A homeowner thinking of remodeling or modernizing his home this year might ask himself the question, "What have my windows done for me lately?"

If the answer is "Not much," perhaps the time has come to replace old-fashioned, hard to operate, drafty and heat-robbing windows with quality units. Besides providing views, natural light and ventilation, good windows are designed to conserve energy and limit maintenance.

That's why it's important to think about window design and function when planning a remodeling project. Be sure the windows you choose are better than the units being replaced. This is especially important at a time when conserving energy by reducing heat loss has become so critical.

One leading window manufacturer, Andersen Corporation of Bayport Minn., offers homeowners these tips when selecting and installing windows to get maximum sunlight, energy conservation, ventilation and low maintenance:

- Large glass areas should face south to take maximum advantage of natural light. To shield the glass from excessive heat gain in summer when the sun is high, use well designed roof overhangs or awnings. In winter when the sun is low, the heat gain through the glass helps warm the interior.

- In many homes, considerable heat loss may occur through and around ordinary windows and doors. Factory-engineered window units with factory-applied weatherstripping and double-pane insulating glass can do a great deal to reduce heat loss from both transmission and air infiltration. The result is lower fuel bills. Double-pane insulating glass, available in all Andersen Perma-Shield windows and gliding doors, also reduces maintenance. Wood core sash and frames of Perma-Shield units are encased in tough, rigid vinyl for long life and low upkeep.

- Place operating windows where they are most likely to pick up prevailing wind currents for good ventilation. Casement windows, for example, are excellent for capturing breezes because they open out wide to provide top-to-bottom ventilation. A good way to achieve a balance of visibility and ventilation in a room is to use casements to flank maximum-visibility, fixed-glass picture windows.

- The correct sill height for windows depends on nothing more complicated than determining whether people in the room will be seated or standing most of the time. In a living room or dining room where people most often will be seated, the sill should be low in the wall for good visibility and ventilation. Windows in the kitchen on the other hand, should be positioned so a homemaker can look outdoors while working.

- Pick window styles to suit the room. Casement windows go with kitchens, especially over the sink, because they are easy to reach and open and they provide optimum ventilation to dispel cooking odors.

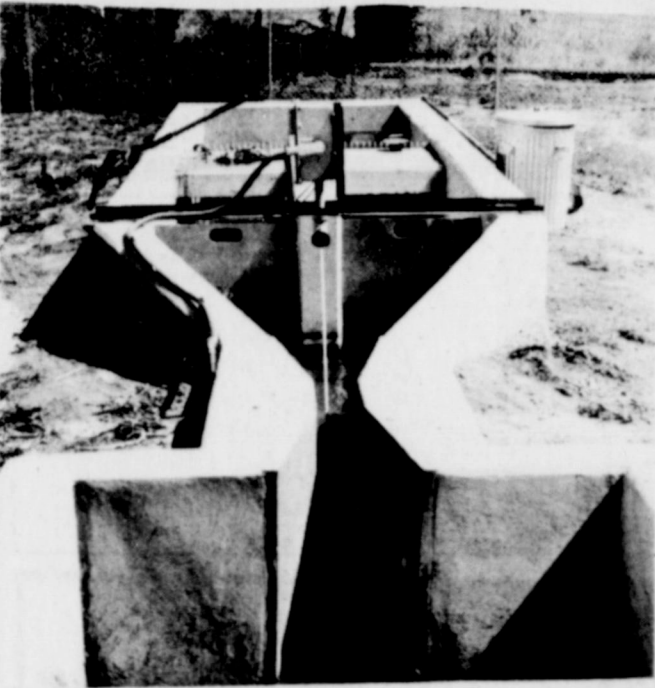

- Windows should also be selected on the basis of conserving the energy of the homemaker. The long-lasting vinyl sheath in Perma-Shield units is designed for minimal maintenance. With double-pane insulating glass, cleaning time is cut in half since there are only two glass surfaces to wash instead of four with ordinary windows and storm sash.

- Installed windows, like all construction, should meet or be in accordance with local building codes.

Advance Tickets Sold For Jaycee Carnival

Eastland Jaycees are at work again with preparations for another project which will provide loads of fun for everyone in Eastland and Eastland County.

Jaycees have scheduled Tam Lyn Carnival Productions for a week long stay in Eastland on the dates of August 6-10.

The carnival will feature some ten rides along with a large amount of side attractions with something to provide fun for everyone.

Along with the rides and attractions which the carnival company will have, the Jaycees will sponsor Bringo, Nickle Roll, Coke Bottle Ring Toss, and a dunking board action, which the Jaycees hope will provide some revenue to be put back into other civic projects which they will have.

Advance tickets for carnival attractions are available now for $1.00 per ticket. These tickets will have four stubs which will enable the purchaser to ride each ride for only 25¢ per ride, whereas if the person bought tickets at the gate, each ticket would cost $2.00 or 50¢ a ride. Advance tickets may be bought at the following Eastland merchants: KERC Radio, Eastland Telegram, Baird's TV and Radio Shack, Mode-O-Day, Holland's Drive Inn, Harelik's and other merchants where ticket signs are displayed in store windows and also from any of the Jaycees.

Tickets will also be available from merchants in Ranger and Cisco where signs are displayed.

Texas Adopts Staggered Motor Vehicle Registration

AUSTIN - "There must be a better way!"

Surely that thought must have crossed the mind of every Texas motorist forced to stand in line at motor vehicle registration time.

Well, now there is a better way. At least, beginning January 1, 1978, there will be. If all goes according to plan, the traditional long waiting lines prior to the registration deadline (April 1) will be a thing of the past.

As if to complement the "multi-year" license plate adopted this year, Governor Dolph Briscoe recently signed House Bill 1924 providing for a year-round motor vehicle registration system in Texas. The bill was authored by State Representative Bob Simpson of Amarillo, and passed by both house of the 64th Legislature.

Under the new licensing system, there will be 12 registration deadlines, instead of one. No longer will Texas motorists be forced to register within a 60-day period. Depending on the date assigned each motorist, vehicle registration will occur during every month of the year, similar to the safety auto inspection.

According to Bob Townsley, Director of the state's Motor Vehicle Division, "Eighteen states now follow this 'staggered' system of motor vehicle registration and have proven it success full."

"Not only will it relieve some of the pressure on motorists," said Townsley, "but it will also relieve the all-too-familiar burden placed on the county tax assessor-collectors."

He added, "By effectively distributing the registration workload evenly throughout the year, county tax offices will be able to conduct other phases of their work, such as voter registration and preparation of property tax rolls, without interruption."

For all practical purposes, April 1, 1978 will be almost everyone's vehicle registration renewal deadline -- for the last time. Renewal notices will inform motorists as to their renewal date thereafter. Fees will be calculated on a prorata basis to that date.

Upon registration, motorist will be issued two license plate stickers -- one for the year and one for the month of the subsequent renewal. Once a vehicle is assigned to a particular expiration date, it will remain on that annual renewal cycle thereafter. The month sticker first issued for a vehicle will remain on the license plate, and new month stickers will not be issued each year.

In making the transition to the new system, some vehicle owners will pay for more than 12 months of registration while others will have to renew twice within the first year.

County Home Demonstration Club Heads 4-County Camp

Eastland County Home Demonstration Club members and Home Demonstration Agents journeyed to Comanche Thursday, July 24, for the annual 4-County Camp or recreation day, joining ladies from Mills, Comanche and Brown Counties. The all-day activities began with registration and a coffee, followed by a recreation period lead by Eastland County ladies. Three young ladies from the First Baptist Church of the host city presented an enjoyable puppet show. John Waggoner of Brownwood, who had just returned from a trip to Washington D.C., sponsored by Bob Hope on behalf of the Bicentennial, gave a very good word picture of experiences and impressions of his, and his parents, meeting with President Ford and of their tour of the Capitol. He then read the short and meaningful essay on "Hope" that won the trip for him and his family.

Mills County led a sing song and Eastland and Brown County clubs were responsible for a craft demonstration. Jack White of Cisco gave a demonstration on bottle-cutting, at which he is quite adept.

After a sack lunch, Brown County gave a skit on mattress making an soap making as done in "olden" times, and Comanche and Mills County ladies demonstrated a craft for each county.

The guest speaker of the day was Mrs. Leta Andrews, Physical Education Teacher and Basketball Coach from Comanche, who spoke on the importance of regular exercise for the older women as well as the younger. She urged a positive attitude of living and enjoying each day to its fullest.

by keeping as physically and mentally alert as possible. She demonstrated some simple exercises that promise sore muscles for any of us who dare try them.

A refreshment period was followed by the business meeting, which time the meetin for 1976 was set for Mills County and officers elected to plan the meeting. The pleasant day was ended with a gift exchange and each lady received a decorated dress hanger as a door prize for the Comanche County Clubs.

Attending from the Word Club were Mmes. H.H. Harrelson, and J.E. Stansell and from Lake Cisco Club, Mmes. Ray Judia, Earl Steel, C.H. Stephens, Sue Taylor, Arlin Bint, Jack White and Mr. Jack White, who took a car and presented a demonstration.

Concerned Citizens Slate July 13 Meet

The most important meeting of 1975 for the Concerned Citizens of Texas is scheduled for Thursday night, July 31 at 8 p.m. in the Community Room of the First State Bank in Rising Star.

It is most vital that all members and friends attend. The agenda includes: election of officers, establishment of charter and by-laws, setting of all official policy for the coming year, facts on the Federal government's push for control off ALL our children ages 0 - 15 years, and investigation of the proposed Texas constitution.

If you truly love your county and family, do not miss this opportunity to learn how godless forces are working behind the scenes to TAKE your children via the Child and Family Services Act of 1975 and others. This is REAL and it is NOW. It sounds like a nightmare, but YOU can lose YOUR CHILDREN to complete Federal control if you sit there and let it happen!

Bring a friend or two and enjoy coffee and cookies with others who really care and are learning what to do. It is an open meeting.

The Now Washbasket
By Bobbie Hill

The preparation of clothing before laundering can be as important as the washing process itself to the garments' longevity. Mend rips and tears before washing. Many homemakers keep a sewing kit in the laundry area for quick repairs.

Snagged synthetics can be repaired by pulling the area around the thread so the snag relaxes or by pulling the snag through to the inside, holding the thread with a tweezer, then exposing it to a match until it melts to form a small bead.

Close zippers and hooks, or they will snag other items in the wash. However, if a garment snaps or buttons, leave the closures undone to prevent wear on the fabric.

And always check pockets for tissues, crayons, lipstick, chewing gum, ink pens, match books and other things that can get into the wash and do lots of damage.

MIDLAND - Major E.K. Browning, Jr., Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety's 49 County West Texas Region, announced today that an intensive effort is being made to recruit men and women for a school to begin at the Department's Academy in Austin, October 28, 1975.

Major Browning said the Department has been successful in recruiting persons from minority groups to the position of Patrolman. Efforts to recruit from these groups are continuing for this school.

All persons making application for the position of Patrolman must be between 20 and 35 years of age, weight proportionate to height, and visual acuity no worse than 20 - 40 correctable to 20 - 20. A person must be of good moral character, excellent physical condition and must have a minimum of 60 semesters hours of college credit.

Persons selected as recruits will be assigned to Austin for an 18 - week training school beginning October 28, 1975, at the Homer Garrison, Jr. Law Enforcement Academy. Successful graduates will be assigned to either the Highway Patrol Service, License and Weight Service, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, or the Drive License Service, according to the needs of the DPS and consideration of personal preference.

The salary during training will be $768 per month. Room and board while at the Academy will be approximately $60 per month.

When a person is commissioned as a Patrolman, his salary will increase to $876 per month. Patrolman also receive longevity pay after one year of service, a monthly uniform cleaning allowance and travel expenses when away from their home stations.

Recruits must furnish their own uniforms which consist of khaki shirts and pants, black shoes, belt and tie. When commissioned as a Patrolman, uniforms, vehicles, weapons, ammunition and related equipment are furnished.

Group life and hospitalization are paid for the employee, and dependent coverage is available at reasonable rates. Patrolmen participate in the Employees Retirement System of Texas, as well as Social Security. Vacation, holidays and sick leave are provided.

Browning said interested men and women should contact any DPS office or Patrolman for an application. After completing the application, it should be presented to the DPS office either in Midland, Abilene, San Angelo or El Paso for the examinations.

Browning urged persons interested in attending the October 28th school to contact the Department immediately.

Here's a daily double bound to be a crowd pleaser...the Two Tiered Pizza. Why does pizza appeal to so many of us? Our favorite foods generally look, smell and, of course, taste good. Pizza fills these requirements. It's crusty and eye-appealing; satisfying because of the meat and cheese toppings; good smelling with the zing of spicy tomato sauce, onions and peppers.

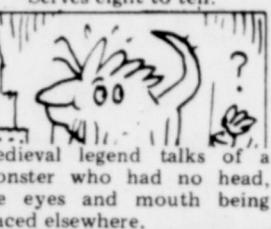

Aha, we like pizzas, but are they good for us? Dr. Paul Lachance, noted nutritionist from Rutgers, believes they are. He says, "they're a good meal to balance nutritionally," and suggests that a pizza menu include milk, a salad or some fruit.

We've made this particular pizza doubly appealing with Chef Boy-ar-dee cheese pizza mix which provides enough dough for 2 crisp pizza layers. The layers are filled and topped with a rich frank mixture and tangy grated cheese. Serve it with a tossed green salad, plus plenty of cold milk, and you've got a winner.

DOUBLE DECKER SUPPER PIZZA

- 1 package (1 lb. 12 7/8 oz.) Chef Boy-ar-dee
- 2 Complete Cheese Pizzas
- 1 lb. franks, chopped
- 1 1/2 cups sliced onion rings
- 1 1/2 cups green pepper, chopped
- 2 tablespoons cooking oil

Prepare pizza according to package directions except do not add cheese. Bake each pizza 15 minutes. Sauté franks, onions and peppers in cooking oil. Remove pizzas from oven; top with half of frank mixture and half of canned grated cheese. Remove other pizza from cookie sheet and place on top of garnished pizza. Add remaining frank mixture; top with cheese. Return to oven and bake 8 to 10 minutes. Cut in squares. Serves eight to ten.

Medieval legend talks of a monster who had no head, the eyes and mouth being placed elsewhere.

Another Fine Texas Recipe

MELON MELANGE

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/3 cup orange liqueur
- Watermelon
- Cantaloup
- Honeydew

Combine and bring to boil sugar and water. Remove from heat and add liqueur. Prepare melon balls or diced melon from watermelon, cantaloup and honeydew. Just before serving, pile melon balls in large serving bowl and pour liqueur-flavored syrup over fruit. Yield: 8-10 servings.

If you're from Texas, boast about the little things too.

Everyone knows that things in Texas are "bigger and better" than anywhere else. But has anyone ever heard a Texan boast about something smaller? We mean natural gas rates.

Right now in Lone Star's service area, our customers are paying one of the lowest general service rates for natural gas anywhere. And in these inflationary times, that's something to boast about.

Of course we're lucky to be living in the Southwest, where the majority of natural gas reserves are located. And that's one of the reasons for our dependable service and adequate supplies. So you wonder, "If natural gas is so accessible to us, why are gas rates going up?"

It's simply costing much more to obtain natural gas these days. Higher prices for deeper drilling. Higher prices for the transportation of gas. And stiffer competition for new supplies.

Natural gas is a premium fuel, but it hasn't always been priced at its real value. Lower prices in the past are one of the reasons that demand for natural gas has exceeded available supplies. Some years ago it became unprofitable to drill for natural gas, so many producers were forced to reduce their investments in exploration. But now that natural gas is almost priced competitively with other energy sources, exploration has begun to increase.

In order to assure our customers of an adequate supply to meet their needs, higher natural gas rates are inevitable. It's simply going to cost more than it has in the past. But it's worth it, because natural gas is one of the most efficient, non-polluting fuels available. And that's one of the big things in Texas we like to boast about.

Do You Remember

BY HERMAN DEMPSEY

In the government's attempts to reduce the unemployed population of the country, they had a survey made throughout to determine what employers were doing to hold down their employment of a workers. The survey revealed some employers were working their good men twelve hours per day, seven days per week. Some worked twelve hours per day, six days per week while some were working ten hours per day seven days per week.

The government people got together and decided that if the hours of work per day and per week could be cut down, many more workers could be employed and would provide some relief in the unemployment. They drew up a plan that would restrict an employer from working men more than a certain number in a given period of time. The plan was passed into law and made effective August 21, 1933. This law required that an employee could not be worked more than two hundred forty hours in a six week time. The law was called the wage and hour law and was later amended to allow workers to work only forty hours per week except in cases of emergencies. This action did in fact create more jobs but the employer had to go up on the price of his product to offset the additional cost.

By Janet Thomas County
Home Demonstration Agent

A delightful four-county Home Demonstration Camp was held this week in Comanche. Twenty-two ladies from our county attended the meeting.

Appearing on the program were Mrs. Zelma Lusk of Eastland. Mrs. Lusk led the opening recreation. Mr. Jack White of Cisco presented a demonstration on bottle cutting and how to stain the bottles for decorative accessories in the home.

The program also included a puppet show by the Comanche First Baptist Church youth. An inspiring talk and demonstration on physical fitness for women was given by Mrs. Leta Andrews, Comanche High School physical education instructor. John Waggoner presented his first place essay on America's Bicentennial on its meaning to him. As first place winner in the Bob Hope Contest, he was awarded a trip to Washington and met President Ford.

Attending from Eastland were Mrs. Zelma Lusk, Mrs. M.E. Graves, Mrs. C.T. Brockman, and Mrs. Guy Sherrill. Ladies from Ranger included Mrs. Ralph Roberts, Mrs. Jettie Green, and Mrs. Jewell Herweck. Attending from Cisco were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack White, Mrs. Arlin Birt, Mrs. Sue Taylor, Mrs. Ray Judia, Mrs. Herman Harrelson, Mrs. J.E. Stansell, Mrs. Earl Steele and Mrs. Mary Stephens. Attending from Morton Valley were Mrs. Jack Leach, Mrs. Alvin Kincaid, Mrs. Bernice Tankersley and Mrs. H.E. Hartsell. Also accompanying the group were Mrs. Janet Thomas and Mrs. Arleen Atkins, local Extension Agents.

Beautiful arrangements can be made from dried plant material to use as accessories in the home.

Flowers are dried in one of two ways: either by hanging heads down in a dark, dry closet or attic, or by covering the blossoms with a corn meal and borax mixture in a large, tightly closed box.

Consider the simplest method first: hanging the flowers heads' down in attic or closed. The Society of American Florists presents a list of blooms that will respond beautifully to this simple drying method.

Here are some of the best flowers for drying: baby's breath, blue and red salvia, cockscomb, statice, yarrow, pansy, hydrangea, corn flowers, heather, glob thistle, pussy willow, straw flowers, stock, golden rod, sunac and pearly everlasting. Remember to ask your florist for freshly cut blossoms that are at their very peak. You will need twice the number of flowers used in a normal, fresh bouquet because of shrinkage during drying.

For the Straight Stems you want, tie the flowers into bunches near the stem ends and string upside down on lines hung at a height convenient for you to reach. Let flowers dry for three or four weeks.

Total darkness and lack of dampness are essential during the drying period if you want truly colorful blooms for your dry arrangements. Once flowers and leaves are dry and colors have "set" they are permanent indeed. They will not fade, even if you display arrangements in sunny locations. And given normal, gentle care, bouquets will last two or more years.

Now to the second and more exacting flower-drying method: the use of corn meal and borax. An entirely different selection of flowers responds beautifully to this treatment, the Society of American Florists points out. Their listing is impressive in that it represents a generally more sophisticated grouping of flowers.

These include the zinnia, marigold, rose, hollyhock, peony, dahlia, delphinium, larkspur, carnation, clematis, black eyed susan, feverfew and Queen Anne's lace. With the exception of the hollyhock, and the wild and lovely Queen Anne's lace, each of these blossoms also may be found in abundance at the florist shop.

First, cut off flower stems, and strip all foliage from the flower head. Next, insert a six-inch length of number 20 florist's wire through the center of the head. Depending upon the thickness of the individual blossom bend an eight or a quarter-inch of the wire tip backwards, then pull, letting this "hook" catch hold firmly in the flower head. The hook has now vanished and the remaining wire is the flower stem.

Next, place the wired flower heads flat and face up in a deep box filled with a one-inch layer of the following formula: five parts corn meal to one part borax. If you wish to simplify the project by one step, purchase silica gel from your florist. This preservative works just as well as the more homespun corn meal and borax mixture.

The powdered preservative is gently dribbled over the flowers so that their shape is not damaged. Be certain that each blossom is completely covered. The tightly closed box is placed in a dry, warm, dark place. Drying time is about three weeks. Colors will fade if left any longer.

When dry, very gently remove formula with a soft brush. Wind a number 18 floral wire to the number 20 wire to strengthen the stem. Then cover all wire with green florists' tape. Remember that in using this method, also, you will need twice as many dried flowers as fresh ones for your arrangement because of shrinkage.

Now, to arrange your colorful bouquet, first place floral clay in center bottom of vase or low bowl. Set a needle holder. Then secure the stems in the foam. Dried leaves may be added.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible
Then God said, "Let there be bright lights in the sky to give light to the earth and to identify the day and the night; they shall bring about the seasons on the earth, and mark the days and years." And so it was. For God made two huge lights, the sun and moon, to shine down upon the earth — the larger one, the sun, to preside over the day and the smaller one, the moon, to preside through the night; he also made the stars. And God set them in the sky to light the earth, and to preside over the day and night, and to divide the light from the darkness. And God was pleased. This all happened on the fourth day.

Mrs. Basham Vacations In Old Mexico

Basham Beauty Bar has been closed for vacation for one week. Mrs. Basham has just returned from a trip to Guadalajara and Puerto Vallarta, Mexico.

She was in Guadalajara for three days and took all the tours possible. Mrs. Basham said the beautiful flowers and trees were so much like the tropical jungles in Hawaii. What impressed her most was that all the houses and buildings are painted white. That is a state or country law, and the streets are cobble stone and swept clean all day long. Even the parks are kept so clean.

Mrs. Basham enjoyed the beautiful paintings of Orozco, world famous artist. She watched the manufacture of hand blown glass, and visited pottery factories. Everywhere you turned there were statues and beautiful fountains. There were more roses than she had ever seen before. She was given a small pottery vase with a rose on our arrival to Guadalajara.

When enjoying the hundreds of beautiful fountains, she thought of the saying "Water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink".

Turning Trash Into Cash

Garbage, or litter, in the form of aluminum beverage containers, may be a better deal than you think. Last year, in fact, 68 million pounds of aluminum "garbage" were collected by recyclers and sold to aluminum industry reclamation centers.

While many Americans collect cans and recycle to improve the environment and conserve precious natural resources, and energy, most recycle for profit: aluminum cans now are worth about 15 cents a pound. The nearly 1.6 billion cans returned to collection centers last year were worth about $7 million. The aluminum can recycling program began in Los Angeles in 1968. Now the multi-million dollar industry is in 43 states and boasts about 1200 centers.

Nearly 3 million home canning lids roll off Ball Corporation's production lines in Muncie, Ind., each day of the week. Here they are packaged in dozens for shipment daily to distributors in all parts of the United States.

Ball Corporation Manufacture On "Around-The-Clock" Basis

MUNCIE, INDIANA--Ball Corporation, one of the nation's leading producers of home food preservation supplies, said it is continuing to manufacture replacement lids for home canning on an around-the-clock basis, seven days a week.

Despite this production schedule, in effect since Jan. 2, the company is not able to meet the continuing unprecedented nationwide demand for its products, Ball President John W. Fisher said.

"We produce an astounding three million replacement caps and lids daily," Fisher said, "or over 20 million lids each week." All productive capacity is being utilized fully during every moment of time available, he said.

The surge in home canning, which began in 1973, rose sharply in 1974 and reached even higher levels in the first half of 1975. Most of this demand has been fueled by inflation and the overwhelming response of millions of American families to suggestions that they plant new gardens to help relieve inflationary pressures on their income. "This is a reflection of the immense demand generated by the American economy as people respond to a recognized need", Fisher said.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates there were 20 million home gardens in 1973. This rose to 26 million in 1974 and then jumped to 32.5 million in 1975.

Ball Corporation, in the home canning business since 1884, longer than any other company in the world, said its production statistics indicated that during times of economic stress, such as wars, depressions, inflation and recessions, Americans have traditionally turned to home canning as a means of easing part of the cost-of-living problem.

Federal government officials estimate that 1.6 billion replacement caps and lids will be produced by the industry in 1975. Ball Corporation believes this to be a realistic and achievable goal. The company's market surveys indicate some 23 to 24 million households, or 35% of the nation's 65 million households, do some home canning. If this figure is correct this will mean approximately 70 lids for each home canning family in the country.

Ball Corporation does not sell its home canning products directly to the end-user. The company markets its products in its traditional manner to wholesale grocers, chain store warehouses, and hardware distributors which, in turn, ship directly to retail outlets. The actual sale of the product and its distribution to individual retail stores and to the ultimate user is, therefore, not under Ball's control.

"Purchase of lids at the retail level and resale at higher prices--what is normally called black marketing--is beyond our control but is totally deplorable at any time but especially during times of severe national shortages", Fisher added. "Consumers are the best check against this practice. Refusal to buy at anything other than a reasonable market price will drive the black marketeers back under their rocks", he said.

Ball placed orders for additional lid-making machinery in 1974 when it realized the substantial demand was likely to continue. Approximately 18 months are required to engineer, build and install the equipment needed to complete the complex, highly-automated lid-manufacturing line, which should be operating by year end.

The present home canning equipment supply station, Fisher said, can be traced to events beginning in 1973. As inflation pressures built, Ball's market information indicated heavy sales of garden seed and projected many new gardens and more new home canners. The company built its inventories in anticipation of a good home canning year. Demand rose sharply in July 1973 at the same time a shortage developed in supplies of tinplate for lids and soda ash for glass fabrication. Wholesales were up in 1973, there were, nevertheless, shortages of glass and lids.

With these shortages fresh in mind, the consumers in 1974 were acutely aware of their food preservation needs. Ball's sales vastly exceeded any other winter quarter in the company's history as the consumers demanded supplies early. There was a general shortage of both glass and lids during the remainder of the year.

At the beginning of 1975, consumers again bought earlier and additionally in response to the urging of the President and other governmental officials to plant gardens. Ball's sales of home canning products alone in the first quarters (January, February, and March) of the last three years have been $166,000 in 1973; $5.75 million in 1974; and more than $13 million in 1975.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

MONTY HOWARD

Many things seem wrong these days. More and more people complain that we have accepted, or at least tolerate conditions and situations which people in previous generations would never permit. Complaints are heard about personal pleasures - wild pleasures in human behavior. Intellectual arrogance is seen in some politicians and public officials who in some areas seek votes through promises known to be morally and spiritually wrong. Unreasonable zealots are seen intimidating authorities. Lunatic violence. Judicial processes and courts boldly rebuffed. And to these complaints you can add your own to an endless list.

Good intentioned people are bewildered by the dilemma of moral values turned topsy-turvy. What can be done about it? For one thing it certainly is not helpful to condemn everything and everybody. And we certainly don't need "new" concepts for correction of our faults. It should be obvious we need more adherence to the old rules; obedience to the 10 commandments. We need faith in religious reliance and an alliance with God...

EDDIE SABO, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sabo of Cisco, is seen in the LIFE OF CHRIST PAGEANT as the Child Jesus in the carpenter shop and in the crowd scenes. To Eddie we say, "We are glad to have you as a member of our Pageant cast."

And Jesus, talking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brethren casting a net into the sea, and He saith unto them, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." GEORGE MOORE of Eastland is one of these fishers of men, as a disciple in the LIFE OF CHRIST PAGEANT. Another of George's parts, since he is employed by the Eastland and Abilene Auction Companies, is helping with the camel, two donkeys, and the sheep used in the presentation. George is one of the most faithful members of the Easter Pageant and says it is indeed an honor to be a member of the summer productions cast.

The Pros And Cons Of Stop Signs

To "Stop" sign, or not to "Stop" sign.

That's often the question in many places and a frequent one in Eastland.

Many of Eastland's intersections are unmarked and some which are, are considered by some to be inadequate.

The following is a discussion on the placement of "Stop" signs by Jack W. Loggins, Traffic Safety Coordinator for the City of Arlington, which appeared in a recent Texas Traffic Safety Bulletin, under the title "Signs Not Always An Answer".

Is it a good practice to put stop signs at all intersections? Some cities install stop signs at each intersection as soon as the intersection construction has finished. Others install stop signs, whenever a telephone call from a citizen states that "a stop sign is needed at the intersection of 'Deer Path' and 'Rose Trail' or someone is going to get killed".

The public is generally uninformed as to the purpose of stop signs. Common misconceptions are:

1. Stop signs should be installed to reduce speeds.
2. Stop signs eliminate all accidents.
3. Stop signs are cheap.
4. Stop signs correct a blind corner.
5. Stop signs cannot hurt anything, so why not install one anyway. However, the public, when informed in a nice letter or conversation, can realize and do, in many cases, agree that other traffic safety remedial measures will work better at the intersection.

The Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices states that a stop sign may be warranted at "other intersections where a combination of high speed, restricted view, and serious accident record indicates a need for control by the stop sign." Low speed residential "4 legged" intersections and "T" intersections do not normally fall in this category.

Sometimes unwarranted stop signs are installed because of a blind corner. If a blind corner exists, 85% of the property owners will clear the corner if they are asked to do so and told why. A blind corner ordinance can be written for the other 15%.

Disadvantages:

1. Increase speed on street that is given the right-of-way.
2. Increase the severity of accidents.
3. Increase the possibility of injuries whenever accidents occur.
4. Increase fuel consumption and vehicle maintenance by the motorists.
5. Unwarranted stop signs breed disrespect of warranted stop signs.
6. Unwarranted stop signs waste our natural resources of aluminum, steel, plastics, etc.
7. Expense as a result of initial expense as well as maintenance.
8. Increase sign clutter (pollution) in our beautiful residential areas.

In past years many unwarranted stop signs were installed within the City of Arlington. An estimated $5,000 annually is lost for replacing and maintaining these signs. In addition, approximately 250 vehicles stop at each sign daily. Using 5c as the cost per stop to the motorists, $12,500 annually is absorbed by the motoring public.

Whenever an unwarranted stop sign needs replacing, replace it with a yield sign in order to conserve the motorist's fuels. If possible, the complete removal of the sign would be desirable. However, once a traffic control device is installed it becomes a political battle to remove it.

In order to eliminate many of these problems in the new areas of the city, the City of Arlington basically requires 650 vehicles entering the intersection daily or an accident record of at least one accident per year before installing stop signs. Other traffic controls, pedestrian flows, blind corners and traffic routing are also considered. When politics force an issue, yield signs are usually installed in lieu of stop signs at non-warranted locations.

Remember, defensive driving is the best way to reduce accidents and the severity of accidents. The installation of a stop sign turns one driver into an offensive driver and half the battle is lost. The motoring public knows when an intersection has control or not and if he does not, he drives more cautiously. If we do not control the installation of stop signs, disrespect will grow and grow until a stop sign will function as a yield. Maybe, the sign of the future is "Whoa".
