Eastland All-Stars Downed By Albany, 7-4 In Opener

Emfinger Gets 4-Score Credit

The longhit ball went back, back, back and up, up, up as three men on buses moved forward and Slugger Greg Emfinger raced for first. The Wright Field bleacher crowd strained to help the ball over the fence.

The Albany left fielder went up — but not far enough. Above his glove, the Emfinger-hit ball dropped behind the fence, and made the spunky Little Leaguer the Eastland hero of the night.

It was the big fifth inning for manager Ray Harbin's Eastland Stars Thursday evening in their bid to best Albany in the District League Tournament.

But even the bases-loaded homer by Emfinger fell short on the scoreboard and Albany won the first game 7-4. The Albany All-Star team had Ranger to deal with Friday evening.

The big "fifth" for Eastland went like this: Terry Harrison got on with a base hit, but was forced out at second after Stanley Slaton grounded toward second base. This put Slaton on first with the fielder's choice and he moved forward when Danny Brooks drew a walk.

Another base hit by Allan Goode packed the bases. Then Emfinger stepped up, took a strike and a ball, and bid the horsehide a fare-thee-well over the fence.

The big frame ended with another baselit, a strike-out and a fly-out. Albany started strong with two homers in their bottom half of the first. The Albany team looked bigger than the Eastland boys, but it was a very small fry that lobbed the first Albany homer over the fence.

Immediately before the first Albany homer, there was a little delay after an umpire cautioned Eastland pitcher Johnny Martnez about keeping one foot to the rubber. He had just struck out the Albany lead off man when the ump took him to task. His next pitch hit the batter, and the managers, coaches and umpires went into huddles.

Albany picked up two more runs in the second and another in the fourth.

Ranger Defeats Albany To Win Little League District

The Ranger Little League All Stars defeated Albany Friday night at the Eastland Wright Field LL Park to win the district playoff.

In the coin toss earlier in the week, Ranger drew a bye, leaving Eastland and Albany to play the first game. In that game, Albany defeated Eastland by a score of 7-4.

Friday, it was close game all the way, with Ranger playing the come-from-behind role for the better part of five innings. Going into the top half of the sixth, Ranger had a three run lead. All was necessary was for Ranger to hold and protect their lead for this half inning and the game would be theirs.

With one man on, Albany hit their second home run of the evening, to bring them within one score of sending the play into extra innings. Tension was running high on both sides in the final moments. Albany had a man on third, 2 outs when a boy punched a sharp grounder to short stop.

FARM SAFETY WEEK BEGINS SUNDAY

Proclaimed by Judge, Governor, President

SIGNING PROCLAMATION — County Judge Scott Bailey puts his signature to a proclamation, declaring the week July 21-27, as Farm Safety Week in Eastland County. To his left is Henry Schaeffer, Farm Bureau director, and at right, Jack Cozart, Bureau president. (Staff)

County Judge Scott Bailey has officially proclaimed July 21-27, 1963, as Farm Safety Week in Eastland County, according to Jack Cozart, president of the Farm Bureau. President Kennedy and Governor Connally have previously designated that week on national and state levels as a period to call attention to worthwhile safety practices that can reduce disabling injuries and death.

The county farm leader said that farm accidents have been reduced in the past few years; however, farmers cannot afford to let down their guard against accidents. He emphasized that farming remains one of the most hazardous occupations in America today.

and the Eastland county Farm Bureau with the theme "Inspection plus Correction Equals Protection".

County Farm Bureau President Jack Cozart said that a different phase of safety would be emphasized each day during the week: Sunday - reverence for life; Monday - safety begins at home; Tuesday - agricultural chemicals; Wednesday - prevent falls; Thursday - rural highway safety; Friday - farm machinery; Saturday - recreation safety.

County Farm Bureaus are becoming increasingly active in safety work, President Cozart said. This is evidenced by the County Farm Bureaus cooperating with the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department in sponsoring and conducting safety education demonstrations in high schools all over the state as well as participating in fire extinguisher and auto safety seat belt projects.

The county farm leader said that in six years of sponsoring and conducting the safe driving demonstrations, some 170 different county Farm Bureaus have staged the program in 566 high schools across the state. About 145 county Farm Bureaus have sold over 6,000 pressurized dry chemical fire extinguishers and some 1,600 auto safety seat belts, Jack Cozart continued.

CONTRIBUTING — Eastland Volunteer Fire Department Chief Guy Robinson receives a check from Pat Moseley, Farm Bureau Insurance representative. Moseley is Jack Cozart, president of the Eastland County Farm Bureau. The Bureau contributed the department for responding to a rural fire insured by the Bureau.

Texas Safety Association Endorses Farm Safety Week

The Texas Safety Association today urged Texas farm families to join in observing National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27.

J. O. Musick, TSA General Manager, also urged all persons and organizations allied with agriculture to unite in the nationwide effort to reduce the number of farm, home and highway accidents. "In the past decade the death rate from farm accidents has been slightly higher than the national average," Musick said.

"FOR YOUR PROTECTION"

FARMING - HIGH-HAZARD INDUSTRY

For many years farming has ranked as the third most hazardous occupation. Only mining, including quarrying and petroleum drilling, and construction have higher death rates.

In general the death rate from farm accidents has followed national trends, decreasing steadily since the turn of the century.

But where the rate on farms was once below the national average, in recent years it has been higher. And the difference appears to be increasing. In 1961, when the national rate fell to an all-time low of 50.4 deaths per 100,000 population, the farm average rose to 58.8.

National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27, is an opportune time to examine the record to learn where farm safety falls down.

National Safety Council statistics show that motor vehicle, home, and public accidents — the three largest accident categories nationally — hit farm residents about as hard as the rest of the country.

It is in work safety that farming lags behind. Work accidents are second only to motor vehicle accidents among farm residents, comprising 31 per cent of the total.

Other industries have developed safety procedures that have made work accidents the smallest of all four categories — accounting for 15 per cent of the nation's accident toll. These same procedures, put to work on the farm, can bring farm safety back into line with the national record.

A farmer must be many kinds of a craftsman. He often is called on to be a carpenter, an electrician, a mechanic. He uses fuels, chemicals, fertilizers, and many different kinds of machines.

To work safely he must know and follow the safe practices developed in many different industries.

In most industries, employees' mistakes are noticed and corrected immediately. But much of farm work is done away from direct observation and supervision. Too often, an unsafe act, unseen and unrecognized, becomes a habit instead of being corrected promptly. These bad habits must be discovered and replaced with proper methods.

National Farm Safety Week is not a week in which to be more careful, then to be forgotten until next year. Instead it is a time to examine work habits, to compare methods with those proved effective in other industries, and to seek out better and safer ways to do our jobs.

Accident prevention is a year-round job. An official "week" is simply a reminder that emphasizes the importance of that job.

Every week should be Farm Safety Week.

Get more for your clothing dollar through good workmanship. You'll be a better judge of quality in ready-to-wear if you know the characteristics of good workmanship. The way a garment is cut and put together affects its appearance, fit and wear.

The following workmanship characteristics apply to all clothing:

1. Garment parts cut on the grain of material are likely to hold their shape.
2. Careful matching of pattern of fabric. Check at sleeves, waistline, collars, pockets and center seams.
3. Hand or machine stitches that are even in length, straight and securely fastened.
4. Thread that matches fabric of garment.
5. Seams that are flat and even in width, with raw edges finished.
6. Reinforcements at points where there will be strain. This may be done by extra rows of stitching, metal rivets, patches and bar tacks.
7. Hems which are flat and even in width, and stitching inconspicuous on right side of garment.
8. Lining, padding, interfacing and trim should be as durable and require the same method of cleaning as the garment.
9. Closures should be flat, inconspicuous and long enough for ease in dressing and undressing.
10. Hooks and eyes, snaps and buttons should be securely attached. Unless fabric is woven and of moderate thickness, reinforcement is needed to prevent strain on the fabric, at each fastener.

11. Buttonholes should fit easily over buttons and ends should be well reinforced.

A garment may lack some of the above details of workmanship and still be a good buy if fabric, style and fit are good.

Opportunities In Foreign Service Beckon Youths

"The wisdom with which our foreign policies are framed and the skill with which they are carried out depend upon the men and women who conduct our foreign affairs day by day. In no other field is it more urgent that our Government attract and develop the ablest public servants.

This statement, from a recent report of the Committee on foreign Affairs Personnel, well illustrates the importance of both recruiting and retaining highly qualified individuals as Foreign Service Officers.

Behind many "For Sale" signs there is a sad story: A family borrowed more than they could afford to pay for a home, or payments and interest rates were too high; the home had to be sold, often at a loss. This tragedy could often be avoided if the families would seek help from a home loan specialist, such as our Association.

County Is Ahead Of Bond Sales Quota For Year

During the first half of 1963, the citizens of Eastland County purchased $307,640 in Series E and H Savings Bonds, according to a report received from Guy Parker, chairman of the Eastland County Savings Bonds Committee. Sixty five and four tenths per cent of the county's 1963 goal has been achieved.

Savings Bond sales in Texas during the first half of 1963 were $76,246,599 or 50.6 per cent of the 1963 goal of $150,600,000.

"It is encouraging to note that Savings Bond sales nationally are setting a new peacetime high. Bond sales during the first six months of 1963 were $2,517 million as compared to $2,277 million a year ago, reflecting a 10.5 per cent gain. As of June 30, 1963, the total amount of outstanding E Bonds stood at an all-time peak of $46,359 million, a gain of $860 million since January 1," Chairman Parker stated.

Guide To Crop Insect Control Offered Public

COLLEGE STATION — Two new insect control guides released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service deal with vegetable and field crop pests. They are MP-339, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Grain and Forage Crops," and L-255, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Vegetable Crops."

The first publication points out that both ground and airplane application may be effectively used for controlling insects on field crops. Though some insects are hard to control, the use of recommended pesticides can be a profitable measure.

The bulletin discusses the treatment of seed prior to planting to protect them from such insects as the southern corn rootworm, wireworms and seed maggots. Small grain, rice, grass, alfalfa, and vetch insects are also considered. Several tables give insecticide recommendations for the various pests discussed.

L-255 emphasizes that vegetable insect control is largely a matter of prevention. It says that control measures should begin before insects appear in damaging numbers.

The publication covers methods of application, cautions to use with insecticides, and restrictions on the use of certain chemicals. It also has a section on the control of the corn earworm and the sweet potato weevil.

In addition to tables giving the recommended insecticides and their rates, there is a special section for home gard-

'63 Farm Safety Aimed at Fires, Falls

The President urged all farm families and all persons and organizations allied with agriculture to unite in an effort to reduce the number of farm, home and highway accidents.

The 1963 farm safety campaign will concentrate on the prevention of fires and falls. Its theme is "Inspection plus Correction equals Protection."

The 20th annual farm safety program is sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the National Safety Council.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman noted that, "Every hour an accident claims the life of a farm resident. Someone living on a farm suffers a disabling injury every 40 seconds."

He called on farmers to practice safety every day of the year, not merely during the week.

"Being careful is no more than common sense," he said. "But it requires constant attention and mental alertness. When a man is fatigued or in a hurry to finish a job or a trip, he becomes accident prone."

Falls cause between 15 and 20 per cent of the farm accident death toll. About 7 per cent is due to fires. Property losses from fire have increased steadily since 1940. In 1961, fire cost the nation's farmers $163 million.

"Every farm accident is a personal tragedy to the family involved. It deals with some of the problems that are encountered by individuals who garden in their backyards.

For more information about controlling insects on vegetables, grain and forage crops, see your county agricultural agent or write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station and ask for MP-339 and L-255.

A Tour of the Holy Land

(ED. NOTE: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Young have just returned from an extended tour of the Holy Land, and will present the program Monday for the Rotary Club. Later this summer, they will show slides and discuss their trip at the First Baptist Church. This is the first of a series of articles describing their trip, which will appear in this newspaper.)

By Mr. and Mrs. ROY YOUNG

This trip was made with a group sponsored by the diocese of Dallas, Episcopal Church under the leadership of Dr. Claude Beesley of Wichita Falls. There were 12 from Texas in the group which left Dallas by Braniff Lines to Chicago, thence to London by Pan American. The time from Dallas to Chicago is less than two hours, and seven and a half hours by jet from Chicago to London.

We were joined in London by two from Australia, two from the Barbados Islands, two from Wales and seven from England proper.

We stayed a day and night in London, then proceeded by Middle East Airlines to Beirut, Lebanon. We were met in Beirut by friends, formerly of Eastland, now of Beirut, namely Eddie C. Hart and his family. Eddie now teaches in Haigian College in Beirut. They have a lovely family of three sons.

Near Beirut we visited some old ruins of Byblos City which was destroyed probably by the Crusaders. We did not know the Biblical name of it, but Byblos lies on the seacoast between Beirut and Tyre and Sidon. And is probably the name from which the word Bible is derived.

and expects to have over 150 horses entered.

Mr. Jordan has extended an invitation to the residents of Ranger to turn out for the activities of Frontier Days.

After a reluctant goodbye to our friends, we continued from Beirut to Jerusalem.

Then in an hour or so by smaller plane flying around 15,000 feet which enabled us to see the country side better. We flew over the Jordan River and Dead Sea. The country looked very desolate as it is really a great desert in much of the country, especially Jordan.

After arriving in Jerusalem, Jordan, we went to our Hotel Claridge, which was formerly a monastery converted into a hotel. You can imagine there were not so many conveniences. We did have private baths with showers about ten feet high and plenty of cold water. Drinking water was a problem here. It is unsafe to drink tap water, and drinking water was not available at all times.

The weather is comparable to that of Eastland County though at this season, is drier. The nights are cool enough for a blanket.

After dinner, on our first evening, we went out to the Mount of Olives and saw a beautiful sunset. As the sun was going down behind the City of Jerusalem, the words of our Lord came to mind. "Oh

Lifetime Club Member Honored

Mrs. F. L. Drago, longtime Eastland music teacher was recently presented a lifetime membership in the Federated Music Club by her former pupils.

A bouquet of red roses was presented to Mrs. Drago by the group at her home which is located at 606 S. Daugherty St. here.

Instrumental in making the presentation was a former pupil, J. W. Turner, West Ward Elementary School principal.

A daughter, Mrs. Claude Beall, lives with Mrs. Drago.

Jerusalem, Jerusalem, how oft would I have gathered you, as a hen gathereth her brood, but ye would not." We were reminded many times of this in the days ahead, as we saw the poverty, filth, and poor living conditions of the Jordan side of Jerusalem.

Jerusalem is a divided city, much like Berlin. It is inhabited on the Eastern side mostly by Arabs, and on the West-side by Jews. You must have a visa to visit Jordan, but you do not have to have one to visit the Jewish or Israel side. If you visit the Jordan side, which we did first, then go to Israel, you cannot return to Jordan. When you leave Jordan, you go through the Mandelbaum Gate, through No Man's Land into Israel. We had to carry our suitcases part of the way in No Man's Land.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our appreciation and many thanks to all our friends, the doctors and hospital staff who were so thoughtful and kind during the illness and loss of our beloved wife and mother. Joe R. Ools, J. D. Yancey and family, L. D. Yancey and family, Mrs. D. P. Collins and family

FBI ACCOMPLISHMENTS

According to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, new all-time highs were recorded in FBI accomplishments in all major phases of operations during the 1963 fiscal year. Mr. Hoover disclosed in his report to the Attorney General that fines, savings and recoveries in cases investigated by the FBI during this period reached a new peak of $186,225,348 — a figure representing a return of $1.37 for every dollar appropriated for the FBI. A new record was also set for the eighth successive year with the location of 19,192 stolen motor vehicles in FBI cases.

During the past fiscal year, convictions in FBI cases increased to 12,816, the largest number for any peacetime fiscal year. Mr. Hoover noted that convictions were recorded against 96.1 per cent of all persons brought to trial and that 93 per cent of these resulted from guilty pleas. As a result of these convictions, slightly over 37,009 years of actual, suspended and probationary sentences were meted out. In addition, seven life sentences were imposed.

According to Mr. Hoover, a total of 11,857 FBI fugitives were located, an increase of 724 over the previous year. Included in this number were nine members of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" list and 2,514 violators of the Fugitive Felon Act who were being sought at the request of state and local authorities after they had fled across state lines to avoid prosecution, custody or confinement.

Commenting on internal security investigations, Mr. Hoover pointed out that as a result of evidence developed and witnesses supplied by the FBI, the Communist Party, USA was convicted in December, 1962, for failure to register with the Attorney General under the Internal Security Act of 1950, and a maximum fine of $120,000 was imposed. Following this action, two national leaders of this organization were indicted for failure to register for the Party and 27 additional petitions were filed with the Subversive Activities Control Board against individuals who failed to register as required by law. In addition, intelligence and counter-intelligence information disseminated by the FBI enabled the Department of State to take action against Soviet and satellite officials who engaged in activities beyond the scope of their duties in the United States.

Continuing its long-standing policy, the FBI made its cost-free cooperative services available to Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies. In this regard, a total of 3,801 local and regional police training schools were held which were attended by approximately 105,000 officers. In addition, there were two sessions of the FBI National Academy during fiscal year 1963, bringing the total number of graduates to 4,354.

The FBI Laboratory achieved new highs with the receipt of 196,057 specimens of evidence which required 247,894 scientific examinations. The FBI Identification Division, which serves as the national repository for fingerprint identifying data, received an average of almost 23,000 fingerprint cards for processing each working day throughout the 12-month period. As the fiscal year ended, its files contained 167,397,932 sets of fingerprints representing an estimated 77,387,801 persons. Additionally, the FBI Disaster Squad, a group of fingerprint experts who are available to assist in identifying bodies of disaster victims, was dispatched to the scenes of five air crashes during the period.

Mr. Hoover also reported that approximately 130,000 items of criminal intelligence information were disseminated by the FBI to other law enforcement agencies during the 1963 fiscal year. Included were items received from FBI confidential informants which when passed to the authorities, resulted in the arrests of almost 3,400 persons.

gue President Winston Boles a Beautiful desk set, at home-plate before Thursday evening's game. Boles has done a fine job, and he's had some real dedicated people helping him. (He's also got some mighty fine baseball players too).

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson and other relatives last week were Mr. Johnson's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Johnson of Moab, Utah.

A great-niece and great-nephew, Bruce and Donna, of Andrews have also been visiting in the couple's home during the summer.

Sure enjoyed a nice visit with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Frazer this week. Their youngest daughter, Alice, is at the University of Texas this summer. It was almost like "old home-week" with Mrs. Frazer, because she and I spent some time together at Carbon High School. Neither of us will tell you how many years ago, but we remember her as being one of the best teachers we ever knew. The Second-Graders at South Ward this fall sure will have a good year ahead of them with Mrs. Frazer as their teacher.

Miss Dianne Hood of Fort Worth has been visiting this week in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Temple.

She returned with the Temples' last weekend when they were in Fort Worth to visit Mrs. Temple's sister and new baby, Mrs. B. R. Henson.

They also attended a reunion at Garland where they visited Mrs. Temple's aunt and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Procaccini, from Conn.

The Temples' son, Randy, has spent the past week in Grand Prairie visiting Mr. Temple's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Temple, Sr.
