Governments Expect Trade To Be Trebled

Soviet Government To Make Purchases Totaling Thirty Millions

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The United States and Soviet Russia Saturday signed a trade agreement that officials of both governments expect will triple the value of trade between the countries.

The state department said the agreement, concluded at Moscow through exchange of notes between William C. Bullitt, American ambassador, and Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar of foreign affairs, pledged the soviet government to make purchases totaling $30,000,000 in the United States in the next twelve months.

In return the United States granted Russia all benefits contained in trade agreements concluded with Belgium, Haiti and Sweden.

The agreement contains no mention of the long pending debt question involving more than $700,000,000 contracted by the Czarist and Korynsky regimes.

Growing Crops Aided Greatly By Moisture

Airport Gauge Records .53 Inch, While Experiment Farm Registers .24

Ranging from a light shower at Ackerly to 1.31 inches at Garden City, rain blanketed the Big Spring trade area Friday night and Saturday.

In Big Spring the fall was equally variable. The U. S. Experiment farm gauge showed .24 inches while the gauge at the airport recorded .53 inches.

All over four counties the fall was similarly spotted, with minimum fall seldom going below a quarter of an inch.

Between Ackerly and Lamesa reports indicated an increase in the fall while the amount grew lighter or then heavier toward Big Spring. Vincent community, in the northeast corner of Howard county, had .75 as an average while some ranchers and farmers estimated much heavier downpours. One farmer said a can he had mounted on an isolated post had more than an inch in it Saturday morning.

Coahoma had about half an inch and more in spotted areas. Green Valley, between Coahoma and Vincent reported approximately .35 inches. R-Bar and Center Point reported about the same amount.

Garden City received 1.31 inches during a steady fall continuing from 2 a. m. Saturday to daybreak. Saturday morning and afternoon local showers moved across the vicinity of the town, bringing another estimated half inch.

Lee's community, near the Howard-Glasscock line, had more than an inch as did a large portion of the southwest Howard county farming region.

Stanton had almost a quarter of an inch moisture. Showers in the farming country to the north came in for more beneficial amounts. The fall was fairly uniform and general over all of Martin county.

Colorado received a quarter and a half inch with the rain being light to a light shower in the Roscoe area. Westbrook reported beneficial amounts of precipitation.

County Agent O. P. Griffin said Saturday evening farmers he had talked with during the day were greatly cheered by the showers.

He joined with E. F. Logan of Coahoma in the opinion that the rain came just at the right time for early feed, much of which is already beginning to head.

The moisture was a life saver for cotton and feed in light land sections. Early cotton especially, had begun to suffer in those regions. Young stuff had been standing the recent heat wave very well and was in good shape. In sandy sections, it was really in no dire need of rain.

Strong wind accompanying the rain did very little damage. Crops were up high enough in most sections to withstand a stinging blast of sand. In Big Spring a few window panes were smashed by strong gusts of sand laden winds. However, only slight damage was reported.

Barring an undue plague of worms, the county stood in the best crop conditions it has in several seasons. Recent discoveries of careless worms have not been numerous enough to cause alarm. Farmers are not greatly concerned over the appearance of leaf worms later on. Most of them regard this as inevitable and feel they can combat the menace with poison.

Sentence To Be Given On Wednesday

Jury Out Five Hours, Convicted In Weyerhaeuser Kidnaping

TACOMA, (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Margaret Waley was convicted abruptly of both the Lindbergh law and conspiracy charges by a federal jury here Saturday for allegedly unwilling participation in the $200,000 kidnaping of George Weyerhaeuser.

In only four hours and forty-five minutes a jury of ten men and two women waded through a maze of legal technicalities to reach their decision.

Federal Judge F. E. Cushman set next Wednesday morning as the time for pronouncement of sentence.

The jurist, who sentenced Waley to a sentence of 45 years on a plea of guilty to similar charges, gave no inkling of what his judgment would be.

Life sentences are possible on both charges. On the other hand the law sets no minimum.

TACOMA, (AP)—A jury in Federal Judge Edward E. Cushman's court received the case of Mrs. Margaret Thulin Waley, charged with kidnaping and conspiracy to kidnap George Weyerhaeuser at 10:44 a. m. Saturday.

News Behind The News

THE NATIONAL Whirligig

Written by a group of the best informed newspapermen of Washington and New York. Opinions expressed are those of the writers and should not be interpreted as reflecting the editorial policy of this newspaper.

WASHINGTON By RAY TUCKER

Octopi

The White House has lighted a backfire against the Glass banking bill. Although professing satisfaction with the revised measure, it is scheming to reframe major sections on the Senate floor.

President Roosevelt is definitely set against the return of commercial banks to the underwriting field. But he is even more bitter against permitting each bank partner to sit on the board of another corporation. Both provisions run counter to his attitude toward the banking fraternity's function. In his opinion they endorse abuses he seeks to abolish.

Some of New York's biggest bankers side with the White House. Nobody will admit it, but it is understood that Chase National Banker Aldrich tried desperately to eliminate the provisions legalizing interlocking directorates. For the reason that it permits nineteen Morgan partners to sit on the financial influence in nineteen different directions. Mr. Aldrich got a sharp answer when he appeared directly to committee members.

Champion

Federal Reserve Governor Eccles is upset over other provisions in the Glass bill. He concedes privately that they spike his desire for federal control of credit.

He wants a change in the Senate's setup of the open market committee. With two banker-members serving on the board and five Reserve Bank governors on the open market committee, this furnishes the banking interests with majority control of credit operations. Their transactions in securities could also nullify the board's moves to effect credit flow through resort to their power over rediscount. Mr. Eccles is broken-hearted.

The Roosevelt-Eccles combination must work quietly, however. It does not antagonize the fiery Carter Glass beyond his endurance. It has no banker-Senator with sufficient interest or intelligence to combat the Virginian when he is in good form. And for three days Mr. Glass has been resting at his hotel to board strength for the fight.

Guilty Pleas Prevalent In 70th Court

Prison Terms Given Four Persons This Week At Odessa

Guilty pleas monopolized the time of 70th district court at Odessa the past week when prison terms were assessed against four persons.

District Attorney Cecil C. Collins said that two other criminal cases would be tried this week. They are Pat Powell, indicted for theft and Earl Burton and Dean Patten, negroes, indicted for theft.

Joe Burton and James Baker were convicted and given two year terms for forgery but one person will serve the sentence which runs concurrently. Reason for this unique turn of procedure is that the two are the same person.

Tommy Ward, who was sentenced to 2 years here in the April term of district court, was also convicted in Odessa of a similar offense and assessed two years to run concurrently with his present sentence.

Hugh Nix, Houston, pleaded guilty and was given 10 years for hijacking an Odessa fruit store. He had previously been convicted of a hijacking near Houston.

Clyde Gray pleaded guilty to a forgery charge and was given a two year term. He had been convicted before.

The court has an average civil docket and will end its present term this week, a week early. Next term in the district will be held here in September.

Injuries Fatal To D. A. Roberts

Headquarters For District WPA Assured

David A. Roberts, 41, employee of the Lion Oil company, Forsan, succumbed at a local hospital Saturday morning at 3 o'clock from injuries received last Tuesday night in an automobile collision at Fourth and Scurry streets. He sustained a fractured nose, and first, was thought not to be seriously hurt. Meningitis developed later, and death came early Saturday morning.

He is survived by his wife and one son, Marion, aged 6. His mother, Mrs. Martha Frances Roberts, Dallas; two brothers, T. G. Roberts, Abilene; John H. Roberts, Los Angeles; and three sisters, Miss Bertha Roberts, Dallas; Mrs. Hubert Milling, Dallas; and Mrs. Perry R. Rheudansel, Paris, also survive.

Funeral services were held 3 p. m. from Eberly Funeral Home chapel Saturday afternoon. The body will be shipped to Commerce, Texas, Sunday morning at 6:50 over Texas & Pacific. Relatives left burial will take place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made by the side of his father.

David A. Roberts was born near Corsicana, Navarro county, August 20, 1893, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Roberts. He had served in the army overseas during the war, and was a valued member of the Ray E. Fuller post Veterans of Foreign Wars. The casket was draped in American flag in respect to his memory as an ex-service man.

City Bears Expense Of Office Rentals, Six Suites Required

Reservations of six office suites on the fifth floor of the Petroleum building Saturday by the city assured Big Spring of the district No. 18 Works Progress Administration headquarters.

R. H. McNew, district WPA director, said Saturday evening that actual work would be started by the office probably within a week's time.

He will leave the forefront of this week for San Antonio for a conference called by H. P. Drought, state WPA director, for all district directors and key men.

Important announcements concerning the office here might be expected about Monday, McNew indicated.

The staff for the headquarters here will likely consist of about eight at the outset. This number may swell past twenty as the volume of projects in the district grows, said McNew.

City of Big Spring made arrangements for the office space and will bear rental expense. In so doing the city made it clear it was not undertaking the expenditure as a relief measure but solely to secure the district headquarters for Big Spring.

McNew was last week named WPA director of the district which includes Lynn, Terry, Garza, Boden, Dawson, Gaines, Andrews, Ector, Midland, Martin, Yoakum, Glasscock and Howard counties.

He had served only a short time as district field representative of the Texas relief commission, a post to which he had been promoted from the position of county administrator of Howard county.

All of the south side of the fifth floor of the Petroleum building will be utilized by the WPA offices. It is possible, if the program expands as anticipated, that even more space will be required.

FDR Opposes Banking Bill Alterations

Predictions Made That Congress Will Eliminate Provision

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Predictions were heard Saturday, congress will eliminate a provision in compromise of the omnibus banking bill permitting banks of deposit to conduct a limited business in underwriting securities.

President Roosevelt Friday expressed strong opposition to it. Members of the senate banking committee said it was immaterial to them whether underwriting authority is retained or stricken out.

A special committee of the American Bankers Association declined to take a stand for or against the provision.

Power Firms To Get Questionnaire

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Chairman Black of the senate lobby committee Saturday sent questionnaires to all power companies to ascertain how much money they spent fighting the utilities bill.

E. A. Blomquist, committee investigator, defended his asking records at headquarters of Philip Guadalupe, head of the committee of utility executives conducting a drive against the Wheeler-Rayburn bill.

Increased Shows Of Oil Reported In No. 1 Snyder

Increased shows of oil were reported at the Eastland Oil company No. 1 D. H. Snyder, section 28, block 30, T-1-S, T&P survey, Saturday noon as the test passed the 2,800 foot mark.

An important wildcat, the test is being watched closely since it is about midway or a trend between the Chalk and Do-1ge-Denman pools.

The increased show here out a geological prediction and gave rise to hopes that real pay might be encountered about 2,500 feet.

Lime was topped 125 feet higher than in wells of the surrounding area.

'Stranded,' Feature Film On R&R Road Show Starting Today

Warner Bros. Film Features Kay Francis

Sheer Drama Highlighted With Dramatic Action And Romantic Pathos

The Army, the Navy, the flying Marines and the Department of Justice have been used as back-grounds for big screen hits by Warner Brothers. Now another government service the Bureau of Immigration, and a national social service, the Travelers Aid Society, combine to form the background for another stirring Warner Brothers production, "Stranded," in which Kay Francis is starred, with George Brent, Patricia Ellis, Robert Barratt and Frankie Darro in featured roles, and which is the feature unit of an R&R roadshow program at the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday.

romance with a touch of pathos. It centers about the life of a Travelers Aid agent who measures all things in terms of humanity. For nine years she had secretly cherished the memory of a first kiss, received from a young engineer who had vanished upon learning she was but fifteen. He returns into her life accidentally, is struck by her breath-taking beauty and glamour, and proceeds to try to make up for the nine years which have elapsed.

But deeply as they love each other, they are estranged by conflicting viewpoints on humanity—his being that those who are down deserve no sympathy and no aid, while hers is that the failure should be given every aid and encouragement in rehabilitating themselves. It is this conflict of char-

Hell's Angels Returns For 3-Day Lyric Run

Daredevils Make Film Which Required Three Years To Complete

An event of more than usual significance is slated for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Lyric theatre.

"Hell's Angels" is the stupendous drama of air-war which Howard Hughes produced and personally directed at the staggering cost of $4,000,000, and which required three years of continuous filming to complete.

It is admittedly the most spectacular of wartime aviation—a graphic glorification of the World War in the air.

According to most critics, it is the supreme revelation of realism—the first authentic reproduction of the exploits of both Allied and German airmen during the World War.

More than 100 daring pilots, including many of America's foremost stunt flyers, took part in the thrilling air battles which are a spectacular feature of "Hell's Angels."

A flying fleet of exactly 87 real wartime planes, including a giant German Gotha bomber and a German dirigible, was brought together from all parts of the world and flown in this picture.

In one scene alone 37 planes are shown in combat simultaneously. It cost a quarter of a million dollars to put this single scene on the screen and aviation authorities, military and civil, declare it is the most miraculous achievement in the history of both aeronautics and motion pictures.

For the first time the exploits of the now world-famous Baron von Richtofen's Flying Circus are accurately reproduced, and for the first time the sensational wartime Zeppelin raid on London is depicted realistically.

Upwards of 20,000 persons took part in the making of "Hell's Angels," and more than 3,000,000 feet of film were ground through the cameras to obtain the astounding realism disclosed in the completed picture.

Aids from its unprecedented and spectacular features in the air, "Hell's Angels" is replete with romance and drama. It is based on one of the most original and dramatic stories ever screen—a story amazing and daring in its originality and treatment.

In "Hell's Angels" you will see many new faces. In striving for complete realism Mr. Hughes endeavored to get away from well-known actors as much as possible.

The short units of this program include the now leading solo comedian of the screen, Charley Chase in "Four Star Boarder," Popeye the Sailor in "For Better or Worse," and the universally popular topical news film.

"THE THIN MAN" PRESENTS BAFFLING MURDER MYSTERY

If you enjoy sitting on the edge of your chair, and if you enjoy being left completely in the dark while trying to solve a most baffling murder mystery, don't fail to see the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Cosmopolitan picture, "The Thin Man," which shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Queen Theatre.

Best of Detective Tales
Alexander Woolcott declared "The Thin Man" to be the best detective story ever written by an American author, and Sinclair Lewis described it as the most breathless of all of Dashiell Hammett's stories. This reviewer agrees with both these learned literary men.

"The Thin Man" is the story of Nick Charles, an ex-detective who is Sherlock Holmes, S. S. Van Dine and all other crack detectives rolled into one.

It tells of three murders which involved Charles, against his will, with the unusual Wynant family. His method of solving the crimes provides one of the most exciting and unusual climaxes of all detective pictures.

A Splendid Cast
William Powell plays Nick Charles, and surpasses all his earlier detective roles in the role. Myrna Loy appears as his happy-go-lucky wife, Nora, and Maureen O'Sullivan carries off honors with her successful handling of the part of Dorothy Wynant.

Minna Gombell, more often seen in comedy parts, appears in a tense emotional role in this picture and standing film achievement of all heretofore, becomes a bewildered detective lieutenant. Other roles are ably handled by Porter Hall, Henry Waldworth, William Henry and Edward Ellis.

W. S. Van Dyke, who has given us such memorable pictures as "Trader Horn" and "Esikimo," did

R&R Theaters To Build New S'water House

SWEETWATER — The Central Construction company of Dallas was awarded the general contract for Sweetwater's newest business building project—the new and modern R&R theatre building to be erected on the site of the Archer building on the south side of the square. Bids were opened and contract was let Thursday afternoon.

Work will start as quickly as the buildings are vacated, according to Henry M. Rogers, local manager, which is expected to be within two weeks. The building will be completed within 90 days.

Five firms, none of them local, submitted general bids for the construction of the building, according to Mr. Rogers, theatre officials here for the opening of bids included C. V. Jones, Dallas, general manager of the theatre enterprise; Scott Denne of Dallas architect; J. Y. Robb, Big Spring, brother of H. B. Robb; J. F. Jones, manager of the shows at Palestine, and his son, Buck; and H. L. Youngblood of Dallas.

The finest theatre in West Texas, is the way Mr. Rogers describes the building to be constructed. It will be 52 feet wide and 150 feet long, and have a seating capacity of 1,000, twice that of the Palace. The entire front will be lined with neon and the latest in display signs. A huge neon sign carrying the name of the theatre will extend 15 feet above the roof in front. The latest type of cooling system is to be installed on the roof, which will give more room in the interior of the theatre for stage and equipment.

The theatre will have a mezzanine floor which will seat approximately 200 persons. On this floor also will be located the offices and men's and women's lounge rooms.

The theatre will be of a new type of architecture being used extensively on the West Coast, Mr. Rogers said.

The latest in sound and other theatre equipment is to be installed, according to Mr. Rogers, who said that the expenditure of this money was "an evidence of faith that Mr. Robb and Mr. Rowley—both former Sweetwater citizens—have in Sweetwater and West Texas."

The concern is still retaining its lease on the Palace theatre building and should business conditions justify it will be reopened as another show. The Ritz will still be operated as usual.

Name of the new theatre has not been announced.

SPORT SLANTS

Connie Mack, if anyone, ought to be able to understand the changing moods of baseball fans. But even the veteran leader of the Athletics, with all his years of experience and connection with baseball, cannot fashion the great change that has come over the customers at Sports park in their attitude toward Jimmy Foxx.

The chubby-faced Jimmy has long been the pride and joy of the Philadelphia fans but of late his appearance at the plate has been the signal for a burst of jeers instead of cheers.

Foxx has been hitting the ball at a fair clip, close to .540, and driving in a goodly share of runs, but batters are not knocking off his big bat with anything like the frequency they did in the not-far-removed past. It is very evident that the A's followers come out to see Jimmie hit home runs and when he has failed to do so they have turned against him.

Perhaps it is because Rob Johnson has blossomed out as a real threat in the race for home runs honors that the Philadelphia folks have no more time for Foxx.

Rumors Are Unfair

Rumors have been floating in that Jimmy's game at first base is not up to his usual standard; that he is not in shape to do his best and all that sort of thing. All that is hardly fair to Foxx. Jimmy has always been a fine team player. His willingness to accept the many and varied assignments which Connie Mack handed him proves that.

Foxx readily agreed to try Mack's sure or lose noble experiment to return him to the post behind the bat last spring, a position he had not played in years, even though in so doing he was risking injury and could expect a natural drop in his batting average. The Athletics had everything to gain if Foxx clicked in the role of catcher but the best Jimmy could hope for was a lucky break that would preserve him from injury.

When Alex Hooks failed to come up to the major league standard at first base, Mack could do nothing but return Foxx to his old station at the bat.

The Philadelphia fans pinned their hopes for a home run king on Jimmy Foxx when he threatened Babe Ruth's record with 55 homers in 1932. Since Jimmy has failed to scale the lofty pinnacle they had picked out for him—they want no more of him. Baseball fans are like that!

To The Red Sox?

Jimmy Foxx at 28 is a veteran of 11 years of big league baseball and his baseball future quite apparently lies with some club other than the Athletics. They say he is headed for the Red Sox as soon as the present campaign has run its course. Maybe so, but one thing seems definite—he won't be with the Athletics next year.

In the two previous seasons Frank Higgins has been with the Athletics he has been one of their most consistent hitters but this year he has had great difficulty getting into his regular stride. An injury sustained in the spring series with the Phillies bothered him for a while and only recently has he showed signs of beating his way back to the 300 class where he rightfully belongs.

Note Of Elegance Is To Govern Fall Styles Says U. S. Designer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Milady's wardrobe for the coming fall and winter will point towards a decided note of elegance, say the leading fashion designers of Los Angeles and Hollywood, whose newest style creations exemplifying this trend for the coming month will be previewed before six thousand of the nation's leading buyers during the forthcoming Los Angeles Fall Market Week style showings which open here on July 29th.

Members of the Associated Apparel Manufacturers of Los Angeles, who are sponsoring the Market Week style showings which Orry-Kelly, noted Warner Studio stylist, will supervise, are all in accord in predicting this trend of elegance in women's wear during the coming fall and winter months.

"Elegance in fabric, elegance in designs and especially elegance displayed in more extensive wardrobes to be worn by Mrs. and Miss America, this fall and winter, will make the season of 1935-1936 memorable indeed," states Orry-Kelly, speaking for the Associated Apparel Manufacturers.

"Smart clothes—clothes of the moment—will adhere more strictly to the demands of the occasion when they are to be worn," says Orry-Kelly, "and they will necessarily display an elegance that has been sadly wanting for a long, long time."

Taffeta Petticoats
"Within three months the new gored and flared skirts which we have just begun to see will be three times as full, and we may even see the return of beruffled taffeta petticoats for daytime use. In her new film "Page Miss Glory," Marion Davies wears a street dress and coat ensemble of this type.

"Eight months ago I predicted and introduced a Grecian vogue which was later taken up by leading designers. This Grecian vogue—in a more authentically simple mood and showing much more of the figure—with less pleated fullness and with body lines accentuated with drapes and folds, will dominate the evening scene whenever clinging fabrics are used."

"A frankly nude effect will be introduced by softly draped bodice folds which will suggest cut-out sections almost to the waist."

Covered Wagons
"Luxurious and costly stiffened and metallic fabrics will receive favored treatment for evening wear because they are so adaptable to bouffant lines, but tall women should avoid wearing bouffant clothes that make them look like covered wagons.

"There will be a distinct difference between utility clothes and has had in a decade."

"Furs will come in for a large share of the fashion spotlight," notes Orry-Kelly, "with white fox receiving the greatest attention it has had in a decade."

Also to be previewed during the Los Angeles Fall Market Week showings are new fall styles in millinery, dry goods, men's clothing and furnishings, furniture, floor coverings, drapes, infant's and children's wear, notions, art and gift ware, housewares, shoes, and toys.

Mrs. Seth H. Parsons is spending the week-end in Christoval where she met Mr. Parsons who is taking a short vacation from the University of Texas between the two summer terms.

Mrs. Constance McEntire, who has been attending the University of Texas for the first six weeks, left Sunday for San Antonio to spend a few weeks with friends before coming home. Miss Virginia Cushing, her sister, who has also been attending the university, is visiting friends en route home.

Higgins found his batting eye with a vengeance when he hit three home runs in a recent game. That was the signal for the start of the spurt that has carried him up scale in the official batting averages.

Angilee Davis Celebrates Twelfth Birthday With Nice Party At The Settles Hotel

Guests Of Various Ages Meet From Six To Eight o'Clock And Enjoy Games Of Bunco

Angilee Davis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raleigh Davis of San Antonio, who spends her summers in Big Spring, was the hostess for a pretty birthday party at the Settles hotel Saturday evening, with her two grandmothers as sponsor hostesses.

The maternal grandmother is Mrs. A. T. Lloyd and the paternal Mrs. Emma Davis. Angilee is visiting both.

Bunco was the diversion of the evening, the guests assembling at 6 and playing until 8 o'clock. Special tables were reserved for the smaller guests.

Attractive trophies were presented to both groups the older ones receiving prizes for high score and consolation and the younger ones having their own prizes.

A yellow and green color scheme was used by means of summer flowers and in the icing of the pretty birthday cake bearing 12 candles. Parfait in the two colors was passed with the slices of cake. Punch was served during the games.

Assisting Mrs. Lloyd and Mrs. Davis and the hostess were Mrs. Ira Thurman, and Miss Maribelle Menger of San Antonio, Angilee's aunts, and Mrs. Fred Stephens.

The guest list included: Roselle Stephens, Marijo Thurman, Jo Anita Altizer, Jacqueline Faw, Flora Belle Spyrus, Beverly Bowman, Janice Slaughter, Camille Lukeman, Louisa Brooks, Charlene Estes, Helen and Lillian Read Hurt, Kay Hamblin of Royalty, Cornelia Douglas, W. T. Bolt, Jr., Edward Fisher, Bill Inkman, Warren Baxley, Joe Robert Myers.

Those that could not attend but sent gifts were: Misses Harve Pouch, John McCoyne, Alvin Hobbs, and Johnny Harrison.

Dallas and will go from Chillicothe to New Orleans, back to Galveston and finish their vacation in Houston with Miss Barnett's brother, Carroll, who is in the oil business there.

In the meantime Mr. Carroll Barnett is vacationing in Minnesota, taking a lodge on one of the lakes with his friend, Romaine Baker. On his return he will visit in Duluth, Detroit, Chicago and Little Rock, returning home in time to meet his sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira M. Powell will leave next Tuesday morning to attend the Alto Rio Baptist Encampment near Uvalde. Mr. Powell will direct the music for the encampment. Following the encampment Mrs. Powell and children will go to Luling for several days visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Frank Hamblin and daughter, Kay, of Royalty, arrived Saturday to visit Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Hall.

Miss Christine Brown was married Thursday to Gordon Meeks at the home of the Rev. S. J. Shetlerworth at high noon.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Brown of the Knott community and was graduated this spring from the Big Spring high school.

The groom is the son of Mrs. I. C. Chapin, of Big Spring and a graduate of the Central high school at Fort Worth. He is employed at the Couden Refinery.

Miss Elsie Barnett and friend leave on extended motor trip.

Miss Elsie Jeannette Barnett left Friday for Chillicothe with her friend, Frances Graham, who has been spending the summer here. They drove to Fort Worth and

Lucky 13ers Play At The Crawford

Mrs. O. R. Bolinger Hostess To Two Tables Of Players

A pretty party was given at the Crawford Hotel Friday afternoon by Mrs. O. R. Bolinger for the members and friends of the Lucky 13 Bridge club.

Summer flowers furnished the floral decorations and were carried out on the tables and score pads.

Mrs. Alton Underwood and Mrs. C. E. Shive were guests of the club, the latter making high score. Ice cream, cake and iced tea were served to the guests and the following members: Mmes. M. Wentz, Kin Barnett, O. W. Waters, Cecil Collings, W. T. Strange.

Idle Art Bridge Club Is Entertained At Miss V. Robinson's

Members of the Idle Art Bridge club were entertained with a jolly informal party Friday evening at the home of Miss Veda Robinson.

Mrs. Howard Hoger was the only guest. Mrs. Burns scored highest for players.

A refreshment course of ice box cake and punch was served the guest and following members: Mmes. Sneed, Kelly Burns, Harold Lytle, Misses Evelyn Merrill, Imogene Runyan and Eleanor Gates.

Mrs. Homer McNew Is Friday Club Hostess

Mrs. Homer McNew extended the hospitality of her home to members of the Friday Bridge Club this week. Mrs. Steve Ford and Russell Richardson were bridge guests and Mrs. Bruce Frazier came in at the tea hour.

Mrs. Lee Hanson was high scorer among the members and Mrs. Ford for guests.

Members present were: Mmes.

New Texas Novel Is Dedicated To Local High School Teacher

There are two interesting books coming from the Houghton Mifflin presses this fall.

Everybody knows by now of Mrs. Ada Lingo Hatcher's mystery story, "Murder in Texas" with its scenes laid in Big Spring and the oil fields. Mrs. Hatcher is rushing her proofs back to New York so fast that there is a probability, she said, of the book's coming out the first of September instead of the latter.

The most interesting advance note on this book is that it is dedicated to Miss Clara R. Pool.

Miss Pool was Mrs. Hatcher's English teacher in high school and the first teacher, said the writer, to implant in her the ambition to write. She promised Miss Pool long ago that she would dedicate her first book to her.

The other book that Texans should eagerly await, especially all who have taken history courses at the University of Texas, is "The Texas Rangers" by Walter Prescott Webb.

The publishers make the following announcement about it: "They (the Rangers) combined the fighting qualities of three races; they could ride like Mexicans; trail like Indians; shoot like Tennesseans; and fight like the devil!"

In the past century the Texas Rangers have at various times waged war on the Cherokees, the Comanches and the Apaches, punishing Indian depredations, and eventually driving the hostile tribes from the state. They have recovered stolen cattle from Mexico, brought back American prisoners from beyond the Rio Grande, prevented wire cutting in the sheep country and carried on open warfare with cattle thieves, bad men, German spies and bootleggers.

Their number, at any time, usually has not exceeded two hundred, but through the years they have killed between five and ten thousand men.

Mr. Webb's great book of adventure is not merely a colorful record of the exploits of some amazingly courageous men. It is a real piece of historical detective work full of extraordinary unpublished material, original documents and sound deductions. Like his earlier book, "The Great Plains," which Henry Steele Commager called "one of the most original, suggestive and thoughtful contributions to the science of history," it is the result of years of diligent research. Because the author has had access to all the records and because he has unearthed every available piece of information about the Rangers, his work stands as the only authoritative and complete book on the subject.

"The Texas Rangers" contains graphic accounts of such exciting episodes as Sam Houston's great plot to capture the entire country of Mexico (analyzed for the first time); the great war at San Jose which resulted in the three-hour invasion of Mexico; the San Diego (Texas) plot which was originated

J. D. Bliss, Ira Thurman, Beth H. Parsons, Albert M. Fisher, G. T. Hall, Lee Hanson.

Mrs. Ira Thurman will entertain next.

by German spies and intended to wipe out every American along the southern border, and finally Frank Hamer's own account of the killing of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker (the latest chapter in Ranger history).

Miss Lonnie Rees of San Antonio has done fifty illustrations to accompany the text. These pictures are not only authentic in every detail but they are of high artistic quality. Twenty of these are portraits of Rangers, Mexicans and bad men, copied with rare accuracy from tintypes and old photographs. In addition, there are eighteen original photographs and such important documents as Robert E. Lee's unpublished letter concerning the Houston plot.

The author, Walter Prescott Webb, is professor of history at the University of Texas (Austin), author of "The Great Plains," and a recognized authority on the history of Texas. It is interesting to note that:

1. "The Great Plains" is the only book published as a textbook (Ginn & Co., 1911) which ever made both the front page of The Times and The Herald-Tribune book review sections. It sold approximately 2000 through Trade channels during the first year.

2. There is at present no competent history of the Texas Rangers on the market. Further, the unpublished Lee correspondence and the Houston plot make this book indispensable for any student of American history.

3. These well-known Texas figures appear in "The Texas Rangers": Sam Houston, Robert E. Lee, Mirabeau Bonaparte Lamar, Stephen F. Austin, Big Foot Wallace, Col. John C. Hays, Capt. Ben McCulloch, Maj. Robert S. Neighbors, Capt. L. H. McNelly, Maj. John E. Jones, Capt. W. J. McDonald, Capt. Frank Hamer, and John N. Garner. Also Gen. Santa Ana, Gen. Juan Flores, Gen. Juan Cortinas, Don Louis Cardie, Charles Stillman, John Wesley Hardin, Sam Bass and Clyde Barrow.

4. Houghton Mifflin Company is backing it with an initial advertising campaign of $3,000 (a full page in The Times, posters, etc.).

Mexican Bird
Mr. H. B. Arnold, 1205 W. 5th street presented a specie of Mexican bird mounted to the museum last week. Mr. Arnold is a bird lover and secured this one across the border from Del Rio last summer.

This is the second mounted bird donated to the museum this year, the first one being a great horned owl found in Owl Gulch, about three and a half miles S. E. of Big Spring, mounted by William Mann, student senior high school, Big Spring and presented to the museum last May.

A number of other students in the city and county are collecting and preparing insects, animals, and fossils, rocks, etc. for the museum which makes good study specimens.

B. A. Cramer, Big Spring, brought to the museum Thursday morning a collection of Phytosaur bones, jaw bones, joints, vertebrae, and part of a head. He proposed to bring more of these at an early date. He also gave valuable information concerning research work, in the future. The Chalk field toward the north seems to abound in these finds.

Old Quilts
There are two very old quilts in the museum that have attracted considerable attention. One was made by Mrs. D. D. Holder, mother of Mrs. E. H. Settles in 1844. Mrs. Holder made all the quilt by hand. She picked the cotton and spun it into thread. Then she sheared her sheep, spun the wool into yarn, dyed it from the bark of trees, and wove both of these threads into the counterpane through her hand loom.

Also, Mr. F. E. Barnett has a coverlet made after the same fashion in 1796. It is perfectly preserved. Among his exhibits is a silk handkerchief given him when he was only five years old, making the handkerchief at least sixty-seven years old now.

Miss Grace Heald, Bowling Green, Ohio, visited the museum Thursday accompanied by Mrs. P. M. Rowland, Big Spring. Miss Heald seemed pleased with the West Texas exhibits, especially the Caylor pictures and horn exhibitions.

WHAT! Save Money By Buying a Bigger Car?

"My Friends Were Amazed Until I Explained How My Big, New Dodge Gives Me 4 More Miles Per Gallon of Gas and Saves 15% on Oil Over My Former Small Car,"

Says Edward J. Gleason, Larchmont, N. Y.

"When I told folks I was trading in my little car for a big Dodge—to save money—they couldn't believe me. 'How can you save money on a bigger car?' they asked. And then I told them . . . I said, 'I'm only getting 14 miles to the gallon of gas now, and investigation showed me that a new Dodge will give me 18 or more. Besides that, I'll easily save 15% on oil. I'll postpone valve grinding for thousands of extra miles. Dodge hydraulic brakes will save me plenty of money on brake adjustments, relining and tires. All considered, I'll be dollars ahead.'

"And when I bought my Dodge, imagine my surprise to discover that it actually saved more than I expected. I've been getting up to 20 miles per gallon of gas . . . all running costs are less . . . and besides, I have the comfort and satisfaction that only a big car like the Dodge can provide."

Learn for yourself how you can enjoy big-car roominess and performance at lower cost than for small, competitive cars. Any Dodge dealer will be glad to tell you some of the startling economies made possible by Dodge super-engineering and to let you try the thrill of the unbelievably smooth Dodge "Airglide Ride." # While T V A Battles For Power Workers Toil On Big Program

By ROY E. HUTCHENS
 KNOXVILLE, Tenn., (AP)—While the Tennessee Valley Authority battles for broadened powers and more money from congress, more than 16,000 workers toil daily to carry out its program of dam-building and social and economic development throughout the Tennessee river basin—an area of 40,000 square miles containing 2,000,000 people.

From high in the mountains of east Tennessee, where construction of Norris dam is nearing completion, to the flat country of Alabama, where two other dams are being built across the Tennessee river, there is a buzz of activity.

Will Form Hugo Lake
 The $24,000,000 Norris dam across Clinch river 80 miles above the juncture with the Tennessee, is now 75 per cent complete. It is scheduled to be finished by the first of 1936. More than 65 per cent of the 1,000,000 cubic yards of concrete have been poured. Around 1,500 men will be employed on the project.

The dam will be 233 feet high and 2,000 feet long. It will create one of the world's largest reservoirs, inundating parts of five counties and creating a lake with an 800-mile shoreline.

It is at Norris dam that young John Roosevelt, son of the President, plans to spend the summer, working (without pay) on the huge project and living at Norris, four miles from the dam site.

Joe Wheeler dam, being built across the Tennessee river 18 and one-half miles above Muscle Shoals, is about 35 per cent complete. The dam, costing $20,000,000 is to be 50 feet high, one mile long, and will create a reservoir of 100 square miles in area.

Work starts at Pickwick Landing on the Tennessee river in southwestern Tennessee with 1,500 men at work. The $32,000,000 dam will be built without a power plant, but this may be added later. It will be 163 feet high and almost a mile and a half long. It will have the largest single lift lock in the world.

Wilson dam, which was built during the World war at a cost of about $150,000,000, is serving electricity to 30 communities in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. Despite litigation partly blocking the TVA power program. These communities have increased their residential customers from 6,540 to 8,023 under rates which TVA claims to be 45 per cent less than formerly paid private companies.

Norris Dam Rises Out Of Clinch River

A recent view of Norris dam, on the Clinch river, shows the huge TVA project more than three-fourths completed. It will back the river up 30 miles, create a lake with a shoreline of nearly 800 miles. In the background may be seen the reservoir clearance line, to which height the lake will rise.

the other hand there should be little sympathy for the citizens who demands all the service and protection taxes can provide, yet howls his head off when made to pay to this government.

Let us quote a thought from Burt Brown, vice-president of the University of Oregon. Said Mr. Brown: "Taxes constitute our tribute to civilization. The lower the civilization, the lower the taxes. The higher the civilization, the higher the taxes. We couldn't maintain business a single day without the services that taxes buy. . . . The average taxpayer, needs to react differently than he has toward the whole subject of taxation. He should learn to measure the value of the tax dollar in terms of the benefits that he receives."

It seems that Mr. Brown's stable of measuring taxation is wise. If our benefits demand high taxes, then taxes ought to be high. If the benefits do not merit large expenditures, then taxes ought to be low. The rate is commensurate with benefits received.

Last week John Vastine, Wesley Butts and Horace Penn went to Abilene and participated in a district addition contest. People here were pleased to learn they won first place as a harmony trio. This feat of talent supports our contention that we are growing here in more ways than one. We are gaining equal footing with other cities in Texas even in the finer arts. We have good talent right here at home.

Few people realize just how much oil development has taken place in this county since the first place in the year and just what it has meant economically to Big Spring. Now a promising wildcat is nearing completion in the East Howard pool. Should it make a producer, as indicated by showings, an important extension will be made in the eastern sector to join two producing pools. This would be a most happy circumstance for the city.

The city announced Saturday that it had rented six offices on the fifth floor of the Petroleum building. The offices will be used to house the district WPA offices which will handle work projects out of 13 counties. In so doing, the city made it plain that the donation of the office space was not a relief measure but done in order to assure this city the district headquarters. Thus the city did a service, kept its position on its feet, participated in substantial citizens. There can be very little righteous doubt, except from those afflicted with civic stomach trouble, that the camp has been worth for more to Big Spring than the money the city put into a park site. Its location here for a longer period of time will also continue to mean much.

Big Spring apparently has become surface water supply conscious. From one extreme the populace has swung to another. Fortunately competent engineers have been engaged to make a wise survey to the view of erecting a dam capable of insuring a good water supply for the city. The average layman thinks that a dam can be strung across a likely canyon and presto, we have a lake. The shrewd engineer knows that rainfall and sufficient drainage are equally important.

Last week a Mexican couple were married after having a license for nearly two years. Likely this was not a delayed romance, but a delayed marriage. It is startling that so many Mexicans here in a civilized land are so ignorant of our laws. Many believe they are duly married when the license is issued. Thus there is the possibility that Americanization work can accomplish much among the people. It can at least cure the evil of having parents married only after raising several children.

Tarry Dale To Attempt New Driving Record

Larry Dale, ace of Canadian dirt tracks, will endeavor to establish a new record for endurance driver in Big Spring when he will start Wednesday noon from the Kettling-Walsh Motor company. He will be handicapped to the wheel of a new 1935 Pontiac and will attempt to break the present world's record of 94 hours' continuous driving.

The drive will be conducted through the county and the city limits.

Dale has made several attempts to break the record, but so far has been unable to do so. However, he says he feels certain that he will be able to break the record in Big Spring.

The driver will be accompanied by a nurse and a local boy at all times, and will be checked every few minutes of the day and night.

INTERNATIONAL KINDNESS

The standards of morality in international politics sometimes seem to be down on the approximate level of a Chicago gang war in the dry era.

It is reported from Rome, for instance, that leading European powers have reached a formula for settling the differences between Italy and Abyssinia.

This settlement—if preliminary reports are correct—will consist of a general descent on Abyssinia by France and England, as well as Italy. The Ethiopian empire under these plans would be split three ways—all, of course, in the name of civilization. Italy would have the privilege of civilizing one part, France would civilize another and England—a just master at the game of bringing enlightenment to backward peoples who have valuable possessions—would civilize a third.

The whole business has a striking resemblance to the deliberations of a gang of strong-arm men laying plans for the hold-up of a factory payroll. Only the strong-arm men don't bother to talk about "civilization."

Pecos Cantaloupe Shipments To Start Early This Week

PECOS—Commercial shipments by express of Pecos cantaloupes are expected to begin on a small scale early this week. M. L. Todd, veteran Pecos grower, stated this week. Cantaloupes, luscious as ever, were appearing in downtown stores this week practically all local farms having started gathering them.

Rambling Roosevelts Will Only Cover United States

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT
 Born to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burke, 1009 Scurry street, July 12th, a 3-2 pound son. Both mother and child are doing nicely.

Local farms having started gathering them.

While the far-traveling Roosevelts will confine their activities, for the most part, to the United States this year, it takes a map of the entire nation to picture their proposed peregrinations. Exception must be made of the summer home on Campobello island just over the Canadian line where Mrs. Roosevelt will stay and the possibility that President Roosevelt will return from his proposed western tour by way of the Panama Canal. The President's western itinerary will not be definite until congress adjourns but present plans include a visit to the Young Democrats' national convention at Milwaukee August 23, a visit to Boulder dam and finally to the California-Pacific International exposition at San Diego.

By BESS FURMAN
 WASHINGTON (AP)—A continuing congress has slowed down the rambling Roosevelts this summer—they probably won't do much more than travel all over the United States.

Last year, when the President's mother went abroad, and he and his sons made the Panama Canal trip, it would have taken the map of Europe, Central America, and the island possessions, to hold them.

But what they may lack in mileage, they're making up in activity and self-expression.

And so the nation sees: The President, on the Sequoia weekends, fishing in Chesapeake Bay.

Mrs. Roosevelt, ruling herself "off the record" for inspection tours of federal projects or gypsy trips through mountain wilds.

Mrs. Boettiger writes: Their daughter, Ann Roosevelt (Dall) Boettiger, autoing speedily between New York and Hyde Park these days, caring for her children, and writing articles.

James taking the President's New York town house where a "For Rent" sign long was displayed—and making speeches to Young Democrats the country over.

Broad-shouldered Elliott riding over and stocking his 250 Texas acres, but taking time out for a fish fight on his vice-presidency of the Texas Young Democrats.

John just missing a fling as a northwest woodsman in the CCC to take a payless job swinging an axe for TVA, near Norris in the Tennessee Valley.

Like their Namesakes Oldest New Yorkers recently have been noting that when the young Roosevelts are free for self-expression, they run remarkably true to type of the very ancestors for whom they were named.

Franklin, Jr., like his father, has a passion for boats. His happiest summer days are spent with a couple of cronies aboard some small craft, exploring the inlets of New England.

Fifty-nine years ago an Elliott Roosevelt, brother of Theodore and father of the First Lady, found Texas life to his liking. He had headquarters at Houston. His namesake now has a Texas wife and a ranch on the edge of Fort Worth.

James, named for the President's father, and John, named for the President's uncle, are home-loving youths, who remain closely identified with the ancestral areas though they may travel afar.

President's Plans Tentative
 Mrs. Roosevelt will motor along her favorite Maine trails enroute to the family's summer home on Campobello island, just across the Canadian border, in August. James hopes to make a speech to the Young Democrats in San Francisco. He's making as many as possible of regional meetings in such diversified spots as St. Paul, Minn., Spokane, Wash., Denver, Colo., New York and Boston.

The President's plans must await adjournment of congress before being established definitely. Tentatively they include an address at the Young Democrats' national convention at Milwaukee August

The Big Spring Week

Taxation A Tribute, Talent, Oil, On The Spot, And Water

This is a season of the year when people become tax conscious, largely because they are receiving notices of assessments and impending board of equalization meetings. If they have been lowered, they say nothing. If they have been left alone, they may hold their peace or mumble impotently. But if they are raised, their fury often rivals that of a woman scorned. Almost everybody, whether their valuations for taxations are changed, be means high taxes. There can be little doubt that taxing can and some times does go too far. On 23, which James and Elliott also will attend; visits to Boulder dam and the California-Pacific International exposition at San Diego and possibly return to Washington by way of the Panama canal. It is expected that the President, along the route, will follow his policy of making several extemporaneous speeches. Texas has a tentative chance for a presidential visit when the Confederate veterans meet at Amarillo in September.

Hyde Park still holds the "Summer White House" spot on the Roosevelt map but the White House will be home again to the presidential couple when the boy scout jamboree is held.

The value of any test depends upon its completeness... and upon who makes the test

No single test will prove the over-all excellence of a refrigerator. Operating economy must be considered in relation to dependable performance. To prove ice-making capacity, freezing time and current consumption must be considered. Adequate shelf capacity depends upon individual requirements. If there is any single factor more important to you than any other, it is surplus cold-making power.

Norge challenges comparison on every point. Norge invites you to make the tests in your own home. Norge says, "If you do not find that Norge is everything we claim—we will do everything we say it will—we'll take it back and refund your money."

MAX BAER APPARENTLY OUT OF HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHT PICTURE

Schmeling Is Joe's Next Man

Discloses Saturday They Fight At Polo Grounds September 18

NEW YORK (AP)—Disclosing a shift in the heavyweight fight plans which apparently eliminates Max Baer from the picture, Promoter Mike Jacobs Saturday disclosed negotiations for fifteen rounds between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling Sept. 18 at the Polo Grounds.

Jacobs said the winner would likely be matched with James Braddock for the championship next year.

Braddock is under contract to make his first title defense for Madison Square Garden, but Jacobs does not consider that a barrier to his projected plans for promoting the championship fight.

Chicago Cops Double Bill

Danny MacFayden Ineffective On Mound For The Braves

CHICAGO (Sp.)—The Chicago Cubs pushed two runs across in the fourth inning of the second game and another across in the seventh to take a 3-1 decision over the Boston Braves Saturday after they had swept the first game, 10-2.

Danny MacFayden was ineffective for the Braves, giving up four runs in the first two innings and was jerked in favor of Bob Brown who finished.

MacFayden and Brown allowed a total of 13 hits between them, two more than their mates were able to collect off Henshaw and Root.

The Bostonians tallied their only run in the fifth inning in the second game. Bill Lee was hard on the visitors, allowing them only seven hits.

First game: Boston . . . 000 010 000—1 7 1 Chicago . . . 220 013 032—10 13 1 Batteries: MacFayden, Brown and Hogan, Mueller; Henshaw, Root and Hartnett.

Second game: Boston . . . 000 010 000— 7 1 Chicago . . . 000 200 10x—3 12 1 Batteries: Smith and Spohrer; Lee and O'Shea.

Lose Their 'Eye' In Second Game And Fall, 6-3

PHILADELPHIA (Sp.)—The Philadelphia Athletics bombarded the fences for an 18-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the first game here Saturday but lost their 'eye' in the second and fell, 6-3.

Jimmy Fox and Bob Johnson hit homers for the A's to rout Elton Auker, Johnson coming through with a pair.

The Elephants scored in each of the first seven innings, breaking through for five runs in the second and a like number in the fourth.

Johnny Marcum scattered the Tiger's nine hits over the route after a shaky first inning start. Marcum allowed the Bengals to count twice in the first stanza but was tight in the pinches after that frame.

Pete Fox accounted for two of the Tigers' runs in the fifth when he hit four bases with a man aboard.

First game: Detroit . . . 200 020 100—5 9 0 Philadelphia . . . 251 521 20x—18 26 0 Batteries: Auker, Hatter and Cochran, Reiber; Marcum and Berry, Richards.

Second game: Detroit . . . 291 000 500—6 12 1 Philadelphia . . . 010 002 000—3 10 1 Batteries: Bridges and Cochran; Mahaffey, Benton and Richards.

Swatzy New Swat Leader

Angel Handy Man's Season Average Now Stands At .487

Howard Swatzy, sensational Angel handy man who joined the Mellinger team in midseason, took the leadership in the Big Six the past week with a season's average of .487.

Swatzy began clouting the ball in his first appearance and has come through with an average of at least one hit a game in all except the Carter clash two weeks ago.

Swatzy has collected a total of 16 base hits in 33 attempts which gives him a 18 point advantage over Jake Morgan, previous leader.

Miller Harris, Herald manager and first sacker, dropped to third place although he increased his average to .464 while Olie Cordill was a notch farther down with a .459 average.

Cordill, however, still leads in the base hits department connecting safely 36 times during the season, leading Freddy Townsend, an Angel mate by two hits.

Townsend, scoring both his team's runs against Coelen, maintained his lead in the runs scored division. Townsend has scored a total of 39 runs for the season.

The blond-headed Angel infielder also kept his place in the Big Six, raising his average four points to .404.

Townsend took sixth place behind Bill Phillips, Lab third sacker, who also increased his average, coming through with 41.

Swatzy's entrance shoved Jack Wilson out of the picture down to .351.

Big Six: Player AB R H Pct. Swatzy, Angels . . . 29 11 19 .487 Morgan, Herald . . . 51 18 24 .471 Harris, Herald . . . 56 24 26 .464 Cordill, Angels . . . 80 30 36 .470 Phillips, Lab . . . 70 17 29 .414 Townsend, Angels . . . 89 30 36 .404

Cards Defeat Phils, 4 To 0

Wild Bill Hallahan Hurls Two Hit Ball Game Saturday

ST. LOUIS (Sp.)—Behind the two hit pitching of Bill Hallahan, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Philadelphia Phils here Saturday, 4-0.

Curt Davis limited the Red Birds to nine hits and had only two bad innings, but his mates contributed bad support and he went down in defeat.

The Cards broke the ice in the second when Ripper Collins hit a home run and counted a pair of runs in the eighth.

Parker, whose home is Lawrenceville, New Jersey, won 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.

Hollingsworth Bears Down

Strongarms Way to 5-3 Victory Over Brooklyn Dodgers

CINCINNATI (Sp.)—Bill Hollingsworth strongarmed his way to a 5-2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers here Saturday, setting the lead from Ebbets Field down with six hits.

The Brooklynites scored both their runs in the first inning to force the Reds to come from behind.

The Cincinnati nine started with two runs in the second and won the game with a three run rally in the eighth.

George Earnshaw, former American league star, had little success in the box for the Robins, although he allowed but seven hits.

R. H. E. Brooklyn . . . 200 000 000—2 6 3 Cincinnati . . . 020 000 30x—5 7 1 Batteries: Earnshaw and Lopez; Hollingsworth and Lombardi.

Some Work Being Done On Courts

Slowly but surely, work is progressing on the city park tennis courts.

The courts have been staked off, graded out level, and caliche has been dumped in preparation for building a good firm base.

Efforts will be made to stage a Sand Belt tournament if the courts are finished in time. An annual affair several years ago, the Sand Belt tournaments were stopped because of the poor condition of the courts.

Work is being done on the city park tennis courts.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

Chapter Five
"MY-WHAT?"
"Where did you crash?" demanded Albery of the returned Rex Moore. "Who found you?"
"Crashed in a typhoon some-where near the Marquesas Islands. I did the first hop to Fiji in five days. And the next one, too. Then I struck a bad patch, the worst one I ever knew. It was no good. I was helpless. I wasn't forced down—I was hurried down."
"Don't remember much about it. Don't know why I wasn't smashed to pieces. Must have been unconscious for days. I had been picked up by a yacht and was taken to California. They told me the storm died down as quickly as it had come up. The people who owned the yacht looked after me for more than a year."

"I'm so glad to see you I don't know what to say," was Albery's warm reply.
And then, abruptly, he fell into silence.
He remembered how, only a few days ago, he had said to young Mrs. Moore in his office, "I sometimes wonder if you still hope against hope that he might come back?"
And here he was, standing before him, Rex Moore, her husband back from the dead. In the amazement and shock of the scene he had not thought of the girl before. That made it more incomprehensible than ever. The young man must evidently have gone off his head for a while. And no wonder.
"Moore," he said, "haven't you let anybody know that you're back in England—alive?"

"The people who owned the yacht looked after me."
"But why didn't you send word home?"
"Didn't feel like it. They were decent folk and kept it dark. I was a useless log. What was the good? Better that you should think me dead."
"You always were a queer chap. But after you recovered your wits?"
"I was down and out—a bit mad, I think. I owed my life, my eyes, to those people. But I gave them the slip and made my way to New York somehow or other and picked up a bit of a living there."
"Did you fly under another name?"
"No. I didn't fly at all. I thought I was through with that—I just picked up a living."
"Why have you come back now?"
"Because I had to. I got a chance of heart. He gave a little laugh. "I told myself I'd been a fool, doing nothing but just cursing because I'd had bad luck. I thought of you, Mr. Albery. I thought you might give me another chance. I'm all right now. I can trust myself. I want to carry on, if you don't think I'm too much of a crock and too old for the job."

HER FAN DANCE SHOCKS PARIS

discovered by his friend and colleague in Sydney and sent home, and how ever since she had been a valued member of the London office staff.
"I suppose, my dear boy, you thought she was still in Australia," he concluded.
"I didn't know she was in England," was the slow reply.
"We were so glad to do what we could to help her. Of course, you mustn't blame yourself; you hadn't time to make a will, or anything like that. You'd only just been married, hadn't you, when you took off?"
"I hadn't anything to make a will with," was the answer. It sounded rather callous to the older man.
"But, then, Moore had always been a funny sort of chap. Not much social and domestic side to him. Albery had been astonished to hear that he had married, although there had been rumors, he knew, in Australia, where he had spent several months preparing for his great flight.
"This is a bit of a shock to me—my wife being here and working for you," Moore went on. "It certainly is extraordinary. I'm sure it's very good of you to have looked after her." His face wore a curious fixed expression that Albery took for remorse.
"I can guess. It rather brings it home to you that you left the poor girl without news of yourself all this time. It might have caused a lot of trouble, Moore. She has thought herself a widow."

"You're right. It might have made a lot of trouble," said the airman thoughtfully. "I'm rather overcautious. I apologize if I seem foolish."
"Joy doesn't kill," answered Albery smoothly. But in his own mind there was an unpleasant reaction. Laurie Moore was Moore's wife now, not his widow. Quite a different thing. There was a sudden crisis in his brain, a wave of angry heat, the first pang of jealousy of his life.
"Now, you will be off to see her. Of course, you must get back to your job. I'll be behind you. Don't worry about that! There are still a few records unbroken—and the Pacific is always there!"
"Do you know her address?" asked the airman.

PA'S SON-IN-LAW

REX MOORE turned his eyes on Albery's face in a hard stare. For a moment they really looked like the eyes of a blind man, but Albery did not notice that.
He told the airman in a few rapid words how his young wife, believing herself his widow, of course, had been in a rather bad way out in Australia, and had been discovered by his friend and colleague in Sydney and sent home, and how ever since she had been a valued member of the London office staff.
"I suppose, my dear boy, you thought she was still in Australia," he concluded.
"I didn't know she was in England," was the slow reply.
"We were so glad to do what we could to help her. Of course, you mustn't blame yourself; you hadn't time to make a will, or anything like that. You'd only just been married, hadn't you, when you took off?"
"I hadn't anything to make a will with," was the answer. It sounded rather callous to the older man.
"But, then, Moore had always been a funny sort of chap. Not much social and domestic side to him. Albery had been astonished to hear that he had married, although there had been rumors, he knew, in Australia, where he had spent several months preparing for his great flight.
"This is a bit of a shock to me—my wife being here and working for you," Moore went on. "It certainly is extraordinary. I'm sure it's very good of you to have looked after her." His face wore a curious fixed expression that Albery took for remorse.
"I can guess. It rather brings it home to you that you left the poor girl without news of yourself all this time. It might have caused a lot of trouble, Moore. She has thought herself a widow."

Whirligig

(Continued From Page 1) In the past the D. of J. has been hard-boiled with respect to the scope and meaning of the anti-trust statutes. It has taken a literal view of things. President Roosevelt subscribed to this viewpoint, immediately after the Supreme Court's decision. But the Dickinson transfer forecasts a more reasonable attitude as negotiations of voluntary agreements begins. Namely, no sanction of ruthless restraint of trade but a trend toward "rational competition."

Highway Patrolman Killed In Ft. Worth, Formerly On Duty Here

G. A. Fresse, 32, state highway patrolman who was killed in a crash with a traction car at Fort Worth Thursday night, was formerly stationed here. He worked out of Big Spring for more than a year. Fresse was to have been married to Miss Mary Jo Kell, Arlington, in September. He had been stationed at Arlington recently.

Coffers have flocked to the links the past week and posted some low scores. Theron Hick's low 75 still stands. Friday and Saturday qualifiers were: A. E. Suggs 90, J. M. Moore 106, Roy Patton 117, Lawson 116, Spence 118, Golden 142. A week will be allowed for each match, which will stretch the tournament out for some four or five weeks.

DAILY COTTON LETTER By Post & Flegg to G. E. Berry & Co. Cotton eased from around 50 cents a bale on light scattered selling, very little from the south, probably influenced by the continual favorable weather as it has been for some time. Money in the trade were away from the market for the week-end making it a rather thin affair, and sensitive to small orders. Domestic consumption for June was calculated at 385,946 running bales which compared with 355,262 last year. Mill stocks at the end of June were 882,947 vs. 1,236,089 last year. Some 709,300 spindles were in use during the month of June. Look for a trading market preferring purchases on easy spots.

CCC Operations Headquarters To Be In Lubbock

LUBBOCK, (AP)—Headquarters for CCC operations in West Texas and parts of New Mexico and Oklahoma will be established here this month, the Lubbock chamber of commerce has been advised by the Eighth Corps Area of the United States army at Fort Sam Houston. Two warehouses and a garage have been leased, effective July 15, for one year, with options for renewal. The chamber of commerce announced that 15 or 20 army officers and from 75 to 100 civilian employees would make their homes here. The annual payroll for the headquarters personnel will approximate $200,000, it was said. Capt. Jack Boehm is scheduled to be the commanding officer, with Lieut. L. Skinner as adjutant. CCC camps and soil erosion camps using CCC workers will receive supplies and clothing from the office here, chamber of commerce officials said.

Demaret Wins 2nd P.G.A. Championship

GALVESTON (UP)—Jimmie Demaret, Galveston, held his second consecutive championship of the Texas Professional Golfers Association Saturday, having negotiated seventy-two holes in 282—six strokes below par. Demaret forced out Levi Lynch, Gladeswater, who also shot subpar golf and won by five strokes. Dudley Bell, Houston, finished third with a total of 296. Jack Burke, Houston, trailed with 297. The champion was forced into two brilliant rallies by the Gladeswater foe yesterday, and once was one hole down to Lynch. Demaret faced difficulties on the out side of the morning round by dropping four straight holes. He recovered by accurate use of his putter to win.

Expect Drill Stem For McDowell Test Forepart Of Week

Drill stem for the John I. Moore No. 1 McDowell deep test in Glasscock county may be sent here the forepart of this week preparatory to deepening. Jack Lofland said in a telephone conversation from Tulsa Friday that stem joints were welded by the Hughes tool company in Midland at the rate of twenty a day. He indicated he might return here this week to gather up his crew to resume drilling on the well now bottomed at 9,946 feet. It headed about fifty barrels being shut in for six weeks. Several showers of oil were encountered from 9,520 to 9,633 feet. Moore, who worked up the unutilized block for the wildcat deep test, was here Saturday.

Local People Visit Scouts

Big Spring Boys Making Envious Record During First Two Weeks Several Big Spring people were preparing to leave for Camp Louth Farr near Mertzon Sunday. More than forty scouts and scouters from Big Spring are at the camp participating in the annual Buffalo Trail council encampment. The scouts, who left here in two groups a week apart, have been making an enviable record in camp. Troop No. 3 under the leadership of Hubert Woodard, junior assistant scoutmaster, won't tent honors the first week, tying twice when not winning it exclusively. Eagle patrol of Troop No. 1 won tent honors its first day in camp the second week. Scoutmaster Walton S. Morrison is in charge of the troop. Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Miller visited their son, R. H., at the camp during the week. Goldie, as he is known to every scout and scouter in camp, has proven one of the most popular campers. He carried off honors with his stunt at stunt night and was equally effective challenge night. In addition to these honors, he drew a big crowd around while he played the camp piano. George Miller, son of Mrs. Emma Miller, has advanced to star scout rank. James Ripps, assistant scoutmaster of Troop No. 5, sprained his ankle in a hurdle over a log. He is recovering and says he is enjoying his stay in camp. In a baseball game one day last week, the officials bit the dust 9 to 4. In the past these games have been camp classics. First week of camp there were 118 attending. This week's figure mounted to 160, necessitating an extra supply of dishes.

First Prizes Ordered For Cowboy Reunion

Orders for two special made saddles to be given as prizes in the second annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion September 2-3-4 were given Saturday by J. L. Hudson, organization secretary. Other prizes for the growing three day affair will total approximately $1,500, more than $1,200 in actual cash. Plans for erection of a grandstand calculated to accommodate about 2,000 people will be received sometime this week. Construction will start soon after the bids are opened and a contract let. The stock committee is dickering now for cattle to be used in the rodeo. An attempt will be made to get the wildest calves, steers and cows available.

Dr. and Mrs. Pilcher Visit Relatives Here

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Pilcher, Galveston, are visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rogers. They have just returned from a trip through North Texas, Colorado and the Carlsbad Caverns. Mrs. Pilcher is a graduate of the Big Spring high school and of John Sealy in Galveston. Dr. Pilcher is a professor in the Texas university medical college at Galveston.

Tags Swapped, Pooled; Compliance Work Begins

With the exception of a few stragglers, cotton producers of Howard county had either reaped their cotton tax exemption certificates or exchanged them for new tags Saturday, deadline date for the action. The old tags will be shipped Monday. Compliance work in Howard county will start in earnest Monday morning. During the past week County Agent O. P. Griffin and Supervisor Albert Heck have been working with cotton workers.

"When Do We Eat"

The car is loaded with good things to eat. The Electric Cooker, filled with a ready-cooked meal, is the answer to the question, "when do we eat?" The minute the camp or picnic spot is reached there is a healthy demand for food, and nothing is better than a warm meal to start an outing trip off right. An Electric Cooker solves the problem of summer cooking, both at home and on trips. See these cookers at our store.

WHERE DOES ALL MY MONEY GO?

I wish I had more to spend this summer . . . simply must get white shoes and a new light sweater and those two books and, well, lots of things . . . I'm not extravagant, but where does all my money go?

Don't worry too much—the very same sort of problem bothers the folks along Millionaire Row. And you can do something about it, very easily, by learning how to recognize the best things to buy, the best places to buy and the best times to buy.

The advertising columns of this newspaper can help you considerably. Form the habit of watching them closely for news about things you need now or will be needing soon. The facts are all there, waiting to be found. Perhaps you haven't been looking.

Register this fact right now: Advertised products give better service and more solid satisfaction than the things nobody knows. If you want the most for your money, and more money for other things, buy the brand with a reputation. It's a real bargain at its regular price!

ASK A FRIEND

To the Readers of the Herald: This feature, "Ask A Friend" has been started in the belief that such a feature will prove interesting and helpful. It will not be continued unless it proves to be so. We cannot know of your interest unless you write, so ask yourself what is bothering you and put it on paper and mail to Problem Feature care of The Herald.

Dear Friend: I am a Bible student and try constantly to live up to its teachings. But I find the commandment, "Love Thy Neighbor," hard to understand and harder to live up to. This bothers me a lot for I do want to be a good Christian and not a hypocrite. How can a body always love their neighbors when some of them are so onery you can't see as how their mothers can love them?

MRS. S. E. B.

Loving some neighbors does seem as impossible as enjoying a dose of castor oil. There are those who go gadding about while their brood of kids play Indian all over your flower beds and lawns, and there are those neighbors who sit complacently on the front porch while their chickens are staging a picnic in the nice little garden behind the house next door. And there are those disturbing neighbors who keep prying until they gouge your treasured secrets from you, then hot-foot it to the nearest friend and do a broadcast that would shame Floyd Gibbons.

But these are few and to be pitied rather than censured.

because they haven't grown up. Although adult in size, they are undeveloped in mind and character and about as hard to take as half a green persimmon.

However, they are our neighbors and we must love them. Here's how. There is one thought which if kept constantly in mind will cause you to warm up to every one of them. Remember that like everyone else they have their little private burdens, rattling like static, in a hidden closet. It may be a some hard-to-cure chronic ailment plaguing them with pain, in spite of which they have to carry on. It may be the constant care of a hopelessly afflicted member of their family. It may be an ever nagging and peace disturbing in-law. Or it may be a heart aching with loneliness or a mind confused by constant toil for which there seems to be little reward. And there are plenty of thorns even in the lives of those where roses are abundant. The neighbor you envy may be carrying a burden heavier than she has the strength to bear.

Keep all this in mind, my friend—and remember—you will warm up with sympathy. And sympathy—as you have heard, no doubt—is closely akin to love.

Dear Friend: I am a young man in love with a pretty little girl. I want to marry her, but my parents go up in the air when I mention it. If I should marry, we would have to live with my folks because I haven't got any job, and I don't think they will let us live with them. Do you suppose they mean they won't or are just talking that way to keep me from marrying my girl. I am twenty-one and it looks to me like I should be my own boss, but my parents still boss me plenty. What do you think about me getting married?

LOVESICK SON.

You should be your own boss before you marry, but no person can be their own boss as long as somebody else is paying for the groceries. As long as your parents have to pay for your bed and board they have a right to boss you. If isn't mean as you think but perfectly natural for them to try to keep you from marrying. They are probably panic stricken at the thought of having one more mouth to feed. And aside from what your marrying would mean to them their real concern is for you, and for the little girl.

The girl or woman who marries a boy or man who cannot support her has the choice of only two roads to travel, and both are cut up with long and tedious detours. One road leads to self support. Finding and holding a job in a world where jobs are scarce and job hunters are legion. And the other road is even more difficult. It leads to a series of protracted visits be-

Miss LeFever Honors House Guest
Miss Dorothy LeFever honored Miss Genevieve Hickman with a combination swimming - dancing party Tuesday evening. Refreshments of lemonade, candies and cookies were served during the evening to Woodrow Scuddy, Rayford Lyles, George Johnson, Doris Sadder, Snooks Sadder, Homer Hurst, Lucille Wilson, Jim Sattelle, Fred Sattelle, Fred Simmons and Jess Green. Miss Hickman, who is from Tulsa, Okla., was Miss LeFever's house guest until Friday of this week.

Miss Charlotte Carnahan has gone to Drumwright, Okla., where she will spend a month visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. Henry Jones, chief Granger inspector of the Shell Oil Co., was in Forsan several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. White and daughters, Ceba and Elsie Della, were visiting Horace White several days this week. During their stay they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Smiley of the Shell Oil Co. left this week on their vacation during which they will visit Brownwood, Houston and Corpus Christi.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hines spent Thursday in Midland visiting relatives.

Mr. L. R. Stroud of the Southwest Tool and Supply Co. is in San Antonio.

Between her parents and those of her husband. And before her first year of married life is at an end, her welcome at both places will be threadbare.

Son, my advice to you is this: Don't be one of those four-flushers who stand before the minister with a trusting little girl, and promise to love, honor and support her; then, before the honeymoon is over, pass the buck to poor old dad. Get your feet from under your parents' table. Get out on your own before you plan to marry. For there is no more pathetic figure in society than the nit-wit boy who takes unto himself a wife for father to feed.

Faced With Stern Opposition On All Sides, President Must Make Decision On Political Strategy

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief Of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

There are growing signs that, from the standpoint of political strategy alone, the Roosevelt administration has arrived at a decisive moment.

Faced for the first time with stern opposition on many sides, the President must choose between two vastly different methods of combat. He can go on with the "whirlwind" style of campaign, piling attack on attack, or he can withdraw to new ground, reform his lines, and seek to outwit the enemy by guile and deliberation. Much may depend on his decision.

On March 4, 1933, Mr. Roosevelt assumed his new duties with a stroke of bold leadership which won him international admiration. In the words of the prize ring (used here because none other is quite so expressive) he came out of his corner fighting. The recognized courage and confidence of his dealing with the bank crisis changed the whole national atmosphere overnight.

Since then, however, many things have happened.

OPPOSITION DAWNS
It is unnecessary to review the story in detail in order to realize that since that first experience the administration has relied heavily on the power of swift, intrepid attack.

Momentum has been reckoned a prime factor in the "new deal," and the momentum from such success has been taken advantage of to help get the next succeeding venture under way.

There was no denying that for months this fast-moving assault had Mr. Roosevelt's political adversaries groggy and disheartened, and hanging on the ropes.

There was a time when even the most partisan republican, speaking privately, would not admit of even an outside chance that the President could be defeated for reelection in 1936.

Then opposition began gradually to revive, both in and out of congress; and the supreme court's NRA decision gave the opposition an entirely new courage which was reflected at once in many ways.

PLANS GO AWRY
The reply from the Roosevelt camp was a renewal of the attack. There is no doubt in the mind of any well-informed person in Washington that the President's press-conference remarks about a "horse-and-buggy-days" construction of the constitution were designed to give furious momentum once more to his policies.

Neither is there any doubt that the strong condemnation of those remarks from various quarters caused shocked surprise in some high places. A further surprise attack was planned; the tax message diverted attention and provided new momentum for a time. But within a few days the new tax policy, too, found administration plans bogged along a seemingly endless trail of controversy.

Next came the insistent White House call for a rallying round to save the utilities bill. The house responded by overwhelmingly rejecting the call.

POLITICAL QUESTIONS
Where is it all leading? Will the

A revival will start at Lee's today and everyone is urged to attend.

President decide to continue his swift offensive, or will he feel that the time has come to reserve his blows, and try to lead the opposition into openings from which it may be unable to extricate itself?

If he does keep on, will he have the endurance to outlast his adversaries? And if he does not, will his adversaries be able to capitalize sentiment against him in any effective manner, without seriously falling out among themselves?

There are the prime political questions involved in the very complex situation which exists in Washington today.

'Children That Are Underweight'

The first thing we want you to understand is that your Physician doesn't even know that this ad is being written. He has nothing to sell you except that he renders you the best service that he can day or night.

If your child is underweight... "Don't dope it up with a lot of medicine until you know what the cause is."

"Most of the children that are "doped up" for worms—don't have them, and it's a shame that the mothers and fathers don't get a dose of worm medicine at the same time.

Hollow eyed children, usually have some trouble that can be corrected by your Physician—"no one else."

The fact that Mrs. Smith's baby "was like that, and she gave it this or that" shouldn't be considered by you.

Diabetes—Pyelitis—and other diseases that are serious have the "underweight" symptoms, sometimes attributed to worms.

Phone your Physician—ask him when he will have time to examine your child and do as he tells you.
