

PRORATION ORDER IS AGAIN ISSUED BRADY CASE IS BEFORE STATE COURT OF APPEALS

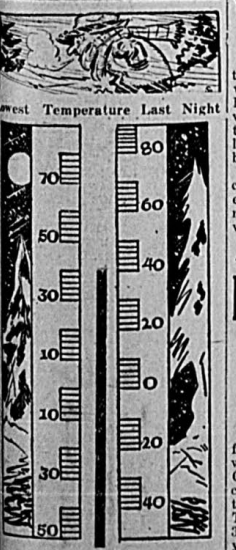

Arguments Are To Be Heard In Case Wednesday

Attorneys Disagree As To Whether Death Penalty Can Be Asked Again.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 25.—District Attorney William McCraw of Dallas is to make oral argument here tomorrow against a new trial for John W. Brady, former appellate court judge convicted of killing Miss Lehlia Highsmith, stenographer to the commission to assist the state supreme court.

Dayton Moses is expected to present an oral argument made in behalf of a new trial. The briefs making a new hearing have been on file with the court for several months. Though Brady has returned to Austin after a visit to California to recuperate, he is not expected to be present at the court proceedings as it is unusual for a defendant to appear at the appellate court argument.

First Texas Thanksgiving Proclamation Issued In 1857

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 25.—Texas' first Thanksgiving proclamation was issued eighty years ago by Governor P. Hansborough Bell. It was issued on Thursday in March, 1851. The proclamation was issued Dec. 31, 1850. Strangely enough, ten years before secession, it refers to the "Confederacy". The country had just passed through the disputes that ended in the Wilcox proviso and payment to Texas of $10,000,000 to give up its claim to what now is New Mexico. This and other compromises staved off for a decade the break between the North and the South.

Production Is Reduced Over Entire State

New Order Is Effective Today With Total Production Limited to 680,238 Barrels Daily.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 25.—The railroad commission here today issued a proration order restricting oil production in Texas to 680,238 barrels per day for a sixty day period beginning Nov. 25.

Production Is Reduced Over Entire State

Apportionment of the allowable oil production among the various fields is made as follows: Panhandle, 64,616 barrels a day; North Central Texas, 52,395; North Young County Sub-District 1,850; West Central Texas, 24,142; West Texas, 25,137; East Texas, 38,355; Southwest Texas 84,503; and Gulf Coast 160,000.

Production Is Reduced Over Entire State

Special orders for the individual fields remain in effect. For the Panhandle, North Central Texas and West Texas fields there is provision that the amount may be increased during the sixty day proration period if there is additional demand above the purchasing nominations already made.

Production Is Reduced Over Entire State

The new proration order takes the place of one for a 90 day period expiring this morning. The total production allowed under that was 763,000 barrels a day. Actual production slightly exceeded the proration total.

Meeting today at their regular Tuesday luncheon the Lions Club enjoyed a thoroughly constructive session. After introducing their guest G. E. Witse of New York, sound technician for theater equipment for the Western Electric Co., several reports of committees were heard.

Production Is Reduced Over Entire State

Judge Jim Grisham, chairman of the committee on general activities outlined a plan which was heartily endorsed by the club whereby the Lions will at Christmas time play Santa Claus to some twenty or thirty children of school age. The plan being that instead of giving a few toys, candies and fruits give a complete outfit of new warm clothes to those little children who are so sadly in need of them.

Production Is Reduced Over Entire State

It was decided that instead of having the luncheon at the regular noon hour on next Tuesday the Eastland Lions will meet with the other towns of this section at the Cisco Lions Club Tuesday night when Dr. Grisham of Wichita Falls, District Governor of the Lions Clubs of this district will make an address.

Production Is Reduced Over Entire State

IT IS IMPORTANT THAT WE PAY OUR TAXES

The city of Eastland, like individual firms and corporations, has obligations to meet, and it is necessary that these obligations be met promptly if the credit of our town is sustained and our interests protected.

The only means the city has of paying these obligations is with the tax monies paid by the property owners of the town. It is pay day now with the city of Eastland, interest on bonds is coming due and other obligations are to be met, therefore it is absolutely necessary that we pay our taxes and pay them promptly.

In order to make it easier on the taxpayer the city commission is permitting taxes to be paid one-half at a time without interest or penalty provided the first half of the total amount is paid on or before Dec. 1, the balance may be paid on or before June 1.

The city manager is making no bones about it, the citizens of Eastland must pay their taxes and pay them now if the city is to meet its obligations.

A PLEA FOR HOME INSTITUTIONS

J. U. Johnson, proprietor of the Eastland Bakery, in a letter to the Telegram which was published in last Sunday's issue of the paper in the "Letters From Readers" column, makes a plea for those interested in Eastland to practice what they preach and patronize local institutions.

Mr. Johnson charges in his letter that some local merchants have used out of town labor to build buildings in Eastland; that they purchased the material for such buildings out of town and that they send out of town for advertising circulars instead of having the work done at home.

He closes his letter with the suggestion that every red blooded Eastland citizen, who is loyal to his or her home town and home town institutions, send their name to this paper to be published in a column under a heading, "We Practice What We Preach."

The Telegram has been assured that its suggestion that the flood lights on the courthouse be changed from the present color to that of red for the holiday season, is to be followed out. This is being made possible by the co-operation of the Texas Electric Service Company and County Judge C. L. Garrett and the members of his commissioners court. There is very little cost in making the change, we are informed.

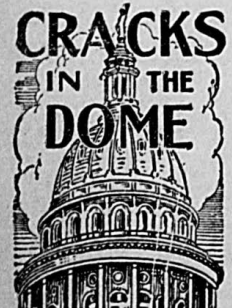

Let this be one Christmas that our neighboring towns do not have their Christmas lighting systems up before Eastland does. A little team work on the part of local merchants is all that is needed.

WE NEED GREATER ENTHUSIASM

Eastland has the greatest possibilities of any town in the Oilbelt and her citizens are thoroughly capable of carrying out any program that has, so far, been proposed for the advancement of the town and community. The only thing that is needed is to get up a little more enthusiasm.

A potato curing plant, which would mean the turning loose of thousands of dollars in Eastland every year, is within the easy reach of Eastland; milk plants, peanut mills, canning plants, broom factories, etc., all of which would bring much money into Eastland and surrounding territory, are also within the reach of Eastland. It is going to take some money and a great deal of enthusiasm to get the money, however.

Now is the time to prepare soil for planting next spring and the farmer, who is progressive, is working at the job.

CRACKS IN THE DOME

AUSTIN, Nov. 24—Those who feared the big-business-man governor-elect might look with frowning eye on state college athletics were reassured when they learned Mr. Sterling will be in Austin Thanksgiving day for the year's supreme football event, the Loughern-Agiste game.

It is said he has found time for few football games in his busy years of the past. Along with Mr. Sterling at the game will be practically every member of the university board.

safety vault and put on display in the capitol. This is the original secession ordinance, drawn by a devoted, patriotic group of Texans who could not see ahead to what fate their courageous act would lead their homeland.

Appropriately, the secession ordinance has been put beside the other document of supreme meaning to Texans, the document that created a separate republic of Texas and made the people free, when upheld at San Jacinto, of the barbarous heel of tyranny, the spurred boot of Santa Anna.

A whole industry, one of the state's biggest, has come to be tied intricately with close detailed and intricate regulation and control of the production of oil. The operation and economic operation of the gasoline refineries and the whole question of the supply and price of gasoline all follow along with it.

Here's a bargain in public work: The federal government is willing and ready to spend $1 in Texas for topographic surveys to help the state advance public improvements for every dollar the state will spend. Only 15 per cent of the state has been surveyed. Texas is now giving $20,000 a year to the work. Many projects that could be started toward successful development and operation are lying dormant because the state doesn't match $300,000 for $600,000 worth of work, according to the board of water engineers.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—Along with the Democrats and the wets, organized labor and the candidates it endorsed came out on top of the heap in the congressional elections.

Senators and representatives whom the labor organizations considered inimical to them were driven out in large numbers during the nominating primaries, while labor's friends were nominated and retained. The same tendency continued in the election.

Among outstanding defeats of candidates who had formal labor support were those of Senator McMaster in South Dakota, Senator Robison in Kentucky and former Senator Gerry of Rhode Island. All had been supported on the strength of their senatorial records, but the defeat of McMaster and Robison appears to have been attributable to the Democratic landslide and labor leaders believe their successors are likely to prove as acceptable as the incumbents. None had been among labor's foremost champions. On the other hand, labor spokesmen point to the election of nearly a score senatorial candidates who had labor support and to the retirement of primary or election defeat of as many who could be depended upon to have little sympathy for legislation which labor supports.

Labor supplied the extra push which has terminated the senatorial career of Henry J. Allen of Kansas, President Hoover's close friend and senatorial adviser, who will be succeeded by a Democrat named George J. McGill. Allen fathered the famous Kansas Industrial Court, which labor hated and bitterly fought. Another of labor's pet hates was ex-Senator William M. Butler, who lost to

One rule will be discussed and voted upon whereby players moving from one town to another to play football on a larger team would be affected and the other would be the forfeiting of games in which ineligible players were used. He asked the fans to communicate with him in connection with these rules in order that he might know the opinions of the supporters of the team and could be guided by their desires.

It was brought out that the T. C. U. field that has recently been abandoned in favor of the new stadium had many good steel seats that could be secured for a small amount. It was decided that this would be investigated and a price on the seats obtained and reported to the committee that is appointed to work out the details as to the site, seating and building up a playing field.

Every man who was present at the meeting voted in favor of building up the athletic association and obtaining a good field and many expressed the belief that such a project could be made to be self-supporting and to repay those who donated money to start the work.

Gifts Of Spirit Is Subject Of Sermon Monday

Dr. Franklin in his sermon Monday night at the First Christian church on this subject, said there is one spirit, but many gifts of that spirit. Such as the word of wisdom, word of knowledge, faith, healing, miracles, prophecy and tongues.

The Holy Spirit which is the comforter that Christ sent into the world after his ascension, is to guide us into all truth. God sets some in the church, 1st apostles, 2nd prophets, 3rd teachers, who are called of God through the spirit, to manifest the best gifts that can come to man. Other gifts as healing, miracles and tongues are less important.

Markets

Final Stocks NEW YORK, Nov. 25—Steady selling came into the stock market late today wiping out early gains and leaving the list fractions to more than two points lower. Steel shares, notably U. S. Steel led the rise in the first part of the session. They turned abruptly win word went around the street that steel production figures to be published tomorrow would show another decrease.

Steel common touched 14 1/4, up two points from the previous close and a new high on the movement. Persistent liquidation near the close brought the stock down 3 points from the high and other leaders dropped off correspondingly.

Building a Team LAST year Karl Davis left the University of Pittsburgh, where he had served as graduate manager during the successful up-building of the Panther's prowess, to take a similar post at Western Reserve, Cleveland.

Davis started out by scheduling good teams. Reserve took it on the chin regularly. This year, he kept right on, scheduling top liners such as Pitt and Carnegie Tech. In seven games, Reserve scored 53 points against 267 by the enemy.

Next year? The doctor prescribes the same medicine, the season's opener being with Purdue, and games with Pitt and Syracuse following. What's it all about? To tell have to watch the team's scores during the next two years to find out.

Potpourri BY GAD

And now Melvin Sparr raises the question that the city of Eastland is not laid off square with the world and offers to prove it by its compass.

J. B. Johnson took what was said in this column a few days ago about electric signs without light to heart and is having a nice modern electric sign put up in front of his establishment.

That meeting last night for the purpose of thrashing out the proposition of an athletic field for Eastland certainly showed some enthusiasm and co-operation if the fellows will just keep it up.

"Here's your penny," said an Eastland cash boy to a customer who handed him a dime in payment of a nine cent purchase. "Keep it," said the customer. "Ok," said the cash boy as he hung into a clear box in which he had approximately $10 in pennies of faded that day in the same manner.

We wish the merchants who put up signs all over their store front stating that they are quitting business would either quit business or quit putting up signs.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

gin for the second time, when again Dundee interrupted. "Another half second, please." On the first sheet of the new shorthand book Dundee scribbled: "Suggest you try to locate Ralph Hammond." Immediately, very much in love with Mrs. Selim, invited to cocktail party; did not show up, and, tearing the sheet from the notebook, passed it to Captain Strawn, who read it, frowning, and then nodded.

"Doc Price has done all he can here," Strawn whispered huskily. "Wants to know if you'd like to speak to him before he takes the body to the morgue."

"Certainly," Dundee answered as he grinned apologetically to the girl who was waiting, white-faced but patiently, to tell the story of the afternoon.

Quickly suppressed shudders and low exclamations of horror followed him and the chief of the homicide squad from the room.

"Well, Bonnie boy, we meet again, for the usual reason," old Dr. Price greeted the district attorney's new "special investigator."

"Another shocking affair—this... A nice clean wound, one of the neatest jobs I ever saw. Shot entered the back and penetrated the heart... Very nicely calculated. If the bullet had struck an inch higher, it would have been deflected by the—"

Dundee tried to listen patiently, but he had heard all that was necessary for his purposes in regard to the bullet. He had fixed it, besides, this cold-blooded analysis of the path of the bullet which had ended the life of a beautiful woman was acutely distasteful to the young detective. But a word in his own reflections caught him up short.

"The PATH of the bullet, doctor!" he broke in. "Have you made any calculations as to the place and distance at which the shot was fired?"

"Roughly speaking—yes," the coroner answered. "The gun was fired at a distance, probably, of 10 or 15 feet—perhaps closer, but I don't think so," he amended meticulously. "As for the path of the bullet, I have fixed it, judging from the position of the body, which I am assured had not been touched before my arrival, as coming from a point somewhere along a straight line drawn from the woman's wound, with the body upright, of course, to—here!"

Dundee stared down at the upturned face of the dead woman with startled incredulity. Between 30 and 34 years old! That tiny, lovely—but she was not quite so lovely in death, in spite of the serenity it had brought to those once-vivacious features. Peering more closely, he could see—without those luminous, wide eyes to center his attention—numerous fine lines in the waxen face, the slackness of a little pouch of soft flesh beneath the round chin, an occasional white hair upon the shoulder-length dark curls...

"We-ell, between 30 and 34 years old," he answered finally. "Of course you understand that that estimate is unofficial."

ed," she said steadily, as if striving to be utterly truthful. "Nita told us"—she turned to Dundee, whose pencil was flying—"that Polly had made no excuse at all; in fact, she quoted Polly exactly: 'Sorry, Nita. Can't make it for lunch. I'll show up at your place at 2:30 for bride.'"

"Nita couldn't bear the least hint of being slighted," Janet Raymond explained, with a malicious gleam in her pale blue eyes. "If it hadn't been for Lois and Hugo—Judge Marshall, I mean—Nita Selim would never have been included in any of our affairs—and she KNEW it! The Dunlaps can do anything they please, because they're—"

"Please, Janet!" Lois Dunlap cut in, her usually placid voice becoming quite sharp. "You must know by this time that I make friends wherever I please, and that I liked—yes, I was EXTREMELY fond of poor little Nita. In fact, I am forced to believe that, of all the women she met in this town, I was her only real friend."

There was a flush of anger on her lovely plain face as her eyes challenged first one and then another of the "Forsythe girls." One or two looked a little ashamed, but there was not a single voice to contradict Lois Dunlap's flat assertion.

"I wish you please go on, Miss Crain?" Dundee urged, but he had missed nothing of the little by-play.

"I wish you would call me Penny so I'd feel more like a person than a witness," Penny retorted thornily. "Where was I? . . . Oh, yes! Nita cooled right off when Lois reminded her that Polly was always abrupt like that!"—and here Penny paused to grin apologetically at the girl with the masculine-looking haircut—"and then we all went into the private dining room, where Nita had provided a perfectly gorgeous lunch, with a heavenly centerpiece of green-striped yellow orchids—Well, I don't suppose you're interested in what we ate and things like that—?" she hesitated.

"Was there anything unusual in the conversation—anything like a quarrel?" Dundee prompted, but "green-striped yellow orchids" was underlined heavily in his shorthand notes.

"Oh, no!" Penny protested. "Nothing happened out of the ordinary at all—No, wait! Nita received a letter by messenger—or rather a note, when we were about half through luncheon—"

There was a low, strangled-in-the-throat cry from someone—who had uttered it, Dundee could not be sure, since his eyes had been on his notebook. But what had really interrupted Penny Crain was a crash.

"Today but few people realize the potential value of intense scientific research work, particularly when carried on by successful corporations with ample capital at their disposal. I do not smoke; but a perusal of the reports made to you by qualified experts indicates that your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in connection with your Toasting Process, in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes, thereby removing certain irritants which might otherwise be present in tobacco, has opened a new era for common-sense smokers."

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray. LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Strange Case Of Lubbock Man Speaks For Crazy Water

Thought To Be Hopeless Yet He Lived To Tell His Story
Three weeks ago today, I came to the Crazy Water Hotel on a stretcher from the city of Lubbock, Texas, with what the doctors called Typhoid Spine and they told me that there was no medicine that would cure me. I started drinking Crazy Water and taking the baths, and on the 12th day after arriving I took to the wheel chair and on the 17th day I started walking on crutches and can now walk without them so I feel if Crazy Water will do that for me I cannot say enough for it.

Back in the living room, whose occupants stopped whispering and grew taut with suspense, Dundee seated himself at a little red-lacquered table, his notebook spread, while Strawn settled himself heavily in the nearest overstuffed armchair.

Thompson Murder Jury Is Hung

BY UNITED PRESS
BELTON, Tex., Nov. 24.—After 87 hours of fruitless deliberation, the jury in the H. D. Thompson slaying case was discharged at 11 a. m. today. Judge John Watson announced that the case will be tried again in Milam county, both defense and state agreeing to the change of venue.

Thompson is charged with the slaying of Carton Fewell, 19, at a Belton roller skating rink May 16, 1928. Thompson, a 58-year-old wealthy farmer, was convicted at previous trial and sentenced to a 30-year prison term but the court of criminal appeals reversed the case.

HEROES ARE MADE—NOT BORN.

A week after congress reconvenes, the Methodist Board of Temperance, prohibition and public morals is scheduled to hold a national conference here. At this gathering Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary, is expected to renew his opposition to the sale of the grape-juice concentrate which becomes wine.

Other leading dry organizations including the anti-saloon league, also will meet here early next month to develop programs designed to counteract the wet's activities. Plans to enlist many of the country's business leaders in this campaign were announced last week by Dr. F. Scott McBride, the league's general superintendent.

On the wet side, the women's organization for national prohibition reform will start a series of sessions here late next week. Senator Tydings, Dem., Md., and Rep. Mary T. Horton, Dem. N. J., are to address the women's group.

Meetings of the federal dispensary league and other anti-prohibition organizations are scheduled to follow during the week of December 8.

Woman Dies In Automobile Crash

BY UNITED PRESS
COXVILLE, Tex., Nov. 24.—Mrs. H. T. Lambert of Oklahoma City, wife of the manager of the western division of the Cosmopolitan Chain Store Corporation, died here at 10 a. m. today following an automobile accident on highway 5, two miles west of here.

Lambert's car crashed into a wagon, the tongue of which plowed through the front end of the machine fatally injuring Mrs. Lambert. An approaching car from the opposite direction prevented their swerving out of danger, Lambert said. Mrs. Lambert was rushed to Coxville unconscious, where she died an hour later.

The Lambert party were enroute from Paris, Tex., to Shreveport, La. Other occupants of the car were E. W. Livingston, president of the Cosmopolitan Corporation, and R. C. Waller, general manager, both of New York City. They were not seriously injured.

Funeral arrangements are pending advices from relatives. Mrs. Lambert is survived by two brothers, one living in Port Arthur, the other in Beaumont.

Slayer of Bridge Partner Is Not Ready For Trial

Nurse Who Lived In Respirator Pronounced Well

BY UNITED PRESS
CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—"Fighting Frances" McGann, blue-eyed student nurse, has recovered, physicians of St. Luke's hospital said today both from paralysis of the chest muscles and from "psychosis of fear."

Three months ago Frances contracted an ailment which left paralyzed the muscles that allow contraction and expansion of the lungs. A few weeks earlier it would have meant her almost instant death.

But there had just been installed in the hospital an "artificial lung" known to medical science as a Drinker respirator. Apparently lifeless, the nurse was placed in the long, coffin-like apparatus and the motors turned on.

The young nurse endured without a murmur the weeks of pain brought to her lungs by the artificial breathing, earning the name of "Fighting Frances."

"I think perhaps I can breathe alone," she said one day three weeks ago. First for short periods the motors were turned off; then she was removed for a few minutes from the machine.

Finally she spent a full day on a sun porch, chatting with friends. But she almost collapsed when physicians suggested that she sleep that night outside the respirator.

"I'm afraid," she sobbed. "My lungs might stop working and I would die in my sleep." They put her back in the machine, only her head protruding from the box, which is studded with heavy plate glass windows.

Each night for more than two weeks she refused to sleep outside the respirator. One night other nurses promised to sit by her bed and watch her breathing. She awoke screaming at midnight and the put her in the machine.

Psychologists were called in. They called it "psychosis of fear" and said she never would recover. Miss McGann was told of their verdict. She wept and then gamely announced she would "try it again."

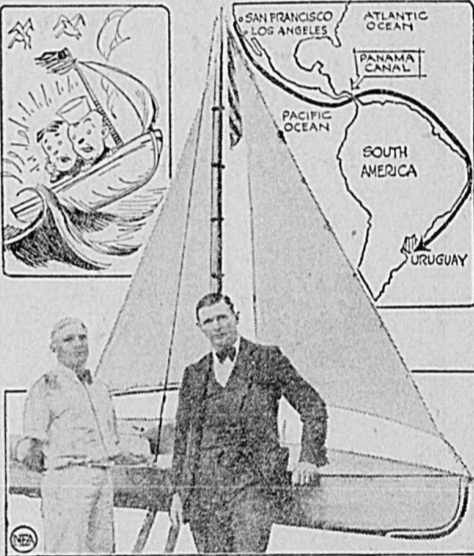

Shivering with fear, "Fighting Frances" prayed herself to sleep in a room far removed from the respirator. Unaccustomed to sleeping without the motors whirring in her ears, she lay awake for hours.

She awoke well and confident today after spending her second night outside the machine. Physicians said her recovery is assured.

By CHARLES M. EGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Wickersham law enforcement commission was recalled into session today after a 10-day recess to resume its prohibition deliberations at a time when both wet and dry organizations are mapping out intensive campaigns coincidental to the reopening of congress.

With the commission expected to make a report of some kind to President Hoover before January 1, it has become apparent the next few weeks may see the prohibition controversy intensified perhaps more than ever before. One indication of this was the statement of Rep. La Guardia, Rep. N. Y., who said he proposes to oppose further appropriations for the Wickersham commission unless it offers a "constructive" recommendation on prohibition during the short session of congress.

Sail Two Oceans in Tiny Canoe

Twice given up for lost at sea and twice the object of intensive search by the coast guard when they were long overdue, these two intrepid Germans who are trying to sail a canoe from San Francisco to Uruguay have reached Los Angeles with 500 miles of water behind them. They were in several storms and only escaped perishing by a hair's breadth. With their canoe in "drydock," as shown here, they are resting preparatory to starting the next leg of their long journey to Uruguay. The man in the dark suit is Max Reik; the one attired in white is Frederick Pohl. The map shows their route.

Senator Bingham, Repn. Conn., announced today he would introduce in the short session of congress a bill to localize sale and manufacture of 4 per cent beer and wine.

Bingham expressed the opinion prohibition had failed to solve the saloon problem and that the evil might be corrected by such legislation as he suggested. Bingham's bill also would authorize physicians to prescribe beer, ale and stout in addition to whiskey which may be prescribed under existing law.

School Grid Races For State Title Progress

Fair Park stadium, Dallas, which will seat more than 46,000 fans. No little interest is being shown, and the spotted kitties are 7-5 favorites to cop the district honors. In the only other game Central and Polytechnic meet at Fort Worth.

District No. 1
Two of the three games in district No. 4 are to be played on Thursday and the other on Friday. The most interest centers upon the game between the Cleburne Yellow Jackets and the Corsicana Tigers in the latter den. It should be a battle from start to finish. However, the hopes of the Yellow Jackets have dwindled as the result of their star quarterback's broken arm sustained in the game with Hillsboro last week. If the Jackets should down the Tigers and Waco take Temple into camp, it would leave Corsicana, Cleburne and Waco in a triple tie for the leadership. The Wacoans take on Temple at Waco and the game on Friday will be between Waxahachie and Hillsboro at Hillsboro.

District No. 5
After a week of idleness the Greenville Lions will play the Bears of Sherman at Sherman in district No. 5, and must win to maintain their lead, since Sherman and Denison have won three and lost one, while Greenville has won four against no defeats. Should the Bears trim the Lions and the Denison boys on home soil best Denton, the three clubs would be tied for the conference honors of the district. Sulphur Springs meets McKinney at McKinney and Paris goes to Gainesville to end the season.

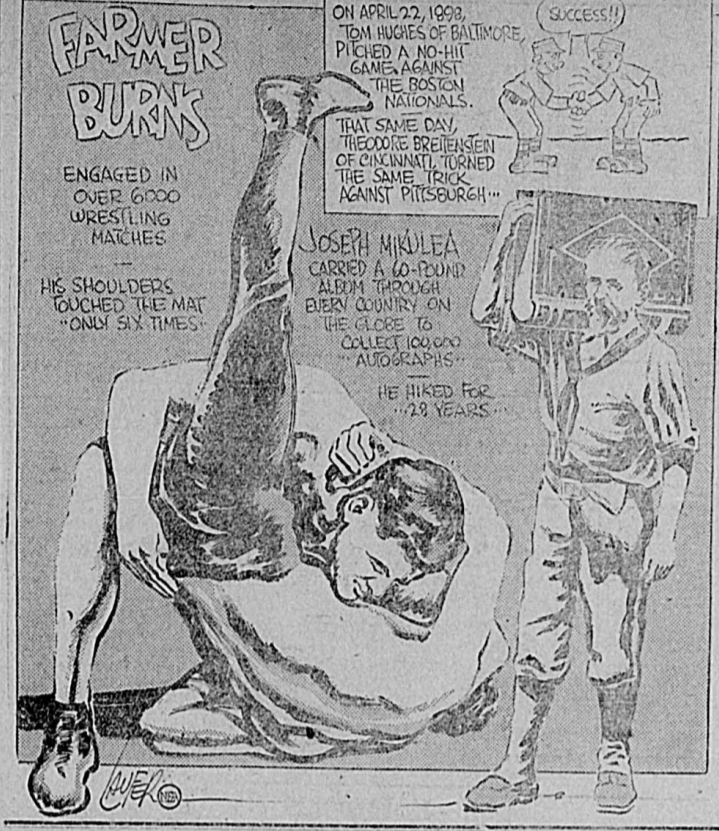

District No. 6
The Tyler Lions with five consecutive wins for a percentage of 1.000 continue to set the pace in district No. 6 and are favored champions. Their nearest rival is Palestine, with three wins and one defeat. Captain Clifford Gregory's eligibility has been questioned by the Marshall Mavericks. It is said that Tyler scholastic records on Gregory agree since he entered school several years ago and Tyler feels confident that the protest is out of line. Tyler at Marshall, Lufkin at Palestine, Athens at Nacogoches, and Texarkana, Ark., at Texarkana, Tex., completes the card.

District No. 7
Only John Reagan (Houston)

BRUSHING UP SPORTS

stands between Port Arthur's Yellow Jackets and a conference championship for their third one in succession in district No. 7. Last week the Jackets defeated Jeff Davis of Houston 19-0, and clinched a tie for the honors, and in event Reagan defeats Sam Houston on Thursday, there will be a play-off for the title. In the other two games in district seven San Jacinto faces Jeff Davis and Beaumont will mingle with Ball High.

District No. 8
Austin has sewed up the title in No. 8. The Maroons are just sitting back now waiting for the final results of district 7, to see whom their next opponent will be. There will be three games to ring down the final curtain in district No. 8. Brackenridge versus Main Avenue both of San Antonio, Corpus Christi at Robstown, and Kerrville at Brownsville.

year's the game with Texas Christian University which cost them the championship. Indications were yesterday that the entire strength of Coach Koonz's team, every one would be ready for the Horned Frog battle Saturday.

Bruce Kattman, hurt in the Texas Longhorns game, has recovered sufficiently to be used in the Owl clash Saturday. Weldon Mason and George Koonz, 24 pt. out of the Houston fray, will be in shape to play by this week-end.

A capacity crowd of 21,000 fans is expected here for the spectacle.

FORT WORTH, Nov. 25—As Coach Francis Schmidt put his charges through their paces here yesterday, three men, Grassy Hinton, Leo Butler, and Hubert Denison were kept on the sidelines. Hinton is suffering from a lame fact while the other two are nursing injuries received in the Baylor fray Saturday.

Schmidt gave no indication of new tricks he had in store for the Mustangs, although it is believed he will prepare an aerial threat.

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 25—There was an air of efficiency about the locker rooms of the Texas A & M. gridiron warriors today, as the entire squad settled down to the serious task of whipping the Longhorns of the University of Texas. The seasons history written in red, is sufficient to remind the Aggies of the size of their task.

Monday afternoon the Farmers flashed through a snappy workout, according to reports that leaked out from behind the barred gates of the practice field. Whats in the making on the other side? Coach Matt Bell refuses to say, but the odds are ten to one the Longhorns will be served something else beside turkey Thanksgiving day.

Southwestern Conference Tabs

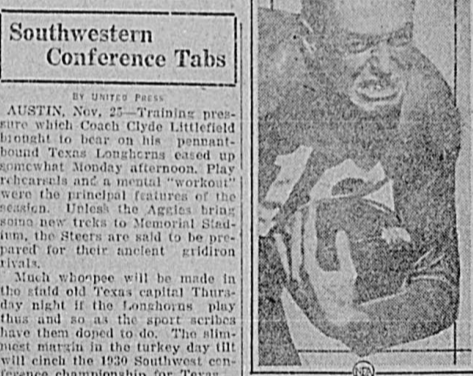

AUSTIN, Nov. 25—Training pressure which Coach Clyde Littlefield brought to bear on his pennant-bound Texas Longhorns eased up somewhat Monday afternoon. Play rehearsals and a mental "workout" were the principal features of the session. Unless the Aggies bring some new tricks to Memorial Stadium, the Steers are said to be prepared for their ancient gridiron rivals.

Much whoopee will be made in the staid old Texas capital Thursday night if the Longhorns play thus and so as the sport scribes have them doped to do. The slimiest margin in the turkey day tilt will cinch the 1930 Southwest conference championship for Texas.

Advance ticket sales indicate a total attendance Thursday of at least 48,000, the Texas University Athletic Council announces.

FORT WORTH, Nov. 25—Stars of the gridiron such as Rags Muttus, Howard Grubbs and Mike Rempelow will flash across Texas Christian University's football field again.

Stellar men of yesteryear are returning to Fort Worth for a benefit game between the "T. C. U. crew and the 1930 Horned Frog eleven.

A sophomore sensation on the south's gridirons is young Don Zimmerman, above, Tulane University hallback. From the expression on his face, Zimmerman is a very determined youth. He hails from Lake Charles, La., the city which produced Bill Banker, Tulane's "Blood Blizzard" and star of the Green Wave's undefeated eleven in 1929. Some Dixie critics already are comparing Zimmerman to his famed fellow townsman.

Ingalls Tests the "Hell Diver"

A new type airplane called the "hell diver," the only one of its kind ever constructed, is being flown on the west coast by David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy for aviation. The secretary calls it "a two-seater fighter that will out-perform and out-manuever any other military type plane in the world." It will climb 2500 feet per minute, and Ingalls has flown it at 150 miles per hour with the throttle only partly open. Ingalls is shown here with the plane at Los Angeles.

Now is the time to change to Germ-Processed oil... It's DE-WAXED. That means easy starting... and its Penetrative Lubricity means safer Lubrication during the trying months ahead

CONOCO

Is your car hard to start these cold mornings? Let that be a reminder that these are danger months for your motor!

It takes more turning-over to start, and more running to warm-up your motor during the cold months. So now, more than ever, you need the extra protection of this oil with two big cold-weather advantages!

Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil is de-waxed to prevent congealing at low temperatures. That's the first reason. Second, its penetrative lubricity insures instant lubrication at the first touch of the starter. By decreasing friction, Germ-Processed oil adds to the ease of starting.

You may be able to buy some other oils which are de-waxed, but there is only one oil with penetrative lubricity, only one that penetrates metal-surfaces and never drains away from working parts.

It's Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil. Ask for it whenever you see the Conoco Red Triangle.

Do Women Buy Because of a French Label or on the Costume's Merit?

By FRANCES PAGET
 Copyright, 1930, by Style Sources
 NEW YORK—Without desire to pluck the laurel from the brow of the Paris couture a group of manufacturers eager for fair play insist that we, the fashion press, are just a bit prejudiced in favor of French fashions. They ask that we accord the same amount of enthusiasm for domestically inspired garments as for those bearing the French label, adding modestly that "that is if they we reserve it."

SHIPS

(To the Steele Johnstons)
 Oh, who would sail the Sea of Life Without the joy of halting Those other ships, with varied freights, Upon its bosom sailing.

The sea, glad call—the twinkling eye,
 The spirited buoyant, merry—
 We stop awhile and then sail on
 Each one refreshed and cherry.

The Johnston anchored in our port.
 But now they must be going
 We hope they'll not forget to load
 The love, we're feebly showing.

FAMILY MENU

BY SISTER MARY
 NEA Service Writer

IT IS truly an art to make a good poultry stuffing. A taste for interesting combinations, a choice of seasonings, a blending of ingredients and the proper proportion of liquid must form the basis for a perfect stuffing.

There is a special stuffing for each kind of poultry. The best chicken require a less highly flavored stuffing than duck and goose, while guinea fowl needs still another variety.

Old-fashioned bread stuffing is the foundation for a number of other good fillings. The addition of celery, oysters, sausage, mushrooms, chestnuts and onions to the basic recipe change it as the cook desires. These stuffings, with the exception of onion, are suitable for any variety of fowl. Onion stuffing should not be used with turkey or chicken.

The highly flavored fruit stuffings are appropriate for duck, goose and guinea fowl.

The size of the bird of course determines the amount of stuffing required, but it will take at least a whole loaf of bread for a medium-sized fowl and up to two loaves of bread will be needed for a turkey. The bread must be at least 24 hours old.

few tablespoons more hot liquid. Do not pack firmly in any bird, for the stuffing expands during roasting.

For celery stuffing, add 2 cups of celery cooked until tender in a little water.

For poultry stuffing, add one-half cup of raisins, one-half cup of currants, one-half cup of cranberries, one-half cup of nuts, one-half cup of prunes, one-half cup of figs, one-half cup of dates, one-half cup of apricots, one-half cup of peaches, one-half cup of plums, one-half cup of cherries, one-half cup of apples, one-half cup of pears, one-half cup of grapes, one-half cup of oranges, one-half cup of lemons, one-half cup of limes, one-half cup of pineapples, one-half cup of mangoes, one-half cup of papayas, one-half cup of guavas, one-half cup of passion fruit, one-half cup of tamarind, one-half cup of figs, one-half cup of dates, one-half cup of apricots, one-half cup of peaches, one-half cup of plums, one-half cup of cherries, one-half cup of apples, one-half cup of pears, one-half cup of grapes, one-half cup of oranges, one-half cup of lemons, one-half cup of limes, one-half cup of pineapples, one-half cup of mangoes, one-half cup of papayas, one-half cup of guavas, one-half cup of passion fruit, one-half cup of tamarind.

For oyster stuffing, add one pint oysters, using oyster liquor for liquid and adding one tablespoon minced parsley.

For chestnut stuffing, reduce bread crumbs to one-half the amount and add one quart of shell, blanched and boiled chestnuts. The nuts can be mashed or finely chopped.

For mushroom stuffing, add 1 1-2 cups chopped and sauteed mushrooms.

An unusual and delicious stuffing for turkey chicken is made by combining chestnuts and crushed pineapple with bread crumbs. Use equal amounts of finely chopped boiled chestnuts and crushed pineapple. Add half the amount of chestnuts in bread crumbs which have been tossed and sauteed in melted butter. Season lightly with salt and pepper and add pineapple juice to make moist.

Assembling the various units of several Paris models is not origination and does not warrant a label. We have a comfortable feeling that the rank and file of women in these United States select the prettiest, or smartest—and certainly the most flattering frock irrespective of its nationality.

Letters From Our Readers

Mr. James A. Beard, Committeeman Eastland Telegram and Citizens of Eastland:

In reply to article of 23rd issue of Telegram in regard to local creamery being located here only temporarily. I as manager since March 17, this year will make affidavit that no party, or parties are owners or part owners financially interested outside of City of Eastland.

I myself or anyone to my knowledge connected with the local creamery have not been connected financially or otherwise with what is known as the Bankhead Poultry Association.

And let me say here as much as we appreciate the local support we have received, that our sister towns East, West, North and South, are more loyal supporters of this your institution, being the only butter plant or most commonly called churn in Eastland county.

We have always paid a premium of three to ten cents. Butter fat above the ordinary cream station prices and in return we do demand and receive a superior grade of cream resulting in a superior product at the same wholesale price asked by packers saving, express charges to producer and consumer.

It is time that the citizens and property owners of the city of Eastland get busy on bringing new institutions here. Every dollar in the way of pay roll is added prosperity for the good of all. Not only bring new institutions but lets patronize and hold on to our industries.

If they are not capable of furnishing a general market adequate for this and adjoining counties get together locally and remedy the cause.

The cream is being produced and shipped out of this county to centralizing plants located elsewhere to more than furnish the demand for creamery butter consumed here. Every additional man employed means a better and larger city. We have a nice modern plant and equipment. I as manager have some 22 years of creamery and butter making experience in some of the largest creameries of our nation.

In conclusion let me say that I welcome any and all support that you may give us in order to make Eastland a better and larger city. I came here last March as most of the merchants know from Cisco. Invested money I derived from in-insurance, one-half of it belongs to my children so I had the misfortune of my wife passing away two years ago last May, and it is a tip to me with your assistance to make a go of this your institution. Again I thank you and will gladly co-operate with you or yours. I remain, IDEAL CREAMERY C. L. KNIGHT, Manager
