Polio Inoculation Planned After Vaccine Okayed

Secret papers concerning the success of the Salk polio vaccine were aired today at 10:20 a.m.

In tribute to the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, a polio victim who founded the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the success of the vaccine was heralded world wide.

Some guessed that the vaccine's effectiveness would range from 90 percent upward but there was absolutely no confirmation of any figures.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the vaccine's discoverer, when asked if the vaccine was "an unqualified success," only shook his head negatively.

Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., the vaccine's judge, announced the findings of the year long field test at a scientific session at the University of Michigan.

At the news conference in Michigan, both doctors agreed that to expect 100 percent protection from the vaccine would be far too optimistic, but that it wouldn't need to be 100 percent effective to be a successful vaccine.

They pointed out that smallpox vaccines, one of the best out now, is 95 percent effective.

Eastland Echoes

By Casey

THOUGHT FOR TODAY: "The man who knows HOW will always find his place in the world. But the man who knows WHY will be his boss." — (Cheer).

Lonnie V. Combs of the Stamps-Baxter Mixed Quartet, here Sunday, had some fun out of his bass singer, explaining that the latter's wife came along this time because on the last trip the singer reported going to Lovelady (which he insisted is a town) . . . "She just likes to be sure," said Mr. Combs, grinning.

Father — Your young man approached me and asked for your hand in marriage. I consented.

Daughter — But father, I don't want to leave mother.

Father — I quite understand, daughter. But don't let me stand in the way of your happiness. Take mother with you. — (Uncle Mat).

All who love good gospel singing and attended the Eastland County Singing Convention here Sunday got a real musical thrill. Skilled singers from over a wide territory gathered and "made the rafters ring" out at EHS, with melody.

Nature did her part in sending a rain to "bathe" the community here at Clean-Up time, so the citizenry should co-operate with Dame Nature — and with the sponsoring Civic League and Garden Club — and make sure that in every proverbial nook and cranny there is tidiness. . . Company's coming next week — TFWC members from all over the district and several cities outside, for the Eastland convention.

Countless tourists pass our way every day, for Highway 80 is a tremendously busy artery. We should all be ready and willing to extend courtesies to these folk, as the neighborly thing to do and, incidentally, confirming our town's reputation as "Friendly City."

Soul-lifting services, in sermon and song, drew throngs to the churches of this community Sunday in commemoration of the Resurrection of Christ The Savior.

You can talk a Quarterback Club member into selling you a ticket to the Minstrel right easily.

He was graduated from A&M College in August. Sunday he and his parents went to Fort Worth to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thomas and were their guests at Ice-Capades. Mrs. Thomas visited the Howards here Friday of last week.

Resurrection Is Sunrise Theme

Despite a considerable sky-overcast, what was regarded as a good-sized early-morning gathering turned out for the inspiring community-wide sunrise Easter service here Sunday.

Due to rain the afternoon before and continued cloudy weather, the place for the service was changed from the City Park to the First Baptist Church, whose pastor, the Rev. Harvey Kimbler, delivered the sermon.

Church bells in the community had rung a half hour before, to call the people to worship.

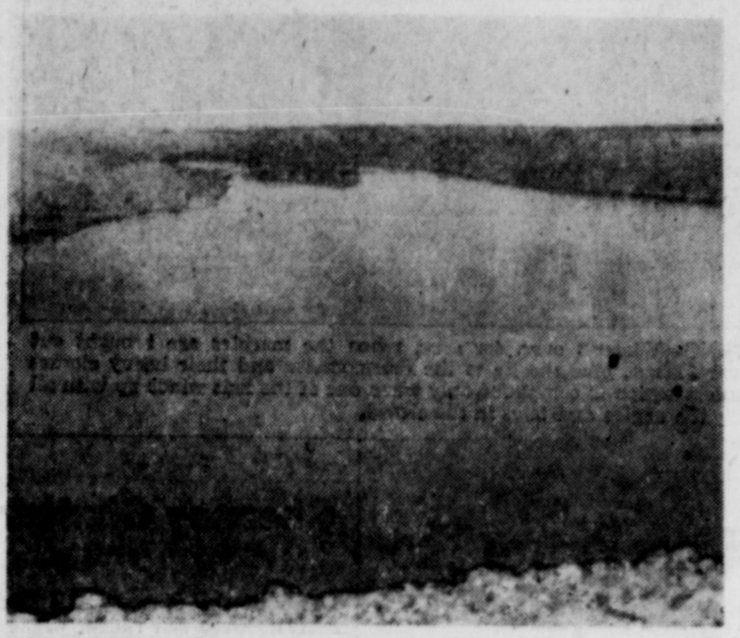

The Rev. Mr. Kimbler had appropriately chosen the Resurrection theme for his message. He pointed out the tremendous importance of the Resurrection to the world, and its continuing

However, the "neighbor-to-neighbor" canvass will not begin in the county until Apr. 20. Perkins' "Little Red School House," 1021 S. Seaman.

Today at the Eastland Memorial Hospital Auxiliary meeting at the home of Mrs. Ben Hammer literature on the subject was distributed to those present.

Wave Of Protest Flares Here On Revenue Office Close Plan

Wires Assert Move Cuts Vital Service

Occasioned by reports that a movement is on foot to close the Internal Revenue office in Eastland many telegrams of protest were going out from individuals and organizations of this city this week.

The Chamber of Commerce is taking an active part in the protest.

Congressman and Senators were receiving the messages.

While the move is reportedly planned as an economy step, those protesting pointed out that actually the two-man revenue set-up is housed in the Courthouse and virtually the only expense other than that of the employees — who are to be retained — is such incidentals as telephone and postoffice box.

The wires also, in numerous instances, called attention to the fact that the revenue office here is the only one between Fort Worth and Abilene, and Brownwood and Wichita Falls.

They declared that elimination of the office here would deprive large numbers of people in this area of a needed and important service, quite unwisely as revenue representatives then would have to be sent in here, periodically.

CLEAN-SWEEP VICTORY—Alderman-elect Charles H. Weber of Chicago, Ill., will sweep into office on this motorized street-sweeper. It was the promise that helped him win the nomination. Appearance in the Bavarian costume fulfills another promise—to let his constituents see him in the outfit, a gift from the late mayor of West Berlin, Ernst Reuter.

Opening Pipkin's 13th Store At Cisco Location

Grand opening of Pipkin Grocery Company's thirteenth Piggly Wiggly Store will be held in Cisco Wednesday through Saturday.

Grady Pipkin, president of Pipkin Grocery Company, Inc., started in the grocery business in Eastland in January, 1919, with a retail store on the south side of the square, where the Telegram office presently is located.

His expanding business extends now into the following communities in West Texas; Eastland, Cisco, Ranger, Coleman, Graham, Kermit, four in Midland and three in Odessa.

Although leading a busy life, Mr. Pipkin takes time out to serve many civic tasks. Associated with him in the business are his three sons, Bruce, Raymond and James Pipkin.

General offices and company warehouses are located on South Seaman street in Eastland, with a large payroll maintained. The well-known concern operates a fleet of diesel-powered trucks to service stores with groceries and produce.

Numerous Eastland friends of Mr. Pipkin and his associates plan to be among well-wishers dropping by the Cisco store in the course of the four-day opening.

Clean-Up Week Is Kicked Off Here

It's Clean-up Week. Eastland is getting its tidy-up-for-company campaign into full swing, spear-headed by the Civic League and Garden Club.

Rotarians Told By Galbraith of Youngfolk Value

"The youth of our land is our greatest asset," declared Scout executive Joe Galbraith of the Comanche Trails Council in his Monday noon address to Rotary at the Concldee. He reminded Rotarians — which has a troop here as sponsor — that there is enough material for four more units.

Program Chairman Raymond Pipkin introduced Mr. Galbraith, who said that he had known the Pipkin family most of his life and recalled that the program chairman's father, Grady Pipkin, had been active in Scouting the past 27 years.

Frank N. Sayre, Rotary president, presided over the meeting. He welcomed into Rotary a new member, E. A. Hake, introduced by Earl Bender. Tom Lovelace announced the Quarterback Club Minstrel Thursday and Friday nights. President Sayre announced that playground equipment on the West and South Ward School grounds will be painted by Rotarians Saturday morning.

Chairmen of the next three programs will be: Earl Bender, the Rev. Harvey Kimbler and Charles Freyschlag.

Guests at the meeting were two Rotarians, W. P. Guinn and L. C. Davis, both of Cisco.

Book Club Is Organized At Junior High

The seventh grade of Eastland Junior High School, under the leadership of their teacher, Mrs. Joe Stephen, met in joint assembly recently, and changed the name of their Citizenship Club to the TAB Club, which stands for Teen-Age-Books. This club is sponsored by the Scholastic Magazine and their first book is called "Twenty Grand," a compilation of twenty grand stories for teenagers, a compliment from the Scholastics Magazine Company.

A number of the boys and girls have read all the sixty-five biographies in the Junior High Library (Famous Americans Series) as well as the sixteen HILD books (High Interest and low difficulty). Over one hundred books have been added to the school library this year, under the direction of Principal M. M. Sheffield.

Also at the meeting the Citizens-of-the-Month were elected for the month of March. They are: 7-A, Ronnie Buffkin, who leaves soon to make his home in Oklahoma, and 7-B, Glen Lively.

Those "Thievin' Varmints" Chicken-Loser Captures Seven 'Possums' In One Clap of Trap

The Jordans — Herman and his dad, J. N. — have been having chicken-killing woes and the latter, as a result, has made a possum capture which is one for the book.

In one clap of a wolf trap, he caught seven 'possums.

His friends looked skeptical, until he explained:

"You see, the young 'possums cling to their mother. Well, I caught a mother 'possum and six little ones were still clinging to her when I found her in the trap."

An Ill-Advised Plan

To close the Internal Revenue office in Eastland most assuredly would be a foolish thing. And protests which many individuals and organizations are wiring to congressmen and senators are "righteous indignation," with the Chamber of Commerce properly leading the wave of protest. The planned move would be for so-called economy. But, we are reliably informed, actually since the office is housed in the Courthouse, about the only expense attendant to its operation consists of such incidentals as a telephone and a postoffice box. The employees would be retained, and transferred, we are told. Since it would be necessary to send in revenue representatives, periodically, in this territory, the proposed closing looks to us like FALSE economy, particularly since the office here serves a considerable area and is the only one between Abilene and Fort Worth, Brownwood and Wichita Falls. We hope the mistake is recognized—and that the planned move will be promptly abandoned.

New Orleans Pensioner Proves The Old Can Feel Young At Heart

By GEORGE BURNHAM
Chattanooga News-Free Press Staff Writer

GLASGOW, Scotland — Old people can feel young in heart again through the inspiring story of Adrian Alexander McCaskill, 79-year-old pensioner from New Orleans who provided a dramatic moment in the All-Scotland Crusade of Evangelist Billy Graham. The moment came during the middle of a meeting at beautiful Kelvin Hall, scene of the crusade now under way.

A tall figure, gnarled and somewhat bent with age, Mr. McCaskill had arrived late for the meeting and was looking for a seat down front. Failing to find one in the overflow crowd of 16,000, he went out and found a chair. He placed it near the platform, but an usher whispered he would have to move and was leading him down an aisle when Billy jumped from his seat and cried, in a voice which rang through the hall: "That man — hold that man. Let him turn and face us."

An electric shock spread through the packed throng. The first thought was that someone was making trouble. Mr. McCaskill, wearing an American Army greatcoat, stood with downcast eyes as Billy continued: "This man comes from New Orleans, La. He is nearly 80 years of age and has followed us all over the United States. He lives on a small pension — there are very few of you here who could live on it. He saves his pennies and ministers in New Orleans gave him a few dollars to help out. 'I don't know how he got here. I didn't even know he was here. But he is here — and he has a right to a seat anywhere in this auditorium as far as I am concerned.'"

The old man stood straight and tall and his eyes clouded as he looked at the young preacher, who had interrupted his thoughts on a message to express appreciation for a long journey. An usher allowed him to place the seat near the front. After the service he was mobbed by the press and well wishers from both sides of the Atlantic. "God bless you, sir," said some of the people as they pressed shillings and dollars into his hand. Soon his little snap pocketbook was overflowing. "My, I have never been so famous in all my life," he beamed.

Next day, as the luncheon guest of the writer and George Beverly Shea, soloist for the Graham team, Mr. McCaskill told about his experiences. He first heard Billy Graham speak about three years ago in San Francisco. Since that time, he has visited every American campaign conducted by the evangelist, managing it all on a 65 dollar-a-month pension and the little he makes selling religious songs he

Evaluation of the effectiveness of the vaccine is based on a year-long field trial after 440,000 received the serum last year. Other findings of the tests were that possibly only two shots were needed instead of three to give at least temporary immunity. Before today's official acceptance of the vaccine, only Dr. Francis knew of the test results. Not even Dr. Salk had an inkling as to what turns the reports would take. If only two shots instead of three are required for immunity then protection could possibly be increased from 18,000,000 to 27,000,000.

Weatherford, Breckenridge, Ranger, Eastland and Cisco were represented on the winning team in the Lakeside Country Club pro-amateur tournament. Thirteen teams from about this area participated in the Saturday afternoon tourney, which was cut short — at the end of 9 holes of play — by rainfall.

The victorious team, which received golf merchandise, consisted of Pro Bill Hill of Weatherford, Dr. W. B. Barrow, Eastland; Bob Cunningham, Breckenridge; Earl Pittman, Ranger, and Buzz Sawyer, Cisco. Their winning low total was 199, for the nine holes. Hill, incidentally, tied with Col. Bearer of Mineral Wells for medalist of the tourney, with one-under par 85.

Enlistment In Overseas Bound Unit Possible

"The U.S. Army will accept 70 young men each week through May 5 from the Fourth Army area for direct assignment to the 10th Infantry Division under the Army's new and revolutionary Operation Gyroscope, which allows direct enlistments into Army units bound for overseas commands," Sgt Edward G. Lowe, Army recruiter, said in a visit here this week.

The 10th Infantry Division, now stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas, is scheduled to replace the 1st Infantry Division in Wurzburg, Germany, this summer.

Technically known as the Unit Rotation Plan, the term "Gyroscope" has been applied to punctuate the "rotation with stability" phase used to describe the result of the plan. The plan calls for rotation of units up to division level to replace similar sized units currently stationed in overseas commands. The 10th Infantry Division is the first unit selected for "Gyroscope" type rotation with more units scheduled to follow in the near future.

Sgt. Lowe may be contacted in Eastland each Tuesday or at the courthouse in Breckenridge.

"1954 SHIELD" FOR HIGHWAY COURTESY is presented to H. E. "Sonny" Box, Most Representative Hobbs Knight of the Road, at the awards program's April 5 banquet in Austin. After describing how Box had rendered assistance to two women and two small boys at an accident three miles south of Valley Mills last year, Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, at right, said, "Only consideration for his fellow man prompted Box's action . . . he's the kind of driver I wish we had behind the wheel of every commercial vehicle in the state." At left is W. E. Grace, vice president and general manager of Hobbs Manufacturing Company, Fort Worth trailer building firm which together with the Texas Safety Association and the public safety department's License & Weight Division sponsors the program that singled out 66 truck drivers for courteous acts last year.

Traffic Accidents Claim 400 Children Yearly

Being normal people, most of us are moved with compassion when we see pictures of child victims of war or famine. We pity the poor children who grow up in countries less fortunate than ours.

At such times we're likely to think of the many advantages most American children enjoy . . . good food, clothing, housing, education . . . freedom from want . . . freedom from fear.

We lose sight of the fact that these well fed and often pampered American youngsters are exposed every day to an enemy as vicious as any invading army. . . an enemy that annually takes the lives of over 4,000 children and injures over 200,000 more. This enemy? Traffic Accidents!

We can't even lay the blame for this child slaughter at the door of the criminal element in our society. The vehicles that snuff out the lives of our children are, for the most part, driven by ordinary, law abiding citizens.

Most of these people have the welfare of the nation and its children at heart. Yet, through sheer carelessness, they rob countless children of life . . . bring grief to parents . . . and rob the country of its most precious possession—its future citizens.

What's the explanation? The only explanation is they don't realize that careless driving breeds traffic accidents. As long as drivers cherish this blind spot, we'll continue to have traffic accidents—many of them involving children.

All of us who drive should wake up and face the facts. It's criminally careless to drive an automobile (1) when you're ill, worried or fatigued, (2) after you've been drinking, (3) at a speed that's not safe for conditions.

None of us can say we've never been guilty of careless driving in the past. But we can resolve to mend our ways in the future. Now, during the Child Pedestrian and Bicycle Safety program, would be a good time to make such a resolution. If we consider ourselves responsible citizens, we ought to act accordingly.
