

House Defeats State Liquor Control Plan

Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Lubbock Avalanche and Journal, gives Texas some sound advice when he urges that they not only vote against men who as state senators voted against congressional redistricting during the last session, but also work toward enactment of a redistricting statute in the next session.

The Lubbock editor points out that two of the thirteen senators who discriminated against West Texas by voting against redistricting already have announced for congressional re-election, a third is running for the state railroad commission and others may enter the coming political fray. The two retiring congressional seats are J. J. Holbrook of Galveston and George C. Purl of Dallas, while J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb is running for railroad commissioner.

The writer lists again the 13 south and central Texas senators "who didn't want to see West Texas get the two new congressional seats the census had assured it" and urges readers to "paste their names in your hat so you won't forget them and can swear them, politically, the next time they come out here asking for something."

They are as follows: Beck, of DeKalb; DeBerry of Bogota; Greer, of Athens; Holbrook, of Galveston; Hornsby of Austin; Loy, of Sherman; New, of Carthage; Parr, of Benavides; Patton, of Crockett; Poage, of Waco; Pollard, of Tyler; Purl of Dallas; Thomason of Nacogdoches.

The ruling of the state Democratic executive committee, that candidates for congressman-at-large must run for places one, two and three, has placed West Texas candidates for congressman-at-large at a decided disadvantage and will prove of great aid to candidates like Dallas' Mr. Purl, who reside in heavily populated cities.

"We may not be able to defeat any of them, but we hope to make it hard for them to get any seats in the country they apparently despised last year," the Lubbock editor writes.

People of Howard and adjoining counties, especially Mitchell, Borden, Dawson and Martin, should be more interested in the redistricting bills than those of most any other West Texas counties.

Howard county is at greater disadvantage than any of the others. We are in the extreme east end of the 'hump' 16th congressional district, at the extreme south end of the large state senatorial district, at the north extremity of the state representative district, at the west end of the 32nd judicial district, at the extreme west end of the federal judicial district for the Abilene division, Northern District of Texas.

We hope to see all of West Texas organized and read representatives from each county to Austin to force passage of redistricting bills to adjust not only the congressional but also the state senatorial and lower house districts along the lines made proper by the last census.

Our own state representative, Penrose E. Metcalf of San Angelo, introduced the most fair redistricting bills that were before the last legislature. His congressional redistricting bill was passed by the house, but killed in the senate—a chamber where West Texas has taken a number of dirty deals in the past four or five years.

The principal West Texas candidates for congressman-at-large are Pink Parrish of Lubbock and Col. E. O. (Maxey) Thompson of Amarillo. Mr. Parrish has been our own state senator the past four years and perhaps has served Howard county—located as it is away off down in the 'bottom' of his district—as best he could. But

Missouri Pacific Fails To Get Rehearing On Cotton Belt Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The interstate commerce commission denied application of the Missouri Pacific and its subsidiary, the Texas & Pacific, for reconsideration of the commission's order allowing the Southern Pacific to acquire control of the Saint Louis Southwestern, generally known as the Cotton Belt.

The order was issued January 12. It was hoped to prevent the Cotton Belt from having to default a bond issue due June 1.

The commission's general consolidation plan of 1929 assigned the Cotton Belt to the Illinois Central, which, however, was unwilling to buy it.

Easter Week Observance Is Pastors' Plea

Six local pastors Monday issued the following statement over their signatures: The week beginning March 20 should be to every Christian a time of serious meditation as it commemorates the last week in the life of our Lord.

The ministers are asking that the week before Easter and ending with Easter Sunday be observed with religious devotion by attending religious services which will be held in the different churches, and that all clubs, parties and social affairs of any nature be postponed until after Easter.

Four Thefts Take Place In Two Days

Rix Furniture, McDaniel And Graham Homes, Burglarized

Four thefts, which netted clothing, a radio and porch furniture, were reported to have occurred here Saturday and Sunday.

Thefts broke into the Rix Furniture company store between 7 and 9 p. m. Sunday and took an 8 tube radio set, serial number 76, 971, Lewis Rix reported.

C. H. McDaniel reported that his porch furniture was hauled away from his residence in the 400 block on South Runnels street.

An overcoat, three boxes of shells and a Navajo blanket were stolen from the sedan belonging to Steve Ford Saturday night in front of the Ritz theater, according to a report given The Herald. Mr. and Mrs. Ford were attending the show, and parked their car in front of the theater on Main street. They did not discover the loss until they returned to their home.

Two Leaders Of Democrats Favor Action

Issue Was Whether To Take Resolution From Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house voted 227 to 187 against considering legislation designed to return liquor control to the states.

It was the first vote on prohibition in twelve years.

The issue was whether to take the Beck-Lincheum resolution to amend the eighteenth amendment away from the judiciary committee, which disapproved it.

Rainey of Illinois, floor leader, and McDuffie, Alabama, party whip for the Democrats voted for the resolution.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By CURTIS BISHOP

For the first time in school history the name of Big Spring stood on the scoring standings of the Fort Worth track and field meet. And this year's entry was probably taken less seriously than any. Carleton Coburn, veteran high jumper, won fourth place in his favorite event to shatter a scoreless tradition that has been manifest every year that a local star has entered the Southwestern carnival. After riding all night Coburn managed somehow to go over the crosspole at around five feet eight inches on a day so cold that one lost all interest in first places and new records and thought only of the fires that dotted the track. The mark of five feet ten inches, which both Coburn and Forrester of the local team have beaten this year, speaks for itself of unfavorable track conditions.

Big Spring's two outstanding cinder artists, "Tack" Dennis and Cecil Reid, were not present at the Southwestern Exposition. Dennis decided against a long, uncomfortable trip in the biting cold at the last moment while Reid of course was unable to compete. "Tack" should have been able to have gleaned one or more places in the weight events.

Meanwhile the Cosden Refinery Oilers were winning the championship of the McCamey Invitational tournament by defeating the Elliot Hotel quiet of Odessa 27 to 25 in the finals. Which made it two out of three games for the locals over the Odessa Green Wave, and justified their claim to the best amateur club in West Texas. George Brown of the Oilers was selected as the most valuable man of the tournament, while David Hopper and "Skeet" West won all-star mention at forward and center respectively.

All of which brings up an interesting comparison. The McCamey High Badgers proceeded into the second round of the state tournament, defeating San Angelo in two straight games in the bi-district play-off and eliminating Corpus Christi in the cage classic. The Big Spring Steers, who were unable to qualify as one of the thirteen entries allowed at Austin, could have beaten McCamey with ease, as apparent from the scores of the McCamey amateur tournament. The Cosden Oilers, with only two of the Bovines of this season on the roster and without the high school's one outstanding player, easily disposed of the Humble Oil Company of McCamey in the second round, on which there were four of the self-same Badgers that ranked higher in the state

Humble Takes 8,944 Acres In Crockett

55,000 Acres Leased This Year, Bringing Owners $100,000

OZONA — Payment has been made through the Ozona National Bank by Humble Oil & Mining Co. for oil and gas leases on a block of 8,944 acres adjoining Ozona on the south and east—6,380 acres from Mr. and Mrs. T. Albert Kincaid and 2,564 acres from Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson. The leases are for 10 years without drilling obligation and at an annual rental of 25 cents per acre. The Ozona-Juno road extends along the west side of the block. An estimated 55,000 acres in Crockett county have been leased since the first of the year, bringing landowners $100,000 or more in bonuses. The largest block has been taken by the Superior Oil Co. of California, comprising the ranch of the heirs of Robert Massey of San Angelo, about 28,000 acres. Humble's block out of the Kincaid and Davidson ranches is located about six miles southeast race than did the Steers. According to Bloddy Cross Baylor University is hopeful of landing Tack Dennis next season when the Big Spring behemoth enters a league for a try at the university version of the gridiron game. But then who isn't? But Cross goes on to say that Buck Bailey of Washington has made plans to welcome Dennis out near the shores of the Pacific next season. Bailey has also professed intentions of securing Smith, Abilene High center. If there is any ground for Bailey's confidence Texas colleges are certainly passing up the two outstanding prospects that have ever appeared in West Texas high school circles.

With favorable weather the city football race should get underway within seven or eight days. Large squads of ambitious youngsters are being drilled for the championship tests by their high school coaches, and a big time is promised for those who honor the games with their attendance. Pre-season dopings point to Marvin House Jr., captain of the West Warders, as the outstanding back of the circuit. However, Dave Hopper over at East Ward claims to have discovered a wonder in "Casey" Jones, who punts, passes, runs and tackles. Bill Flowers and Elmer Dyer are very secretive about the North Ward lineup, which may perhaps be the best way to be, while Lloyd Forrester and Henry Richbourg are still experimenting with their South Ward prospects, the largest squad in the city race.

of the Massey ranch. The heaviest buying of small tracts, ranging from 80 acres to a section, has been along the line of blocks UV and WX, both in GC&SF Ry. Co. survey, about equidistant from Ozona and the World pool to the northwest and in a direct southeast-northwest line with the Big Lake field in Reagan county, where the world's deepest oil wells are located. Major company purchasers of these leases have included Gulf Production Co., the California Co., Stanolind Oil & Gas Co., Shell Petroleum Corp. and the Texas Co.

Superior's buy out of the Massey ranch started the leasing campaign, which has been given impetus by reports that a deep test in search of production in the Ordovician is to be drilled in the county. It is from the Ordovician that the deepest wells in Reagan county flow. Unconfirmed rumors are to the effect that the wildcard, if drilled, will be a unit test and probably in section 66, block UV, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey. Continental Oil Co. owns all this section except the east half of the southeast quarter, held by the Sun Oil Co. and the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter, owned by Stanolind.

Description of the land leased by Humble from Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kincaid follows: The northeast quarter and the east half of the northwest quarter of section 2, block OP, J. T. Hurley survey, 240 acres; the south half of section 2, block OP, J. T. Hurley survey, 240 acres; the section 5, block MN, J. R. Brooks survey, 653 acres; section 93, block GH, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey, 656.5 acres section 2, block KL, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey, 658 acres; section 1, block KL, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey, 661.20 acres; section 8, block KL, J. R. HOARDED MONEY MUST GO BACK INTO CIRCULATION

It's SAFE To Come Out NOW!

IT took no less a power than Uncle Sam to break the vicious circle that was threatening America with serious harm. BUT THAT VICIOUS CIRCLE IS BROKEN AT LAST—IT'S SMASHED! And the whole country is drawing a deep, thankful breath.

When times grew tight we all got frightened—just plain scared! Trade was poor, jobs insecure. And so lots of us just tucked our savings away in an old sock and held on! It was the worst thing we could possibly have done. For buying fell off—banks grew more skittish about credit—jobs became even scarcer. But we kept on tramping around the circle like a blind horse—just tiring ourselves out.

Many fine local efforts were started to put things right. "Buy Now" movements—"Spend Normally" drives. Remember them? Of course they did little good. We thought the ship was sinking. We were going to play safe. We all agreed that the way to end depression was for EVERYONE to release hoarded cash at once. But who was to take the lead? That was another story.

So Uncle Sam finally had to take a hand. He agreed first to back the banks. And credit is easier already—for all of us. Best of all, he set a time for that long-awaited simultaneous country-wide spending and investing of hoarded money. THAT TIME IS HERE—IT'S TODAY! From Maine to California, folks are beginning to "loosen up." Common sense tells us, as the sensitive stock market barometer tells us, that the storm has passed. It's safe for your dollar to come out into the sunshine again. IT'S SAFE FOR YOU TO JOIN THE PARADE OF SENSIBLE SPENDERS WHO ARE AT LAST BUYING THE MANY, MANY THINGS THEY'VE BEEN NEEDING SO LONG.

Hobbs Townsite Company Suing Widwest Company

LOVINGTON, N. M.—Suit has been filed in the district court by the Hobbs Townsite Company against the Midwest Oil Company asking for damages aggregating more than a half million dollars.

The grounds for complaint in the suit is the alleged failure of the oil company to properly develop and permit the production of oil from the land on which the Hobbs townsite is located and of which the townsite company owns a 1-64th mineral interest.

It is alleged in the complaint that the Midwest Company is the owner of an oil and gas lease upon this land and that it is implied in the lease contract that the lease owner will use due diligence in the development of the property and will produce all the oil which it can reasonably produce. The complaint sets out that there is one producing well upon this property which has been capable of producing 21,352 barrels of oil a day since it was brought in on January 20, 1931, of which the Hobbs Townsite Company is entitled to 1-64th. It is alleged that instead of producing the oil which the well would have naturally run from the well without pumping, the lease owners entered into some kind of agreement whereby this production of oil was reduced to a very small part of the amount of which the well was capable of producing.

It is alleged that by reason of the failure of the oil company to produce this oil the townsite company has suffered a loss of $54,602.07, for which suit it asks the court for judgment.

It is further claimed that it is implied in the lease contract that the lessor will use all diligence in developing the property leased and that it is necessary that wells be drilled upon each and every ten acres of the land leased which lies within the proven oil producing territory; that the oil company has failed to do this drilling and that the townsite company has suffered a loss of $400,000 by reason of such failure and neglect on the part of the lessor.

It is also claimed that in order to prevent the draining of the oil from the land of the townsite company it was necessary that wells be drilled along the line of such property and that the oil company has failed and neglected to drill such wells, thereby causing a loss to the plaintiff of $100,000.

Certificates Awarded To S. S. Teachers

First Christian, Coahoma, And Colorado Churches Join Methodists

Freezing temperatures and the season's heaviest snow did not dampen the ardor of the Methodists of this vicinity who attended every evening's session last week at the First Methodist church to participate in the training school for teachers. Every evening a car filled with students came from Coahoma and from Colorado, although all of them did not get to finish the week and obtain credits.

On Friday evening, during the closing exercises, the Rev. J. Richard Spann awarded the certificates to the ministers of the various churches represented. To Miss Irene Knaus and N. L. Peters, of Lubbock, who were Pre-byterians, he gave the certificates direct.

The ministers made their awards as part of the Sunday morning service, Dr. Spann awarding the great majority to members of his church.

Those of the First Methodist church who completed the course and successfully passed the examinations were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fridge, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Penn, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Reed, Mrs. W. A. Earnest, J. R. Manion, Lucille Meeks, W. D. McDonald, J. P. Prichett, C. E. Talbot, A. Knickerbocker, Vesta Leverett, Lee Levering, J. B. Pickle, A. Schnitzer, J. B. Sloan, J. L. Webb, Carl Williams, J. B. Davis, J. B. Waters, C. S. Ditz, Victor Flewelling, Hugh Duncan, Chas. Morris, C. T. Watson, V. W. Latson, Emma F. Davis, R. L. Bull; Misses Verberna Barnes, Mattie Heffley, Louise Shive, Geneva and Jessal Slusser, Frances and Vera May Gilliam, Ocel Truesdell, Mattie Mae Pickle, Billie M. Sikes, Maggie Mae Aycock, Zelma Chadd and Georgia Belle Freeman; Russell T. Crance.

The members of the First Christian church who were awarded certificates were: Rev. Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Lindley Mmes. J. D. Wallace, J. W. Felton, J. R. Creath and L. A. Eubanks; Walter Bell.

The following members of the Wesley Memorial Methodist received certificates: Rev. James Culepper, pastor of the church; Misses Lucille Berry, Mayme Burgeson and Mr. and Mrs. Joan Drake.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Keever, of the First Methodist church of Coahoma were awarded certificates Friday evening.

There will be another training school in the fall, announces Dr. Spann, in which the First Christian and the First Methodist will cooperate.

Mary Louise Inkman Has St. Patrick's Club-Birthday Party

Mary Louise Inkman entertained the members of the S. P. C. Club and her friends with a delightful St. Patrick's party and birthday party Saturday afternoon at her home. She received many very attractive gifts.

The house was cleverly decorated with emblems of the saint of the Emerald Isle and the same colors prevailed in the refreshment plate and the lovely birthday cake.

The afternoon was devoted to games and many clever and merry stunts.

Mrs. Shine Phillips assisted Mrs. Inkman in the entertaining. The guests were Doris Cunningham, Virginia Hilliard, Camille Koberg, Eloise Kuykendall, Nancy Bell, Phillips, Winifred Finer, Anna Katharine Ringler, Eddy Raye, Lees Ruth Horn, Wynell Woodall, Mary Ruth Ditz, Mary Jane Reed, Judith Pickle, Frances Stamer, Mary Alice McNew, Beryl Duff, Rozelle Stephens, Betty Jean Fisher, Janice Jacobs, Camille Inkman and Bill Junior.

Celebrate Birthday Of Hostess With Nice Supper

Mr. and Mrs. Glen D. Guilkey were host and hostess to a small group of friends for a charming buffet supper Sunday afternoon, in celebration of Mrs. Guilkey's birthday. Bridge was the order of the evening.

The following enjoyed the delicious supper and the sociable evening: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Marchbanks, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Liberty, and Bob Nunn.

Quaint Charm
 PATTERN NO. 147
 Simplified illustrated instructions for cutting and sewing are included with each pattern. They give complete directions for making these dresses.

To be up-to-date in the 20th Century means several steps backward into a preceding day. Modernity in style today is closely allied with the charm of the old-fashioned. Evenings especially prove it. This frock is a good example of the 1932 trend in style. It is vaguely reminiscent of crinoline days. The natural waistline is accepted by a contrasting sash that ties at one side. Tiny shoulder puffs are demure and soft lines mold the figure graciously. It is a gown destined for quick popularity. Designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 24, 28, 32 and 40. Sizes 36 requires 4 3/4 yards of 36-inch fabric or 4 5/8 yards of 39-inch fabric.

To get a pattern of this model send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins.

Please write very plainly your NAME AND ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER AND SIZE of each pattern ordered.

Our new fashion magazine with color supplement and Paris style news is now available at ten cents when ordered with a pattern and fifteen cents when ordered separately.

An Insight Into Why Editors Of Newspapers Grow Gray So Rapidly

A certain percentage of the gray hairs that sprout each day on the editorial cranium, are no doubt, caused by errors that sink past the copy desk and pop up in all their ugliness in the day's edition. They seem to slip through the finest editorial fine comb, and though the result is sometimes appalling, quite often it is comical enough to bring a grin ever to the face of the harried editor.

Stewart Haral, director of publications of Southeastern State Teachers' college, has collected some of the more hilarious of such mistakes, which are printed in a recent issue of the Quill, organ of Sigma Delta Chi. Here are some headlines which are not all what they should be:

"SNAKE BITES WOMAN; DIES MOTHER OF TWO GIVES HER MORE LIFE"
 "WOODEN BRIDE" TO BE ABANDONED
 DEATH TAKES LAWYER HERE FOR 60 YEARS
 SKELETON OF ONE SURVIVOR QUIZED
 WIDOW OF 100 WON'T STAY DEAD
 TWO CONVICTS EVADE NOOSE JURY IS HUNG
 POULTRYMEN HEAR EGG TALK

But headlines aren't the only places where the pesky t. e. creeps in, as witness these excerpts from news items:

"If you join the endowment association three months before marriage or birth, you will have three times as much money for the occasion."
 "As the ushers bring the offering forward, the congregation will rise and sing."
 "For less formal interior, straight hanging unlined draw curtains are helpful in creating an atmosphere of intimate hospitality."

"The bride wore an old rose, which is the last word in fall ensembles."
 "The Blankville chamber of commerce luncheon club will eat tomorrow for the first time in several months."
 "Two hundred dollars were left to Penn Asylum for Indignant Widows and Single Women."
 "Annual rush to bathing beaches starts as mercury mounts to 88 degrees, but swimmers find Lake Michigan too cold."
 "He turned to his duties Monday after several weeks' absence to his death."
 "While the car is a wreck, its occupants can truly be grateful that they escaped with their lives. Her tree is badly scarred."
 "All windows in the building are the fact that he was not familiar with the needs of this section, which has industries such as oil, that the remainder of his district does not have, is just another argument for redistricting.

We expect to vote for Parrish for congressman-at-large. As to Col. Thompson, that is something else. Besides, if Pat Neff accepts the presidency of Baylor university and resigns from the railroad commission, the position, we understand, is going to be offered Col. Thompson, and he likely will accept it.

Thompson undoubtedly is an able fellow. Most of his aims, his objectives are all right. But the methods he uses to gain them are not so hot sometimes.

New Colonel

RAY LEEMAN

Add another colonel to the ranks of the chamber of commerce profession in Texas. Ray Leeman, former West Texas State Chamber of Commerce executive, now vice president and general manager of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce was last week promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the U. S. Army Reserve Corps. He received notice of his promotion from the War Department and reported to Ft. Sam Houston at San Antonio to take the oath of his new rank.

Colonel Leeman, who saw active service in France with the 90th Division has been active in National Guard and Army circles since the close of the great war. He entered the U. S. Army as a private in April 1917 when he volunteered and was assigned to the first officers' training school at Leon Springs. He graduated in August of that year as Second Lieutenant and was assigned to the 90th Division. He commanded a company in the train throughout the war and saw active service in the San Mihiel and Meuse Argonne battles. He served with the Army of Occupation in Luxembourg and Germany, returning to the United States in June 1919 and received his honorable discharge. He later joined the 12th Cavalry Texas National Guard as a captain and commander of the service troop. He resigned this post in 1926 to become a major in the U. S. Army Reserve and was assigned as Train Commander of the 90th Division which post he has held continually since.

Colonel Leeman was for a number of years manager of the Mineral Wells Chamber of Commerce from which post he resigned in 1925 to become assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. In 1927 he went to Corpus Christi to become vice president and general manager of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce and has held that position since that time.

Former Members Of Russian Ballet Are Reunited In Midland

MIDLAND—When Boris Stanovich got off a west bound bus the other morning a beautiful woman jumped out of an expensive coupe parked near the bus station and caught him in her arms, and began crying with sheer happiness in the face of public amazement.

"Carin!" the man's voice came, muffled against the woman's arms. They held each other at first length and looked long, searchingly at each other.

"The woman's maid, smiling to herself in the big car, took out a small handkerchief and dabbed at her eyes. At this inconsistency a reporter sensed something out of the ordinary and ventured a question.

"Pardon." He took his cheap bag, and, climbing behind the wheel of the car, drove away with the woman's arms around him.

"She left Russia after the war as soon as the Soviet would allow and has danced in Paris, New York and Mexico City since. In Mexico City a young major wanted to marry her. He could give her a beautiful home at his agents, but she could not forget Boris."

"Two months ago she received a letter from an old retired maestro in New York, that he had been dancing in a cheap cabaret. He gave the man's address, a mean sector of New York's East Side.

"Then Carin wrote. Boris wrote back that he had suffered amnesia of Turin, who had spent his last days before a cello stand with the Philharmonic, wrote that Boris was after the war, that he had spent nearly two years in a prison camp in Germany, that he had hunted her after treatment had restored him to his mental health, but that the trace of her had vanished at New York. He was staying there, dancing, thinking he might find her again."

"The man smiled.

"The Russian ballet in the earlier days of the war," she said "He left to fight with the armies of the Little White Father. They became engaged through correspondence. The revolution came to Russia, making it a horrible country. Carin, her professional name is Czarina now, did not always have enough to eat."

Sterling Would Have No County Funds Spent In State Highways

Rules Governing Eligibility For V. F. W. Are Listed

Every man eligible for membership is urged to attend Friday evening in the Big Spring Post No. 2013, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be organized at the Settles hotel.

O. T. Mahoney, national deputy chief-of-staff, with headquarters in Kansas City, will install the post.

He has issued the following statement outlining eligibility rules: any man with an honorable discharge from the army, navy, marine corps or coast guard or who is still in active service, with a record of foreign service on foreign soil or in hostile waters in any war or expedition of the armed forces of the United States of America, for which the government has recognized these services by the issuance of a campaign medal, and for the Victory medal a clasp. This eligibility dates back to the Mexican war of 1847-8 and up to and including the recent insurrection in Nicaragua.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars gives every man who served in any war an opportunity to belong to the same organization, providing he was in danger of the enemy.

Rotary Contest Arouses Interest

Interest in the Rotary club attendance contest, which started last week, and will continue for a period of two months, is gaining momentum, according to the two captains, Elmo Wasson and Grover Cunningham. Each captain urges every member on their respective side to be on hand every Tuesday at regular meeting place in Settles Hotel at 12 o'clock sharp. The side having the best percentage of attendance at the end of two months' time, will be given a banquet by the losing side. The captain and his members are listed below:

Elmo Wasson, captain: E. A. Kelley, H. L. Rix, Tom Ashley, Max Jacobs, B. Reagan, Fred Keating, Jas. T. Brooks, C. W. Cunningham, M. H. Bennett, J. B. Collins, G. H. Hayward, Shine Phillips, J. B. Pickle, Joseph Edwards, E. L. Gibson, R. B. Carier, Theo Francis, V. H. Flewelling, Sam Eason.

Grover Cunningham, captain: E. E. Fehrmann, E. O. Ellington, J. L. Thomas, Bruce Frazier, G. T. Hall, Albert Fisher, W. W. Inkman, W. C. Blankenship, W. T. Strange, E. B. Ribble, R. T. Piner, J. H. Hon., J. Y. Robb, E. J. Mary, V. O. Hennen, Joe Galbraith, J. A. Davis, W. A. Breniman.
