Eastland Echoes

THOUGHT FOR TODAY: "Tale bearers are just as bad as tale makers."—(Sheridan).

It was our interesting privilege the other afternoon to sit in with the national affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in a conference with USCC representatives concerning national issues and the necessity of Mr. and Mrs. America's concerning themselves more deeply about such things. Let's not get too busy to keep informed about — and take an interest in — that good old Ship of State!

Sue — So you saw Annabelle today?
Lou — Yes, I hadn't seen her for twelve years.
Sue — Has she kept her girlish figure?
Lou — Kept. She's doubled it! — (Uncle Mat).

Dining at the Victor in Cisco the other night we noticed a face which seemed quite familiar — and presently asked: "Aren't you Henry Ward, who years ago was our pastor at Huntsville?" Sure enough, it was. (We knew it was Henry or his "twin brother." Last time we'd heard of him, he was preaching in Illinois. But he was never really happy until he got back to Texas — and he has pastored the Cisco Baptist Church the past years. He said he would be in Eastland to attend the revival at Henry Kimbler's church at least one night this week.

Speaking of preachers, we heard one about the ardent fisherman minister who was conducting a wedding ceremony. It so happened that he was a bit absent-minded. He had postponed for an hour a fishing trip to conduct the ceremony. The preacher asked the groom:
"Do you promise to love, honor and cherish this woman."
"I do," said the bridegroom, meekly.
"Okay," said the preacher, turning to the bride. "Real him in!"

The Wayne Brocks are happy to be back in Eastland and have been kept pretty busy lately chatting and visiting with old friends about the community. It's fine to have them home, in Eastland, isn't it?

Also back in Eastland recently, but just for a visit, were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Richardson of Teague, who had visited a daughter in Abilene, and Mr. Richardson had attended the Masonic event honoring John Earnest Higgins in Wichita Falls. They still have a warm spot in their hearts for this community.

Saturday afternoon we talked (Continued On Page Six)

P. E. Davenport Dies At 95 As Result of Fall

Parks Edward Davenport, 95, of San Angelo, formerly of Eastland, who died as the result of a fall in which he suffered a hip fracture, was buried in Snyder, where he also formerly had resided, Sunday.

Mr. Davenport was born Nov. 1, 1859, in Coryell County and came to Eastland in 1896. In 1910, he moved to Snyder and lived there until 1951, when he moved to San Angelo, after suffering injuries in a car accident, and had resided with his daughter, Mrs. Ed Meeley, since that time. In earlier years of his life, he had engaged in farming but for ten years prior to 1951, he had served as justice of the peace at Snyder.

Mr. Davenport was a member of the Methodist Church for eighty years.

In 1886 he married Miss Margaret Daniels of McGregor. Her death occurred in 1929.

Surviving are four children, three daughters and a son: Mrs. Meeley, of San Angelo; Mrs. D. Singletary of Goldthwaite, Mrs. Fred Manning of Kingston, N.M., and Fred Davenport of Eastland. He also leaves two brothers, Judge G. L. Davenport, mayor of Eastland, and Albert Davenport of Gainesville. Other survivors include fourteen grandchildren and twenty great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in the Pell Funeral Home Chapel in Snyder Sunday, conducted by the Rev. J. Lennol Hester, Snyder Methodist pastor, assisted by the Rev. M. W. Clark, also of Snyder, a close friend of the Davenport family for fifty years. Interment followed at Snyder.

Present from here at the services were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davenport, Mavor Davenport, Judge and Mrs. Turner Collie and T. L. Fagg.

GUAR IS DECLARED TO BE FINE ANNUAL SUMMER LEGUME HERE

The supervisors of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District believe that guar is an excellent annual summer legume, well adapted to this area. E. E. McAllister, head of the Eastland SCS Work Unit, said today.

This legume might well be grown on acres diverted from cash crops, such as peanuts, wheat and cotton, in that it will improve soil conditions and help control wind and water erosion as well as furnish cash returns from seed harvest," Mr. McAllister said.

Mr. McAllister said the crop has been grown by several farmers in this area. The plants chief benefits are the addition of nitrogen and large amounts of high quality residue or organic matter. Crops following guar have made marked increases in yields. Guar can be grown strictly for green manure or for seed production. After the seed is harvested the dry residue returns to the soil as a humus producing trash. There it produces a mulch condition in the upper level of soil, absorbing rain and storing the moisture for future crop use.

Guar can be planted with the same equipment we use on sorghums, planting seven to nine pounds per acre in rows. Regular combines can harvest the seed. The crop should be planted about cotton planting time and until late May. It is well adapted to a wide range of soils, and it seems to grow best on sandy soil. Seed should be covered about two inches deep and inoculated with special guar inoculant. Experiences have proven that approximately 200 pounds of superphosphate (0-20-0) or the equivalent per acre will give increased yields and encourage nitrogen fixation. The Texel variety of guar is highly recommended. It is a single stalk type and will grow to maturity within 120 to 130 days.

Mr. Parker will direct all phases of promotion and the sale of Savings Bonds in Eastland County. He becomes a member of the statewide volunteer organization whose efforts are contributed to public service.

"Purchasing Savings Bonds is a way everyone can help insure this strength and the bonds afford every citizen a means of helping himself and also the economic well-being of his community, our state and our country. Improved features of Series E and H Savings Bonds such as increased interest of 3 per cent compounded semi-annually make the bonds more attractive and better investments than ever," he said.

The Savings Bonds quota for Eastland County for 1955 is $526,000. The quota for Texas this year is $201.9 million. The national goal for the year is $5 billion 5 in 1955.

"Savings Bonds provide an easy patriotic and profitable means of saving for all of us," he added.

Plans have been completed for the city-wide Easter service Sunday morning. Departing a little from the service of the past few years the service this year is to be held in the city park. The exact location is the picnic tables. If weather conditions should make an outdoor service unfeasible the service will be held in the First Baptist church.

An organ has been provided and an effort is being made to provide seats for those who are unable to stand. Church bells in the city will ring at 5:30 a.m. to awaken people and call their attention to the hour. The hour set for the service to begin is 6 a.m. and since sunrise is at 6:10 it will give the worshippers a chance to see the sunrise while in the worship service. The Rev. Wolters AFB Community Easter Pageant Bigger and Better Now

WOLTERS AFB TEXAS, April 4. —"Bigger than ever" were the words used to describe the coming Wolters AFB — Community Easter Pageant. These came when the Pageant's director, Chaplain Robert Bonham, said the cast for this year's presentation will be almost three times larger than last year's. Past becoming the big Easter event of the area, the Pageant will also feature a combined chorus of well over 100 voices from the churches of Mineral Wells and Weatherford.

The presentation which is slated for 7:00 a.m. on Easter Sunday morning will be held at the foot of Easter mountain located on the base. Admission is free, and seating which was not available last year will be provided for this year's production.

Also, the Chaplain added, since last year's Pageant was held on top of Easter mountain it necessitated the spectators' walking up the hill. The coming show will be presented on a football-field-size stage cut into the foot of the mountain thus eliminating the long trek up the hill.

The Pageant, entitled "A King Is Risen", will portray the traditional Easter story and was written by Mrs. Robert Bonham, wife of Chaplain Robert Bonham of the 826th Engineer Aviation Battalion. Directing the Pageant is Mrs. Robert Bonham.

Polio Shots Request

It's a reasonable request County Health Officer Dr. L. C. Brown makes when he asks that parents who are willing for their children to take the polio vaccine get the word to the teachers at once.

In turn, the teachers will advise him about such a decision. Dr. Brown needs to know how much vaccine will be needed, so that he can notify the state department of health, and thus place an order.

After the Salk report April 12, the inoculation will be given—free—to the first and second grade children whose parents authorize it to be administered to them. So the co-operation asked by Dr. Brown should be forthcoming—as promptly as possible, as the 12th is just around the proverbial corner.

Coffee for a Crowd

SO YOU'VE been asked to be the "coffee captain" at the next women's club meeting, hm... mm? Well, of all the assignments you could have drawn, this is probably the nicest. Coffee takes most amiably to being prepared in quantity, provided that you follow a few simple rules. Once you know them, you can certainly turn out as good a brew as ever came out of your coffee-pot at home.

To help make things go smoothly for you, and for all who have occasion to make coffee in quantity, we're going to give instructions for making coffee for forty people, counting one average serving apiece. Some simple arithmetic will enable you to adapt the recipe to a larger or smaller gathering, or to allow for as many second helpings as you think will be needed.

If you are going to have a coffee urn available for your brewing activities, your job will be simple. All you'll have to do is follow the suggested coffee-to-water proportions and then proceed to the brewing according to the instructions given by the manufacturer of the urn. If there is no urn available, however, the coffee will have to be steeped coffee, made in an open kettle. You can rest assured that excellent coffee can be made in this manner.

First, measure two gallons of freshly drawn water from the cold-water faucet into the kettle and let it heat to boiling point. In the meantime, measure one pound of regular-grind coffee into a large cloth sugar sack, or a sack you have made from clean sheeting or double-thick cheesecloth. (It must be large enough so that it is not more than half full when the ground coffee is placed in it, to allow for expansion of the coffee when it comes into contact with the water.) Tie the top of the sack tightly with a clean, strong white cord, leaving ends long enough to fasten to the handle of the kettle, to help you to remove the sack after the coffee is brewed.

As soon as the water comes to a full, rolling boil, remove the kettle from direct heat and drop the coffee sack into it immediately. With a clean stick or a long-handled wooden spoon, push the sack up and down so that the water is forced through the ground coffee. Then cover the kettle and allow the coffee to brew over low heat for twelve to fifteen minutes. Do not let the coffee boil. Frequently remove the cover and move the sack vigorously up and down during the brewing time. Then remove the sack, permitting it first to drain thoroughly. Transfer the coffee to the best-looking large serving jug you can find — and there you are!

Of course, it is best to serve the coffee just as soon as possible after it has been brewed. However, if it is necessary to postpone the serving, maintain a uniform temperature somewhat below the boiling point, whether the coffee is in the kettle or the server. Do not allow the brew to boil under any circumstances, as this destroys the flavor.

Big news about

Buick's 4-Door Riviera

THIS brand-new kind of automobile—the sensation of all the Auto Shows this year—is now rolling off the Buick assembly lines in volume numbers. That's the first news.

And the second is just as wonderful—this dramatic new model is very definitely everything that eager buyers hoped it would be.

For the 4-Door Riviera is the first "hardtop" ever available with separate doors for rear-seat passengers—plus rear-compartment room big as a Buick-size family sedan.

It comes breezing in with all the low-lined sweep and wide open visibility of Buick's original 2-Door Riviera—and with luxurious new spaciousness in its sizeable and full-length 4-door body.

With windows down, no posts appear for the rear doors, and you get a completely unobstructed view at both sides.

You find rear doors are hinged at their front edges to swing wide and free, and assure easy entrance and exit.

And you'll find legroom, headroom and hiproom extra-generous both front and rear—with interiors tailored in fabrics and patterns specially reserved for the 4-Door Riviera.

Best of all, this new Buick beauty comes off the line in both the low-price SPECIAL Series and the high-powered CENTURY Series.

So you can pick your 4-Door Riviera with the potent performance of a 188-hp or 236-hp Buick V8 engine—the swift get-away and gas saving of Variable Pitch Dynaflow—the velvet stride of the Million Dollar Ride—the long list of Buick bonus features at no extra cost—and all at "great buy" prices that have helped move Buick into America's "Big Three" of best sellers.

But—better come see us about the 4-Door Riviera now.

With all-out production—and a prompt order—the newest excitement in cars will be yours that much sooner.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

With Billy Graham Nobility, Labor, Politicians Mingle For Greatest Event of Crusade

By George Burnham
Chattanooga News-Free Press Staff Writer

GLASGOW, Scotland — After being warned by his doctor that he was risking a week's layoff at Kelvin Hall meetings, Billy Graham got out of bed Friday to address an unusual civic luncheon—described by local leaders as the greatest single event of the "Tell Scotland" crusade.

The most unusual feature of the dinner was the kind of people it brought together. Scotsmen said it was the first time in memory they had seen at one meeting the top representatives of industry, political parties, state military and clergy. Present were scores of nobility and several members of parliament.

Billy, who had been under treatment for an infected throat and high fever, was honored at the luncheon by Hugh Fraser, leading Glasgow merchant, and Mrs. Fraser. Among those seated at the head table with them were the Earl and Countess of Elgin, the Earl of Stair, Lord and Lady Kinnaird, the Marquis and Marchioness of Lansdowne, Lord and Lady Provost of Edinburgh, Maj. Gen. R. G. Collingwood, Air Commodore S. C. Moore and others. The luncheon, attended by all the pomp and pageantry of a movie setting with guests—announced in an ear-splitting voice by a town crier — who ran the gamut of titles with every announcement and toasts by the glassful. Billy drank his with orange juice.

In the midst of such a distinguished setting some might have watered down a hard-hitting message. But Billy stuck to the guns of the gospel he has used in reaching the man on the street and highest rungs of society.

He didn't regard the luncheon guest as better than ordinary folk, but he was not unaware of the tremendous influence they could wield in Scotland. Speaking in a low voice that gradually gained strength, Billy recalled the great debt owed by the United States to Scotland springing from the time that leaders of the 13 colonies met to form a nation.

"They were having numerous disagreements and little success when Benjamin Franklin rose to his feet and said, 'Gentlemen, we've tried everything else and failed. Let's try God.' The men got on their knees and prayed."

"Out of that prayer meeting came much of the Constitution of the United States. And the Constitution of the United States is founded to a great extent on Presbyterian law brought from Scotland."

Billy reminded the listeners of the dangerous situation in which the world finds itself today and then told how in his opinion it all came about.

"Around the turn of century we entered a period of humanism, secularism, behaviorism and other 'isms.' People felt they no longer needed God. It was popular to doubt the existence of God. People laughed at old-fashioned ideas. They said science had all the answers."

"World War I shook the people up a little bit and World War II exploded a lot of their high-sounding phrases. Now in the midst of an atomic era man is saying, 'I'm not sure. What is the answer to our problem and the people who predict the world is about to destroy itself?'"

"The answer is very simple. We must return to the old-fashioned book, the Bible, that our nations were founded upon. It is an old book our mothers had in their homes, but now it is associated only with ministers and churches."

"The problem of the human race is that our souls, the real part of us, had a disease with an ugly name — sin. What is it that has made men with culture thousands of years old cheat, lie, steal and fight? What is it in our modern

Weather forecasters had Eastland Countians peering into cloudless, but dust filled skies, in search of tornadoes Monday.

Tornado warnings had been posted here and on in to Oklahoma Monday afternoon only to be removed after darkness moved into the area.

The threat that hung over this section of the state moved eastward during the afternoon, leaving only dust filled skies and ascending temperatures and a slight trace of rain here.

Temperatures in West Texas and the Panhandle were mostly in the 60's during the day and dust, though it limited visibility in several areas, was not nearly so severe as the area experienced last week.

A light haze with only small amounts of dust marked the trail here of the blinding dust storm which absorbed West Texas Sunday and Monday in 45-mile-an-hour winds.

At Big Spring visibility dropped to half a mile and three fourths of a mile at Childress, Midland and Salt Flat also reported heavy dust in the area.

A weak cool front reached Wichita Falls and Southward between Abilene and Midland Sunday but provided no big change in temperatures. No drastic change was caused in the Eastland County area by the weak front.

Weathermen said that winds would diminish in West Texas today and practically all dust would disappear from the sky.

Temperatures ranged up to near 75 here Monday and not much change was in sight for the next few days. There has been no forecast for rain.

Undergoes Surgery
Dean Turner of Lampasas, formerly of Eastland, underwent surgery Friday in Brooks Memorial Hospital at Lampasas. He is the son of Mrs. Will Turner of Eastland.

Intelligent world that makes men cheat, lie, steal and fight? "It is our sinful nature. Before man can solve the problems of the world, man must have a re-birth in his own soul. Only the Gospel of Jesus Christ can transform human nature. How do I know? I know because I have seen Christ change factory workers, movie stars, congressmen and thousands of others."

"No religious awakening can take place in the world until we as individuals change. Our problems must be solved quickly because time is running out. It isn't possible for this generation to pass along its mistakes to the next."

"There isn't time. Man is on the verge of destroying himself. But I am convinced there is one move and only one move. That is a return to Almighty God. I pray to God that we make it in time."

Estimated Million Children Are Deaf

Most of us take our hearing for granted. It probably has never occurred to us what a change it would make in our lives if we were suddenly deprived of it. We seldom think of the numerous sounds we hear during the day, sounds which keep us in close touch with the world about us. For those who can't hear, or who have difficulty hearing, it's almost like living in a different world, declared Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer.

There are many children, more than a million it's estimated, who live in this other world. They have either been born deaf or have lost much, or maybe all, of their hearing since birth. Being somewhat cut off from the world, their child is frustrated because he can't communicate his feelings and needs to others. A sense of inferiority and hostility is frequently the result.

Most hearing loss in children is the result of repeated colds and infections in the ears, nose, and throat. Such infections can cause what we know as conduction deafness. If such infections are not treated early, a child's hearing may receive permanent damage. Hearing loss may follow measles, scarlet fever, influenza, or meningitis. These diseases may result in what is referred to as nerve deafness.

Enlarged adenoids, the result of infections, account for many cases of partial loss of hearing. The overgrown adenoids block up the little tubes that lead from the throat to the ears. These tubes must be open and clear for good hearing. For these children, curing infection isn't enough. Their adenoids may have to be removed.

Otherwise, they may suffer permanent hearing loss.

Not all children with a hearing loss can regain it. A serious infection, such as meningitis, can completely destroy the patient's hearing ability. As soon as deafness is suspected the child should be taken to an ear specialist for a complete examination.

Treadwells Home From Academy Meet In California

Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Treadwell arrived home early Saturday morning from a train trip to Los Angeles, Calif., where Dr. Treadwell attended a meeting of more than 5,000 family doctors in the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles. Doctors from every part of the country attended the American Academy of General Practice Seventeenth Annual Scientific Assembly. The Academy, headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., has nearly 19,000 members and is the nation's second largest medical association.
 Dr. Treadwell had an opportunity to hear more than 50 of the nation's top medical authorities discuss new developments and progress in the fields of therapy and diagnosis. He also saw more than 40 scientific and 229 technical exhibits which report research results and display new drugs, instruments and equipment.
 The Academy is the only medical association which requires every member to continue his medical education. Rapid medical progress, the Academy believes, makes it necessary for the doctor to keep learning. For this reason, every member must complete 150 hours of postgraduate study every three years.
 The four-day scientific program included such prominent medical educators as Dr. Alton Ochsner, an authority on diabetes; Dr. Lowell Gein, a leading radiologist; and Dr. M. Digby Leigh, a prominent anesthesiologist.

Hobo Party And Treasure Hunt Fetes Seniors

Dressed in typical hobo fashion, complete with patched regalia, Eastland High School seniors were entertained by their mothers with a "Hobo party" Friday afternoon, April 1.
 The group met at 3 o'clock at the home of Miss Verna Johnson, high school teacher and senior sponsor. There they were given instructions. They went to the Dairy Treat, where they were "treated" to ice cream cones; then they journeyed to Piggly Wiggly's where each was given a can of pork and beans.
 After leaving Piggly Wiggly's they separated into three groups and went to three drug stores — Tombs and Richardson, Davis Drug and Eastland Drug — where they were treated to Cokes. They paraded downtown singing songs and shouting "Yea Seniors," and proceeded to the Majestic Cafe where they were given cookies, and then to Foremost where they were treated to frozen cones.
 Accompanied by Mrs. Harvey E. Basham, Mrs. H. N. Sherman and "Teach," Johnson, sponsor, they went in cars to Wally Harbin's pasture south of town on the Leon River for a treasure hunt down the river bed.
 Here each was given a map with X marking the spot where the treasure lay buried. All along the way they found clues, using their maps as a guide. They found treasures of bubble gum, stick candy and Easter eggs — 300 eggs had been hidden that morning, together with other treasures, by Mrs. Basham and the Easter eggs had been given by A&P, Ernest Food Store and Clover Farm.
 The treasure found at the end of the hunt was a box containing a diploma for each senior in the class. The diplomas had been mimeographed as follows: Presented to (senior's name here) school motto — Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise; special honors were conferred on "rum loader"; school colors — green and green; presented by the "Bored of Education," and signed — Senior Mothers (Hobo Party).
 Joe Basham was their mascot. Twenty-six seniors attended. Following the treasure hunt, a woodland supper was cooked and eaten by the seniors and their chaperones, featuring barbecued wieners and toasted marshmallows.
