Grand Jurors Open Study Of Lindy, Jr. Case

FLEMINGTON, N. J. (AP)—The Hudson county grand jury was sworn in Tuesday, and began an investigation of the Lindbergh baby kidnapping. Attorney General William H. Stevens announced he would give the jurors all the information now available. The police of several states are watching for a woman in a green automobile who yesterday offered a bakery proprietress at Greenwich, Connecticut, a $20 bill recognized by the number as part of the $50,000 ransom paid without the recovery of the baby. The woman unatched the bill and fled when spotted.

EDITOR OUSTED; STUDENTS THREATEN STRIKE

This mass meeting on the steps of the Columbia university library was called to urge a student strike in protest against the expulsion of Reed Harris (above), editor of the Spectator, student publication. Reed was ousted because he failed to prove the truth of editorial statements attacking athletics and other school activities to the satisfaction of school authorities.

Glasscock To Get New Road From Sterling

State To Build No. 9 From Big Spring To Sterling County... Last obstacle in the way of permanent improvement of state highway 9 from Sterling county to Big Spring was cleared Monday at Garden City when the Glasscock county commissioners court voted to carry out its part of an agreement suggested by Chairman W. R. Ely of the state highway commission. Terms of the agreement will open the way for designation of the proposed Butterfield road route across Sterling and Glasscock counties.

Manless Wedding Attracts Large Crowd To Meet

About 75 persons came to see the hilarious manless wedding which the members of the Wesleyan Methodist W. M. S. gave Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Jack King. It was said to be one of the noisiest and most successful weddings from a sociable point of view of any of the season. The following took part: Mrs. Jack King, the bride; Mrs. Johnnie Drake, the groom; Miss Mamie Burleson, the father; Mrs. Albert Hartman, the preacher; Mrs. W. B. Boyd, the best man; Mrs. Geo. Hall, the bridesmaid; Mrs. Joe Willis, the maid of honor; Mrs. Grace Wilkes, the rejected aunt; Mrs. Sam Nabors, the mother; Mrs. D. C. Wilkes, the aunt; Mrs. Shelby Hall, the pitiful old maid and Miss Pauline King, the crying baby.

Workers Sell 22 Of School Warrant Issue

$2,200 Of $25,000 Taken; Teachers Pay Not In Prospect... Big Spring school teachers prospects of receiving pay for teaching in March, April and May did not appear so bright at noon Tuesday after part of the workers had reported to headquarters of their success in selling 100 warrants of an issue of $25,000 being offered by the Big Spring school district to raise funds to meet the payroll for the three months. Total sales reported to noon was $2,200. R. C. Coffey held the list with purchase of ten $100 warrants. Other purchasers during the morning were The Big Spring Herald, R. L. Price, E. J. Mary, Wm. B. Currie, Ralph Linck, G. B. Foster, Woodward and Coffee, Fred Keating, J. B. Collins, Log Acuff, C. W. Cunningham.

Allotment For Howard County Over-Passes On Highway 1 Made By State Highway Commission

An order allotting half the cost of constructing two over-passes on Highway 1 over the Texas & Pacific Railway company's line in Howard county was entered Monday at Austin by the state highway commission. The allotment is conditioned upon agreement of the railroad company to pay one-half of the cost of the structures within the limits of its right-of-way. Estimated cost is $90,450. One of the over-passes would be located four miles west of Big Spring and the other east of Comptche, at Rattlesnake Gap. The Monday order is in line with an agreement recently made between Judge W. R. Ely, chairman of the commission, and representatives of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and the Howard county commissioners' court. Judge Ely offered to build the over-passes provided the county furnished the sites without cost to the state, and the railroad company agreed to pay half of the construction cost.

Eruptions Of Volcanoes In Chile Subside

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Volcanic eruptions terrorizing the mountain villages for two days are apparently subsiding, as dust has ceased to fall here, and is not falling at many mountain towns for the first time since Sunday. (By The Associated Press) SANTIAGO, Chile — The central Cordillera of the Andes snapped into terrifying activity Monday and set her several volcanoes to belching fire and ashes in a darkening mantle over panic-stricken cities. The drift of the fine gray powder even enveloped Buenos Aires, Argentina, 500 miles eastward, and ashes were falling in Montevideo, Uruguay, 100 miles further east. Authorities had reports of activities of three smaller cones to the south — Quisapu, Descazadero and Maulino, in Talca province, and said others among the score of active cones in the central Cordillera probably were spitting out their quotas of ashes and flashes of fire. A strip of Chile 400 miles long from Concepcion on the south, to Aconcagua province on the north was affected in various degrees, as was a corresponding strip across the entire continent. The prevailing west wind picked up the fine ash rain and whirled it eastward. Several earthquakes were recorded throughout the southern tip of the continent, although none of destroying intensity had occurred. The greatest panic probably was felt in the province of Talca, Chile where Quisapu rained her ashes in increasing thickness. The several eruptions darkened Curico to pitch blackness. Passengers by needed umbrellas to protect their eyes. Schools were closed to stem the panic and avert disaster in case of severe temblors. The town of Molina was in a panic on account of the terrific but non-destructive land shocks that accompanied the ashes.

Stevens Asked To Resign By Local Legion

More than 200 members of the Big Spring post of the American Legion Monday evening adopted resolutions condemning National Commander Henry L. Stevens, Jr., for his opposition to cash payment of the bonus at this time. The resolutions requested Stevens' resignation, declaring that the post considered his stands a deliberate betrayal of his comrades, its oath and loyalty to the American Legion. The post also requested V. Earl Earp, state commander, to bring the matter to attention of the national executive committee, which will be in session April 15 at national headquarters in Indianapolis. A special committee was named to send a telegraphic message to Commander Stevens expressing the post's position. He was asked to resign unless he could "give the Legion his full support at this time."

Public Urged To See Cancer Films

The public is urged to attend a motion picture program in the Crystal ballroom of the Settles hotel Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock when several reels showing the advances made toward control of cancer, and the nature of the disease will be given under local auspices of the Medical Society. Preceding the picture program a dinner will be held by members of the medical society of Howard, Midland, Martin and Ector counties. Dentists and nurses are invited to take part in the banquet. No invited guests have been named. Miss Nell Hatch is able to be her post at Texas Electric company after a few days' illness.

Political Banquet To Be Given By Women Of 1st Methodist Church

The women of the Methodist Church are giving a Political Banquet Friday, April 22, in the Albert Fisher building, between First and Second streets on Main. All the candidates of the district, as well as some of the Congressmen at large aspirants, will be invited. A letter has been received from Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner, of Claude, who is candidate for congresswoman at large, saying that she expects to be present at that time. Other speakers on the program will be announced later.

Count Cesare Buzzati-Gradenigo (lower right), Italian consul at Cleveland, was the target of a similar attempt. Both bombs were disposed of harmlessly. Above is the label from the package addressed to the Cleveland consul. Detroit police are shown examining the bomb sent to Count Ganani.

Farish

 what it interpreted as the "going price."
 President Farish, asked whether that meant Humble would pay 98 cents there, since the other companies were doing so, replied:
 "I don't know it will mean that—it will mean we will pay 88 cents if all the others are doing that."
 Oil men declared one of the most encouraging signs for the industry was the firmness of the tank car gasoline market, which was reported up Monday an eighth of a cent.
Official Statement
 In a formal statement announcing the company's action, Farish said:
 "In announcing its revised prices for crude oil, effective this morning Humble Oil and Refining company meets the advance in prices recently initiated by Midcontinent producers and producer-refiners who produce more oil than they refine. Its delay in meeting the new prices resulted from a sincere and deliberate conviction that current economic conditions do not warrant an increase in prices and the decision finally to meet the advance is due in part to numerous urgent appeals from individuals, oil producers, trade organizations, newspapers and state officials and in part to its desire not to penalize the producers who sell to it and who probably could find no other market."
 "This company desires higher prices for crude oil just as much as any producer does, but it is convinced that higher prices can prevail only if they rest on a firm economic foundation. Present product prices do not justify purchasers in paying more for crude."
 "This price advance is admittedly based on the hope that better product prices and improved economic conditions generally will follow. Over a period of five months since the last price advance in November, 1931, this company has been unable to secure for products from its refineries and from the operation of its transportation to its refineries any profit on the crude bought, transported and refined. At the present time it is buying more oil than it wants and it has endeavored persistently during recent weeks to reduce its takings; but it has been unable to do so without working a hardship on the producers whom it serves."
 Producers can not hope to command a higher price for crude as long as the amount they offer for sale is greater than purchasers are willing to buy. Balancing supply with demand is imperative if the new price schedule is to be maintained. Responsibility for securing this balance rests squarely upon those who have initiated and sponsored this price advance, including the producers, trade organizations, newspapers and officials."
 A letter stating the company's policy as to East Texas was addressed to royalty owners and others interested by R. L. Blaffer, Humble vice-president. The letter said:
 "For all oil run subsequent to 7 a. m. April 11, 1932, until further notice or until such time as we post a field price for East Texas crude, we will pay what we interpret to be the going price for East Texas oil from this field during the regular settlement period during which the oil is run, exclusive of oil sold under contract made prior to 7 a. m., June 3, 1931."

 Farish's office said a resumption of the gravity basis of buying in West Texas was not contemplated.
New Postings.
 The new postings:
 Ranger, North Texas, Mexia, Powell, Boggy Creek, Richardson, Currie, Wortham, Moran—Below 28 gravity, 75 cents with a 2-cent upward differential for each degree of gravity up to 40 and above; top 31, up 15 cents; East Texas, no posted prices; Gray, county, below 35 gravity, 76 cents, with a 2-cent upward differential for each degree of gravity up to 40 and above; top 88 cents, up 15 cents; Caron and Hutchinson Counties, below 35 gravity, 66 cents, with a 2-cent upward differential to 40 and above; top 78 cents, up 10 cents; Crane, Upton, Crockett, Ector, Howard, Glasscock, Pecos and Winkler counties, Texas, and Lea county, New Mexico, flat 65 cents, up 15 cents.
TYLER—Carl Estes, editor of the Tyler-Times and Telegraph, announced that a protest meeting directed at the tardiness of some oil companies in meeting recent price increases had been cancelled. The meeting had been called for tomorrow night. It was backed by a group of independent operators. The Humble Oil and Refining company met the price increases today.
AUSTIN—R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division of the Texas railroad commission said the per well allowance in the East Texas oil field would be cut to 67 barrels daily, effective Wednesday.
 Parker said a reduction from 71 barrels per well, fixed April 1, was necessary to keep the top field production within 325,000 barrels daily.
 Before formally ordering the reduction, Parker said he had suggested the cut to Col. Louis Davidson, commanding the Texas national guard troops in the area, who are administering conservation laws in a part of the field under Governor R. S. Sterling's martial law proclamation.
 The civil and military authorities are working together in enforcing conservation laws since a federal court injunction restrained the governor from exercising his authority over certain wells.
Home Town
 expedient, for various counties and towns to "play ball" with other counties and towns, as well as the highway commission.
 If you do not do that you can expect to lose instead of gain. There's no kidding about that.
 Selfish motives usually rule most all of us, and of course if you do not look out for yourself, no one else will.

 But, when you get the idea that the highway that directly benefits your own town are the only routes that possibly could benefit any town you're all wet.
 Judge Ely's offer to improve No. 9 south of here without cost to the county except for right-of-way was exceedingly liberal—in fact one of the most liberal offers we have ever heard of.
 The fact that he has traded with Glasscock county whereby a link of the Butterfield will be designated across that county is going to help Garden City and Glasscock county—and that will help Big Spring provided we are on our toes.
 The policy of the highway commission of connecting cardinal highways where paving is separated by short gaps is a sound one and very much in line with its fundamental duty of using state funds for developing a CONNECTED system of highway.
 There is no better example of the wisdom of such a policy than the agreement whereby No. 9 paving will eventually be connected with that of No. 1 meeting in Big Spring. No. 9 is improved or under construction from Sterling county's northwest line to San Antonio.
 The only gap—and, folks, it is a bad one and harmful to Big Spring, is from Sterling county to this city. It is obvious that a connection between such important traffic arteries will be of much value to Big Spring and also to the entire road system.
Glasscock
 Ely of the proposition made to the Howard county representatives the Howard county commissioners court voted unanimously to carry out its part of the proposed arrangement. This consists of providing necessary right-of-way on No. 9 south as called for by the final survey by state highway engineers.
 The highway department is expected to begin the survey in Howard county at once.

Luncheon Is Tendered Out Of City Visitor
Episcopal Auxiliary Meets At Settles Hotel To Hear Speaker
 The members of St. Mary's Episcopal Auxiliary were hostesses to Miss Helen Whitehouse, a national United Thank Offering field worker for the church, at a lovely and delicious luncheon at the Settles Hotel Monday.
 Pink Snappers made a very effective centerpiece, the colors of which were reflected in the four-course luncheon. The meal was served in one of the private dining rooms on the mezzanine floor.
 Following the luncheon Miss Whitehouse talked to the members on "The Need of Supplying a Spiritual Plan to Supplement God's Physical Plan for the World," relating her talk to the women's part in the upbuilding of the church.
 She gave a short history of the Auxiliary, of its organization in 1835 when the first episcopal Mission was established; of the adoption of its name, Auxiliary, which was selected in 1871, because it served as an Auxiliary to the Board of Missions; and of its expansion in 1920 when its scope was broadened by being made an Auxiliary to the National Council.
 Miss Whitehouse outlined the four considerations by which all auxiliaries should govern their activities: worship, study, work and giving. She sketched the duties of the auxiliary in the parish, the community, the district, the nation and the world, suggesting that it must be always ready to serve the growing needs of humanity and that a stationary auxiliary was a thing of the past.
 The vicar, the Rev. W. H. Martin was also an honoree at the luncheon and the press was represented by Mrs. Seth Parsons. The auxiliary members present were Meses, W. H. Martin, C. S. Blomfield, J. D. Biles, John Clarke, Mike Leeper, A. Taylor, W. A. Gilmour, Theo Thomas, O. L. Thomas, Shine Phillips, Geo. Garrette, E. L. Mount, E. V. Spence, M. H. Bennett, Wilbur Barcus, and Robert Hamilton, of Stanton.
W. C. T. U. ANNOUNCEMENT
 The W. C. T. U. will meet at the First Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. The subjects to be discussed are: "Citizenship and Co-operation"; "My Government District" and "Get Out to Vote." A cordial invitation is extended to members and friends.
Mother, Daughters Helped By Cardui; Strong, Healthy
 "I feel that Cardui has helped me through critical periods and has been a great help all along," says Mrs. J. A. Shaw, of Marion, Va. "I had a lot of pain and was very irregular. When I felt bad like this, I would cramp and my left side ached. I was so weak and nervous. I took Cardui, and am feeling fine. I have given Cardui to all of my girls. I have three grown-up girls—they are all healthy and strong and I feel like giving Cardui praise for it."
