Film Star To Be At Lyric In Person

One of Hollywood's versatile men, despite the fact that he gained a reputation as a western player is Max Terhune, who brings his wares to Big Spring Saturday, for a series of personal appearances at the Lyric theatre. He will appear at each show on the stage in conjunction with the Lyric's regular screen program.

Terhune was one of the original "Three Mesquites," a popular team of westerners. Now, he plays as one of the "Range Busters," playing the part of "Alibi."

Terhune is a whistler, imitator, ventriloquist, magician and comedian, and will put on a variety act at the Lyric. Accompanying him on the stage will be his dummy, "Elmer," who will contribute to the fun.

Terhune appeared for years on stage circuits before going into movies, and his 35-minute stage presentation will be nothing new for him. He promises one of the most entertaining personal appearance features ever presented in Big Spring.

Churchill Praises Lord Halifax As 'Momentous Mission' Nears

LONDON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told a luncheon of The Pilgrims here today "it is our fervent hope" that Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, "may prosper in a mission as momentous as any that the monarchy has entrusted to an Englishman in the lifetime of the oldest of us here."

The prime minister asserted it was no exaggeration to say that "the whole future of the world and a civilization founded on Christian ethics" depended on relations between Britain and the United States.

He said that the identity of purpose and persistence of resolve prevailing throughout the English-speaking world, more than any other fact, "determine the way of life open to the generations and perhaps the centuries to follow our own."

The Pilgrims is an Anglo-American organization for the promotion of good will between the United States and the British empire.

"If cooperation between the empire and the United States were to fail," Churchill said, "the empire might well be its way through against the spirit of totalitarianism and preserve its life and strength for the inevitable renewal of the conflict on worse terms after an uneasy truce."

"But the chance of setting the march of mankind clearly and surely along the high roads of human progress would be lost and might never return."

"We stand—all of us—upon the watchtowers of history and have offered to us the glorious opportunity of making the supreme sacrifice and exertions needed by a cause which it may not be irrelevant to call sublime," Churchill cried.

"I hail it as a most fortunate occurrence that, at this awe-stricking climax in world affairs, there should stand at the head of the American republic a famous statesman long versed in the work of government, in whose heart burns the fire of resistance to aggression and oppression," he added in a tribute to President Roosevelt.

Churchill said that the death of Lord Halifax, whom Lord Halifax succeeded, was of the highest consequence and that to repair the loss Britain thought it her duty to send "without regard to the derangement of our forces and the cost here" the best man who could be found without regard to any other consideration.

He paid tribute to Lord Halifax as a soldier in the last war and a vicerey ruling over 400,000,000 people in India, and said he had never swerved from the path of duty as he saw it shining before him.

"We send to the United States an envoy who comes from the very center of our counsels and knows all our secrets."

"Although, while Lord Halifax is serving as ambassador out of this country he can not be a member of the war cabinet, he will be as if he were seconded from it. He still attends all our meetings and will continue to do so during the weeks before his departure."

LEGISLATURE TO EXAMINE OIL INDUSTRY

AUSTIN, Jan. 9 (AP)—The oil industry in Texas, the nation's top producing state, goes under the legislative microscope next week.

The lawmakers, convening Jan. 14 in biennial session, will focus attention both on regulation and taxation of the gigantic industry and speculation of possible results.

Foremost among currently discussed subjects is creation of a separate oil and gas commission, leaving to the present regulatory body, the state railroad commission, supervision of railroads, motor transportation and utilities.

A bill has been drawn and sponsors argue severance of oil and gas regulation from the electric commission and putting it in the hands of an appointive commission would remove dissension and politics.

An opposing view is that the commission has had long experience in regulating an industry that frequently bursts into climatic situations and that the commission principles often have been upheld after long and bitter court strife.

Taxation, an ever present subject in legislative halls, is due for a re-

Youth Learns All-Too-Much About Sewers

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 9 (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Bruce Jenkins popped his head out of a manhole at Prior and University avenues to the amazement of passersby and allowed his curiosity about storm sewers was cured forever.

Bruce was just finishing a four-mile tour which started when he and several other boys climbed down the Mississippi river bank and came upon a storm sewer outlet. They wandered in. Bruce asked, "Pretty soon he was so far ahead he was alone. The rest turned back."

When he tried to go back, he learned what labyrinth means. He found nothing but corners, darkness and dampness. He tried yelling and got only echoes. At first he was mighty frightened, then told himself that wouldn't do any good.

He stumbled over something after it seemed hours of groping. It felt like a stairway, so he followed it up. Then he saw small shafts of light and in a few moments he was at the manhole pushing his way into sunshine.

That, said Bruce, was a wonderful feeling.

Symbol Of New Economy
An Associated Press man figured it at $554 per second for a year—every second of every day and night.
It means something like $14 for the year for every man, woman and child of every age in the United States.

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett
So they decided to make him president of the senate, and ever since then the senators have been saying:
'What's the big idea—the executive branch coming up here to the legislative branch and handing us a presiding officer? They don't treat the house that way. Those little two-year men get to elect their own presiding officer. Why can't we? Oh, we know it's in the constitution, but that certainly was a slip on somebody's part and don't think we won't get even.'

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker
NEW YORK—So many bleak headlines and announcements of war and disaster have filled the public mind in the last year that Dinah Shore barely shrugged when someone telephoned and told her there was a fire at her house, and for-reven's sake to hurry home.
She said all right and hung up and put on her coat and hat and bought some magazines before getting into a taxicab, which she read all the way home. When she got there she went inside and there was a shout from her sister and brother-in-law, who had arranged a little going away surprise party for her, and they thought a fire would be the best thing imaginable to build up her imagination for the surprise. So they led her into a room where a gathering of her friends were waiting and grinning, and there was a plum cake that had been doused with brandy and set afire. That was the fire. Everybody had a good time and next day Dinah went out to California, because Eddie Cantor is out there and she is singing on his show.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons
HOLLYWOOD—If Spencer Tracy has his way, the screen will get a new kind of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."
This will be the third time the screen has handled Stevenson's classic tale of the good and evil in man. When John Barrymore did it, in silence, Mr. Hyde was a terrifying fellow in appearance as well as deeds—a misshapen, foul, horrible monster to give you the willies. When Fredric March did it, in talkies, Mr. Hyde looked even more like the things that crawl around the ceiling and dance on the bed on a morning after.
Tracy, at present looking kindly and benign in "Men of Boys Town," has a different idea: "I'd like to play it with no make-up at all."
If you know Tracy's past career, you'll guess that this notion springs not entirely from a new artistic concept. In none of his films has he used make-up when he could avoid it. In "The Power and the Glory," in "Edison the Man," the wrinkles and white hair of old age were inevitable. Beyond that, the nearest he came to hiding grease-paint was in "Captains Courageous," and even there his make-up was merely the curling of his hair. However, all that aside.
"I was reading the story again," Tracy said, and I noticed that nowhere did Stevenson point out that Hyde changed outwardly in any startling fashion. There is the reference to change noted by Jekyll's friend, Dr. Lanyon, who saw he was different, but there is no implication that Hyde was physically deformed. He changed in appearance, but

University President's Salary Highest

AUSTIN—The highest salary paid by the state goes not to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel or any state department official.
It is received by Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University of Texas. The figure is $17,500 a year.
No. 2 is the $12,000 of Governor O'Daniel.
No. 3 distinction is held jointly by Dr. Alton J. Burdine, new 35-year-old vice president of the university, and Attorney General Gerald C. Mann. They are paid $10,000 annually.
Coach D. K. Rible of the University has a salary of $15,000 but it is paid from athletic funds.
Dr. Rainey is the first president of the university to receive $17,500. Shortly before the death in testing or complaining Wednesday. Maybe big figures have dulled his reactions, or maybe he's ready and willing to pay. Maybe he sees some consolation in the president's observation that the national income for the year will reach a new peak of $87,000,000,000—which is seven billions more than that now-fantastic year, 1929. Maybe he realizes that when income goes up, taxes are easier to pay.

But more than likely he has subscribed to the general belief that this nation faces a new day—a readjusted system of economy more drastic in its revisions than that of the depression. He has seen the necessity of this nation taking a definite step, once and for all, to protect its way of life and to combat those forces which threaten the American way. He has thus jolled his belt and resolved that no demand will be too great.
It is well if the average citizen has taken this outlook. For the new budget is merely a symbol of what we must face. It means that we face more than higher taxes; it means that we face a new way of living and doing business, a new relationship between government and individual. It means that there must be a new economy, representing broad sacrifices on the part of the people. We will have to be ready to meet these sacrifices.

Auto Liability Insurance Sponsored In Minnesota

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—The Minnesota State Bar association plans to ask the 1941 state legislature to pass a law making liability insurance compulsory for all registered automobiles.
The proposed law, being drafted by an association committee headed by J. T. Joyce of Duluth, would require a minimum of $2,000 insurance of a $2,500 deposit with the state treasurer in lieu of insurance.
Active palibearers were W. S. Satterwhite, John Albert Smith, Marvin Hill, Jess Slaughter, Onie Queen and Lee Warren.
Honorary palibearers were Bill Loving, Walter Rueckart, E. A. Nance, Emmett Hull, L. L. Booth, Dalton Mitchell, Charley Sentell, E. L. Sanders, Shine Phillips, Frank Powell, Cliff Wiley, J. H. Green, O. H. Derrington, Dewey Kinard, O. L. Rush, Jim Skalkley, J. P. Meador, Homer Johnson, Jack Olson, Doc Wilkerson, Ward Hall, M. M. Mancill, Eddie Polacek, Frank Sholte, Mark Harwell, Adrian DeGraffenried, Bill Harper, Lester Fisher, O. R. Bollinger, all of Big Spring, and Orvil Williams and Charlie Seals of Colorado City.

There is a girl in Brooklyn who makes a fine income from hand-made purses. She weaves the purses out of old silk neckties, which her brother collects.
Quick now, name me five seas that border on the Balkans. This was a question that bobbed up at a party the other night, and very few people could give the answer. The answer will probably surprise you.
Another stumper at parties is to ask someone to name something that everyone who is present but themselves has done.

Man Do Change

men do change. For instance, a fellow who goes on a prolonged bender doesn't look the same when he comes out of it. It's all in his face, but that doesn't make him a monster.
Tracy laughed. "But I'll make tests for makeup, and I'll probably wind up behind an ape's head. What I'm worrying about, though, isn't Hyde. I can play that any way they want it. It's Jekyll—how'm I going to be that romantic Dr. Jekyll?"
Had Tracy wanted support for his anti-make-up plea, he could have found it on a nearby stage. There was Robert Montgomery, going through a scene with George Sanders for "Rage in Heaven," from the James Hilton novel.
The story puts Bob back into those chiller roles he so enjoys, his first since "The Earl of Chicago," and like that one and "Night Must Fall" a study in weird psychology. Ingrid Bergman is the girl.
"Night Must Fall," if you recall, was the tale of a baby-faced English lad who did sweet things for old ladies and had murder—cold-blooded, calculating and cruel—for a hobby. Its punch was in the contrast between the killer's appearance and his deeds. If they had let the baby-face dissolve, as a prelude to each murder, into a nightmarish makeup, they'd have had an 'effect,' but not the excellent movie they did have.
However, at this writing, the odds are against Tracy. "Jekyll and Hyde" always has featured screaming horror, and who is Leo the Lion to roar radically?

University President's Salary Highest

1937 of his predecessor, Dr. H. Y. Benedict, the legislature raised his salary to $10,000. Prior thereto the position paid $6,900.
The same legislature which after Dr. Benedict's death further increased the president's salary to $17,500 also authorized the office of vice president with a salary of $10,000, or a total of $27,500 for these administrative school officials.
For many years the governor's salary was $4,000 but in 1936 it was upped to $12,000 by constitutional amendment. The same amendment increased the salaries of the attorney general, the comptroller, the treasurer, the commissioner of the land office and the secretary of state, the last four to $6,000.

School Board Asks Defense Project Here

Application for a vocational training project in cooperation with the national defense program is being made by the Big Spring school board.

Submission of the application does not mean the district will get or can go through with the project, but it does signify the board's interest in securing educational defense funds if possible.

Under terms of the arrangement, the district would be called upon to furnish minimum housing standards, and a limited amount of "hand tools." Heavy metal tools, machines, etc. would be furnished out of federal funds as well as instructional, utilities, janitorial, and other costs. The application will be submitted to Pascal Buckner, district vocational educational supervisor, on his return from Austin Thursday.

 Did you see that writup in the weekly paper? There's a barn raising at Ed's place today. That's where all the cars were going this morning.

Poor Ed got burned out. He put up his hay when it was a little too green, and he woke up one night smelling smoke. Flames were shooting out from under the barn eaves, rats were running all over the place and the stock was going crazy. Ed got his pants on in a hurry, but all he and the neighbors could do was save a couple of calves and keep the house from going too.

Before the fire was out, one of the neighbors brought up the subject of a barn raising to help Ed out. Everybody agreed it was a mighty fine idea. They'd do it in a day, after Ed got his mind set on how he wanted it built.

So today is the day. The new foundation, fifty feet farther from the house, is dry. Everybody got out to Ed's by sun-up and by sun-down the roof will be on. They're all having a great time, too, working harder for Ed than they'd work for themselves.

The womenfolk are making a regular picnic out of it, having a satisfying visit and frying such steaks that it makes a man weak to smell them, right before dinner. Ed had some feeder stock that missed the fire because it was pastured out at night, and he knew how his neighbors would go for some prime beef.

It goes without saying that Ed is mighty grateful about the whole thing. He knew he had good neighbors and this proves it. His pa's folks and their neighbors did the same thing right in the same county for a good many years, and Ed would be the first to lend a hand if one of his neighbors got burned out too. Only he doesn't wish anybody that kind of luck, of course.

RAF Planes Unchallenged In Wide Area

By the Associated Press
 British warplanes hammered a series of blows at the axis last night and early today, raking half a dozen cities from the north coast of Germany to Italy's dwindling empire in North Africa.

RAF bombers rode the skies virtually unchallenged in raids that included Naples, Italy; Palermo, Sicily; Wilhelmshaven and Emden, Germany; and Bengasi and Tripoli, North Africa.

Premier Mussolini's high command said RAF raiders, striking in waves, blasted Naples with "numerous" bombs, killing five persons and wounding 30.

A fascist communique listed damage to 15 buildings and a hospital ship in the harbor, but declared that most of the bombs fell "in the sea."

No damage was reported at Palermo.

Hitler's high command cited 11 killed and 11 wounded by British raiders showering high-explosive and incendiary bombs over northwest Germany—attacks identified by the British as centering on German naval bases at Wilhelmshaven and Emden.

A London air ministry communique said the Wilhelmshaven raid was marked by "many explosions... large fires," while "more than 20 fires were started in docks at Emden."

RAF attacks on Bengasi and Tripoli were described by the Italians as having caused "slight damage," with three killed at Tripoli. Other British planes harassed the Italians in Somaliland and Eritrea, East Africa.

On their part, the fascists reported a heavy bombing assault on the Greek port of Salonika "with evident effectiveness," and declared that Italian warplanes had strafed Greek troop concentrations, and bombed bridges and artillery on the Albanian battlefield.

Lend-Lease Bill Drafted

Act Carries No Figures, Say Farmers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—A tentative draft of a bill granting the government board powers to lend ships, tanks, guns and planes to Great Britain and other "democracies" has been completed and may be ready for congress tomorrow.

Administration lieutenants said that the measure was entirely new legislation and did not involve amendments to any existing laws, such as the neutrality act or the Pittman law of last June authorizing assistance for Latin American nations engaged in defense programs.

Whatever the ultimate cost of the lend-lease plan—estimates ranged from $2,000,000,000 to $30,000,000,000 over a period of years—the bill as now drafted will carry no sums, one leader said.

Any outlays would supplement the 1941-42 domestic budget submitted yesterday calling for $17,485,528,049.

Administration leaders were expected to confer on the lend-lease legislation with Mr. Roosevelt—perhaps today—before introducing it in congress.

It was learned afterward that efforts were being made to complete the bill for simultaneous introduction in both houses tomorrow.

Speaker Rayburn promised prompt house action, saying "speed is of the essence."

"We are making a broad way into the RAF which will open to young men who have had every kind of educational experience, even those who have abandoned their education at an early age," Sir Archibald said.

The plan includes special educational facilities, formation of university air squadrons and short university course for air crew candidates.
