CANNON WIRES COMPLAINT OF CONGREGATION

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, complained today in a radio message of the action of elders of his own church filing charges against him while he was in Brazil on church work.

The message was sent to the Associated Press from the American Legion on which he is coming from Brazil.

These charges, while their content has not been made public, are understood to involve Bishop Cannon's stock speculation operations and political activities, as well as certain new charges.

They have been brought by the Rev. Dr. Forrest J. Prentissman of Baltimore, Dr. J. T. Mastin and Dr. J. M. Costen J. Harrell of Richmond, Va., and Dr. I. P. Partin of Abingdon.

After detailing circumstances of his notification, while he was spending a honeymoon in Brazil with his former secretary, that new charges were to be filed against him Bishop Cannon in his message said: "I shall protest the legality of the hurried and premature action taken before my arrival making impossible conferences with me, which the disciplinary provision to carefully inquire necessarily includes."

According to the bishop's message he was notified briefly by the four clergymen on Sept. 8 that they were inquiring into his case.

He cabled immediately offering to meet his accusers in Washington after Oct. 2 and received an answer which refused his right to confer with them.

Friends took up the matter for him with the complaining elders, but had no more success than he himself had, wherefore he boarded the first boat from Santos.

Mrs. Pearl Davidson Dies, Funeral Today Mrs. Pearl Lenora Davidson, 26, 910 West 5th Street, died at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at her home.

She is survived by her husband, Monroe E. Davidson, and four children, Opal, Nora, Helen, Louise, Chester Ray, and Jack Horace.

A brother, Mrs. James E. Waggoner, two sisters, Mrs. Eddie Walker, Hobbs, N. M., and Mrs. Mary Wright, Abilene, and three brothers, James Waggoner, Carlbad, N. M., Moss Waggoner, Abilene, and W. H. Waggoner, Hobbs, also survive.

Rites will be held at the grave in the new Mt. Olive cemetery this afternoon at 1 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Mr. Huzar.

Shortage Charges Against Tax Clerk

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Authoritative reports from City Hall today placed a reputed shortage approximating $40,000 against the account of William Kleinfeldt, formerly employed in the delinquent tax office.

A case charging embezzlement against Kleinfeldt is pending in criminal district court on an affidavit filed about sixty days ago. Kleinfeldt at the time was alleged to have embezzled about $15,000 by manipulation of receipts in "fixing" back tax payments for delinquent taxpayers.

The audit of books was held temporarily during the recent political campaign in which audit reports showed that the city was facing a deficit of $3,500,000.

RICHARDS NOT ENJOYING 'PEN' DAILY DUTIES

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Sept. 23.—(AP)—William C. McCraw, district attorney of Dallas county, is wrong about Ben C. Richards, former Dallas insurance man, having the "softest job in the penitentiary."

N. Tension, assistant manager of the state prison said today. Richards was sentenced to three years for forgery in connection with payment of a bet on the outcome of the race for United States Senator between Earle B. Mayfield and Tom Connally two years ago.

McCraw made his comment when shown a copy of the prison paper, "The Echo," carrying Richards' name as "advertising director." McCraw observed that the paper did not carry advertising.

"When Richards arrived at the prison he worked several days in the 'wood squad,'" Tension said. "He was later transferred to the record office where he has been working from 11 to 14 hours each day, at one of the most difficult and most responsible jobs in the record department Richard takes no active part in the prison publication whatsoever."

REPORTED CRASH EFFINGHAM, Ill., Sept. 23 (AP)

A report that Lieut. Hobart H. Stealy, 29, of the U. S. army air corps reserve had been killed in an airplane crash near here today could not be verified by the Associated Press. Dr. Charles M. Doty, coroner, said he had heard of no accident.

Two airplanes, carrying a mechanic and a doctor, left Scott Field shortly before noon to try to find the reported wreckage and render any assistance possible.

LOUISVILLE GIRL LEAPS FROM HOTEL

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Miss Belle Cochran, assistant secretary of the Louisville Rotary club and manager of its office in the Brown hotel, jumped to her death from the fifteenth floor of the hotel here today. Her body landed almost on the car tracks on Fourth street. She left a suicide note.

Joe McCarthy Quits Cub Manager Post

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Joe McCarthy, deposed manager of the Cubs, resigned today, refusing to finish the season as leader of the national League pennant contenders. Rogers Hornsby was placed in immediate charge of the team as the Cubs prepared to battle Cincinnati.

SELECT DALLAS JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Dallas today was selected for the 1931 convention of the National Pecan Growers' Association as this year's assembly formally adjourned.

The Texas city was designated by the "place" committee and was selected without opposition. Earlier the convention elected J. H. Fullilov of Shreveport as its new president.

Texas Drought Group Plan To Leave Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—After further conferences today with federal officials, the Texas drought relief committee headed by Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard and Amon Carter, Fort Worth publisher, planned to leave for Texas.

Connally termed the conference yesterday with Secretary Hyde of Agriculture, Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board and other officials, "satisfactory."

He said the delegation had decided to organize 10 to 12 credit corporations, financed locally to aid Texas farmers.

Fliers Leap Safely From Burning Plane

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Culpe's flying fraternity today had no new candidates for the Caterpillar club. Leaving from a blazing airplane east of the city late yesterday, H. S. Christensen, chief pilot at the Garland Airport and flying school, and M. G. McCullough, mate for the Safeway Lines, dropped safely to the ground with parachutes.

ment they serve on me, or they can present them to my attorney, Mr. W. I. Gilbert."

Reputation of the checks was called to the attention of B. P. Schulberg, Paramount studio official by James McKay owner of the hotel.

McKay said Will Rogers, film humorist, had introduced the actress at the hotel.

Prior to Miss Bow's statement issued late last night, Oklahoma's contribution to the funds was the only person connected with the film to discuss the accusations of McKay. He denied introducing the actress.

"Introducing Clara Bow to anybody, he said, is like introducing Hoover to the senate. Clara and her boy friend, Rex Bell, film actor, were going to dinner one night and I asked them to be my guests. The hotel is not solely a gambling house. A lot of divorcees stay over there in preference to Reno."

"I saw the wives of so many of my friends from back East that it was like old home week."

"I don't gamble much. Fifty or $75 is my limit. I don't suppose it is going to hurt my reputation much for people to know I've been in a gambling house. I couldn't have been much of a cowboy without having seen a lot of gambling. I've been to Monte Carlo, too. I went over there to see what all those old women were doing bending over those tables."

"Clara wasn't gambling much while I was there. I saw her going around making a few bets, but she didn't appear to be betting much."

"But I don't like the idea of my riding to fame on the skirts of Clara Bow."

All Lepper is not alike

Not by any means! Schilling's is rich in aromatic oils and full of flavor. Some are merely stinging dust.

Lemon: Schilling's Lemon Extract contains 3 times the amount of lemon oil required by the United States Government Pure Food Department—3 times as much—and more than most any other you can buy. That is why it goes further—why it imparts a richer lemon flavor.

Nutmeg: There are large nutmegs, small nutmegs and "shrivels". The large ones look the best, but they are not so rich in flavor oil as the small ones. The "shrivels" are just that—shrivelled, woody and worthless for flavor, but when they are all ground together you are none the wiser. But this is not the Schilling way! Only the fine, rich small nutmegs are ground by Schilling. Everything else is rejected.

There is a definite reason why every Schilling spice and extract is distinctly better than others you can buy.

Everyone knows that the price is now too low. These actions of the intermediate credit banks in the cotton stabilization corporation ought to have a splendid effect."

In accepting the resignation Mr. Hoover expressed appreciation of the "unselfish spirit" which prompted Roosevelt's withdrawal.

How I fry fish . . .

. . . without smoke

[and with an improvement in the flavor]

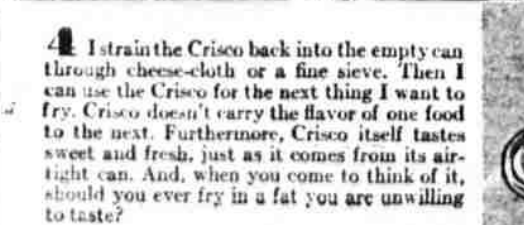

1 I prepare the fish. Then I put Crisco into a cold frying pan. To cook the fish without smoke or scorching I fry slowly. I use enough Crisco to partly cover it. It does not require the constant attention frying would if I were to use only a little fat.

2 I put the frying pan over low heat. As soon as Crisco is melted, I put in a small piece of bread.

3 As soon as the bread starts to brown, I put in the fish. Cook slowly until the fish is nearly done; then turn to brown the other side. With plenty of Crisco in the frying pan, I can turn the fish easily without breaking, if I wait until it is almost done.

4 I strain the Crisco back into the empty can through cheese-cloth or a fine sieve. Then I can use the Crisco for the next thing I want to fry. Crisco doesn't carry the flavor of one food to the next. Furthermore, Crisco itself tastes sweet and fresh, just as it comes from its airtight can. And, when you come to think of it, should you ever fry in a fat you are unwilling to taste?

COOKING SCHOOL NOTE by Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig

In the cooking school I conducted under the auspices of the Herald last week I stressed modern methods of cooking. Naturally, then, I used and recommended CRISCO—for it's a modern shortening. Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig.

Women Outlaws Commonplace In China

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS (Associated Press Correspondent) HONGKONG (AP)—The woman pirate and the Amazonian bandit have become commonplace figures in the picture of present day China's turmoil. Reports of armed women being among the marauders who have attacked a vessel or looted a village have become so frequent that they excite little more interest than is aroused by the monthly reports of the ricksha coolies' union.

Many women have become leaders of bandit or pirate gangs, ruling with as much ferocity as any hardboiled Chinese male who ever led a gang of thugs into a defenseless village or across the deck of a captured merchantman. Some reports indicate, in fact, that the women outlaws, true to the traditions of their sex when they "go bad," outdo the men in the ruthless treatment of victims.

A newspaper investigation into recent activities of a gang of outlaws made up mostly of women has thrown some interesting sidelights on the way in which the Chinese female outlaw operates.

In one instance this band sacked the flourishing village of Wochung in South China and kidnaped more than 100 persons, holding them for ransom. Ordinarily a band of captives of this size loses one or two of its members en route to the outlaws' lair, the escaped persons giving clues to the route and probable whereabouts of the marauders.

But police and military authorities reported that no trace could be found of the Wochung raiders and inquiry disclosed the reason. Survivors of the affair recounted that such a woman bandit appeared with a sling on her back and after making good use of her club, pistol and other weapons, departed with a trussed-up prisoner in the sling, the captives being carried in much the same manner that babies are packed about by Chinese mothers.

None of the prisoners taken in this raid returned to give a clue as to the direction in which the bandits had fled. But word was sent back to the village that the price for release of all the captives was $30,000 gold. Relatives of the victims, although knowing that failure to pay meant the almost certain execution of the prisoners, could only say that this was more money than the entire village could scrape together in a year.

The force that turned the women of this particular band to brigandage was the same that has prompted many other lawabiding and peace loving Chinese to take up lives of crime. Civil wars, famine, collapse of the country's currency and other economic factors have driven thousands of men and women to seek a living where they could find it and from wherever it happened to have anything worth taking.

The women in the Wochung raid came from the silk district of Shuntak. A few years ago this section grossed about $50,000,000 a year from its principal industry. Now only a small fraction of that amount is produced and thousands of silk workers, including many women, have found piracy or banditry their only hope of keeping body and soul together.

Watermelon Patch Raid Results In Boy's Death

PONCA CITY, Okla., Sept. 25 (AP)—A watermelon patch raid resulted today in the death of Ted Shore, 22, employe of a local oil company. Shore was shot last night by Paul Roberts, 16, who with two younger boys were guarding a melon patch in Osage county, a few miles east of here. J. H. Barlow, one of four companions of Shore, was shot in the leg, apparently by the same shot gun charge, and slightly injured.

An investigation was being conducted today by Osage county officials. No charge had been placed this morning against Roberts.

Ruth or Lottie?

Ruth Hanna McCormick

Miss Zetta Kirker was chosen as "Miss Big Spring" at the bathing revue conducted by David Dallas, manager of the Western Beauty Pageants at the Casino Dance Hall last night. Miss Kirker will represent Big Spring at the crowning of "Miss West Texas" in Wichita Falls next spring and will also be an entry in the Queen of the West revue to be staged in Carlsbad. All expenses will be paid as the first prize.

Second place was given to Miss Lucile Lane, third place to Miss Kathryn Anthony, Big Spring High School student; fourth to Miss Hazel Underwood; and fifth to Miss Francis Brown.

Miss Kirker, who is twenty-five years old, was born in Charleston, West Virginia in 1905. Though at present she is living in Big Spring, her mother, Mrs. E. M. Tillybury, is a resident of Little, Rock, Arkansas.

Miss Kirker admitted in interview, following the conferring of the title, "Miss Big Spring," that she "did not intend to enter the movies." She further stated that she did intend to "enter the cigar store business on a rather large scale."

While Ruth Hanna was being educated in fashionable eastern schools, Lottie Holman was attending rural schools in Pike county.

Mark Hanna's daughter at Washington eagerly watched the governmental machinery of the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations.

Lottie Holman learned her political ABC's as a clerk and secretary with various Illinois women organizations. Marriage and motherhood snatched her from the suffrage sidelines. As her two boys grew she returned to the arena, this time as a participant.

Ruth Hanna married Medill McCormick. She is credited with aiding in his successful senatorial effort. McCormick defeated James Hamilton Lewis again the democratic candidate this year. Dene eliminated McCormick in the primary six years ago.

National Loop Race Nears End

Cards Have Chance To Cinch Pennant In Today's Game

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer) The National League pennant race finally has arrived at the point where it may be settled in one day's play. St. Louis starts its final game series against Pittsburgh and Chicago clashes with the Cincinnati Reds.

If the league leading Cardinals can win today and the Reds can again assert the supremacy over the Cubs they have held all season, the race will be over. Today the two leaders stand this way:

To
St. Louis	89 61 583
Chicago	86 61 573
Pittsburgh	85 61 568
Cincinnati	85 61 570

The Pirates already have knocked the New York Giants out of the pennant race while the Cubs, easy victims in Cincinnati, have done somewhat better against the Reds in Chicago and can be counted on to show their best with the pennant at stake. Yet if St. Louis wins the best they can hope for is a tie while the Cards need but two victories in four games to clinch the title no matter what the Cubs do.

The rivals of the leaders clashed yesterday but without giving the fans much chance to see what they may do today. Rain interrupted the game several times and finally halted it in the sixth inning, bringing Pittsburgh a 5 to 1 victory. Pie Traynor's home run in the first inning sent the Pirates off to a lead that never was threatened as Larry French gave only five hits in the short game.

Brooklyn's floundering Robins dropped into fourth place as they lost to the last-place Phillies. With successive first inning homers by Chuck Klein and Don Hurst as the starting point, the Phils continued to hit hard and won by 6 to 3. It was Brooklyn's seventh straight defeat and left the Robins a half game behind the New York Giants. Klein's homer was his 40th of the season.

Another tight-ender, the Boston Red Sox, came out ahead in the only American League game, defeating the second place Washington Senators, 4 to 3.

The Fort Worth Cats—Texas league and Dixie Champs—won't be favored by getting a glimpse of Big Spring this year. They planned a barnstorming game here Sunday, but Big Spring was the only hamlet to meet the $250 guarantee clause so the whole thing was called off. In other words the Panthers will scotch the four winners of Big Spring ball play, themselves and we'll get to sleep until 4:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon, which is one of the nearest stretches of unconsciousness we do all week. And no wise cracks please.

The thing is, the Cats didn't feel inclined to make this long jump from Fort Worth to Big Spring just for one game. They endeavored to hook up with an Abilene club, but were informed that there is just one worse place than Abilene when it comes to drawing crowds to baseball games and that is San Angelo. So they checked the whole business causing the advance guard of Jim Payne's publicity staff to make hurried exits out of the village today to tell the folks that there wouldn't be any ball game anyway.

We referred to Mr. Anderson a few ens back. We beg the public's pardon for referring to him again. He says, however, that although the Steers are not out of the race they will be ere long. It seems from that statement that Mr. Anderson is certain the Eagles will do the ousting Monday afternoon at the West Texas Fair. In the first place, providing the Steers will chuck the night life for a few days and find out what a wonderful invention the bed is, the Steers are planning to do to Abilene what the Colorado Wolves almost did. In the second place, it makes us and the Steers mad to have to play on the fair park gridiron, so they contemplate winning the game early and holding to the lead in order to get away from "Athens" as soon as possible.

CONNIE MACK HIS 50 YEARS IN BASEBALL

To almost everyone, apparently, except Connie Mack, there always has seemed something darkly mysterious about the drastic smash-up of the club that captured four pennants and three world's championships.

After the 1914 season and the team's debacle in the world's series with the Braves, Mack suddenly asked waivers on his three pitching aces, Bender, Plank and Coombs, besides subsequently selling Collins, Baker, Barry and other stars.

Many years later, Mack told me he did this, not because the team had become so monotonously good as to lose its drawing power; not because of any suspicion of crookedness or gambling, such as was gossiped about, but solely because of the fresh upheaval in Organized Baseball caused by the launching of the outlaw Federal league, and in order to help "save the game."

When the famous "Black Sox" scandal of 1919 revived rumors about the 1914 series, Mack declared himself plainly: "I almost wish that team never had been broken up. Every time a gambling scandal, league of nations or poor wheat crop is mentioned, sure enough they asked me whether that was not the reason I broke up the 1914 team."

"Gambling had nothing to do with it. Surely the fact that Eddie Collins and Eddie Murphy acted the way they did through the White Sox expose shows what kind of men I had on my club. If it hadn't been for the Federal league, that team of mine would have been winning pennants for years after it did, barring the deterioration of age and love for life on the farm."

"Look back at the facts in 1914 and you will find the explanation of our decline easily enough. The team that year clinched the pennant in early summer. Then later the boys began to hear and think about the heape of money other stars were getting to jump to the new Federal league, backed by wealthy men all over the country. They thought they were entitled to it. The result was our morale soon went to smash."

"The Red Sox came along to worry us, won eight, out of nine from us in September. When the world's series arrived, as you know, we dropped four straight to the Braves. Boston's pitchers (James, Tyler and Rudolph) simply pitched us under the table. We never had a chance."

"I promised my players if they would not jump to the Federal league I would do my best to get them jobs with Organized Baseball that would give them something like what they thought they were worth. They were loyal, but I knew I could not ask or persuade them to stick."

In breaking up his club, Mack sold Eddie Collins to the Chicago White Sox for a record price of $50,000. Jack Lapp and Eddie Murphy, outfielder, went along in the same deal for $6,000. Frank Baker retired to his farm in 1915 but was reinstated and sold to the New York Yankees in 1916 for approximately $35,000. Barry and Penneck were sold to Boston.

Bender and Plank were unconditionally released after waivers had been asked on them. Coombs, who had suffered a back injury, was let go later and subsequently joined Brooklyn in the National League.

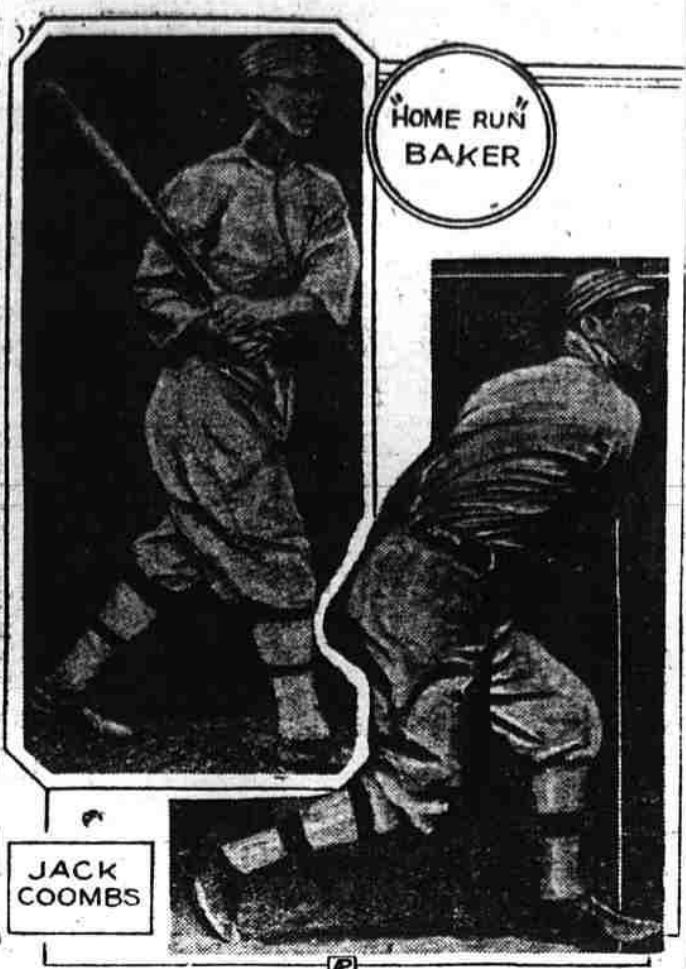

Three years later the last three of the 1914 champions were removed when McNinn, Strunk, Schang and Rush were released to Boston in deals involving about $75,000.

Altogether, Mack obtained around $200,000 for a dozen stars of the first magnitude. Fifteen years later, one player, Rogers Hornsby, was worth that much to the Chicago Cubs when they bought him in 1929 from the Boston Braves.

Mack became reminiscent one day on the subject of the decline and fall of championship ball clubs. The old Baltimore Orioles, champions in the 90s, he recalled, went to pieces because "most of that famous team came to believe they knew as much as Manager Hanlon and that they had made him." Connie continued: "They also seemed to think that they were ready for managerial positions. As it happened, some of them (like McGraw, Jennings, Robinson) were qualified, but that feeling broke up the team."

"The Cubs went the same road as the Orioles. It was a veteran team and many of the men began to believe Chance did not know any more about the game than they did. The men gradually drifted away from their leader. The break naturally had to come when that team spirit disappeared."

"Where these teams disintegrated, fast within a year or two after the break, my team was different. Some of my boys seemed to have any particular ambitions to be managers. That was probably because they were younger. It is also why my team was the greatest of them all. It could have gone on longer than the other famous machines before it, but it was slowly but surely heading toward the same rocks."

STANTON FALLS BEFORE STEERS OF NEXT YEAR

With a young lad named Howard Schwarzenbach doing the biggest part of the galloping, the Yearlings handed a 45 to 0 defeat to Stanton at the local gridiron Wednesday afternoon.

Schwarzenbach and Stamphley alone on the offensive while Yearling, Hutto stood out in the line work.

Scoring was done by Richburgh with three touchdowns, Schwarzenbach with two, Brooks and Hammock with one each, and Stamphley and Hutto added two and one points, respectively, after touchdowns.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—(AP)—A couple of Southern California youths who were not reckoned with in the seedings came forth today to defend the honors of the west against the South and East in the semi-finals of the Fourth Annual Pacific Southwest Men's Singles championships.

Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, 19-year-old winner of the Metropolitan Grass Court Singles Championship this summer, faced Cliff Sutter, while Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, another 19-year-old, was matched with Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J., national clay courts doubles champion.

Vines yesterday upset Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas, Davis Cup player and seeded No. 1, 5-7, 6-3, 10-12, 7-5.

Gledhill stopped Sidney Wood, of Pasadena and New York, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 14-12.

Mangin's presence in the semi-finals came by virtue of his smashing triumph over George Lott, Jr., Chicago, also an intercollegiate star. The score was 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

To round out a perfect day for the Gounger set, Sutter took Berkeley Bell of Austin, Tex., into camp 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

Heavyweights To Mix It Tonight

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(AP)—If the pre-fight receipts are any criterion, then it doesn't make much of a difference to very many people if Jack Sharkey lowers Victorio Campolo, the Argentine, to the mat for the count of ten, or vice versa when they come together in their fifteen-round heavyweight bout at the Yankee Stadium tonight.

Unless there is a last minute mad rush to the box office, there'll be many yawning gaps in the huge ball park when the two heavyweights step in the ring between 8:30 and 9 p. m. (E. S. T.) Predictions were that the receipts would not go much above the $100,000 mark and if such be the case, then Madison Square Garden faces a substantial loss.

Sharkey, making his first appearance since losing to Max Baer, will enter the ring the 2 to 1 favorite over his bigger but cruder South American opponent. The Boston sailor will have not only the advantage of the betting odds, if that be an advantage, but his take of the gate will be $100,000. In contrast Campolo will receive only training expenses, about $7,500.

The Garden, which manages Campolo, has high hopes that the Argentine heavyweight will come thought tonight, furnish the biggest upset of the fistic season and provide an outstanding opponent for Young Stribling in the annual battle of the Palms at Miami next winter. Campolo packs a powerful right hand but is clumsy with his left, unless he has improved since defeating Salvatore Ruggirello in Boston six months ago.

Just about shove him out of the heavyweight championship picture and at the same time a victory would push Campolo into the midst of the muddled situation. Campolo will have a decided advantage in height, reach and weight but the "wise ones" say that Sharkey packs too much experience for his South American opponent.

BRYAN MEMORIAL UNIVERSITY OPENS WHERE SCOPES TAUGHT

DAYTON, Tenn.—(AP)—Fundamentalism's memorial to William Jennings Bryan—the university to bear his name—opens its first classes in Dayton September 18 with a champion of the Commoner's religious principles as president.

Dr. George E. Guille of Athens, Tenn., a worker of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago for more than 15 years, heads the institution which will open in temporary quarters five years after the famous Scopes trial and Bryan's death in this mountain town.

Until the university's $400,000 administration building is completed, classes will meet in the old Rhea county high school building where John T. Scopes, defendant in the Dayton trial, taught biology.

Opening of the school will be a great day for Dayton, which has worked in behalf of the university since Bryan died suddenly here in the summer of 1925, two days after Scopes was convicted of teaching the theory of evolution in violation of a Tennessee statute.

From the mountains a nationwide campaign has been conducted which has brought contributions from about 10,000 individuals. Nearly $1,000,000 has been subscribed, an 81-acre campus bought and work started on an administration building, planned to accommodate 400 students in all departments.

Only freshman classes will be opened this fall. It is planned to add additional courses gradually until the university is a four-year institution. The university will be co-educational and will have intercollegiate athletic teams.

Two men forced him into their automobile. Claypool said and drove west with him along the national road. He slipped from the machine and ran, the men firing four or five shots at him as he fled. One bullet struck him in the arm, but he eluded the men, and called Sheriff Dreher. Last July 30 Claypool was kidnaped and his former home at Shelby, Ind., and tarred and feathered. # Mustangs And Jackets To Clash

By GAYLE TALBOT JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer) DALLAS, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The Southern Methodist University Mustangs today will unveil to an expectant football world the team that has received more advance notice than any in the 15-year history of the Southwest Conference. The Howard Payne Yellowjackets will assist, however reluctantly, to make the occasion one to be remembered.

A critical, if not an over-large, audience was assured. A small army of scouts, said to have mobilized quietly at Grand Prairie during the night, moved in on Dallas early today and before game time was expected to be firmly entrenched at Owenby stadium. The gum-shoehing contingent was said to include gentlemen of keen perception from points as distant as South Bend, Ind., and Annapolis, Md.

Chances were that the audience, including cash clients, would get only a rough, general idea of what the Mustangs have on the ball. Although Coach Ray Morrison announced he would start his strongest line-up against the Hackets—almost the identical outfit that held T. C. U. to a 7-7 tie last November 30—he was not expected to keep them in there any longer than absolutely necessary. The Pony offense was said to be limited to a few pointer plays and simple passes; just enough to win. Some 50-odd plays with which the Methodists are known to be equipped probably will remain a deep, dark secret until Oct. 4.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, 12121 Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Elvira, Ohio.
If you should hold the conviction that there is no future life would you still worship Christ? I am in that position, for I worship Him, but cannot believe in immortality.

St. Paul says Christ brought immortality to light through His gospel and if the Apostle had such clear convictions as to a future life here ought to be some adequate reaction to that conviction in every follower of the Lord of death. If, however, you sincerely maintain there is no future life, why not hold your mind open for any new light upon this supreme question which is so largely a matter of faith? Moreover, it does not seem to me that there is anything lost by your admission of Christ. On the contrary, much is gained for that admits a firm, ultimately ground in your faith in this declaration that while you believe in Him still not the latter.

Married twenty-one years and my love for my wife was unimpaired. But three years ago her mind in a sudden attack developed into an act of insanity. The discovery plunged me into despair and I began to drink. I have recovered my grip on myself, yet I now have the added memories of family scenes due to drunkenness with their effect on our children. I can't desert my wife—there are the children and she could not earn her own living. Legal proceedings would also injure their future. Can you help me?

A PRETTY FROCK FOR MOTHER'S GIRL

6812 This charming dress may be developed in washable silk crepe or in wool crepe in linen or in any of the new cotton prints or chiffons. As pictured, the circular skirt portions are joined to a deep hip yoke shaped in split curved outline over the front. The waist is cut to blouse above a narrow belt. It is finished with a scalloped collar. The sleeves are gathered to a band cuff. As pictured, crepe in the popular sunburst shade was used with binding on collar, yoke and cuffs in self color. The ribbon at the neck is of black velvet.

This pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 10, 12 and 14 years. To make the dress for a 12 year size will require 2 3/4 yards of 35 inch material. To finish with bias binding as shown in the air view will require 2 3/4 yards 1 1/2 inch wide. For the bow has gaps which need to be filled out. Now that you have conquered drink, clear the way for your children and begin by conferring with your wife. Try to find a working basis with her for the future of your home. If she is anxious to co-operate, bury the past and make duty your guiding star and consolation for the future.

Is it possible to read character from handwriting?

Graphology is not listed among the sciences, but Robert Sandek's two books, "Experiments With Handwriting" and "The Psychology of Handwriting," present a case for this matter which deserves attention.

An individual's voice, speech, gestures, clothes, gait and face frequently indicate his or her disposition. They are by no means an exact code. Personality is too elusive and subtle to be interpreted by its outward signs. But when Mr. Sandek claims he can detect dishonesty by handwriting, and that after examining the penmanship of 141 persons convicted of fraud he found his conclusions substantiated in every case, he is at least entitled to a hearing. Out of seventy-three additional specimens submitted to him he was able to diagnose dishonesty in fourteen instances and was correct in each of these cases.

One wonders what he would have done with the script of Horace Greeley or of Dean Stanley of Westminster. Both these celebrities wrote a hand which few experts could read, whereas Mr. Bernard Shaw's manuscripts are as artistic in penmanship as they are brilliant in style and suggestive in matter. Yet he would be a bold man who said he could interpret the character of Horace Greeley, Dean Stanley or Bernard Shaw from their handwriting. I personally do not place much faith in the process.

South "Mathias, 38— If Jesus had died a painful death would the same blessings from His life and mission come to us as we now receive?"

There is no adequate reason for thinking that in His great purpose of redemption God was under the necessity of resorting to any particular form of death for His only begotten son. What the Father intended was that the offering of our Lord in tremendous pain and agony for man's sin and redemption should be emphasized. The method of using was not the vital thing but the redemption that death effected.

So far as modern life is concerned we are bound to remember that it is Christ's finished work of death and its sacrificial element which makes it glorious in the history of redemption. The only way by which we can conserve and heighten all its values is by applying a similar sacrificial element to our own lives and purposes.

"A champion race horse or a leader in industry, I have found, is seldom a result of chance. Concentration upon quality—that's what counts. When I read the personal reports of your distinguished visitors, revealing your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos, I knew that you were on the right track. Quality is everything—and the American people demand and appreciate the best."

John Hertz

LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating! Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray.

Three Ship Passengers Are Reported Drowned

PANAMA CITY, Sept. 25 (AP)—Passengers on the United States transport Saint Michel, bound for New York, told here today how three persons aboard the ship had been drowned shortly after the vessel left Porto Rico San Juan, Porto Rico, for Cristobal.

Actions of an unnamed soldier led to suspicions of his sanity and he was thrown in the ship's brig. Later his reason apparently returned to him and he was released. He immediately went to the side of the ship and dived into the ocean and was not seen again.

The vessel stopped and circled the spot and some of its crew started to lower a boat. The davits jammed causing a small delay but eventually the craft was freed and it sped toward the water out of control. Three seamen plunged in to the sea and two of them were drowned.
