Wealthy Banker Thought Kidnaped From Home

Has Been Missing Since Saturday; Town Is Aroused

Wife Heard Him Talking To Strangers At His Front Gate Just Before His Disappearance.

GALVA, Ill., Oct. 27.—Earl L. Yocum, Galva's richest citizen and said to be one of the wealthiest bankers in west central Illinois, was missing yesterday and it was believed he was held a captive by kidnapers who wanted ransom.

The banker, authorities believed, was kidnaped from his own front yard by men whom he tried to befriend by showing them the way to a home they pretended they wished to visit.

Talked To Strangers "Where is the home of Mrs. Yocum, the banker's wife, heard a stranger ask of her husband Saturday night as Yocum entered his front yard after taking his two children, Mary 13, and Ann, 8, to a moving picture theatre. Mrs. Yocum said she did not hear the last words of the stranger's query, but she did hear her husband answer "right over there."

The stranger, she said, then asked Yocum, who is president of the Yocum State Bank of Galva, if he would show him the way. Yocum replied "sure" and strolled away.

An hour passed. Yocum did not return. His wife became worried and attempted to telephone neighbors. Getting no response, she investigated and found that the telephone wires had been cut outside the house. Police were called, wires formed and there was no trace of the banker had been found.

The news of Yocum's disappearance spread rapidly through this small town, which is 8 miles southwest of Kewanee, Ill., and 110 miles from Chicago. The kidnap.

Newspaper Office Is Ransacked In Political Fight

EDINBURG, Tex., Oct. 27.—The bitter political fight in Hidalgo county for the past four years by the faction opposing A. Y. Bacon, millionaire sheriff of 14 years, has flared anew. Officers are seeking the persons who wrecked the office of the Tri-City Sun, newspaper supporting the democratic party in the November election.

H. J. Harrison, publisher of the Sun, expressed the opinion that the thieves were after records of judgments entered in Dallas county against a good government party candidate opposing the democratic nominee for a county office.

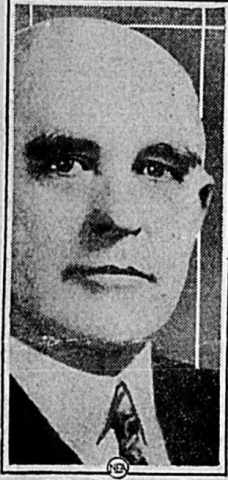

Cabinets and desks in the offices were wrecked open and their contents scattered after the office. Valuable papers were not molested. Officers said they expected to make an arrest tonight.

Mrs. O'Loughlin's Alibi Disproved

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 27.—Details of the actions of Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin on the night of the murder of her 10 year old stepdaughter Leona O'Loughlin, were being obtained slowly by police today from friends of the accused woman.

The story which the stepmother of the slain child told consistently for more than week has broken last night in voluntary admissions of Mrs. Ethel Sparr, hairdresser and friend of Mrs. O'Loughlin.

For 10 days Mrs. O'Loughlin and Mrs. Sparr told detectives they had been together twice on the night of the murder.

Suddenly the hairdresser admitted the accused woman appeared at her house only once, at about 10:30 p. m. Mrs. O'Loughlin, she declared was highly nervous and was without hat, coat or stockings.

The two women, according to the statement, then prepared a story to tell Leo O'Loughlin, the stepmother and husband of the stepmother. Mrs. Sparr told police the alibi judge that murder had been committed.

Modification of Eligibility Rules Is Being Sought

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 27.—The Texas Interscholastic League committee at a meeting here this afternoon will consider a proposed modification of eligibility rules. The change has been suggested by Supt. E. C. Dearing of Marshall high school.

He seeks a delay in putting a "ten-semester" rule into effect. This rule makes a player ineligible after five years in or above the eighth grade of a school. The rule is not attacked but its immediate enforcement after recent adoption is said to work a hardship.

A questionnaire was sent out to various schools. Replies have been received from about 100. Opinion is divided, Ray Henderson athletic director of the league said before the meeting.

The league will also have up for consideration a complaint of the district two committee against Spur charging alleged failure to observe rules. Suspension of Spur is sought. A committee from Spur was here recently to defend the school but charges had not been presented at that time.

Bluff Fails and Bandit Caught By Policeman

DALLAS, Oct. 27.—A dapper bandit tried the ruse of stimulating a weapon in his pocket one too often, and on a girl theatre cashier and was tucked away in jail today.

He loitered in the lobby of one of the largest theatres here last night, sauntering up to the box and with a significant gesture to a hulking pocket ordered Marie Woods to "give me all the money and be quick, for this thing in my pocket might go off."

She parried with the retort that the manager had just collected the receipts, and pressed a button summoning all house hands. They came, and the youth fled. A patrolman decided his precipitate retreat past a corner was unseemly, and arrested him. Miss Woods identified him.

His description tallied with that of a new boarder at a rooming house who had departed along with a wrist watch and $4. A boarder ad pursued and been bluffed by the fist in the pocket.

The bandit admitted both jobs to police.

Houston Opens Water Carnival

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 27.—Houston opens its waterway celebration here today, with a triple fiesta, one navy day, another the presence of the new U. S. cruiser Houston in its own home town for the first time, and still another the tenth anniversary of Port Houston and its channel to the gulf.

One of the noted visitors in Houston today was Assistant Navy Secretary Ernest Lee Jahneke, here for the ceremonies.

The program of today included a luncheon to Jahneke, Governor Dan Moody and officers of the cruiser, tendered by Mayor Walter Monteith; the navy day parade at 3 p. m.; the official navy day dinner tonight; a presentation of the beautiful silver service from the city of Houston to the cruiser; an enlisted men's dance, and a formal ball for the cruiser officers.

However, the parade was called off as rain descended on the city in torrents this morning. It is now scheduled for 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Yesterday, as the cruiser was thrown open to guests, some 50,000 Houstonians crowded and jammed their way aboard the latest fighting craft of the nation.

Rotarians Hear Miss Bailey and Supt P. B. Bittle

Miss Grace Bailey of Warner Memorial University and Supt P. B. Bittle of the Eastland public schools, had the principle parts on today's program, presented by chairman H. P. Crouch of the program committee for the Eastland Rotary club. Mr. Crouch spoke briefly, warning property owners of the approaching cold weather and the customary troubles it brings in the way of burst water and other ills.

Miss Bailey, who is head of the music department of Warner Memorial University, favored the Rotarians with several piano numbers receiving much applause and a request for a second number, which she played.

Superintendent Bittle spoke on Eastland schools. He stated that, on instructions from the board of education, the school was being operated this year at an expense of $6,000 less than last year. This he said was accomplished in a number of ways, chief among which was the eliminating of four or five teachers.

Enrollment in the schools today is the same as for the same period last year and enrollments are still coming in, Mr. Bittle said. A plan of vocational guidance has been added this year, Mr. Bittle said, and is proving very popular.

Mr. Bittle also discussed the recent act of the state legislature which puts the payment of the County School Superintendent's salary and the expenses of that office, upon the independent schools districts as well as upon the common school districts where it has been heretofore. This, he said, is meeting with the disapproval of the independent districts because of the fact that the County school superintendent has nothing whatever to do with the independent schools. In Eastland county, where there are so many independent districts the amount each has to pay is not large, Eastland quoted.

Mr. Bittle also called attention to the fact that next Friday the High school football team goes to Abilene for a game. He said a special train had been proposed to carry the team, pep squad and fans to the game.

Crashes, Fires, Football, Explosions And a Nail Claim Victims In Texas

Three Children Killed In San Angelo, Two Youth Die In Strawn, Football Player Has Neck Broken And Nail In Man's Eye Results In Fatal Injury at Borger.

Fire, football, an explosion, a nail and automobiles claimed the lives of at least nine persons in Texas over the weekend.

Three children met violent deaths at San Angelo and two Strawn youth died in an automobile collision.

Fire destroyed the home of C. A. Falls, and his two sons, Randall, 4, and Billie, 1, were burned to death. Their mother was visiting a neighbor at the time, and the father was at work. Mildred Davidson, 9, died shortly after she was struck on a downtown street by an automobile.

Ray Dexter, 28, died in a Borger hospital Sunday as the result of a nail piercing his eye. Physicians said a blood clot lodged against the brain. The victim removed the projectile before he was removed to the hospital.

Playing in a "scrub" football game yesterday afternoon, Jack Davis, 21, suffered a broken neck at Dallas. None of the 16 youths engaged in the game was injured to allow the victim was injured. A coroner's verdict said death occurred accidentally.

An oil well, presumably a duster, suddenly blew in near Graham and Ernest Bisco, 30, a night watchman, received fatal burns in the resulting explosion.

Two Strawn youths, Julius Schwab, 21, and Leon Rieu, 22, were instantly killed late Sunday in a three-way automobile collision on the Bankhead highway south of Strawn. An attempt to pass one machine caused a smashup between all three. Occupants of the two other cars were slightly injured.

Has Been Missing— (Continued from page 1) Worth $1,000,000 Word from the State Bank Examiner's office at Springfield was that Yocum's bank was in excellent condition. Yocum was said here to be worth more than $1,000,000. He is known by bankers throughout the state.

No demand for ransom was reported, but officials felt certain that such a demand had been received by Mrs. Yocum, who was suffering severely from nervousness and fear.

Officials said a special delivery letter, which came into Galva on an east bound train, was delivered to the banker's wife Sunday afternoon. She refused to divulge its contents. Authorities felt certain the letter contained threats, and a demand for money or that it had been written by Yocum and directed how ransom was to be turned over secretly to the abductors.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The difference between the real liberals in politics and those who claim to be liberals because they are wets was never more clearly accentuated than in the political campaign now drawing to its close.

One thing the wets and the progressives have in common—they are both opposed to a status quo. The wets want repeal of the eighteenth amendment or modification of the Volstead act. The progressives think it is more important to relieve unemployment, curb the "power trust," fight labor injunctions, help the farmers, keep reactionary judges off the supreme court and so on.

Most of the outstanding progressives seem to be quite dry—Senators Borah of Idaho, Norris of Nebraska and Walsh of Montana, for instance. Also such 1930 candidates as Gifford Pinchot, running for governor on the Republican ticket in Pennsylvania, and Edward P. Costigan, Democratic candidate for senator in Colorado.

Nuch Dissatisfaction This seems to be a year of comparative dissatisfaction and both rebellious groups, wets and progressives, are trying to make the most of it. Thus there is an unusual amount of non-partisan campaigning. Members of both major parties are temporarily deserting to campaign and vote for the other party's candidate because he is dry or wet and progressives are likewise checking their party labels to support one or another of their brethren on the other party's ticket. There isn't enough of this sort of thing to justify predictions of a new era in politics, but there's a lot more of it than usual.

Strange bedfellows are piling in together in Pennsylvania, where Democrats are never supposed to win anything. John Hemphill, Pinchot's Democratic opponent, has the support of organized wets, conservative public utility and other corporations, many leaders of the notorious Vane Republican machine and a substantial group of labor leaders.

Pinchot, who always has been regarded as an unusually cautious dry, may be hard pressed. He has the organized dries and Hemphill has the wets. Whereas Republican wets of prominence have deserted to Hemphill, Democratic dries such as Vance McCormick of Harrisburg and John A. McSparran, defeated for governor in 1922, have declared for Pinchot.

As the Republican candidate, Pinchot himself naturally has considerable machine support and other strength from conservative or reactionary sources, as well as an official endorsement by the state Federation of Labor.

Walsh in Stiff Fight In Montana John J. Raskob, the Anti-Saloon League and progressive generally are supporting Senator Walsh, dry progressive Democrat, whose re-election is seriously threatened by Judge Albert J. Galen, Republican wet. Raskob, who is both the Democratic national chairman and a leading wet, personally gave $5000 to the Walsh campaign.

In Colorado Costigan, former member of the tariff commission, is both red-hot progressive and red-hot dry. Progressives of both parties think he would be a great help in the Senate. His Republican opponent, George H. Shaw, is far less dry and far more conservative. Costigan, according to dispatches from the west, has a real chance to win.

Progressives everywhere are intensely interested in seeing Norris re-elected in Nebraska. Norris is the Senate's most important progressive; he is also quite dry. His Democratic opponent, former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, is no reactionary, but is much more conservative than Norris. He favors modification.

Markets

Final Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Overcoming the combined influences of further severe breaks in special shares, the stock market rallied spiritedly in late dealings today.

Early losses ranging up to 6 points were quickly recovered and in many cases substantial gains substantial trading during the first four hours was characterized by exceedingly confusing price movements with the trend moderately lower.

Selling occasioned by the failure of C. Clothier Jones & Co., and by the sharp breaks in both Radio common and J. I. Case, however, was readily absorbed.

Stocks showed signs of increased nervousness as the final hour progressed.

Steel common rallied above its previous closing level of 15 1/2 in the last hour, compared with its early low of 14 1/8. Westinghouse rallied from 10 3/4 to 10 3/8 and similar comebacks were made by other leading shares. Strength in these issues induced considerable short covering and activity increased on the late rally. Food and amusement shares were prominent on the upside.

Am. I. Case, which was forced down to 10 1/2 in the early dealings, off more than 8 points, rallied several points and Radio snapped close to its 22 1/2 after selling close to the year's low of 21. Radio-Keith, on the other hand, maintained independent strength, rallying more than 2 points to 24 1/2.

Mail order shares showed the effects of lessened selling pressure following omission of the Montgomery Ward dividend last week.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Adventure enters the life of Celia Mitchell, 17, when she learns the father she has supposed dead is alive and that he has a home in Baltimore to live in New York with her father, John Mitchell, and her aristocratic grandmother.

Margaret Rogers, Celia's mother, is now a widow, having divorced Mitchell and remarried later. Barney Shields, young newspaper photographer, is in love with the girl and before leaving Baltimore Celia promised to be loyal to his love.

Mitchell asks Evelyn Parsons, beautiful widow, to introduce the girl to young Jordan. Mrs. Parsons agrees, considering Celia means to win Mitchell's affections though she is jealous and at once begins scheming to get rid of the girl. She introduces Celia to Tod Jordan, fascinating but of dubious character, and does all she can to encourage this match.

Lisi Duncan, socially prominent, becomes Celia's loyal friend. Mitchell learns Jordan is paying his daughter attentions and forbids her to see him. Celia offends her grandmother and the night before Mitchell feigns illness and departs for a rest. The girl goes to Mrs. Parsons' Long Island home for a lengthy visit. Jordan calls there frequently.

Mrs. Parsons lunches with Mitchell and tells her he has investigated Jordan's past and that the young man is a gambler. She does not pass this news on to Celia. Next day Celia, Lisi and Jordan attend the races and there Celia encounters Barney Shields. Shields tells her he is working for a New York picture service and she agrees to telephone him next day.

Now go on with the story

CHAPTER XXXVIII

When Celia Mitchell opened her eyes next morning she saw at once that her plans for the day were ruined. Two little wrinkles appeared in her forehead as she turned on her pillow and gazed out the open window.

Rain! It was falling in gentle monotony, not a downpouring summer torrent that would end as abruptly as it had begun. The rain was sure to last throughout the day.

She sat up in bed and considered the dripping outdoors mournfully. Why, of all times, did it have to rain today? Her strategy, carefully laid out the night before, was useless now. She had planned, as an excuse to meet Barney, to stage an impromptu shopping trip. She would tell Evelyn she must have tennis shoes. They would have to be fitted and could not be sent out. Besides, Lisi had told her of a small store which carried the best equipment. It all sounded plausible enough, but who would be so ridiculous as to go shopping in the rain, that story would never do today.

Celia dressed slowly. She still was reticent about confiding in Evelyn. By the time she went down to breakfast a solution of her problem had come to mind.

"Your breakfast is ready, Miss Celia," Hilda greeted her. "Mrs. Parsons had a tray sent to her room."

"This was unusual. 'Isn't she feeling well?' the girl asked. 'I don't know. Rose said she wasn't to be disturbed.'"

Celia ate her lonely meal. It added to the general gloominess of the situation that there was no one across the table to chat with. Hilda moved quietly from kitchen to dining room. The whole house was silent.

When Celia had finished she went out on the porch and watched the rain. Larchwood seemed a different place. No tennis. No gardening. And Barney was expecting her to telephone.

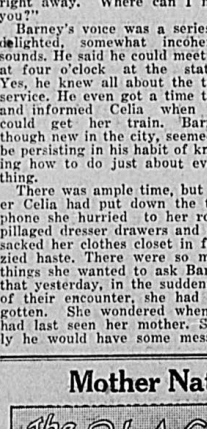

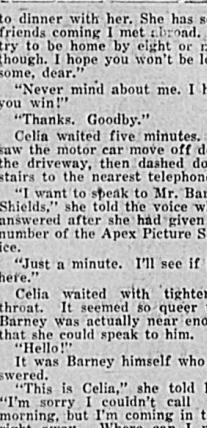

She spent most of the morning on the porch. Mrs. Parsons appeared a little before noon and said that she had slept and was feeling much refreshed.

Then a marvelous thing occurred. Evelyn noticed it first. "I believe the rain is stopping," she said. "Look—it's much lighter than it was."

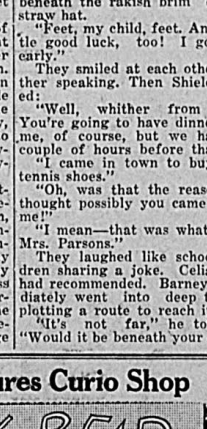

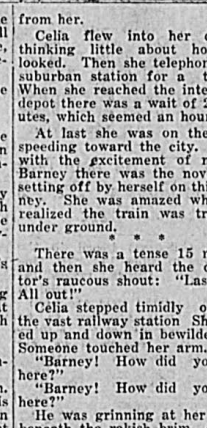

"Yes, if it only would!" "I'm glad, too," Evelyn said. "There's a bridge tournament at Fannie Marlow's club and I promised to play with her, but I wouldn't think of going if the shower keeps up. I don't know whether you'd enjoy it or not, Celia, unless of course you care to watch. Everyone will be playing."

The girl shook her head quickly. "No, that wouldn't be much fun for me. What I wanted to do this afternoon was go in town to get some tennis shoes. Lisi told me the place to buy them."

Witt Tells Of Amendments To Be Voted Upon

AUSTIN, Tex.—Succinct statement of the gist of amendments to the state constitution upon which voters will ballot Nov. 4 has been made by State Sen. Edgar Witt of Waco, chairman of a legislative committee named to present the amendments to the people.

Sen. Witt said: "One amendment provides that the supreme court shall be in session throughout the year. Under the present constitution the supreme courts must be in session only nine months, the amendment will not prevent the judges, one at a time, to have a vacation period, but will require that the court be open for business at all times."

"Another amendment provides for the taxation for county purposes of lands belonging to the University of Texas. These lands are located in some of the counties they form a large portion of the county, the buildings, etc., contribute to the enhanced value of all the lands in the county and it seems reasonable to require that the university lands should pay its portion of these taxes as they are enhanced in value by the expenditures."

"The remaining two amendments are those dealing with the length of the regular sessions of the legislature and with compensation of its members. One of these amendments increases the length of the present 60 days regular session of the legislature to 120 days and provides that the first 30 days of the session shall be given over to the introduction of bills, the second 30 days to the consideration of these bills by committees and the remainder of the session to the consideration of the legislature in open session. It is provided, however, that this order of procedure can be changed as desired by four-fifths vote of the members."

"The other legislative amendment increases the compensation of legislators from $5 a day to the magnificent sum of $10 per day and decreases the mileage now allowed members of 20 cents per mile in going and returning from the seat of government to 10 cents per mile. This amendment has been represented as 'doubling' the pay of legislators. It will have a very far different effect by reason of the 'burning' of the mileage allowance only one for a 120 day session, while under the present system 120 days would involve three sessions and there would be paid mileage on each session at the rate of 20 cents a mile or a total of 60 cents per mile going and coming of each member from his home to the capitol, while under the amendment he would get this mileage for once and that would be 10 cents. In other words, under the amendment a member for a session of 120 days would get a mileage allowance of just one-sixth the amount that he would get under the present constitution."

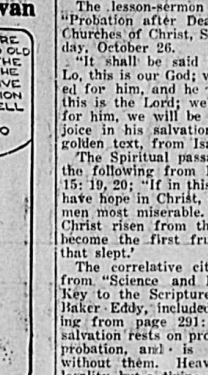

Danger Even Lurks In Home

WASHINGTON.—Being "safely" at home does not always have its bright side.

A survey made by a large insurance company shows that last year 24,000 persons lost their lives as a result of accidents occurring in the home, a total almost equal to that of the fatal automobile toll for the same year.

In a statement issued by the Woman's Bureau of the Labor Department it is pointed out that approximately 2,500,000 women engaged in domestic expose themselves to similar accidents that en-

Sea Gulls Spoil Man's Golf Game

ABERDEEN, Wash.—Sea gulls were blamed for spoiling a good golf match between Bob Wolfraim of Portland and Hugh Miller on the Grays Harbor course here recently.

Wolfraim was playing an excellent game up to the seventh hole. His drive there was near perfect, the ball rolling far down the fairway. Suddenly a gull swooped down, pounced on the bouncing, rolling ball and soared away, apparently swallowing the little white ball, or taking it home for little gulls to play with.

A committee, reported that it had been analyzing the problem during the last year, and announced that it would display thousands of propaganda exhibits, collected through the cooperation of 20 school systems.

T. C. U. Leads In Conference Race With Two Wins

BY THOMAS C. CLUCK
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 27.—A tradition as old as the present Southwest Conference organization—champion's don't repeat—was under the threat of a determined Texas Christian University football team today.

After a week-end of upsets the Christians, 1929 champions, topped the calendar as the only team with no loss or tie to mar its record. They had no hand in one of the decisive victories over the Oklahoma Sooners and counted very definitely in the conference race because of its showing in that game.

Fighting with their backs to the goal line most of the game, the Owls recovered at a decisive closing moment to take a 6 to 0 victory.

Indiana's ignominious defeat at the hands of the Southern Methodists was the result of the complicated and elusive aerial game of the Texans. Lateral forward, criss-cross, the ball wove a net around the Hoosiers, and sent them north with a 27 to 0 defeat.

The Centenary gentlemen showed a more powerful punch than was anticipated in nosing out Baylor, 7 to 2, in the only other inter-conference clash.

The Christians loafed to a 26 to 0 win over Texas Tech, which was no more than a workout for the upper conference eleven.

Arkansas University plunged the Texas Aggies more definitely into the cellar by handing them a 13 to 0 lemon at Little Rock.

But for one big game, this will be an off week in the southwest. Texas University and Southern Methodist between which rivalry has sprung up in the last few years, will resume hostilities at Austin. The Mustangs haven't dropped a decision to the Longhorns since 1920. But many times have won only on most fortunate breaks and close decisions.

Four inter-sectional games of no great import are on the schedule. The Aggies play Centenary at College Station; Baylor plays the Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee, Okla.; Arkansas and Louisiana State meet at Shreveport; and Rice will try to re-found power against the University of the South, also called Shawnee, at Houston. The Frogs have another off-day with Abilene Christian College at Fort Worth.

The conference standing:

School	W	L	T	Pct.
Texas Chris. U.	2	0	0	1.000
U. of Arkansas	2	1	0	.667
Rice Institute	1	1	0	.500
Southern Meth. U.	0	0	1	.000
Baylor Univ.	0	1	0	.000
U. of Texas	0	1	0	.000
Texas A. & M.	0	2	0	.000

apparent. Under Zupke's Illinois has won seven championships, two of them held jointly with other schools. Zupke's Illinois elevens have won 56 Big Ten Conference contests; lost 24 and tied 11.

Notable players developed by Zupke are Harold "Red" Grange, Facumber, Chapman, Shively and Crane, every man an all-American. McMillen and Nowack were other "all" celebrities, as well as Patsy Clark and Harold Pogue.

WACO, Oct. 27.—Texas Aggies and the Bears of Baylor University will meet again on the athletic field and court for the first time since late October day in 1926 when student riots between halves of an annual gridiron battle took the life of one Texas A. and M. student.

President T. O. Walton of Texas A. and M., and president Brooks of Baylor University today publicly authorized resumption of athletic relations "at as early a date as is feasible in the light of present schedule arrangements."

It is believed a football game will be scheduled for next October.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 27.—In an all-state polo tournament at El Rancho Saturday morning, four teams will fight for championship honors and the Texas Silver Loving cup. Two teams from Dallas will enter the fray, with Wichita Falls and El Rancho rounding out the quartet.

The contest will be played in conjunction with the races at Arlington Downs, where 150 thoroughbred from all sections of this country and Canada await the bugle call them to the starting tape.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 27.—Dick Jamerson, Rice Institute flash who glided through the University of Texas forward wall Saturday for the touchdown that gave the Owls their first conference victory, today found himself in second place in the Southwest conference individual scoring race.

Cy Leland of T. C. U., who had little opposition on the gridiron thus far this season, tops the slate with 42 points. Jamerson follows with five touchdowns and a total of 34 points. Lewter and Harris follow third and fourth with 33 and 29 points respectively.

Breckenridge Is Leading Oilbelt With 1000 Percent

Eastland in Eighth Place With One Win, One Tie And Three Losses.

The past week has the most exciting in the 1930 Oil Belt race. It was marked by one of the greatest upsets in the history of the district—the virtual elimination of the Cisco Lobos, who in early season content had been ranked as the favorites and were regarded as one of the strongest teams the State had seen in years. The Breckenridge Buckaroos, who administered a 25 to 6 defeat to the Big Dam team, won the Texas co-championship last season but with most of last year's line gone and with only Boyce Magness left of the veteran backfield men, the

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Green wave was not considered a great menace.

Cisco's machine was well-nigh wrecked by the decision of the district committee Wednesday night in ruling out Connell, galloping ghost, and Ray, giant center. Two days later at Buckaroo stadium, the team seemed lacking in spirit, smoothness and speed. Even so, the victory of Breckenridge by such a margin startled the district.

Abilene Eagles are now hailed as the favorites, next to the Buckaroos, as the result of the scoreless game Saturday in Ranzer. Twice the Eagles were in the shadow of the Ranger goal but they could not beat down the stone wall defense. The Bulldogs never menaced the Abilene goal except on long passes that were not completed.

The size of the crowd at Breckenridge Friday and at Ranzer Saturday is worthy of note. Probably 5,000 to 6,000 saw the Buckaroo-Lobo clash. Four thousand saw the Eagle-Bulldog battle.

Eastland won its first conference victory with Brownwood Lions as the victims, 20 to 0.

A thriller was staged at Mineral Wells when the Mountaineers scored in the last quarter made the extra point to defeat Sweetwater, 7 to 6.

Big Spring scored in the final period to tie San Angelo, 6-6.

Games this week are:

Friday—Eastland at Abilene; Mineral Wells at Ranzer.

Saturday—Sweetwater at Breckenridge; Cisco at San Angelo; Big Spring at Brownwood.

The standing follows:

Team	W	T	L	Pct.
Breckenridge	4	0	0	1.000
Abilene	3	1	0	.750
Ranzer	3	1	0	.750
Cisco	3	0	1	.750
San Angelo	2	1	1	.625
Mineral Wells	2	0	3	.400
Big Spring	2	1	3	.417
Eastland	1	1	3	.330
Sweetwater	0	1	4	.100

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Harry Payne Whitney, multimillionaire sportsman and financier, died of pneumonia last night at his home, 871 Fifth Avenue. He was 58.

From his secretary it was learned that Whitney caught a slight cold with fever last Tuesday. It was not considered serious, but pneumonia developed.

Mrs. Whitney, the former Gertrude Vanderbilt, a sculptress of note, and their three children were with him when he died.

Harry Payne Whitney, one of the richest men in America, was the son of William C. Whitney of Navy in the cabinet of President Grover Cleveland, and Flora Payne Whitney. He was born April 29, 1872, in New York. He attended Yale University, from which institution he was graduated in 1894.

Although he inherited from his father one of the country's greatest fortunes—estimated at $200,000,000—Whitney was known particularly for his activities in the field of sports.

He was an expert poloist, a member of the "big four" of 1909 that brought to America from England the international polo cup and established the reputation of the United States in that sport.

CISCO SOLON GIVES VIEWS UPON RELIEF

West Texans Are Not Mendicants Says Victor Gilbert

In a statement issued to the press this morning Victor B. Gilbert of Cisco, florial representative from Eastland and Callahan counties, declared that the people of west Texas are not to be classed as mendicants in seeking that the state lend its credit for the aid of those who are suffering because of the drought conditions and that in his opinion the governor could render a valuable service to the state by calling an extra session of the legislature.

His statement follows:

Many of our public spirited citizens in this and other sections of the drought-stricken area are very commendably bestirring themselves in an effort to obtain relief and thereby place in the hands of our people some means of supplying or obtaining the necessities of life until agriculture and other native industries can be made to yield once more to our people, a livelihood.

Our governor has been importuned to call the legislature in extra session for the purpose of authorizing the state to lend its credit to the interested counties by purchasing a sufficient amount of county warrants that will make available to each county certain funds to be disbursed by the county or under its direction to the individual in need, said warrants to be legal and binding obligations upon the counties.

Special Session

The governor has been also requested to call the legislature into special session to enact laws designed and intended to limit the cotton acreage of the state and provide for the rotation of crops, etc.

Both of these plans have apparently failed to impress the governor as being a sufficient reason for convening the legislature. In expressing his opinion as to the first of these two requests, Governor-elect Sterling says, "I am very much in sympathy with the drought-stricken sections of Texas and feel that something should be done toward relief though just how this relief should be supplied is a question that is hard to decide. I feel that nothing can be done until the regular session of the legislature as it will be out of the question to call an extra session."

In my judgment the governor can render a real service to all of Texas by calling an extra session for the purpose of relieving the situation obtaining over a wide portion of west Texas at this time, along some one of the suggestions that have been presented to him.

Even though the seriousness of this situation is not felt over all the state with the same intensity, Texas is one in sentiment and interest, and our welfare depends on the prosperity and progress of all. This sentiment has often been exhibited in the Texas legislature when north, west and east Texas members have patriotically involved their individual constituencies for the purpose of relieving coastal storm conditions and in some instances tornado and fire calamities in other sections.

For the state to lend its credit to the unfortunate victims of the drought at this time will enable those good citizens to carry on in the affairs of life and industry and in time to repay in full.

Our people are not mendicants and beggars and do not want to be so classified but on the other hand, are citizens of the highest grade, victims of an act of Providence in the same degree and in like manner as were the good people of Galveston and Nueces counties when those sections were visited by wind and water storms.

ZUPKE TO COACH TEAM IN CLASSIC

Joe Utay, president of the Dixie classic has announced the selection of Robert "Fighting Bob" Zupke, head coach of football at the University of Illinois for the past 17 years, as the man to handle the mid-west team, who will on New Year's Day meet in Dallas eleven representatives of southwest football. The contest, the site of which has not as yet been selected, will be the third annual Dixie classic for a fund to aid in the support of the Scottish Rites Hospital for Crippled Children, an institution situated in Dallas.

In selecting Bob Zupke for the coaching of the mid-west representatives, the officials of the Dixie classic have gone beyond the fondest dreams of those who worship at the feet of the gods of color, personality, romance and all the other ingredients used in the painting of the greatest of all pictures—that of imagination. Zupke is a great football coach, a landscape painter of no small merit, a public speaker extraordinary and a deep student of that interesting subject called "Philosophy." Zupke is a human dynamo if ever one lived. He is one of these straight-from-the-shoulder chaps, chaps who hew to their own line and let the chips lay where they fall—and upon whom they will. It is not going beyond the point of limitation to say that no other football coach in the history of the great academic game that is football has more greatly influenced the game or those who engage in it. In addition to his work as head coach at Illinois, Zupke has held for the last eleven years the head mentorship reins in a summer school for coaches, who come to Illinois from every point of the compass.

Zupke's record since taking hold at the University of Illinois in 1913 is one that compels admiration and respect. His elevens have won 90 games, lost only 29, and have been tied eight times. When one considers that Illinois is a member of the Big Ten Conference, a conference that reflects and plays some of the greatest football in this country, the magnitude of Zupke's record is

BRUSHING UP SPORTS

HOW GRIFFO CLIPPED THE SUCKERS.

YOUNG GRIFFO, PROBABLY THE GREATEST DEFENSIVE FIGHTER THAT EVER LIVED, HAD AN UNIQUE WAY OF PICKING UP SIDE PIN MONEY.

A GUY WE CAN'T BUST ME.

HE WOULD BET $5 THAT HE COULD STAND ON A HANDKERCHIEF AND DEFEAT ANYONE TO LAND A PUNCH ON HIM WITHIN 2 MINUTES.

OF COURSE, THE KERCHEF WOULD BE RIGHT NEAR A DOOR JAM AND WHEN THE SUCKER STARED THE PUNCH, GRIFFO SLAMMED THE DOOR IN HIS FACE AND COLLECTED THE FIVER.
