Negro Boy Confesses To Fatal Poisoning

ADMITS ATTEMPT TO POISON OTHERS

Youth Confesses After A Month's Confinement In Dallas Jail.

DALLAS, Dec. 7.—A 12-year old negro boy who acted as nurse to younger negro children told Assistant District Attorney King how he poisoned one of the children, attempted to poison the mother and to plan to poison another child.

The statement was made Friday after the boy had been in the county jail more than a month, during which he refused to talk.

Theo Parker, the child who was poisoned, died at a hospital about 6 weeks ago from the effects of poison which Earl Smith, the 12 year old negro, said he administered.

Lucile Parker, 57, mother of the boy, had to start work about six months to support her children and friends told her she could trust Earl to take care of the children, Theo and May Helen, less than a year old.

Earl Smith soon became tired of this. About 6 weeks ago he found a bottle of poison in the kitchen. While he was feeding oatmeal to three-year old Theo, Earl gave the children a spoonful of poison right after a spoonful of oatmeal. The child screamed and Earl ran, he said. The next day, Theo died.

The mother started to prepare some cocoa the next morning and she noticed the powder was damp. She examined it and found it was saturated with poison. Until Friday, Earl refused to make any statement concerning the death of Theo or his attempt to poison Theo's mother.

When he told his story, he declared "I just got tired of taking care of these kids."

Gasoline Industry Is Record Breaker

By greater coordination between oil producing companies and elimination of wasteful competition, the oil industry could increase its profits without materially raising prices to consumers of oil products such as gasoline and fuel oil.

In a recent discussion of this phase of the petroleum industry, The Lamp said:

"Substantial savings can be made in the production of crude oil. Economies will result when the storage of crude and finished products can be reduced. Refinery operations also offer opportunities for lower costs, and, of course, it is patent to all that the country has been over-supplied with retail outlets.

"Here is an industry that is free from depressions in consumption with an ever-expanding market for its products, supplying a commodity in general use, blessed with an ample reserve of raw materials; an industry that made possible the automobile, that has been alert to improve manufacturing processes and enlarge its markets and one which has been generally the beneficiary of excellent management.

"Petroleum is not a controlled industry. There is in it no single or group interest which by virtue of its size is dominant. Competition has run wild, and often destructively. It has brought in new producing fields before they were needed and forced the sale of surplus of crude at ruinous prices. Competition has built too many refineries and pipe lines. The surplus of products led to over-building in retail outlets. All along the line over-production has been costly. Like a man on an icy hill, the industry has tried to keep his feet by ever running faster."

Ten years ago, 92,000,000 barrels of gasoline were consumed and exported from the United States. Five years ago 199,000,000 barrels were required and in 1928, 390,000,000 barrels will be necessary to fill the demand. This is an increase in demand for gasoline of over four times in ten years, which is probably a record-breaker for all time.

COUNTY WIDE BAR MEETING IS SET

A county wide meeting of the Eastland county bar has been called for Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the 8th District court room in the old Eastland High school building. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the problems confronting the attorneys and litigants of the County because of the State Supreme court ruling that the Eastland County court-at-law was unconstitutional and its acts void.

It is the opinion of many of the lawyers that the Legislature should pass another bill creating a County court to take up the work that was being done by the court that was held unconstitutional, with the exception of course, that it would be given jurisdiction over probate matters.

This is especially necessary now since the work the other court has done for nine years must be done over.

Senator Joe Bailey Is To Speak At Law Dinner

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 6.—Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey has been announced as the chief speaker for the program for the annual banquet of the School of Law at the University of Texas to be held Monday, December 10. Judges of all the higher courts of the State will be among the guests at the affair, and attendance is expected to exceed that at any previous dinner the School of Law has ever held.

"Not a Coif in a Car-load" is expected to be the inscription which will appear on the banner over the table of Delta Phi Delta, "onery" fraternity of the School. This group, offering a take-off on Chancellors, honorary society which selects its members by "tapping" them at the law banquet, will notify its neophytes of their election by "slapping" them at the same social function. The motto has been chosen as a humorous reflection on the Order of the Coif, international law society of high standing.

Peroginus, patron saint of the School of Law, will make his appearance at the banquet under suitable guard, according to Arley V. Knight of Austin, president of the school. Speakers representing each of the three classes will address the group.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL
AUSTIN, Texas.—Intramural basketball entries at the University of Texas total 59, according to a recent announcement by Berry Whitaker, intramural athletic director. These include 27 fraternity teams, 20 independent groups, four Sunday School teams and seven departmental teams. Preliminary contests began December 3, while the finals will be held in the spring semester.

GANGLAND GUNS CLAIM LIFE OF CHIEF

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—The "Alky" was blared up again last night and claimed the life of Leroy Gilbert, chief of police of South Chicago Heights, a suburb on the south line of Cook County.

Gilbert was killed as he sat reading a paper in the living room of his home. Three volleys of shotgun slugs, fired through a window almost decapitated him.

Mrs. Gilbert was wounded, a finger on her left hand being severed as she arose from a couch at the rear of the shotgun. A 12-year old daughter, studying in another room, was unhurt. Four other children were in bed.

University Honor System Abolished

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—The honor system at the University of Texas will be abandoned effective January 3, after having been in force since 1883. The vote to abolish it was cast last night at an executive session of the students assembly.

The faculty and board of regents are requested to arrange other measures of supervising examinations in the future. A committee of five students and four faculty members was suggested.

John D. Rockefeller Starts Winter Golf

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 7.—John D. Rockefeller was settled comfortably in his winter home here today, planning to enjoy another season of golf and motoring. "Neighbor John", as the citizens of this city call the 89-year old man, arrived last night with a party of 14 including members of his household retinue and three guests. His plans for today call for nine holes of golf on the Ormond Beach course.

Mr. Rockefeller was greeted by a good-sized crowd when he alighted from his private car. Cameramen photographed him and Boy Scouts lead the way with torches to waiting auto. He walked with a firm step, leaning lightly on the arm of an attendant.

Superintendent Visits Olden School

Miss Beulah Speer, county school superintendent spent Thursday on a visit at the Olden school and reports the teachers and pupils doing splendid work.

The teachers are: Louis Smith, superintendent; Miss Ott, Miss Guy, June Hargus, Miss Birmingham, Miss Carmen Sawyer and Mrs. Joe Stephen, a assistants.

The Olden Parent Teachers Association held its regular meeting Thursday. For this occasion the pupils of Miss Birmingham rendered a program. Following the program refreshments were served.

Axe Swinging Papas Mess Mesquite Limbs

From the East, from the northwest the stores and from the street corners, came the guests to attend Eastland's first "mesquite party."

Hands, white and soft, had axe and hoe, crowbar and rake thrust into them.

For the airport had begun, the first step towards obtaining for Eastland a first class landing field and aviation port has been taken. Over 50 men were clearing off the field just east of the Bell-Hurst poultry farm, early this afternoon. It was the belief that all the mesquite and other timber that abounds on the airport site would be removed by this afternoon at 6 o'clock.

Looks Desperate, Doesn't He?

"Bang! Bang!" went Calvin's trusty shotgun, and two more clay birds bit the dust. It was at Swananoa Club, near Waynesboro, Va., that President Coolidge, prevented by a light drizzle from hunting quail, went to the traps to try his aim. Here you see him, in costume reminiscent of the Black Hills days, drawing a bead on a flying target. Mrs. Coolidge, with a small movie camera, stands by and records her husband's prowess.

Railroad Executive Dies On Eve Of Retirement

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 7.—On the eve of his retirement from the active railroad field in which he had been a prominent figure for years, Edward J. Pearson, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, died today at Johns Hopkins hospital.

He was 66 years old and was to have resigned from the presidency of the big Eastern line on Dec. 31. A cerebral hemorrhage was given as the cause of death.

It was learned Mrs. Pearson had left New Haven shortly before 10 a. m. in a private electric train en route to Baltimore. The combination private car and electric locomotive was given the right-of-way in order to speed the wife of the dead executive here.

Pearson began his railroad career in 1881 as an engineer with the Missouri Pacific system in the West and only two weeks ago, owing to failing health, presented his resignation to the board of directors of the system.

His resignation was accepted but was not to become effective until the end of this year. No successor had been appointed.

FLAPPER TYPE IS WANTED FOR MURDER

CANTON, Ohio, Dec. 7.—Police and county authorities today launched a search for a girl who called Bernard Fern, 35, to the porch of his home at Waco and killed him. Five shots were fired into Fern's body. Before he died, he told his wife he did not know the girl who, it was learned, calmly boarded a Canton bus and disappeared.

Fern died in his wife's arms. Mrs. Fern told officers that they were dining when someone rapped on the front door. Mrs. Fern answered the knock and the young woman, described by Mrs. Fern as the "flapper type," asked for Fern. Then she stepped down off the porch. As Fern appeared, she fired. He fell with five wounds in his body.

The girl ran out of the yard and down the road, Mrs. Fern said. A few minutes later, she hailed a bus and was en route to Canton.

Clarence Saunders Store To Open Saturday

G. C. Nelson and C. L. Evans is opening in Eastland tomorrow a Clarence Saunders grocery store, which will be one of the more than a thousand Saunders stores in the United States.

The Clarence Saunders stores are operated on the "help yourself" plan, having a number of patented features that other chain stores do not have. They also have the advantage of the co-operative buying power of the Saunders organization.

Evans, who has moved his family to Eastland, will have charge of the Eastland store, which is located in what was the Knight Printing Company on West Main street. R. C. (Bob) Tindall, experienced meat cutter and market operator, will have charge of the market in the new store. Lowell Snyder, also of Eastland, will be in charge of the checking department.

Wife Killer Goes To His Death Calmly

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., Dec. 7.—With a nonchalant attitude that approached defiance, James Joseph Malone, convicted wileslayer and leader in a Thanksgiving day escape plot from condemned row, died on the prison gallows today.

Malone walked firmly up the 17 steps shortly after 10 a. m. He spurned the aid of guards on either side and took his place on the trap calmly, smoking a cigarette.

New Motor To Pump Oil From Deep Well

Electrical and oil operators are interested in a new invention called the "Bolshevik" motor. Such a motor is being installed by the Phillips Petroleum Company in a well located about six miles northwest of Shidler, Okla., in the Burbank field.

The Oklahoma Power & Light Company, through its generating system in Sand Springs, Okla., will furnish the power for the motor. The motor is but seven inches in diameter and approximately twenty feet long with a pump attachment which is also seven inches in diameter and approximately ten feet long. It will develop about 50 horsepower. The usual 50 horsepower motor is about three feet in diameter and three feet long.

The motor is being installed in the bottom of an oil well over one half mile underground. Besides the tubing, a heavily armored cable will carry the electricity to the bottom of the deep well to run the motor. This motor is called "Bolshevik" because its inventor is a

KILLS BRIDE THEN TURNS GUN ON HIMSELF

Daughter of Fort Worth Couple Is Victim of Shooting Tragedy.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 7.—T. B. Owens Jr., 18, shot and killed his bride of four months, Reta Landis Owens, 20, and then shot himself through the head here shortly before noon.

The shooting took place on the Benbrook road west of city where the couple had stopped their auto. Mrs. Owens is the daughter of D. S. Landis, US weather man here. Owens' parents live in New York. Thomas B. Owens Jr., 18, Friday afternoon, was struggling against the death to which he sent his bride shortly before noon, with 2 pistol bullets through her temple.

He is at St. Joseph's infirmary with a bullet from the same gun through his forehead and attendant physicians have operated but with little hope of saving his life.

The couple had married August 4 and had just returned from a long honeymoon in New York where they had visited his parents. They lived in Fort Worth but spent much of their time at the home of Col. and Mrs. Landis, mother and father of Mrs. Owen.

The shooting, according to Landis, was the aftermath of a little quarrel they had Thursday. According to informants, the couple were no witnesses to the actual shooting.

KELLOGG STANDS INDEFENSE OF HIS ANTI-WAR PACT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg's defense of his anti-war treaty under questioning by some doubtful members of the Senate foreign relations was the outstanding development of the day in Congress. The treaty has been signed by 59 nations. Some of his questioners talked vaguely about the desirability of a reservation protecting this nation from European intrigues. Kellogg maintained the treaty did that as it stood.

NORTHCOTT ILL

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—While Gordon Stewart Northcott lay in the county jail here today, ill with influenza, authorities of Los Angeles and Riverside county tightened the web of evidence about four members of the Northcott family implicated in the Riverside chicken farm murders. Efforts to find the graves of "murder farm" victims were suspended temporarily pending the pending temporarily pending Northcott recovery. Physicians said today that he would not be in condition to assist in the search before Sunday.

Dan! needn't be so officious. Where did you leave your wrap?" "Upstairs, in Miss Lebaudy's room," Jerry answered diffidently. She was too upset, too confused, to know what to do.

"Come with me, then," Alester replied, "around to the side entrance. I'll get your wrap." They were gone when Dan returned to the garden to report to Jerry that he had been unable to get her coat from the attendant in the dressing room, and to ask if she had a check. He found his own coat on the bench and thought Jerry might have walked off down the path and collapsed.

The sound of a motor—a motor that he instantly recognized—purring among the parked cars did not draw his eyes in that direction. There was a light there. He could see Alester's black roadster pull out and start for the highway. And in the seat beside the driver he could see a huddled figure that he knew must be Jerry.

"I'd better take you some place and get you a drink," Alester said to Jerry before they had gone far. Jerry shuddered.

"No, no. I never want another drink as long as I live! Please take me straight home." "Oh, come now, Jerry. Don't be a bum sport. As long as you aren't hurt there's nothing to get sore about. Things like that happen at the best regulated parties. I'm sorry I left you but I—er—Leontine had a few people upstairs and I didn't think you would care to join us—"

His voice trailed off in his sheer inability to drag the lie out any further. But Jerry was too distraught to weigh his words. She did not suspect that he had been alone with Leontine.

Alester was making excuses now only because he thought her refusal to accompany him to another roadhouse was prompted by pique over being abandoned to the mercy of his hilarious friends.

"I'm cold in these wet clothes," Jerry said, her teeth beginning to chatter. "Take me home."

She spoke pleadingly because she hadn't either the strength or the will power to be assertive. "I know a cure for that," Alester answered. "We'll stop at Car-moor and I'll get a dress for you from my sister's room."

"But I want to go home," Jerry wailed. "I've had enough—fun." Alester drove on in silence. Jerry didn't know what he was going to do, and her helplessness to combat him started her to sobbing again. He glanced down at her, frowning.

"All right," he gave in; "it isn't necessary to cry." But Jerry's sobs continued, low and painful, while the black roadster tore along at a furious pace on the country roads. She was glad Alester didn't want to talk to her. His silence, if indicative of anger, failed to add anything to her troubles. She felt crushed as it was. Falling in love with a man she would not marry—and faced with a situation with a situation that might land her in prison!

sleep. She sat up in alarm. "Who is it?" she cried loudly. The answer came in a broken voice. "It's what's left of me." Myrtle jumped out of bed and snapped on the light. Jerry stood in the middle of the room, removing her coat. "What's happened to you?" Myrtle asked fearfully. Then: "Oh, my God, Jerry, where did you get that dress? Don't you know there's a special detective watching the ladies this week?" (To be continued)

E. 1-4 of Section No. 7, D. & D. Assylum Land of the probable value of $1,000.00.

That there is personal property of the value of $75.00, making a total value of assets in the sum of $25,000.00.

That there is an indebtedness on said estate in the sum of $10,066.64 which amount the plaintiff heretofore, Minnie Lay, paid out of her separate funds, which was and is a debt of the estate of said D. L. Lay and wife, and that she is entitled to recover said sum of money, plaintiff says that the above described property is susceptible of partition.

WHEREFORE, premises considered, Plaintiff prays that upon final hearing hereof she have judgment for her debt in the sum of $10,066.94; for partition of said estate and lien upon the same to secure her said debt, and in the alternative she have judgment for her debt, and sale of said property and distribution thereof after sum of them be cited to appear and answer herein and upon final trial hereof proof of heirship be made and determined and judgment fixing the interest, if any, of each of the plaintiff and defendants herein in said property or the proceeds hereof and for costs of suit and such other and further relief as to the court may appear meet and proper.

Herein fail not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Eastland this 7th day of December, A. D. 1928.

SHERIFF'S SALE THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF EASTLAND

My virtue of a certain alias execution issued out of the Honorable 91st District Court of Eastland County, on the 21st day of November, 1928, by Wilbourne E. Collie, Clerk of said Court, against P. H. Davis for the sum of Nine Hundred ($900.00) Dollars and costs of suit, in cause No. 12,251 in said court, styled Higginbotham-Bartlett Company, a corporation, versus P. H. Davis, and placed in my hands for service, I, John S. Hart, as Sheriff of Eastland County, Texas, did on the 21st day of November, 1928, levy on certain real estate situated in Eastland County, described as follows, to-wit:

All the right, title and interest of P. H. Davis in and to Lots 6, 8 and 10, Block 36, Daugherty Addition to the City of Eastland, Texas, and levied upon as the property of said P. H. Davis, and on Tuesday, the 1st day of January, 1929, at the Court House door of Eastland County, in the city of Eastland, Texas, between the hours of ten a. m. and four p. m. I will sell said real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder as the property of said P. H. Davis by virtue of said levy and said alias execution.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Eastland Daily Telegram, a newspaper published in Eastland County.

Witness my hand, this 24th day of November, 1928.

For Colds

How many people you know end their colds with Bayer Aspirin! And how often you've heard of its prompt relief of sore throat or tonsillitis. No wonder millions take it for colds, neuralgia, rheumatism; and the aches and pains that go with them. The wonder is that anyone still worries through a winter without these tablets! They relieve quickly, yet have no effect whatever on the heart. Friends have told you Bayer Aspirin is marvelous; doctors have declared it harmless. Every druggist has it, with proven directions. Why not put it to the test?

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacturers of Monacoville, Germany of Kallewerke

LEGION IN FAVOR OF BETTER ROADS

The American Legion, Department of Texas, at its State Convention in Texarkana in August adopted a broad and constructive Legislative Program, according to Rufus F. Scott, Jr., of Paris, State Commander.

"The Legion in Texas" says Mr. Scott, "is going before the 41st Legislature in January in behalf of our Road System, Legal Reform, Memorial Armories for the Texas National Guard and adequate, modern hospitals for the insane of the State. These requests are not for the personal, selfish benefit of our own membership but for the general welfare of Texas."

"The American Legion believes that our highways are a state problem, that they should be adequate and that the burden of their building and maintenance should be on traffic and not on land. The man who uses roads should pay for them. We will cooperate as fully as we can to make this ideal a reality in Texas."

The ex-service men wish a complete study made of the entire legal system to ascertain if the security and happiness of our citizenship is best served by the present scheme, if not, what changes are desirable to guarantee this.

Further, the 200,000 former service men of Texas believe that since the State built the memorial hospital at Kerrville as a monument to our War dead, that it is not ethical for the state to sell the Memorial without re-investing the proceeds in some other monument. The one and a half million dollars secured from the lease and sale of the Memorial Hospital is sacred, consecrated to the memory of the 5,146 "Buddies" who made supreme sacrifices. The Legion wants this spent on Memorial Armories, which will appropriately commemorate the patriotism of those who have "gone west" and serve a necessary function to the state in assuring us of a sane, sensible program of preparedness.

"Our organization believes that the best interests of the state demand modern hospitals for the treatment of our insane or mentally sick. Expert alienists tell us that a large percentage can be cured. It is the economical, humane thing to do. Every one of these unfortunates are entitled to a real opportunity of being cured and turned back as a productive citizen.

Once I Was Dead!

But I Didn't Like Being Dead — It's Too Dog-Gone Lonesome to Stay Dead All The Time!

You know, folks, how they send you flowers when you are gone, and the flesh is cold and still. They do that you know, to say to the world, "Oh, how beautiful is death, and how ordinary is life"—for there be no beautiful flowers to make one happy when things are all wrong and no money there be in the pockets or in the bank—there'll be no beautiful flowers coming from friends then. All you get is a kick and a bang—a boot and the dust thereof. Once I was rich, and I had a lot of Piggly Wiggly Stores. My success begot envy and the schemes of my trusted friends reached out to enmesh me and take from me my Piggly Wiggly business. They got it and broke me flat. Then they said, "Dead is Saunders!—no more will he have stores and friends he's dead. And no more will he sell groceries and meats cheap." That's when I got sick and tired of all the "dead talk," so I got together twelve thousand dollars ($12,000.00) from a few friends and started a new business. I started a new store and named it Clarence Saunders, with the slogan "Sole Owner of My Name"—the slogan being the result of a Piggly Wiggly court injunction to keep me from using my own name in business. The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati said I had a right to use my own name. This new store of mine is the prettiest of them all—it is distinctively a Saunders Store—so convenient and so clean. It's a real beauty. You wait on yourself in this store. Take what you want and leave what you don't want. Everything is plainly priced. A basket is furnished for use in the store. Everything is wrapped and paid for at the checking counter when you have finished selecting what you want to buy. The new Clarence Saunders Store is a complete store. It has a grocery department, a fruit and vegetable department, a meat market. We have the freshest and most complete line of fruits and vegetables. Our meat market has in it nothing but the very best of every kind of meat—we do not handle cheap grade meat. Clarence Saunders Stores now operating in 19 States and right here in Eastland. They are to be the best in town, with the best of merchandise and the lowest prices. Come, folks, and see the prettiest store of 'em all. And remember, Clarence Saunders, the "dead man," is very much alive and wears on his face the smile that won't come off.

Lord Dewar, Director of Whiskey Firm, Gives List of His Favorite Epigrams

LONDON. — Londoners never tire of hearing and trying to memorize Lord Dewar's famous epigrams.

Lord Dewar, who is a wealthy bachelor and director of the famous whiskey firm that bears his name, has occupied a suite of rooms in the Savoy Hotel for nearly 25 years. Recently he supplied the "Evening News" with a list of his favorites among the thousands of witty sayings he is credited with originating.

These appear under several headings, the first being about life.

Life is made up of trials, with an occasional conviction.

To some mothers, life is just one darn stocking after another.

Every man has a black and white side of life.

Most men are believers in heredity until the sun makes a fool of himself.

Man reaps what he sows, unless he be an amateur gardener.

Four-fifths of the perjury of the world is expended on tombstones.

Providence never intended us to be equal except when we are asleep.

On the subject of matrimony, Lord Dewar says:

Wreck on Permanent Wave.

No man is so good but a good woman can make him better.

A golden wedding is when a couple have gone fifty-fifty.

Marriage is a great institution—for those who like institutions.

Many a bachelor has been wrecked on a permanent wave.

Marriage is a committee of two—with power to add to their numbers.

There are more mormons in London than in Salt Lake City, but their wives don't know it.

Two pronouncements on divorce follow his marriage observations:

Divorce is a great institution; it keeps women in circulation.

If husbands went everywhere their wives told them to go, there would be fewer divorces but more widows.

Dewar's philosophy of life shows in the following bits of wisdom:

A philosopher is a man who can look at an empty glass with a smile.

It is much better to have a few hundreds in the bank than millions on the brain.

Women's Place in Channel.

No gentleman has ever heard your story before.

To achieve disarmament build battleships by public subscription.

A man's reputation is that which is not found out about him.

It seems to me that woman's place is no longer in the home; it is in the channel.

A man who hides behind a woman's skirts today is not a coward; he is a magician.

When a man says his word is as good as his bond—get his bond.

We have been told that man is the noblest work of God but nobody ever said so except man.

It is a wise wife who laughs at her husband's jokes.

Poets are born, not paid.

The road to success is filled with women pushing their husbands along.

It is not so much what a man stands for as what he falls for.

Looking at the world today, Lord Dewar has observed:

There are no idle rich; they are all dodging people who want their money.

Motor cars are increasing by leaps and bounds—pedestrians are surviving by the same process.

"Adam's Rib," a small part that has developed into a loud speaker.

The one thing that hurts more than paying income tax is not having to pay income tax.

Copy of Testament Printed in 1550

FORT WORTH, Dec. 8.—A Greek New Testament 378 years old is owned by the library of Brite college of the Bible at Texas Christian university here.

This old, worn-out book was printed in 1550, 61 years before the publication of the King James version of the Bible.

Printed in "Royal Greek," said to be the most beautiful Greek type ever devised, this is one of the most valuable books in the T. C. U. library.

This was the first Bible to carry marginal references, and the publisher was severely criticised for his "additions" to the Bible. The Bible had not been divided into verses in 1550, so that this edition lacks the familiar verse numbering.

The cover of the book is made of wood, overlaid with pigskin. There are worn holes in the back, and some penetrate the entire volume. Brass clasps and haps hold it closed.

On the cover is a stamped design which shows pictures illustrating Bible quotations, with Latin phrases describing the pictures.

Many Speakers For High School Press Association Meet

BELTON, Texas, Dec. 5.—John Harold Casey professor in the department of Journalism of the University of Oklahoma, will be one of the main speakers at the seventh annual convention of the Texas High School Press Association, which will be held at Baylor College December 14-15. Professor Casey has had a great deal of experience with the rural newspaper and for several years worked with newspapers in Japan, especially with the "Japan Advertiser" in Tokio. He was connected with the school of Journalism of the University of Missouri for years.

Plans for the program of the entire convention are well under way and prominent newspaper men and women from different sections of the country are being asked to speak to the hundreds of boys and girls who are expected to represent schools over all the state. The faculty of the department of Journalism of the college, with Miss Helen Zene Wortman as head, sponsors the work of the Texas High School Press Association. It is under their direction that the program is being arranged and that the yearly contests are being held. Entries for the nine contests have already been sent to the judges. Decisions will be announced, and honors awarded at the last session of the convention. Baylor College is making plans to entertain a group representing more High Schools than have ever sent delegates before.

Among other prominent speakers is Joe J. Taylor, of the Dallas News, known throughout the South as State Press. Mr. Taylor was one of the speakers at the 1925 session. Sam P. Harben, Richardson, executive secretary of the Texas Editorial Association, is planning to be here and W. D. Hernday, publicity director of the University of Texas will address the body of representatives.

Mrs. Lee J. Roundtree, editor of the Bryar Eagle, is one of the prominent newspaper women who will speak. Five years ago she took over the editorship of the Eagle and has gained for herself a place with the journalists of America. At the present time she is Texas vice-president of the National Editorial Association. Miss Helen Pool, of the Waco News-Tribune, is planning to be here for the convention. Miss Pool is the youngest woman serving as city editor in any newspaper office in Texas. She has had many interesting experiences in Mexico,

Phillips Wins a Pollywog Letter

FORT WORTH.—The awarding of eighteen freshmen numerals to members of the Pollywog team at Texas Christian University was announced this week by Coach Lee "Dutch" Meyers. The first year men finished a successful season this year by downing Decatur Baptist College by a decisive score. They won three games and losing one, to Terrell Prep of Dallas. The loss of Terrell was the first defeat the Wogs have suffered in three years.

The men to whom freshmen numerals went are: Robert Polard, Dallas; Gordon McMahon, Cleburne; Kenneth Moore, Dallas; J. W. Hinton, Cleburne; Vance Woolwine, Fort Worth; Mark Boswell, Fort Worth; C. L. Mitchell, Temple; S. Lambert, Temple; Aubrey Elkins, Waco; Ray McCollough, Bryan; Hal Wright, Fort Worth; Ralph Ridgeway, Fort Worth; Lawrence Blanton, Dallas; Richard Oliver, Fort Worth; Paul Snow, Winsboro; Harlos Green, Fort Worth; R. L. Phillips, Ranger; and W. T. Thompson, Groesbeck.

Germany and Poland in Bitter Trade War Neither Nation Willing to Modify

BERLIN.—Germany and Poland are again engaged in a bitter tariff and trade war the end of which is not in sight. Friends of peace in Warsaw and Berlin had hoped that the recent negotiations with a view to a commercial agreement would mark the close of a period which began with the conclusion of the World War and has been extremely costly to both countries.

For a while, the optimists held the field and sanguine talk could be heard regarding the imminent negotiations of a trade treaty between Germany and Poland. But once more, as on three previous occasions, the pourparlers collapsed despite careful preparation and cautious nursing through the preliminary stages. Today, no one in either camp speaks hopefully of the prospects. It seems that at least for a limited period business relations between Germany and Poland must suffer by reason of the absence of a commercial understanding.

Observers in both camps agree the chief cause of the friction is pigs. Other factors are machines, electrical appliances and metallurgical products.

The difficulty is that Poland, being a predominantly agricultural country insists that Germany purchase several hundred thousand head of swine from her annually. But here the Prussian Junkers and landowners object for they too raise pigs and wish their home markets protected against foreign, Polish competition.

Duty High as 60 Percent. This knotty problem would perhaps be capable of some compromise solution if the Poles were prepared to accept certain contingents of German manufactured goods. But Poland, like many other new European states, is struggling hard to build up her own industries and therefore wishes to protect them by as high a tariff wall as possible. There are cases in which Poland levies a protective duty of over 60 percent on German machines.

German manufacturers maintain that such schedules are prohibitive and completely obstruct business. In the recent negotiations, an attempt was made to reduce the Polish tariff in such a manner as to encourage German imports. But the move met with failure, for ever since Poland received her $62,000,000 loan from the United States, imports have been stimulated and the resulting passive trade balance has caused some concern in Warsaw financial and official circles. In fact, a patriotic movement is on foot to discourage the importation of articles and patronize Polish women are being forego French cosmetics, domestic beautifiers and to buy home-made tools, machines, etc. The result is a dead-end many rejects Polish rural and Poland closes the Germany's city output. The failure of trade negotiations and the renewal of tariff war.

Silesia Still Open War. The Germans argue that can hold out longer than Poles, for whereas Poland is only a small fraction of Poland's foreign trade, Germany's is almost half of Poland's export volume. To the Poles reply that they have on for years without an agreement with Germany and Soviet Russia as well as can continue to do so.

It is maintained in some circles that the underlying matter of the dispute is political grows out of German resistance against Polish territorial the expense of Germany that the Polish Corridor is former German territory division of Upper Silesia Poland and Germany. Finally the whole was still open wounds which are amicable relations. Warsaw and Berlin very if not altogether impossible. Time was when a proportion of Germans stood of the day when they would permit them to soil lost to Poland by arms. With more state these violent intentions created but the bitter towards Poland remains no doubt an element in relations with Poland.

NOW THAT'S SET. AUSTIN, Dec. 5.—It is not a gift. It is to be a careful enunciation and articulation, knowledge of the use of words and the use of words, a commendation by the University of Texas improvement in the Freshmen has reported.

High schools are urging spelling correctly, to respect pronunciation and pupils write themes at the week, according to the GROESBECK.—Surrender of Exall Highway 30 of this city.
