Michael stood second in his class during the last year, the best scholar being the son of any army lieutenant. The prince was at his worst in drawing and writing, but his other marks were good.

The Prince plays in the palace park and makes frequent excursions into the country. There he drives his own small American auto. He is forbidden to drive in the city, or in the country at more than 45 miles an hour, although he is already a very good driver.

At Sinaia there is an excellent golf course and the Prince uses it often. He has played some tennis, and in a few years he will be given expert instruction in that game.

Michael's entire education is under the very watchful eye of his father, King Carol.

G. & W. T. Project Not Abandoned S.P. Officials Declare At Hearing

SAN ANGELO—The Gulf & West Texas Railroad, if built now, not only would fall to show adequate profits, but would represent a drain on its operators, A. D. MacDonaid, president of the Southern Pacific, holder of permits to construct the road, explained at the Interstate Commerce Commission examiner's hearing at San Antonio Monday.

The cost of building the road, committing the link from Fredericksburg to Fredericksburg Junction and from the Frisco connection south of Brady through that place, would be $3,068,188, the executive estimated. This expense, MacDonaid stated, the Southern Pacific can not bear until business conditions assure the balance turns in favor of prospective revenues instead of operating expense.

"It is imperatively necessary that tortments of hell.

"God forgives sinners on the basis of the gospel which is the 'Blood redemption' of the Son of God," he declared.

Rev. Copeland said that science has proven that the interior of the earth is a lake of fire and brimstone that, the Bible says that place will someday be converted into God's prison house for satan and all who reject His Son.

He further declared that Heaven, the place of abode of the righteous, is above the earth to the north 'a', told in the Book of Job" and that the earth is under a curse and some day the Lord will completely cleanse the earth with fire.

There have been more than 100 professions of faith in the revival.

HELL UNDER Earth Revival Crowd Told

Dr. A. R. Copeland based his sermon of Wednesday evening at the Fundamental Baptist tabernacle upon a story in the Book of Numbers, the text being Numbers 16:32 and the topic "Where Are The Dead?"

The text was "And the earth opened her mouth and swallowed them up" and they all went down alive into the pit.

The speaker said: "There is proof in the Bible that hell is in the heart of the earth, and all who reject Christ are doomed to live forever, after this life, in the awful

When the class resumes it will have 12 members, including boys from Bukowina, Bessarabia, Rumania, Hungary and Saxony. By throwing him into constant con-

WET DRY COUNTIES

Local option counties and precincts in Texas have awakened to discover that they will be wet, in effect, but won't share in the revenues of the beer regime.

Assistant Attorney General Hooper ruled that under the law a thirty man from a dry county may go into a wet county buy a supply of the brew, carry it home with him and drink it himself. Or he may buy it and have it brought to his home by any regular transportation system.

It was also held that mere possession of the brew for sale in dry territory was not a violation of law. Under the Dean law it was a violation to possess forbidden liquors for the purpose of sale and another violation to sell it.

To the lay mind, the ruling seems Read Flew's ad on page 7—adv.

He attributes his longevity to lettuce and lemon juice.

When beer returned he refused to join the mad scramble and held his product for three months until it was aged properly.

When President Roosevelt was casting around in the early days of his administration for a way to relieve the wheat farmers he called old Chris in and asked whether a palatable, easily saleable beverage could be made from wheat.

Chris said no.

Notes—Movie producers have been complaining that Sol Rosenblatt, deputy administrator of NRA in charge of the flicker codes, has been partial to labor. They might be interested in grapevine reports that Rosenblatt is about to associate himself with Abner Rubin, New York counsel for movie labor organizations. The dapper lads around the State Department are calling Sumner Welles, American Ambassador to Cuba, "Gideon."

The point lies in a connection between the large number of American warships lying off Havana and the fact that Gideon Welles was secretary of the Navy in the Lincoln administration. Sight-seers visiting Washington really should include the Food & Drug Administration's "chamber of horrors" on their schedule if they can persuade officials to show them through. Women particularly would be interested in the exposes of many of their pet products.

NEW YORK Credit—The government's credit game with the banks seems to have changed from tug-of-war to tag. At least Jesse Jones' latest offer makes it look that way. When RFC offers to lend money to the banks at 3% for six months or less if the banks will re-lend it promptly to worthy NRA members at 5% oldtimers grow red. The RFC will pass on and hold the business assets offered as collateral for such loans. There could be no simpler way of telling the banks they are "it."

It's a neat device at that. The law doesn't permit the RFC to make direct loans to industry and if they want to Congress to amend the law it may be too late. NRA joiners who need money need it now. So it looks as if the RFC is using the banks to hurdle the

Insurance

A New York expert has doped it out that if deposit insurance had been in effect for the past ten years the banks would have been penalized on an average about 1-4 of 1% on their deposits per year.

At the same time they would have been saved interest on demand deposits averaging about 1% per year. It doesn't look like such a bad swap from that angle.

Earnings

In spite of restrictions on credit New York banks and trust companies are not doing so badly in the matter of making money for themselves. Earnings for the third quarter will be better than they were for the two previous quarters.

This is partly due to the abolition of interest on demand accounts and partly to recovery of doubtful assets because of higher security prices.

Seats

Gianini's choice as director of the National City Bank was forecast in this column some months ago. It was logical, because Gianini's Transamerica is probably the largest single holder of National City stock. It is understood here that Neylan—the other new director and attorney for William Randolph Hearst—was also named at Gianini's request. A private arrangement is said to exist whereby Gianini is entitled to a total of three seats on the board.

Unwanted

To hear the British yell about "unwanted" American deposits in London banks, you might think that half of Wall Street had taken to exporting capital to Britain for hoarding purposes. That isn't the case. It is true that American funds in London have recently grown rapidly but they were sent over there in order to speculate in currencies without the restrictions existing here. They are slated to return home when the speculative spree is over. Still you can hardly blame the British for not wanting that kind of money around subject to immediate withdrawal.

Outlook

A leading Wall Street economist whose confidential reports are much in demand in spite of their tremendous length summarizes his latest analysis as follows.

Commodities: Leading consumers anxious to cover needs at current prices; rising tendency from now on. Industrial Production: Current reports conflicting; increased output will proceed at slower rate than last three months.

Business activity: Improvement in retail trade only fair; low purchasing power will modify fall upturn.

Stock Market: Attractive for long pull investors; unless an inflation carries the entire level higher corrective reactions seem due to check immediate bull movements.

Retail Code Provisions Designed To Quell Extreme Price-Cutters

WASHINGTON, (UP)—A revised code of fair practices for the retail trade, providing price protection and stop loss provisions, was made public by NRA officials.

Officials who prepared the code, which will be discussed further before being presented finally to President Roosevelt for his approval, said the document could not be considered a price-fixing measure.

It controls prices, however, to the extent of checking predatory price cutting.

The code in its new form prohibits the selling of any merchandise, with certain exceptions, below a minimum price which is described as "The wholesale delivered price x x x with the addition of a charge of 10 per cent."

"Wholesale delivered price" was defined as "the lowest gross billing price, as of any date within 30 days prior to the date of resale, made to any retailer in the given market area less only such discounts as are extended to all retailers and plus delivery costs paid by the retailer."

Drugs Separate
A separate code for the retail drug trade was made public at the same time. It is similar to the retail code but was put in a separate document at the request of the drug trade.

The provisions of the retail code would apply to department stores, furniture stores, general stores, hardware, limited price variety, mail order houses, men's clothing and furnishing, music, shoes and women's specialty shops.

The effective date of the code would be the second Monday after its approval by the president. The proposed code would prohibit employment of children under the age of 16 except that children of 14 and 15 could be employed three hours a day for six days a week or for one day of not more than 8 hours per week.

The code would prohibit transactions in prison made goods except that present contracts would not be disturbed. The code carried a provision for relief for retailers who would be subjected to undue hardship by strict application of the code and provided for modification where necessary to avoid pinching individual store owners.

When the code becomes effective retail stores shall elect to operate upon one of the following schedules of store hours and hours of labor:

Provisions
"Group A. Any establishment may elect to remain open for business less than 56 hours but not less than 52 hours per week, unless its store hours were less than 52 hours prior to June 1, 1933, in which case such establishment shall not reduce its store hours; no employee of these establishments shall work more than 40 hours per week, nor more than eight hours per day, nor more than six days per week.

"Group B. Any establishment may elect to remain open for business 56 hours or more per week but less than 68 hours per week; no employee of such establishment shall work more than 44 hours per week, nor more than nine hours per day, nor more than six days per week.

"Group C. Any establishment may elect to remain open for business 68 hours or more per week; no employee of such establishment shall work more than 48 hours per week, nor more than 10 hours per day, nor more than six days per week.

Senate Private Bank Probe Leaders Hurt In Motor Accidents

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The superstitious might well express a dismal end to the senate's inquiry into private banking firms, due to resume Oct. 3.

The two chief figures in the inquiry, Ferdinand Pecora, counsel and Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, chairman of the senate banking and currency committee, have recently been injured in automobile accidents.

A few days ago it was whispered around the department of agriculture that Charles J. Brand was about to retire as co-administrator of the agricultural adjustment administration.

The retirement it was said would be because of complaints that he was functioning as secretary-treasurer of the National Fertilizer Association while holding his government post. But agricultural officials wanted to hush up any mention of the retirement. They whispered that Brand simply wouldn't quit under fire. The United Press reported the impending retirement, anyway. Thirty-six hours afterwards Brand's retirement was announced.

Relief Administration In Texas Highly Commended By Federal Government Envoy

AUSTIN—The Texas legislature, set for an investigation of administrative costs and other matters pertaining to the distribution of relief funds in Texas, heard a United States government representative defend the doings of the state commission that has directed the expenditure of that money.

Aubrey Williams, regional representative of the federal emergency relief administration, speaking to a joint session of the house and senate, told the legislators that the government was satisfied with the administration of its funds as directed by Lawrence Westbrook, chief of the state distribution bureau.

Confirmation of Westbrook's appointment as head of the relief commission has been withheld by the senate at his own request until after it could obtain certain information bearing on costs of administration and other information concerning management of the bureau.

Williams told the legislators that Westbrook's honesty was "impeccable." He said the government had assured itself that Westbrook had surrounded himself with capable assistants. He said the Texas relief commission was one of the "ablest in the United States."

The federal representative revealed that the cost of administering relief in Texas was around 9.3 per cent of the total amount of money distributed. He said the average for all states was 8.1 per cent. He said the increased per centum cost in Texas, noticeable recently, was accounted for by the commission cutting from its rolls thousands of persons who had been receiving aid. He cited the case of Austin, where, he said, the relief rolls had been cut from 4,800 persons to 809.

Williams said the federal government was so well pleased with Westbrook's administration of its funds that it would be reluctant to continue its aid unless the existing distribution set up was continued intact.

Texas voters recently approved an amendment to the state constitution that would authorize the legislature to issue up to $20,000,000 in bonds, proceeds of which would be used to relieve unemployment distress. The federal government through Harry Hopkins, relief administrator, was so well pleased with the overwhelming vote given the bonds, that it announced immediately it would match Texas dollar for dollar. The legislature at this time is considering how this money shall be applied.

Williams expressed a belief that "we are in for a hard winter," and said it was likely there would be more demands for relief than ever before.

Bible Frauds Are Revealed

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The experiences of John Howell, owner of the finest private collection of Bibles in the west, reveal that even that book does not escape being a party to frauds and deceptions.

"Every week someone brings in a Bible and tries to sell it as a valuable copy hundreds of years old. But they are only 90 to 90 years old," Howell said.

"Some of them have been stained by soaking in tea or coffee to give the pages the yellow tinge of centuries."

"These stained pages easily can be detected by examining the paper—if you know what to look for. A Bible printed on old paper from plates engraved from a photostatic copy of an original work also can be detected. Most collectors have bound photostatic copies of every rare edition and even a hurried check up will reveal a counterfeit."

Howell started his collection only seven years ago. Today he has 200 volumes printed in 20 languages. He values it at $50,000.

Greatest Probe Of Retail Prices Starts

WASHINGTON (UP)—The most ambitious investigation of retail prices ever undertaken in America was planned as a part of the national recovery program.

Protection of consumers against runaway prices and the setting up of a wholesome supervision of price trends were objectives.

The research will be extended to some 1,500 items sold daily in crossroads stores and metropolitan markets. More than 400 cities will be covered by the survey, with emphasis on a true representation of what is happening in the retail field.

For the present, the undertaking will be on an emergency basis. The long-range aspects of the plan contemplate a permanent organization in from 15 to 20 key points, with every one of the more than 400 representative towns and cities reporting retail price trends at least once each month.

An companion projects to the retail studies, other committees were attempting to reach a uniform formula for determining cost of production, and the effects of price fixing and price control.

It appeared probable that a broad system of price control, as differentiated from strict fixing of prices, would emerge from the recovery program.

In many particulars the study of retail prices which was being pushed at the greatest speed was similar to one proposed by Professor William F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago before his resignation from the NRA consumer advisory board.

36th Division Men To Re-Unit Soon

FORT WORTH—Plans for the largest reunion of war time members of the Thirty-Sixth Division in Fort Worth on Saturday and Sunday, October 7 and 8, since Camp Bowie training days have been completed and at least 8,000 veterans are expected.

Colonel Dallas Matthews, Reunion Chairman, has been notified that many companies and regiments of World War days will get together for the first time since 1917-18. Many units, planning their own reunions here, have asked for hotel accommodations.

Oklahoma, as well as Texas, will have large contingents of former National Guardsmen from that state as Oklahoma furnished a big per cent of the officer and enlisted personnel for the division.

A registration fee of fifty cents, to be paid by the veteran on his arrival, will entitle him to Thirty-Sixth Division insignia badge which will admit him without further charge to all the entertainment features provided for the reunion. The Texas Hotel, registration headquarters, will be in charge of E. B. Melton.

The division parade will be the first event on the two day program. It will be formed at 4:30 p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 7. Many war time organizations will march as a unit. Only World War veterans, National Guardsmen, Reserve Corps, R.O.T.C. units, Legionnaires, and other members of service connected organizations will be in the parade. Col. John J. O'Reilly is parade chairman.

25 Texans Granted Federal Home Loans

DALLAS (UP)—Federal home loans have been issued to 25 Texas residents and between 800 and 900 others are being rushed through, according to James Shaw, Texas manager of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

Within the next ten days, Shaw predicted his organization would begin issuing between 150 and 200 loans daily.

Speed in handling of applications was urged in a meeting of branch officers with Shaw. Attending were E. W. Jamison, of San Antonio, E. W. Steele, of Houston, and J. C. Anderson Jr., of Amarillo.

Tells How She Lost 15 Lbs. of FAT

Rheumatism Gone Too

Here is a woman who was rapidly putting on weight and who was troubled with rheumatism. At the end of the second bottle I was weighed and find I am now only 148 pounds (original weight 163 lbs.), at which I am so pleased. But I have also felt my rheumatism much less, which has been so troublesome in my knees. I must say I think Kruschen a splendid weight reducer. (Miss) E. L. P.

Overweight and rheumatic poisoning often go together. The six salts in Kruschen assist the internal organs to perform their functions properly—little by little that ugly fat goes; slowly, yes—but surely. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all drug stores—a jar lasts four weeks and costs not more than 85c—adv.

For The Love of Eve by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XIII

Tamkinville boasted two hotels but one of them was only open during the tourist season. So Dick took Eve to the other, the Hotel Cortley. She glanced about the lobby while he signed the register. The walls were of tan plaster and two columns of speckled imitation red granite supported a dizzy ceiling. There were two davenport and a few arm chairs upholstered in red mohair. A pair of elk's horns was mounted above the clerk's desk. There was a rubber plant and a row of books. The backs belonged to men lined up inside the window who had seen Eve and Dick coming down Center street. This privilege of watching and coming and goings in Center street was granted to guests of the Hotel Cortley. Indeed, it was the sole diversion of many forced to stay over the weekend.

Eve and Dick were transported to the third floor by a rickety elevator in a lacy iron cage. The row of backs turned as the elevator door clanked and a row of faces watched them disappear. Eve registered extreme hauteur. As the bellboy led the way to the far end of the corridor Eve noted with interest the number of pieces of carpeting in different colors and designs on that floor. "Thrifty here," she noted. "As an area wears out it is replaced instead of buying enough for the entire floor."

Later they walked up Center street and mingled with the crowd. Tamkinville was the "marke town" whereabouts and whole families as well as young couples drove in from the hills for Saturday shopping and the movies.

Eve selected a tiny white restaurant for their evening meal because of the fresh dotted, ruffled curtains hung in the window. Nothing on the menu appealed to them, however and they waited a long time while the proprietor went to the butcher shop to purchase clams. He had assured them "it would be no trouble at all" to serve the clams on the half shell, but when they finally were served, minus cracked ice, Eve and Dick found them lukewarm instead of cold and both felt they had learned a lesson.

"The Fair," Tamkinville's leading store, offered Saturday specials in women's and men's apparel. Eve was surprised to note how up-to-date the stock was. She managed to have a chat with the dress buyer who was sent to New York each year and Eve was immediately impressed by the woman's alert manner and thorough knowledge of her field.

Afterward Eve and Dick dropped in at a motion picture theater. So busy had they been lately that a movie seemed to involve a luxurious expenditure of time. When the lights went up a young lad sitting next to Eve remarked to the girl beside him, "Right nice room they have here." But Dick, after an appraising glance about him stated "They wanted no money building this place." Later he and Eve mounted the stairs to look at the balcony and Dick rapped softly along the wall. "Cheap construction here all right," he whispered.

"But all pleasing to the average eye—very pleasing. They have enough fire exits, anyway," he added. Eve felt like a person somewhat detached from herself as they wandered back to the Cortley. Not a familiar face in sight, the townspeople often turning their heads to look as she and Dick passed, the utter simplicity of the business life, the idleness of the street, the beginning to steal over Eve that perhaps Eve's was not as important to the world as she had imagined it to be.

"Dick," she said later as they lay awake in their hotel room, the lights out, shades up and rays from the center street arc light filtering through the Nottingham lace curtains. "Dick—I feel so peaceful."

"That's why I brought you here, you little kitten. You were all tangled up in a ball of yarn."

The next morning Eve discovered the Copper Bell Antique Shoppe. "Oh—what a cute set of corner shelves!" Eve exclaimed. "How I'd love to have it for our dining room!" Dick responded with his noncommittal "Hm-m, a what-not." Eve glanced up at him quickly. "You don't like it, she accused. "Why Dick? What's wrong with it?" she persisted.

"Well," Dick explained reluctantly, "it's not really old—fifty years, perhaps. That wouldn't matter though, if it were good of its kind, but it isn't. Late Victorian—too late. Cheap machine carving."

"For the present—if we could afford it—this water bench would be a more useful piece for us. Pennsylvania Dutch. The open shelves above would display plates and bric-a-brac as well or better than that what-not and the cupboard below would provide useful storage space."

"But it's so frightfully shabby," Eve objected. "It could be painted any color you'd like," answered Dick simply. "Well, it would be nice," agreed Eve. "Nicer than the what-not. But you needn't be so snuffy about that. Corner shelves are fashionable again."

Dick was unperturbed. "Some of those things are graceful and pretty," he conceded. "Aunt Sophroha had one with spool turnings. Probably has it stowed away in the attic. We'll see sometime when we're down east."

"And do look at this, Dick," Eve tugged at his arm and drew him to a corner of the shop to look at a chest of drawers. "Oh, Dick, we ought to have this. You can't say it's not old."

Dick surveyed the piece but without enthusiasm. "Knobs fastened on with wood screws. Put together with wood pins. About a hundred years," he estimated its age. "Per- fectly more. And a good job of veneering. The bracket feet and the carved acanthus leaves on the posts are rather unusual. And it has a serpentine top drawer. Not bad."

"Not bad," Eve mocked him. "Is that the most prize you can give it? Don't you think we might buy it, Dick? The water bench and that cute little stand over there—the one with two drawers and drop leaves."

Dick looked. "The 'cute little stand' is buried apple wood," he said. "It probably would set us back the price of two months' rent."

But Eve would not let her enthusiasm be dampened. She pounced upon a pair of candlesticks in sparkling yellow glass. The staff was in the form of a fish, balancing itself gracefully on its chin. "Oh—" she exclaimed, "aren't these simply darling, Dick?"

Dick grinned tolerantly. "Can't they be?" he returned. "Never could see anything particularly darling about a dolphin—or any other fish, for that matter." He picked up one of the pair, looked at the price mark and set it down with great care. "Fifty dollars for the pair!" he ejaculated. "If not darling, they're at least dear." He returned. "Eve looked at him reproachfully. He knew she hated puns."

"Well, anyway, we simply must get that little spinning-wheel for the bay window. I've always wanted a spinning-wheel." Eve coaxed. "Dick's mother had had a flax-wheel like the one in question. But when the furnishings of his boyhood home had been auctioned off no one regarded it of any value. Dick the only one who had felt any sentimental regard for it was to make his life anew in other cities and thus was unable to keep either that or the old rosewood organ his mother had played. He purchased the spinning wheel for Eve and they loaded it in the rumble seat."

Eve had jotted down prices and the name of the shop. It was the fashionable thing now to have at least one room with antique furnishings or reproduction of antiques.

"I'll just send for some of those pieces I admired a little later," she whispered to the proprietor as she left.

'Dizzy' Dean Had His Own Plan For Bringing Pennant To St. Louis

COLUMBUS, Ohio, (UP)—Every baseball season brings new stories about the amazing conceit of Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, the St. Louis Cardinal pitcher. Branch Rickey, manager of the Cardinals, spins another new yarn about his hurler.

A day or so after Dean set his all-time record of 17 strikeouts, he came to Rickey's offices. Rickey, experienced in handling baseball players, has learned that there are times when it is best not to see Dean, so he sent word he was busy.

"Bring my brother Paul from the Columbus Red Birds to the Cards and we'll win the pennant," Dizzy said. "Why, he's a better pitcher than I am. He'd win seven games for us yet this season. I've figured it all out and with him here we'd be able to win the pennant."

Rickey explained that he wasn't sure Paul was ready for the majors, and that he couldn't be taken away from Columbus anyway.

Brother Better Hurler "Well, he's a better pitcher than I am, and I've struck out more batters than any pitcher in history," Dizzy replied.

Rickey saw an opening. "Do you know what struck out those 17 batters, Dizzy?" he asked. "It was those white shirts up the center field bleachers. If it hadn't been for that background, you wouldn't have fanned 10 batters."

That went to Dizzy's heart. Background Didn't Matter "You're mistaken there, Mr. Rickey. I was right that day. I had everything on the ball. I could have fanned those 17 men with a background of green trees. Why, I didn't start trying until the game was half over."

Around the Columbus Club, a St. Louis farm, Paul Dean is known as a vest pocket edition of his famous brother. Once shown a newspaper story in which he was referred to as "Dizzy Dean's brother," he exclaimed: "Give me a couple more seasons in the game, and they'll be calling him 'Paul Dean's brother.'"

Principles Of NRA Watson's Subject At Forsan School

Forsan school pupils were addressed by C. T. Watson, chamber of commerce manager, Thursday concerning NRA.

"Everyone has a part to play," said Watson. He urged the more advanced students to familiarize themselves with the "new deal" because he believed that "every citizen who is thoroughly informed of the purpose of the national recovery act is in favor of it."

School children, he said, could aid, in the campaign by purchasing and encouraging others to buy and patronize people who really support the plan in spirit and law.

Parents Of Local Officer Injured City Policeman L. A. Coffey has returned from Anson where he was killed Saturday night when his mother and father were injured in an automobile mishap.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Coffey were entering their car when it was parked in front of the post office when it was struck by another car.

The couple was hurled against a curb. The elder Mr. Coffey was able to be out on crutches Wednesday, but Mrs. Coffey is reported seriously injured.

There is yet to come an additional $3.50 payment before last year's apportionment due the county is received, Miss Hayden said.

The total payment amounted to $2,403 which will be distributed among the rural school districts.

capita, the ninth scholastic apportionment payment for 1932-33 was received here Thursday, Helen Hayden, assistant county superintendent announced.

Teleman, The Teller

Teleman does not know much, but what he knows, he will gladly tell. Ask him your questions.

Q—Are Billy and Hazel going to start their "seldom separate" stunt this year again? P. M.
 A—We hope not.

Q—Why does Joe Davis go so much out of his way on the way home? H. J.
 A—It could be part of his tennis training, but it is probably to walk with Mickey Davis.

Q—Why does Wynell Woodall give me the cold shoulder like I was a hot potato? Earl Talbot Reagan.
 A—It must be Don or Bob.

Q—Why hasn't Sugar gone with Chudine so much lately? E. R.
 A—Her mother decided it would be best. Maybe she's right.

Q—Why does Sam wait for Minnie to go to the show and then go sit with her? G. G.
 A—Maybe the NRA hasn't helped him.

Q—Why doesn't Ollie give the girls a break? E. L.
 A—He knows better.

Q—Who will be the most popular "fish" this year? M. L.
 A—Bobby Taylor is our guess.

Q—Why does Harold Talbot call Miss a suicide blond? P. Bligh.
 A—She's dyed by her own hand.

Q—What is Jane Lee's opinion of me? Donald Gibson.

Who's Who

Oleta and Juanita Siegel, these attractive twins, hail from Abilene. They are classified as juniors and are taking history, 3B, English 3B, bookkeeping, and biology. They are blessed with naturally curly blond hair, are five feet two, and have eyes of blue. They have admirable dispositions and are friendly to everyone.

Oleta said that they would both be alike if Juanita did not act so dignified and both say that they think Big Spring is a grand place to live.

They prefer burrnetts boy friends but a blond "will do" in some instances. They like Buick cars but have a baby Austin all their own. They have no definite plans as to what they will do when they finish school but would rather like to get a job as bookkeepers.

Charles Bussey, otherwise known as "Hokkie", is an ex-student who has enrolled here for this session of school. During the past three years, Charles has been attending the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, but he said he had to get up too early for gun practice there. He has chosen to return to Big Spring high where students live a life of ease (quoting Mr. Bussey).

Charles is five feet, nine inches tall, weighs a hundred and thirty-five pounds, has brown hair, brown eyes, and a happy go lucky way.

He said not to tell anyone, but that he was supposed to bookkeeping, short hand, English IV, and history 3B. He makes good grades in all his subjects and arguing is one of his favorite sports.

"Hokkie" thinks small blonds are simply too cute, and he hates uniforms.

Exchanges

This week there came to the editor's desk copies of "The Crane" and "The Tulla Hornet", weekly papers published by the students of the Crane and Tulla high schools, respectively. Both are excellent papers and are sure to bring honor to their schools.

"The Crane" is in its second issue of the year, the first appearing before school started in order to acquaint the student body with the plans for registration. The Crane's creed is stated as:

To be strong that nothing can disturb his peace of mind.
 To talk health, happiness, and prosperity to every person he meets; to make all his friends feel that there is something in them; to look at the sunny side of everything and make his optimism come true.

To think only of the best; to work only for the best; and to expect only the best.

To be as enthusiastic about the success of others as his own; to forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.

To wear a cheerful countenance at all times; and to give every living creature he meets a smile.

To give so much time to the improvement of himself that he has no time to criticize others; and to be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, too happy to permit trouble.

"The Wheel" is happy to place these two papers on its exchange list and will be interested in their progress throughout the year.

Campus Beautified During Summer

The summer of 1933 has passed and the good old school days have started at last. During this summer, the campus has received much attention and many improvements.

As one passes along by the beautiful high school, there he sees the fresh green grass which has been carefully attended to. Side wires have been erected to keep the passers-by from trampling it down.

In the main building there has been much done in the clean-up and paint work. The baseboards and roof were the special interests in this line.

The high school Steer Stadium, me? M. J. E.
 A—Was he ever?
 Q—Why do freshmen study so hard and behave so well? Senior.
 A—Give them time.

GOOD HOSTS' DAY
 Good sportsmanship in all of our high school activities is truly the spice in the whole of the affairs.

As a general rule, the members of our athletic organizations are the best sports in school. That is they have learned to treat their opponents and visitors with courtesy and respect.

However, it has been a fact that the student body and fans as a whole have not lived up to the good qualities and ranks our teachers have reached. This can and must be cultivated before our institution will be the highest in its class.

"The Wheel" wishes to sponsor a "Good Hosts' Day" on each and every occasion Big Spring high school might have visitors whether it be competition or otherwise.

Let's every student take it upon himself to do a special act of courtesy or show respectfulness to our visitors for the coming year.

El Rodeo, High School Annual, To Be Published This Session

A number of students have been trying hard to secure official permission to publish the El Rodeo, up until three years ago a high school publication. The book was discontinued at that time because of the financial conditions.

After a conference with the high school officials to get the official rights to publish this annual, the group has few hopes of having the El Rodeo for the year of 1934.

The conditions, in the opinion of the school officials, are no better than in 1931.

The El Rodeo was very popular with the student body and is very probable that publication of the year book will be resumed as soon as the authorities think it wise.

History Of "The Wheel" Extends From Beginning Of '29-'30 Session

The beginning of "The Wheel" in the term 1929-30 was sponsored by Miss Georgia Kirk Davis, former member of the English department. At this time, an ambitious group began a work which has lasted through four consecutive years of school history. From its beginning, "The Wheel" has been a noteworthy addition to the high school's credit, and has grown in value each year.

Tommy Jordan was the first editor. Together with the services of the staff made up of Curtis Bishop, Theodore MacDonald, Reta Debenport, Margaret Bettle, Lenah Rose Black and Veda Rowan, the editor and Miss Davis succeeded in the origination of the high school paper, "The Wheel."

The 1931 term found The Wheel again in circulation under the sponsorship of Ralph Houston and Miss Davis. Gertrude Martin was elected editor, and likewise with Mattie Satterwhite, Jake Pickle, Vera Debenport and Howard Whitehead, she carried on the paper's publication.

Mr. Houston was the sponsor for the next term 1931-32. This year, the paper made several noteworthy advancements under the editorship of Jarrell Pickle and through the cooperation of his staff: namely, Steve Ford, Fred Koberg, R. V. Jones, Hudson Henley, Marguerite Alderson, Georgia Bell Freeman, Howard Whitehead and Aubrey Davis.

Mr. Houston again sponsored the paper in the next terms of 1932-33. Fred Koberg proved to be a very efficient editor that year. R. V. Jones, Jane Tinsley, Virginia Cushing, Dorothy Dublin, Albert Fisher, Tom Beasley, Oia Mae Hartman, and Ruth Mellinger composed the staff which aided Fred and Mr. Houston in producing The Wheel for its fourth year successful circulation.

Plans for the 1933-34 terms have been partially set.

All students desiring to take part in working on the paper are requested to hand their names to Mr. Houston for further consideration.

No date has yet been set for the election of an editor.

Temporary staffs will be used until all tryouts have been made.

Steers Hold Lamesa Team Scoreless Game Last Friday Featured By Pass Completions

The Big Spring Steers and Lamesa Golden Tornados tangled Friday in a duel for gridiron honors. The Steers were outwheeled almost man for man, but managed to make the game a scoreless tie. Almost anyone would have decided that Lamesa had the best team. The Steers seemed to have polished up their aerial attack as they completed 8 out of 10 passes—which is good for anyone's club.

Coach Bristow shifted the line-up since the last game with Captain Bob Flowers on end and his little brother, Sam, playing center, the line seemed to tighten. Peppy George Neel was missed, but his injured knee is coming along nicely and he will soon be back in the line-up. The Steers certainly have another Fred Townsend in Bob Satterwhite. If Bill Thomas keeps coming out of the fog, he will make a guard good enough for anybody's team.

P. E. Classes To Be Similar To 1932-33

The functions of P. E. classes will be similar to those of last year. The girls will go out on Mondays and Wednesdays and the boys on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Some groups of the boys have organized baseball teams, and a sort of league will likely be formed later in the year.

has had its share of the improvements too. The grounds have been level and the grass has been kept unusually well.

Ex-Steers Win Off '33 Squad

The Black and Gold went down Sept. 8 to a 12 to 0 defeat before a group of heavier and more experienced "Exes." The "Exes" attack was characterized by many wild passes, two of which were received by Howard Schwarzenbach who ran 18 and 47 yards, respectively, for touchdowns.

With Harris throwing and Swatke receiving the passes, they proved practically an unbeatable combination. The "Exes" were in much poorer condition than the Steers, however, their superior weight and experience told. Furthermore, the quarters were out to 10 minutes each.

The Steers managed to make only two first downs against the "Exes." Bob Flowers certainly looked good on the defense.

George Neel, Big Spring quarterback, injured his knee during the second quarter when "Sally" Smith tackled him. Cotton, the Exes' big blond end who played Steer football when most of us were still flying kites, was believed by many to be the four Marx Brothers and Eddie Cantor in disguise, judging by the wise cracks he was handing out during the game.

We will admit that the Steers did not do wonders on the gridiron. But time will bring the kinks out of their defense so that their attacks can work more smoothly. After which, the teams in the district

Library Rules Are Prescribed

Fourteen Magazines, With Newspapers, To Be Available

The library is to be opened the first period in the morning, and students may check out books during study hall period. One hour is the time limit on reference books, unless they are checked out at 3:30 for over-night use. The school has subscribed for fourteen of the best magazines. These, with newspapers, are for use during study hall periods. Miss Marie Johnson, the librarian, said the amount of fines had not been decided upon but that the rules would be enforced.

New Faces In Faculty Ranks

Resignations Bring In Several Changes In Senior And Junior Hi

Resignations of some of the faculty and unusually large enrollments in the Junior and Senior High Schools this year necessitated the employing of six new teachers. Several readjustments have put some teachers who have been in the school for some time into new assignments.

Miss Loraine Lamar, whose home is in Stanton, is teaching sixth grade history and geography. Danie Conley will direct the high school band and is teaching fifth grade reading. Miss Aline Good, of Wichita Falls, is teaching seventh grade reading.

In the Senior High School, Miss Katherine Young, of Edna, Texas, fills the place of instructor in Spanish made vacant by the resignation of Miss Ione Drake. Miss Young has her M.A. degree from the University of Texas.

Miss Ione McAllister was transferred from one of the Ward schools to Junior High, and Miss Marie Johnson, formerly in the Junior High English department, is now in Senior High Librarian and teaches some classes in Freshman English. Miss Johnson replaces Miss Ethel Vandagriff, resigned.

with one's self is necessary before it can be effected with other people. Concentration on any one subject will lead to success along that line. The continuation sign had as its motto, "Keep on keeping on." Life was portrayed as lacking in many particulars if one stopped half way down the road.

580 Students Are Enrolled

Boys Show Considerable Gain Over Girls This Session

The enrollment for the 1933-34 term shows that the boys have considerable gain over the girls in number. Latest figures from the principal's office show a total enrollment of 580.

In the Freshman class the boys total 98, while the girls total only 80.

The Sophomore class shows 94 boys and 72 girls.

The Junior class shows 64 boys and 59 girls.

The Senior class has 63 boys and 58 girls.

From these figures it may be seen that the boys have a gain over the girls in all of the classes. The total for all four would be therefore, 311 boys and 269 girls.

Mr. T. C. Gardner, state secretary of Baptist Training Service, addressed the high school student body at the Wednesday assembly. His speech dealt with the four main signboards of life. They were Consideration, Cooperation, Concentration and Continuation. The Consideration sign made it clear that Consideration of other people came first. Cooperation

"Step right up, LADIES and GEN'M'N"

HAVE you ever heard a street-corner medicine man hawking his wares? Confess. Weren't you tempted to buy by his persuasive talk? Why didn't you? Wasn't it because you could feel no real confidence in his product? Wasn't that because, though he was here today, you didn't know where he'd be tomorrow?

How differently you feel when you buy an advertised product. Here is no human personality to persuade you. But, instinctively you know you can trust the word of "The salesman in type." Manufacturers and merchants who advertise are permanent. They stand back of their products! They spend millions of dollars to determine your needs and to perfect products that will satisfy those needs. Unlike the medicine man, their business is built on your continued good-will.

Research laboratories, with the wealth and resources of great industries behind them, are constantly seeking to invent and improve things to make your life simpler and more pleasant. They bring their discoveries to you in the advertisements. Advertised merchandise is merchandise of quality. Merchandise you can depend on. Let the advertisements teach you what's new and good. Let the advertisements guide you in spending your money wisely. Step right up, ladies and gen'm'n!

Steers Meet Lubbock Westerners Tomorrow Night

Bristow Team Continues To Develop Form

Bovine Mentors Hopefully Prepare For Vicious Battle Friday

Expecting the worst but hoping for the best, the Big Spring High gridders leave early tomorrow morning for Lubbock and the touted Westerners.

Bristow is determined not to be outdone in the playing of unconservative football, and is prepared to "shoot the works" against Chapman's veteran squad. With days of stiff work-outs behind that often lasted until dark, the boys are prepared for what promises to be a hectic game.

Judged by the yardstick of practice lot performances, Bristow's men are a rather classy outfit—but most of the squad, which comes out under the arcs at Tech field tomorrow night will be taking the first fling at the interscholastic game, and especially night games. Rather light for a high school team, the Bovines will face a line that will average around 165 pounds, better than ten or fifteen pounds heavier than the locals.

Bristow and Brown will pick twenty-two players for the journey. Six backfield men are expected to make the trip. They are: Bud Bechtold, Olie Cordill, J. D. Chumble, Clinton Jones, Robert Satterwhite and Leo Hars. The 170-pound Cordill will fill the quarterback slot and will be by far the heaviest player in the backfield. Clinton Jones will be sure to get a try at halfback after his drive and fight shown in practice. Satterwhite is another promising half. The team will be the lightest and most inexperienced to represent the black and gold in several years.

Brown hopes to have a forward wall that will hold against their heavier foes. A prospective starting line is: Cordill, Fletcher, Thomas, S. Flowers, Graves, French and B. Flowers. The coaches have been bearing down this week to the business of perfecting an offense and defense to spring against the Westerners. The boys will undergo a brisk practice of plays before leaving.

One hundred and four men have been issued gridiron togs at Lubbock high this fall. And up from the reserves of last year from the junior high team, and from the neighborhood lots have come several promising men to the Western squad.

Three of the backfield slots in the Westerner secondary will undoubtedly be filled by Rayburn Hale at quarter, Waymond Newton at full, and Captain Rufus Ryan at running halfback. Choice for the other half lies between Vergil Griner and Jesse Granbury.

Hale, a letter man of last year's team, is seventeen years of age and weighs 141 pounds. Ryan, the other letterman of the squad, is also seventeen and weighs 156 pounds. Newton is eighteen and tips the scales at around 160. Granbury, ineligible last year, is the oldest man of the lot, 19. He weighs 142 pounds. Griner, 130 pound sixteen-year-old, except for spring training, is a totally inexperienced lad as far as football is concerned.

Devils Ready For Training

Ben Daniels, Veteran Coach Secured To Train Youngsters

By CHARLIE BUSSEY
The Devils met Thursday afternoon for a little talk with Ben Daniels, who will coach them this year. The boys have not scrimmaged yet as no suits have been secured for their use.

They will play their first game Friday against Lamesa. The future Steers were very lucky in securing the services of as good a coach as Ben Daniels.

Everyone is showing interest in the team. At present there are four teams working out. Ben says "That if weight means anything he has one of the best teams he has had in a long time."
Joe Handrick and Bud Tucker are the only two letter men back. The Devils have not elected a captain. Ellis Read and James Bromley are co-managers. It is a little early in the season to make any predictions as to what the boys will do, but Ben's hopes are in the right place.

Crowder Wins For Senators

One Victory For Washington One Loss For Yankees Will End Race

WASHINGTON — Behind the steady pitching of Al Crowder, Washington crept up to within a hair's breadth of the American league pennant Wednesday by pounding out a 13 to 5 win over St. Louis.

New York Yankees prolonged the race by beating Chicago again, but one more victory for the Senators or a single loss for the Yanks will remove all mathematical doubt.

Tired of the suspense, Washington went out to win and tucked the game away with a seven-run rally in the third off Wells and Stiles, while Crowder put the Browns down in order.

The Senators' ace pitcher eased up a little after that, with his 23rd victory of the season assured, but St. Louis only got three hits up to the eighth when Shea and Scharen opened the round with a pair of doubles. Crowder tightened up and only two runs were scored. St. Louis . . . 000 010 220—5 5 4

ATHLETICS 2, TIGERS 1
PHILADELPHIA—The Athletics made it three straight over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday in the closing series between the two clubs. Lefty Grove turning in his 23rd triumph of the season with a 2 to 1 victory in a pitching duel.

Although the A's were out hit, 8 to 5, Grove was effective in the pinches. Carl Fischer was on the mound for the Tigers.

Marvin Owen, the Tigers third baseman, hurt his left knee in the sixth, crashing into the left field screen while racing for McNair's foul. He came back in the lineup after his knee was bandaged, but was taken out a few minutes later. Detroit . . . 000 000—1 8 0
Philadelphia . . . 100 001 00x—2 5 1
Fischer and Hayworth, Pasek; Grove and Cochrane.

YANKS 5, WHITE SOX 3
NEW YORK—Forcing the settlement of the American league pennant race into at least another day, the New York Yankees Wednesday defeated the Chicago White Sox 5 to 3 in the final game of the series. The Yanks won the series four games to one and the season's series, 15 to 7.

The Yankees were out hit 12 to 10 but put on three fast double plays to help Danny MacFadden go the route and took advantage of four Chicago errors for an early lead.

Fabian Kowalik Goes Route For Missions, Who Gang Andy Messenger With Four Hits In Second

SAN ANTONIO—San Antonio's rampant Missions picked up in the Dixie series where they left off in the Texas league playoffs, beating the New Orleans Pelts, 3 to 1, in the first game of the annual championship here Wednesday night. Fabian Kowalik, a fly protecting an early two run lead with an eight hit performance. The Pelts bunched three hits in the third for their only run, but not in any other frame did they assemble more than one blow.

The Missions ganged an old friend, Andy Messenger, for four hits and a pair of runs in the second and a pair of doubles after two out in the fifth got the third run. Messenger passed on after allowing a single and a double in the eighth, and Perrin, who relieved him, retired the Missions without a score.

AT their sensational new low prices, Gillette, Probak and Valet AutoStrop blades are guaranteed on a money-back basis. If you are not entirely satisfied, return the package with the unused blades to your dealer and he will refund the purchase price.

This simple, straight-forward guarantee is backed by every resource of the Gillette Safety Razor Company. You take no risk. We tell you positively that Gillette quality is supreme and back our statement with an iron-clad warranty.

There is no red tape with which you must comply. You are the only judge. We repeat—if Gillette quality does not measure up to your full expectations—simply go to your dealer with the unused blades and he'll refund every cent you paid.

Today, Gillette

has placed matchless shaving comfort within the reach of practically every man. Immediately following Gillette's spectacular price reduction sales leaped to new heights. Retailers and wholesalers ordered, re-ordered, and ordered again.

Recognizing Gillette quality as unequalled—the shavers of America swept away reserve stocks in all parts of the country and dealers wired, "Out of merchandise. Rush our shipment."

Certainly this is a great tribute to our blades.

We pledge a continuance of the quality that has made Gillette the world-wide leader. More than this—we guarantee quality as stated above.

For unequalled shaving comfort and economy use Gillette, Probak or Valet Blades. You get absolute satisfaction or your dealer will refund your money.
