County FB Officers Elected

The election of officers of the Eastland County Farm Bureau highlighted its annual meeting October 6.

C.M. Guthery of Desdemona returned to his post as president. Others returning were Pete Hathcock of Ranger, first vice president; J.J. Grimshaw of Desdemona, second vice president; and Ray A. Norris of Eastland, secretary-treasurer.

For Norris it meant the beginning of his 24th year as secretary-treasurer of the group.

Also selected were 12 delegates for the Texas Farm Bureau State Convention in San Antonio set for Nov. 30 to Dec. 2.

They are Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Guthery, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cozart of Cisco, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Williamson of Eastland, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Veeck of Eastland, Mr. and Mrs. K.F. Kirk of Ranger, Mrs. Lucille Harrelson of Cisco and Norris.

Chosen for two year terms on the board of directors were Herman Schaefer, Winford Fry, Cozart, Norris, Ted Botts, J.R. Grimshaw, Tommy McKissick, Donald Holder and Cecil Self.

The group adopted several strong resolutions to be forwarded to the state TFB meeting.

Getting the most attention was approval of all resolutions concerning peanuts.

Among them was a resolution to remove from the Agricultural secretary authority to allow or disallow the transfer of peanut allotments for sale and lease and to make peanut allotments sale and lease permanent. Also in the resolution was a proposal to keep the 1,610,000 acre allotment for production with excess production to be sold by export or for domestic crushing use—and in no case to be sold at less than 75 percent parity.

Non-allotment peanuts would have to be moved through a county growers' group and there would be a law to keep excessive peanuts from building up on non-allotment acreage with only growers with peanut allotments to be eligible to vote in peanut grower elections.

The group also included provisions asking for announced details of peanut programs early and for buyers not to be obligated to provide facilities to dry or store excess peanuts or purchase such with all peanuts to be purchased at not less than support price.

On domestic issues, the group voted to favor one price on new or old oil with the same grade; to obtain funds of local ranches to help with the screwworm eradication program if and when federal funds become short; use a device available to control predators; reaffirm the national policy of the Environmental Protection Agency; for exports of farm products to be sold without limitation; and for priority II for natural gas for farmers.

Benny Butler, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Butler of Gorman, and Nelda Little, 17, a Gorman High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Little of Kokomo, spoke of their experiences July 4 to 18 at the State Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar at Waco.

Doyle Condra, District 7 State Farm Bureau Director from Ballinger, was on hand as special guest.

BUSY DAY for Eastland Saturday: New Car, Truck and Farm Equipment Show, Auction Buck Sale and Sidewalk Sale...A mighty good day to be in Eastland...Locals were pleased to run windshield wipers early Wednesday as the first moisture of many days fell. It was light, dust - settling and welcome.

PARENTS AND teachers never know what's coming out. Supper - time for families with school - age children is usually the time for reports on the day's activities. A case in point: "Mr. Baze (Principal R.O.) is still gone," says a daughter. "I think he's away at a Right - to - Read Seminar", volunteers daddy. "What's that?" says one. "A new program, I think, to help slow readers", guesses Dad. And you guessed the honest reply to that: "Is Mr. Baze a slow reader?" (In fairness, it must be added, that the subject was then more fully explained for one and all.)

OUR COMPLIMENTS and pledges of support are certainly in order to Mr. M.H. Perry who has accepted the presidency of the Eastland Industrial Foundation. It's a well - founded organization that does a world of good for our city, and we, especially at this time, need to be ready to help with this important program.

HERE ARE some "Energy Saving Tips of the Day" for your use as you see fit.

- (1) Now that the heating season's here, set that thermostat at energy - economical 60 degrees, and remember to lower it to 60 degrees at night. For every degree you dial down you can save about 2½ percent on your fuel costs. If you find the new temperature cool, wear slightly warmer clothes for comfort.
- (2) On a cold day, run your fingers around the windows. If you can feel cold air blowing in through cracks between the window frame and the wall, the cracks should be caulked. If air is blowing in between the window sash and frame, or between the upper and lower sashes, the windows should be weather stripped.
- (3) It's anti freeze time for your car. Get a tuneup, too - - it could save you about 10 percent in gasoline costs.
- (4) Two light weight sweaters are warmer than one heavy one. The space between the two provides insulation - - and helps keep your body heat close to you.
- (5) Check your radiators or hot air registers. Make sure they're not blocked by draperies or furniture. The warmed air should be free to circulate around the room.

FULLEN MOTOR CO. PUNCH LINE OF THE WEEK

"I want your driver's license," the officer said. "This is your library card."
"I know, I'm looking for my license," replied the driver. "I just thought you'd like something to read until I find it."

Mavs Host Hamilton Here Friday

The Eastland Mavericks - bring their machine home this week for the local fans.

It'll be under the lights at Maverick Stadium Friday when the Hamilton Bulldogs come to town in a 9-AA conference Duel.

Kickoff time is 8 p.m. The Mavericks are licking their wounds from last week's conference opener in which they were defeated by Coleman Bluecats. Right now Eastland is carrying a 2-3 record.

It's Breckenridge night for the Undeclared Seventh, Eighth and Junior Varsity Thursday night.

The local teams will host Breckenridge teams at Maverick Stadium beginning at 5 and 6 p.m., and the Junior Varsity will be in Breckenridge the same night.

PEP RALLY

Eastland High School will have a downtown pep rally on the south side of the square Friday, Oct. 17, at 3:00. Everyone is urged to come and support the Mavericks.

"I Believe in the Mavericks".

That's a new slogan for a growing number of Eastland fans who follow their team in fair weather and foul.

With one of the finest student bodies, coaching staffs and school spirits evident anywhere in the state, Eastland fans take pride in their teams and "push them all the way."

The school system has in progress a physical education program that's second to none, and "going out to the games" is a definite part of the whole program, and where the fans really show their true colors.

Noted for its winning ways, Eastland over the years has demonstrated sportsmanship equalled, and a dedication to "doing the best", so it's always been "fair fan country".

Hamilton comes to town Friday night, and the visitors will face a determined Maverick squad between the goal posts, see enthusiastic Eastland mentors on the sidelines, and look up into stand - packed Maverick fans.

It's October. It's football time. And your team deserves your best. "Lay it on 'em, Mavericks!"

Absentee Ballot On

Absentee balloting for the Tuesday, November 4, State Constitution Election began Wednesday at the County Clerk's office and continues through October 30.

Voters in Eastland County, with voters across the state, will determine the fate of the proposed new charter for the state. The state legislature was unsuccessful last year in drafting a constitution, but earlier this year came out with this modification.

The Eastland County Bar Association has adopted a resolution opposing the new constitution, as has State Senator Tom Creighton, who is speaking against the measure. Several members of the local bar have spoke out against passage of the new charter for the state.

Each of the propositions is a "for" and "against" choice for Texas voters.

Old business attended to was getting the new door installed. They got the door through the sale of coasters.

There will be an Oil Belt District and International Order of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs on Thursday, Oct. 16, from 6:00

SPEAKS HERE

DR. W.J. GRUBY The Eastland Lions Club hosted Dr. W.J. Gruby, District Governor, District 2-E1, for an official visit at noon Tuesday.

The state of Texas has been apportioned into 15 districts by the International Association of Lions Clubs and is known as a multiple district. Such apportionment was found necessary because of the large geographical area of Texas. The Lions Club of Eastland is a component of District 2-E1 and this district covers 19,958 square miles; and, the Eastland Club is one of 61 clubs within the confines of the District.

The governing body of Lionism in Texas is the Council of Governors. The Council maintains a state office in Austin.

President Ray Pryor presided and H.V. O'Brien introduced Gov. Gruby.

District Governor Gruby says, "The whole office, purpose and meaning of Lionism is to serve our fellow man. Our motto "We Serve" starts at the grass roots level and progressively flows up through the community, the state, the nation and finally at the international level. Lionism seeks to help solve world problems by means of humanitarian principles...more specifically, each and every Lion regardless of nationality seeks to be a universal friend."

PANCAKE SUPPER Tickets will go on sale soon for the annual Lions Club Pancake Supper which will be held Friday, Nov. 14, (the night of the Eastland-Comanche game here). President Ray Pryor has announced.

Darwin Miller is chairman for the popular pancake project, and reports that a good turnout is expected this year.

The event will be held at the Eastland Elementary School.

Mind Control Class Begin October 16

The Silva Mind Control Program, a relative new concept in recent years, will be taught in this area on two consecutive weekends of concentrated class work, October 18-19 and October 25-26. An explanatory session, which will be free of charge and open to anyone interested, will be held on Thursday evening, October 16.
 The explanatory session and classes will be held at the Ramada Inn, Eastland. The one-hour introductory period will be at 8:00 p.m. Thursday evening, and then those who sign up for the class will meet it for several hours during the Saturday and Sunday sessions.
 The Silva Method has over a half million graduates nationally, with highly acclaimed results. Students report improved intellectual potentials such as concentration, memory retention, creative imagination, and verbal and artistic expression. Many also report that they have bolstered such resources of personality as self-confidence, motivation and leadership. Some students report they have also corrected disturbing habit patterns such as excessive drinking, smoking, drug use, overeating, procrastination, nervous tension, shyness, migraine headaches, and insomnia.
 Jose Silva began research in Mind Control in Laredo, Texas, in 1944. This research started for purposes of increasing a person's I.Q. factor. As is often the case in scientific investigation, the incidental findings proved more significant than the original goals. The results of these findings and continued research led to the dynamic Silva Method, which has been written about in many national and international publications, including Harper's Bazaar, the National Observer, Newsweek, Sales Management, New York Times, Los Angeles Times, Mademoiselle, Life, the American Psychological Association, Monitor, and only a few weeks ago in Family Circle.
 The method deals in teaching its students to reach, at will, inner levels of consciousness of mind. In just hours of classroom lecturing and mental exercises, participants learn to function with awareness at altered levels of the mind, and they can achieve tranquility, inspiration, creativity, concentration, improved functioning in health matters, and recall capabilities at the "Alpha" level, the courses instructors claim.
 The Silva Mind Control Method will be explained in full at the introductory session Thursday evening, and anyone wishing to learn more about it is invited to be at the Ramada Inn at 8:00 p.m. on that evening. There is no obligation whatsoever resulting from attending the introductory session, Silva officials have stated.

The true story that has captivated over 6,000,000 readers.

NEW TIMES
"Everyone I knew who took Silva Mind Control emerged from the twelve-hours-a-day-for-four-days course radically, permanently altered. On the positive side, all seemed more confident, more optimistic, than before enrolling." May 2, 1975.

The Boston Globe
"A psychologist for more than 40 years familiar with the phenomena of altered states of consciousness, actually took the Silva Mind Control course and called it 'a progressive, responsible and beneficial enterprise'." August 20, 1972.

The Dallas Morning News
"Here are a few of the goodies Mind Control offers: mental and physical relaxation, elimination of tension, control of dreams to solve problems, memory improvement, increase of energy." July 22, 1973.

Mademoiselle
"How do I use it? Let me count the ways... to go to sleep... to wake up without clock, without pills. Anytime. On time. To relax, calm down, COPE. To memorize, remember, retain... or erase a long shopping list. To help solve problems, mine, others. To concentrate on ONE thing, problem, vacation, at a time." March 1972.

The Day
"The amazing, almost scary thing is, it works. Students are trained to be 'functioning psychics' who can turn their ESP on or off at will. Students learn all this (and more) by learning to function in a natural state of mind - the alpha level." November 27, 1972.

Family Circle
"Several large corporations, colleges and welfare organizations have sent representatives to Mind Control. All reports indicate a more positive, creative attitude in the graduates. More specifically, Mind Control graduates told me they were able to relax, lose weight, quit smoking, find love and achieve goals that had been eluding them for years." August 1975.

PLAYBOY
"... mind control is a practical thing. It can be used for business, health, education... for better family understanding..." March 1972.

BAZAAR
"Creative visualization is really what's behind Mind Control; that is, whatever you can visualize, you can actualize," explains Richard Bach, Mind Control advocate and author of one of the hottest books in years, Jonathan Livingston Seagull." November 1972.

LIFE
"Even the doubters among us really did feel a mounting in sense of well being, both in class and out." April 20, 1972.

THE PAWTUCKET TIMES
"Long known as a million dollar insurance salesman in Pawtucket, Mr. Storn said that he and three others in his office who have gone into mind control underwent a test period. One of the four decided not to use it, but Mr. Storn and the other two who did, he said, have increased production for the whole staff by 450 per cent." April 6, 1972.

Headache No. 14; It Will Pass Too

The Current Recession is Always the Worst, but it, too, Will Pass.
 By J.A. Livingston
 The history of America has been one long expectation. In the colonial years, settlers from Europe hoped to enrich themselves in a new country. Later came westward expansion—the discovery and development of the frontier. And, when the geographical frontier had been exploited, the frontier of science and technology opened new social and economic vistas.
 But this upward slope of expectation has been pocked by recessions and depressions: 14 in this century—1903, 1907-8, 1913-14, 1918, 1920-21, 1923-

24, 1929-33 (the Great One to which nervous minds now turn apprehensively); 1937-38, 1948-49, 1953-54, 1957-58, 1960, 1969-70, and 1973-75.
 Each severe slump has generated doubts and sometimes, as during the Great Depression, despair. Has the United States lost its youth—its expectation and excitement? Has maturity—economic sclerosis—hardened the nation's commercial arteries?
 The 1973-75 decline in industrial activity has been the most severe in the postwar period. Inflation brought it on and inflation continued—though at a lesser rate—during the slump.

"Scarcely do we know which to fear most, stagnation or inflation. Fantastic as it may seem, it is actually the case that the world economic situation is so uncertain that both these diametrically opposite conditions stare us simultaneously in the face."
 What a perfect fit these words are. But that paragraph belongs to an earlier era. It's in the final chapter of "Full Recovery and Stagnation", a book which was published in 1938 and received world-wide attention among scholars. Deservedly. First, because it was by a notable economist, Alvin H. Hansen, then Littauer professor of political economy at Harvard, and subsequently an adviser to the Federal Reserve Board. Second, because it analyzed the post-depression economic expansion after 1933. How slow, how grudging, how tedious the process was.

 Professor Hansen reflected the times. Recovery after the Great Depression was incomplete. Millions were unemployed. Entrepreneurial zest was still in a post-Depression storm cellar. The idea gained currency that the capitalist system was doomed to stultification—what in Britain is called "stop-go". People assumed that American had lost its "git-up-and-go". Understandably.
 New frontiers are foreseen by the few, not the many. Visionary, imaginative chance-takers make and lose fortunes by initiating and innovating. Theirs is the speculative gift to look ahead and not back.
 An episode—how an entrepreneur's angry foresight laid the foundation for what eventually became the powerful and influential McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.—is illustrative. It was in 1889. The electric trolley had just come into use as a competitor of the horse-drawn trolley. Its recommendations: greater speed and no droppings along the right of way.
 The Street Railway Journal of which James H. McGraw Sr., was part owner, had to make a decision: should the magazine advocate electrification of street railways or ride with the horses?
 McGraw's associates insisted on the horses. Income from passenger fares hardly covered expenses for conductors, drivers, and the care and feeding of the animals. Profit came from the sales of excrement for fertilizer, which the electric cars would hardly provide.
 The Street Railway Journal developed into Electric Railway Journal, then into Transit Journal, which ceased publication in 1942, as buses and private passenger cars became principal modes of ground transportation. And, as the airplane came into wide use for transport, the company established a series of aviation magazines which evolved into today's Aviation Week and Space Technology. That's the history of socio-economic change—of progress in the U.S. and the world: one era's evolution grows out of another era's evolution.
 Is that a valid expectation once again as the United States threads its way out of the 1973-75 slump? Is there visible beyond the valley, beyond the slump, an industry comparable to the automobile to galvanize the economy with jobs, roads, garage and service stations, and oil refineries?
 No, there isn't—at least not yet.
 But, if the future is "the past again, entered through another gate," there will be. Count the number of radios you own. Include the one you have in your automobile, the one in your hi-fi set, and the little ones around the house. I put that question five different householders as research for this article: the lowest answer was four, the highest was seven.
 But who would have foreseen when the radio was a novelty in the early Twenties and radio stations begged for sponsors, that some day we'd be getting news—the weather report, the winners of the Kentucky Derby, President Ford's signing a bill into law—by radio and television ahead of the daily newspaper?
 Or, who would have foreseen that the proud New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads, with their splendid dining cars and overnight sleeping accommodations, would gradually lose their vitality—their sources of income—to trucks, automobiles, and airplanes, and wind up, as a merged company in bankruptcy?
 But the rules of the game may be changing because today the United States no longer is self-sufficient in petroleum production. The age of cheap energy is over. Is this a total drawback?
 Not necessarily. It's a goad to inventors and innovators. I know of a small company working on a device designed to obtain more automobile mileage from gasoline and simultaneously to reduce pollution. Will it succeed? I can't say. It may fail. But some company will succeed—somewhere, some how. Will the erg of the future be solar energy, nuclear power, sea motion, or—pushing back into time—wind power?
 Admittedly, the American enterprise system could be at the end of the line. Numerous books and articles have been written about the decline of capitalism, the advent of socialism, and the self-destructive contradictions of the profit system; doomsaying increases in bad times.
 But Alan Greenspan, chairman of President Ford's Council of Economic Advisers, has positive views on this. He said to me:
 "We are in danger again of falling into the stagnation trap. The argument is put forth that unless government takes stimulative action, you can never restore prosperity.

 "I always thought that the mature-economy, secular-stagnation thesis was fascinating because it was so plausible and yet proved to be so terribly, terribly wrong.
 But what, I asked Greenspan, would provide the lift, the stimulus, to carry living standards up to new all-time highs? e replied:
 "We don't know what it is, but we know something will, because it always has. But to achieve this, we need appropriate policy. Appropriate policy may not be for the government to do more, but to do less."
 Whatever the rule of government, one thing is certain: a social order, unlike a human being, can renew itself. The arteries of individual men harden. But society rolls its youth over every generation. This revitalizes innovation and enterprise.
 We use computers to run factories, print newspapers, and retrieve information. Libraries of the future may be on microfilm. Man-made fibers vie with cotton, wool, and silk. Machines perform work of technicians in medical laboratories. Astronauts have reached the moon and can circle over us in outer space.
 Today, men with venture—not motes—in their eyes are undoubtedly looking beyond 1976 and 1977 to enrich themselves and society. What things these inventors and enterprisers will bring about belong to the unrolled scroll of destiny.
 But if America's past (instead of that of Rome or Carthage) is prologue, such things will come. And they'll foster jobs and ways of life yet undreamed of. They'll be to the 1980's what the electric refrigerator and freezer of today are to the kitchen ice box of the 1920s: unforeseen at first, and then in universal use.

 A World Wide Pictures release in Matinee

There's a new set of values at this year's Auto Show.

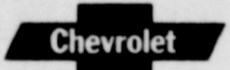

At a time when many people are reevaluating their transportation needs, Chevrolet offers more value than ever.
 For example there's Chevette, Chevrolet's new kind of American car. It is international in design and heritage, incorporating engineering concepts proved around the world.
 Designed for efficiency of space, its wheelbase is about the same as VW Rabbit's. Its turning circle is one of the shortest in the world, and it carries cargo up to four feet wide.
 Chevette is a 2-door hatchback coupe with a standard 1.4-litre engine. It's also available in Sport, Rally and Woody versions and as a 2-seat Scooter model.
 Then there's Vega, built to take it. For '76 there's an extensive anti-corrosion program, a new torque-arm rear suspension, and new hydraulic valve lifters for quieter engine performance. And be sure to check the Vega's Dura-Built 140-cu.-in. 4-cyl. engine guarantee at your Chevy dealer's.

This year's version of America's favorite compact car makes more sense than the 3 million Novas preceding it.
 And Concours is Chevrolet's newest compact—a practical approach to elegance.
 The 1976 Chevelle is enough car for just about anything. It offers room for six at a sensible price. This year, more than ever, its deft blending of mid-size economies, plus room for a family, makes Chevelle a size whose time has come.
 Impala is one of America's most popular full-size cars. That's the result of giving America good value for the dollar. This year the Impala series includes the new value of the thrifty Impala S—Chevrolet's lowest priced full-size car.
 Of course there's much more Chevrolet value to be seen at the show and at your Chevrolet dealer's. Check out Caprice, Monza, Monte Carlo, Camaro and Corvette, Chevrolet wagons and trucks. Chevrolet has value for everyone in 1976.

Fleming Elected President

WASHINGTON, D.C.--Dr. Durwood Fleming, president of Southwestern University of Georgetown, Texas, has been elected president of the Association of Colleges and Universities for International-Intercultural Study (ACUIIS) at that organization's meeting here Oct. 3-4.

Dr. Fleming, former pastor of First United Methodist Church in Eastland, served as director and as chairman of the Development Committee of ACUIIS. He succeeds Dr. John Van Valkenburg of the University of Montevallo, Alabama, who has headed ACUIIS for the past four years.

He was featured speaker at the recent 100th Birthday Celebration at the local church.

"Dr. Fleming's election to the presidency is timely for ACUIIS," Van Valkenburg said. "As a University president, he not only bring a new level of leadership to our association, but he also brings a new level of optimism."

Van Valkenburg said that this year's meeting seemed to be filled with a new spirit of optimism with emphasis on the training and value of people. "I think we all received some new insights on what a liberal arts college can do in training citizens of the world," he said.

ACUIIS is a consortium of 36 colleges and universities which combine talent, ideas, and finances to sponsor such things as the Graz Center in Austria where courses in languages, arts, and international business are taught each year.

It also endorses traveling courses for both students and faculty into a number of foreign countries, and it encourages programs of an international nature on the campuses of its member colleges and universities.

Southwestern University at Georgetown has been prominent in the work of ACUIIS through the years, and five members of that school's faculty and administration were honored at the Washington meeting.

President Fleming, Dr. William B. Jones, Dr. Suk-soon Suh, and Dr. Robert L. Soulen were each honored for their contributions to ACUIIS at a special "Recognition Night" ceremony at the annual meeting.

And Dr. Regine Reynolds, a member of the recently formed Commission on Women's Participation in ACUIIS, had a part on the program in Washington. Dr. Reynolds has been chosen to teach a course at Graz next summer on the comparative status of women in a number of countries.

Dr. Fleming is in his 15th year as President of Southwestern, Texas' oldest chartered university.

During his tenure, Southwestern has added 10 endowed chairs to its faculty, has almost doubled the number of books in its library, has added a number of buildings to its 150 acre campus, and has continued to attain a high level of excellence in preparing students in such fields as medicine, law, religion, the theatre, business, teaching and music.

Prior to assuming his duties at Southwestern, Dr. Fleming was founding pastor of St. Luke's United Methodist church in Houston.

Just over $400 is owed on the new fire truck which is due in Eastland within the next two to three weeks.

Eastland area citizens have come through again for the Volunteers. And a special thanks is extended to everyone who contributed to the new truck. It will add a great deal to the community in protection.

When the truck has arrived, there will be an announcement as to when the truck will be on display for the public to view.

In The Kitchen

Everyone realizes that a woman's home is a reflection of herself. In your home, your family spends more time in the living and kitchen areas than anywhere else in the house. The woman spends more time in the kitchen than any other person in the house. You should make your kitchen the brightest, most cheerful room in your home.

Take good, long, objective look at your kitchen. Ask yourself how you can improve the appearance of this room. Not all of us can afford a massive remodeling and arrangement of a kitchen, but we can do a few simple, inexpensive things to change the looks of what we have.

If you have a large, bare wall in your kitchen, fill it with a conglomeration of small pictures, kitchen utensils, trivets, jello molds, etc. For this you can let your imagination unfold.

Fill your windows with pot plants. There are many varieties which are very inexpensive, or you can ask a friend for a start from one which they might have. The pots can be made from cans and old dishes you have around your kitchen. There are hundreds of ideas you can find in craft magazines for decorating things you normally throw away.

Buy a few colorful hand towels, a brightly colored tablecloth, or maybe a throw rug for the floor.

Refine your cabinets with a brightly colored shelf paper and tape a few of your most used recipes to the inside of your cabinet doors. They will be easy to find and they will always stay clean.

Begin a collection of things for your kitchen which are your "trademark". Maybe a particular design of a fruit, vegetable, plant, or animal that appears as a theme in your kitchen. Let your "trademark" begin with a new set of canisters or a cookie jar with a frog, mushroom, strawberry, or a flower design on it.

There are many more ideas you can use to brighten your kitchen and make this the most pleasant room in your house. All you have to do is let your imagination be a reflection of your personality.

UNTIL NEXT TIME

HEARING TESTS ARE IMPORTANT

If you have a hearing problem of any kind you owe it to yourself to have an Electronic Hearing test made to find why and what can be done to help you before it is too late. The tests are free and will only take about 20 minutes of your time. We check your ears for packed wax, the tubes that let your ears breathe, then with the machine we check your hearing nerve, (bone reading), air conduction, (outside sounds) then measure how much sound the ear will take. We can pinpoint your problems and explain in plain English what can be done to help you, then you make your own decision. We never try to high pressure you into buying anything. There are thousands of people today suffering from hard of hearingness, (even some that wear Hearing Aids) just because they waited too late to do something about it...don't let this happen to you.

Mr. Joe Treadway will hold his regular Hearing Aid Workshop at the City Hall in Gorman on Monday, October 20, from 1 p.m. til 3 p.m. We invite you to come in for your free test.

We do repair service on most makes of Aids, and have a full service on cleaning, tubes, batteries for your Aid, and can always JOE TREADWAY save you money.

We are licensed to the State of Texas to fit and Dispensing of Hearing - Aids. We are always close by when you need us. We are in the Stephenville Office. (Skipper Real Estate Bldg.) every Thursday, and in the Hamilton office every Friday to run special tests and assist you in every way.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Insurance made news again, as the State Insurance Board hiked rates for homeowners coverage effective February 16.

Board staffers a week earlier recommended an average 17 per cent increase statewide in auto insurance premiums.

The Board-approved homeowners' rates will increase at an average of 8.3 per cent, fire insurance rates on homes 7.9 per cent for single-year policies and 14 per cent on three-year policies.

Rates were far less than those requested by the insurance industry.

Homeowners policy rates and extended coverage (storms, hail, riots, accidents, etc), vary by territories.

Homeowners' rates for average residences would increase as follows:

- Seacoast, 7.6 per cent.
- Central, 7.6 per cent.
- North-Northwest, 12 per cent.

Rate on a $35,000 brick veneer home in Galveston will go up from $940 to $1,021 for a three-year homeowners policy. The same type home in Houston would see a rate increase from $814 to $886, in Austin from $654 to $714 and in Lubbock from $1,137 to $1,283.

Amount of the annual increase on the same home would be $17 in Galveston, $24 in Houston, $20 in Austin and $49 in Lubbock.

VRA Study On

The House Elections Committee began a "major study of effects of the recently-extended and expanded Voting Rights Act on Texas.

The Committee will try to gauge impact of the law on local governments and recommend legislation needed to help smaller governmental units comply with complex VRA requirements.

All governmental units, under VRA, must submit to the U.S. Department of Justice any changes in their election laws, procedures or voting precinct boundaries dating back to Nov. 1, 1972, and in the future.

Elections Committee Chairman Rep. Luther Jones of El Paso said many small cities and other units don't have resources or required data to make full submissions and will have serious difficulty complying with requirements without assistance.

Lands Leased

Oil and gas exploration firms bid cash bonus payments of more than $3.4 million on 91,000 acres of state land at a recent lease sale.

Most bidding activity was concentrated on state submerged tracts located in Texas bays. More than $2.1 million of the total was put up for leases on 55,383 acres in the bay tracts.

Inexo Oil Company bid more than $600,000 for 13 tracts, Monsanto $377,609 for 11 tracts, Houston Oil and Minerals Corp. $338,381 for 11 tracts and Exxon, $200,004 for 12 tracts.

Highest single bonus bid of $117,936 was made by Kilroy Company of Texas for a Gulf of Mexico tract in Jefferson County.

Courts Speak

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a murder conviction in a Rio Grande Valley case because of improper arguments by a prosecutor but didn't rule on a challenge of constitutionality of the death penalty law.

The State Supreme Court refused to interfere with a lower court order transferring a Houston utility rate controversy outside the company's service area.

Third Court of Civil Appeals told The University of Texas it owes a construction company $850,000 in a breach of contract suit.

The Supreme Court sent back to the trial court a Lubbock woman's suit for damages from an auto dealer she claimed misrepresented to her that the car she bought had never been wrecked.

Reversing a trial court, the Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld a Burnet County man in a dispute with his sister over 356.4 acres of land inherited from parents.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill said "short" (90-day) sessions of the legislature under the proposed new constitution cannot be confined to fiscal matters.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Alligators can be sold in Texas if privately owned before Aug. 17, 1973, or if raised in captivity under permits or federal law.

A city cannot, by ordinance, permit late drinking hours in private clubs but not in public places.

Names of research subjects in state mental science facilities do not have to be disclosed to legislators or the public.

Appointments

Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Ocie R. Jackson of Anahuac and Elvis L. Mason of Dallas to the Board of Regents of Lamar University for six-year terms. He reappointed Tolbert Thurman Crowder of Port Arthur.

Governor Briscoe appointed Franklin A. Jeffers of Amarillo and Robert Clyde Jones of San Antonio to the Texas Real Estate Commission for terms extending until October 5, 1981.

The Governor appointed nine members to the new Commission on Jail Standards.

U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen named Austin attorney Joe M. Kilgore as chairman of his Senate Re-election committee. Walter M. Mischer of Houston will be campaign treasurer.

Short Snorts

Dr. W. Philip Gramm, a conservative economics professor on leave from Texas A&M University, has entered the Democratic U.S. Senate primary, challenging Senator Bentsen for re-election.

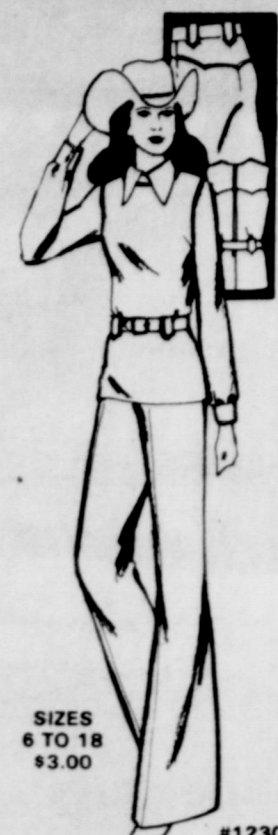

The Senate's impeachment trial of Judge O.P. Carrillo has been postponed again — until November 18.

A malpractice insurance company set up by the Texas Hospital Association has received approval of the Texas Insurance Commissioner.

Cigarette tax income to the state increased $4.5 million (to $22.3 million) from September 1974 to September 1975.

Eastland County--Where Peanut Is King

Peanut harvest is progressing at a rapid rate in Eastland County. County Agent De Gordon reports that harvest is about 50% complete compared to about 30% this same time last year. The weather has been excellent for harvest during the last four weeks.

The peanut crop got off to a bad start as a cold, wet spring delayed planting, Gordon explained. Wind blew out some stands and many farmers were forced to replant.

After the crop got started, the temperatures moved upward and the 1975 peanut crop began to look better daily. Timely rainfall kept the crop looking better and better. The prospects for a bumper crop increased daily. Suddenly the timely rainfall ceased in Eastland County and the dry land fields began showing drought stress. At this point dryland producers saw their excellent yields prospects decline daily.

Some communities in the county received local showers during August which kept their crops looking good.

Many producers are facing the decision of harvesting the immature peanuts and salvaging something or leaving the peanuts and hoping for enough.

As a result of these factors Gordon says the yields have ranged from unexpected good to predictably poor. Some growers say it's the best peanut crop they have ever made while others say it's even worse than last year's crop. Last year's crop was a poor one.

Producers are being advised to leave the crop in the field until the peanuts are mature if the conditions will allow further maturity. As a rule of thumb they should wait until at least 80% of the pods have turned dark inside the shell before harvesting. This will give maximum weights and grades.

Commissioners Adopt Budget

Non-respector inflation has hit Eastland County government and the Commissioners Court this week adopted a 1976 budget of $751,191.25, an increase of $73,718.32 over last year.

Judge Scott Bailey says the county's profile is to be one of "austerity", with some pluses and minuses on record.

A big plus will be the final payoff later this year of the 1965 warrants for major renovation of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals facilities, total cost of which amounts to some $60,000. After the final payment, the three-cent levy will be transferred to the road and bridge funds.

In a belt-tightening effort, the Court has suspended the office of county probation officer and each commissioner's precinct plans to reduce its labor force by one, through normal attrition.

Commissioners decided to decrease the county library's budget allotment from $50 per month to $25 per month, according to Eastland County Judge Scott Bailey.

A reduction from $75 to $50 per month was approved for the county's payment to the rural fire fighting fund.

Precincts with more roads and bridges will receive the larger shares of the money, he said.

Cliff Hallmark of Fort Worth spent last weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hallmark of Eastland.

Board Of Trustees Meet

An evaluation of how the "no fees" ruling will affect Eastland Public Schools was a major topic of discussion when the Board of Trustees met this week.

President James Reid presided Monday evening, and with all trustees present except Bill B. Hart and Gene Frost, the board discussed but took no formal action on the fee system and other matters, Supt. Ray Pruitt reports.

Apparently the fees, now paid by students, in the areas of typing, band, lab, etc., will amount to about $4,325, and it is assumed that the school will probably have to stand that expense based on the recent attorney general's ruling. However, it is indicated that the driver's education program, (local fees for which amount to $4,905) can be considered a fourth-quarter (summer) project and participants still be expected to pay that.

In other business the board heard a recommendation from a group calling itself Tennis in Eastland Tomorrow (TET) - which asks that the school join the city in a project to help develop four deluxe tennis courts, hopefully to be ready for spring play. The proposal calls for a $60,000 undertaken with half to be secured through the Board of Outdoor Recreation and the remainder to be shared by the city and the school. The board gave favorable attention but took no formal action.

Dr. Bob Mannus of the Educational Service Center in Abilene appeared, showed a film and explained the services available there.

The board briefly discussed the soil conservation project in which the high school hill landscaping and the water control will be renovated, but took no further action.

The school-wide self evaluation plan was discussed and will go into implementation soon, and it was decided to ask a Southern Association evaluation team in sometime in the spring.

Board members who attended the State meeting in San Antonio, gave reports on the meeting.

Meet Monday

Las Leales Club will meet at the Women's Clubhouse at 7:30 Monday night.

The program "Style Was-Style Is" will be given by Mrs. Dale Bakker and Mrs. Floyd Robertson. Mrs. Bert Herridge will review "The Disrobing of Flapper Jane" by Bruce Bliven. Mrs. Charles Marshall and Mrs. Mike Siebert will be hostesses.

A MATTER OF PEOPLE

When this nation struck its blow for independence nearly 200 years ago, the majority of those involved were in business. In their wisdom, they emphasized the needs and rights of people.

"We, the people," they said.

The name of the game is still people.

When the have-nots, the work-nots, or the know-nots begin their tirades against business, they usually have a lot of protest but few proposals.

For a nation to survive and for its people to have their rights and independence, there must be a system.

The system of this nation has been defined as capitalism, free enterprise, a free competitive market economy, and by some in uncomplimentary terms.

The system has worked and is working. It must survive.

A national magazine concluded an article on "Can Capitalism Survive?" by paraphrasing Winston Churchill's conclusion about democracy: "It is the worst system—except for all those other systems that have been tried and failed."

Your chamber of commerce supports the system we have. We hope you do, too. If you do, we will survive.
