Senator Tom Love, former mate for governor, told an audience here Wednesday night. Love invoked the attempt of Iowa democrats to return the sale of liquor to individual states.

Fergusonism he called the Texas brand of Tammanyism.

HILLSBORO, Tex., July 24.—Making his second appearance here during the present campaign, James Young charged last night that Small and Sterling were being over-promoted by Texas newspapers.

DALLAS, Tex., July 24.—Vigorous attack on Ross Sterling was made by Earle B. Mayfield Wednesday night, who claimed that violation of a provision in Texas election laws would prevent Sterling's name from appearing on ballots in the second primary even should he win in the first.

Mayfield charged that Sterling failed to file written appointment of a campaign manager with the secretary of state, thereby disobeying a law. The claim was based on the administration of the highway commission, his road bond plan, charges of excessive campaign expenditures, and his connection with the Humble Oil Company.

Charges were filed on orders of Sheriff Binford, who said he believed the prairie murders were the result of a bootleg war. The sheriff said he thought Stone was slain in retaliation by persons who believed that he brought about a series of liquor raids and the young girl was shot because his slayers feared she would talk. Early on the morning of May 6, 1929, the bodies of the young couple were found lying three miles apart on the lonely prairie near Aldine. They had been slain with a shotgun. Eastland's Loss Is Breckenridge's Gain

Breckenridge is losing one of its most valuable young business men and civic workers—W. G. Clegg, manager of the local Texas Electric Service Company for the past three years. Clegg is being promoted to district manager of the Eagle Pass district. His company has recognized the ability of Clegg and have expressed it with this move. Breckenridge hates to lose men like Mr. Clegg. The Breckenridge American wishes Clegg all the happiness and success possible in his new location.

Now while Breckenridge is losing a fine young business man, Eastland is likewise losing one of their leading young men—Russell Burton Jones, who comes here to take Mr. Clegg's place. Jones was formerly assistant manager of the Eastland office. His business and civic record at Eastland compares with the man whom he is replacing here. The books must be balanced, so Breckenridge loses Mr. Clegg but obtains Mr. Jones. We welcome our new citizen. Jones comes to his new position here well qualified. He is a graduate in electrical engineering from the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y. He has been service with the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, was 21 months in France with the 18th Army Engineers, spent a year with the Texas Electric Service company since 1929, as assistant district manager at Eastland—Breckenridge American.

EASTLAND COUNTY RETURNS TO THE SOIL

After the collapse of the great Eastland county oil boom it was only natural that the interest of the county should revert to agricultural and livestock pursuits.

Rapid strides have been made in recent years through the cooperation of the county agent and the home demonstration agent and the many demonstrations that they have put on for the benefit of the farming people has helped to lift Eastland county out of a slump that would otherwise have been disastrous.

During the past season alone more than 10,000 acres of farm land has been terraced. This has been done, not by the county agent alone, but through the cooperation of the farmers, the club boys, the vocational agricultural teachers and the county agent.

More than 1,000 acres of pecans have been planted since the first of the year. This work, though sponsored by the county agent has been carried by the club boys and the vocational teachers, too.

Four special demonstrations have been worked out, one in poultry, one in 4-H pantry work, one in 4-H wardrobe work and one in living room improvements. In the poultry work there were seven demonstrators and 118 cooperators; in the pantry work there were 10 demonstrators and 115 cooperators; in the wardrobe department there were 11 demonstrators and 114 cooperators with 14 demonstrators and 111 cooperators in the living room contest.

Fifteen community fairs have been worked up by the two agents and eleven boys, eleven girls and six women have been enabled to attend the short course at A. & M. College through the efforts of the boys and girls who are being helped and aided by the agents.

These are only a few of the major demonstrations that have been pushed in the past few months but they furnish a good idea as to the active interest that is being taken in agriculture in recent years, now that the county is settling down with the idea of making it as good an agricultural county as it was an oil county a few years ago.

And, too, it might be mentioned that Eastland county took second place in the State Fair at Dallas last year on her artificial lawn exhibit, which is another good indication that we have many good and progressive farmers who are learning modern methods through these major demonstrations by the local agents.

Blanton Addresses Voters Of His Home Town Wednesday

ABILENE, Tex., July 23 (Special)—During the closing days of the campaign Thomas Blanton spoke to the voters of his home town and reviewed his service in Congress.

A brief synopsis of his speech follows: "During my service in the House I have helped to pass every good law and have voted and uncompromisingly fought every bad measure. By years of close study and application I have mastered the rules and precedents of both House and Senate. I know how to find camouflaged legislative riders in appropriate bills, and how, when, and where, to make proper points of order to eliminate them. I am intimately familiar with the business, functions, scope and history of all departments, bureaus, commissions, and independent offices of the Government; with important past legislation, with the history of all old claims, some involving $100,000,000, still pending; with the business connections and idiosyncrasies of Senators, Congressmen, and lobbyists, with whose shrewdest leaders we must measure swords, and I have spent all my vacations in investigating and checking up every establishment of Government.

"I have never yet taken any junk; neither has any member of my family, carefully compare all items on supply bills with those of previous years, and have saved millions by knocking out unauthorized riders with proper points of order. By digging up records and briefing facts, I have blocked many bad claims. By posting myself, I have stopped many pet schemes. But I made enemies lots of colleagues and the press gallery. It was hard work that should be done by somebody. I did it."

"During the last two sessions of the 67th Congress, Mr. Ricketts and myself were the only two members who answered all roll calls. A few I have missed during my service, was due to other important official business."

"Evidencing results of hard work, we have reduced taxes almost every year, and yet have had left over an unexpended surplus of $313,000,000 in 1922; $309,000,000 in 1923; $505,000,000 in 1924; $250,000,000 in 1925; $377,000,000 in 1926; and $615,000,000 in 1927."

"The home demonstration department now has seven women's clubs, one of which was organized since the first of the year, and nine girls and boys clubs, three of which are newly organized."

Foreign exchange easy, European rates sag. Wheat uneven in narrow price movements, corn fractionally firmer on crop damage, oats steady. Cotton futures recover moderately after breaking $1 a bale on selling induced by rains in cotton belt. Rubber futures dull and steady.

DETROIT, Mich., July 24.—Billy Jeavons, 11, went down to the lake front near his home in Cleveland today and saw an airplane.

He climbed aboard the tail of an amphibian of the Thompson Aeronautical Line, bound for Detroit.

Three minutes out the pilot, Otto Baud, noticed the tail of his plane was heavy and came down on Lake Erie to investigate. Bill crawled out.

"The youngster explained: 'I just wanted a ride to Detroit on a plane and I don't have the money for it.'"

Noted Rancher Dies at Houston

HOUSTON, Tex., July 24.—Since 1826 the name Mayes has been among the leaders of the cattle industry in Texas.

Today they were to bury the last of the name, William F. Mayes, 79, who died in a hospital here last night.

Mayes lived on the immense ranch in Chambers county where his father settled in 1825.

As a boy Mr. Mayes was reared in the cattle business and as a young man went to the capital in 1871 with his father to register the triangle brand which was carried on vast herds of cattle in the years to follow.

Mayes was a charter member of Texas Cattle Raisers' Association and took a prominent part in work of organizing that organization. He served as a peace officer in Chambers county for 20 years.

Body Of Soldier Is Unclaimed In Fort Worth Today

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Tex., July 24.—The body of J. W. Wilson, 60, veteran of four wars and hero of seven medals, remained unclaimed here Thursday.

Wilson was found dying on the floor of his room from carbolic acid.

Clippings from California newspapers found among the dead man's effects told the story of Wilson's 30 years in the army and of the struggle he had in earning a livelihood since leaving the service.

According to the clippings, Wilson served in the Spanish-American war, the Boxer uprising, the Philippine insurrection and the World War.

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning. I was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides.

Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, years younger and my weight is 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say.

"I shall never be without Kruschen Salts, will never cease to take my daily dose and more than glad to highly recommend it for the great good that is in it." Mrs. S. Solomon, New Bern, N. C., Jan. 1930.

"P. S. You may think I am exaggerating by writing such a long letter but truly I feel so indebted to you for putting out such wonderful salts that I cannot say enough.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at Beatty Drug Store and drugists the world over. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—walk a little each day. Do not overeat.

WITH THE TEXAS LEAGUE

Wichita Falls and Waco continued their pace setting stride in the Texas League Wednesday with decisive victories. The Spudders pounded three San Antonio pitchers for 20 hits and 12 runs to win a 12 to 6 decision on the Indians' home lot. Dick Flaherty allowed the Indians 12 hits but was never in trouble as his teammates maintained a strong lead throughout the game. Waco took a 9 to 4 decision from Shreveport in a night game. Harris held the Sports scoreless after the first inning and allowed them but seven hits during the game.

Major League

After a week of competition against rival first division clubs, Brooklyn and Chicago, leaders in the turbulent National League pennant race, today opened series with second division opponents. The Cubs moved into Philadelphia for three games with the slugger Phillies while the Robins prepared to play host to the Cincinnati Reds in a four game series, starting with a doubleheader today. The Cubs made the largest gain in the first division's internal competition, gaining two full games on Brooklyn and one game on the third place New York Giants.

Chicago outthrew New York, 12 to 8, but the Giants took advantage of nine passes by four Cub hurlers, and won the game by scoring seven runs in the fourth and fifth innings. Home runs by Pie Traynor gave Pittsburgh two victories over Philadelphia. Traynor's home run in the ninth inning gave the Pirates a 2 to 1 victory in the opener and his homer with two in the thirteenth inning of the second game enabled the Pirates to win the slugfest 16 to 9.

And It Didn't End In a Foul

Three-times Sammy Mandell was crashed to the canvas by those stinging Singer mitts and rolled off his nose. Then came the fourth time, as pictured above, and Mandell fell into the ropes and three times to be counted out while flat on his back. With the count of 10, Al Singer, center, little Jewish fighting man from New York's Bronx sector, became lightweight champion of the world. The end was reached after one minute and 40 seconds of the first round. The above picture shows, left to right, Referee Arthur Donovan, Singer, and Mandell, the defeated titleholder.

Second Oakie Starring Hit A Laugh Riot

Now they call him "The Sap from Syracuse," but Jack Oakie's fun belongs to the nation. The wise-cracking grin magnet is the nation's latest craze, and at the Lyric theatre, starting today for 2 days he is at his best in a comedy made to order for his brand of light-hearted laugh-making. As the butt of Syracuse smart-alecks, Oakie chins his way to new glory. Enabled to gratify a lifetime ambition to see what the other side of the "big pond" is like, Oakie boards the boat only to find himself mistaken for a famed engineer reported to be traveling incognito. From then on the fun mounts in rapid crescendo. He meets a girl in distress, saves her from two scheming rascals, accidentally stumbles on a solution for a big engineering problem, and finds himself with a wife and a fortune. "The Social Lion," Oakie's first starring picture, increased the nation's appetite for more Oakie fun. The climax to all the fun. Here, as in "Sweetie," where his singing of "Alma Mammy" wowed audience off their seats, Oakie sings "I Wish I Could Sing a Love Song," and suits action to the words by trying. Ginger Rogers, the cigarette-meeting girl of "Young Man of Manhattan," here has another role as a youthful charmer. Her mission in the picture is to capture Oakie's heart and the methods this young sophisticated maiden uses on the naive boy from the backwoods would knock off many a man of the world. The rest of the supporting cast is composed of veteran stage actors, many of them drafted from the original stage cast of "The Sap from Syracuse," which last season kept Broadway roaring for months. A. Edward Southernland, maker of "The Social Lion," also made this picture.

Mother Tells How Konjola Relieved Son

VERDILL COWAN

What fine news this is for those mothers who are worrying over the ill health of a beloved son or daughter. Read what Konjola did for Verdill Cowan, 7, of 614 West Second street, Fort Worth, Texas. His mother, Mrs. B. M. Cowan, says: "Konjola restored my health, and now I want to tell what this splendid medicine did for my son. He was always tired and under weight. His appetite was so poor he went all day with no nourishment other than a glass of milk. I was greatly worried over his condition. But Konjola proved to be the very medicine and tonic he needed. In three weeks a remarkable change came over him. He is not tired; eats three meals a day and is gaining in weight and strength. He looks better than he ever did. I surely recommend Konjola to every mother who has an ailing child. Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve deadening drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals. It needs no such ingredients its seeming wonders to perform. Konjola is sold in Eastland, Texas at the Tombs and Richardson Drug Store.

I have met every legal requirement and have even paid my poll tax for this and all other years during the time I have taught school in your county. After all the success of a teacher is not measured by degrees but by their ability to teach and the satisfaction they have given. I have never taught any place in this or any other county that I couldn't go back into the schools again nor have I ever quit to engage in any other business or profession. I am a school teacher and will continue to work as such regardless of the outcome of this election.

Promotion is Merited by Experience

If this continuous 18 years experience merits anything or proves to you that I am qualified for the office, I believe that I am entitled to your support for this promotion. It is a promotion and I believe that you are going to grant it to me when you investigate the records of all the candidates, weigh them for their loyalty to your schools and consider their qualifications.

I am only asking that you promote me after 18 years spent in the ranks working where the chance for service has come to me.

In conclusion I am asking the voters to take this as a personal solicitation for their vote and support. I worked in the school room until May 23rd, doing my duty as a teacher and in the short time at my disposal have not had sufficient days nor hours in the day to see all the voters. I assure you that any vote cast for me on the 28th will be appreciated and that when I am elected I will give you the same loyal service in the superintendent's office that I have given you in the school for 18 years.
