

Taos Transportation Co. Begins Daily Bus Service

Taos Transportation Company announces the beginning of daily bus service between Eastland and San Antonio and Wichita Falls, Texas. The bus station is located at Wanda's 7-11, whose telephone number is 629-1272. Northbound to Wichita Falls buses depart at 6:55 p.m., Southbound to San Antonio Buses depart at 3:40 p.m. Connections are made for Laredo and Corpus Christi at San Antonio, and for Amarillo, Denver, and Oklahoma Points at Wichita Falls. Buses operate daily, Sundays and holidays.

Taos Transportation Company also operates buses between San Angelo and Presidio, Texas, and between Midland-Odessa and Presidio. At Presidio connections are made with Transportes Chihuahuenses buses for Chihuahua City, Mazatlan, Guadalajara, Mexico City, and more than four hundred Mexican destinations. Tickets may be purchased from Taos for Mexican buses.

The two routes, the new route between Wichita Falls and San Antonio, and the West Texas operation, are separated geographically. Both, however, are under the common management headquartered at San Angelo, Texas. President and General Manager of both lines, Frank Bryan, Jr., a Certified Member of the American Society of Traffic and Transportation, is a thirty year veteran of various forms of transportation. His background includes rail, motor freight, express, and bus traffic. He believes that the motor bus will assume an increasingly important role in American intercity transportation, as private automobile costs rise at a considerably higher rate than the costs of public mass transportation. Taos Transportation expects to provide an increasingly important part of the total transportation picture in the areas it is authorized to serve. Service between Wichita Falls and San Antonio begins Feb. 15th, 1976.

Rising Star Youth Named To Demanding Hamlet Role

Craig Campbell, who last spring demonstrated his special talent for Shakespearean dialogue at the Eastland Civic Theatre's one-night Shakespearean celebration, has been awarded the challenging role of "Hamlet" in the theatre's forthcoming production.

Campbell, who lives in Rising Star with his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. John Schlittler, has been interested in theatre work for several years, although his interest has been in areas other than acting.

Living in Brownwood his sophomore year, he was assistant director to Clark Sherman for the student production of "Godspell" and was also in charge of the unique make-up that was required.

Turning to acting, he played the role of Don Baker, a young, blind musician in "Butterflies Are Free," which was produced by his drama class.

It was at the Interscholastic League competition last year that Campbell first met Virginia Russell, Eastland Civic Theatre's talented director. As judge of the one-act plays she selected him a member of the All-Star Cast for his portrayal of an old man in "Eternal Life." In conversation after her critique, Mrs. Russell invited him to the ECT Shakespearean workshop.

He not only expressed a desire to attend, he volunteered to participate. When the occasion came, he did a soliloquy from "Hamlet" and played the role of Ferdinand in a scene from "The Tempest" with Jenni Bradley as Miranda and John Russell as Prospero.

His interest in the theatre is a natural heritage from his father, Leslie Campbell of Houston, who during his own senior year won The Samuel French Award for best actor in the state competitions. The elder Campbell attended Ranger Junior College on a full scholarship in drama and later received an offer for a screen test from one of Hollywood's major studios. In Houston he has performed with the Alley Theatre.

Despite Craig's interest in drama and in art (he won the Brownwood Golden Art award in his sophomore year), he has not neglected athletic pursuits. Playing football in Brownwood, he had been told by coaches that he would quarterback in his junior year. However, the family moved to Rising Star. This past year a leg injury received in pre-season work-outs prevented his playing in Rising Star.

"I'm so aware of the passing of time," the busy senior says. "I'm never content. I feel that if you're content, you're not accomplishing. I've got to keep doing something different."

If school studies and drama activities slow, Campbell gets out his sketch book to work at the pen and ink caricatures he lives to draw. He hopes one day to be a commercial artist with a studio of his own.

Toward this end, he hopes to study at Southwest Texas State in San Marcos, after attending junior college.

How does he feel about the very difficult role of "Hamlet"? "Well, it's tempting to say, as people always do about such things, that it's a challenge and a great opportunity, which it certainly is, but what I can hardly realize is that someone has enough faith in me to believe that I can do it."

Former Eastlander Services Monday

Funeral for Mrs. Thelma Harris Mayfield, former Eastland resident, will be held Monday at the Johnson Funeral Home in San Angelo at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Mayfield died Friday night at a nursing home in Christoval where she had been a resident for a number of years.

Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Maggie Williams and Mrs. Viola Lock, both of Christoval; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Willie B. Harris and Mrs. Catherine Harris of Zephyr; and a number of nieces and nephews.

WANTED: One good, experienced, dedicated, sincere, thorough drouth - breaking rain. Apply immediately.

EASTLAND COUNTY has been invited to join a proposed Economic Development District in a program spearheaded by Brown County to secure jobs in the east end of the Council of Government region. Such an EDD is reported to make it much easier for governmental bodies participating to receive first pick of the surplus properties and to secure help in establishing new industries. As proposed, San Saba, Brown, Comanche, Mills, Coleman, Eastland, McCulloch and Callahan are seen as participants, each paying assessment per capita population, but each represented equally on a board of directors. An explanation meeting is set for Thursday, Feb. 19, at the Brownwood Coliseum, 7:30.

WE ADULTS need to practice and teach the young respect for public grounds: NO FIREARMS, NO DUMPING, at Eastland Lake, Ringing Lake, Lake Leon and the rural roadways.

SECOND AND final reading of the proposed sub - division ordinance will be on the agenda at the Monday night, 7 p.m. City Commission meeting at City Hall. Other items to be discussed include discussion of a city park curfew.

BY DECREE Monday is being celebrated as Washington's Birthday.

February 22 was George Washington's Birthday. Washington was born in 1732; and ever since he became president in 1789, he has probably been honored with more birthday parties than any other American.

And it's still quite an event - especially for a birthday anniversary. Over 40 million persons have visited his monument. The United States Congress will take time off to read his farewell address; Texas lawmakers will probably cancel sessions for the occasion and all other county, state and federal employees will observe the holiday.

In the place where he is known and loved best - the grade schools - students paste silhouettes of his profile, cherry trees and hatches along the blackboards and windows.

Ask any student why all this "pomp" over a birthday anniversary and the reply will likely be "and why not, Washington was the father of our country".

One can't help but wonder if Washington could envision the almost unbelievable scientific advances that have been made since his occupancy of the White House.

Jet planes that exceed the speed of sound, atomic and hydrogen bombs, modern automobiles, television, atomic power plants capable of lighting entire cities and gigantic factories that are second to none in production capacity.

And overhead, America's satellites circling the globe every few minutes linking every part of the world into a fool - proof communication network. And finally, America's ultimate achievement in this century - landing a man on the moon.

The challenges that face our leaders today are far greater than those encountered in Washington's day, but we can't help but believe that he would have been able to meet these challenges squarely, honestly and effectively - even to the problems of inflation, recession and the energy crisis.

To better understand the type of person Washington was, one should re-read his book of 110 maxims of good conduct which he wrote before he was 16 years old. Here are five of them which we should all remember and practice in our daily lives:

1. When you speak of God or his attributes, let it be seriously and in reverence.
2. Let your recreation be manful, not sinful.
3. Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire that man calls conscience.
4. Associate yourself with men of good quality if you esteem your own reputation: for it is better to be alone than in bad company.
5. Speak not evil of the absent for it is unjust.

UPWARDS OF 200 people are expected in Eastland on March 11, for the Beautify Texas Zone meeting which will have representatives from 45 Texas counties. A big day is being planned and recommendations for items to be included in a souvenir packet are welcome. The day will begin at 10 at the Woman's Club, go to Lone Cedar Country Club for lunch, and top speakers are scheduled for both events. Locals will want to have coffee at the Woman's Club and lunch at Lone Cedar to show our "beautification is good business" interest. Mrs. Austin McCloud, district Beautify Texas chairman, is in charge and welcomes your participation in this important state event to be held in Eastland.

Soil Conservation

The Soil Conservation Service has announced the reprinting of a widely used SCS publication, "Conquest of the Land Over 7,000 Years". The author of the journal, written in 1942, was Dr. Walter Clay Lowdermilk, a pioneer in soil and water conservation.

In 1938, the U.S. Department of Agriculture commissioned Lowdermilk to make a survey of land use in the older European and Asian countries in the interest of conserving our own land resources.

"The land bears a record of what men write on it... a record easy to read by those who understand the simple language," Dr. Lowdermilk wrote.

In his tour of England, Holland, France, Italy, North Africa, and the Near East, Lowdermilk followed agriculture from its beginnings 7,000 years ago to modern times.

He observed fields that had been in cultivation for thousands of years. The publications is a prophetic account of his search for reasons why land that once supported thousands of people now lays in abject waste.

The answer to his quest was soil erosion. He tells why erosion acted as a catalyst in the desecration and destruction of many advancing civilizations.

"One of the most important findings of this survey of the use of land through 7,000 years."

The publication, AIB - 99, "Conquest of the Land Over 7,000 Years", is available from the Soil Conservation Office in the Eastland National Bank Building.

Congratulations to Theresa Scott, Rising Star 4 - H girl for still more honors at the stock shows. Not only did she have the Reserve Champion steer at the Fort Worth Stock Show two weeks ago, but just last week exhibited the Grand Champion Steer at the Southwestern International Livestock Show at El Paso.

Theresa is trying to keep her luck going at the San Antonio Livestock Show this week. Also exhibiting livestock at San Antonio are Theresa's brothers, Neil and Sam.

Nematodes are very small worm-like organisms that are a problem in many Eastland County home gardens. These microscopic organisms attack and feed on the root systems of most of our garden vegetables and flowers. The most commonly found nematode is the root knot nematode. It gets its name from the enlarged knots or galls it forms on plant roots. Above ground symptoms include general loss of vigor and color. Plants many times wilt and die even though adequate soil moisture is available.

Before this year, home gardeners did not have much with which to combat the nematode. Certain granular nematicides have been on the market, but they cannot be used on all crops because of the bromine residue problem.

A new soil fumigant suitable for all purpose soil fumigation by the gardener has now been cleared for use. The material is presently sold under the trade name of Vapam by the Stauffer

Chemical Company. The material is sprayed on the soil at the rate of one quart per 100 square feet of surface and watered into the soil immediately. Fumigation will be aided if some type of covering can be pulled over the soil for three or four days. The covering can then be removed, the soil tilled and allowed to aerate at least two or three weeks before planting. This product has clearance for all garden crops and residues should not be a problem. Extension demonstrations utilizing this product in numerous Texas Counties in 1975, showed excellent control of nematodes as well as many other soil organisms. This product is presently available from many home garden supply stores in gallon containers.

If you are anxious to start vegetable gardening, you can begin now by growing your own transplants from seed. Then you can set them out in the garden after the danger of frost is past.

You may start the plants in seed flats, peat pots, peat pellets, peat cubes or paper or plastic cups. Peat containers have the advantage of being decomposable thus and be set in the soil along with the plants.

First, line the bottom of the seed flat with newspaper, then add soil. The rows should be one-eighth to one-half inch deep. Plant two to three seeds per inch of row.

Cover the seeds lightly with soil and water gently until the entire mix is moist, but don't soak the soil. Water only when the soil surface is dry. Put transplants in a well lighted warm area with a temperature of 75 to 80 degrees.

Cisco C Of C

To Hold Banquet

It has been announced that the Cisco Chamber of Commerce Banquet will be held Feb. 19 at 7 p.m. in the Corral Room.

Reservations may be made through the Cisco Chamber of Commerce office.

Joe Hedges, the Area Bicentennial Chairman, will speak at the banquet. His talk will include the motivation of a city and it will be tied in with the year's Bicentennial theme.

Countians Alerted On Marijuana Possessions

Eastland Countians need to be aware that marijuana possession isn't just a crime of the big city.

It's here. Data from the Texas Department of Public Safety shows that ten persons have been charged with possession in this county in the past six months -- four this past weekend. And these are not all tourists from far places; a good number are local young people.

DPS Patrolmen apprehended two Fort Worth residents last Friday and they are charged with possession of less than two ounces. Saturday, two Eastlanders were charged with possession of two ounces or less.

On January 31, two Eastlanders were charged by DPS with possession of five ounces.

On January 19, a Conneticut and an Abilene youth were charged with possession of less than two ounces.

On November 10th, an Alabamian was charged with possession under two ounces.

An Eastlander was filed on October 30 for possession of nine and a third ounces. In spite of recent liberalization, possession in quantities is still against the law. For instance, possession of four ounces or more is a felony third degree with a possible penalty of two to ten years and/or a $5,000 fine.

Possession of four ounces or less but more than two, is a Class A misdemeanor with a possible $2,000 fine and/or a year in prison. Two or less ounces is a Class B misdemeanor with a possible $1,000 fine and/or 180 day jailing on conviction.

Filing of charges is fairly frequent; disposition of cases varies. For instance, a case involving 120 pounds of marijuana filed by DPS officers some two years ago is still on the books.

To Hold Revival

The Church of God, Main and Connellee Streets, will be holding a revival during the week of February 15 - 22.

Reverend R.C. Nichols will be the visiting Evangelist. He has pastored for 19 years in Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Arkansas, and California. Reverend Nichols has evangelized in 14 states since 1971.

If you have been looking for something to fill the void in your life, there is a good chance you will find it during this revival.

There will be singing, praying, testimonies, praising the Lord, and messages from God's wonderful Word.

Rev. E.C. Rodgers and the congregation extend an invitation to all area residents to come and worship with them.

The revival will begin Sunday night, February 15, at 7:00 p.m. Week - night services will begin at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday services at 7:00 p.m.

Eastland Cub Scouts and Webelos are selling tickets for the Bicentennial Scout - O - Rama to be held March 6, from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Coliseum in Brownwood, Cub Leader Herman Alsop has announced.

Admission is 50 cents, and locals are urged to purchase tickets from local Cubs to support the Scout - O - Rama and to help the local Cubs because the local unit receives 20 cents for each ticket sold. Local proceeds will go toward buying awards for the April Pinewood Derby and for a family picnic, Mr. Alsop said. In addition the local cubs and Webelos will have a booth at the Brownwood event.

Preparations are also being made for the Annual Blue and Gold Banquet to be held here Thursday, February 26, at the First Methodist Church beginning at 7:30 p.m. at which awards will be made and coach Joe Bagwell will speak. Cub parents are to bring a covered dish for the buffet banquet meal.

Newly registered cubs are Douglas Manke, Garrett Webb, Michael Bever and Jeff DonBaker, all of Den 3, headed by Mrs. Martinez, which meets each Wednesday from 4 to 5 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.

Other Cubbers are welcome. There are presently three Cub Dens and Two Webelos Dens with a total of some 33 boys active.

Creighton Seeks Term

MINERAL WELLS - State Senator Tom Creighton today formally announced for re-election in the 17 - county 22nd Senatorial District declaring opposition to increased taxes in the 65th Legislature to convene in January, 1977.

"The impact of inflation on the taxpayers dictates that our state government hold spending within available tax revenues," Creighton said. "This can be accomplished barring a fiscal catastrophe", the senator stressed, noting that official forecasts are that the state will start the next session with a $428.2 million surplus.

"At next year's legislative session, there will be a real premium upon experience and calm, unhurried judgment," said Creighton who was first elected to the Senate in 1960 and is now fourth ranking member of the 31 - member body. "A careful and deliberate appraisal of all state programs will be essential", he said. "That I will do."

The 22nd District Senator is chairman of the Senate Economic Development Committee and is vice chairman of the Senate Finance Committee with chief responsibility to prepare the Senate's proposed state budget. He also is a member of the Senate Natural Resources Committee and the Legislative Budget Board which, between sessions, reviews budget requests from all state agencies.

"The high mark of the last legislative year", Creighton said, "was the people's defeat of State Constitutional revision" which he opposed as too much of an overhaul at one time of the people's basic charter. Creighton also fought for a more equitable public school financing system, successfully supporting a lower rate of ad valorem taxes to be paid by area taxpayers than proposed in the original bill. "Trimming down the rate saved area taxpayers millions of dollars, although the local share was left too high", he said.

The 22nd Senatorial District is composed of Bosque, Comanche, Cooke, Denton, Eastland, Erath, Hill, Hood, Jack, Johnson, Montague, Palo Pinto, Parker, Somervell, Stephens, Wise and Young Counties.

United Methodist Women To Begin Study

The United Methodist Women met at the church to begin the study "One Nation Under God". The study was led by Mrs. Austin McCloud who brought out the fact that our Nation's Bicentennial should be celebrated individually with renewed loyalty. Mrs. McCloud

The March 11 meeting will be with Mrs. Urban.

Washington Legend Symbolizes Principle

Washington's birthday always reminds us of the cherry tree story. Whether the legend is fact or fiction is unimportant. The legend symbolizes a principle; to tell the truth; whatever the consequences.

Ironically, the cherry tree incident has a peculiar twist. The incident was authored by a commercially minded minister and book peddler named Mason Weems. When he wrote Washington's biography, "The Life and Memorable Actions of George Washington" (now in its 80th plus edition!), Weems penned it neither for patriotism or posterity. People were the same in his day as they are today. Weems knew when he wrote the book that he could make money from it because of Washington's popularity.

His money making motive is as unimportant as the fact or fiction of the legend itself. When he described the incident, he recorded a principle that helped our heritage. The heritage helps and encourages us to tell the truth - come what may....

City Cab Will Operate From Music Store

Phil Kendrick, owner - manager of Kendrick Music Store, will operate Eastland Cab from his store for the time being, he has announced. The City Cab may be reached at 629 - 8853.

presented a skit entitled "The Battle at Liberty Courthouse", directed by Mrs. Frank Sparks. The actresses were: Mrs. J.F. Francis, Mrs. H.L. Hassell, Mrs. Jos. Perkins, Mes. C.T. Brockman and Mrs. Joe Stephens. The humorous playlet presented a typical small town committee, trying to decide about their bicentennial project; but were continually interrupted by a member who was trying to lift their small thoughts to world - wide needs, such as hunger, housing, age, ecology, peace and love. A serious discussion followed the skit.

A short business session preceded the program in which Mrs. H.L. Hassell, president, welcomed a new member, Mrs. Larue Broussard.

Twenty - four members attended and were served cinnamon strudel and hot spiced tea.

The study will continue next week, February 17.

TEXAS 1876

February 15 - 22, 1876

Election day finally came on Feb. 16, and although it took several days for all ballots to be officially tabulated, the incumbent, Richard Coke was re-elected governor over his Republican opponent Chambers. The new constitution was adopted by a wide margin.

GALVESTON - The NEWS laments that the great number of offices to be filled and the unusual disposition to "scratch" tickets which prevailed throughout the State rendered the counting of ballots a tedious process. Returns came in slowly and in such unsatisfactory shape that it was difficult to make some of them intelligible.

GRAYSON COUNTY - The American Meat Preserving Company at Denison is now at work putting up cooked meats for the trade. After beef, pork, or any other meat goes through their process, it is ready for the table. They are also putting up boned turkey by the same process.

INDIANOLA - The courthouse has been thoroughly repaired and placed in fine order from the effects of the September cyclone. The jail, also, is in good condition. The steamship W.G. Hewes will take upwards of 500 beeves to Havana. The total shipment last week aggregate 1000 head.

GALVESTON - The Southern Champion Louisville Base Ball Club plans to play games in Galveston, Houston, Dallas and Denison during March.

NEW YORK CITY - The adoption of the new constitution (in Texas) gives general satisfaction. Texas bonds are rapidly advancing. For seven per cent, gold bonds five and a half bid - ten asked. Forster, Ludlow and Company.

HOUSTON - The only visible sign of Washington's birthday here was a large U.S. flag or two displayed over the post office and in Fannin Street.

GALVESTON - In the personal column: The COURIER-JOURNAL rightly ranks Mr. Fruits and Mrs. Fruits of Indiana among the first Fruits of the earth, the one being 113 and the other 111 years old. The old gentleman neither smokes nor chews, of course.

Advertised in Leading Texas Newspaper - Mind reading, psychomaney, soul charming, mesmerism, and marriage guide, showing how either sex may fascinate and gain the love and affection of any person they choose instantly. 400 pages. By mail, 50 cents.

Valentine Party For Eastland Manor

King Charlie Nosek and Queen Lula Fox

Domino players at Eastland Manor

We had our valentine party February 12, at 2:30. One of our residents Mrs. James Sutton, started our program off by singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart". We had the crowning of the King and Queen. The King was Mr. Charlie Nosek and the Queen was Mrs. Lula Fox. They were given a box of candy.

Mack Eaves was the winner of the big heart-shaped sucker. Each resident was given a valentine card and everyone enjoyed cookies, punch, and heart-shaped candy.

Mrs. Jack Mace gave the story of St. Valentine and Mrs. Dorothy Shepard gave out the awards.

Mrs. Ivy entertained on the piano with old-time favorites.

We wish to thank the home for having such a nice party for us. Thanks to our volunteers for their help.

Visitor Has Recollections Of Lincoln

Lincoln's Birthday, Thursday, Feb. 12, is a reminder that some of the famous President's neighbors were visitors in Eastland about 50 years ago, according to data from the Archives of Eastland Centennial Memorial Library.

The grandparents of the late Cliff Wilson were interviewed and a story appeared in the Thursday, Jan. 1, 1925, edition of the Telegram, as follows:

VISITOR HAS RECOLLECTIONS

OF LINCOLN

Charles L. Corneau, now in Eastland, Once Neighbor of Former President.

Charles L. Corneau, who, with his wife, is visiting their daughter, Mrs. Oscar Wilson and her family at 612 West Plummer Street, Eastland, was born in Springfield, Ill., the home of Abe Lincoln, and knew Lincoln and his family before they left Springfield for Washington following Lincoln's election to the presidency. He was also living in Springfield and working as a messenger boy when the news came of Lincoln's death and carried the death message to Lincoln's brother-in-law. He also carried the news dispatches to the newspapers of Springfield.

Mr. Corneau, who is 76 years old, but hale and hearty for one of his years, has a splendid memory and tells some very interesting incidents of the life of Lincoln and his family when he knew them.

NEIGHBORS IN SPRINGFIELD

"My family and that of Lincoln lived within two blocks of each other in Springfield," Mr. Corneau said, "and we children, especially Robert Lincoln and myself, often played together and attended school together. Robert was older than I."

Mr. Corneau remembers seeing Mr. Lincoln often and heard him debate with Stephen A. Douglas during their campaign for the presidency. He saw him as he was riding in a carriage to the depot when he was leaving Springfield to go to Washington to take the oath as president of the United States.

Mr. Corneau says that an uncle of his living in Springfield at the time Lincoln lived there owned a drug store that was a favorite gathering place for the men of the town, who congregated there for the purpose of discussing the news of the day and especially politics. His uncle, Mr. Corneau said, was a democrat and supported Douglas for president, but he was also a warm personal friend of Lincoln and kept a life-size statue of Lincoln in his store. "I remember that on one occasion I was in the store and there was a crowd present discussing the presidential campaign and I cheered for Douglas. My uncle called me to the rear of the store and gave me a lecture and warned me not to do that again in his presence. A short time after that I met Mr. Lincoln on his way from his office to his home and greeted him with "Hurrah for Lincoln". He had heard of the incident of me cheering for Douglas and my uncle giving me a lecture, and smiled and thanked me and gave me a dime."

ONE ON LINCOLN

Mr. Corneau tells a story of his uncle having placed a skeleton in his drug store to scare away the boys who were in the habit of going there for drinking water. Mr. Lincoln, who was tall and very slender, was laughing at the boys one time about becoming frightened and running away from the store and one youngster in the crowd spoke up and said, "We know you. You are the skeleton that was back there by the water bucket, but you have your clothes on now."

Although he knew the Lincoln family quite well, Mr. Corneau says he doesn't remember much about any of them except Mr. Lincoln and Robert. He was present when Lincoln's body was brought home for burial, but he doesn't remember seeing any member of the family after they left Springfield for Washington.

Mr. Corneau, who is a railroad man, having entered that service in 1866, is agent for the Wabash Railroad at Litchfield, Ill., a town of 7,000 population and is away on a vacation that will keep him here the remainder of the winter.

Mr. Corneau was present at the democratic national convention when William Jennings Bryan made his famous "crown of thorns and cross of gold" speech and won the democratic nomination for president.

Texas Headed For Productive Fur Trapping Season

AUSTIN—If resident trapper license sales are any indicator, Texas is well on its way to the biggest, most productive fur-trapping season in its history.

Most trapping seasons on fur-bearing animals in Texas closed Jan. 31.

The states multi-million-dollar fur industry has been growing more than 50 percent every season for the past four years.

According to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 9,669 resident permits were issued between September-December 1975. During the same period in 1974, 6,616 trapping licenses were issued. By contrast, 3,417 permits were issued during 1973 and only 1,097 licenses were issued in 1972.

Along with the dramatic increase in the number of licenses issued, P&WD law enforcement officers have been busy with increases in violations.

The law governing the trapping and taking of pelts of fur-bearing animals dates back to 1925, says Bob Cross, P&WD inland game and fish law enforcement supervisor, "but it has only been within the last three years or so that this business has boomed in Texas."

Trappers, retail and wholesale fur buyers in the state's annual million-dollar furring operation must all be licensed, Cross says.

Muskrat, nutria (a South American import not classified as a fur-bearer), possum, gray fox, ringtail, mink and raccoon are trapped around the state, primarily in East, Southeast and Central Texas.

Underscoring the value of the fur industry in Texas, P&WD figures show one 22-county area in Central Texas accounted for 81,000 pelts worth $500,000, during December 1975.

Dan Boone, wildlife technician, estimates between $1.5 million and $4 million worth of fur has been harvested yearly in Texas over the past three years.

Boone says Central Texas figures, impressive as they are, show only a portion of the fur picture around the state.

Southeast Texas marshes have long been heavy fur producers and the Panhandle area also yields prime muskrat pelts that are much in demand.

"Indications are this current season will exceed all past figures, making it the biggest in the history of Texas in terms of numbers caught and dollar value of pelts," Boone adds.

Most of the pelts in Texas are shipped out-of-state to St. Louis or New York, with eventual destination being the European fashion centers.

"The high-fashion industry in Europe and the Orient has a high demand for fur, which stimulates the trapping industry and keeps prices up," Boone says.

The state has enjoyed three years of good rainfall, which has produced lush crops of grass, forbs and seed. This means more rodents and insects, which means more predators. Most fur-bearing animals in Texas are predators.

The consistently large harvest of fur-bearers in Texas has made the state one of the leading fur pelt suppliers.

Cross believes the nation's economic difficulties have "caused many people to get into trapping and retailing who normally would not."

"It is a big business, and for the past several years there has been a high demand for pelts. The economy being what it is, it's making it very attractive for people who are out of work to get into trapping and buying and selling furs."

With the influx of trappers and pelt buyers, come the illegal operators.

Pelt values have been on the increase, and will likely stay up. Coyote hides used for parka linings, bring upwards of $10 to $12. Muskrat or nutria bring $2 to $4 per hide, depending on size. Bobcat skins bring up to $50, Cross says.

"What is hard to understand is that people are willing to risk losing their license for one year and a fine of up to $200 for getting caught without a license to buy and sell or trap, when all the license costs is from $5 to $25," Cross said.

Just how many illegal furring operators are in the state may be seen by recent activities by P&WD game wardens which netted the arrest of 20 retailers and wholesalers.

Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Young announce the engagement of their daughter Dianne Elaine to Philip Rosenquest Smith, son of Mrs. Ruth Rosenquest Smith. They plan a June wedding.

Thoughts For Today

By Bobby Boudreaux

Washington's birthday always reminds us of the cherry tree story. Whether the legend is fact or fiction is unimportant. The legend symbolizes a principle; to tell the truth - whatever the consequences.

Ironically, the cherry tree incident has a peculiar twist. The incident was authored by a commercially minded minister and book peddler named Mason Weems. When he wrote Washington's biography, "The Life and Memorable Actions of George Washington" (now in its 80th plus edition!), Weems penned it neither for patriotism or posterity. People were the same in his day as they are today. Weems knew when he wrote the book that he could make money from it because of Washington's popularity.

His money making motive is as unimportant as the fact or fiction of the legend itself. When he described the incident, he recorded a principle that helped our heritage. The heritage helps and encourages us to tell the truth - come what may.
