FOOTBALL SQUAD RESUMES GRID TORES AUG. 1

Angelo Sports Writer is enthusiastic about football team's outlook.

Blondy Cross of San Angelo Standard.) San Angelo High school football candidates will answer the call some earlier this fall than at first scheduled and earlier than ever before. Head Coach Bill Bissett is at coaching school at Ann Arbor, Mich., Saturday afternoon and he will endeavor to arrive in San Angelo in time to start the ball rolling Aug. 1. Originally, he had planned the warm-up session for Aug. 15.

Bissett has urged that a number of backfield men, including Massey, phantom brother, and Jim King, the center, be kept in the gymnasium and kicking the hide out of this week. The squad so far is shy of a forward, in fact, there is great concern that the gang will present even a capable a heavier of the line this fall as was Betz Baker, spring captain and pigskin-peddler. Considering the abundance of throwers on the squad, Bissett wants the boys to start training early on chunking the oval upon his return to town he will concentrate on this element of play throughout the preliminary practice campaign.

There is no Betz Baker this year and the Bobcat squad and there is no Massey, phantom brother, runner, nor is there a full-back prospect capable of displaying the power of Earnest Hamberlin, fullback who was declared ineligible after the Ranger game last fall. However, Bissett has a lot of jack rabbit carriers on the roster and the outlook for a strong forward wall is much better than at this time in 1928.

Strong Line. Mollie Crawford, line coach who took the high school and takes up coaching job at Sam Houston normal this year, developed from material a sensationally fighting little line last year, a line that was out-played but never out-gamed, by only the huge forward attachments of the Abilene Elephants, state champs. Crawford's line, a lightweight combination, displayed more generalship and ability despite its lack of avoirdupois than any line it met, with the exception of the pile-driving Abilene forwards.

That same scrappy forward wall, most of the boys bigger and better than almost intact this fall. Augie (Fats) Jennings, a power at tackle, has been plucked from the ranks by graduation. Bus Roberts, dropped out of school. But the guards, the center, one end and one tackle slot are sure to be all taken care of. The giant "Little Red" Halcy, 180-pounder, a bright crimson flash on the football field as well as on the track; returns to his end position. Serran Grimes, the oil belt's strident tackle in 1928, returns a giant of man. Instead of the 172-pounder who started the 1928 drive at tackle, a green and inexperienced Chiete, Grimes comes back this year a husky who shakes the Fairbanks around the 200-pound mark. And it's not all surplus flesh, either. The fellow's just growing up. When he becomes full-grown, he'll be pretty big.

Jim King, who last fall gave promise of developing into one of the oil belt's greatest centers, is heavier and harder this year. Three of the pescey guards return, perhaps each two or three pounds heavier, but the same bantamweight little bantamweights, help of Jones boys, no relation to Bernard, will be here benefits of Adam, another letter gator. All be on deck. Tindel the Organ Nibbling, squad men of days ago, line carries this fall. It had 220-pounder, may be, ok, all. There are others on the squad and the scouts insist when the time comes they will have plenty of recruits to shove in there. Another giant tackle has been spotted down the line. Whether or not he will be on hand is problematical, but the scouts are optimistic.

Fleets of Backfielders. Smokey Baawaters, Cooney McCamey and Jimmy Boyd are expected to have his grand old scholastic football years this season. The two youngsters to become a whirlwind of nerves to live a smoother life than was Massey from across the Rio hand on Massey would pivot and his lion laid the biggie little fellow way, and 7-1-2 around the just lacked all away. Rused at $2,500,000 almost this year's value.

Willie Grady Goes to 'Cl' By United Press Staff Correspondent. AUSTIN, Tex., July 23.—The football board recommended that Willie Grady, the 165-pounder who weighs better than the time the season away. and Henry Orr, the squad during displayed great Parry boy may be a triple-threat.

He's the lad who buzzed about the field the past spring for all the world like the famous Loping Lucy Phelps of Abilene. Never saw a football before, but appears to be a born footballer, this Parry boy does. Given anything like a fair line and respectable interference and the youngster will pack the main plenty. Orr appears to be a steady and experienced grinder. He is fast, well-knit, a keen student of the game and a fighter type, or perhaps we should say, the bulldog type. He's a halfback rather light for full, but if it comes to a case of necessity, he can fill the shoes vacated by the sturdy Hamberlin.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON—Why did your corner grocer enter the grocery business?
Why, for that matter, does any grocer enter the grocery business?
The Department of Commerce investigated that question in its recent survey of the grocery business in Louisville, Ky., and Dr. Wilbur C. Plummer, who supervised the survey, reports as follows:
"The incentives for entering this particular business seem to be strong.
"First, we were told by individuals that it means much more to them to be grocers than to be engaged in some other occupations which seem to them to carry less social standing. The economist might describe the situation by saying that, although the money income of the storekeeper is no greater than that of these other occupations—it may be even less—his psychic income is much greater.
"A second reason for entering the grocery business is to secure the family groceries at wholesale prices. This applies mainly to the 'hole-in-the-wall' places, but it constitutes a definite urge to some persons to start a store.
"A third reason given for opening up a grocery store is that it is thought to be an easy job.
"A fourth is that it enables the wife to be engaged in profitable employment in connection with her household duties."
THERE'S a good story about Arthur Henderson, the new British foreign minister, which probably stands duplicated in our own politics and diplomacy.
Back about 1917, Lloyd George sent Henderson to what was then Russia's Petrograd to take over the British embassy from Sir George Buchanan. This was during the brief Kerensky period.
When Henderson got to Petrograd and looked the situation over he decided that Buchanan was doing an excellent job. He decided, in fact, that it would be a mistake to replace him with a new ambassador.
So Henderson left Buchanan on the job and went back to London. Of course, the Kerensky government didn't last long and Sir George was soon out of a job, anyway, but Henderson hadn't foreseen that.
If and when Premier Ramsay MacDonald comes to Washington it is not supposed here that Henderson will accompany him. Presumably he will stay in London to handle the Foreign Office.
POSTMASTER GENERAL WALTER F. BROWN, the eminent expert in cookery and gastronomy, was recently reported to have a standing reward of $5000 to anyone who could find a string in one of his extraordinary Welsh rarebits.
Comes a letter from Mr. Otis Perry of Columbus, as follows: "Dear Sir: If it is not a joke I think I have won your $5000. You will find the string in stirring."
That is, Mr. Perry proposes to remove the third and fourth letters of the word "stirring." Mr. Perry does not win the $5000. He just gets honorable mention.

Bobbitt are also probably each dependent on the other, with the difference that if one runs the other likely will not.
Sterling, who has been chairman of the state highway commission, recently said Bobbitt was his choice for next governor. Since then Sterling has repeatedly been asked to run himself. The frowns with which he first met such suggestions are said not to be so deep now.
Candidacy of former Mayor Oscar Holcombe of Houston also may depend upon Sterling's decision.

ion. If Sterling runs, Holcombe would be opposed by his home town paper. Sterling is part owner of the Post-Dispatch of Houston. The Houston Chronicle recently urged Sterling to be a candidate. The Houston Press fought Holcombe and it is believed to have been largely responsible for his defeat as a candidate for reelection as mayor.
Mayor J. Waddy Tate, Dallas, has suggested that Mayor Brown of Mineral Wells be a candidate for governor. Brown says he hasn't made any such plans.
Neff's candidacy would likely prevent the running of either Dr. S. P. Brooks of Waco or Cullen F. Thomas of Dallas. Thomas has not been announced but he spent some time in Austin recently and, it is believed here, would like to run if the field clears up.

Wife of Eastland Drill Man Said She Was In Despair

Gains Daily and Says She Is Full of Life and Energy. "Organ-tone Has Certainly Been A Blessing to Me," She Says

Mrs. Ada Yeager, wife of a well known driller for the New Domain Oil & Gas Co., residing at 412 W. Plummer St., Eastland, Tex., is still another woman whose deep sense of gratitude and desire to help others will not permit her to remain silent regarding the benefits she has derived from Organ-tone. In a conversation with the Organ-tone representative a few days ago Mrs. Yeager said: "I had been in such a wretched health for five years and felt so badly all the time I was miserable. My nerves were so shattered that it was almost impossible for me to get a good night's rest. I couldn't go about my house work like I wanted to, and no treatment or medicine helped me. I suffered with backaches all the time and could never work up any appetite. Sleep was almost out of the question for me. I was in a terrible run down condition. I would just roll around at night, and when I did get up I was as wide awake as ever and would often get up and walk the floor. My condition was almost unbearable. I had tried everything and nothing had helped me. I was almost dead."

Willie Grady Goes to 'Cl

AUSTIN, Tex., July 23.—Upon recommendation of the Williamson board...

BRUSHING UP SPORTS By Laufer

THE business of elevating eyebrows took a brisk upturn about ten years ago when Yale announced that a professional ball player had been hired to coach the team. That player was Smoky Joe Wood, hero of the 1913 world series when his fast ball helped the Boston Red Sox into a world championship. He was the first of the tobacco-chewing element to make his way into one of the holly-toilet schools. Ever since Smoky Joe came to Yale, professional players as coaches have been gaining in favor. Prof. Phelps of Yale even went so far as to have Puncher Tunney tell a few things about left hooks and Shakespeare to his English class. Joe has won respect that is nation-wide because he has been turning out smart teams at Eli and developing splendid ball players. You don't hear much about Joe's players, because not many of the Yale men go into professional baseball after they have ended their college careers. Bruce Caldwell, farmed by the Indians to New Haven in the Eastern League, is one of Joe's boys, and he has been burning up the league this year with healthy wallpops. Ducky Pond, who could have pitched for any big league club he chose, and Mac Aldrich, one of the most brilliant shortstops seen in college baseball in years, were Joe's proteges. Neither went into pro baseball after their days at Yale were done. Joe Wood's name was linked in the scandal several years ago when Dutch Leonard made his startling disclosures about Cobb and Speaker, and the Yale student body rallied behind Smoky Joe to a man, voting confidence in his integrity. Joe has developed quite a few great hitters, too, who preferred knocking out the customers' eyes with silt-edged bonds to larping them over the fence. Joe was a hitter as well as a pitcher and has proved one of the country's most valuable collegiate coaches.

victory placed the Exporters in second position.

In a thrilling pitcher's battle yesterday, the Waco Cubs nosed out Ft. Worth, 4 to 3. Cox's home run with one aboard in the eighth put the Cats in the running but not far enough to clinch the game.

Shreveport hustled yesterday all the way through and took the battle from Houston, 6 to 1.

Yesterday's hero—Charley Root, former ace of the Chicago pitchers who returned to form and pitched a four hit game for the Cubs, scoring a 2 to 0 victory over the New York Giants. Carl Hubbell opposed Root in the game and also allowed four hits, two of these were doubles, however, and the first Chicago run was earned.

The Pittsburgh Pirates found the Brooklyn artillery in great form and were outslugged, 10 to 7 at Pittsburgh. Rhief hit a home run for the winners with the bases full.

The Philadelphia Phillies were able to make but two runs out of 10 hits and lost a ball game at St. Louis, 8 to 2. The Cards, aided by three errors, made their runs off seven hits.

Cincinnati won the first game of a double header from the Boston Braves 9 to 5, but were shut out in the second, 6 to 0. Delaney held the Reds to seven widely scattered hits in the final game.

New York opened its park to

"Up in the Air In Texas"

Considerable attention is being paid the idea of establishing an air line from the Rio Grande valley to the Northern population centers for the purpose of transporting perishable fruits and vegetables. An investigation is being made now with the express purpose of obtaining figures in order that some definite idea of the cost and amount of shipments may be obtained. A papaya grower from Florida visited San Benito, with the hope of interesting someone in planting papaya trees because he is interested in the aerial express service which may be started.

Approximately 75 airplanes, in cluding all types from the baby monoplane to the cabin transport ships thrilled some 20,000 visitors to the celebration at Graham when the city's new municipal airport was officially dedicated.

With the site for the Lubbock municipal airport purchased, work is starting for the construction of hangars and field equipment. The city is spending $35,000 in this construction work.

Airplane enthusiasts had more enthusiasm than ever at Wichita Falls when a seaplane piloted by Lieut. Henry Poncrary of Green Valley, landed on Lake Wichita. He carried passengers Saturday and Sunday.

Plans have been practically completed for the dedication service to take place at the opening of the Hensley field in Dallas. The junior chamber of commerce has charge of the affair which will be held the first part of September.

Need of an endowment of $500,000 by the engineering school of Southern Methodist University to establish a chair in aeronautics was mentioned by Dean E. H. Flath, who said, however, that the sum was not yet in sight. A group of students in the school have formed a flying club and several are in the summer training school at Love Field, Dallas.

Announcement has been made for the improvement of the airport at Breckenridge which will make it one of the best in that sector of the state, according to Ben J. Jean, chairman of the airport committee.

Interesting figures concerning aeronautics have been compiled by the commerce department as follows:

In December, 1926, the average of airplane miles flown daily was 10,830. In June, 1929, it was 70,000. In 1926, there were 2,741 miles of lighted airways; in 1929, 10,000. Total number of pounds of mail has increased from 310,855 pounds in 1926 to 1,200,000 in 1929. The number of aviation schools has increased from 175 to 575 between 1926 and June, 1929. There are now 6,735 licensed pilots as compared with 3,242 in 1927.

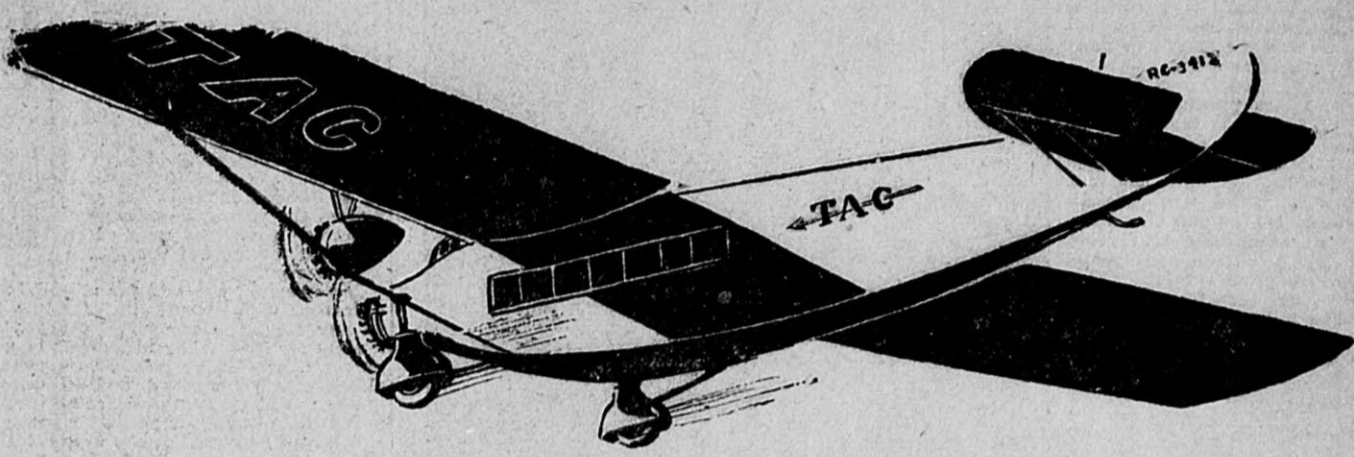

Announcement has been made that the city of Dallas is in thorough accord with views of the chamber of commerce aviation committee in opposing any landing and take-off fees at Love or Hensley field in that city. The city also favors moderate storage charges against ships housed in hangars of any of the municipally owned fields.

They're taking a double-barreled shot at the Mendell-Reinhart refueling endurance record of 246 hours made at Culver City, Calif., recently. Here are Forrest O'Brine, left, and Dale "Red" Jackson, center, who will fly one plane, and Joe Hammer, right, who will pilot another both planes to be in the air over St. Louis at the same time, in an effort to make a new record. They hope to stay up three weeks. Jackson has made a number of flights for NEA Service, Inc., in transporting pictures.
