive Director Charles L. Morris, was sent to Wright this past week.

It said in part:

"During the past year, $475,788 was paid to veterans and their families in your county. Please bear in mind that this amount represents only the cases that were handled through the Veterans Affairs Commission and the organizations with which we are accredited."

"We realize that none of these benefits were automatic in any sense of the word. The benefits that are available to disabled veterans and their families from the state and federal government must be applied for. The size of the awards indicates that you have done an outstanding job of assisting the claimants in your county in making proper application, and, in most instances, you are the one who developed the claims in order that payments might be made."

Ford-T&P Damage Suit Is Being Appealed

Proceedings are underway for an appeal to a higher court in the Ford vs. Texas and Pacific Railway Co. damage suit case that has been in Eastland County courts for over two years.

The case has been tried twice. A mis-trial was the result of the first trial, and a jury ruled in favor of the railroad when the case was retried several months ago.

The litigation followed an accident in which Tommy Ford, Ranger High School football player, was killed when the auto in which he was riding was in collision with a T&P train at the Main St. crossing in Ranger early in 1961.

His parents brought the suit, and filed notice of appeal following the recent decision. Judge T. M. Collie of the 91st District Court, refused to call the last trial out of order and a re-trial was denied.

Appeal will be to the 11th Court of Civil Appeals and the district clerk's office has been asked to prepare for transfer the following instruments.

Plaintiff's first amended original petition; defendant's second amended original answer; the court's charge; judgement of plaintiff's motion for a new trial; plaintiff's amended motion for new trial; order overruling motion for new trial; notice of appeal; and designation of transcript and appeal bond.

John Whiteside, Fort Worth attorney, represents the Ford family.

"A CHRISTIAN OPPORTUNITY FOR SERVICE"
 Rev. S. Norris, Pastor
 First Baptist Church (Colored)
 Most folks use the word Opportunity as a mere excuse and take no thought of its value or meaning (In time, the appointed time, now).
 If the world was ever in need of Christians to serve humanity, today is calling for such persons. For sin and Satan are on the rampage and the aftermath of their swift visit leaves men, women and children in many importune conditions and abnormal stages. The increasing population and decreasing economic conditions drives many to prison, hospitals and many times to the road of despair and want.

 The call is being made for release from these pressures, food for the hungry, clothes for the naked, consolation for the sick and a visit for those in prison will ease the tension of the body and make steps toward freeing the soul.

 It is to this end that I write,
 "For The Freedom Of A Soul"
 I have traveled this wide world over
 And fought in battles far and near,
 I have seen the flooding tears of sorrow
 And a heart overwhelmed with fear,
 I have seen men fight so gallantly
 In this life to reach a goal.
 But I have one question to ask all men,
 Just how hard would you fight for the freedom of a soul?
 I have heard the groan of oppression
 From the Valley to the mountain peak,
 I have seen the strong in power
 And the weak trampled under their feet.
 I have prayed for the peace of all nations
 My desire is great to unfold
 But the question remains, I will ask again
 Just how long would he pray for the freedom of a soul?
 I have listened to the cry of mothers
 Saying when will my heart be free
 When will the warfare be over
 And a child come home to me.

I have seen the longing of lovers
 In this world both young and old,
 But the question keeps ringing in my ear
 Just how much would you long for the freedom of a soul?
 The desire of this message isn't over
 Tho the writing must come to an end,
 From the sands to the White Cliffs of Dover,
 Men continue to die in their sins.
 There is a day when the books will be open,
 And your name will appear on the Roll,
 The oh what a shame when you answer to your name
 And too late, you find out there is no freedom for a soul!

Browsing With Bev

The homemaker's dream of tomorrow—of perishable foods that can be stored on the kitchen shelf with little deterioration or loss of quality—is a reality today, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture marketing researchers.
 Freeze-drying, the newest food processing method, allows foods like shrimp, chicken, mushrooms, even hamburger, to be stored without refrigeration for as long as two years—with little change in shape, color or taste.
 Freeze-drying takes the moisture out of fresh foods by first freezing them, then drying them under vacuum. The resulting product has only 2% of its original water. For example, 100 pounds of raw deboned chicken meat is reduced to 29 pounds of freeze-dried chicken. And 100 pounds of fresh mushrooms when freeze-dried, weigh only 11 pounds.

Mrs. A. A. Hay Hosts Meet Of Baptist Circle

Members of the Betty Carroll Circle of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. A. A. Hay in the Village Hotel for their regular meeting.
 Mrs. Frank Sayre, chairman, called the meeting to order and the opening prayer was led by Mrs. T. L. Morgan.
 The prayer calendar was read by Mrs. J. O. Jolly after which she led in prayer for the missionaries.
 A discussion concerning Stewardship was conducted by Mrs. A. E. Halford with several members participating in the Bible Study.
 Mrs. Sayre served as leader for a program on Christian Witnessing. Assisting with the program were Misses J. W. Bailey, Astor; Buck, A. E. Halford, R. D. Dutton, T. L. Morgan and J. O. Jolly.
 Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Hay, to those attending.

At present, seven companies have freeze-dried foods on the market. Some of these foods are campers' fare, but two soup companies use freeze-dried chicken and beef, onions and mushrooms in their dried soups. Two other firms are working on freeze-dried foods for restaurant and institutional use, one with shrimp, chicken and crab; the other with fruit and vegetable products.
 The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently finished taste tests of these products. Although the evaluation are not yet complete, the tests of these products indicate that freeze-drying works better on some products than on others.
 Also, the know-how in processing has much to do with the quality of the product.
 USDA market researchers, who have taste tested all of the products now on the market, say the chicken, turkey, ham and hamburger were rated acceptable in their preliminary testing. Shrimp and crab, which had previously been market tested, are assured successes.
 Among the vegetables, asparagus and a few members of the cabbage family, for example, broccoli, have potential. Mushrooms are now being freeze-dried in large quantities.
