JAMES WRIGHT replaces Harry Sone of Rising Star, representing our county on the steering committee for the Leon-Bosque Resource, Conservation and Development Project. An evaluation team of the Soil Conservation Service recently made a feasibility study of the critical area development of Eastland High School. Factors contributing to the erosion problems were studied. Various alternative solutions were developed. The study indicated the project to be feasible. Plan development will begin in the near future. County Commissioners in three of the four precincts have selected road sections to be included in the Eastland County Roadside Erosion Control Measure Plan. Selections will be completed by May 1. Planning assistance will be requested following final selection of road sections. Feasibility studies of the erosion problem at Lake Leon is progressing. ## Crawford DAR Holds Meeting

Charles Crawford Chapter DAR, NSDAR, met in the home of Mrs. Harold Durham, 909 South Seaman, Eastland, at 12:30 Monday, April 28, for a salad luncheon. Mrs. C.E. Terrell of Eastland was co-hostess.

The Bicentennial theme was used in decorating throughout the house. Place mats pictured women of the Revolutionary period. Betsy Ross, Martha Washington, Molly Pitcher. Tables were set for 20.

There were dioramas, mats, flowers and other art work of Eastland Elementary School children. There were excellent replicas of activities of the War as, Washington Crossing the Delaware, the Old North Church, Virginia plantations; even Bunker Hill in miniature.

Chapter Regent, Mrs. Durham, led the group in reading the first stanza of "the Star Spangled Banner" which was illustrated line by line with drawings of the grade school pupils. Mrs. Durham does substitute teaching in the Eastland Elementary schools. She used the very capable classroom efforts of the youngsters toward the Bicentennial and turned them, in a unique and interesting way, into part of the afternoon program.

Mrs. Joseph Perkins gave the main part of the program, bringing in a charming way, "The Growth and interpretation of American Music".

Beginning with religious songs of the Puritans - really Psalms, she told of the Puritan Song schools where the teachers used a tuning fork to establish the tune. Duets and quartets were popular.

Mrs. Perkins showed a song book by Lowell Mason which was published in 1842. Mason is known as "The Father of Public School Music."

There were the periods of plantation songs and mountain songs. The children often made their own musical instruments of gourds. Mrs. Perkins traced the growth down to the present. Working on the State Text Book Committee, she directed her efforts toward free music textbooks for Grade and Junior Schools and obtained results which are appreciated today.

The program closed with a duet, Mrs. Perkins at piano and Mrs. Durham at the organ. Their selection was "For Spacious Skies" to the tune of "America The Beautiful", and was an enjoyable part of the interpretation.

Ten members and the following guests attended: Mesdames Pat Crawford, Howard Cole, W.D.R. Owen, M.H. Perry, Pearson Grimes, L. Cromwell and Miss Marie Winston.

Excitement is running high. Reservations are coming in daily. Well over all expectations. This is going to be the biggest one yet. Several hundred reservations have already been confirmed for the barbecue. Plans are cooking daily. Have you sent in your reservation card yet? Do it today. It will help us plan. I am elated at all cooperation and help being received. The newspaper and radio station have been most kind with publicity.

All class agents are requested to send in articles of interest and pictures to Eastland Telegram. Let's hear from you out there now. Tell us how to make it the best. Write letters to the "Editor". ## City Talks Airport, Parking, Flooding Eastland City Commission reorganized, discussed airport problems, parking and a number of other important matters at the meeting Monday evening at City Hall.

Retiring Mayor W.Q. Verner presided during the reading of minutes, canvass of run-off election returns and was presented a beautiful engraved plaque from the commission in appreciation to him for his years of unselfish service to the city.

Mike Siebert was sworn in as a new commissioner and incumbents H.V. O'Brien and Dale Bakker were sworn in. Holdover commissioners are Charles Marshall and W.H. (Bill) Hoffmann.

In the organization, O'Brien was elected chairman, (mayor); Hoffmann, mayor pro tem; Bakker, treasurer; and Siebert, assistant treasurer.

Jack Muirhead appeared before the commission requesting deep angle parking rather than parallel parking on West Commerce St. because of limited parking spaces in that area, and also asked that one of his driveways be painted yellow to keep people from parking in front of it. The matters were taken under advisement and will be discussed with the City Police Department and a report made at the May meeting.

Eastland Constable Bill Hunter appeared before the commission asking a parking space because of the nature of his job which requires that he be in and out of the courthouse often during a day, and he presently has to walk quite a ways back and forth from his car to his office. County Sheriff L.E. Sublett, whose office does have parking spaces, and County District Attorney Emory Walton, who does not have a parking space, appeared asking that Mr. Hunter be granted a space. The Commission also took this under consideration and will report back at the May meeting.

The commission gave final reading and passed the flood insurance ordinance which will permit residents in the low areas of town to purchase economy flood insurance for their protection. City Manager

Lewis Tiner was appointed Building Agent for the issuance of permits in compliance with the ordinance requirements.

Southern Television Systems Manager John Nevill appeared before the commission at the request of Commissioner Hoffmann regarding some citizen complaints about television service. Mr. Nevill said that his office had not been notified of these problems, and that he would immediately check with the citizens to see if their trouble is in the cable, and further asked that citizens contact the Cable Co. office immediately whenever they suspect that their television problem might be in the cable.

Commissioners discussed the purchase of base rock and transportation with Commissioners Hoffmann and Bakker to check the needs of the police department and also vehicles needs in other departments, and to report back in May.

On a recommendation of the Chief Morren and the Police Dept., the commission approved the installation of stop signs at the intersection of Sadosa and Ammerman St. (stopping traffic on Ammerman.) and at Connellee and Valley (stopping traffic on Connellee.)

Commissioner Hoffmann was elected to represent the city on the County Radio Dispatch Program, to replace Former Mayor Verner.

Chamber of Commerce Manager James Wright and Airport J.T. (Buddy) Carter appeared before the Commission and

Peanut Program Costs Favorable

According to Ross Wilson, Manager, Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association, Gorman, Texas, a great deal of adverse publicity has recently been fed into the wire services of the major news media by Department of Agriculture officials regarding peanut program cost, particularly the high estimated cost of the 1974 crop operation. The truth of the matter is, Wilson said, that USDA has placed the 1974 crop into a high cost category by its own administrative decision. The Department adopted a policy in 1974 requiring 100 percent of support value on sales of CCC stocks. By making the U.S. sales price known, export interests were able to trade under the U.S. price level and to fill world needs heretofore served by exporters of QUALITY U.S. peanuts. The record will show, he said, that USDA adopted this policy against advice from all segments of the peanut industry. Prior to 1974 CCC peanuts were sold in an orderly manner on the basis of competitive bids.

Processors and others who followed world market developments closely this year have advised the Agriculture Secretary that the 1974 crop could have been sold by competitive bids so as to result in a loss of only $10 to $15 million. USDA announced on March 27 that its present 1974 crop peanut inventory of about 390,000 tons would be sold crushed with the oil to be donated under programs administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and to lesser development countries under the Public Law 480 Food For Peace Program. By this action USDA has assured an extremely high cost for the 1974 crop, probably in the range of $140 million to $150 million. Just one week prior to announcing this decision, the USDA had called its National Peanut Advisory Committee to Washington for advice on disposition of the 1974 crop inventory. The Advisory Committee recommended that the inventory immediately be offered for sale on competitive bids, retaining the 100 percent sales requirement only on that portion of the inventory sold for edible export purposes. It is believed that had USDA followed this recommendation - even at this late date - the inventory could have been sold Thorn said some present plans include an annual print show, where black and white, and color prints will be displayed and judged. Clinics and seminars will be held on a regular basis, with prominent

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

BY BOB BOYD

Piece and peace. Two simple words. They sound alike. They're spelled differently, have different meaning.

Consider for example, "piece of mind" as it is commonly used and "peace of mind" as it too is commonly understood. "Piece of mind" is common. "Peace of mind" is all too uncommon.

Telling some one off with a "piece of mind" is one thing. Possessing "peace of mind" is different. "Peace of mind" even at its best provides only a TEMPORARY feeling of satisfaction. Once attained, "peace of mind" can be maintained it gives PERMANENT satisfaction.

Wouldn't it be a wonderful world if people would practice less "piece of mind" and possess more "peace of mind"?

Texas Aeronautics Commission with the assistance of the Governor's Office, Division of Planning Coordination, and the Texas Transportation Institute of Texas A&M University.

AUTHORIZATION
The "Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970" authorized the Secretary of Transportation to make grants of funds to planning agencies for airport system planning in order to promote the effective location and development of airports and the development of an adequate national airport system plan.

DEFINITION
"Airport system planning is the development for planning purposes of information and guidance to determine the extent, type, location and timing of airport development needed in a specific area to establish a viable and balanced system of public airports. It includes identification of the specific aeronautical role of each airport within the system, development of estimates of system-wide development costs and the conduct of such studies, surveys and other planning actions as may be necessary to determine the short-, intermediate-, and long-range aeronautical demands required to be met by a particular system of airports.

STATE AIRPORT SYSTEM PLANNING

State airport system planning is a means of directing and influencing many diverse airport development projects in such a manner that the composite state airport system yields the maximum benefit to all citizens. Effective system planning must be organized to accept feedback, develop new information, and allow for continual change and revision through a planning process. The process then can respond to changes in state policies and revision of other plans to which the original plan is related, modify or change priorities for implementing elements of the original plan, and accommodate advances in technology.

The accompanying chart summarizes the airport system planning process being followed in preparation of the Texas Airport System Plan.

HISTORY

The TASP is a four-phase undertaking. In Phase I the basic study design was produced. During Phase II, analytical procedures were developed for forecasting demand; airport needs were identified on the basis of published secondary data; preliminary cost estimates were prepared; and Phase II findings were reviewed with State Planning Region staffs, airport sponsors and operators, and interested citizens. During Phase III, primary data on airport facilities will be obtained; resulting needs will be reviewed in detail with airport sponsors; and alternative policies and legislative approaches will be developed for consideration by the Governor, the Legislature, and the public. The output of Phase III will form the Texas input to the National Airport System Plan (NASP) prepared by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). Phase IV will provide for maintenance and further refinement of the TASP by the Texas Aeronautics Commission. Changes in airport development needs, the timing of development and priorities will be incorporated as population, economic, social, environmental, and technological changes take place.

RELATED STUDIES

Concurrently with the development of the Texas Airport System Plan, two regional airport system plans are being developed. The Houston-Galveston Area Council and the South East Texas Regional Planning Commission have developed a regional airport system plan encompassing those counties within the Gulf Coast State Planning Region and the South East Texas State Planning Region. The North Central Texas Council of Governments and the Texoma Regional Planning Commission are presently developing a regional airport system plan covering those counties within the North Central Texas State Planning Region and the Texoma State Planning Region. These two regional system plans will be incorporated into the Texas Airport System Plan.

GOALS/OBJECTIVES

Airport system planning must consider the broader social and economic goals of State planning and development programs; in particular, to:
• Encourage economic development in Texas at greater than the national average, but at the same time, protect and conserve natural and human resources to the best extent possible.
• Raise per capita income in Texas by creating opportunities for the expansion of existing Texas industry and by attracting new industry.
• Maintain Texas' high position in the agricultural economy of the nation; find the best and most profitable markets for Texas food and fiber commodities; and encourage traditional uses and find new uses for Texas agricultural products.
• Achieve effective cooperation of interagency and communities by the coordination of actions of all organizations concerned with manpower problems.

The purposes of the TASP study are to define the planning problem in terms of the airport facilities existing today as compared with present and probably future development needs, and to explore and evaluate alternative solutions.

COORDINATION

The diagram identifies coordination linkages required to provide maximum local benefit while developing coherent State and national airport systems. Coordination is achieved by reviewing and commenting on airport planning grant applications; fostering exchange of basic data and inventory infor-

HD Achievement

Day, May 7

The annual Home Demonstration Achievement Day activities will be held on Wednesday, May 7, at the First Baptist Church fellowship hall in Eastland.

Club members will have on display for judging their work for the year which included divisions in sewing, crochet, and knitting, handwork, crafts, baked food items with separate divisions for pies, cakes, candy, cookies, and breads; and home canned food products.

Club entries include Reporter's Books of club activities and programs; and club educational exhibits.

Following the noon covered dish luncheon, the afternoon program will feature Mrs. Helen Murrell as guest speaker. Mrs. Murrell will speak on America's Bicentennial.

Other highlights of the day will be the announcing of club Women of the Year honorees. Also the club that has gained that most new members will be recognized and awarded the "Presidents' Honor Gavel" which is to be used during the coming year.

In conjunction with the achievement day, club women will sponsor a bake sale in the courthouse lobby, between the hours of 9 and 11 a.m. Also luncheon tickets at the price of $2.25 will be sold to the public. The tickets may be purchased at the door from Mrs. Zelma Lusk, Finance Chairman; or Mrs. T.L. Hale, Education Committee Chairman.

All interested persons are invited to attend and see the many exhibits.

(Ed. Note: County Judge Scott Bailey was among several who attended the airport planning meeting held Friday in Eastland. His letter of invitation from the Texas Aeronautics Commission gives evidence of that organization's willingness to work with local airports: Dear Judge Bailey: The Texas Aeronautics Commission needs to discuss with you the airports serving the citizens of your community. As you may recall, members of the Texas Airport System Plan staff visited with you or your representative in the Spring of 1973 concerning airports in the West Central Texas State Planning Region. The information gained at that meeting was incorporated into the TASP Phase II Report. We now need to confirm that input and review our final recommendations with you.

Your participation is requested at the joint planning conference to be held at 10 a.m., Friday, April 25, in the Community Room of the Eastland National Bank. This conference will focus on the airport development needs of Comanche, Eastland, and Stephens Counties.

The Texas Airport System Plan staff is endeavoring to consider the economic and social goals of a community and its citizens as well as aviation demand forecasts in developing this plan. During this meeting, we will be seeking a deeper insight into your community's economic development plans, social and cultural needs, and the role of air transportation in meeting these goals. In so doing, we will be looking for a reasonable means of providing your community with access to the national air transportation system.

We will appreciate your assistance in making this a people-oriented plan that will accomplish something meaningful for your community and for Texas.

Sincerely,
H. Merrill Goodwyn

Highways Official Travel Magazine

AUSTIN--Texas now has an official state travel magazine.

The Legislature has passed and Governor Dolph Briscoe has signed a resolution declaring Texas Highways, a colorful monthly magazine of the State of Texas.

In a concurrent resolution passed by both houses, the Legislature said the magazine is a "vital component of the official State of Texas travel development effort."

Considering the unsettled energy situation, the magazine will become a new vehicle to help Texans discover their own state for vacations closer to home.

"The Department's magazine, Texas Highways, beautifully interprets scenic, recreational, historical, cultural and ethnic treasures of the state and recalls the best of our Texas heritage," the resolution said.

tenance to existing airports, rests with local government. State and federal governments can provide planning, engineering, and financial assistance. The initiative rests with local government. For this reason, the TASP has emphasized participation by local government and airport sponsors throughout the planning process.

Three died in as many wrecks on Interstate 20 and two died in two accidents on State and US Highways, the report shows. Some neighboring counties fared better, some worse: 12 were killed in 10 accidents in Comanche County; 13 died in 10 accidents in Callahan County; 17 in nine in Erath County; three in three in Brown; 17 in nine in Palo Pinto; and three in two in Stephens.

Glomar Explorer Has Greater Significance

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- THERE MAY BE FAR GREATER SIGNIFICANCE to the accomplishments of the submarine, Glomar Explorer, than simply recovering missiles and codes from the sunken Russian submarine in the Pacific. For, if the Glomar can fetch up parts of the Soviet's submarine three miles underwater, it can explore the ocean bottom for minerals, and probably establish underwater platforms for nuclear explosives that could produce new forms of energy, new forms of warfare, including earthquakes, hurricanes and tidal waves.

SALTWATER SEAS AND OCEANS COVER 72 PERCENT OF THE GLOBE. The area underwater contains not only oil but other minerals, metals and food but nobody knows just how much. Some scientists estimate enough to drive the machines and feed the human family on the whole earth.

IT IS NO LITTLE ACCOMPLISHMENT THAT A VESSEL HAS BEEN PUT TOGETHER to survive the pressures of three miles under water with a workable operation to bring up parts of the Russian submarine. It proves an important point and one which the CIA, which sponsored the operation wanted kept secret. Perhaps it is just as well that this effort became public. It shows that the Russians could not fish up their own secrets and their own dead and dramatizes the important fact that they are far behind us in the science of underwater exploration.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF ALL OF THIS CAN ONLY BE FOLLOWED BY WHAT many of our scientists are saying but to which not much attention has been given. In one report it is said that technology might soon exist to enable the triggering of earthquakes, steer hurricanes or release tidal waves, all of which could devastate vast areas on land.

WHILE THE HUBBUB WENT ON ABOUT THE MYSTERY OF THE CIA'S OPERATION, nobody paid very much attention to what these scientists have said.

THE MAIN POINT IS THE STRUGGLE FOR THE

Man seeks happiness in a thousand ways. But the faster he follows it the faster it flies from him.

Just about everything promises happiness to us at a distance, but when we come nearer, we fall short of it, or it falls short of our expectation.

But there is a happiness which we may enjoy now and every day of our lives. And as we go on with the Giver of this happiness we find that every day with Jesus is sweeter than the day before.

A happy man wrote in Psalm 128:1 and 2, "Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord; that walketh in His ways. For thou shalt eat the labor of thine hands: happy thou shalt be, and it shall be well with thee."

This happiness is for those who fear and follow. This fear is, of course, not of terror but trust. Awe and adoration are elements in it.

The fear is an inward principle. The following is an outward practice. No one really fears the Lord who does not follow in His ways. The fear is a cause. The following is the effect. If he fears with his heart, he will follow with his feet.

Looking for happiness? Fear the Lord and follow in His ways.

Do You Remember

BY HERMAN DEMPSEY

At the turn of the century, there were no refrigerators. The people in the rural communities improvised ways to keep their milk and butter cool and to keep it from spoiling during hot summer days.

One of these ways called for lowering a tray with the milk in crock jars and the butter placed on the tray into the hand dug well or cistern. It was lowered deep enough to be in a cool place but not all the way to the water. Each time some of it was needed, it had to be raised then lowered again. The home churned butter had to be kept cool or it would melt. The butter was made by skimming the cream off the top of the cow's milk and placing a churn made of crockery equipped with a lid that had a hole in the middle big enough for a broom handle to go through. A cross was made of thin wood and attached to one end of the broom handle. The other end was high enough from the churn for the women folk to raise and lower the cross type paddle in the cream until the butter was formed.

Another form of keeping the milk and butter cool was to have a galvanized tin tray about three inches deep fastened to the outside of a kitchen window. The tray was covered by a wooden framework over which screen wire kept out insects. The crock milk jars and butter was placed into the tray from the kitchen window. A clean white cloth covered the jars and butter dishes which was setting in the water in the tray. The cloth extended down to the water on all sides so it acted as a wick to keep the cloth moist at all times. The air passing through the screen and wet clothes caused an evaporating condition that kept the milk and butter cool.

Could It Happen Again?

City Manager Speaks To Rotarians

Two motors are awaited for out at Eastland's new sewer plant, Rotarians learned Monday when City Manager Lewis Tiner brief them on the project and conducted a tour of the new facilities.

Installation of fencing and clean-up of the areas still remains to be done, but with the arrival of the motors, the system could soon be put into operation, he explained.

Meeting first at the Ramada Inn, Mr. Tiner was introduced by Program Chairman Saul Pullman. President J.T. Carter presided and guest in was C.N. DeLay of Breckenridge.

Bob Quarrells will have the program next week.

The Rotarians went first to the old sewer plant just off Highway 80 East and were told that the new lift station there would put the city's sewerage into a ten-inch line to the new treatment plant, located on the site of the old dump ground. The old plant will be fenced too and maintained as an emergency holding area in case of unlikely breakdown of the new plant. Manager Tiner explained that there are tentative plans to perhaps some day route some of the sewerage from the extreme south part of town directly to the new plant, to take some part of the load off the old present system which feeds into the present plant.

Rotarians moved on to the new plant and inspected the modern facilities there.

Wonderful World Of Books

The priced tag looks high on the Golden Book of Colonial Crafts, but after you've checked all the intricate instructions and patters for so many craft items, it makes the $8.95 figure much more realistic.

It's treasure trove of ideas and projects with more than 70 projects from Colonial times, adapted for today. "A family creative workshop book," Golden Press calls it.

During this Bicentennial celebration, the table of contents whitts just about every appetite: Colonial Life, Basketry, Candle making, Canoeing, Cheese and Churning, Clambrakes, Dolls and Doll Clothes, Dulcimers, Folk Art, Home Brewing, Indian Crafts, Needlework Sampler, Period Costumes, Rancaning Chairs and Rug Braiding.

The whole book makes interesting reading (and ideal gifting), and there are some really neat pages on specialized skills: fiberglass repair, how to make homemade rootbeet and sarsaparilla; and making period costumes.

Western Publishing Co., Inc., Racine, Wisc., is the publisher.

"Dear Lord, I love my children but they are driving me to distraction. I have lost my self-control. I need your help. I realize, Dear Lord, that I can never direct them in their young lives if I am disorganized. Help me not to be angry and to not shout at them. Give me a sense of humor, Oh Lord, and help me to know that their restlessness energy is a sign of vitality and part of their development. Don't let me be tired and upset, but, rather, may I enter joyfully into my relationship with them. Thank you for my children, but Lord, don't let them get me down. In Christ name, Amen."

"A New Dawn", a film showing the activities of Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene, was program for members of the Eastland Lions Club at noon Tuesday.

Al Novak was program chairman and introduced Joel Allison and Bill Brown, both Hendrick officials, who introduced the film.

It was pointed out that the regional medical center averages 350 patients daily and has some 1,000 employees, serving some 17 counties in this region. The giant hospital averages some 13,000 emergency cases a year, with some two-thirds of that number being Abilenians. The Christian Hospital is an extension of the local medical facilities, the visitors pointed out, and added, "We hope you never have to use our services, but it's comforting to know it's there if you should need it."

President Otis Coleman presided and guest was Ken Estes of Abilene. Hendrick is entering its second 50 years and has launched a Foundation program with a three point aim: to tell the people in this region what Hendrick is; to raise money for its further expansion; and to recruit personnel to continue its programs.

His first position with area schools was principal of Cisco High School, beginning in 1925. When the state legislature created the Cisco Junior College district in 1939, Stamey became dean of the college, and served in that position for seven years. In 1946, when then president Robert Cluck moved to Del Rio, Mr. Stamey acceded to the presidency, a post he held for seven years. The period he served was a time when many World War II veterans were attending college on the G.I. Bill and the administrative duties were many, he recalls. "It was a 24 hour a day job", Mr. Stamey says. Later he went to work in the Eastland County Superintendent's office, where he was eventually to become County Superintendent, a post he held until retirement last year. He and his wife currently reside in Cisco at 309 West Fifth Street.

Others participating in the commencement program will be: Steven Zell, organizer, who will play the Processional and Recessional on the Rockwell organ; the CJC Singers, directed by Mr. Wyley Peebles, who will perform special selections; C.C. Schultz, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, who will offer the invocation; Dr. Wallace, who will recognize special guests, present awards, confer degrees, and present the speaker; Carroll Scott, Executive Dean, who will certify the class for graduation; Billy Reynolds, president of the Board of Regents, who will present the degrees; and Gary Adams, Bible Chair Directory, who will lead the benediction. Chairpersons for graduation are Olga Fay Parker and Evelyn Bailey.

EASTLAND MERCHANTS' CREDIT ASSOCIATION Directors Meeting

A meeting of the directors of Eastland Merchants' Credit Association was called to order by Grover Hallmark Thursday. After having been duly elected by a 3/4 majority of the membership, it was announced that the directors for the upcoming year would be: Hallmark, Robert Perkins, Nolan DeFord, W.L. Griffin, Morris Jones and G.A. White.

The directors who were hold-overs from the previous year and would serve only one year terms were Hallmark, Perkins and DeFord. The three new directors, Jones, White and Griffin were elected to serve two year terms.

Hallmark gave the details of the change-over in managership expressing regret over the resignation of Elaine Glenn and voicing confidence in the new manager J.T. Carter.

The first order of business was to elect new officers and the meeting was turned over to Carter for the election of a new president. Perkins nominated Hallmark and Jones seconded the nomination. Hallmark was elected president by a unanimous vote of all present. The new president then accepted the nomination of DeFord by Jones to fill the office of vice president. This was seconded by Perkins. Again there was a unanimous vote and DeFord was elected vice president. After discussion, Hallmark suggested that Vicki Connel serve as secretary, which was agreed upon by all.

Everyone present agreed upon the fine job Elaine Glenn had done for the association in the past and a unanimous vote followed to give Mrs. Glenn her two week vacation pay as well as personal training fee.

After much discussion it was decided not to participate in the State Credit Bureau meeting coming up in May in Houston, but to wait until later in the year to fulfill our obligation of attendance of a Credit Bureau meeting.

The directors asked for quarterly financial statements to be presented to each other instead of the usual monthly statements.

It was also decided to look into a noon luncheon meeting of all the membership for the purpose of promoting activity in our local Credit Bureau, with possibly an out of town speaker.

Directors present were Hallmark, White, Perkins, and Jones. Also present was Carter, manager.

Poison Ivy Season Is Here

"You're gonna need an ocean...of calamine lotion. You'll be scratchin' like a hound...the minute you start to mess around...with Poison Ivy..." or so go the lyrics of a 1950's song appropriately titled, "Poison Ivy".

You may have handled poison ivy last year and escaped without an itch, but don't press your luck. No one is permanently immune to poison ivy, oak or sumac.

The Texas Medical Association reminds that your next meeting with this pesky plant could take place in your own yard, as well as in the woods and fields. Poison ivy, poison oak, and sumac have appeared in city gardens and have been known to form beautiful growths up the sides of houses. But beware and don't touch. Poisonous oils from these plants can also come your way in the smoke from a neighbor's burning trash or on your dog's coat.

If you are able to detect poison plants, you can often avoid them. Poison ivy and its close kin, poison oak, are three leafed plants which may grow as low bushes or climbing vines. They may be mixed with honeysuckle and other climbers. Poison sumac, an eastern swamp plant with seven to thirteen leaflets and small white berries, usually grows as a shrub.

If you even suspect that you have been exposed, wash thoroughly all affected areas with warm water and soap. Sponge with a strong alcohol solution. Using rubber gloves, clean your clothes in an oil solvent and soapy water. Ivy, oak and sumac poisoning start with itching and redness within a few hours to several days after exposure. Then water blisters appear. There is no cure for the "big itch". But wet dressings of boric acid or Epsom salts solution bring some relief. Calamine lotion also reduces itching. If the inflammation is extensive, it is best to call your physician.

If you know that you will be near poison plants or working with them, have your druggist prepare a 10% sodium perborate ointment and apply this on exposed skin. After contact with the plant, wash off the ointment and wash all your clothing-even your shoelaces.

Recommendations From The Texas A & M , Experiment Station And Extension Service

PUBLISHED BY
Texas Peanut Producers Board
P.O. Box 398
Gorman, Texas 76454

Most of the preemergence herbicides presently in use on peanuts are dinitroanilines which require soil incorporation. These herbicides, in general, give good control of the common weeds occurring in peanut fields. However, nutsedge and certain broadleaf weeds are not controlled by these herbicides and these weeds have become a major importance in some fields in the State where they were not controlled by other means.

Three locations were selected with adequate nutsedge populations for conducting trials. These locations were on (1) the Plant Disease Research Station at Yoakum in Lavaca County, (2) the Joe K. Williams Farm at McCoy in Atascosa County, and (3) the Tarleton Experiment Station at Stephenville in Erath County.

Results of previous nutsedge control test had indicated that certain materials may have promise for control of this problem weed in peanuts. The first criteria in the selection of materials was on the basis of their effectiveness in controlling nutsedge. The methods of application, time of application, rates, etc. were then determined from the past performance of the selected herbicide.

The standard herbicide treatment included in these tests was Vernam since it is the only presently cleared herbicide for peanuts which has activity against purple nutsedge. The selected herbicides included pre-land preparation treatment (PLP), preplant incorporated treatments (PPI), preemergence treatments (PreE), and postemergence treatments (PostE). The Nutsedge Control Test 1 at Yoakum was a complete randomized block design test with the individual treatments along and in certain combinations. A split plot design was used for the other experiments.

Postemergence treatments of the new translocated herbicide glyphosate (Roundup) were effective for controlling purple nutsedge in 1973 but peanuts were also killed if sprayed by these treatments. Because of the phytotoxicity of Roundup to peanuts, a postemergence treatment to nutsedge before land preparation for the peanut crop was considered to be the best time of application for testing this material. Research results with Basagran had shown that postemergence applications could be made to nutsedge in peanuts with little or no phytotoxicity to peanuts. Destun was considered to be the most effective preemergence herbicide treatment for controlling nutsedge although some injury had occurred to peanuts. Certain other experimental herbicides were included to determine their effectiveness in controlling nutsedge and tolerance to peanuts.

All herbicide treatments were applied broadcast at 20 gallons spray per acre. The preland preparation treatment were applied as postemergence treatments to the nutsedge and after at least two weeks the plots were disc and rows marked with a power tiller at time of application. The preplant test was applied with a two-row Pearman disc injector for comparison with the preplant incorporated Vernam treatment.

The Starr variety of peanuts was planted in all nutsedge control tests except in Atascosa in which the Florunner variety was planted. Weed control and phytotoxicity data were collected from all tests. Yield, grades and value data were also obtained from all tests except the Tarleton Experiment Station test which was not planted until September 21 due to extreme drought conditions which persisted until rains occurred in September.

Excellent top kill was obtained with the preland preparation postemergence treatments of glyphosate (Roundup), especially at the 2 and 4 lbs. per acre rates at Yoakum and at Stephenville. The 1 lb. per acre rate of Roundup gave approximately 75 percent control of the nutsedge plants two weeks after application, while the control for the 2 lb. and 4 lb. rates were rated at 85 - and 95 - percent, respectively. Within three to five days after application of the Roundup, the nutsedge plants began to progressively turn yellow and then brown. This control continued after the peanuts were planted as indicated by the control ratings recorded in Table 1 which were made on July 19 and August 19. The best nutsedge control ratings were obtained in this test with Destun 4S, Roundup at 2 lbs plus Vernam, Roundup at 2 lbs plus Vernam plus Basagran and Roundup at 2 lbs alone. Bestun caused stunting of the peanuts which persisted throughout the season resulting in a significant reduction in the yield of pods per acre. Vernam at 2.5 lbs. per acre alone gave satisfactory control (78 percent) of nutsedge for approximately four weeks but this control had dropped to 30 percent in the August 19 ratings. S - 21634 at 6 lbs. per acre gave satisfactory (86 percent) control in the July 19 rating.

The treatments giving the longest control of nutsedge as shown in the August 19 ratings with over 90 percent control were Roundup plus Vernam and the treatments containing Destun. Significant differences occurred between treatments in pounds of pods and value per acre but this was primarily due to reduced yields resulting from the Destun and MBR 12325 treatments.

At Yoakum Destun gave excellent control of nutsedge but it also caused stunting and reduced yields. Postemergence applications of Basagran at 1.5 lbs and S - 21534 at 3 lbs were approximately equal in nutsedge control. The yield data were extremely variable due to very wet soil conditions before and at harvest time.

In Atascosa County poor nutsedge control ratings were obtained with the Roundup treatments in this test. The test treatments were applied and only about 20 percent of the tubers had germinated to produce plants at time of application of the Roundup treatments.

Vernam at 4 lbs per acre PPI and post E applications of Basagran at 1 and 2 lbs per acre gave good to excellent control of nutsedge in this test. Vernam at 2 lbs and Destun at 3 lbs per acre did not satisfactorily control nutsedge. Destun and Vernam at 4 lbs per acre significantly reduced yields of pods per acre. This is an excessive rate of Vernam and is this course sand was phytotoxic to peanuts. The Basagran treatments were applied later than had been planned but even with some was obtained. The conditions were ideal at time of application for getting the Basagran into the nutsedge plants, i.e. high relative humidity, excellent soil moisture with the plants actively growing.

At the Tarleton Experiment Station the Roundup treatments were applied 100 days before the land was prepared, preplant treatments applied, and peanuts planted, control of nutsedge averaged 76 and 66 percent for the 2 and 4 lbs per acre rates of Roundup, respectively. The control rating at time of discing the plots and land preparation was 75 percent for Roundup at 2 lbs. and 90 percent for the 4 lbs rate. Vernam PPI at 2.5 lbs per acre was significantly better than the same rate preplant injected. This difference obtained in control of nutsedge by Vernam with the two methods of application may be due to difficulty of application with the disc injectors in the check plot because of plant residue. This was not a problem in the Roundup treated plots, and in these plots the two Vernam treatments were equal. Silverleaf nightshade plants were present in this test, and the Roundup treatments also gave excellent control of this difficult to control weed.

Results of these studies indicate that certain herbicides and mixtures of herbicides are promising for nutsedge control in peanuts. More research is needed to investigate rates, application time, combination treatments as well as herbicide applications combined with land preparation and cultural practices before the peanut crop is planted.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texans are going to get to vote on a new constitution this year after all.

Final legislative agreement on the article-by-article revision proposal will send it to the polls November 4 for a showdown decision by voters.

A major campaign is shaping up for the document, and several efforts can be expected against individual sections.

At least, the revision is shorter, simpler and better organized than the present patched-up constitution. It would give the governor needed fiscal controls, appointive power and agency reorganization authority.

The proposed unified court system is not without some strong criticism, as well as backing. The finance article requires uniform standards and procedures for tax appraisal and countywide appraisals.

Counties, through the new local government article, would be able to change their governmental structure and adopt ordinances. Environmental protection would be mandated along with access to comprehensive health care and equal education.

Voters will decide earlier on two constitutional changes — on April 22. On the ballot then are recommended "emergency" improvements in state employees' and school teachers' retirement programs and a $600 a month pay scale and expense account increases for legislators.

MONEY RUNNING OUT
State revenues, rapidly shrinking in spite of a once-fat $1 billion "surplus," will be far short of needs for real school finance reform, two government officials maintain.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Legislative Budget Board chairman, predicted about $450 million to $500 million will be available after the general state budget is approved. LBB Director Tom Keel estimated the main budget "leftover" at $472.8 million. That's nearly $300 million below the most modest pricetag of major education finance bills backed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Hobby said the teachers will get a pay raise — less than they are asking — but many other provisions of the Briscoe and Texas State Teachers Association bills cannot be financed.

PRIMARY DELAYED

Presidential preference primary legislation went to conference committee with initial Senate instruction to retain a self-destruct feature which would make the legislation effective for 1976 only.

Sponsors are still trying to get rid of the mandate so they can make the primary a permanent election procedure, unless repealed, as is the case with most laws.

WATERWAYS BILL PASSED
The Senate designated Texas Highway Department as state sponsor for a joint state-federal effort to maintain 426 miles of Gulf Intracoastal waterways.

The Department will cooperate by providing spoil disposal areas along the 426 mile main channel from the Sabine River to Brownsville.

COURTS SPEAK

The State Supreme Court will review a Laredo case which Atty. Gen. John Hill claims may have major consequences for enforcement of deceptive trade practices court orders.

The High Court will also hear arguments May 14 in Exxon's appeal from a damage verdict following suicide of an Abilene truck driver who was injured earlier in a refinery accident.

Two wives of a Chambers County man who died in a Java Sea shipwreck in 1970 are entitled to inherit from his $51,031 insurance-and-unpaid wages estate, the Supreme Court held.

A $10,500 jury award to a Marshall farmer for pollution damage from Atlas Chemical Industries effluent was upheld by the High Court, but a $25,000 exemplary damages award was rejected.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a rape conviction of four San Antonio men because their trial was not postponed to accommodate a lawyer-legislator who had been called into special session.

A Hillsboro burglary conviction of two was also reversed since the jury relied on testimony of an accomplice witness.

AG OPINIONS

Where a county tax assessor-collector is required to assume collection of a city's taxes, he must do so without regard to whether the city's ratio of assessment for prior years has been different from the county's, the Attorney General has held.

In another recent opinion, Hill concluded planning and development of state parks and historic sites may be financed from Texas Parks Fund 31 financed by cigarette taxes.

COUNTIES SHIFTED

Seven West Texas counties have been moved from the Northwest Territory to the Central Inland Territory, with a reduction of homeowners and extended coverage rates.

Montague, Jack, Young, Wise, Eastland, Brown and Stephens counties asked the realignment for insurance on buildings. Counties said they didn't have hail, tornado and windstorm damage sufficient to require they stay in the high-rate territory.

SHORT SNORTS

Comptroller Bob Bullock reported unemployment payments climbed 25 per cent last month, to a March total of $20.4 million. The Comptroller said tax revenues will decline when unemployment payments exceed $1 million. Health Maintenance Organization legislation, providing for a new system of pre-paid, fixed-premium medical and health care services, passed the Senate and is expected to pass the House.

Texas Research League said a tax bill may be necessary this year, regardless of Gov. Briscoe's threats to veto one.

The Governor signed into law a bill assigning priority to in-state use of gas produced from state-owned land.

School teachers plan a giant rally here April 26 to demonstrate support for public school finance reform — and $10,000 a year minimum salaries for teachers.

Texas wheat farmers are expected to harvest a record 1975 crop, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White predicted.
