

Eastland Echoes

By Casey

THOUGHT FOR TODAY: "Men seldom die of hard work; activity is God's medicine." — (R. S. MacArthur).

Selection of Bob Perkins — and his gracious acceptance — of the important chore of finance chairman for Eastland's first United Fund drive will be universally popular in our community.

President Tom Wilson and his irate are delighted that he has agreed to head up the drive and they are expecting ready and willing co-operation on the part of his assistants and, also, the contributing public. . . At least a half-dozen drives will be rolled into one in this movement and thus most assuredly deserves to succeed.

"A popular person," says Uncle Mat, "is one who gives his candid opinion."

The other day we ordered a new typewriter ribbon for Roy Turner. It seems to us that we'd never seen one before. Thursday's church announcement was written with it and we notice that makes quite pretty writing.

"Buck" Pickens, Eastland, now of Fort Worth, in accepting a Chamber of Commerce invitation to the Lake Leon opening celebration Sept. 3-4, wrote: "We took the Ben Hamners up on an invitation to spend the week-end there, with them — rather hurriedly, before they changed their minds."

What! Christmas this early? The all-day dumped a letter on our desk addressed to Santa Claus, perhaps, this week-end (early, I trust, that is), and of course, faithfully forwarded it to Mr. Kingle himself. We did take a peek into it, however, to find that in childish riddle (no signature) only pictures of desired presents were included there. . . Nothing like getting your bid in early, at that — while there's the proverbial "wide leg" stay right in there and get-beaver of 'santy!

Today's best place to go: Church.

Fine Technical Training In AF Told By Hoyle

"The finest technical training in the world is now offered young men and women entering the United States Air Force," according to Sergeant Grady Hoyle, local Air Force recruiter. One of the ten schools operated by the Technical Training Air Force, a new and important division of the Air Training Command, is located at Francis E. Warren Air Force Base. The base was named after the former governor and first United States Senator from Wyoming. The installation is two miles west of Cheyenne, Wyoming, and is the training center for administrative specialists.

In addition to training clerks, typists, Warren's curriculum includes courses for automotive mechanics, supply technicians, telephone and telephone personnel, and operators for special purpose motor vehicles such as gasoline trucks, cranes, and bulldozers. Originated to train technical specialists for the Air Force, the Technical Training Air Force has graduated over one million such specialists in its three years of existence.

During their basic training period, Air Force volunteers are given a series of tests and interviews to determine which of the 199 courses offered in the technical training program he or she is best suited for.

The latest training methods and equipment are used in the technical schools of the Air Force, which have learned through experience that the "learn-by-doing" system of teaching produces the best-trained personnel. Qualified men and women who are interested in learning more about the advantages of the United States Air Force are urged to contact Sgt. Hoyle at Eastland each Monday.

GREENBACK SEASON IS ENDED

The Eastland National Bank Greenbacks, winners of district play in this area, lost out of regional play Friday night at Sportsman Field in Brownwood.

This was the eastern half of the National Junior Teen-Age Baseball Play-off. Four teams were entered in this play-off, including San Angelo, Stamford, Brownwood and Eastland.

In Thursday night's game San Angelo defeated Stamford, and Brownwood defeated the Greenbacks. In Friday night's game Brownwood defeated San Angelo, and the mighty Greenbacks defeated Stamford by a score of eight and one.

This play-off left the Greens out of the play-off with Brownwood winning first place, Eastland and San Angelo tying for second place, and Stamford coming in last.

This will be the last of baseball this season for the Greenbacks and the management would like to say "hats off to the Greenbacks for a wonderful season of play."

Bathing Revue Entries Solicited In West Texas

Thirty-seven West Texas towns have been invited to place beautiful entries in the Lake Leon Bathing Revue, which will be held Sept. 4, second day of the celebration of the opening.

The invitations were sent by letter from the Chambers of Commerce of Ranger and Eastland, sponsors of the celebration.

Dave Pickrell of Ranger is chairman of the revue and Bill Archer of Eastland is co-chairman. Mrs. Art (Marene) Johnson of Eastland will be the announcer.

Newspaper covering the celebration will serve as judges in the bathing beauty contest, which is to be staged near the dam of the 35-mile shoreline lake. Cash prizes will be awarded winners.

Girls 16 or older will be eligible to compete. Sponsors will be confined to civic clubs, lodges, schools or other organizations. Each contestant is required to send a photo to one of the chambers of commerce by the Aug. 20 deadline.

Chairman Pickrell said interest in the revue indicates the entry list will be extensive.

First entry in the bathing revue scheduled as a portion of the Lake Leon formal opening ceremony Sept. 3-4 was received at Ranger Friday.

County Test In Cisco Section Is Given Up

Chance for a Hickory Sand Oil producer in the area four miles northwest of Cisco was erased this week as Gilchrist Drilling Company et al, prepared to plug and abandon their No. 1 W. L. (Roy) Pippet as a dry hole.

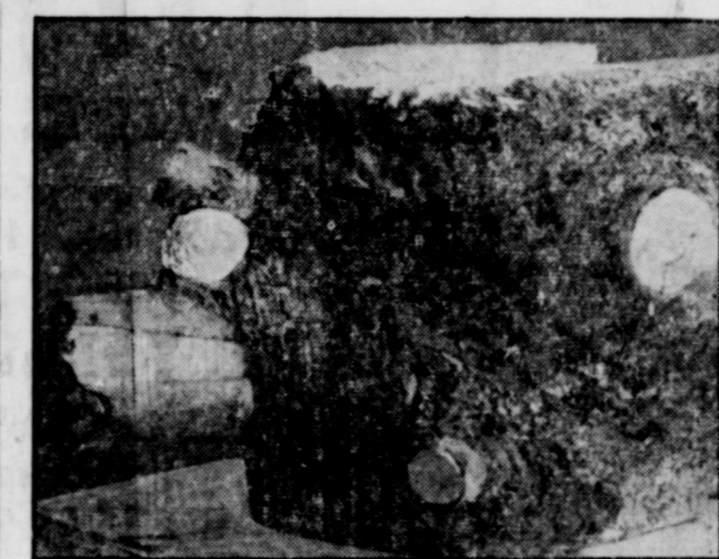

The deep wildcat went to a depth of 5,484 feet. A 100-foot section of Hickory Sand was drilled before the drill bit struck the top of granite. An electric log confirmed the fact that the hole had no production possibilities, it was reported.

Bankline Oil Company, one of the area's largest producers, was interested in the project, along with others. They took an old hole that was drilled to 4,100 feet in 1941 by Lone Star Producing Company and deepened it to test the Hickory.

Location for the project was a 1,385 feet from the south and 1,785 feet from the east line of Section 502, SP Survey.

The drilling equipment still was on location at the A. B. Edwards No. 1 M. Slaughter, five miles southeast of Cisco, for another probable Hickory test. The project went to the Ellenberger recently and operations were halted pending arrangements for the Hickory test. This location is in Section 48, Block 3, H&TC Survey.

According to reports, the W. L. Meadows, Jr., Midland, No. 1 Wright Estate has been abandoned as a dry hole. Location was six miles southeast of Cisco in Section 4, Block 3, H&TC Survey.

Crash Dead Jet Pilots Had Lately Visited In Eastland

Two jet pilots from Perrin Air Force Base who lost their lives in an air accident Thursday afternoon were close friends of Lt. Pat Murphy of Eastland and all three were recent guests in the home of the last named officer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy.

The flyers—2nd Lt. Conrad J. Zubalik and 1st Lt. Elmer C. Bybee—were dinner guests in the home of the late officer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy, last Saturday evening.

The crash of a T-33 jet trainer near the north end of Grapevine Lake had killed Lt. Zubalik, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Zubalik of Greensburg, Pa., and 1st Lt. Bybee, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bybee of Walden, Colo. Both men were bachelors. Lt. Murphy will escort the body of his friend, Lt. Zubalik, to Pennsylvania.

"To our son, their close friend, and to us, too, of course, the tragic happening came as a terrific shock," said Lt. Murphy's mother. Investigators said one body was found in the fuselage and the other was about 50 feet away from the crash site, just on the Tarrant side of the Tarrant-Denton County line. The aircraft was not destroyed by fire.

Comments - Bulldogs In Final Playoff

Little League baseball will come to a close Saturday night at Freeman's Field with only two teams left in the play-off, these being the Comets, with no losses, and the Bulldogs with one loss.

In the first game Thursday night the Comets won over the Bulldogs by a score of fourteen to thirteen. The Bulldogs took an early lead in the game and in the bottom of the fourth the Bulldogs were ten runs ahead and the Comets were at bat with two outs and the game was about ready to be called due to the ten run rule when the Comets rallied in seven runs to get back in the game. The Comets rallied in five more runs in the fifth, winning a victory over the Bulldogs.

The second game, between the Medics and the Lions, was more or less a carbon copy of the first game with the Medics leading the Lions by five runs until the last half of the sixth and final inning when the Lions pushed in six runs to win the game by a fourteen-thirteen victory, this making two losses for the Medics and propping them from the tournament leaving only three teams. In Friday night's game the Bulldogs won over the Lions by a small margin of seventeen to sixteen, this game dropping the Lions from tournament play, leaving only the Bulldogs and the Comets in tournament play.

Baseball was to get under way at seven o'clock Saturday night as those two remaining teams will play their hearts out trying to win the trophy that is being presented. In the event the Bulldogs win over the Comets, they will play another game immediately to decide the winner, but in the event the Comets win there will be only one game.

After the game there will be a trophy awarded to the Medics, winner of the League, and also a trophy presented to winner of the tournament. An all-star team will be announced and awards will be given to each boy chosen. This all-star team will enter in tournament play at Cisco Monday night in a single elimination tournament.

Christian Science

The fact that spiritual understanding of God results in practical goodness, health, and power will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson Sermon entitled "Spirit."

Among the passages to be read from Science and Health is the following (19:23): "The calm, strong currents of true spirituality, the manifestations of which are health, purity, and self-immolation, must deepen human experience, until the beliefs of material existence are seen to be a bald imposition, and sin, disease, and death give everlasting place to the scientific demonstration of divine Spirit and to God's spiritual, perfect man."

The Golden Text is from Ephesians (5:9): "The fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth."

AROUND the TOWN

By Fay

Hints of the onrushing season: Various women's clubs and organizations meeting in committee sessions here and there working on yearbooks, the year's program, planning the opening meetings, ad infinitum, including the BETA SIGMA PHI's various committees meeting to plan the annual STYLORAMA, details of which will be announced later, but the time has been set for Tuesday night, Sept. 27, said MARENE JOHNSON, BSP sponsor here.

Orchids to the six Beta Sigma Phis — MARENE, MRS. BILL ARTHUR (prexy of Zeta Pi chapter), MRS. BILL HOFFMANN (president of Xi Alpha Zetas), MRS. JOE SPARKS, MRS. BRUCE PIPKIN and MRS. LUTHER WILSON — for going over to Ranger Wednesday night and assisting in organizing a Beta Sigma Phi chapter there.

CHILDREN VISIT HERE FROM HOBBS

Mrs. Lane Quarles and children, Elaine and Edward, of Hobbs, N. M., will return home Sunday after spending the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Freyschlag.

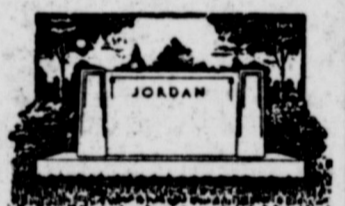

ROOM AT THE TOP—A soldier-mountaineer at the Army's Mountain and Cold Weather Training Command, Fort Carson, Colo., makes his way down the face of a mountain in a seat woven from mountaineering rope. The 120-foot length of rope is paid out from above by another climber who controls the rate of descent.

PAID IN FULL

John owed Fred $200 which he had borrowed several years back. John had been having a hard time and owed many bills. Because of his situation he thought Fred might accept less than $200 as payment in full. He sent Fred a check for $125 marked "In full for balance due on loan" on the face of the check. Fred cashed the check and started action to recover the other $75. Can he collect? Yes, he can, as a promise or agreement is unenforceable unless supported by consideration or by giving of value by the other party. John did not give Fred anything he was not obligated to give and hence there was nothing to bind any agreement to accept the $125 as payment in full.

However, there are two variations of this situation in which John could accomplish his result!

First, if there was an honest dispute concerning the balance due on the loan, such as a dispute over credits allegedly agreed upon for work performed for Fred, or a dispute over the interest due, then acceptance of the check could constitute what is called an "accord and Satisfaction." This may satisfy the debt in full, especially if "Paid in full" is marked on the back of the check and Fred endorses beneath it.

Second, if John should give something in addition to the check, other than money, such as a piece of furniture or an animal, the debt would be satisfied in full if Fred accepted both the check and the additional consideration.

There is a common conception in the minds of many people that a person cannot be sued on a debt so long as monthly payments in any amount (even $1) are made. This is not so, as once a debt is due the creditor may bring suit for the full amount, and acceptance of any lesser amounts does not waive rights of suit except as indicated above.

Texas A & M Virus Laboratory Begins Operation

COLLEGE STATION — Texas A & M's new $40,000 Virus Research Laboratory went into action Thursday, July 28. Number one problem facing the new lab is ornithosis in turkeys.

It is constructed, however, so that one type of virus can be handled in one work-room, and another in the next, with no chance of spread or mixing. Prescribed security measures eliminate a 11 chance of contamination.

The laboratory will cooperate with scientists and industry throughout the entire southwestern area; already, tissues and negative blood samples are being provided for serological studies.

Work now under way includes inoculation, at weekly intervals, of a group of turkeys; these are designed to reveal the birds' most susceptible age, and will yield gross and microscopic pathology data on the disease effects.

This fall, at least 150 members of a breeding flock will be infected artificially for observation of clinical behavior, serological response (for antibodies) and for incubation of eggs to check for possible egg transmission of the disease. At least 500 poulters from these eggs will be grown in isolation as a further check on the egg transmission theory.

Dr. John P. Delaplane, head of the Department of Veterinary Bacteriology and Hygiene in the college's School of Veterinary Medicine, will direct the laboratory's work.

Open Season May Be Put On Antelope

AUSTIN — The first apparent hunting dividend from the improving weather conditions was foreseen by the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission in the nature of a possible fall antelope harvest in both the Big Bend country and Panhandle.

He said census counts now underway indicate sufficient antelope numbers may be present to warrant an open season. The Commission which has authority to regulate harvest conditions on the basis of on-the-spot developments, decided against a shoot last fall.

The Director pointed out that, while conditions now are favorable, the final decision will not be made until the Commission meets in July.

Previously, it had been pointed out that the long dry spell had at least been partly broken in most Texas areas and that Wildlife was rallying accordingly.

The director emphasized that although the overall antelope population is limited, it is generally scientifically desirable to authorize a restricted shoot to absorb local surpluses.

Tentatively, on the basis of preliminary reports, he said up to four hundred buck antelope might be available for taking in an early October season West of the Pecos. The Panhandle shoot, very likely of smaller proportions, would be staggered with the Big Bend affair, to permit use of Commission personnel and equipment on both events.

Because buck antelopes ordinarily are harvested while herded up with does, close care has to be taken to avoid hunters' mistakes. Game wardens accompany the hunters who are issued permits for their privilege of stalking the fleet game animals.

The actual hunting designations are made from drawings held in Commission headquarters in Austin. It was stressed that, for the time being, the proposed hunts are strictly in the possibility stage and that nothing official will be available until after the aerial counts are taken and following the formal Commission decision next month.

"This is all we know about it now," said the Director. "We will announce the decision about the suggested open season when the facts are known. We hope sportsmen will refrain from writing us now. They will have plenty of time to make known their interest after the Commission has acted."

As a sideline hobby, he raises and trains Shetland ponies which is prompted by the enthusiasm of two horse-loving daughters.

An Illinois tinsmith was uninjured when he fell three stories while fixing a roof gutter. Lucky eavesdropper!

Rare Occassion; Flatheads Spawn In Captivity

The comparatively rare occurrence of a flathead or yellow catfish spawning in captivity was reported by the Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

He said the case is significant because flatheads, also known as Opelousas cats, are desirable for stocking the countless Texas farm ponds and tanks to reduce excessive populations of sunfish. Also, he added flatheads become very large, even as much as one hundred pounds in weight, and are known for their food quality.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said the latest flathead spawning was registered at the Dundee State Hatchery where H. W. Williams is superintendent. Only twice before had flatheads spawned in Texas hatcheries and then the production was limited to one hatch each.

Superintendent Williams now has paired up the male and female which produce the precious hatch in the hope that they will remain mated and continue to lay eggs every year. Some of the spawn has been forwarded to the laboratory at the San Marcos State Hatchery for studies and half of the remaining young flatheads were shared with the Possum Kingdom Hatchery for rearing.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist pointed out that state hatcheries over the years have produced channel cats without difficulty but that the flatheads were in greater demand. Their predatory qualities, needed to control the sunfish population, are accentuated by their voracious appetites and enormous size.

One problem in keeping catfish populations at proper levels in ponds and tanks centers around lack of natural spawning places. Catfish prefer holes or depressions under the water like in rivers where the current provides such areas. Where there is little water action, the necessary holes are not available.

Superintendent Williams simulated a natural spawning area by using a large stone crock somewhat larger than an ordinary milk churn. This device is generally used for channel cat spawning. The test tube flatheads weighed about ten pounds each.

One day Williams noticed the male on the "nest." Later, he saw the female enter the jar and when she reappeared, the superintendent inspected the nest and found that the pair had spawned.

The little flatheads hatched and immediately distinguished themselves by their vigorous activity and by their hearty appetites. Williams said they were eating the standard menu of fine meat scraps while they had their small yoke sacks visible on the outside of their bodies. All of which bodes possible good for fishing round the state.

At least one pharmaceutical house—Upjohn—is now sterilizing certain drugs by bombarding sealed containers of the substances with high-speed "bullets"—electrons—which kill any bacteria which might possibly have contaminated the products.

Scientists at Florida State University are seeking to determine if there is any relationship between the severity of a polio epidemic and the prevailing humidity, temperature range and barometric pressure at time of its occurrence.

Accidents Fourth As Cause Of Death In Texas

AUSTIN — Accidents rank fourth as a cause of death in Texas. According to Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, 5,372 Texans died last year of this one cause, while thousands more were crippled. There are no figures available on the number of days lost because of accidents, there can be no doubt but that it is tremendous.

Automobiles caused 2,519 deaths or 47 percent of the total. The dangerous curves and intersections on the highways in Texas are well marked and drivers can assist greatly in reducing accidents by carefully observing them.

Many accidents could be avoided if motorists would drive below the legal speed limits when tired, sleepy, in rainy weather, and when other hazards exist. One should adhere closely to the law regarding the dimming of lights for approaching cars. It is an old saying, but true, that those who drink should not drive.

Many deaths are caused by accidents in the home. A total of 650 deaths were caused last year by falls. In homes most of these fatal accidents occur on either outside or inside stairways. Of course, there are many other locations in the home where accidents can and do happen.

Disorderly housekeeping, poor furniture arrangement, slippery waxed floors, worn floor coverings, unanchored rugs, neglected repairs and dark or obstructed passageways are other fall hazards found in many homes. Short cuts and so-called time savers frequently lead to accidents. The time saved is insignificant compared to the cost and time lost from an accident. When everybody develops safety habits, accidents will not be "fourth" as a cause of deaths.

We don't exactly remember whether this motor car was a LaSalle or a Cadillac. But we do know that the owner—who most of you will recognize—was mighty proud of both the car and the new set of Seiberling tires that he had just bought from Jim Horton. And this was thirty years ago. At that time Jim George was known as the "Hamburger King" and operated a small cafe where the north sidebarber shop is now located. Mr. George has been in the cafe business in Eastland most ever since selling hamburgers and Jim Horton has been in the tire business ever since selling Seiberling tires.

"Mummy, what happens to us if the bomb drops?"

She looks to you for a real answer. She knows what she must do when the sirens sound at school. But what happens if they sound when she's at home? Will you be ready, like teacher is? Ready to protect her from harm? Ready to help her if she is hurt?

An atomic blast is something like a tornado, a fire and an explosion all rolled into one. Any of these may happen any day. They do happen every day, somewhere. But when they happen all at once, lots of people get hurt. Everybody needs help at the same time—and it may be hours before it comes to your home.

U. S. Civil Defense, working with doctors and atomic scientists, has developed a list of "must" disaster first-aid supplies. These few simple items may already be in your home or, if not, you can get them at any drug counter. For the sake of your children, your neighbors and yourself, these supplies should be in your home—and you should know how to use them.

Legislature Adds Teeth To Gaming Laws

Final tabulation shows that sixty-nine new laws affecting wildlife were passed by the recent Texas Legislature, reports the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said perhaps most important were the statutes, sponsored by the areas affected, to give the Commission regulatory authority over game and fish in seventeen additional Texas counties. This raises the total of such counties to sixty-seven.

The new laws will not be effective until September but in most of the counties involved, studies already have begun toward expanding or shrinking game and fish harvest regulations by fall, depending on conditions.

This is particularly true in the original so-called Possum Kingdom regulatory group which was increased from six to eighteen counties extending the northern limit to the Texas border and stretching the southern boundary almost to Austin.

Most of the laws, according to the Executive Secretary, are local in nature. One state-wide provision permits Texas residents sixty-five years of age and those under sixteen years of age to hunt and fish without a license. An Attorney General's opinion has been asked to clarify a section of this law which might permit such persons to hunt deer without an exempt license and thus excuse them from the two-tag provision affixed several years ago to clinch the two-buck per-season individual

Signs Of Life Safety Program Begins In Texas

"Traffic signs are Signs of Life. Know them and obey them." Mr. E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice-President of Employers' Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., gave that advice to motorists today as he urged them to support the Signs of Life program of the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This program is designed to promote better knowledge of traffic signs and signals and to encourage strict obedience to them.

"Traffic sign locations are determined by careful engineering studies," Mr. McFadden said. "Whenever you see one there's a sound reason for its presence, and it's to your advantage to obey it."

Mr. McFadden emphasized that traffic signs, signals and pavement markings for both motorists and pedestrians should be given the same obedience accorded a traffic officer.

He advised motorists to learn the Signs of Life by shape so that they may be recognized on sight. "Due to recent revisions in the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices," he said, "vacationing motorists may see signs of unfamiliar shape and color. The manual now recommends that the octagonal stop sign be red instead of yellow. It also recommends the use of a Yield Right of Way Sign, triangular in shape and yellow in color. This brings the number of basic signs shapes to six."

Mr. McFadden listed them as follows:

1. EIGHT SIDED, yellow or red. This sign means STOP—one message, one requirement—never anything else.

Another state-wide law is designed to "put some teeth" into statutes protecting game fish against a comparatively new threat from violators. It sets a penalty for "telephoning" or using any other electricity-producing apparatus for shocking fish at a fine of $25 to $200 and provides that possession of such equipment in a boat or along a bank or shore of a river, creek, lake or bay of this state is prima facie evidence of violation.

Some of the local laws permit special shoots on pen-raised quail and pheasants under what a r r e described as "controlled seasons." Bag limits, dates and hours of hunting are prescribed.
