FOUGHT FOR TODAY: "The chains of habit are generally too small to be felt until they are too strong to be broken." — (Johnson).

"Saturday night, closing night, for youth baseball in our town, was reeled off in every respect — as smoothly as big-league." ... That's Henry Pullman, enthusiastic sportsman, speaking. He and Mrs. Pullman were in the sizable crowd which turned out for the conclusion of the season, Saturday night.

Summer Youth Baseball General Manager James Wright, who m-ed the after - the tournament features, voiced appreciation to everyone who in any way had contributed toward the success of the sport here this season.

Certainly, the community owes them a deep debt of gratitude. ... And to Mr. Wright, all moguls of the leagues, whose attendance or other gestures have encouraged the project, sponsors, managers and players, we extend a sincere salute. ... Long may youth baseball — fine influence that it is — flourish in our community!

"If you see good in everybody," muses Aunt Slug, "you may be an optimist, and then again you may be nuts."

Chatting with Highway Patrolmen Alfred White and Lester Strawn yesterday we were reminded of the helpful way in which Highway Patrolmen have assisted us and other newsmen of our acquaintance in presenting traffic-crash accounts accurately. That, of course, is to the public's best interest and we've always found them to feel that way about it. ... As a matter of fact, here in Eastland we've been very pleased with the fine co-operation extended by news sources.

Our associate editor (and better-half) Mrs. Casey was kidding neighbor Leon Bourland Sunday about a squib she had in her Around Town column concerning the fact that the Leon Celebration in September instead of being for him is for Lake Leon. "Anyhow," he replied, "I've always been mighty close to Leon River, in fact I was born and reared right beside it." ... Leon is a popular name, with the big whoopla coming off in early September, and all.

Pointers On Boat Safety Given By Red Cross Leader

Small boats and canoes will play a part in about one-third of the nearly 1,400 drownings that will occur in August, Mrs. Sophia Lovelace, Eastland water safety chairman of the Red Cross Chapter, warned today.

This predicted toll, a figure based on the records of the last few years, can be reduced drastically, she said, if the millions of boat and canoe users will follow these simple rules of safety:

First — Learn to swim. You should be able to at least keep yourself afloat in the water before you go out in a boat or canoe. If you can't swim, don't let pride take your life — wear a life jacket at all times while afloat.

Second — Learn how to handle your craft, whether it is a boat, canoe, outboard motor, or sailboat. With skill comes safety.

Third — Don't overload your boat. At least two-thirds of your craft should be "freeboard" — that is, above the level of the water.

Fourth — If bad weather threatens, don't go out.

Fifth — If your craft overturns or capsizes, stay with it — it will float, you can hang on to it, kick your legs, and head for shore. If you are far from shore, you can right the craft, get in, and hand - paddle it to land. It will float even when filled with water, and even with an outboard motor attached.

The Texas Highway Commission has taken the first step to inaugurate a new two year Farm-to-Market Road program for Texas. E. H. Thornton, Jr., chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, stated that the funds for this program are being derived from the fund established by Senate Bill 287, 51st Legislature.

Mr. Milligan stated that this year the commission has authorized the development of some area roads which will serve the dual purpose of service to the adjacent land as well as aiding in the development of the entire area of the state.

It was announced that work will begin on these projects just as soon as final planning is completed and right-of-way secured. Resident Engineer G. L. Smith will be in charge of the work in this area.

Orchids to leaders of youth baseball in Eastland — headed by JAMES WRIGHT — for directing this wholesome enterprise through a most successful season.

Guess how HOMER SMITH has been spending his vacation: Building a fence on his farm west of here. (And he claims that his attractive school-teacher-wife lent a hand at digging the post holes, too.)

Received a beautiful colored postcard from FRANCES WALTERS (MRS. BILL JR.) from Mexico City Saturday which says, "Aug. 2nd, pleasant weather in Mexico City today, rainy and cool. We are wearing fall suits. Acapulco next week. Friends from Minnesota and Houston are with us. Wonderful vacation."

Small world it is: MRS. F. L. DRAGOO, home from Dallas, Austin, San Antonio and San Angelo reports that she and her daughter, MRS. C. B. BEALL of San Angelo and Mrs. Beall's daughter, MRS. W. W. WENLAND of Dallas, planning to surprise Mrs. Beall's son, BOBBY DRAGOO BEALL, with a visit, which wasn't a surprise at all — at all — because he had read all about it in the TELEGRAM two weeks in advance. . . . And they wondered and wondered how he knew after he talked to his mother about it over the phone in advance.

The mystery was solved when they arrived there and were met in the first office in the new Baptist Memorial Hospital building at San Antonio by MISS RUTH CASEBOLT (secretary - receptionist there) who explained to them that upon reading in The Telegram about Mrs. Dragoo's plans to join the others in Dallas and visit "Dr. Boo" (who is interned at the San Antonio hospital) she took the paper to "Dr. Boo" immediately and he was so happy. . . . Of course, as she knew him, she showed him the write-up (about two and a half weeks ago).

It was a lot of fun and nobody really minded. . . . But if anyone really wants anything to be kept a secret he had better not give it to The Telegram because it has a way of getting around — and how!

Pictures Work And Play of Ben Sparks Family

This story is about two former Eastlanders, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sparks, new residents of Colorado City, who were pictured with their little daughter, Mary Margaret, in the Colorado City Record, with the following story. (Mr. Sparks is the son of J. Frank Sparks of Eastland and Mrs. Sparks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Trigg of Breckenridge, formerly of Eastland.)

The story is quoted as follows: Maybe you won't believe it, but dirt brought the Ben Sparks family to Colorado City.

That's because dirt is business for the man of the family.

Sparks — who is co-owner of Hudson and Sparks, dirt contractors — his wife, Margaret, and 10-month-old daughter, Mary Margaret, moved here the latter part of June from Breckenridge.

The couple had lived in Breckenridge since they were married five years ago except for two years Sparks served at the Dallas Naval Air Station in Grand Prairie.

Both, Mr. and Mrs. Sparks, were graduated from North Texas State College in Denton. Sparks attended the University of Texas one year, then entered the Denton college where he received his bachelor of arts degree.

Majoring in home economics, Mrs. Sparks received her bachelor of science degree in 1949 and was assistant home demonstration agent in Johnson County a year before the couple were married.

Caring for Mary Margaret, or "Marty" as she is called by her parents, takes much of Mrs. Sparks' time, but she still enjoys collecting antiques as a hobby.

Cooking and sewing are more than routine work for Mrs. Sparks, too. Her favorite dish to prepare is barbecue chicken.

In Breckenridge she was active in club work. After her graduation from Eastland High School, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Trigg, moved to Breckenridge.

Sparks, whose favorite hobby is playing golf, likes to participate in sports as well as watch them. While at NTSC he was a member of the "T" Club, an organization for trackmen, and the Talons Fraternity.

His father, Frank Sparks, still resides in Eastland where he was graduated from high school.

Counted as almost part of the family is Chita, their five-year-old Chihuahua, which the couple has had since she was five weeks old.

Mrs. Sparks praised the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority for their Howdy Hack program saying, "I think the idea of the personal contact is nice. It's a nice way for the merchants to extend a welcome to newcomers."

The couple, who live at 1031 Hickory Street, last Sunday joined the First Methodist Church.

Nineband-ded Animal Armadillo Can't Smile But Has Justified Laugh On Texans

By Daniel W. Lay Wildlife Biologist

The nineband-ded armadillo, with its bony covering, can't crack a smile. Nevertheless, he is entitled to a good laugh at a lot of Texans. His joke on us arises from the widespread belief that he is an important enemy of the bobwhite quail. As a professional quail specialist, I hear the armadillo blamed whenever quail problems are discussed. Until a recent meeting at Nacogdoches, I had never talked on quail management without being asked if we shouldn't kill armadillos to get more quail.

For years I vigorously defended him, with no perceptible results, until I realized the joke was on me. The armadillo didn't need any help, and more time could be spent on constructive quail management discussions if I quit taking up for him.

Now, I tell the quail hunters to kill all the armadillos they wish but not to expect more quail as a result. For some reason this leads to early termination of the subject.

It is unlikely that hunters kill enough armadillos to affect the population over more than a small area. More are killed in highway accidents. There are no important predators, and factors of food supply and climate appear to regulate the numbers of armadillos.

Aside from his privilege of laughing at people who take him too seriously, which he can't indulge, he's a unique part of the fauna. His ancestors can be traced back to the Dark Ages, and his brothers range from Argentina to Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana. There is also a thriving colony in Florida which began when a hurricane wrecked a zoo.

No other mammal has bony skin covering. The two stiff shells which cover the shoulders and rump are connected with nine bands over the body which permit flexibility. The tail is round, bony and tapered. Only the soft belly is uncovered, and it is protected by four short legs with sharp toes.

No other mammal gives birth to four young which are almost always the same sex. Its delayed implantation of the embryo for several months, before the 120-day gestation period, is also unique.

The individual's world consists of about 50 acres of forest, brush, or grassland—it doesn't matter, so long as the soil is soft enough to be grubbed with his nose and the climate is productive of insects and not too cold. In this home range, partially occupied by other armadillos, he'll have five to 15 burrows, some with several entrances.

From his den, which is filled with a bushel or more of leaves, he forages out for food at night or on cloudy days. The appetite which sustains his 13 to 17 pounds is considerable — Kalmbach found 3100 items of 87 species in one stomach—and his search for food keeps him busy when he is out of his den. One rarely sees an undisturbed animal that is not feeding.

The search for food is aided by sharp senses of hearing and smelling and excellent digging equipment in the forefeet and nose. The small eyes are less well-developed. He will feed right to the feet of a person who remains still in the right place. However, if the wind is favorable, he'll suddenly stop his feeding and stand erect on his haunches with nose up, testing the air.

If the results are positive, he will remove himself from the scene in a hopping gait that is deceiving. If he happens to be in open terrain several hundred feet from his den, an alert fellow can sometimes outrun him and pick him up by the tail. But this is not easy. And when the armadillo gets as much as his forequarters in a hole, there's little hope of pulling him out by the tail.

An indication of the kind of food sought can be gotten from the teeth. There are none in the front of his narrow mouth. Along the sides of his jaw are sharp, pointed teeth which would be useless for grinding. Thus, foods which must be chewed can't be used.

Several hundred armadillo stomachs have been examined and reported in various papers by Kalmbach, Fitch, Goodrum, Newman, and Baker. Insects, spiders, scorpions, earthworms, and reptiles make up the bulk of the diet. Other items include soft plant materials like blackberries, blueberries, persimmon, grapes and mushrooms. Two stomachs contained longleaf pine seed and one, a quail egg. Several reptile eggs were found.

The one stomach with remains of a quail egg was collected in an area where "artificial" quail nests were placed and may not be a fair sample.

At any rate, this mistake by one of several hundred may be admitted as part of the evidence without convicting the species.

Snakes are far more serious quail egg predators; yet we don't advocate special snake-control efforts to increase quail. The same effort on food and cover development will produce more quail.

In the armadillo's case, there are less egg guilt and some compensations, such as destruction of insects, small snakes, and snake eggs. Perhaps the outstanding compensation — so far as quail are concerned — is the armadillo's appetite for ants. He seems to eat all he can find. And ants have been found to be very destructive of young quail. When the chick quail first pips the egg, ants often enter the hole and attack and kill the young bird before it can emerge from the shell.

People living in country with armadillos find them a nuisance, digging in the yard and under foundations. But who knows how many more tarantulas, scorpions and termites they would have if they didn't also have the armadillos?

There was a time when they were called "Hoover Hogs," and one group of farm women put up 2,000 cans in one season. For, despite their appearance, they are edible. Judge R. E. Minton of Lufkin has had great fun introducing his special recipe to guests.

Many are still consumed, especially by Mexicans and Negroes. A young one, well-seasoned, is not bad, either. The sale of baskets and other curios made from armadillo shells continues, though demand has declined.

As Vacation Travel Booms; Accidents Boom

Now's the time when vacationing Americans take to the wheel. And as vacation travel booms, traffic accidents also boom.

This disconcerting fact was pointed out by Mr. E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice-President of Employers' Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety in cooperation with the National Safety Council. Slogan of the program is: "Drive to Arrive Alive—Slow Down and Live."

"Traffic accidents start a sharp upward climb in July," Mr. McFadden said, "and they continue to rise throughout August, marking the happy vacation months with grief and destruction."

Mr. McFadden said that it is entirely unnecessary for the increase in motor travel to result in a corresponding increase in traffic deaths. In his opinion, motorists could cut the traffic accident toll greatly if they would plan their trips carefully, then drive courteously and intelligently when they're on the road.

He listed the following six rules as "musts" for a safe motor trip:

- 1. Plan your trip so that you have plenty of time to reach your destination and return, without speeding or driving when fatigued.

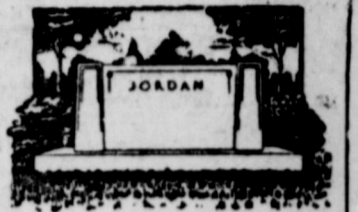

2. Learn driving regulations of the states you expect to travel through before you start on your trip.

3. If you drive, don't drink; if you drink, don't drive.

4. Watch for and heed all road signs and speed limits.

5. Have your car (and trailer, if you are going to use one) completely safety checked so that you are sure everything is in first class condition mechanically.

6. Load your car carefully so that luggage and equipment do not interfere with vision, will not shift dangerously in an emergency. "And," said Mr. McFadden, "here are a couple of good slogans to keep in mind every minute you're on the road: 'Drive To Arrive Alive—Slow Down and Live!' and, 'Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road.'"

Cadillac

CAD TOM

Figures He's Waited Long Enough!

The long-striding, fast-moving man you see in this picture has made the right decision at the right time!

For the past year or so, he has been thinking about a Cadillac—and he has finally made up his mind.

He is through with compromise and doubt and wonder. This time, he is going after the real thing!

And how lucky he is that he made that decision today! For wonderful news of a special nature is waiting for him.

He'll find, for instance, that Cadillac ownership is far more practical now than ever before. He'll learn, in fact, that the lowest-priced Cadillac can be purchased for little more than he might expect to pay for a goodly number of the so-called medium-price cars.

He'll also find that his dealer—because of a low used-car inventory—is in a position to offer him a very generous allowance on his present car.

And he'll discover that, because of Cadillac's greatly increased production during the current year, he can take title to his new Cadillac after a surprisingly short waiting period.

And all these special inducements, of course, are in addition to the other great Cadillac virtues—such as legendary dependability and long life... remarkable economy of upkeep and operation... and traditionally higher resale value.

All in all, he's walking in on the motor car opportunity of a lifetime!

And how about you? Have you been postponing your dreams of a Cadillac?

If so, there's no reason to wait any longer. Come on in and see us. Let us put you behind the wheel of a Cadillac... and give you the whole, wonderful story of the "car of cars." We think you, too, will decide that you've waited long enough!

Carbon High Reunions Are In Eastland

Eastland has just been the scene of Carbon High School Class reunions.

Robert Burns' poem and song, "Auld Lang Syne," truly could have been a good theme song on Sunday when members of the graduating class of 1930 of Carbon High School met for their twenty-fifth anniversary reunion at Eastland City Park. This is the first reunion the class has held, and it was the first time many of the class members had seen each other since graduation.

Many of the former teachers of the class and school had been invited, and five of them were present during the afternoon. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lee of Paytown; Mrs. Lee, the former Urselle Self of DeLeon, who was homemaker teacher when this class graduated.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Martin of San Antonio; Mrs. Martin, the former Agnes Wilkinson, was sixth grade teacher the same year; Miss Mae Miller of Cisco, now teacher in the Imperial School near Monahans, taught this class in the sixth grade in the school year 1924-25.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Scott of Rising Star. Mr. Scott, a former superintendent, left the school in 1921. Many of the class members knew him, though they were very young when he was in the school. Henry Collins of Carbon and F. M. Wood of Cisco, who taught in the school after 1930, also visited briefly with the group.

Other guests were Mrs. A. A. Craighead of Carbon; Dan Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Smith and Misses Opal and Loretta Morris of Eastland.

After lunch a business session was held. Interesting reports from class members not able to attend were read. These reports told whom each had married, where he lived, the number of children and the occupation each has. One member is twice a proud grandmother.

Of the twenty-five or thirty members, those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Weaver, Antelope; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Craighead, Lorraine; Mr. and Mrs. "Pat" Turner (Modena Weaver), Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hamner (Bill Thurman), Ranger.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Poe (Myrtle Stone), Eastland; Mrs. Rufus Price (Estalee Morris), Mexia; Mr. and Mrs. Buster Martin, San Saba; Edgar White, Odessa; Glen Asher, Gorman.

The afternoon was spent in reminiscing and visiting with other classes from Carbon who were also holding reunions.

The class of 1930 will hold another reunion again next year on the first Sunday in August at the City Park in Eastland, beginning with a picnic lunch at 12:30. Mrs. Rufus Price is in charge of arrangements. Anyone who has any information regarding former members and teachers of the class is requested to contact Mrs. Price.

or Mrs. J. C. Poe of Eastland.

Reminiscing was the order of the day when members of the 1932 graduating class of Carbon High School met in Eastland Park Sunday afternoon. This was the first time since graduation the group had attempted to have a reunion, and it was the first time in the twenty-three years that some of the group had seen each other.

Letters were read from some of the class members who were unable to attend, incidents were recalled which seemed very humorous now, and all agreed that the youth of today have just as much fun as we, their parents, did. In fact, perhaps this reunion was an enlightenment into the past for some of the husbands and wives of class members.

A happy time was enjoyed by all present, and all enjoyed seeing former teachers some of whom were in a reunion with the class of 1930 — Mrs. Archie Lee of Baytown, the former Urselle Self of DeLeon; Mrs. Sexton Martin of San Antonio, the former Agnes Wilkinson; Miss Mae Miller of Cisco; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Scott of Rising Star, and Mrs. F. M. Wood of Cisco.

The class of 1932 held a joint reunion with "the Juniors," who graduated in 1933. A picnic supper was spread in the early evening. It was decided to meet earlier in the day on the first Sunday in August of 1956 and spread the noon meal instead of the evening meal.

Members of the class who were present were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cates, Jr. (Hazel Weaver) and "Bucky," of San Angelo; Misses Olene and Maudene Brazzil of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris Hampton, of Gruver; Mrs. Z. W. Cook (Frankie Lou Garrett), Stanley and Barbara, of Olden.

Mrs. Gordon Gatlin (Ruth Richards) of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Courtney (Nina Glea Richards), of Navasota, and Mrs. W. J. Broussard (LaRue Usery), Weldon Roy and Edward, of Eastland.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar White and son, of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Wade White and Mrs. Harry Hall, of Carbon; Mr. and Mrs. Sexton Martin, of San Antonio.

Woodrow Mangum of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Buster Martin of San Saba; Mr. and Mrs. W. Weaver, of Antelope; Mrs. Rufus Price (Estalee Morris), of Mexia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Poe, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Smith, Shirley Jean and Clara June, Dan Martin and Misses Opal and Loretta Morris, all of Eastland, and Misses Wesley Ann Broussard and Janie Tippitt of Dallas, week-end guests of Mrs. Broussard.

Earline Miller and Don Vincent Exchange Vows In Church Rites

Miss Earline Miller of Abilene, M Vincent of Abilene, formerly of Eastland, became the bride of Don Vincent of Abilene in a ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the First Methodist Church in Eastland. The Rev. Richard R. Smith III, pastor of the church, read the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fannie Belle Carroll, 412 S. Connellee, Eastland, and Earl W. Miller of Baton Rouge. Mr. Vincent's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. Decorated the church altar were tall baskets of white gladioli and gypsophila, flanked by palm trees. White satin bows marked the pews for relatives.

ceremony, Miss Weaver sang Matlotte's "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Taylor also played Wagner's Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin for the processional and Mendelssohn's Wedding March for the recession.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white linen suit with rhinestone-studded collar, a white lace brimless hat sprinkled with rhinestones and white lizard shoes. Her white gloves were rhinestone-sparkled and her bag was of white lizard. She carried an orchid framed with a white maline heart on a white Bible. "Something old" was a French lace handkerchief and she also wore "something borrowed and something blue — and a sixpence in her shoe."

Miss Emma Lee Miller of Eastland was her sister's maid of honor. With a charcoal silk shantung suit, she wore a pink velvet hat trimmed in silver, pink shoes and gloves and a white gardenia corsage.

We very much appreciate your fine cooperation and help during our recent Red Cross Swim Program. You gave much free space in your paper and did such a good job in covering our main events. The Eastland car was traveling west and the Dallas car east, at the time of the accident. As the Kaiser was turning left into a side road to Olden, the Chevrolet struck it in the side, it was reported. Both cars were demolished, but neither overturned, and they were east only short distances from the crash.

The accident was investigated by Highway Patrolmen Lester Strawn and Alfred White.

Saturday night was a busy one for the Highway Patrolmen. Besides the Olden crash, they chased down a Mercury from New Mexico that reportedly was going 100 miles an hour, between Cisco and Eastland, and investigated another accident. In this latter incident, a 1955 Studebaker pickup truck, driven by Randolph Woodruff, 36, of Route 1, Rising Star, jumped a ditch 7-10 of a mile south of Cisco on Highway 183, ran through a fence and out into a field. Woodruff was uninjured.

In an accident investigated by the Cisco Police Department two persons were injured in the near-head-on crash of two automobiles at the south edge of the Cisco city limits Saturday night. One remained hospitalized. The other was released Sunday.

Still confined at the hospital in Cisco, was Billy Vern Davis, 21, of Haskell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Davis. He received a slight concussion and head, nose and arm cuts.

Leaving the hospital Sunday afternoon was William M. Hilley, 37, of Lubbock, who suffered a slight fracture of the left foot and chin cuts.

Autos driven by the two men collided after Davis had passed a truck on Highway 183 near the city limits.

Davis, a spring graduate of Cisco Junior College, plans to enter McMurry College this fall.
