CANDIDATES VOICE LAST MOMENT VIEWS

Send Messages of Optimism
and Thanks To Friends On Eve of Primary Election.

Judge R. N. Grisham.
"The splendid spirit of friendship that the people of Eastland have shown in this campaign, the enthusiasm with which they have aided—many of them even to the extent of voluntarily leaving their business and, at their own expense, spending from one to three days in a motorcade—will have a place among the happiest memories of my entire life," said R.
N. Grisham today.

"Words have been spoken and letters written and the good effects I have had opportunity to note in many instances, in all parts of the district.

"The Eastland band merits the strongest words of praise that I can find to express my gratitude for their splendid music and their patience and enthusiasm in the strenuous journeys that they have so kindly made in the last 10 days.

"If I am successful Saturday—and the reports pouring in at all points that way—the victory will be due to the help given by many loyal friends. I would like to take each one by the hand and tell him personally how deeply I appreciate his efforts. Such unselfish work as they have performed makes yet firmer my resolve to give, whether in public office or as a private citizen, my best endeavor for the advancement of this city, this county,
this commonwealth and this coun-

ing made to confirm the report.
Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon were rushing to the bedside of Mrs. Kenyon's to do so.

Fire In Laundry Makes Families In Kans. Town Mourn

By United Press.
ELDORADO, Ark., July 27.—
Hundreds of Eldorado families were short of clothing today as a result of a fire which destroyed
the Eldorado laundry early this morning. Damage was estimated at $100,000.
Origin of the blaze is undetermined. With exception of a small dry cleaning plant and the business office which were protected by fire walls, the building was destroyed. It was valued at $150,- 000.

Greeks Improving Race Cultivation

ATHENS—Rice forms one of the staple articles of nourishment for the Greek people. Its vital importance was well realized immediately after the War of Independence
by the Greek leaders who framed a law in favor of its cultivation. Like Italy, France and Spain, Greece possesses all the essential elements for the culture of rice; but the primitive methods which the Greeks have adopted for its cultivation have contributed little toward its progress.
The regions most fit for the cultivation of rice are Serres, Drama, Epirus and Messene. The low lands of Lake Copals were once cultivated by an English company and yielded 800 tons of rice annually; but this undertaking has ceased to function. In 1920 the land under rice cultivation totaled 750 hectares. Today the total quantity of land being cultivated amounts to 990 hectares, which gives a yield of 1562 tons annually. This constitutes only a small fraction in comparison with the large quantities of rice imported every year.

Juvenile Held On Charge of Murder

By United Press.
DURANT, Okla., July 27.—
Charged with slaying his uncle
who had threatened to spank him
"for staying out late at night," Lewis Johnson, 13, will be tried for murder in juvenile court here,
August 8.
The boy shot and killed his uncle, Moses Johnson, when the latter sent him for a switch.

NOBLE'S AIRSHIP TROUBLED

Noble made a fine start for polar exploration in his airship,
the Italia, but was handicapped by the Pope's blessing, which seems always to work the opposite way from that intended.
After dropping the Pope's wooden cross on the North Pole the airship straightway got into trouble and at this writing only Nobile and a few of his comrades have been rescued. No doubt the others of his brave comrades have been lost.

WEAVER FLIES TO CONFER WITH HIS FRIEND

By Lou Wentz of Ponca City, Okla., And

the States Oil Corporation, was

day for a conference with his

Wentz of Ponca City, Okla., head of the Wentz Oil Company.

Mr. Weaver drove to Fort Worth and went from there to Colorado Springs by airplane, being due to arrive there early today.

FIFTY CRAZY MEN AT LARGE IN NASHVILLE

Escape From State Hospital
For Insane When It Is Set
Afire. Eleven Criminals
Among Them.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 27.—
Spurred on by the knowledge

somewhere in the vicinity of this city, posses today pushed their search for more than 50 inmates of the Central State Hospital for the Insane who were liberated

GANGSTERS IN ST. LOUIS HELD FOR MURDER

By United Press.
ST. LOUIS, July 27.—Six St.
Louis gangsters have been arrested in connection with the murder of two alleged hoodlums
in Wellston, Wednesday.
Persons who were said to have seen two autos loaded with men
and machine guns failed to identify them, however. Four of the men held are alleged members of the Cuckoo gang, rivals of the organization of which the murdered men were members.
Police believe that the killings
occurred during a conference called for arranging terms of peace between the rival groups—
when members of the other gang failed to accept the proposition of Cuckoo delegates.

History Of the Texas Revolution Against Mexico As Written By Five of the Chief Mexican Participants

AUSTIN.—"Though in recent years a great deal of material concerning the history of Texas has been made available, the Spanish
sources for the Texas Revolution still remain inaccessible except to those who can read Spanish," said Carlos E. Castaneda, Latin-American librarian at the University of Texas, in the foreword to his recent book, "The Mexican Side of the Texas Revolution."
The book is a translation of the accounts of the revolution as presented by five of the chief Mexican participants. Of these articles
Mr. Castaneda said:
"The five documents presented show clearly how a series of coincidences that may almost be called providential, united to give the victory to Texas and to make possible their independence. Without detracting from the merit of the patriots who risked everything to make this great State independent and who laid the foundations of this great commonwealth, they show that the traditional sins of Mexico, dissension and personal envy, were more deadly to the Mexican army than the Texas bullets."
In translating the documents, Castaneda exercised great care in rendering accurately the thought of the Spanish originals, but he made no attempt to give a literal
word translation.
The documents included in the book are Santa Anna's manifesto

HUTCHINSON, Kans., July 27.—
Two convicts who escaped from

nesday night, after knocking a

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 27.—
The spinners federation decided today to start a lockout August 11, affecting 200,000 cotton spinners and probably about 300,000 workers in other industries.
The lockout was decided upon
after a dispute over a spinner whose refusal to join a union caused other operatives to walk out when owners refused to discharge him.

Survivors Of ARCTIC PARTY ON WAY HOME

Rescued Members Of Dirigible Italia Return Lacking In Glory They Hoped For.

NARVIK, Norway, July 27.—
The rescued members of the crew of the dirigible Italia were en route home today, but on a journey that was lacking in the glory that would have been their share had not the polar ship crashed on an ice floe on May 25. Headed by Commander Nobille, the crew boarded a train
here at 6:30 p. m. last night, after arriving from King's bay aboard their supply ship and were sped on their way. There were no cheers. There were few comments. The men had been cautioned by Premier Mussolini of Italy not to make any statement and not to give interviews
on the homeward journey.

It was a strange arrival this group made yesterday. The supply ship put into harbor and a crowd gathered at the pier. Word was soon forthcoming that the Italia crew would not come ashore until the crowd had dispersed. Commander Nobille, the leader of that unfortunate expedition, who had been blamed for being rescued ahead of his companions, stood at the rail of the craft. He appeared well but had little interest in the proceedings around him.

Farmer Of Rising Star Producing Excellent Honey

By United Press.
RISING STAR.—H. F. Falls,
who has a farm at the north edge of Rising Star, brought down to the Record office a square of honey taken from one of the bee hives on his place and as fine a specimen of honey, both in appearance and flavor as we have ever seen. About 100 pounds was taken from the hives, Mr.
Falls said and all was disposed of at a very satisfactory price.
In discussing the matter Mr.
Falls stated that he had proven to himself conclusively that bees
may be successfully handled here and that he was going in for more bees in the future.
Mr. Falls states that the idea that southwest Texas has a corner on producing honey is a fallacy and that the local product is just as fine as any produced anywhere.

SCHUBERT. One hundred years ago there lived, in poverty, in the city of Vienna, a man who was only 32 years of age. Perfumed dandies in their silks and wigs doubtless did not cast more than a casual glance at the young man with a roll of manuscript under his arm as they dashed by in their beautiful carriages drawn by splendid horses. Statesmen perhaps of that day had never heard of this man.

Yet the rich and powerful of that generation are forgotten while the world acclaims the genius of Franz Schubert who left the world a priceless estate—nearly 600 songs. A chorus of 120, 100 voices a day or two ago sang some of those melodies. The names most cherished by mankind are those of poets, musicians, artists, sculptors and weavers of tales—men who with words fashioned melodies or made the past live again, men who with the ear of the spirit heard the ethereal harmonies and penned them that all the world might hear, men who carved in ever-enduring marble the forms of grace and beauty, and men who thrilled at the faintest of sunlight, the dusk of evening-time, the glory of flowers and the majesty of the human face, and placed these beauties upon canvas.

The pity of it all is that recognition to genius usually comes after death. Seven cities contended for Homer dead, where living, he begged his daily bread. He was written the first master of the arts and it has been true even to the present, with all its vaunted progress in the material world.

PUBLIC HEALTH IN FLOODED AREA.

Approximately one year has elapsed since the frightful disaster of the flood in the Mississippi valley. The United States public health service states that some comfort may be obtained in the knowledge that better communities are being built on the ruins of those destroyed, and as a rule, a better public health regime has been inaugurated. Following the flood of waters there has developed another flood—a flood of sanitation development, which has placed that area many years ahead of the old program in connection with the development of full-time county health service. Since July, 1927, 78 counties have joined the roll of those that are enjoying adequate public health protection through the labors of over 300 full-time health workers. This is a distinct step forward, and a stimulus to perpetuate these endeavors.

If the work continues as it has to date, the Mississippi valley will soon enjoy the universal public health protection it deserves. This should serve as a splendid example to other communities and stimulate them to strengthen their local health departments and secure adequate full-time health service.

SEEKING JESUIT GOLD IN BOLIVIA A group of British explorers, equipped with two hundred tons of paraphernalia, is now in Bolivia seeking to regain sixty million dollars of gold buried by the Jesuits one hundred fifty years ago. The mining of this gold was done by the forced labor of natives, who were poisoned when it was finished. Maps and descriptions of the location of the cache have been found, which have been proved reliable. The entrance to the poison chamber in which the gold is concealed was found as illustrated on the charts. Gas masks will be used while bringing the treasures to the light.

(Continued from page 1) try. "Should I be elected to Congress, the winning of a seat will not be as sweet as the realization of the friendships that have been demonstrated."

Judge T. P. Perkins. ABILENE, July 27.—T. P. Perkins, Mineral Wells, here Thursday night in the interest of his candidacy to Congress from the seventeenth district. He predicts he will lead the ticket Saturday with 3,000 to 5,000 plurality over his opponents. Tom Connally. Special to The Telegram. DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—A message of thanks to his friends throughout Texas who are laboring in his behalf, and a forecast of victory, was contained in a telegram received at his headquarters here Thursday night from Tom Connally, candidate for the United States Senate.

"Thank all my friends everywhere for the zeal they have shown in my behalf," the message said, "For they are the most loyal friends a man ever had. Tell them to hold the line until the polls are closed and victory is ours. A strong wave of Connally sentiment prevails everywhere I have been."

"Connally's message came late Thursday after he had plowed through rain and mud from Sulphur Springs to Farmersville, McKinney and Cooper to make speeches. He will bring his campaign to a close Friday night in the radio studio of station W. B. A. P., the Fort Worth Star Telegram, in the first state political campaign speech ever delivered exclusively to a radio audience in Texas.

Tunney Defeats Heeny In Very Emphatic Manner

NEW YORK, July 27.—Gene Tunney, heavyweight prizefight champion, defeated Tom Heeny, of New Zealand, challenger, in eleven rounds of a stated 15-round contest, Thursday night. The fight was staged in the Yankee stadium before a crowd generally estimated at close to 50,000. The fight was fast and furious from the first. All rounds were distinctly Tunney's but the last three or four very emphatically so, Heeny being virtually knocked out on his feet and only saved by the interference of the referee at the end of two minutes and 52 seconds of the 11th round.

DRIVING BACK A GUARD AT GATE AND CALL ON AUTO MAGNATE

(From Rising Star Record) Mac Martin and Ernest Thompson who left about the middle of May for an extended "Tour" in Mac's famous old Ford, christened "Asma" on a similar jaunt last year drove in last Wednesday afternoon after a most eventful trip indeed.

As a means of defraying the expenses of their trip the boys rigged up a power saw for trimming the blocks in meat markets and found plenty of work to do all along the route to keep them in "three squares a day" and provide plenty of gasoline and oil for their trusty vehicle.

Leaving Rising Star the boys worked their way up to Washington and New York and on up to the Niagara Falls, Detroit and Canada. It was while at Detroit the boys received the greatest "kick" of the entire trip, in getting past a guard and making a call on Henry Ford.

The boys went to the big Ford factory at or near Detroit and spent some time in enjoying a minute inspection of all the big plant and grounds. While at the plant they expressed a desire to see Henry Ford and were laughed at and told that it was impossible.

They learned that Mr. Ford lived out at Dearborn a suburb of Detroit and decided to drive out and have a try at seeing him anyway. Arriving at Dearborn they had little trouble in locating the Ford mansion and rolled up a fine drive to the front of the big estate where they found a guard at the big gate entering the grounds. The boys told the guard they had come to see Mr. Ford upon being asked what business they had with him. When they stated that they just wanted to pay him a visit they were told to be on their way or words to that effect.

Driving back a ways, the boys decided to make another try and to tell the guard that Henry had invited them up while in Texas at one time. This, however failed to impress the guard. Driving away the boys decided since they had driven so far to make one last desperate attempt and return last found the guard temporarily out of the gate, "poured" the gas" on their old Ford and were past the gatekeeper before he could stop them. Driving on up to the mansion they found Henry sitting on the lawn and got out and went over to him and made themselves known. About this time the guard came running up and was "told by Mr. Ford to "Calm himself, that these boys were all right," and invited them to have seats and chatted with them for several minutes, seeming to be interested in their old car, which is decorated with all kinds of signs, including the name of each state in the union, it having passed through them all on its trip last year and this.

Seeing Mr. Ford was well worth the effort, the boys say, "According to figures given out by the tax collector some time ago, almost two thousand persons are eligible, or will be eligible to vote in the Eastland Precinct, making Eastland the largest voting box in the county at this time. However, it always happens that every eligible does not vote, but it is consequently estimated that Eastland will poll about sixteen hundred votes on Saturday.

"Ed T. Cox, county democratic chairman, has ruled that this shall be a white man's primary, no persons of African descent are eligible. Persons voting will be required to take the usual Democratic pledge—that they are a democrat and will support the nominees of the party in the November election. However, no presidential electors are voted upon at this time, and the question of national issues or national candidates should not bother the voter very much at this time.

Keepers went through the building, opening every cell and the hundreds of patients, many of them clad only in night clothes or wrapped in sheets, filed out in the drizzling rain.

Memories of a similar disaster 35 years ago, when many inmates were burned to death in their cells, prompted officers to hurry in the laughing or screaming patients from the building.

Everywhere guards and officers guarded the crowd with flashlight. In spite of their vigilance scores of patients slipped away across the fields and across the road to Nashville.

As a fire engine from the city swung into the prison yard, one demented man swung himself aboard and rode the truck with practiced care. For seven years until he suffered a nervous breakdown he had been a member of the Nashville fire department. He laughed with glee as he rode with his old comrades on the truck.

ADVOCATES EVOLUTION

The Right Reverend Ernest William Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham, who has created such a stir in England by his advocacy of the theories of Darwin, and his denunciation of the account of the creation of man as given in the Bible, was born on April 1. This explains it.

The Times of London, in an article on June 2nd., dealing with the American presidential election, shows an understanding of the situation in the United States which is in strange contrast to the dense darkness in certain localities of North America. It says:

but would not advise anyone else to try the same plan. The boys report seeing some very interesting things in the National capital and also described Niagara Falls as being a wonderful place.

Substance and Thought A wise father directed his son to mark a letter of the alphabet on each one of a thousand little cards and then to throw them all high into the air, so as to observe whether chance would cause them to fall into any intelligent order or design. So he taught him that there must be the thought of a Bernard Shaw behind the letters before the judgment can be challenged by a living drama. There must be the thought of a Kipling behind the alphabet before the imagination can be thrilled or the will aroused by an impetuous poem. There must be the thought of a Beethoven behind the notes before the great organ can thunder its emotion or its triumph. Behind the artist's brush there must be the thought of a Raphael before the fond Madonna can look upon us with her lustrous eyes. Similarly, behind the suns and stars and planets that make up this tremendous universe, there must be the thought of God, wise and creative.

Behind all substance, all movement, and all life is thought, for without thought there can be no existence animate or inanimate. —Canadian Churchman

"I'm sorry," Virginia said. "I haven't any."

"You wouldn't," the other returned. "Well, I won't be able to get it across quite so well without a smoke, but I think it's for the good of all hands to have it out."

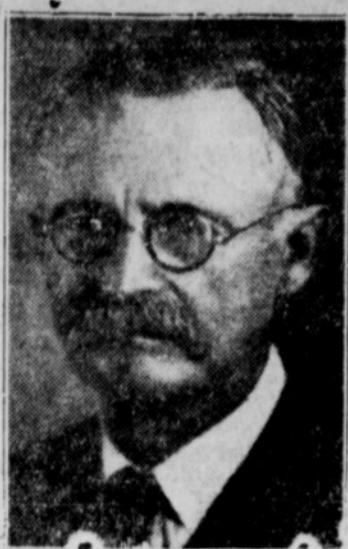

She crossed her knees and threw herself back in the chair while she regarded Virginia with a set grin.

Virginia poised herself on the edge of the bed, near the end, and leaned on the footboard.

She knew intuitively that Chiri had not come here at this hour for any light purpose. It must concern Niel. They had nothing else in common.

Virginia decided not to tell her that she already had seen him.

"I dare say Niel hasn't written you anything about it," Chiri began. "Well, things have changed since you went on your delightful southern cruise, Miss Brewster."

The son of a Confederate soldier left penniless after the Civil War. E. I. Flynt came to Texas from Alabama at the age of seven. He grew to manhood in Erath county, obtaining his education in Stephenville where he specialized in "mathematics and civil engineering."

In 1886 he came to Hardeman county and was County Surveyor for sixteen years—compiled an abstract of title to Hardeman county lands, and engaged in the abstract and land business for many years.

His work, both as abstractor and surveyor, was accurate in the extreme and in demand in all parts of the Panhandle and West Texas. Friends of Mr. Flynt feel that his familiarity with land conditions of the state, his reputation for honesty over a long period of years, his known competence and worth, recommend him highly for such a position of trust as the State Land Office.

Mr. Flynt is the owner of several farms in Hardeman county and is at present actively engaged in managing them. If elected Commissioner of the General Land Office he promises an efficient and economical administration.

The present incumbant has held the office for nearly 20 years and is asking for another term.

"WARMING UP" WITH SOUND ACCONIMENT AT WORTH

Opening at The Worth Theatre in Fort Worth Saturday, July 28, will be Paramount's first sound picture featuring Richard Dix in "Warming Up," one of the most spectacular pictures ever offered by any theatre in history.

"Warming Up" is the first picture released by Paramount to have a sound accompaniment. Through the perfected Vitaphone Movietone process, effects have been created to enhance the entertainment value of the picture by giving the picture realism.

One can actually shut his eyes and believe that he is at a baseball game when such familiar phrases as "ice cold drinks" and "you can't tell the players without a scorecard," drift through the auditorium.

In addition to having the sound effects, the Paramount Theatre Orchestra of New York will play the love theme of this great picture, "Out of the Dawn."

While "Warming Up" is in a sense of the word a baseball picture, the story concerns a love affair between Richard Dix, a rookie pitcher, of The New York Yankees and the daughter of the club's owner whom Dix courts as plain "Mamie Zilch," nursemaid and governess. Needless to say in the end of the picture Dix wins the ball game with his brilliant playing and the girl with his ardent love making.

On the stage next week will be the most spectacular stage show yet presented in Fort Worth, the latest New York-produced Public Stage show "Milady's Fan," with Lindy Coons, the crooning baritone and the Worth stage band. Michael Cooles conducting the Worth grand orchestra will present an interesting overture.

Major General Jadwin, Chief of Engineers of the United States Army, has designed what seems like a wonderfully efficient plan for control of future floods in the Mississippi valley.

MANY YEARS ADDED TO LIFE OF AMERICANS

Health and Sanitary Measures Have Accomplished Much Since Civil War.

The child of today may reasonably expect to live 19 years longer than the child of 1850.

Not only has the life span been lengthened by that many years since the decade immediately preceding the Civil War, but present indications are that the average expectancy of life may be increased by 10 additional years.

Application of simple measures of health and sanitation constitutes the key to a long and healthful life, according to Dr. J. N. LaPorte, director of the bureau of vital statistics of the New York state health department.

Progress in disease prevention and a resultant increase in the length of human life has made rapid progress in the past few decades.

More Dangerous Than Bullets. Yellow fever took more lives than were ended by bullets in the Civil War and a century ago one out of every 10 persons in Philadelphia died during an epidemic of the disease, declares Dr. Jago Gladson, professor of public health at Fordham University.

Epidemic diseases are controlled, Dr. Gladson explains, by four major factors: preventative medicines and periodic health examinations, an increase in knowledge regarding the care of tuberculosis and better rules of diet and hygiene together with their observance.

But even a well balanced diet and a regular program of physical exercise may fail of their purpose, represents food that has been preserved properly and not allowed to become infected with disease engendering bacteria.

Present Average 55 Years. Dr. Louis H. Dublin, statistician for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is one of the specialists who predicts a 10 year increase of the life span.

Reduction in the mortality rate, made possible through modern methods of hygiene, exercise, diet and a more general knowledge of illnesses that were mysteries a few decades ago, represents also a reduction in the national sick bill, which averages $2,000,000,000 a year, government figures show.

Did You Every Stop To Think?

While in Oklahoma City I dropped down in the chamber of commerce to see the president, Ed Overholser. There is no use for me to tell you who Ed Overholser is, as every chamber of commerce man in the United States knows him, and at some time or other some of his speeches or writings have been used by most of them in their own organizations.

Ed Overholser is one of the queerest chamber of commerce men in the United States. He never mentions his own town's name—he works for the state of Oklahoma. He even goes further than that, he works for what he calls the Southwest; that area lying west of the Mississippi river, south of the Missouri River, east of the Rocky Mountains and north of Old Mexico and the Gulf.

Another queer thing about his preaching—he says the Southwest contains only one-fifth of the area of the United States but produces from 25 percent to 50 percent of nearly all the raw material produced in America. For instance, the Southwest produces 53 percent of all the cotton of the United States, 82 percent of all the broom-corn, 68 percent of all the oil, 40 percent of all the zinc, 41 percent of all the lead, and almost half of the winter wheat.

Ed says the fastest growing section in the United States is his Southwest, and while modestly prevents him from saying anything about his own town, its building permits have run $9,628,747 in the last six months and there are $25,000,000 worth of projects financed for the coming year, which includes a 25-story hotel, a $10,000,000 railroad station and equipment, 200 miles of hard surfaced roads and other things in proportion.

Ed won't talk politics or religion in connection with his chamber of commerce work as he says they have no place in a chamber of commerce, but he admitted to me before I left the office that he wasn't at all agitated about the political situation, because the best or worst president the United States ever had could not stop the development in the Southwest that is now on the program, and that the political and financial power was moving to the west so fast that neither Tammany nor Wall Street could much longer retain their power over things political or financial. So, to use his own expression, "What do we care?"

Blanton to Speak In This County

RESEARCH WORK FOR ENGINEERS IS SUGGESTED

Immense Sums Might Be Saved In Connection With Building Foundations Alone.

NEW YORK—Hundreds of millions of dollars might be saved annually in the United States through engineering research in connection with building foundations, Col. Charles R. Gow of Boston, chairman of the research committee on soils of the American Society of Civil Engineers, said at a dinner of the Engineering Foundation, just held here.

Referring to the recent collapse of the St. Francis Dam in California, Colonel Gow declared that while "stupendous sums were being invested in the erection of architectural marvels . . . we still trust very largely to guesswork where the foundation details are considered."

"The American Society of Civil Engineers has long recognized the necessity for its solution," he declared. "The efforts of one of its committees has been directed to this problem for a number of years and it has compiled valuable data and developed many avenues of approach."

"A new committee was recently assigned to the task of investigating the problem from a research standpoint, confining itself to the present to the very definite and simple, but highly essential, problem of a scientific classification of soils as found in nature, so that reference to a specific type of soil will always mean the same thing to all persons. Once this end is attained, the balance of the work remaining to be done is by comparison simple in character."

Charles Terzaghi, associate professor of foundation engineering of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, told the engineers that since 1900, Europe, and particularly Germany, had proceeded by leaps and bounds in experimental hydraulics, while by comparison, little had been accomplished in the United States.

Chaney

Everything is lovely around Chaney. We have had a fine rain, a real tank filler and ground soaking, so our late crops are all looking fine. Peanuts will make a good crop on the season we now have. June corn is looking fine and should make a good crop.

Preparations are being made for a community fair at Chaney, September 8. Jess Blackwell and Mrs. Maud Dean are presidents.

Brother J. T. Skaggs is holding a meeting at Chaney this week, assisted by Brother Johnson of Ranger. We are having large crowds at day and night services. Much interest is being taken and we hope much and lasting good will be accomplished. There have been six additions to the church so far.

Joe Tucker, Troy Melton, Lonzo, Oscar and Luther Melton have gone to South Texas fishing. We all wish them a good time and lots of fish.

Bro. Tommie Scay and family of Ranger, Carl Perrin and family of Merriam, and Jno. Fondville and some of his family of Salem attended church at Chaney Sunday.

The road work north of Chaney is going nicely and now this good rain will make road building in the sand good. Messrs. Deane and Nordley know how to build roads. Mrs. Nancy Akers is at Oldham this week.

Grandma Walton is some better of late.

W. W. Minchew of Breckenridge spent the day with his father, H. P. Minchew, at Chaney Sunday.

J. T. Walton spent the day with his mother Sunday.

"Grandma" Chance Mrs. H. D. Browning's grandfolds, of Austin is visiting Mr. Browning's home. He is past 80 years, but still hale and looks good for his age. He served three years in the civil war and now lives at the Confederate home at Austin.

Two of Mr. Guy Gentry's sons of Thurber are visiting their uncle, J. A. Gentry at Chaney and while here are helping their uncle with his cattle.

Mrs. Dean Gentry was visiting at Mineral Wells the past week. James Thomas had a birthday supper last Friday, July 20, that was enjoyed by a good many of his friends. The cake had 24 candles. We wish these birthday suppers would come often.

J. H. Walkes just got his hay baled and in the barn before the rain. It's betted to be born lucky than rich as hay is fine and a little scarce just now.

Our committee reports good prospects for a switch near Chaney in time for the peanut crop. Then a buyer and we will be setting jake, at Chaney.

It is real warm and dry around Chaney. Crops are beginning to need rain. Some corn is fairly good, while some is being cut short on account of dry weather. Gardens are failing fast. Melons will be short unless it rains real soon.

Brother Halsell of Kokomo preached an old-fashioned Methodist sermon Sunday and has promised to come again the third Sunday in August and hold a meeting for a few days.

A good many of Chaney's people attended church at Alameda Sunday as there was a Christian meeting going on there, and a good many attended singing at Kokomo. The Baptist protracted meeting will begin at Chaney next Friday night, July 20. Brother Frank Skaggs, pastor, will be assisted by Brother H. B. Johnson of Ranger and we are all hoping for a grand revival at Chaney during this series of meetings. The meeting at Chaney, Friday night, was well attended and much interest is being taken in the community fair for Chaney, September 8. J. C. Patterson of Eastland, county agent, made a real interesting talk that was enjoyed by all. We all want them to visit Chaney often.

Mr. V. V. Cooper, county commissioner Precinct No. 1, was at Chaney this week looking over the roads and promised to make us a road north from Chaney to in intersect the new road now being built by him.

W. C. Calvert was kicked by a horse last week but is doing fine at this writing.

Grandma Walton is also getting along fine as she is able to be up part of the time.

O. S. Melton is still in bed with a bronchial trouble. Mr. Walton has been real sick but we hope he will be up again soon.

H. A. Browning and family of Valley View, Cooke county, were at Chaney Sunday night and report crops fine in Cooke county, only too much rain just now.

GRISHAM WILL SPEAK TONIGHT IN EASTLAND

ple of this city are showing in Judge Grisham's candidacy, it is believed that the meeting will be record-breaking for attendance and enthusiasm.

Asks People To Vote. The following statement was issued from campaign headquarters this morning:

"It is not every city that has an opportunity to have one of its citizens as a member of Congress and the value of such an honor to the prestige and reputation of the city cannot be exaggerated or over-stated.

"The people of Eastland are overwhelmingly for R. N. Grisham because he is their fellow townsman and for the further reason that he is conceded to be the ablest and best qualified man in the race.

"There are more than 2,000 qualified voters in the city of Eastland. This is twice the number of votes that come of the counties will cast. If the people will turn out and vote here on Saturday, they will roll up such a vote for Grisham that it will help him to sweep the district.

"Remember, a vote in Eastland not only swells the majority here but it counts that much toward winning the entire district."

Speaks in Ranger. Special to The Telegram.

RANGER, July 27.—Ranger is always glad to welcome the citizens of Eastland, declared Judge L. R. Pearson, fire and police commissioner of Ranger, who introduced Judge R. N. Grisham of Eastland, candidate for Congress, yesterday afternoon at Ranger.

These two cities are bound by the ties of friendship and co-operation, the speaker said, pointing out that it had not been for Ranger, the new courthouse would not now be under construction at Eastland. The vote of Ranger in favor of the courthouse turned the scale.

Pearson paid a tribute to the Eastland man, saying that he was well and favorably known to the people of Ranger as an able lawyer and a man who always stood for what he conceived to be right.

As he stepped forward, Judge Grisham was given a good round of applause. He was heard by approximately 500 people who stood for 40 minutes, listening attentively throughout. Not a dozen people left during the speech and their places were taken by late arrivals. The speech was delivered at the corner of Main and Rusk streets.

After thanking Judge Pearson for his kind introduction, the Congressional candidate expressed his gratefulness to the members of the Eastland band who had played preceding the address. Launching into a discussion of his position on national and international matters, he declared his opposition to the United States interfering with the domestic affairs of the Latin American nations, alluded to a Ranger soldier who had been wounded in Nicaragua and that the people of America do not know what the war is about. However, it is thought to have some bearing on a desire by this nation for canal zone land. "If we need land, let's buy it with money and not with the blood of American soldiers," Grisham said and the crowd cheered.

The national government should own the buildings occupied by self-supporting postoffices, he declared, as a matter of economy because the government does not have to pay taxes on its own buildings and the amounts paid out for rent would be more than sufficient to build handsome buildings. He referred to a measure in Congress to pay $15,000 in back rent for the Ranger post-office as illustrating how big an amount is paid out for rent over a long term of years.

Tariff on Oil. "I am in favor of a tariff on oil," he said. "Two hundred and fifty thousand barrels a day are being imported into the United States and are paying no duty. This has forced down the price of West Texas oil, has lessened the amount of money received by the farmer from the wells on his land, has caused other farmers to fail to gain the benefits of development on their land, has lessened the income of the oil man, and has thrown workers out of employment."

"A tariff of 25 cents a barrel on oil imported into the United States would add millions of dollars a year to the value of the oil produced in West Texas."

He advocated a tariff on farm and ranch products, for more treaties of commerce to provide greater markets for the agricultural and ranch products and urged a measure that will bring farm relief. He stated he favored enforcement of the 18th amendment and, if elected, will work for more federal aid for highways in this Congressional district and will aid the disabled soldiers to obtain adequate consideration.

Dealing with "diversified farming," he said that Congress is a law-making body and that if a law was passed to force the farmer to diversify, such a law would be unconstitutional, but if it were not, it would mean that federal agents would be inspecting the farmers all over the nation to see how many acres each farmer had planted in wheat, in peanuts and in cotton.

He then referred to one of his opponents who criticized the act of a board in taking water rights from Brownwood. But Judge Grisham pointed out that this action was taken by a State board and that Congress had no connection with the act. These were the only references made to his opponents and he did not call them by name.

The speaker predicted that he would receive more votes in Abilene and in Nolan county than his two highest opponents, that he would carry Eastland county and 11 other counties of the 19 in the district. Many people went forward and shook hands with him after the address.

It was his third speech of the day—the others being in Rising Star and in Desdemona, where he was accorded good hearings.

4-H CLUB BOYS AND GIRLS LEAVE SUNDAY

It is the work of Mrs. J. C. Patterson, wife of the Eastland county agent. Following are the Mother Goose rhymes:

I'm an old woman who lived in a shoe

I had so many children I didn't know what to do,

I sent them to Short Course to take a vacation,

Now they're the best gardeners you'll find in the nation.

Diddle, Diddle, Diddle, My name's John,

I went down to the bank with my best clothes on,

Came back home with a dairy cow, I make more money than my dad does now.

I'm Little Miss Muffet, I sat on a tuffet,

And made myself a dress,

Took it to the fair, got a prize there,

So I'll wear it to the Short Course, I guess.

I'm Peter, Peter Pumpkin Eater Had a farm and couldn't keep her I built terraces I'm here to tell And now it keeps very well.

Oh! Marble Wall as white as silk Lined with skin as soft as silk, Within a fountain clear,

A golden apple doth appear (hold up an egg)

There is no doo to this firm hold, Yet I grow rich upon its gold.

I'm Little Tommie Tucker, I sing for my supper,

What do they give? 4-H bread and butter,

It's fit to be cut with a silver knife,

He's lucky who marries a club girl for his wife.

A few months ago I bought a little pig,

I fed him skim milk, tankage and grain,

Two pounds a day was his average gain.

I'm Mistress Mary quite contrary, And Oh! how my garden grows, With turnips, lettuce, spinach, beans, Carrots, cabbage and tomatoes.

I'm Tom Tom, the farmer's son, I bought a calf when he was young And that young calf within a year

Grew a thousand pounds of prime beef steer.

I'm Old Mother Hubbard, When I go to the cupboard

I never find it bare,

For I have a granddaughter in the club and you oughter

See the canned goods she keeps there.

I'm Little Boy Blue, I blow my own horn,

I make a hundred bushels, On one acre of corn.

We'er Jack and Gill, from over the hill,

We used to carry water, Now it's piped into our house,

We've time for fun and laughter, All sing to tune "Mary Had a Little Lamb."

1. Eastland county has some clubs, has some clubs, has some clubs, That are full of pep and go.

2. The girls learned how to cook and can, cook and can, cook and can.

The girls learned how to cook and can, as well as how to sew.

3. The boys learned how to raise field crops, raise field crops, raise field crops,

And make their live stock grow

4. They learned to terrace, prune bud bud, prune and bud, prune and bud,

And garden very well.

5. And if you judge by money earned, money earned, money earned,

They must have learned it well

6. What makes them love their club work so, club work so, club work so,

The wondering parents cry,

7. Because it is our own, you know, our own you know, our own you know, The children all reply.

if he gets there at all. The country looks for him to say something that will mean something and Smith is trying to comply. His record shows, fortunately for him, that he can open his mouth without putting unnecessary remarks about a third term rose later to plague him. "God knows!" President Taft said once when someone asked him the solution of a pressing national problem, and it had a bad effect over the country. Wilson's assertion that there was such a thing as being "too proud to fight" hurt him considerably. Coolidge has demonstrated his capacity as an expert politician by saying nothing important, hedging White House press conferences and confining his speeches to platitudes.

This year either candidates may make some break which could conceivably cost him the election.

Both vice presidential candidates already have talked too much, in the opinion of some members of their own parties.

Much can be forgiven Charlie Curtis, of course, for he did his talking before the conventions. It was Charlie who attacked Herbert Hoover almost savagely and publicly proclaimed that Hoover's nomination would put the Republican party on the defensive.

That crack is bound to be hurled back at him before the campaign is over. It was made during those dear sweet days when Charlie, delirious from a deep bite of the apia bombus praesidens, believed he had an excellent chance of nomination. Although he didn't know it, he was never more than a vice presidential candidate. By the time the first Republican reached Kansas City, his best friends and backers were obviously all working to land second place for him.

Charlie himself was honest and earnest about his higher ambitions right to the finish, though his friends must have worried when he let out that blast against Hoover.

The other candidate who is believed by some of his party brethren to have talked too much is Joe Robinson. Joe went to New York and unleashed a public statement to the effect that there was dirty work afoot in the south and that it seemed serious enough to lead the Democrats to open up a real southern headquarters to offset it.

One now learns that the reaction in the New York Democracy was very sour indeed. The Robinson proposal was rejected without ceremony and Joe was told, in effect, that he was all wet about the possibility that the party might lose any of the southern states.

Some of the Tammany boys have been remarking since that if Joe had any such worries he should have come to tell the national committee about it in whispers instead of blatting it out in public. Bad psychology and all that, you know.
