FARMERS ARE ASKED TO SHIP BY AMERICAN VESSELS.

Uncle Sam owns a merchant marine. It was built in wartime. Its cost was something like $3,000,000,000. Chairman T. V. O'Connor of the United States shipping board appeared before the annual convention of the National Farm Grange, held in the city of Rochester, and made a strong plea with American farmers to use American ships for the transportation of their freights and in their travels aboard. He declared that diverting emergency ships to ocean trade in 1926 saved American agricultural interests several hundred million dollars when many British flag ships were withdrawn to carry coal to England. This is the O'Connor argument: "I need scarcely point out the utter folly of depending on a commercial rival to carry your goods to market, for it is a foregone conclusion that he will invariably leave you in the lurch whenever stronger interests call him elsewhere. This was graphically illustrated during the world war when foreign vessels sorely needed at home, withdrew in large numbers from the American trade and left our shippers without adequate overseas transport for our farm products and other commodities. The fact that foreign ships cannot always be depended upon to serve American interests gives us one of the strongest arguments for building up a merchant marine of our own. Another almost equally strong, is that the operation of a fleet of merchant ships tends very materially to stabilize ocean freight rates which otherwise would be fixed arbitrarily by foreign carriers of our exports and imports. Still another argument for having our own ships is that they are essential as naval auxiliaries in time of national emergency."

Regardless of all pacifist talk, the products of America should be carried to the nations of the earth by American ships and the navy of America should be able to cope in wartime with the nations of the world on the seven seas. John Bull has the most powerful navy in the world. He is ready for any emergency. Why shouldn't Uncle Sam be ready for any emergency on land or sea? Mars has not been sent to his grave and the sword has not been turned into a plowshare.

Judge Dabney spoke on the subject of "Immigration and Present Conditions," and advocated a greater restriction on immigration into this country and pointed out that the element in this country, with its lower standard of living, was competing with American labor whose standard of living was so much higher that American labor was being put out of work while the foreign laborer was employed after election and while members of the legislature.

In terms of the individual, it is easier to be born in East Texas but it's harder to die in West Texas. Vital statistics of the state health departments show the greatest increase in both births and deaths in East Texas.

A few more counties in East Texas show gains in births than in West Texas; but the ratio of counties showing a decrease in deaths for West Texas is more than four times the number in East Texas showing a decrease.

Six Escaped Maniacs Still At Large Today

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Six escaped criminal madmen, one an acid killer, another a murderer and still another a dangerous pyromaniac, matched their cunning against state and city authorities today in an effort to stay free. Police agencies pressed a vigorous search for them in Metropolitan New York and in the wooded section of Westchester county, but they successfully eluded all who were hunting for them.

Their escape from the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane near Beacon just before dawn yesterday was effected with daring and efficiency by three armed men who overpowered eight hospital guards and fled with the six inmates in an automobile toward New York City.

Soon after the escape, the fugitives' automobile was sighted at Peekskill, 15 miles from Beacon on the road to New York, where a squad of policemen was waiting. But the men-sighting the officers, swerved their car into a side street and disappeared. Since then one of the escaped men has been seen. He is Frank Van Der Kuylen, an acid murderer and bigamist, who a few hours after his escape, attempted to enter the apartment occupied by his wife and their two children in Manhattan.

Van Der Kuylen was refused admission and left. Later he appeared at the rectory of St. Albert's church, where he babbling out the story of his escape to Father Cyril Roosen, He muttered something about "giving myself up to the district attorney." When Father Roosen stepped out of the room for a moment, supposedly to get a match but really to spar for time until he could determine what to do, Van Der Kuylen disappeared.

Detectives were stationed by New York police near the homes of relatives and close friends of the escaped men in the event the fugitives should decide to revisit old haunts.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — The significance of the new conciliatory attitude of administration Republicans in Congress is that they had a splendid chance to be as dumb as politicians ordinarily are supposed to be—and deliberately neglected the opportunity. It is quite true that no one had to be especially foxy to perceive the advantages of capitulation, but the attitude of sweet reasonableness suddenly displayed by Chairman Bert Snell of the House Rules Committee and Floor Leader Jim Watson of the Senate had not been commonly expected.

There is also the sound thought that the supposed will of the voters, as expressed in November's elections, will be partially effective in this short session even though the newly elected Congress does not sit for another year. For it is the realistic specter of that next Congress which now promises to persuade the Republican House machine to permit 435 representatives to vote on the Norris Muscle Shoals bill, the lame duck amendment, the Wagner unemployment bill and other legislation supported by Republican progressives.

Mr. Hoover and other regular Republicans would be just as happy—perhaps happier—if the Seventy-second Congress never met at all. The thought of calling it into special session before its time, with its anti-administration majorities, is indescribably abhorrent. A combination of Senators insurgents and Democrats presumably could force such a session, so from that standpoint alone a willingness to allow certain legislation to come to a vote in the House might seem a small price to be set-up as it and as is to be, the anticipated backdown of the Longworth-Snell-Tilson triumvirate seems a highly strategic retreat from every point of view.

G. O. P. Now Has Majority

In the present lame duck House, the administration Republicans have a large actual majority—mates in an automobile toward New York City.

Obviously, if there is any legislation which the administration wants to influence, now is the time rather than in the next regular or special session. For one thing, it is now able to exert persuasive pressure on the lame ducks, many of whom would appreciate appointive federal jobs. And where as it might be able to pass or defeat measures in accordance with its desires now, that possibility will be non-existent when Congress meets.

Snell believes that a House majority favors the Norris Muscle Shoals bill for government operation, and the same is probably true as to some of the other measures which now seem likely to be voted upon. Nevertheless, there is little to be gained by delaying such votes and there is something to be lost. There is also more chance now of exacting compromises from the other side than there will be later.

Voters Will Forget

Another point is that it will be much more difficult to override presidential vetoes in this Congress than in the next, both because of the present G. O. P. strength and the fact that the session is so short and crowded.

Then there's the political viewpoint. That next Congress will not do any real business before the beginning of 1932, a full election year. There will then be another legislative jam, complicated by campaign considerations. It will be much easier for many members to vote on controversial issues in this session, as passage of a year makes a vote so much less effective as an issue against an incumbent. Also, any sensible president who wants to veto a power not wait until the year in which he comes up for re-election, re-election or both.

BARBS

Many a judge thinks that because staccato writing is the rage nowadays he, too, can make his sentences short.

A sports writer deplores the fact that the clamor is for touchdowns instead of ethics. But in football, what team can see any point in ethics?

When a poet puts his mind into a poem the result, in the opinion of the weary editor, is very often blank verse.

There have been 640 different makes of automobiles since the birth of the auto industry, says a statistic. And most of them, of course, have since re-tired.

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Dec. 5.—Unable to agree on a verdict, the jury in the trial of Dan Horton, for the murder of his wife, was dismissed yesterday after nearly forty hours of deliberation. Mrs. Horton died June 28, 1928. The state contended she was poisoned.

Otis Rogers Wins Another Victory In Trial Court

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 5.—Otis Rogers, slender 27-year-old University of Texas graduate who two years ago won freedom for his wife, Becky Rogers, on charges of robbing a Buda bank, today went home to Fort Worth with another legal triumph to his credit.

A jury last night exonerated John Alsup former Fort Worth policeman, on charges of murdering George Terrell, negro in a "framed" bank robbery to obtain a $5000 reward after an hour and a half plea by Rogers, defense attorney. Mrs. Rogers was present to congratulate her husband, Alsup and Mrs. Alsup also hugged the attorney. Alsup still is under a 20-year sentence for the slaying of another negro in the affair. An appeal is pending.

Rising Star To Have Rifle Club, Charter Granted

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—With the approval of charter, announced here today by the National Rifle Association, the Rising Star Rifle Club, of Rising Star, Texas, became an active organization and one of more than two thousand rifle-shooting outfits functioning throughout the United States and possessions. The club's 16 charter members will now begin practice under the coaching of Charles Ballou, executive officer. An inscribed charter is being sent to the club secretary, C. F. Thomas. The other officers are: Cecil Shults, president; H. H. Jones, vice-president; A. T. Shults, publicity officer.

The Rising Star outfit is in the class known as civilian rifle clubs, hundreds of which are to be found in almost every state in the Union. There are also junior clubs operating in high schools, summer camps, Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. organizations. Great industrial plants, American Legion posts, churches and community centers are organizing senior rifle clubs for the sport and training of their members.

Members of the Rising Star Rifle Club will fire for medals awarded by the National Rifle Association and matches will probably be arranged in the near future with some nearby club.

Boy 11, Leaves Home To Find Texas Cowboys

MCKINNEY, Tex., Dec. 5.—Armed with two cap pistols, three pocket knives, a flashlight, sundry marbles and 60 cents in cash, John Walker, 11, set out from Independence, Kansas, to get first hand information on Texas cowboys and longhorns.

Today he awaited the arrival of his mother, Mrs. Zona Walker of Independence, just the least bit resentful that he was to be returned to his home without the experience and information he sought. Mrs. Walker was en route here after police had notified her of John's whereabouts.

Because real cowboys and steers didn't frequent the byways of Independence, he quitted his home Monday. They had cows, just plain cows—there he confided, but he sought the real longhorns.

His mode of transportation was simplicity itself—just stand on the road and a driver will pick you up he said. Housewives along the route were delighted to give him a bed and breakfast.

Markets

Final Stocks NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—A late upturn overcame some of the earlier 1 to 6 point losses on the stock exchange today to bring about an irregular close.

Some issues finished the day with gains of as much as four points.

Victorious selling went ahead in the railroad shares in the early dealings and this group broke 1 to 5 points. New lows since 1924 were made by Jersey Central, Nickel Plate and Southern Railway; New York Central made a new low since 1926; Lackawanna made a new low for this century.

Despite this weakness, the leading industrials showed stubborn resistance to bear pressure. Even the rails rallied from their lows before the close under the lead of Atchafalpa which rose 3 points from its low.

Fire Chiefs Are Urged To Prevent Holiday Fires

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 5.—A call to fire chiefs and fire marshals to join in a state campaign against holiday fires was issued here today by state fire insurance commissioner J. W. Deweese.

Fire prevention is the firemen's big work, not fire fighting, Deweese, systematic inspector prior to the holidays, said.

"Christmas holidays," said Deweese, "introduce special hazards both in the home and commercial districts because of combats decorations and use of candles, lanterns and fireworks. Firemen should be vigilant in their efforts to have been impregnated with fireproof solutions. These are available and prevent ready ignition."

"Asbestos should be used instead of cotton for snow and dyes should not be put on Christmas trees, in windows or on curtains."

"It can be set by the holidays with a low fire loss. Deweese stated the 1930 fire loss in this state will be below that of 1929. That is a goal the department striving to reach."

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 5.—University of Texas committee social organizations, has adjourned to meet Monday afternoon at hearing testimony to determine Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, an organization, bears any responsibility for actions at the fraternity house Thanksgiving Day.

Daily Menu

BREAKFAST—Orange sections, cereal, cream, waffles, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCH—Creamed Spanish onions with croquettes, hearts of celery, cranberry sauce, vanilla wafers, mints.

DINNER—Cannelloni, beef, scalloped potatoes, green fritters, grape fruit, green pepper salad, toast, crackers, graham or pudding, milk, coffee.

Take another egg yolk in a bowl and slowly beat in curd dressing, continuing usual until all the lemon juice oil is used.

It will with a Dover beater, same beater often will beat lumps out of a white sauce. It has been made too big a ball. If the sauce is very lumpy it may be rubbed through a fine sieve, reheated.

A tomato cream soup shows an inclination to curdle. It can be converted into a thick soup.

Remedy for this is to add half a cup of a whole cup of sliced raw potatoes to the soup. Let stand 10 or 15 minutes, remove potatoes and serve. The potatoes absorb the excess salt.

Delicately flavored vegetables such as asparagus and peas require very little salt, particularly when dressed with butter for serving. Use salt sparingly, for it's easy to use salt to suit individual needs.

If the mayonnaise separates, rubbed together in the proper of 1 tablespoon butter and 1 spoon flour to each cup of dressing.

A gelatine jelly that refuses stiffen in the required length of time can be hurried if more time is afforded in cold water, solved over hot water and set at once to the offending jelly. If jam becomes hard and before it is used, place in moderate oven, until the mints melt. When cool the jam is most as good as new.

Bolled frosting that has been running when put on the cake, made stiff by adding powdered sugar until the mixture will put.

PRODUCTION IS STRUCK BY THREE WELLS

Production has been encountered by three Eastland county wells during the past week.

The Mook-Texas No. 12 Sibley in the Staff district, south of Ramger, has been drilled to a depth of 875 feet. A gas sand was found from 851-73, producing 1,240,000 cubic feet of gas a day with a rock pressure of 240 pounds.

The Belva Oil company's No. A-1 Good, in the Ramsower pool, east of Eastland, was drilled to 3,727 and lost the ball, then was recompleted at 3,430-76 as a 15-barrel well on the pump.

The Lone Star Gas company's No. 1 Smith, drilled to 3,875 feet, struck 376,000 cubic feet of gas with 960 pounds of rock pressure at 3,815-28 feet.

Four Additional Indictments Are Filed On Judge

CONROE, Tex., Dec. 5—Four new indictments were returned today in the case of county Judge A. W. Morris and J. M. Griffith.

The new indictments, the same as the others pending against the men, cover the periods when Morris was cashier of the now defunct First State Bank of Conroe and Griffith was cashier of the Farmers & Merchants Bank, which absorbed the former and later was closed itself.

The new indictments were three for embezzlement against Morris and one for embezzlement against Griffith.

A change of venue to Grimes county has been granted in Morris' case.

Seven indictments were returned against Morris last month, charging him with embezzlement. Griffith was indicted for burning and secreting bank records, embezzlement and making false entry in a bank's books.

Trial Of Army Surgeon Opens In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Dec. 5—The trial of Maj. Charles A. Shepard, army surgeon charged with murdering his wife, opened in federal district court here shortly after 10 a. m. today.

Defense counsel waived formal arraignment and entered a plea of not guilty for him.

Twelve prospective jurors were called to the box and examination of the panel was started immediately.

Burma Earthquake Takes Severe Toll

LONDON, Dec. 5—A severe earthquake which took a heavy death toll occurred in Burma today. An exchange telegraph dispatch from Rangoon said 22 persons were killed and more than 90 others injured at the town of Pyu, some 150 miles north of Rangoon.

Fire destroyed many homes.

The earthquake was registered on seismographs in Italy last night (Rome time) which reported the activity continued for two hours.

The superstitious natives of Burma ascribed the earthquake to the decision of the London round table conference to separate Burma from India, the exchange telegraph dispatch said.

The town of Toungoo was severely damaged and many large buildings fell. Communications throughout the region were disrupted.

Mothis Dam Can Be Repaired Before The Spring Rains

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 5—Repairs can be made to the Mathis Dam in time to store water from the spring rains, chairman John A. Norris and Charles Clark of the state board of water engineers said today upon their return from an inspection of the dam.

A portion of its earthwork washed out during November. There will be no water shortage as a College Cruelties THE colleges, it seems, have not fallen into step on the national movement to provide employment for heads of families, married men, etc. Witness the way West Point treated Christian K. Cagle as soon as the military authorities discovered he was married. Likewise, see what happened to Joe Savoldi, the Wandering Wop of South Bend. Both had to find work playing pro football finally. Mr. Cagle with the New York Giants, and Mr. Savoldi with the Chicago Bears. Another failure on the part of the colleges.

R. T. Jones, Jr. and Money EVEN in his renunciation of further tournament golf to make a dozen movies for $200,000, Bobby Jones retains amateur sincerity. Jones could have made twice as much money as he is being guaranteed for the pictures, if he had desired to endorse certain commercial golf products in connection with his film exhibitions. Mr. Jones chose not to endorse.

It is hard to think that we have seen the last of Bobby Jones in national competition. He could appear with the best of grace in the 1931 open.

Not only would his appearance in that event help golf but it would serve as a nice ballyhoo for the Jones films.

If Jones should change his mind and enter, it would not be because he wants to ballyhoo the pictures, however. Anyone who knows Jones will bet on that.

I prefer to think his entry would be the response to the call to competition that he might discover to be irresistible. But it must be said that Bobby is quite a sturdy little resister.

When Comedians Disagree JUST why Nick Altrock and Al J. Schacht have become all fed up with one another and parted company hasn't been satisfactorily explained. Perhaps it is merely the arid temperament asserting itself—the "serious heart that beats under the grotesque spangles of the clown," and all that, Clarice.

But once during the summer when they were staging their comedy boxing act before a ball game, Al wound up and let Nick have a

Construction of T. U. Building Will Be Started Soon

DALLAS, Dec. 5—Construction of a new $234,131 classroom building at the University of Texas will start at once, it was announced at the office of the architects, Greene, Laroche and Dahl, here today. R. E. McKee, El Paso, is contractor.

Preacher-Bandit Continues 40-Day Fast In His Cell

WICHITA, Kas., Dec. 5—Suffering occasionally dizzy spells but otherwise in good condition, Rev. E. W. Parkes, confessed bandit who held up a department store here in Tulsa and tried to rob a Wichita oil man of $5,000 today entered the eleventh day of his 40-day fast.

"I feel fine except for being a little faint and dizzy at times," he said "But I think I'll make the 40-day fast all right."

DID YOU KNOW THAT—BOBBY JONES HAS BEEN strong for the larger, lighter ball since he first played it. . . . He says that fellows who can't break 100 actually should be playing with a "foater". . . . But it would be taking your life into your own hands to tell them that. . . . Contestants in the recent Oregon open held a driving contest. . . . and it was discovered the smaller, heavier ball averaged about five yards better on distance. . . . Jones says he favors the new ball because it rewards skill rather than slugging. . . . It gives a man a chance to draw his approach finer and makes an intentional slice easier. . . . and provides a wider variety of shots. . . . because it sits up, it is easier to hit with a mashie or mashie-niblick.

Why, Mr. Meehan! CHICK MEEHAN, coach at New York U., breaks into print, as he frequently does, with a statement that it would not surprise him to see Yale, Harvard or Princeton players on some of the All-America teams, "proving conclusively that All-America teams are the bunk."

In justice to Mr. Ben Ticknor, it seems to me that Chick should have qualified that a little bit. A player who makes not less than three-fourths of his team's tackles, recovers his team's fumbles, intercepts the other team's forward passes, tosses the ball himself with rifle-like precision, outguesses the enemy all afternoon and far into the night and tackles people so hard that the ball shoots out of their arms like a cork out of a pop gun, is no ruy to throw rocks at. But maybe Chick never thought of that.

He has promised the county physician that if the fast affects his health too much he will eat.

Cities Must Pay On Salaries Of County Schools

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 4—State school superintendent S. M. N. Marrs ruled today that city school districts must pay a proportionate share of the salaries of county school superintendents. The ruling, made in the case of the city of Austin, applies to all cities. The Austin case, was a test one, backed by a number of cities.

The decision will be protested and planned before the state board of education which meets here Dec. 29. If the state board sustains Superintendent Marrs, a court test will be made.

The cities contend that the county school superintendents have nothing to do with city schools an dthat city school taxes cannot be used to help pay his salary. Supt Marrs rules that the schools are state institutions and all like participate in paying the county superintendent. The assessment against school districts to pay the salary is made on a basis of scholastic population.

Harris has ordered the Austin school board to pay its assessment toward the Travis county superintendent's salary by Jan. 1. If it is not paid by then, the assessment will be withheld from the state school apportionment payment to the city.

Smoking In Diners Is Being Urged

(From New York World)

A traveler requests that we re-sume our discourses in favor of smoking in railway dining cars. "Some roads let you smoke," he notes, "but most of them don't, yet the reason they don't is all nonsense. They say that women object to it, and that it makes the car smell stuffy. Well, I went to Washington the other night on a road that still prohibits it, and a girl lit a cigaret. At once a dozen people followed suit. The steward apparently thought that with so many smoking the best plan would be to ignore it, so he said nothing.

Now what I'm interested in is that at least half of those smoking were women and that the car did not become stuffy at all. Ventilation carried the smoke out, and everybody enjoyed his dinner."

This is interesting, but it seems to us that with respect to such things American railroads could learn much from Europe. There, the waiting line in the dining car is eliminated by the simple device of having a waiter go through the train and ask people when they want to eat, and issuing checks so that when they go into the car their table is reserved for them. And the smoking problem is handled by dividing the diner into two compartments, one for smokers and one for non-smokers, swinging door between. Certainly it would seem that something ought to be done, for smoking by now so associated with that being denied a cigaret many a real hardship.

The Ministerial Association, composed of representatives of all the churches in Eastland who have permanent pastors, voted in a meeting Thursday to change the time of the evening services of the churches from 7:30 to 7:00 o'clock effective Sunday evening, December 7.

This action was announced today by Dr. M. C. Franklin, president of the association.

CHURCHES

St. Francis Xavier Church

December 7th 1930. Mass at 10 a. m.

This is the Second Sunday in Advent. The Gospel is from St. Matthew XI. 2-10. Tomorrow Monday, is the Feast of the Immaculate Conception and is a holy-day of obligation. Mass will be at 8 a. m. The Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin is very often misunderstood by most non-Christians and even many Christians. This doctrine of the Immaculate Conception does not refer in any way to the birth of Christ. It means that the Blessed Virgin Mary, the mother of the humanity of Christ, was not only born free from original sin but was even conceived free from that sin. By original sin we mean the sin we inherit from our first parents, Adam and Eve. Every human soul is stained with original sin from the first moment of its conception or creation. Each human soul is created directly by God himself and placed in the human body when there is a human body capable of receiving an immortal soul. This is supposed to take place about nine months before the birth of the child; though we do not know exactly the hour or the day when the soul is placed in the body. Original sin enters the human soul the first moment of its existence and that sin is gotten rid of only by baptism. Hence the necessity of early baptism. The Catholic Church teaches and believes that original sin never entered the soul of the Blessed Virgin. Hence she was not only born free from the stain of original sin but was actually conceived free from that sin. Hence the extraordinary teaching, Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

AMONG the charming statistics of the football season just closing were some of the following games: Dartmouth 79, Norwich 0. Dartmouth 43, Allegheny 14. Army 54, Furman 0. Brown 54, Worcester Poly 0. Carnegie Tech 75, Burnside 3 (a moral victory). Cornell 46, Clark 0. Colgate 99, Bethany 0. Georgia 51, Mercer 0. Syracuse 49, Hobart 0. Yale 66, Alfred 0. Tulane 54, Southwestern Louisiana Institute 0. Pittsburgh 52, Waynesburg 0. Fordham 73, Baltimore 0. New Hampshire 59, Vermont 0. and so on down the line.

Yow! lots of seasoning."

Vermont is cited as an example in the flesh. Last year Vermont played New York U. and Yale on successive Saturdays. They learned football to the tune of 77 to 0 in the first game and 89 to 0 in the second.

"On the Monday after the Yale game," Trevor writes, "the Vermont coach, a United States army officer, sent me his casualty list. It began, 'one concussion of the brain—serious; one concussion—slight; and continued for two typewritten pages, listing such relatively minor hurts as dislocated knees, pulled tendons, cracked ribs, sprained ankles, muscle strains and broken collar bones."

Trevor has struck upon one of the worst evils in intercollegiate football. There is this difference between the modern butcheries and those of Nero's day, however. The Christians of modern college football go out of their way to be eaten by the lions.

And if a man wants to stick his head into a lion's mouth, it will provide only temporary relief to have him arrested. Maybe there ought to be a law.

RESUME TEST OF DEEP PAY

J. Frank Champion of Ranger will be in charge of operations at the Hopkins deep test on the Davise lease in the northwestern part of the county.

This well, which struck a gas stratum at 5,555 feet, is, structurally, the deepest well in the history of the United States. It has drilled through the Ellenburger lime and has reached the granite wash. The test holds untold possibilities for this section. It can mean the discovery of an entirely new field and a consequent boom.

It is very appropriate that the drilling of the well should be supervised by Mr. Champion for he was connected with the drilling of the discovery well in the Ranger field—the famous McCleskey gusher that caused the great oil boom. And now, more than 13 years later, he will have a big part in bringing in another well that can mean a new boom.

Mr. Champion is one of the best known oil men in West Texas and he has had charge of many important operations. A conference concerning the deep well was held Wednesday in the office of the Kane Oil company at Cisco and it was decided to cement the five-inch casing. At the meeting were, Mr. Hopkins, Mr. Gordon, Frank Weaver, Lloyd Edwards, G. A. Davison, Jake L. Hamon, J. E. Lewis, Jack Campbell, J. Frank Champion and W. D. Conway.

The funds subscribed for the continuing of the well will be jointly disbursed by the secretaries of the Ranger and Eastland Chambers of Commerce.

TYLER, Tex., Dec. 5.—Steady rains that beat the gridiron of Tyler into a sea of mire, have caused the postponement of the Tyler-Greenville bi-district title contest until Monday, Dec. 8. The contest was originally scheduled for this afternoon.

The decision was announced Thursday following a conference between athletic officials. If the downpour abates today, two days of sunshine are expected to put the Tyler High Lion field into playing condition.

MINNEOLA, Tex., Dec. 5.—Glimer High School's gridiron squad topped off an undefeated season's record here Thursday by downing the Mineola high team by the convincing score of 33 to 0. All four quarters of the tilt were played in a downpour of rain.

AMARILLO, Tex., Dec. 5.—A duel of the gridiron is expected to develop here Saturday afternoon when Mugs Fowler, quarterback for Amarillo High, and Boyce Magness, signal barker for Breckenridge High, vie for individual honors in the clash which decides the championship of districts one and two.

The Breckenridge squad is reported to be weary, having played two hard tilts since last Friday.

Ranger beat them on that day in one of the bitterest fusts of the season. The following Tuesday Breckenridge staged a comeback to take the district title away from Cisco.

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 5.—Although the Thanksgiving Day grid contest with the University of Texas marked the final gridiron appearance of seven members of the Texas Aggie eleven, three of the seven veterans will have opportunities to win further athletic laurels at A. & M. before graduation next spring.

Capt. Bill Floyd, Rubé Tracy, and Harry Stittler are letterman in track and are expected to prove strong contenders for letters next spring. Floyd holds the southwest conference record in the javelin and Stittler the conference pole vault record. For the past two years Tracy has been one of the leading quarter-milers in the conference.

OIL NEWS

PORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 5.—At a meeting held here Thursday of purchasers in the North Texas district, Standard Pipe Line Company agreed to accept 1,000 barrels daily from Continental and 800 barrels daily from Wagoner in an effort to allocate pipe line connections. Magnolia Pipeline Company contributed to the distributory move by accepting 1,000 barrels daily, bringing its total purchase in the district to 6,375 barrels daily.

Total nominations from the North Texas district for the next 15 days have been figured at 43,250 barrels daily, and under the prorating plan of four barrels marginal well allowable plus 53 per cent of potential above the amount, will place approximately 43,750 barrels daily on the market.

DALLAS, Dec. 5.—Appointment of H. N. Blakelee of Chicago as safety engineer for all divisions of the American Petroleum Institute and establishment of his national headquarters in Dallas, were announced Thursday by C. A. Young, head of the division of production headquarters here.

DALLAS, Dec. 5.—Conditions created by prorations of oil output will be discussed at a luncheon for Dallas petroleum geologists here Monday by Robert R. Penn, State proration chairman.

DENISON, Tex., Dec. 5.—Sherman Oil and Gas Company's Utiger test well, northwest of here, penetrated a gas sand at 821 feet here Thursday. Eight-inch casing will be set for a test.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 5.—Simur Oil Company has completed a new gasser in the Pettus field on its Holzmark block in the western part of the county. The well cored a sand rich saturated in oil. Its failure to make a producer was disappointing to scouts.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

STEPHEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO CHRISTIANITY

Acts 6:7-10; 7:54-60
And the words of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly...

And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.

And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

When they heard these things they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up steadily into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God.

And said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

Then they cried out with a loud voice, and said, He hath a blasphemous tongue: what meanest thou? he hath said that he seeth heaven opened, and the Son of man sitting on the right hand of God.

And they stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord, receive his spirit.

And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

The International Union Sunday School Lesson for Dec. 7, Stephen's Contribution to Christianity. Acts 6:7-10; 7:54-60

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of The Congregationalist

The contribution that Stephen made to Christianity should be considered under two aspects; namely, the effect of his witness and martyrdom upon the course of early Christianity in the hour of his sacrifice, and the effect of his example and the story of his triumphant death as an inspiring record for the future church.

All through the ages Stephen has stood as a noble martyr to the truth, quickening zeal in men of successive ages, and giving them courage in times of peril and necessity.

The description of Stephen is one that in itself sets before us a high ideal of Christian life. He was "full of grace and power," and his life was effectual in his work and leadership among the people.

It is the appalling tragedy of life that goodness and zeal for social welfare, instead of making the means so gentle and refined. But the witness of Stephen's life comes not only from his spirit under suffering, but from the freedom of his own life from every taint of narrowness. He stands before us not only as a great martyr, but essentially as a good man—a man whose life portrayed the work and influence of Christ.

men of loose and unsavory lives, feeling keenly the rebuke of their own evil ways, have also been roused to violence against the ways either by his words or by the manner of his life.

Apparently in Stephen's case it was the religious bigots who were responsible for having him stoned to death, though the plainness of Stephen's words, apparently, cut them not so much as his example. They could not stand to have their characters or their motives assailed, and they struck back in the way that men of vindictiveness in bigotry and in evil have always struck at gentleness and goodness.

But when one turns from the motives and actions of violent men to consider Stephen himself and the effect of his martyrdom and witness, tragedy is turned to glory. The sadness of his death is transformed into the spiritual satisfaction that was his, and the glory of the vision that came to him—the vision of heaven opened and the Son of Man standing on the right hand of God and receiving him as he called out in his hour of death, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit."

It is in contemplating such a scene and such an experience that inspiration and courage come to men both to face the crucial persecutions that have by no means ended in the world, and to face the lesser trials and troubles of life.

Stephen Set Standard

These surely we ought always to face with the realization that the souls that can bear up under the heaviest persecution, may will find strength to bear the lesser trials. There is no phase of life where the message of Stephen may not inspire us to greater strength and Christian daring. As the first of the martyrs, he has set a high standard for the servants of Christ who have followed him.

This is his contribution to Christianity—this and the supreme quality of his personal faith and life. There are men who have courted and borne persecution, whose own spirits have been by no means so gentle and refined. But the witness of Stephen's life comes not only from his spirit under suffering, but from the freedom of his own life from every taint of narrowness. He stands before us not only as a great martyr, but essentially as a good man—a man whose life portrayed the work and influence of Christ.

Beans Carry On

BEANS have won fame in American history as food for fighters. Whether we read of our sturdy forefathers fighting the odds of the wilderness to build their pioneer homes, existing largely on a fare of pork and beans, or of soldiers of Revolutionary times, eating their three pints of beans weekly, which was the army ration apportioned by Congress in 1775...

There are many dishes that combine the energy-giving bean with other lighter foods and that are thus adapted to the needs of the office worker or the person employed in less active work. Here is a suggestion which mothers will find an excellent main dish of the luncheon for school children or grown-ups:

Luncheon Beans: Fry six slices of bacon, then remove from fat. To the hot fat add one and one-half cups of sliced onions and one-fourth cup of sliced green pepper, and fry until tender but not brown. Add one No. 2 can of tomatoes and stew for five minutes. Arrange alternate layers of beans from a No. 2 can of baked beans, broken up bacon and the tomato mixture in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle four tablespoons of grated cheese on top, and bake in a moderate oven—375 degrees—for twenty to thirty minutes.

Also a Peace Favorite
But we don't need to have wars to eat beans. Statistics show an enormous peace-time consumption as well. For the person going out to see a play, a movie or to a party, a can of beans is a most convenient and economical way of supplying a maximum of reserve energy.

Fire In An Oil Company Plant Under Control

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—A spectacular fire which swept a Standard Oil Company plant on the East River waterfront in Brooklyn destroyed 20 tanks of crude oil and turpentine, and for a time set the East river ablaze with flaming oil, was brought under control by firemen early today.

Blazing oil and turpentine flowed into the East river and spread over the water, menacing shipping. Five fireboats joined apparatus from Brooklyn and Manhattan in fighting the flames.

Three docks were damed by the flaming oil on the river.

Western Team To Play East Being Picked By Bible

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 4.—Big Six conference circles today buzzed with comment and conjecture concerning the probable effect of the announced decision of Jarling Jim Bausch, Kansas University backfield star, to sacrifice his eligibility play in the East-West game at San Francisco December 27.

Whether or not Bausch's decision to withdraw from the conference competition will help pave the way out of the difficulty for Kansas, which has been facing restrictions from the conference because of charges of professionalism made against Bausch and other athletes is not known.

Coach Dana Bibe, of Nebraska, who is aiding in the selection of the West team, has announced the selection of the following other grid stars as members of his team: Colston Mills, University of Oklahoma.

Bochey Koch and Jake Wilson, Bay West team, and Marion University. Louie Long, Southern Methodist University. Dexter Shelley, Texas University.

Elmer Greenberg and Matt Broadstone, Nebraska University. The squad will include 22 men. The players will assemble in Denver for the trip to San Francisco, Bible said.

Drinking Habits Of the Southwest Are Now Changing

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 5.—A pronounced change in the drinking habits of the people of the Southwest and South—the areas of soft drink consuming areas of the nation—has taken place within the last few years, according to J. B. O'Hara, vice president and general manager of the Dr. Pepper Co. of Dallas, beverage manufacturers.

"Formerly," said Mr. O'Hara, "the market for soft drinks reached a tremendous volume during the hot summer months and then, with the advent of cold weather dropped off to a very low point. This was due largely to the fact that people regarded soft drinks as thirst quenchers and as a pleasant method of replacing the moisture required by the human body during intensely hot weather."

"But that situation, so far as Dr. Pepper is concerned, has been greatly changed. We began five years ago to advertise Dr. Pepper

A construction office has been opened on North Austin street. It is planned to complete the construction work by the first of the year, which means that thousands of dollars will be spent and employment given to many workers during that time.

TWO BLOCKS NEAR HODGES SCHOOL IS GREATLY IMPROVED

RANGER, Texas, December 5.—One of the most beneficial street improvement projects completed in a good while is the chalking of the two blocks north of Main toward the Hodges Oak Park school. The two blocks are as pleasant to drive over as paved street and pavement in front of the school is connected thereby with the pavement on Main.

The improvement of the street was done under the direction of Fire Chief Murphy.

FAMILY MENU

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer COOKING for two usually reduces itself to a mathematical problem, but in the case of deserts there are other important factors to consider.

With this in mind, small pudding dishes and pie pans, pint rather than quart molds, and small sauce pans should be chosen. Include a small dozer beater in the kitchen equipment. This beater and bowl will be indispensable for beating deserts of all kinds and very convenient for salad dressings.

Cocconut (topica) pudding is an excellent dessert for two persons. Cocconut Topica Pudding One-third cup pearl topica, 1 egg, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1/2 cup suet, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons grated cocconut (fresh or dried), 2 more tablespoons sugar.

Soak topica in milk overnight, or, if the pudding is wanted for dinner, put the topica to soak in the morning. Add sugar and coconut and spread over pudding. Return to moderate oven for eight minutes to puff and brown meringue. Serve warm.

Fig Pudding for Two Two tablespoons butter, 1-3 cup sugar, 1-2 cup milk, 1 egg, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 egg. Wash figs and cook until tender. This will take about one and one-half hours. Add sugar when half cooked and reduce juice to one-half cup when done. Drain

Daily Menu BREAKFAST California grapes, cereal, cream, ham, omelet, crisp toast, milk, coffee. from syrup and chop figs. Cream butter and sugar and sift in one-third the flour. Mix and sift remaining flour with baking powder and salt. Add yolk of egg well beaten with 2 tablespoons milk to first mixture. Add remaining milk and dry ingredients alternately to mixture. Mix well and stir in chopped figs. Pour into a buttered pudding dish and set in a pan of hot water. Bake one hour in a moderate oven. The syrup from the figs and the white of egg are used for the sauce. Pudding Sauce One-half cup powdered sugar, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 egg white, 1-2 cup fig syrup. Cream butter and sift in sugar. Beat until creamy. When ready to serve add the hot syrup and white of egg beaten until stiff and dry. One cup of flour will make enough pie dough for a small two-crust pie. Two cups of filling are necessary for this size pie.
