Flood Peril Confronting Three States

Water Is Two to Four Feet Above Flood Stage—Flooded Roads Close Schools in Western Tennessee.

By United Press. MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 14.—Barring sudden warm weather in the snow blanketed northern states and more heavy rains, the Mississippi will not swell to such proportions as caused the disastrous spring floods of 1927. F. W. Brist, government meteorologist, and river engineers agreed here today.

Observers predicted a crest of 40 feet. The crest during the 1927 floods was 46.3 feet. Two whole families were virtually obliterated by the storm which cut telephone lines unto the community and delayed complete reports of the damage until today.

The dead: Deputy Sheriff G. N. Garrett, his wife and three children; J. P. Edward and Birdie. B. Tilman Garrett, his wife and two children, Mildred and Lucia. A baby girl member of the Tillman Garrett family was found 300 yards from her demolished home, only slightly bruised. All of the victims were trapped in their homes, near each other. D. C. Garrett, nephew of the deputy sheriff who was killed, said confusion in six miles immediately after the tornado was such that hours elapsed before bodies of the dead were recovered.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 14.—Memories of the disastrous 1927 flood still fresh in their minds, farmers in the flood basins of Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi sought high ground today with their families and livestock when weather officials predicted the Mississippi river would continue to rise.

The "Father of Waters" already is two to four feet higher than flood stage from Cairo, Ill., to

NEMIR STORE TO MOVE TO SQUARE

B. Nemir, one of Eastland's leading dry goods merchants, after eight years in business on North Lamar street, is moving to a new location on the square.

He has leased the Downtown building on the north side of the square, at present occupied by the Boston store, and will occupy it about June 1. During the time Mr. Nemir has been in business on North Lamar street, where he occupies a handsome store building of his own, he has enjoyed a splendid trade and has decided to move closer in only that he may be more able to better serve his customers. In order to close out as much as possible of the large stock of goods on hand and save having to move it to his new location, Mr. Nemir is announcing a removal sale, opening Friday, in which he is placing his entire stock on sale at reduced prices.

"Family Trouble" Given As Cause

DALLAS, Tex., March 14.—J. G. Harper, living five miles south of Grand Prairie on the Dallas-Fort Worth pike, this morning shot and killed Tom Barrow, neighboring farmer, and surrendered to officers. Barrow was shot twice with a shotgun, both charges taking effect in his head. After the killing, Harper drove to Dallas with two other men and there was in the hands of the sheriff. He said the shooting climaxed "family troubles."

EACH SIDE REJOICING AT VICTORY

Rebels Report Capture of 700 Federals While Calles Reports 21 Rebels Slain—U. S. Aviators Say Conditions Favor Federals.

By United Press. NOGALES, Ariz., March 14.—Belief that a conference between federal and revolutionary leaders here today will bring about preliminary steps for peace was expressed by Mexican Consul I. M. Vasquez.

Rebel chiefs insisted they would not attend the conference, but Vasquez said he was confident some of them would appear at the last minute. The meeting originally was scheduled for yesterday but was postponed when Roberto V. Pesquiera, personal representative of President Portes Gil, failed to arrive.

Pesquiera was scheduled to arrive this morning. WASHINGTON, March 14.—Approximately 300 additional troops have been ordered from Fort Huachuca, Southern Arizona, to the Mexican border in the vicinity of Naco, Ariz., the war department was informed today. Officers estimated that the border guard now in the vicinity of Naco, or en route there numbered between 400 and 500 men.

JUAREZ, Chihuahua, March 14.—Reports of two rebel victories and capture of some 700 federal troops near Torreon sent into near ecstasies of joy today. When rebel reports arrived over commandeered telegraph lines from Chihuahua City that the first brush between rebel troops of General J. G. Escobar and the federal soldiers of P. Elias Calles resulted in the rebels completely routing the federals, rebel headquarters and the whole city were most jubilant.

It was the first definite word of a rebel victory since federal troops were vanquished here last Friday.

The two battles took place late yesterday, the reports said. Besides the prisoners, large supplies of ammunition and equipment also were captured.

First hand authentic information in the war zone as seen from the air meanwhile was told by two American fliers. George Kraigher and Carl Schlaet, who arrived at the municipal airport of El Paso with Colonel Alexander McNab, as a passenger from Mexico City. McNab, military attaché at the American embassy in Mexico City, left immediately for San Antonio.

"I am sure there will be a battle at Torreon," Schlaet said, "but it probably will not amount to much. The federal government has one of the largest armies ever organized in Mexico and public opinion, which is important, is on the side of the federal government."

"Troop trains puffing northward, with tiny engines pulling flat cars on which were artillery pieces nassed us. Over the State of Chihuahua, we saw the rebel army advancing southward, but to us the federals seemed to have all the best of it in man power and equipment."

NINE DEAD IN STORM-HIT HAMLET

Little Community in South Carolina Struck By Twister Coming Without Warning After a Calm Evening.

By United Press. LIBERTY, S. C., March 14.—Nine dead and a score injured was the toll of a freak tornado which struck the little community of Six Mile, near here, last night, and the defense had called all but one witness when court recessed for the night.

The State scored a major stroke when an alleged written confession made by Hoobler that he killed Pendergraft and later secreted the body on an abandoned ranch near here was admitted to the record. It was the second blow to the defense since the trial opened. Previously the court had admitted an alleged oral statement which also blamed Hoobler for the crime.

The court in both instances over-ruled defense objections that the statements were secured through duress, Judge B. A. Martin ruled that the statements led to the discovery of Pendergraft's body. Hoobler led officers to the body several days after the slaying.

LAW INQUIRY PLAN GIVEN

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Pres. Hoover today took the first step toward organizing his commission of inquiry to investigate law enforcement and judicial reform throughout the nation. In a conference with Dean Robert M. Hutchins of the Yale law school and Prof. Charles E. Clark of the Yale legal faculty, the President outlined the general plan of procedure and the scope of the undertaking he has in mind.

TRIAL NEARS CONCLUSION

By United Press. WICHITA FALLS, Tex., March 14.—Closing arguments are expected to be the order today in the trial of D. J. Hoobler for the alleged murder of Arthur Pendergraft, wealthy Cotton County (Okla.) farmer, near here Jan. 27.

The State rested Wednesday and the defense had called all but one witness when court recessed for the night. The State scored a major stroke when an alleged written confession made by Hoobler that he killed Pendergraft and later secreted the body on an abandoned ranch near here was admitted to the record. It was the second blow to the defense since the trial opened. Previously the court had admitted an alleged oral statement which also blamed Hoobler for the crime.

MOODY MAKES SPEECH

At 1:10 P. M. House Was Awaiting One Bill From Engrossing Room Before Adjourning.

By United Press. AUSTIN, Tex., March 14.—At 1:10 o'clock the legislature was waiting on one bill to come from the House engrossing room for signature before adjourning.

After that bill is signed, Rep. Ray Holder of Dallas proposes to move that the House concur in the Senate amendments to the motor car registration fee bill.

Opponents can block action by raising the point of no quorum so the 60 per cent reduction will not be possible. The attempt to bring it up is a move to put responsibility for its defeat on bond issue advocates.

Governor Moody was invited to address both the Senate and House shortly before adjournment. In doing so he announced that he will call the special session "about April 15." At 11:47 the House clock was turned back 30 minutes. This was done so that bills already passed and in the engrossing room might be brought to the speaker for signature.

An effort to create a joint committee to study auto registration fees and gasoline tax between sessions was withdrawn when objection was raised.

By concurring in Senate amendments the House made effective a bill allowing the highway commission to close roads and bridges temporarily.

When objections was raised concerning amendments to the new medical practice act, it was withdrawn.

Sen. W. R. Cousins was elected president pro tempore ad interim of the Senate this morning. He defeated Sen. Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock. Sen. Cousins succeeds Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, who served as president pro tempore during this regular session. At the beginning of the special session another president will be elected to succeed Cousins.

Senate voted to postpone consideration of report by the Senate Joint Commission investigating committees until special session.

The House bill making wife and child desertion a felony was passed by the Senate.

A portrait of John Alexander Green was accepted by the Senate to hang on its walls. The picture was presented by Senator W. E. Thomason of Nacogdoches.

AUSTIN, March 14.—With prospects of the final three hours remaining to the regular session of the 1st Legislature being stretched into double that number, the Senate convened at 9 o'clock this morning. The last House session began half an hour later.

Both will likely prolong this session all day noon by turning back the clock. Chief interest of the closing day centered in the probability of action on reduction of registration fees on automobiles.

The House has ordered a 75 per cent cut. The Senate agreed to the cut but changed the maximum amount of the fees that any county can receive to $500,000. This is $100,000 less than the maximum allowed in the House bill. An effort to get the House to agree to this change will be renewed this morning through the Hubbard of New Boston House leader in the defeated movement for the $175,000,000 road bill issue, called for a "dividend" when the attempt was made to amend the bill.

THE IMPORTANCE OF REPARATIONS.

The news stories from Europe telling of the doings of the statesmen who are convening to settle the complicated reparations question do not make very interesting reading to the average man. They are complicated, long and dry. It is hard for the dweller on Main street to get very excited about them.

Nevertheless, the fact remains that these stories are about as important as anything that gets into the daily paper; important not only to the European countries directly involved, but to Americans as well.

The world war pretty definitely proved that no really big event can take place in Europe without affecting America, too. The Atlantic is not as wide as it used to be. Steamers, telegraph wires and the great international network of banking and business have caused Europe very profoundly will affect us, too.

And it so happens that much of the history of Europe during the last couple of decades or so is apt to hinge very largely on the outcome of the present reparations conference.

The allies want Germany to pay for the war. They are trying to find out exactly how much Germany can afford to pay; even more earnestly than that, they are trying to find out exactly how much Germany will be willing to pay.

A European crisis of the first magnitude could easily result if the allies tried to enforce demands on the German people which they would not accept.

Back of all this is a second question; whether England and France are to make friends with their former enemy, co-operate with her and form a sort of triumvirate which, through the League of Nations, could control Europe, or whether they will continue to treat her with coolness.

In the latter case, it is quite possible that Germany might form an alliance with Italy and Russia which would introduce a new and disturbing element into the whole European situation.

The news from the reparations conference, thus, is highly important. It might pay you to keep watching it.

Federal forces were commanded by Gen. Medina Vextia. Insurgents fleeing from Saltillo, which was occupied by federal troops, abandoned nine locomotives and sixty cars near Ceped in State of Coahuila, which were commandeered by federals.

President Portes Gil reiterated his assertion that the rebellion was collapsing.

"It is just a question of mopping up now," he said. "Whatever strength the rebellion had is broken. It may last a week or two longer but it is already over so far as the outcome is concerned."

The west coast and far northern situations were reported satisfactory to the government, and it generally was agreed that, unless the insurgents again escape northward, the decisive battle will take place at Torreon today or tomorrow.

NOGALES, Ariz., March 14.—Three battles, on which hung the fate of Mexico's week and a half old revolution, impended today in Central and Northwest Mexico.

Rebels rushed more troops to Torreon in Durango to defend the rail center against former President Plutarco Elias Calles, who is said to have the largest army ever mobilized in the southern republic.

FLOOD PERIL CONFRONTING THREE STATES

Vicksburg, Miss., and heavy rains in the Missouri and Upper Mississippi valleys are expected to send it higher.

Water is lapping at the top of the levees.

So far no lives have been reported lost but considerable damage has been done in Western Tennessee where inundated highways have forced closing of schools and may cut off removal of inhabitants of lowlands should waters go higher.

Backwater overflowing into lowland counties of Miss., and Eastern Arkansas also has caused extensive damage, reports here indicated, and farmers are removing livestock to the bluffs.

OMAHA, Neb., March 14.—Flood waters of the Platte were pouring into the broad bosom of the Missouri today as residents along the stream from Columbus to Plattsmouth breathed sighs of relief and set about to repair damage done by the most serious flood threat in 17 years.

Bridges were destroyed or damaged, approaches to bridges washed out, thousands of acres of bottomland flooded and traffic on many highways halted by the flood.

Chucks of ice 30 and 40 inches thick pounded bridges and dikes all day Wednesday and far into the night. Hundreds of workers toiled ceaselessly until the danger was past.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Mar. 14.—Waters from the Gon Du Lac river and De Neveu creek left their banks today and flooded sections of the city. Parts of the residential district were under water and damage to property was unestimated.

ST JOSEPH, Mo., March 14.—Many thousands of dollars damage had been caused today by streams in Northwestern Missouri and Southern Iowa going out of banks. The Nodaway and Platte rivers are flowing over lowlands and injuring crops, highways, and bridges.

CHICAGO, March 14.—Several sections of Illinois faced grave flood dangers today as streams and tributaries, fed by melted snows and ice, continued to rise steadily. Galena and East Freeport, in the northern part of the State, apparently were hardest hit, although several other communities reported near flood conditions.

22 Snakes Taken From a Single Den

CISCO, Texas, March 14.—Twenty-two snakes, 21 of them rattlers, was the haul made by a group of Cisco men who last Sun day raided a den located on the farm of Tom Mashburn, about six miles north of Cisco.

The 22nd snake was a prairie runner found embedded with the hibernating rattlers. This, according to snake hunters, is not an unusual occurrence.

The den was located by Mr. Mashburn who found a rattler sunning itself upon a large rock. This was evidence that snakes in large numbers existed beneath the rock and according to a party composed of Walter Webb, Hoyt Agnew, Obo Kean, Bill McCall and Ted Bacon went to the place Sunday, drilled a hole 12 inches deep in the rock, put in a stick or two of dynamite and blasted it out. Then, with the embedded snakes in a dazed condition from the shock of the blast, the men, working rapidly, pulled the reptiles from the den with long poles equipped with fishhooks and dispatched them summarily.

The reptiles measured in length from three and one-half to four and one-half. The oldest had 14 rattlers.

Butler Plans to Remain a Marine

CHESTER, Pa., March 14.—Thirty years of active service on the nation's far-flung battle line policies have failed to dim the dynamic nature of General Smedley D. Butler, United States marine corps.

The "game-cock" of the marines now enjoying a rest after three years of service commanding the American forces in China, says emphatically that he intends to keep in active service if he remains with the corps. It is understood the general will refuse the offer of command of Paris Island, N. C. if this isolated post is offered him.

General Butler has gained an international reputation as a soldier. He participated in most military actions in which the American shock troops were used during the present century and has been honored repeatedly by congress. He has completed the time required in the corps which permits retire-

Pruitt was convicted of murder in the shooting to death of William Menn, 17-year-old high school boy during a holdup.

Tennessee Women Workers In Riot

By United Press.

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., March 14.—After a hectic night of marching women strikers, fiery soapbox speeches and a monster mass meeting, Elizabethton was quiet today pending a wage scale meeting that may settle a strike of textile workers or result in further rioting and bloodshed.

Unincited at a gathering last night which was marked by threats, cheers and inflammatory speeches, 1,500 workers, mostly boys and girls and women, subsided temporarily until a delegation confers today with Dr. Arthur Mothwurf, president of the American Glanzstoff yarn manufacturers.

The Glanzstoff plant was closed yesterday when 400 workers, most of them women, stormed the gates and demanded more pay and shorter hours.

Undergoes 47 Operations in Six Years —And He Wants to Be A Doctor!

By United Press.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, March 14.—Ralph Snodgrass, 18-year-old high school student of Cedar Rapids, could sing "Oh-h-h, my operation" with feeling and experience for in the past six years he has been under the surgeon's knife 47 times and has been under anaesthetics more than 30 times.

And because he admires the surgeons at the University hospital at Iowa City who have operated on him and because he has become so familiar with hospitals and the instruments of surgery, he has decided to become a doctor!

Ralph suffered from an infection of the bone due to a scratch suffered on one of his great toes on Labor day, 1922. After spending eight months in bed, during which time his weight dropped from 96 to 46 pounds, he was taken to the University hospital for his first operation. He was so weak, however, that it was two weeks before sufficient resistance could be built up for the operation.

The femur bone of the left leg had decayed from the infection. To save the leg from amputation the softened portion of the bone was cut away, leaving just a thin stem. In turning the boy on the operating table, this was broken, but it was placed in splints and now nature has almost filled the gap.

The disease broke out at different times in different places—a toe, a leg, a collar bone, a rib had to be scraped when the infection appeared. The boy became so weak from such continual operating that a quart of blood had to be transfused at one time.

Some of the operations were done under local anaesthetics, but most of them were under general. Four times ether was administered, once chloroform and 25 times morphine.

Ralph Snodgrass... 47 operations in the past six years. He has a total of 17 separate scars, the longest of which is 12 inches. Many of the wounds had to be reopened a second and third time.

He recently returned to school after his last operation, performed in November.

HY FARMERS ORGANIZE

WINCY A. MAIN, who are organizing, we see every hand, but we are not making much of an effort to make much of an effort. Why do we do it? And why after we do it? Perhaps we could tell better. One has said that an organization is "You and your banded together to do or get something, for profit in other words. In Bureau it truly is "You neighbor," your neighbor state and your neighbor nation. A farmer, no where he lives is your things he wants are the things you want, are your needs and his son is your organization can join hands with matter where he lives to the things you both most both need something want it, want it hard to work for it, fight for it, then we will get industry and labor only to their reward when they working and fighting through organization now have their example inspiration and we furrow that to meet them on farms we too must have organization. There are five things that we can get through in Bureau. First of all a voice in marketing facts. About all the voice now is in just saying "ouch". We realize that this voice we must fight for follow is not going to easily what he has so as his right. The utility of our marketing work is able to meet the other side the table and set the having due regard to the production. We believe entitled to a fair profit we produce, just as any one. Some people think no right to market our products, they have been the price so long they it their privilege to do he would give us a deal we would allow him but we now know we can expect a price barely keep us going, vainly that things will be next year. We know that meet our effort along this every scheme to defeat in think of unfair tactics all the power of his. We have the advantage, we have the stuff first can't get it unless we let it and this is what we going to do unless the right. We can have to say about that. It fight to the finish now. It's a poor farmer who can farmers have always when they saw the need. Surely we have enough here. It can be it is being done and every can help it along by joint organization, the Farm er thing we want to do our cost of production. We this by adopting better using better machinery service but over his pay and by cooperative purchase of raw materials that we our manufacturing plant, organized effort we can needs and buy at whole the output of whole at a time. We will act as a salesman, buying what we need. Just cutting the selling the product to us up a lot and we will be ally with industry that is in large units. This take such a fight to put it cutting the cost is just portant as raising the price, and both however. We want the price to the consumers reasonable as possible. If give us our fair profit, her thing we want is an opportunity in government relative matters. Any organization can get laws passed favors its members or interests. We know this because it being done every time legislature or congress is in session. It is unfortunate that taking has developed into a lobby, but since it is thing we can do is to an organization that can these other organizations' terms. We must do that is, unless we are satisfied on the back seat and sit when the rest are up to the counter and their piece of pie. No worth his salt is willing this. It won't do any good from the back seat, they bring it to us, we must it. Only through organization we hope to get it. Our Farm Bureau has doing just this thing in the capital and in many as well. We can only help by joining and boosting an organization. Another thing we want is standard of living on the and the income from the to pay the bill. Surely farm home is just as much to hardwood floors, good rugs, pictures, books, a neat, modern kitchen and room conveniences as any one. Some few farms have things or could get them all too true that the majority of farm homes have them because they the income to pay for Through organized effort we can bring them to our homes sooner than we could in any other way. Then the city will lose some of its attractiveness and a better class of young folks will stay on the farms and the rural districts will continue to be the residing place of the most intelligent, prosperous and happy people of America. The question of peasantry will no longer be a menace to our country. The American farm home will continue to be the most important spot in the world and the United States may continue to draw its most distinguished citizens from this unfulfilling source of supply. Are you willing to help by giving your support, your time and some of your money? Then join the Farm Bureau.

Last of all, or maybe it should be first of all, we want to better serve our home, our community and our state. Our community comes next after our home and it is here that organization plays a most important part. There is no community that can be made better, a more wholesome place to live, a better informed and more friendly group of people. A community never grows better by accident. It takes work on somebody's part, always there will be some sort of an organization behind any improvement. If the Farm Bureau did nothing but make our community better it would still be a wonderful organization and one well worthy of every man's support. Are you willing to do a little work for this cause? Then organize your community on the Farm Bureau plan and move on towards the goal of a better community. You can do it.

of the Jews were commemorative of something. Their Passover of the night march from Egypt, their Pentecost of the giving of the law at Sinai. These belonged to the Jewish institution and fell into disuse only when the old Jewish garment, rent and torn in a hundred of its seams, was laid aside. The Sabbath gave way to the new day in which Jesus arose from the dead Pentecost was on the first day, being fifty days after the Passover feast. On that day the church began. Thereafter the day began to be used as a time of solemn assembly. The old Jewish Sabbath was nailed to the cross, (Col. 2:16-17) The resurrection day was a protest against Judaism and the first day of a new period. It is the duty of Christians to observe the Lord's Supper on that day in commemoration of risen Saviour and in gratitude for what His salvation means. It should be a day spent not only with God but for God. Manual labor should be laid aside as far as consistent with the law of Christian love. It is not a day of revelry, neither for gloom, but for religious delight and joyous service. It is necessary not only to the spiritual growth of believers, but for the physical good of man.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE CHRISTIAN SABBATH
Ex. 20:8-11; Matt. 12:1-8; Jn. 20:19; Rev. 1:10.
GODEN TEXT — "For the Son of man is the Lord of the Sabbath."
Matt. 12:8.

INTRODUCTION
"The Bible nowhere speaks of a 'Christian Sabbath.' There is absolutely no relation whatever between the Jewish Sabbath and the Lord's day, because these days commemorate events so wide apart as the poles." (Smith). The Sabbath was set apart for the Jews to remember their deliverance from Egyptian bondage. "And remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and that the Lord thy God brought thee out thence, through a mighty hand, and by a stretched out arm: therefore the Lord thy God commanded to keep the Sabbath day." The Sabbath was not given to any people except the Jews, and they were to refrain from all manual labor, remembering the time of their emancipation. The church of Christ stands not at the foot of Mt. Sinai except as it recognizes the unchangeable moral principles of the commandments. Christianity stands at the mouth of the open tomb. The resurrection is the fundamental truth on which the church rests. This was an event far greater than the deliverance of Israel from Egyptian slavery.

The Lord's day and the first day of the week are one and the same, deriving its significance from the fact that Jesus rose on that day from the tomb; and the followers of Christ meet upon this day to commemorate their deliverance from the bondage of sin. Acts 20:7; Rom 6:17-18. The Sabbath day, and the Lord's day are placed side by side that man should not confuse them. We read, "Now late on the Sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulcher." Matt. 28:1. Let us have the proper conception of the difference between the two days lest we thoughtlessly mix Judaism with Christianity.

COMMENTARY
"Remember the Sabbath day." To keep the day "holy" was to observe it as and divine appointment. "Six days thou shalt labor," Enough days are provided in the week to take care of every secular task, therefore he who idles away time on any of the six days, is guilty before God. "At that season Jesus went on the Sabbath day through the grainfields; and his disciples were hungry and began to pluck ears and to eat. But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said unto him, behold thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the Sabbath. But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was hungry, and they that were with him; How he entered into the house of God, and ate the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for the priests? Or have ye not read in the law, that on the Sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath, and are guiltless? But I say unto you, that one greater than the temple is here. But if ye had known what this meaneth, I would not have commanded you to do that which is unlawful. For the Son of man is Lord of the Sabbath." Here the Jewish leaders are in a controversy with the Jewish Messiah, the son of God. They understood God to require sacrifice, some outer thing, some act performed, some pleasure denied, but the gratification of Deity. But it was the inner graces in themselves God was seeking to encourage. Their mistaken zeal for a form had blighted the very thing the form was meant to inspire.

Give freely

When your Children Cry for It

Mothers, who take one simple precaution, are seldom worried. With a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria in the house they can do what their doctor would tell them to do when baby is fretful, feverish, colicky, constipated or stuffed-up with cold—give a few drops of this pure vegetable, pleasant-tasting preparation. It comforts baby and soothes him to sleep in a jiffy. It's perfectly safe for the youngest infant. Use it freely—and as often as needed, specialists advise. A more liberal dose is all it takes to comfort and relieve older children, when feverishness, bad breath, no appetite, colds, etc., show they need a good purgative. The mark of genuine Castoria is the Fletcher signature on the wrapper. Look for it to avoid imitations.

Minister Testifies As To Booze In A Trial

By United Press.

Bates testified that he saw some broken jars and smelled whiskey in the garage in the rear of Goodspeed's home in Nocona on the night of Jan. 13 when Goodspeed is alleged to have shot and killed City Marshal A. R. Gooch. The shooting occurred as Gooch was conducting a liquor raid. The state rested late Wednesday and defense testimony commenced this morning.

MANY PLAN TO ATTEND CONFERENCE
Enthusiastic Response Made By District Rotary Clubs.
Enthusiastic responses are pouring in on the eve of the Rotary district conference in Ranger.

J. H. Allison, one of the foremost publishers of Texas, responding to a special invitation, declares he is looking forward with deep pleasure to attending. Allison, former publisher of the Fort Worth Record and the Ranger Times was allied with that paper, is now vice president of the Times Publishing company of Wichita Falls, owner of the Daily Times and Record News. He was president of the Fort Worth Rotary club when the Ranger club was organized and he aided in its organization.

A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, will attend, he writes. So will Dr. R. T. Wilson, F. A. C. K., of Temple. In fact, Temple will extend an invitation for the 1930 conference.

From distant Dalhart, 15 Rotarians and Rotary Anns plan to attend, A. T. Holcomb writes. And at least six Quana Rotarians will be present.

These expressions are merely typical of the dozens received daily and point to the overwhelming success that will mark the conference.

Support of Cisco was assured by Ray Williams, visiting Rotarian from that city. Other speakers—the program was informal—included Dr. L. C. G. Buchanan, C. E. May, M. R. Newnam, M. K. Collier, B. H. Paacock, L. B. Pearson, Walter Harwell, Mayor John Thurman, F. G. Yonker and W. R. Pettitt. Visiting Rotarians were D. Hassen, Cisco; Grady Pippin, Eastland, and Raymond Williams, Cisco. Guests were Bert Ford, Dallas, R. F. Holloway and Fire Chief Murphy of Ranger and Boyce House of Eastland, President Andy Anderson president. He stated that the Ranger club has held six consecutive meetings, marked by perfect attendance. Absent members this week—three in number—will make up their attendance at a neighboring club session.

CARS FOR VISITORS ASSURED
Boy Scouts Will Render Aid; Rotarians Make Plans.
Ranger, Texas, March 14 — Discussion of details relative to the approaching district conference in Ranger featured the weekly luncheon session of the Ranger Rotary Club at noon Wednesday at the Gholson hotel.

Arrangements have been made for 75 or more automobiles to be provided by Ranger people—in addition to a large number offered by Eastland citizens—so that all the hundreds of visitors will have awaiting them at all times a car to take them wherever they desire to go.

Autos will be kept throughout each day at the airport and when a number of Rotarians, who will arrive by plane, swoop down from the clouds, there will be no delay in conveying them into the city.

A loud speaker will be installed in the Gholson to make the task of paging visitors easy and swift.

Boy Scouts of Eastland, Cisco and Ranger will be available to give information, run errands and render help in general.

The cleanup committee reported that the full complement of trucks would not be out until a day or two later because of mud but that the collected rubbish would be hauled away. It was suggested that old awnings in the business section come down.

Another suggestion offered was that the citizens in general cooperate by not parking their cars on side streets uptown and leaving them all day unless absolutely necessary during the two days, as space will be needed to park the vast number of cars in connection with the conference.

OIL NEWS

By United Press.
 FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., March 14.—Fayetteville's optimism over the finding of a strong flow of gas in the test well being drilled twenty miles east of here by the Independent Oil and Gas company is not shared entirely by company officials. The estimate of two million cubic feet of gas daily has been lowered to one million, according to the officials.

Indications so far are very satisfactory, however, company men said, and the possibility of finding large quantities of gas or oil is very good.

The well, being drilled by the Independent Oil and Gas company, is at a depth of 565 feet. Drilling has been suspended until a larger casing is set and the hole enlarged and straightened.

Whether we call it Utopia, the Golden Age, the Kingdom of Heaven, or by whatever name, there never can be an ideal society without ideal men. There can be no Golden Age without golden character, no golden thought and actions of the people who make up daily life.

So it was that Jesus built the Kingdom of Heaven, not upon laws, or programs, or theories, but upon love and goodness. He said, "The Kingdom of God is within you." It has its sources and incentives in the souls of men, and the outward things of life are right or wrong according as the inner life purposes are pure or impure.

It has been well said, "You cannot make a palace out of mud bricks." Even Jesus did not attempt to do that. He built the Kingdom of Heaven by building into it ordinary men, but only as he turned the dross of their lives into gold.

The Golden Age, when it comes, will not just happen, or come as a result of outward circumstances. It will come from redeemed humanity expressing the love and richness of a new life.

Shine Boys Cannot Afford to Give "Dry Service" With a Ten Cent Shine

(From Ranger Times)
 The present city administration has confronted numerous problems during the past two years. It has paved streets and constructed sewer lines and storm sewers, but it hadn't done anything hard until Tuesday night.

At that time they reduced the price of shoe shines in Ranger—at least for one week. One lone week.

Eight representatives of the shining industry were present to voice their opinions regarding the slashing.

Those eight were the cream of the shine world, the elite of the Ranger flats.

There was "Fats" from the Gohlson Barber shop, and "Slim" from Rusk street, and six others. A couple carried guitars with them.

Those dusky shoe glisteners were willing to cut the price of a shine to a thin dime, was sir, they were. They wanted to help out with this "Rodeo" convention. Yes, sir, they would sure cut down to a dime for the Rotarians. But there they stopped.

DRY SERVICE.
 "I can't afford to get just a dime for a shine all time," grumbled one of the rag boys. "I give 30 cents worth of 'dry' service for every shine."

In explanation he pointed out that "dry" service was the brushing and raddown that follows each shine.

of shame to the cheeks of each of the shoe-string Sams. It was useless.

"We shine for a dime during the convention week but we have to have 15 cents," was the only answer.

Finally a proposition was made. L. R. Pearson, police and fire commissioner, suggested that the boys start wielding the rag next Monday for a dime, and continue all of that week.

"Compare your receipts this week with those of next, and if you have more at the close of next week, let the price remain a dime," Pearson said. That sounded like a fair proposition. But not for long. Eight dusky shine boys displayed eight dusky grins.

"RODEO" BOYS.
 "Tain't fair, 'cause them 'Rodeo' boys will all get their shoes shined and we will take in more."

Futile efforts. Those boys of high finance know the laws of supply and demand, the business cycle, the rise and the slump.

Ranger shines have always been 15 cents. They must remain so. For one week, sure, but for an eternity, no indeed.

So beginning Monday morning, shines will be 15 cents per. At the close of Saturday night's business the shine boys' aid with the Rotary convention will be over. Things get back to normal. Shines will be 15 cents with nothing charged with tearing up one's clothing with a hard bristle brush.

The city administration felt as if it hadn't accomplished much for humanity.
