LIGHT VOTE IS BALLOTTED HERE THIS FORENOON

Texas Fig Industry Threatened

Sen. Tom Connally of Texas predicts the destruction of the fig industry of the commonwealth if figs from foreign lands are not shut out by heavy tariff duties. There are Texans who demand protection for long staple cotton. There are Texans who demand protection for the tomato growers. There are Texans who demand protection for citrus growers. There are Texans who demand higher tariffs on wool imports from Australian and South American countries.

Sen. Simmons of North Carolina, ranking democratic member of the senate finance committee, now engaged in tariff making, is a cross between a free trader and a tariff for revenue idealist. He is doing his best to commit the democrats of the country to his way of thinking. Sen. Simmons voted for Hoover and Curtis. He should go all the way and give his support to the republican tariff bill. Why should foreign crude remain on the free list. If the tariff is the thing, why not go all the road? If it isn't the thing, why not throw down the bars?

Bills Are Now Within Limit Set By Moody

Measures Finally Passed and Those Practically Agreed Upon Total $47,890,000 and Are Within $48,000,000 Limit.

By UNITED PRESS
AUSTIN, Tex., July 16.—Appropriation bills finally passed and those practically agreed upon for this session of the legislature total $47,890,000. This is just within the $48,000,000 limit which Gov. Moody said he would accept without calling another session of the legislature. It is $2,890,000 more than Gov. Moody asked that the limit be. Leaders expect him to accept the bills that are being passed and reduce them himself by vetoing items.

Appropriations made at the last session and vetoed by Gov. Moody and, in comparison those being passed at this session, are:

Rural school aid: Vetoed $5,500,000; new bill $5,000,000.
Judiciary: Vetoed $5,061,465; new bill $5,060,485.
Educational: Vetoed $16,496,545; new bill $16,451,282.
Eleemosynary: Vetoed $10,482,836; new bill $10,372,136.
Departmental: Vetoed $12,638,225; new bill $10,552,883.

Claims and accounts: Vetoed $97,543; new bill $174,516.

Separate appropriations of the former session which were vetoed included also: Alamo ground purchase, $250,000 and underground water survey, $50,000. The Alamo appropriation has been omitted at this session. The appropriation for underground water survey has been reduced to $40,000 and has been included in the departmental bill.

An additional appropriation made at this session is $7,500 to care for negro orphans who have been in a privately supported orphanage which has been given to the state.

Would Refund Half of 1929 Car Registration Fees
AUSTIN, Tex., July 16.—An immediate refund of half of auto registration fees paid for 1929 is proposed in a bill offered to the legislature by Rep. Preston Anderson of San Antonio. He proposes that the refund be made out of highway department finances since the four cent gasoline tax has been made effective at once.

If his bill does not pass the 50 per cent cut in automobile fees will apply first to the 1930 registrations.

Another bill offered would limit those who can make application to have a convicted person tried for insanity. The bill would permit only a physician, a jailer or a prison warden to institute such proceedings.

Work of the third called session was practically completed at noon when both the senate and house passed the bill on the general appropriation bills. The senate made another effort to get an appropriation to buy ground about the Alamo at San Antonio by a separate bill giving $250,000 for the purpose. The senate also appropriated by separate bill $800,000 to supplement the Confederate pension tax fund. Neither is expected to pass the house where opposition to such appropriations has been strongest.

Sine die adjournment on Friday was proposed in the house today but not voted upon.

Three days will be necessary, it was said, to dispose of the flood of local bills to which Governor Moody opened the way by a message yesterday.

Hertz' Daughter in Auto Crash

When Helen Hertz, above, 19-year-old daughter of John Hertz, retired Chicago taxicab king, failed to stop her car for a red light in Evanston, Ill., she crashed into another car, seriously injuring Miss Dorothy Wilson, Santa Barbara, Calif., debutante. Blood transfusion was resorted to in an effort to save the life of Miss Wilson.

Davis and Ray Not Involved In Escape Try

Investigation Leads Authorities to Believe That These Two Had No Part In Attempted Jail Break.

The account of the attempted jail break, published several days ago in the Telegram, stated that Thomas Davis and Togo Ray were believed to have been involved.

A letter from the attorneys of Davis states "It is our information that this boy did not leave his cell, that he took no earthly part in the jail break and that he was locked up in an inner cell which bore no evidence of any effort on his part or on the part of anyone in jail to effect his escape."

The letter suggests that the newspaper "check up" on this matter.

Industry has developed that investigation by the authorities into the jail break convinces them that neither Davis nor Ray had any part in the attempted escape.

Quake Jars California School

Here's what happened to a schoolhouse near Whittier, Calif., when a slight earthquake jolted the southern portion of the state the other day. No serious damage was done, but cracked walls, broken windows and loosened roofs gave citizens a number of thrills.

Rotary Official Addresses Club

Bernard Bryant, District Governor, Speaks Before Local Rotarians.

An official address was made before the Eastland Rotary club by the district governor of the 41st district of Rotary International, Bernard Bryant of Stamford, Monday at the regular meeting of the local club.

Mr. Bryant met with the directors of the club in the morning from 10 until 12 o'clock, and addressed them at noon luncheon at the Connelley.

The meeting here with the club was one of his official meetings with Rotary clubs of the 41st district.

Fewer Than 200 Votes Cast At 2 o'Clock Today

Voting Light Over Texas On Two Proposed State Amendments.

Somewhat less than 200 votes had been polled in Eastland on the four proposals before the people today, it was stated by election officials.

Voting was expected to pick up considerably in the afternoon.

All voters were balloting on both county and state proposals, it was stated.

Texas voters displayed slight interest today in the balloting on amendments to the Texas constitution providing for raising the governor's salary from $4,000 to $10,000 and increasing the membership of the supreme court from three to nine members.

From all over the state came reports of exceptionally light voting, with almost no votes being cast from the rural districts. Little opposition to passage of the amendment was shown from districts where reports were available.

Absence of political issues in the election was for the most part responsible for the apparent lack of interest. The efforts of the Texas Bar association and local attorneys over the state to bring out a vote for the supreme court change, apparently had not succeeded in arousing the voters to any great extent.

Proponents of the two amendments were satisfied today that the vote in the larger cities would be sufficient to carry both measures.

If passed, the increase in the governor's pay will not become effective until 1931. No provision was made in the departmental appropriation bill to cover the increase this year, but a supplemental appropriation can be made at the special session of the legislature to be held this fall or winter.

No legislation will be necessary to put the nine-man supreme court in effect if it is adopted today.

Governor Moody will appoint the six new judges if the proposed amendment is adopted.

Huge Oil Tank Supply Burns
By UNITED PRESS
ODESSA, Tex., July 16.—Visible for miles, an 80,000 barrel oil tank on the Monahan tank farm of the Texas Pipe Line company continued to burn throughout the night, while volunteer firemen labored to save the remainder of the 50 huge tanks.

The fire started early yesterday from a spark caused by friction of pulling a cable through the bridge row of the tank. Five men working on the roof escaped unhurt when the blaze started.

Valiant efforts were being made to drain the oil from the huge tanks, the black fluid being placed in tank cars on a nearby siding and drained out through pipe lines.

A three-inch artillery piece had been brought from Wink to be used in shooting the tank and releasing the oil if necessary. Earth had been banked up around the tank to catch the overflow in case the oil boiled over.

Late Monday, however, workmen had little hope that much of the oil could be saved, although it was being removed swiftly.

Car Service Is Again Resumed In New Orleans

By UNITED PRESS
NEW ORLEANS, July 16.—New Orleans rode to work on street cars today for the first time in more than two weeks.

Initial cars were started yesterday under protection of United States deputy marshals acting to enforce a federal injunction granted a week ago by Federal Judge Wayne G. Borah.

Although many of the 2,000 striking street railway lined the streets with thousands of curious there were no demonstrations such as marked early efforts at renewal of service with strikebreakers.

Daylight Holdup Nets $15,000 For Trio; Two Sought

HOLLYWOOD, July 16.—Two of three men who provided the movie colony with a sensation in the form of a daylight robbery in front of Sid Grauman's Chinese motion picture palace, were hunted throughout the Far West today.

One of the trio which held up Detective Lieutenant Hugh A. Crowley in front of the ornate and popular movie house and stole $15,000 was in custody and has confessed, police announced, but refused to reveal the names of his companions. The captured man gave his name as Lawrence McMullen, 27.

Texas-Oklahoma Boundary Line May Be Changed

By UNITED PRESS
WASHINGTON, July 16.—The states of Texas and Oklahoma have 40 days in which to file objections to the report submitted to the United States Supreme Court yesterday to establish a new boundary between the two states, court officials said today.

The report, filed by the court's special commissioner, Samuel S. Gannett, who was appointed to relocate the boundary line on the eastern border of Texas Panhandle, will result in transferring 28,500 acres or 44.8 square miles from Oklahoma to Texas, if it is approved by the court.

Gannett found the present boundary line is 4,040 feet west of where it should be at its southern end and 830 feet too far west at its northern end.

The present boundary line was established in 1889-90 by the Jones-Brown-Clark survey. When it was found the line was not on the true 100th meridian, the Supreme Court appointed Gannett to make a new survey to find the proper location.

Farm Board Has Wheat Forecast

Report of Agriculture Department Offers Hope of Smaller World Crop, With Indication of Price Increase

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 16.—The federal farm board today turned its attention to the most urgent problem awaiting its consideration—selection of the eighth member of the board, the spokesmen for the wheat producers and marketing interests, is expected today or tomorrow. Completion of the board's personnel will enable the new administrative agency to immediately lay down its program for the next two months.

The second meeting of the board today had before it the mid-July crop forecast of the department of agriculture, which offered hope of a smaller world crop than had been heretofore anticipated. A world crop of 325,000,000 bushels short of last year's production was declared probable in the department's report.

"Should the world's supply turn out to be as indicated, the average prices of all classes of wheat in the United States would be increased above the present levels," the survey said.

"The price of No. 2 hard winter wheat at Kansas City in the past year has averaged a little over $1.12 per bushel. A production of about 200,000,000 bushels in the world's supply might be expected to raise this average to about $1.80 per bushel, or within 5 cents of that figure."

"The world's area to be harvested now seems likely to be no larger than last year."

Against this factor, however, the survey set the present large carry-over stocks.

"The accounted for world's carry-over of wheat on July 1," the report said, "appears to be from approximately 100,000,000 to 125,000,000 bushels greater than last year when it amounted to about 420,000,000 bushels. Practically all over the increase is in the United States."

R. B. Truly Dies Here Last Night

Local Attorney of Nearly 50 Years Succumbs About 9:40 o'Clock.

Judge R. B. Truly, 73, Eastland attorney for nearly 50 years, died at his home here last night about 9:45 o'clock.

Judge Truly has resided in Eastland since 1875, with the exception of a few years' residence at Balinger.

He served as district clerk here two terms.

The survivors of his immediate family are his wife and four daughters. The daughters are Miss Genevieve and Miss Sibyl Truly of Eastland and Mrs. Dan Carthers and Mrs. Claud Lewis of Wichita Falls.

The funeral ceremony will be held by the Rev. G. W. Shoarer, pastor of the Eastland Methodist church, and the Masonic lodge of Eastland will be in charge of the services, which will be conducted from the home at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be in Eastland cemetery.

2,000 Russian Troops Reported Moved Into Manchuria; No Contact Between Forces.

By UNITED PRESS
Forty-eight hours after the Soviet Union's three-day ultimatum was handed to China's charge d'affaires at Moscow the general situation today stood as follows:

Reports from Harbin stated that 2,000 Russian soldiers crossed into Manchuria but avoided contact with Chinese forces.

The Russian populace burned with patriotic fervor and demanded that the government take strong measures in protecting the rights of the Soviet Union. Tens of thousands of marchers pledged allegiance to the government.

In the capitals of China there was an atmosphere of calm and placidity. The Chinese people were not in the least excited, not even when it was reported that Dr. C. T. Wang, Nationalist foreign minister, may not return to Nanking to form a reply to Russia until next Friday.

Other reports from Manchuria stated that the Mukden government continued to assume control of the Chinese Eastern railway, over which the whole dispute had started.

The European capitals refused to believe there would be war. Japan assumed an attitude of watchful waiting. The Japanese press criticized the tactics of China in seizing the road.

It was reported from Berlin that Russia already had chosen a representative to the conference in the event China accepts Russia's proposal to discuss all the elements involved in the control of the line.

Chino-Russian Affair Remains Unstable Today

By UNITED PRESS
FORT WORTH, Tex., July 16.—Light voting was expected here in Tuesday's election in Tarrant county on the constitutional amendment election.

County Clerk Hollis estimated the vote would be between 3,000 and 4,000. One ballot box reported only one vote shortly before noon and another but two.

HOUSTON, Tex., July 16.—Voting was very light in Houston today on the proposed constitutional amendments.

Indications were that the amendments would receive a slight majority of the vote cast.

EL PASO, Tex., July 16.—The two new amendments to the Texas constitution were heavily favored in light voting here today. The El Paso bar association has conducted a campaign in favor of the amendments and were conducting voters to the polls.

AUSTIN, July 16.—A light vote was being cast here today on two constitutional amendments submitted to popular vote. One raises the governor's pay from $4,000 to $10,000 a year; the other increases the supreme court to nine members and abolishes the court's three months summer vacation.

Governor Moody will go to Taylor during the day to cast his vote. No provision for the increase in the governor's pay is made in the departmental appropriation bill before the legislature. The increase does not become effective until 1931. If it carries a supplemental appropriation can be made at the special session of the legislature that will be held this fall or winter. No legislation will be necessary to put the nine-man supreme court in effect, if it is adopted today.

DALLAS, July 16.—An extremely light vote in the special election on two proposed amendments of the Texas constitution was indicated early today in Dallas county.

A vote of between 10,000 and 12,000 is expected.

Prices for New and Old Wheat Are On Upgrade

By UNITED PRESS
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 16.—Farmers of the Southwest wheat belt may not believe in Santa Claus but some of them are tempted to believe in the tale of the goose which laid the golden egg.

Six weeks ago many of the wheat farmers faced a harvest season with a large production of high grade wheat and no market. Today grain experts see continued upward prices for the new and old crop. The price on the Kansas City market ranged around $1.49 yesterday. Six weeks ago between 90 cents and $1 was the average they expected to receive.

Yesterday's raise in the market meant millions to the Southwest.

Paintrock Exports

Paintrock's exports during one week recently included one car of sheep and three cars of mixed stock. Eighteen cars of grain and 15 cars of wool have been shipped. Last year's cotton crop is expected to be equalled this year.

HEREFORD C-C ACTIVE

Hereford's chamber of commerce officials traveled 1,200 miles in five days and visited 17 towns and 15 counties in securing $4,500 for the Panhandle Plains, Inc., which will be used to advertise the opportunities that exist in the vast Panhandle plains area for the farmer, homeseeker and investor.

Air Line to Link Cities by Radio

Installation of both ground and ship radio sets is progressing rapidly as the Southern Air Transport, Inc., perfects the hook-up that is to link every station and passenger plane in the S. A. T. system.

Other stations to be installed soon, besides San Antonio, are Houston, Shreveport, and Atlanta. Two ground stations are now in operation: Fort Worth and El Paso. During the two weeks these stations have been in operation 100 per cent efficiency has been maintained. Not a single schedule has been missed in dispatching the ships between the two stations.

Simultaneously with the installation of ground sets ship sets, also being constructed. Successful tests have already been carried out, one ship having been equipped with radio for some time.

Red Cross Aids Kansas Section Following Flood

HUTCHINSON, Kan., July 16.—Red Cross officials came to the aid of flood-stricken Hutchinson today as stores opened and citizens worked to restore normal conditions after flood waters had rushed three to six feet deep through most of the residence and business sections.

"Only immediate sanitary efforts can avert an epidemic in wake of the waters," said Mrs. J. Q. Donovan, Red Cross official assisting Albert Evans of St. Louis, who is in charge of sanitation measures.

Damage in Hutchinson was estimated at $1,000,000 but havoc in the countryside around the city pushed the toll higher.

MOTOR MANUFACTURING ACTIVITY ON INCREASE

NEW YORK, July 16.—Motor manufacturing activity during the first six months of 1929 has kept far ahead of that recorded during the corresponding period of last year, indicating increased buying power on the part of the public, according to the index compiled by Sales Management magazine.

Using the average level of production for the four years, 1925 to 1928, as a basis of 100 per cent, the index shows that motor factory activity during the week ending June 22 stood at 141 per cent, while the corresponding week of last year recorded only 122 per cent.

"Blue Larkspur" To Race More

CHICAGO, July 16.—Colonel E. R. Bradley, owner of Blue Larkspur has announced his intention of making the horse one of the leading money winners of all time. Larkspur increased his 2 and 3 year old money winnings to $230,000 when he won the American classic Saturday. This is at $20,000 less than the amount won by Man o' War. Bradley will enter his horse in at least three more 3-year old races and possibly in all of the remaining all-age stakes. A victory in any of these would put Larkspur over the Man o' War mark.

'He Never Shirked a Duty'

Col. Charles Goodnight of Clarendon is known to fame as the "First Gentleman of the Panhandle." He is 94, he is as straight as an Indian, he is a superb horseman and he has a memory. In the early days of the cattle industry in the Panhandle country Col. Goodnight had a negro servant, Bose Ikard. Indeed Bose gave to the First Gentleman of the Panhandle years of faithful service during the early days of the cattle industry, and then he disappeared.

Col. Goodnight instituted a search for his black servant in the pioneer days of the west. If living the colonel was ready to extend financial aid if Bose needed aid. If dead, he wanted to erect a monument to the memory of the black range rider of the long ago. He discovered that Bose "passed on" at Weatherford. It was there the marble slab which marks his grave was placed by the First Gentleman of the Panhandle. It is engraved with the words:

"Bose Ikard, 1859-1928. Served with me four years on the Goodnight-Loving trail. Never shirked a duty or disobeyed an order; rode with me in many stampedes; participated in three engagements with Comanche Indians with splendid behavior.—Charles Goodnight."

The reports added that the Chinese were proceeding with the ousting of all Soviet officials from their posts in the railway organization, including the southern section of the line. The western branch, the reports stated, was being patrolled by Chinese troops in armored cars.

At the same time it was learned that in spite of the three-day limit which Russia has placed on its ultimatum, the Chinese government probably will make no reply until Friday. Dr. C. T. Wang, foreign minister of the nationalist government, expected at Nanking yesterday to form a reply to the

Cisco Woman Was Astonished at the Results, She Says

Gains Daily on Orgatone After Suffering 20 Years—Health Restored, She Says.

"When I bought my first bottle of Orgatone I felt like it was that much money thrown away, so my wonderful recovery has astonished me," said Mrs. B. G. Dowell, who resides at 509 Avenue H, Cisco, Texas, a few days ago.

"For twenty years" she continued, "I have been troubled with my stomach and sick headaches. Nothing I would eat agreed with me and my stomach was in such awful shape even the lightest of diets caused gas to form which would put me in misery for hours at a time. The gas on my stomach affected my heart so sometimes I felt like I could hardly get another breath and my nerves were simply shattered to pieces. I also suffered terribly from constipation and headaches and never knew what it was to get a full night's rest."

"I had spent many a dollar for medicine and treatment with little or no results. I was told my trouble was caused by indigestion. I could just feel myself going from bad to worse every day. I commenced to read so much about the good word Orgatone was doing for people right here in this district and decided to try it. I have now finished my second bottle and have already gained several pounds in weight and feel like a new woman. It's a positive fact these two bottles of Orgatone have done me more good than other treatment and medicines that have cost me hundreds of dollars. The pains and bloating caused by the gas has entirely left me. I eat just any and everything I want without it hurting me and sleep every night like a child. My nerves are as steady as a clock and I really have not felt so well in years and my friends are all talking about my wonderful improvement."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment manufactured by one of the world's greatest laboratories and is sold in Eastland exclusively by Toombs & Richardson Drug Co.—Adv.

Natives Save One of Polish Plane Pilots

By UNITED PRESS

HORTA, Azores, July 16.—Quick action by the natives of Santa Cruz villages, most of whom had never seen an airplane before saved Casimir Kubala, co-pilot of the ill-fated Marshal Pilsudski from the death which overtook Major Louis Idzikowski when the machine exploded, it was learned here today.

With the plane, which was attempting to fly from Paris to the United States, crashed in the mountain town the inhabitants overcame their fear of the blazing monster and rushed to drag the pilots from their cockpit.

Both men were found strapped to their seats. Major Kubala was removed easily but the rescuers were driven back by the flames which overtook Major Louis Idzikowski when the machine exploded, it was learned here today.

Would Modify Volstead Act

By UNITED PRESS

EASTERN POINT, Conn., July 16.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York today made public a letter from George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's law enforcement commission, in which the governors' conference was urged to recommend modification of the Volstead act.

Wickersham declared bringing prevention of importation, manufacture and shipment of intoxicants in interstate commerce under federal control and leaving to state authorities control of sale, saloons, and speakeasies, would make the Volstead act more easily enforceable and at the same time virtually strike a death blow to bootlegging.

Wickersham's letter in part as read by Roosevelt, follows:

"Of course one of the most serious subjects we must deal with is enforcement of the 18th amendment. The amendment confers on the states concurrent jurisdiction with the national government for enforcement of the measure.

"Thus far, the federal government alone has borne the brunt of this enforcement.

"It seems to me the governor's conference might well consider

"If the national government were to attend to preventing importation, manufacture and shipment of intoxicants, the state undertaking internal police refutation to prevent sale, saloons, speakeasies, etc., the national and state laws might be modified so as to become reasonably enforceable and one great source of demoralizing and peculiarly profitable crime removed.

"Every state governor has sworn to support the constitution of the United States. The 18th amendment is a part of this constitution just as any other part. Surely it is pretentious to the Governors' conference to suggest and consider how best to carry out this solemn undertaking."

Watch Tongue For Signs of Illness

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90 per cent of all sicknesses start with stomach and bowel trouble.

A white or yellowish coating on your tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders. It tells you why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

And it's a sign you need Tanlac. This good old reliable medicine has helped thousands who were physical wrecks. See how the first bottle helps you.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, herbs and roots—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875) he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Ice Cream Is Not a
Luxury But a Food

By J. C. ANDERSON, M. D.,
State Health Officers.

Think the world over is agreed to be the beverage for children and may be used to advantage by the adult. Every child should have at least a pint a day, either as a beverage or in some prepared dish, such as boiled custard, cocoa, or ice cream.

Pure ice cream is a healthful and nutritious food, and liberal amounts of it may be eaten with benefit to most children and grown-ups. In the modern manufacture of ice cream, the cream usually is pasteurized, which makes it safe from the standpoint of bacteria and more digestible because of the breaking up of the fat particles.

Since milk is the foremost of the protective foods, it naturally follows that ice cream made chiefly from the fat of milk shares many of the same virtues. The added sugar not only makes the combination more palatable, but yields energy which is needed to keep the human machine going.
Ice cream should not be looked upon as a luxury or as a sweet, but as a food to occupy a legiti-mate place on the menu. Ice cream should, of course, conform to the standards of sanitation similar to those set for milk and other perishable foods.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MOLLY BURNHAM inherits $10,000 from an elderly aunt the day she graduated from college, and the girls immediately tell her how she ought to spend it. But Molly is very much in love with JACK WELLS, draftsman in an architect's office. A handsome boy and lovable, but very poor.

The day she learns of her good fortune she borrows money from a rich classmate and gives a memorable party. Afterwards she spends the night with her dearest friend, RITA MELNOTTE. And Rita, after they have gone to bed, tells her a number of things. Rita has been secretly married to BOB NEWTON, a struggling young lawyer—one of those companionate marriages. She confesses that their experiment is a heart-breaking failure. And she warns Molly to be careful.

Next day Molly meets Jack, and tells him she has decided to look for work. Molly can really write very well. She means to look for a position on a newspaper, and have a career of her own.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V
 "Better wear dark clothes," counseled Rita. "It doesn't do to look like a frivolous young thing when you're job-hunting."

So Molly put on a blue crepe de chine ensemble and a little dark hat. And Rita wore a black dress, with a hat of lipstick red. It didn't make any difference what Rita wore. She always looked conspicuous. She never used make-up, but her mouth was red as blood. And her skin was the natural alive that half the girls in college strove to acquire with a new kind of face powder.

When she was with Rita, Molly seemed very young and sweet and fragile. She thought herself that she looked countrified, and attempted sophistication with plenty of rouge and lipstick.

"Wipe it off," commanded Rita. "You look like a child masquerading as a chorus girl. It's a good idea to look intelligent when you're trying to sell yourself for a salary."

So Molly obediently toned down her mouth, and robbed her cheeks with her handkerchief.

On the train they outlined their plans. Rita was going to look for work in a department store.

"I'd like to sell," she said, "and I think I'd be pretty good at it. In the sports shop of a big store, perhaps. I've a natural flair for clothes, and I like to see girls wear the right thing."

"You knew I'm going to law school this winter, didn't you? I can go nights. And in three years I'll be practicing law with Bob. I'd like to specialize on legal work for women. I should think women would rather bring their problems to another woman than to a man."

"Oh, no," Molly interrupted. "I don't think so, Rita. Women go to lawyers for sympathy pretty much. There's no kick in getting consolation from another woman. They'd rather enlist the commiseration of a big strong man."

Rita turned to her newspaper. But Molly was too excited to read. Her own folded paper lay across her knees. She turned toward the window, and began to compose little speeches. "How do you do. My name is Molly Burnham. I'm looking for a position. . . . No, I haven't had very much experience. (She felt they would ask her that) That is, not metropolitan experience. I was editor-in-chief of our college paper. And I had a verse published in POETRY." She felt in her purse. Yes, the clipping was there. Probably some editor would like to see it.

Molly was going to look for work in a newspaper office. She was a bit vague about the best way of offering her services. It sounded awfully conceited to say she would like to write editorials. Because everybody who wrote editorials, she supposed, was old, and had a beard. It would be loads of fun to write about the theaters. But probably you didn't get to be a dramatic critic right away. One thing she wouldn't do—and that was society. She didn't particularly care for women's clubs either. But probably it would be just as well to do almost anything, just to get started. Maybe she'd better not turn down women's clubs after all.

Rita laid down her paper. "Where are you going first?" she asked.

Molly opened her bag and produced a sheet of purple stationery. "I've copied the newspaper addresses from the telephone book," she said. "You know the family's going to have an absolute fit when they know I have a position. And I think it would appease them if I got on an intellectual paper, so I mean to try the dignified ones first. Maybe they won't take me though, so I've copied every address in the directory. Where are you going?"

Rita mentioned a store well known for its sport shop. "And, after that," she said, "I'll make the rounds. You're so sure of yourself, Molly, it's funny. That's because you've never looked for a job before. I've worked every vacation since I've been in college, and I know what it is to plug around from one place to another. I've done it when I was hungry, and the sales of my shoes were thin as paper. I remember one Christmas. . . . Oh, well. . . . But I'm not sure of myself. I'm scared to death," protested Molly. And she began again, silently to practice her little introductory speeches.

Then Rita interrupted again. "What are you using these days for money, dear?"

"Oh, I borrowed a hundred for the party," explained Molly, "and I've some left. I haven't any idea how long it takes to settle an estate, or how long it will be before I get my $10,000. I'll have to be careful until I hear something definite from Dad. By the way, I wired the family that I was going to stay east for a while, and I'd write after I was established. Would you like to take a room with me?"

Rita shrugged. "I guess you forget that I'm a married woman."

"But I thought Bob didn't want to announce your marriage."

"He doesn't. But he wants me to live with him just the same."

"Oh," Molly was silent for a few minutes. "You know, Rita, I think that's sort of horrid."

Rita's red mouth twisted wryly, and she did not answer.

"Suppose we meet for tea," she suggested. "I suppose you're having dinner with Jack?"

Molly nodded.

They parted at the station. And at 10 o'clock Molly began the conquest of Newspaper Row.

At two she was unutterably weary. She remembered that she had had no lunch, and stopped at a restaurant for a cup of coffee.

When she had finished it, she placed her sheet of purple stationery on the counter, and checked off the offices she had visited. Seven. Seven times in four hours she had been told courteously, but firmly, that she was not wanted.

There were various reasons. They usually suggested that she come back when she had a little experience.

"But where am I going to get experience?" she had asked, a trifle wildly.

That was at the seventh place. And the editor had shrugged, and smiled kindly, and said he was really very sorry. Most of them said they weren't taking on any one. "Just now. . . . Later, perhaps."

"Two more places," she reflected. "And then it will be all over."

She wondered what girls did when they didn't have any money, or any home.

At the eighth place an office boy told her the city editor was at lunch.

"And if you're looking for a job," he volunteered, "it won't do you any good to wait, because he's turned down about 50 college girls already."

"What made you think I'm a college girl?" she asked.

"Oh, you college girls don't do nothing but look for jobs in June," he told her. "There's been a regular procession of girls, ever since the schools closed."

She sighed, and took the elevator to the street floor. The last place was across the street.

The city room was big and dirty, and full of smoke. Men sat in their shirt sleeves smoking pipes. Some of them were pounding on typewriters. There were others sitting about a huge table, writing with big fat pencils. They all looked exactly like the men in the other eight offices. And the place smelled like all the other places.

No one paid any attention to her. She approached a man with a green shield over his eyes and a cigar in his mouth.

"Will you tell me, please, where I can find the city editor?"

"I'm the city editor," he told her. And that rather took her breath away.

"I'm looking for a job," she said simply. "I haven't had any experience. But I know I can write."

She wondered if Rita had been as fortunate. But Rita, over their sundae 20 minutes later, was desolate.

"The only offer I had," she declared, "was a chance to model in a shop on Boylston street. I want to use my brain."

Molly was meeting Jack at half-past five.

"He'll have to admit," she reasoned, "that there's nothing dumb about getting a position the very first day you look for one."

And when she met him, she clasped his arm happily. "Guess what?" she commanded.

"You're going home?" he hazarded hopefully.

"I should say not," she chided. "You'd never guess. I'll have to tell you. I've a position, Jack! A perfectly wonderful position on a perfectly wonderful newspaper!"

"Is that so?" he was maddeningly noncommittal.

"Why should I be glad?" He pressed her hand lovingly as he saw the quick tears gather. "All right, sweetheart, I didn't mean to be hateful. If you're glad, I'm glad. I'd some news of my own, and you sort of took the wind out of my sails, that's all."

"What's your news?" she was frigidly polite.

The 40-and-8 is a fun organization of ex-service men who, as Legionnaires, have done outstanding work.

Among the new members for the Ranger 40-and-8 will be B. H. Murphy, popular commander of the Legion post. The initiation is said to be very strenuous and some of the candidates are understood to be in vigorous training similar to that undergone by football players.

Short Course Will Cover Many Topics

COLLEGE STATION, July 16. Virtually every phase of agricultural thought and activity will come in for discussion at the twentieth annual farmers' short course to be held at the A. and M. College of Texas July 29-Aug. 3.

Announcement of the general program by H. H. Williamson, vice director and state agent of the extension service under the auspices of which the short course is held, discloses. Group sessions for men and boys and women and girls will be held and sectional meetings will be devoted to specialized fields of farming and farm operation.

Indications are that attendance this year will exceed that of nearly 5,000 registered last year, officials have announced, and arrangements are being made for a record crowd. Special rates of one cent a mile each way have been granted by the railways.

Topics of general agricultural interest will be discussed by outstanding educators and specialists at the forenoon and evening sessions for men and boys while subject matter lectures and demonstrations will be held during the afternoons. Special programs have also been arranged for women and girls, featuring topics of particular interest to the farmer's wife and daughter.

A general theme will dominate the central lectures each forenoon. The program for Tuesday

If little ones are fretful, pale, languid, won't eat and want to be mothered; when they often get colds and sore throat and seem feverish, depend upon it the bowels are sluggish. You notice unpleasant breath when you kiss them—sure sign of constipation and a sour stomach.

Give a little California Fig Syrup to purify the system and see how quickly it restores strength, appetite and joyous spirits. It acts without pain and gently cleanses the bowels of constipated waste which causes feverishness, sours the digestion and keeps the little one sickly and backward.

If you suspect measles or some other children's disease, give a dose of California Fig Syrup without delay. The doctor will praise your forethought. Years of suffering from stomach troubles had me in an awfully weak, nervous and run-down condition. I tried many medicines only to be disappointed time after time. "Sargon" enabled me to eat things I hadn't dared attempt for two years. I am a well woman, and have been greatly strengthened. I also took Sargon Soft Mass Pills and they are just as wonderful as Sargon. I consider them an essential part of the treatment," Mrs. Carrie L. Widows, 109 12th St., Abilene, Kans.

Sargon represents the last 10 years of world-wide medical research, and brings the dawn of a new era in the field of modern medicine. It is restoring health to thousands by methods undreamed of a few years ago.
