A Dollar For Triplet. And $100 a Day for Face Powder. Fat Boy Quits Diet. Kidnaped Poole. Getting Unlucky. Likes His Punishment. She Foils Jail Break.

Honoring the arrival of triplets in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Colbert of Lufkin, Gov. Dan Moody has sent $1 each to Jean, Joyce and Joan, the newly arrived Colberts, with which to start their savings accounts.

A 13-year old, 175 pound Wichita Falls negro boy escaped punishment for pilfering kitchens on his plea to the judge that his family had him on a diet of orange juice and corn bread because he was so fat. "That ain't enough for me," he insisted.

Girls in C. I. A. at Denton spend $124 a day for cosmetics, according to somebody who has figured it out. Just now, most of this is going into anti-sunburn preparations.

Search was started in Texarkana for a dog which was kidnapped from the car of Mrs. C. E. Palmer, Sombrook in a helicopter-colored roadster stopped and took the dog, spectators said.

Herman Bowles, 10-year-old Livado boy, broke his leg. It was the thirteenth time has broken a bone.

Hot weather results: State officials have fistfight in capitol; lawyers in Leahy trial engaged in bout; Bob Shiner, former Austin preacher, hit in the face.

Not yet completely fed up on oratory, Speaker W. S. Barron, who presided over five months' legislative sessions, will make the commencement address for Bryan summer school graduates.

Mrs. Rufus Pevehouse, wife of the Corsicana sheriff who was taking a prisoner to Huntsville, frustrated a jail break when she found prisoners had sawed bars off the jail.

May Establish Laboratory Here

At a meeting of the Eastland City Medical and Dental Society held in Dr. J. H. Caton's office on Friday evening the matter of establishing a laboratory in the city was taken up and discussed. A committee of three, Drs. E. H. Townsend, P. H. Isbell and J. H. Caton was appointed to take the matter up with the city commissioners.

The new marriage law in some instances requires a laboratory test. Milk could be tested, also city water and any other blood and chemical tests sent by the physician.

Combining the fees derived from patients of the physicians that now paid for city water analysis the laboratory could be operated with small expense, it is estimated.

Wrye for sometime past pastor of the Church of Christ, who is going to Beaumont to accept similar work. The heading on the item read local Baptist instead of Presbyterian. The resolution follows:

"Be it further resolved, that we congratulate the congregation of South Park church on its good fortune in securing his services, and that we wish for Mr. Wrye the largest success in his new field."

Leahy Case Is Argued Before Georgetown Jury

GEORGETOWN, July 27.—Harry J. Leahy, who by tonight is expected to know whether he will be executed for murder or confined to an insane asylum, listened today as attorneys for state and defense made final arguments to the jury which will decide his sanity.

With testimony of witnesses completed, Judge J. D. Moore read his charge to the jury when court opened today. He announced that each side would be allowed three hours for argument.

Attorney Mack Gates of Huntsville, chief of the defense counsel, began the arguments and dwelt on the fact that the testimony of Miss Amanda Davidson of Taylor, whose sworn affidavit that she believed Leahy insane saved the South Texas ranchman from electrocution, must have been just or her right to have submitted such a writ would have been contested by the state.

The first argument from the state came from Attorney D. B. Wood, who stayed close to the issue before the jury with respect to Leahy's sanity.

The jury will doubtless get the case late today and a verdict is expected shortly afterward.

DR. SNOOK IS EXPECTED TO TAKE STAND

DEFENSE MAY BE BUILT UPON THREE-FOLD PLEA INCLUDING DEFENSE AND EMOTIONAL INSANITY.

DR. SNOOK IS EXPECTED TO TAKE STAND

COLUMBUS, O., July 27.—The supreme effort to prevent conviction of Dr. James H. Snook for the alleged murder of Theora Hix, may be made by Dr. Snook himself.

Although medical experts will testify for him his wife may give evidence, and also his mother, there was reason to believe today that the main case of the defense will be built upon the story to be told by the former Ohio state university professor himself.

His attorneys, who last week would not admit they "expected Dr. Snook to testify," did not reiterate that assertion today but made no denial of any change of plans.

The defense is to be built, unless the entire program is altered upon a three-fold plea of self-defense, emotional insanity and the claim that Miss Hix herself administered or acquired in the administration of drugs to Dr. Snook, causing him to go temporarily mad.

Dr. Snook is the only surviving witness of most of the points in the case. Admittedly without his evidence only a flimsy framework of implication could be constructed.

COLUMBUS, O., July 27.—As in most outstanding trials, crank letters, telephone calls and threats have poured out in volume in the murder trial of Dr. James H. Snook.

Mrs. Minnie A. Ricketts, wife of E. O. Ricketts, one of Dr. Snook's attorneys, told police today that she had received two anonymous calls warning her that her daughter, Helen, 19, would be "disposed of" unless Ricketts drops out of the case by Monday.

Both wagon and horses were demolished.

An iron complaint pole was behind the wagon when the radiator of the Ford, passing by on the highway, was taken to the back of the seat. Drake was taken to the Payne-Carter hospital in Eastland. Ogden wants a suitable memorial on the lawn of the state capitol grounds here.

"The day will soon arrive," he said, "when the horse will be a curiosity to the city youth. The horse is little appreciated by the present generation; in a few years there will be few to recall the days when the horse was an absolute necessity to man's existence in every section of the state."

SECRECY WRAPS PREPARATION OF NAVY SEAPLANE

By United Press. By RICHARD V. CORNISH, United Press Staff Correspondent. PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Two of America's cleverest aeronautical engineers today are putting the finishing touches on a slim little seaplane being secretly built at the Philadelphia navy yard.

according to information emanating from reliable sources. Details of the body style are not yet known. It was said the craft is a biplane extremely stream-lined and trimmed down to "almost nothing."

Williams has said that unless the plane will fly faster than 300 miles per hour he will not try to wrest the Schneider cup from Great Britain at Cowes, England, in September. He believes the other nation will enter planes that will easily fly faster.

Those who have had a fleeting glimpse of the plane believe Thurston's and Booth's tedious work of many months will not have been in vain. The consensus is that those who witness the test flights will see man traveling faster than he has traveled in the United States before and it is believed possible that Williams may shatter the 318-mile record of Major de Bernhardt, of Italy.

FRUIT RELEASES HEAT IN THE REFRIGERATOR Which would require the larger piece of ice to keep it cool, a 10-pound roast of beef or 10 pounds of ripe peaches? Most people would think this a silly question and would answer that the meat demands better refrigeration. That however, is not precisely the question. Once the meat is thoroughly cooled the only task for the ice in the refrigerator is to absorb the heat that may leak in from the warmer outside air.

Hens in good laying condition have bright red combs and wattles. Good layers have combs that are waxy in texture. The yellow-shanked breeds have combs that are ordinarily pale yellow or white. The pubic bones of a good layer are thin and flexible and when the hen is in laying condition they are far apart. The skin of a good layer is soft, pliable and of good texture and the back is wide and long. Another important point is the time of moulting. Poor layers usually molt earlier than good ones. Heavy layers generally do not begin to molt before September or October. Culling not only improves the breeding quality of

THE AMBASSADOR BY NASH

—TWIN-IGNITION-MOTOREE

THOUSANDS of people who drive the Twin-Ignition-motored Nash "400" Ambassador have discovered that the most luxurious type of motoring is not necessarily prohibitive in price.

Obvious to every eye is the style and thoroughbred character of this charming motor car. There is beauty in the purity and grace of every line and curve. There is luxury in every item of interior dress and decoration, from inlaid walnut panellings to the deep, overstuffed cushions, upholstered in fabrics restricted to fine car manufacture.

And equally obvious, to those who know good motor cars, is the high quality of "400" engineering and Ambassador performance. Here, in this moderately priced car, is the Twin-Ignition motor, the year's most notable achievement in power. Another very attractive "400" feature is the "world's easiest steering."

And the Ambassador is one of the easiest riding cars ever built. The wheelbase is 130 inches. The springs are built of special process alloy steel, individually designed for Ambassador size and weight, and outward mounted Houdaille double action, hydraulic shock absorbers are regular equipment.

Other features of convenience and quality which Nash volume makes it possible for you to have at Ambassador price, are Bijar Centralized Chassis Lubrication and Chromium-nickel bumpers front and rear—at no extra charge.

Volume and its manufacturing economies plus Nash engineering skill make possible this value. More than 168,000 Nash "400s" were built and sold in the 12 months (just ended) since the "400" introduction.

Delivered, Fully Equipped Price Range of 23 Nash "400" Models $995 to $2090 includes Touring, Roadster, Coupe, Cabriolet, Victoria and Sedan Model

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MOLLY BURNHAM, sob sister on metropolitan paper, is renewing college friendships with her old roommate, RITA MELNOTTE, and Rita's husband, BOB NEWTON. Molly is having a little dinner party, to which she also invited RUTH WOODS, and Ruth's husband, ZIP.

But Ruth protested that she was not feeling well, and that Zip was working late. Ruth has changed a lot since her marriage. Within a few months she lost her little baby. And then all her dreams and gaiety seemed to have embittered Rita. While Molly, who has made a remarkable success during her brief career, has indefinitely postponed her marriage to JACK WELLS, a struggling young architect, whom she loves devotedly, but who has scarcely a penny to his name.

During the dinner party, the door bell rings furiously. Bob goes to see who it is, and returns with Zip, Ruth's husband. Zip is crying and talking incoherently, and the girls are afraid he is drunk. Molly asks Bob who shakes his head sorrowfully.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XV

Bob put his arm about his wife's shoulders, and reached for Molly's hand.

"Ruth's dead, girls," he said.

"Poor little kid,"

Zip raised his swollen face from Molly's shoulder. His soft brown hair that Ruth had loved clung to his forehead in moist strands, and his chin trembled like a child's.

"Ruth's dead," he repeated.

"Did you hear Bob tell you?" They drew him into the apartment, and Molly wondered if the gay, pretty background of her little dinner party would wound Zip more deeply. She knew that when one grieves extravagantly, the gaiety of others seems harsh and heartless. She was sorry that Zip had found her making merry with Rita and Bob. It would have been better if she had been alone.

But Rita had heated the coffee and now she brought Zip a steaming cup.

"It will make you feel better," she said. "Buck you up, I know."

He took it obediently, and held it to his knee. His hand was shaking so he could not raise it to his mouth.

"She died in her sleep," he told them. "When I came home she looked like a ghost. And her eyes were red. I knew she'd been crying."

"I told her," Zip's voice broke, and he buried his head in his hands. "I told her that other women had lost their babies. I told her there wasn't anything unique about her sorrow. That other girls had gotten over it."

"Never mind that, Zip. Don't tell us," whispered Molly comfortingly. "Ruth knows you never meant to hurt her."

"Yes," he cried fiercely. "I want to tell you. I told Ruth I was sick of her sniveling and crying. I told her she was making my life a regular hell..."

"Zip!" Molly darted from the bed where she had crouched, and flung herself on her knees before him. "Stop it! We don't want to hear those things. Don't torture yourself, poor Zip. Ruth doesn't want you to, dear. She always wanted you to be happy.

"Something in Ruth died, Zip when she lost her little baby. Perhaps that's why she died. Maybe she's with that little baby now."

Zip groaned. "I killed her," he said. "I killed her with words. She got all white and trembly, and she put her hand over her heart. And then she was frightened. And pretty soon she let me put her to bed."

"She lay there so white and still. But she wouldn't let me call a doctor. She wanted me to sit beside her, and hold her hand. And she kept opening her eyes and smiling."

"After a while she wanted to sit up. She was very weak. Whistling then... My God, I ought to have known! I lifted her, and put pillows behind her back. And she was crying. I asked her if she was comfortable that way, and she said yes."

"She was quiet then for a long time, and I was frightened again. 'How are you feeling?' I asked."

"Beautiful," she said. And she opened her eyes, and smiled again.

"By and by I thought she was asleep. My arms were numb, and I was afraid I might let her slip back on the pillows. I wanted her to sleep, you see. I thought she would be better when she woke. So I took my arms away."

Rita was crying now, with her head against Bob's shoulder.

"And when I stood up," Zip was saying, "I bent to kiss her. I kissed her forehead. And she didn't move. Then..."

Rita screamed. "Stop! Zip don't!"

"I kissed her lips," he concluded simply. "And then I knew I don't know how I knew. I just knew. Ruth was dead."

"And the last word she ever said," moaned Rita, "was 'Beautiful.' Wasn't that just like Ruth, Molly? Oh, poor, poor little Ruth!"

"You called a doctor?" asked Bob.

"Somebody did," Zip said. "The woman upstairs came down. And her husband. Yes, they got a doctor. He said she'd been dead for an hour. Two hours maybe. He was wrong though. Because he smiled at me, you see. And put her fingers in my hair. And when I asked her how she was she said 'Beautiful.'"

Rita's big dark eyes were staring mad.

Bob caught her to him. "Steady, Rita. Steady, dear," he besought. "Careful, darling."

"Don't you see?"—Ruth lived to make you happy. . . . And she came back from the dead to comfort you."

He shook his head miserably.

a vision of Ruth.

Bob and Rita took Zip home with them. And Molly, when they had gone, found the memory book of her Freshman year, with all its heart-wrenching memories of Ruth. For she and Ruth had roomed together that year, and that was the year Zip gave Ruth the moonstone she called her engagement ring. All night Molly sat with the book across her knees.

When dawn came, she put coffee on, and while it was boiling she took a shower. Then she lay quietly down, not to sleep, but to relax, so that Jack would not know she had not slept all the night.

When his train came, she was waiting.

Only sleeve-valve action gives such smoothness

Only Master Artistry Creates Such Beauty

IN THE opinion of leading engineers and hundreds of thousands of enthusiastic owners, the patented Knight double sleeve-valve engine is the simplest and most efficient automobile power plant ever designed.

In each cylinder, two sliding sleeves combine with the dome-shaped cylinder head to form a tightly sealed combustion chamber. This cylinder head directs the full force of the explosion straight downward against the piston, making the most efficient use of the highly compressed gas. The great turbulence of the gases in the spherical chamber causes a faster burning of the fuel and therefore a more effective explosion and extra power. The Willys-Knight engine gives uniform compression at all times, at all speeds and with any gas.

Effect of the Lively Ball Upon Baseball Is Discussed

note. This is another of the articles on the new lively ball. Managers of teams in various leagues are being asked their opinions.

YORK, July 27.—Five members of the International League met to discuss the lively ball, and an angle hitherto suggested by Tris Speaker of the New York Yankees, former major league star.

Speaker's comment credits the present long-hitting wave to frequent substitution of new balls for ones which become roughed up by saying that the "parks are built for the ball rather than the ball for the parks."

"You have to use more balls now," Speaker points out, "because of covers becoming rough on freak deliveries, and the balls are thrown out."

"In former years one ball would stay in the game four or five innings and become spongy, making it harder to drive."

Ted Jordan, manager of the Jersey City team finds "the ball in our league very satisfactory in my judgment."

Steve O'Neill, manager of the Toronto club notes a difference in the carrying quality of the balls in the National league and those in the major leagues.

"It being my first year in this league," Steve says, "I would say that the ball in this league is not as lively as in the Majors."

"From what I've seen of it I would say that the ball is none too lively."

"We played Detroit an exhibition game at Toronto last Monday and it was very noticeable that their baseballs traveled much farther than ours during batting practice."

William J. Clymer, Buffalo, finds the present baseball satisfactory.

Fritz Maisel, Baltimore Orioles' chief, believes the lively ball has helped the game because "there have never been crowds in the past to compare with those since it has entered the game."

Other managers were silent.

Quits Coupons, Will Advertise

For years the United Cigar Stores company has used little or no advertising beyond the distribution of coupons redeemable in merchandise.

Recently the company announced it had discontinued the coupon giving and would start newspaper advertising as the result of an advertising experiment by which, through newspaper space, 200,000 customers were added on the Pacific coast in one month. The new merchandising policy, with newspaper advertising, has been put into effect all over the country.

"The result for the past week," said A. C. Allen, vice president of the company, "was to bring in approximately 500,000 additional customers to the United Cigar stores. The abolition of the coupon form of merchandising will result in a saving of approximately $3,500,000 a year, part of which sum will be turned over to a permanent increase in the use of newspaper space."

Eastland Woman So Nervous She Couldn't Sleep

"Nobody Knows How I Suffered Until I Found Orgatone," Says Mrs. Priest.

"For many years I suffered from nervous indigestion without being able to get any relief until I began taking Orgatone," said Mrs. G. E. Priest, residing at the corner of Valley and Walnut Sts., Eastland, Tex., recently.

"My stomach was so out of order," continued Mrs. Priest, "that I had to be very careful about my eating, and no one knows how I suffered. I had to live strictly on a light diet and I was bloated all the time from the gas on my stomach. My liver was sluggish and I was very bilious and was so nervous I could hardly sleep at night. I often had dizzy spells and spots would come before my eyes. I had no appetite and things that appealed to me I was afraid to eat because of the suffering I knew so well it would cause me. The pain in the region of my liver and my suffering in other ways was so intense at times I would have to give up and go to bed."

"I took many kinds of medicine and I don't know how much money I spent trying to get relief, but I kept getting worse until I decided to take Orgatone. I eat and sleep like a child now, and simply like a new woman. I enjoy meals and many other things I wouldn't dare eat before, and it all agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are calm and steady now in place of being shattered, as they were, and the pain I used to have about my liver is gone. My suffering is all gone, and I owe my wonderful relief to nothing but Orgatone. Orgatone has not only done all this for me, but my husband, who also has stomach trouble, is improving every day since he began taking it. I know there are lots of people suffering as I did, and I am glad to make this statement, hoping it will be the cause of many getting relief as I did."

Such statements as the foregoing should appeal to the thousands that are suffering from the same troubles. Most people who suffer from nervousness and indigestion, stomach and liver troubles, complaints, and who are in general run-down condition need something to tone up their system and to assist the various organs in performing their proper functions. Orgatone is a wonderful reconstructive tonic and treatment which always produces the most gratifying results. Genuine Orgatone is manufactured by one of the world's largest laboratories and is not a so-called secret or patent remedy, but a new scientific bile treatment and is sold in Eastland, exclusively by Toombs & Richardson Drug Co.—Adv.

MARKETS

CHICAGO, July 27.—A $20,000,000 grain marketing corporation, which would sell its product throughout the world, is the new federal farm board's first idea of farm relief.

The organization would be formed through a merger of farmer owned grain pools, cooperatives and elevator associations. It would be established along cooperative lines and be eligible for loans under the new farm relief act. It would serve as the intermediary between the board and the farmers' cooperative groups.

Details still are to be worked out, Alexander Legge, chairman of the board, told representatives of farmers' grain marketing organizations throughout the corn and wheat belts when they met with board members in Chicago Friday.

Wall Street
NEW YORK, July 27.—Increased apprehension over the immediate course of the money market and over possibility of congressional investigation of the brokerage loan situation offset the bullish effects of the week-end business reviews and caused highly unsettled price movements on the stock exchange today.

Renewed selling of Radio common induced many large operators to throw their holdings overboard and the general market displayed an extremely heavy tone. Radio was forced down several points in addition to its 6 point decline of the previous session and other issues in which a stale long account had been built up were weak.

American Can broke to new low ground on the current movement as did Missouri Kansas Texas and American Telephone & Telegraph. U. S. Steel turned down after scoring a small advance at the opening. Bethlehem Steel followed the leader.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 27.—Oklahoma City, with one gusher, the largest in the Midcontinent oil field, producing 20,000 barrels daily and another well promising record production, was the center of the nation's oil interest today.

Both wells came in late last night. No. 1 Bertha Johnson of the I. T. O. caught field workers unprepared when it shot oil over its 320 foot derrick. Working till dawn, farmers and oil company executives toiled side by side to erect tanks and pipes to hold the unprecedented flow of approximately 700 barrels hourly.

No. 1 Noble of the Magnolia Petroleum company blew in when grades she stock 25-50c lower; cutters and low cutters, bulls and better grades fat yearlings about steady; plain and common heifer yearlings unevenly lower; desirable stock cattle scarce, unchanged; slaughter calves and vealers averaging around $1.50 lower, trade very uneven, medium grade heavies showing greater losses in some cases, but cut sorts not more than 50c lower. Week's top fed steers 1440, small lots, fat yearlings up to 1450, practical top fat cows 900, best heavy bulls 840-850, early top heavy fat calves 1200, short load choice light weight vealers 1425. Bulk of prices: fed steers 1285-1440; straight grassers 850-975; fat cows 750-825; butcher cows 650-725, low cutters 475-550; sausage bulls 650-800, heavy slaughter calves 900-1150.

workers were expecting nothing but a show. The well began rumbling as the core was taken out and blew 6,300 feet of mud. The well will be drilled deeper for oil.

A feverish rush for new locations was made today as a result of Oklahoma City's over night leap into the oil limelight.

The Magnolia blew wild for an hour last night but finally subsided. Oil men today said the well bridged under the tremendous rock pressure.

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McCannies of 106 East Conner street was fragrant with the scent of pink and white roses, the charming setting of a beautiful blooms forming an appropriate background for the marriage of their lovely young daughter, Miss Argye Mary McCannies, to Preston Briggs at the hour of 11 Friday morning.

In front of an improvised altar on the north side of the dining room, and which was massed in pink and white roses and ferns with pedestal baskets at the sides holding tall stemmed roses in a fluff of green ferns arrayed in pink and white ribbons caught with clusters of rosebuds, forming an aisle to the living room through which the bride and groom walked to the altar to make their vows. The beautiful ring ceremony was pronounced by Rev. W. T. Turner of the Baptist church. The bride was gowned in dainty whiteorgette with rhinestone edging the confection, fashioned with long waist, a swathed hip line and the new long back drapery. The round neck and sleeveless bodice was edged with rhinestones and a delicate necklace of silver and rhinestone and silver slippers completed the beautiful ensemble. She carried a shower bouquet of pink rosebuds. Mr. Briggs was very smartly garbed in conventional dark blue sack suit.

Mrs. J. P. Burnett of Cisco, the aunt of the bride, was at the piano for the Mendelssohn wedding march and softly played a tender song during the impressive service.

Those present were the immediate relatives only of bride and groom; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Briggs and son, Vernon, of Pampa, Tex.; Mrs. J. R. Barnett of Cisco, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McCannies, parents of the bride; their daughter, Miss Dorothy, and son, H. A. McCannies, Jr., and Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Turner.

A most delightful luncheon served, the rose place cards in the family covers. The table was laid in beautiful dined linen and centered in a basket filled with pink roses.

The wedding cake was a vision in pink and white icing and had a place of honor on a special stand, rose wreathed. The menu of iced fruit cocktail and luncheon plate of cold sliced roast beef, fried spring chicken, creamed potatoes and peas, had a vegetable salad course with stuffed tomatoes, and iced tea. Brick ice cream in rose and white was served with the bride's cake, cut by the bride amid a shower of good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Briggs left for their wedding trip on the Sunshine 2:30 p. m. following lunch. The bride wore a glowing away frock of powder blue flat crepe with pink felt hat and georgette kerchief and carried a blue purse, with accessories of light tan shoes and hose. The happy young couple are going to housekeeping immediately in Houston, where Mr. Briggs is chemist for the National Creosote company of Houston. After the departure of the "newlyweds" who were greeted at the depot by a number of friends waiting to see them off, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Briggs and their son left in their car for Pampa.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENING AT THE WEAVER RESIDENCE

One of the early and informal parties of the week was that of the Misses Ruth and Louise Weaver who entertained several young friends for their guest, Miss Virginia Norton of Stratford, at the hospitable Joseph M. Weaver home, when the lawn, the gallery and the spacious rooms resounded with music with the merry chatter of young folks, the slip of dancing cards and the patter of informal feet. Later in the evening a delicious supper was served from a table arranged on the lawn under the big trees. Centering the table was a bowl of roses and a most generous plate was served following the fruit salad of pressed chicken with sandwiches, olives, iced tea, ice cream and delicious home baked cakes. After the party was over the girls remained for a slumber party and at 6 o'clock the next morning went to Lake Olden for a swim and breakfast.

The happy little group included Misses Marjorie Taggart, Francis Cunningham, Faye Crossley, Elizabeth Day, Thelma Reasor, Wilda Frost, Martha Francis Thomas, Ruby Tindall, Evelyn Hearn, Margaret Hart, Virginia Norton, and hostesses, Misses Louise and Ruth Weaver; Frankie Smith, Howard Weaver, Frank Zelfel, George Taggart, John Ross Williamson, Frank Laurent, Billie Keen, Tillman Langham, M. HER NEWEST POEM, "SUMMER"

Mrs. Nora Heffley Mahon will have her very newest inspiration in the way of a poem entitled "Summer," published in the August number of the Kaleidoscope, a magazine of national poetry published in Dallas by the Montgomerys. The issue will be out next week.

Mrs. Mahon found the motif for the composition when upon her recent motor journey to Mexico, the changing tints in foliage, the haze of distant mountains, all combining to bring the lines to her mind. The poem "Summer" may be said to have been inspired by Mexico.

A CHAT WITH MRS. McCULLOUGH, ARTIST IN OILS

Mrs. Marshall McCullough is interesting her art landscape pupils and concentrating their attention on the vast sweep of country near Eastland, between here and Cisco, that, which includes picturesque grouping of oil derricks, forbidding toil, stretch of sage brush, the gnarled mesquite trees and the warm background of a sunset shot sky. With their portable easels, their cases of paint tubes and pallets, the students drive out in their cars to some selected spot and go to work studying a group from one or another angle. Mrs. McCullough's studio classes are busily engrossed in the study of petunias, drawing the blossoms in charcoal or pencil and studying the growth of the flower preparatory to using the oils or water colors.

ORDER OF RAINBOW MEETS

In spite of the very hot weather the Rainbow girls have strictly "toed the mark" and never missed a meeting, besides which they have attended the assembly this summer held recently in Ft. Worth, and a large body of the membership also attended the recent all day session held in Ranger under the direction of state officer, Mrs. Cushing for the school of instruction. Much credit is due the girls for the interest and faithfulness shown and no little credit should Enroute home, the Blatts visited in Lubbock where Mrs. Blatt saw Miss Verna Johnson who will be one of the teachers on the staff of the Eastland high school in September. Miss Johnson called on Mrs. Blatt with the statement that she had read in the Eastland Telegram about the organization of the Business and Professional Womens club and desired to engage her membership entry. The world is not so big after all. Mr. Russell returned in advance of Mr. and Mrs. Blatt who made a more extended trip.
