looking for God. Later in the evening Erbe and I went back to the cliff-side of the Riviera to renew our acquaintance with a family of raccoons that comes each year to be fed on the rocks by the river, when the Riviera opens. This night club, you will remember, is on the rim of the Palisades, overlooking the Hudson. There is a drop of a hundred feet or more to the water's edge, a rocky, densely shrubbed shoreline. Each year a dozen or more raccoons miraculously appear to bask in the glow of the colored lights, accepting food from the hands of the guests. The waiters have them all named. They have been there for years, and each summer, when Ben Marden returns with this staff of waiters to the Riviera, the boys ascertain whether those raccoons are there even before their luggage is unpacked.

Published Sunday morning and weekday afternoon except Saturday by BIO SPRING HERALD, Inc. Entered as second class mail matter at the Post-office at Big Spring, Texas, under act of March 3, 1879.

By Margaret Sullivan

Here's a beautifully done, unambitious picture of what Hitlerism can do to human relations. The family in question has a "non-Aryan" father wed to an "Aryan" mother with two children by a previous marriage, two (Sullivan and Gene Reynolds) by the second. They live in Germany. Under the impact of Nazi ideology, the family is wrecked—heartbreakingly, poignantly, inevitably. Heavy fare for these days, but heartily recommended for its sheer power, for its splendid performances notably by Young, Morgan, Sullivan, Frank Borzage directed.

OIL INDUSTRY

FACES SHAKY

SIX MONTHS

AUSTIN, July 3 (AP)—The oil industry enters the second half of the year with critical eyes on its ledgers.

Uncertainties of the first six months, born of dwindling export demand and excessive stocks, continue to hang on to some degree despite recent production readjustments.

On the bright side was the prospect for peak construction of gasoline in July and August, possible continued upturn of industrial activity and the fact that the national defense program once rolling, will draw heavily from the stores of motor fuel and lubricants.

From the Texas gulf coast came reports of demands for additional production shutdowns to alleviate the gasoline storage situation which despite drastic curtailment of crude production in mid-June was reported none too good.

United States stocks of gasoline remained near the 100,000,000-barrel level which some observers considered excessive by 15,000,000 barrels. Domestic consumption was definitely on the way up, however, and reports on stock changes for the next few weeks will draw unusual interest and possibly reveal trends which will guide future policies.

The railroad commission clamped the lid on July and August production by ordering five shutdowns each month.

Texas began the month with an estimated daily average allowable of 1,325,800 barrels, 14,400 barrels under the bureau of mines estimate for July market demand in this state.

The railroad commission felt that it had a strong grip on production as a result of a supreme court decision which apparently left little doubt as to its authority to write production orders.

DALLAS, July 3 (AP)—A group of Roosevelt supporters reported today that they had received state-wide responses to a proposal that democrats nominate Wendell Wilkie at Chicago in the event the president declines to try for a third term.

Warren said he planned to return home today to arrange his private business affairs so he can devote full time to marshaling Wilkie sentiment in democratic ranks. He will have his headquarters here.

SEN. McNARY IS CONGRATULATED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—Wrote President Roosevelt, the democratic vice presidential nominee in 1920, to Senator McNary (R-Ore), the 1940 republican candidate:

"My very warm congratulations on your nomination for vice president. Once upon a time—twenty years ago—I ran for vice president. I learned a lot! "I hope to see you soon, "Your old friend, "Franklin D. Roosevelt."

WTCC Will Continue Fight For Freight Reduction Order

ABILENE, July 1. — The West Texas chamber of commerce is disappointed but not in the least discouraged over the recent action by the railroad commission putting into temporary storage its order of May 15th reducing by 13 per cent class freight rates in Texas. The WTCC is busy petitioning for immediate hearing before the full commission. "Just another obstacle to be overcome and we will take it in stride," said D. A. Bauden, manager of the regional chamber. From Bauden and J. M. William of Floydada, president of the WTCC's Freight Rate Equality Federation, came this statement:

"This new action of course is an unpleasant surprise. Only a short time ago, June 20th, the railroad commission denied a petition by 90 rail and 60 motor transport lines to vacate outright the order brought to our Big Spring convention by Commissioner Jerry Sadler, or to reopen the proceedings on the subject. In an amended petition the commission hearing one year ago out of which came the rate reduction order May 15. Then came news that the commission had reversed itself, this apparently by vote of Commissioner Lon Smith and Ernest Thompson, for Commissioner Sadler has advised us that he was not consulted and would not have concurred in reopening the case.

Reversed by a majority of the commission was an amended petition filed by Carl Phinney and Carl B. Callaway on behalf of the Common Carrier Motor Freight Association, Inc. The petition stated that since receiving the denial of June 20th economic changes have developed which were overlooked less than two weeks ago when the general petition was presented to and denied by the commission. Messrs. Phinney and Callaway say that heretofore they have urged the commission to give consideration to their clients increased costs in the amended petition they say these costs cannot be reduced, therefore present levels of freight rates should not be reduced.

"In the long fight for freight rate equality for Texas the West Texas chamber of commerce and the Freight Rate Equality Federation have not been against the railroads and truck lines, but only for the people who produce, ship and consume the goods moving on these lines. Surely no regulatory body or court will take the position that rate levels must be fixed on the basis of guaranteeing a profit to the carriers only, or be periodically shifted up or down according to transitory changes in movement of freight or in business. That would be an unfair disregard for the interests and welfare of the hundreds of thousands of farmers, merchants, manufacturers and housewives who produce, ship, process and consume the goods and are responsible for the tonnage carried in transportation.

"Surely these classes need protection too. If that sort of reasoning is to apply, the whole level of freight rates in Texas should have been gradually lowered in recent years as the people's income has gradually fallen, yet nothing of the sort has happened. On the contrary, the rate trend has been steadily upward."

"Already agriculture of the United States has felt the first blows of these changes," he added. "The story is told in two words—lost markets. "When peace comes—whether it is tomorrow or years from now and whether one side wins or the other—we have no assurance the problem will be solved automatically. On the contrary, this country, and particularly agriculture, may face great problems of adjustment to new conditions. x x x "By carrying out these peace-time (AAA) programs for conservation, the farmers and ranchmen of the nation have made and are making an immeasurable contribution directly to the national defense."

Evans said that of approximately 68,769 head of cattle in the United States, nearly 20,000,000 are in the western range country; and of the 54,478,000 head of sheep in the nation, nearly 40,000,000 are in the range states.

Dr. Clyde Thomas Joins the Staff of Hall-Bennett Clinic
Dr. Clyde Thomas, who has been resident surgeon at John Sealy hospital in Galveston, Tuesday joined the staff of the Hall & Bennett clinic here.

A graduate of the Big Spring schools, Dr. Thomas did his pre-medical work at Texas University and his medical training at Texas Medical college in Galveston. After interning for a year at John Sealy hospital, he remained on the staff for two years as resident surgeon until he resigned to become associated with the local clinic staff. Mrs. Thomas accompanied him here. Dr. Thomas is a native of Big Spring and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas. By coincidence he is becoming associated with the clinic where he had his first touch with the medical profession as an employee several years ago.

Will Dedicate Local Airport To Defense

City officials Friday appealed to high WPA and army officials to designate the municipal airport as being important to national defense in order to clear the way for additional improvement expenditures.

Already approved is a $66,000 WPA project for further development of the airport, principally for surfacing two runways which have base material down but are not yet topped. In Washington Rep. George Mahon of this district advised that he had contacted national WPA officials and the war department in an effort to secure additional development of the local port.

Meanwhile telegrams urging designation as an important point in the national defense scheme were dispatched to Maj. Gen. H. Arnold, chief of the air corps, the acting secretary of the war, and to Brig. Gen. Jacob E. Fickel, assistant chief of the army air corps.

Strategic importance of Big Spring as the juncture of two national military highways was stressed in addition to the fact that the port, with three 150-foot runways totaling 13,040 feet in length, is one of the better airports of the state. It has a U. S. D. A. airway weather bureau, CAA weather transmission unit, beam station and other services attached. Moreover, it is a terminal point for American Airlines.

Income To Individuals Shows Gain
WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—The commerce department reported today that income payments to individuals during the first five months of this year totaled $29,132,000, an increase of five per cent over the same period last year.

The index of such payments—using 1929 figures as 100—increased three-tenths of a point to 87 from April to May. Secretary Hopkins said. This increase, he added, "reflected largely the increase in business activity following the slow decline in February, March and April."

At the same time, the labor department reported that employment in nearly every region of the United States increased between April and May in non-agricultural establishments. There was a net gain of 250,000 in such employment, it said.
