Local Couple Plan Joint Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bomer, of Muleshoe, are making their post-secondary education a family affair.

The young couple, now enrolled at Oklahoma State Tech, Okmulgee, are planning a simultaneous graduation from Tech in September, 1973. Arranging to graduate together isn't an easy task since Bob is taking a six-trimester course in industrial electronics, while his wife, Lana, is enrolled in a four-trimester medical secretarial science course.

Tech's school year is divided into three 16-week trimesters, so Bob plans to enroll each trimester to finish in a minimum of two years. The Bomer's schedule calls for Lana to work full-time during two summer trimesters, thus both will graduate at the same time since his course of study requires two more trimesters than hers. They spend between 25 and 30 hours in class each week.

The couple's timing should be perfect. They have proven themselves top students in the classroom, and that should eliminate any problem of either one of them being delayed because of grades. Studying at home together has resulted in above-average grades for both as well as becoming a family activity.

Both are working part-time standing school administrator in the state. Also receiving awards for tenure will be 48 teachers of vocational homemaking education representing 985 years of service in Texas school.

Hail Damage Loans Made Available

U.S. Senator John Tower has reminded farmers who recently suffered severe hail losses to growing crops that they may be eligible for emergency loans through the Farmers Home Administration.

Tower said he had been in contact with Lynn Futch, state director of the FHA in Texas, about the emergency loans that are available through FHA for continuation of farming operations.

Widespread hail damage was inflicted recently in the High Plains region of Texas and many producers lost cotton and milo crops to wind and hail from spring and summer storms.

"Loans of this nature will assure Texas farmers of an opportunity to produce an alternate cash crop and thus keep a portion of our state's largest industry in operation," Tower said.

at Tech through the on-campus work-study program to help meet school expenses. He maintains projectors and related equipment for the school's audiovisual department. She has been working part-time as a clerk in the student financial aid section and, as they scheduled, is working full-time this summer. She plans to work next summer, also, while waiting for him to catch up in their graduation plan.

Both are graduates of Muleshoe High School; Bob was graduated in 1969 and Lana in 1970. After high school, Bob spent six months in the U.S. Army at Ft. Ord, Calif. and at Ft. Bliss, Texas.

The Bomers plan to return to Muleshoe for employment after graduation. They presently reside in Creek Village Apartments in Okmulgee.

Bob is the son of Mrs. Louise Bomer, 1829 Ave. C, Muleshoe, and Lana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Moore, Rt. 3, Muleshoe.

Oklahoma State Tech is the residential, vocational-technical branch of Oklahoma State University. Tech offers 52 separate courses of instruction in 16 career interest areas and is the largest vocational school of its type in the nation. Students may enroll in September, January and June.

Muleshoe Artists Exhibit In Lubbock Membership Show

Two Muleshoe artists are among the eight winners of the Lubbock Art Association's 21st annual membership show. Ruth Hammock had one of the three top winning paintings, a watercolor windmill scene, Mattie Hicks received one of five honorable mentions for an acrylic painting of a sandstorm entitled "Moving On."

Ruth Hammock will be honored next summer with a three-man invitational show at the Lubbock Garden and Arts Center with the other top winners, Mac Carow and Mike Atkinson, both Lubbock artists. The Lubbock Art Association now has over 300 members and this show is an annual event to encourage membership.

Mrs. Hammock is a free lance artist. She has received recognition in each competitive exhibition entered, and has participated in several invitational shows. She exhibits regularly at arts and crafts fairs in this region with Earld Gross of Muleshoe and her works have been presented in numerous other fairs by galleries, art groups and fellow artists. Mrs. Hammock and Mrs. Gross are presently preparing for the Ruidoso Fair and the Lubbock Fiesta. Mrs. Hammock enjoys painting in a variety of mediums including watercolors, oil, acrylic, pastel, pencil and pen-and-ink. She is widely known for her animal portraits. She attempts to impart her love of life and rapport with nature through her interpretations of Southwest scenes, people, animals and things. Her paintings have been said to involve the viewer in a sense of "remembering" as it becomes apparent that the artist strives for a personal acquaintance with each subject whether it be an old house, a young child or an ageless scene.

Mrs. Hammock has lived in Muleshoe for 24 years where she and her husband, John Hammock, are in the irrigation business. Her many hobbies include raising Basenji (ba-sen-gee) dogs and working with animal research on congenital hemolytic anemia, a condition common to both Basenjis and humans.

Mrs. Mattie Hicks is well known in the Muleshoe area, having lived here her entire life except for six years on a ranch near Pueblo, Colo. She is a graduate of Muleshoe High School, as is her husband, Jack Hicks, who was born and reared on the Muleshoe Ranch. They have three children, Jimmie, Andrea and Tammye.

Mrs. Hicks has been a nurse for many years and has only recently retired to paint full time. She paints in both oils and acrylics. Mrs. Hicks has no favorite subject, painting florals and still life as well as local ranch scenes and landscapes.

She has won citations in the local shows as well as in the Lubbock City Circuit, and is currently exhibiting in an invitational show at Saint Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock.

Mrs. Hicks has studied with Elizabeth Black and Blanche Lenderson in Muleshoe, and in workshops with Dr. Emilio Caballero, Mary Lee Garrett, Raymond Froman, Harold Roney and Harold Scott.

The winners' paintings of the Lubbock Membership Show are being displayed in an invitational show at the First National Bank of Tahoka during the month of August.
