City's Building Permits Total $8,185 For June

Building permits in the City of Eastland totaled $8,185 for the month of June with two days left in the month in which the total may be increased.

The largest permit for the month was for a $3,000 filling station with the second largest being for $2,000 for repairs to a business building.

The permits for the past weeks include the following expenditures for improvements and new buildings:

Curtis Douglas, colored, building residence $600.00.

Beiggs Owen, improvements and repairs on building formerly occupied by Barrow Furniture Company, $2,000.

Texas and Pacific Railway, repairs on station $350.

H. H. Bettis, miniature golf course on East Commerce street, $600.00.

L. J. Lambert, filling station, $3,000.

Local Airport Will Have Two Large Beacons

Word was received in Eastland Saturday afternoon by Russell Jones, chairman of the Dulin-Daniel post of the American Legion that the Department of Commerce had decided to put two beacons near the Eastland emergency landing field which has been secured through the efforts of the Legion Post.

One of the beacons is to be of 3,000,000 candlepower as previously announced, and the other is to be a light of approximately one-half this power which will be located on the hill just east of the landing field. This second light will probably be colored and will blink in code throughout the night to guide pilots coming from the east. It was said by W. S. Kenyon, airways supervisor of the Department of Commerce that the beacon could be seen from the air as far away as Thurber and would be a guiding light to indicate the route and the location of the field.

The contracts for grading the field will probably be let during the latter part of July, Kenyon said in a long distance telephone conversation Saturday and the work will be rushed to completion as quickly as possible.

The Dulin-Daniel Post is planning to begin work on the clearing of 55 acres of the runway that will be necessary in order to get the field in shape to turn over to the government for improvements and lighting. The fencing of the 115 acre tract will be begun within a short time, also, and will be completed as soon as the Legion can get it done.

Arrangements have been made with the Texas Electric Service Company to furnish electric service for the field as soon as preparations have gone forward far enough to make the lighting necessary.

Plenty of parking space will be provided by the Legion for the cars which will visit the field at any time that airplane attractions may be held on the field. The north boundary of the runway is just 500 feet from Highway No. 07 and a 60 foot graded road leads from the highway to the field, making it readily accessible to the public.

The additional beacon will probably add a little to the $10,000 budget the government has appropriated for the purpose of improving the field, making the total that the department will spend here more than was originally expected.

Miss Josephine Martin is in an Abilene hospital recovering from a tonsil operation. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Martin of this city.

U. S. Beauty Goes to Europe

The United States' hopes of winning international beauty recognition rests on Beatrice Lee, above, 17, of Salt Lake City, Utah, who received the coveted title of "Miss United States" when the first place winner was disqualified. Miss Lee embarked for Europe, where she will enter the international contest.

Tax Suits Filed By City Attorney

John Turner, city attorney, has prepared and filed delinquent tax suits for the City of Eastland totaling approximately $20,000 in taxes. The suits are for various amounts and are covered by approximately 50 cases in which the property owners are behind on delinquent taxes.

This is the second group of tax suits that have been filed this year by the city attorney. In February of this year he filed suits and collected $26,000 in back taxes that were due the city, practically all cases of delinquency being cleared up by the payment of back taxes and penalties that were attached for failure to pay promptly.

Mexican Leaders Seeking Office

EL PASO, Tex., June 28.—A "battle of the governors" was on today in Chihuahua City, Mexico.

Latest reports received here said that Governor Francisco C. Almada and Jesus Manuel Estrada, who was proclaimed governor after a coup Wednesday by the Chihuahua chamber of deputies, were established in the governmental palace.

Estrada, a political supporter of Manuel Prieto, candidate for governor of the state in the coming election of July 20, was reported to have set up offices in a legislative chamber of the palace, with Almada occupying his regular suite.

Political observers in Juarez today predicted the central government likely would ignore the claims of both Almada and Estrada and appoint a third man to lead the state administration until after the election.

First Week Of Flowers Revival Is Successful

Mrs. Flowers speaks on "Home" this morning at the First Methodist Church.

The Flowers revival has grown in interest with every service and the prospects for a successful meeting is as good as the Methodists have had in some time. Mrs. Flowers will conduct a series of meetings beginning Tuesday and running through Wednesday and Thursday for married women only. These meetings have been among the most popular of any of the Flowers revival during their campaigns. The young folk services at 8 each evening are running over with enthusiasm and interest.

There will be observed this morning at 11 o'clock an old-fashioned family service. A box of candy will be given to largest family present, another box will be given to the couple who have been married the longest time and still another box given to the couple who have been married the shortest time. Tonight Evangelist Flowers will speak on "A False Refuge."

Evangelist Flowers discussed last night "The Guilt of Robbing God." "What a happy world it would be if we all recognized God in their dealings and would give Him consideration in their thoughts. When man with holds from God he withholds from himself blessings he should have individually."

Special nights will be observed each night at the Flowers meetings next week. Monday night will be ladies night. Tuesday night will be men's night. Wednesday night will be young folk night. Thursday night will be the roll and bring your neighbor night. Friday a religious-patriotic service.

The law requires that each candidate file three expense accounts, two before the first primary and one after. The first accounting is required to be filed between June 26 and June 30.

Barber And Beauty Parlor Measure Be Strictly Enforced

DALLAS, Tex., June 28.—Up-held by district judge Tom Ball of Ellis county in his efforts to enforce the barber and beauty parlor license law, passed last year, the Attorney General's Department Saturday planned state-wide enforcement of the measure.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Rice M. Tilley, who represented the state in the Ellis county suit attacking constitutionality of the law, said the law would be strictly enforced everywhere.

A law passed in 1907 to require licensing of barbers was held unconstitutional. The new law was passed in 1929.

'Divine Guidance' Jury Brings In Verdict Of Death

DUNCAN, Okla., June 28.—A jury that prayed for "Divine guidance" found E. C. "Choc" Hembree, Grady county farmer and pardoned murderer, guilty of a charge of criminal assault today and recommended the extreme penalty.

Hembree showed no emotion when Judge M. W. Pugh sentenced him to die in the electric chair.

Hembree has been on trial all week on a charge of attacking and shooting Leota Bosley, of Gainesville, Tex., who was teaching the Loco school.

The case was given the jury at 8:30 o'clock last night. The jurors retired after two hours of deliberation. Entering the courtroom at 9 a. m. today, the jury asked permission to pray for Divine guidance.

For 20 minutes members of the jury sat silent in prayer.

The silence of 20 minutes was broken by announcement of the foreman of "We the jury, find E. C. Hembree guilty as charged and recommend the supreme penalty—death in the electric chair."

It was the first time a man who had stood trial in Stephens county, had been sentenced to death.

The alleged attack occurred March 9 near Loco. Two men abducted Miss Bosley and her escort, Chad Thurman, a newspaper reporter of Nocona, Texas, while the couple were driving along a side road.

Hembree's younger brother, A. Y., has been charged in connection with the attack but to enforce severance of trial.

After the girl had been mistreated, the assailants shot at Thurman because he did not comply with their request. The bullet struck Miss Bosley. Thurman testified at the trial. Her shoulder is still paralyzed from the wound.

The couple identified Hembree as the assailant.

DALLAS, Tex., June 28.—Texas' high temperature belt had shifted to the eastern part of the state, with record-breaking marks highly possible.

The mercury stood at 97 here at noon, five degrees hotter than at that hour at any time this week. No change in temperature over the state is contained in the government forecast.

Temple and Corsicana were the hottest spots in Texas yesterday, registering 108. Eastland, Graham, Lufkin, Quanah and Port Arthur, representing several parts of the state, each reported 102.

On the plains, where the highest temperatures usually prevail, the Friday level ranged from 92 to 94, far below the average temperatures in East Texas.

Officers Look For Escaped Prisoners

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—A county-wide search was being conducted today for five of six men who escaped late last night from the city prison farm.

The sixth man, Otto Lewis, was captured early today.

The men smuggled a hammer and a piece of crowbar into their barracks, according to officials, and escaped through a hole they made in the floor.

ROUND ROCK, Tex., June 28.—Early Jackson, negro employed by R. L. Egger here was shot and killed this afternoon by members of a posse who were pursuing him after Egger and his wife both were shot at their home here.

The negro went to the house about noon. Neighbors heard shots. They hurried to the house and found Egger shot and blinded. Mrs. Egger had been shot in the chest.

The negro was reported headed toward Austin in an automobile. A posse quickly formed and phone messages were sent out to watch the roads.

Balley Jester and Weaver Farrel, two of the searchers, encountered the negro at a road intersection. They reported that the negro got back of his car and began shooting at them with a pump shot gun. They returned the fire killing him.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Egger were taken to Martin Hospital at Georgetown. They were both still living late this afternoon and probably will recover. A small daughter was away from home at the time the shooting occurred.

Annual Fourth July Golf Play Be Held Here

It is expected that a large number of golfers from the clubs of the county will send in their entrance applications between now and the first day of play.

Three Brothers Get Life Terms

DUNCAN, Okla., June 28.—Three brothers who battled officers who tried to arrest them until an officer was slain, another wounded and two of the brothers injured, pleaded guilty to a murder charge today and were sentenced to life imprisonment.

The three were Jess, John and Manuel Cunningham who live on a farm near here. They were charged with the murder of Sheriff Wal Williams.

A fourth boy, Forrest, was slain in the gun battle.

The guilty pleas were entered at their preliminary hearings.

The gun battle occurred at Mark-wood, north of here, several weeks ago when officers attempted to stop them. Sheriff Williams wished to question them concerning a $1,800 filling station robbery at Lawton.

Two Day Meeting Club Encampment Concluded Here

The Boys and Girls 4-H Club encampment came to an end here Saturday afternoon with the largest crowd ever to attend an affair of the kind in Eastland county having been present during the two days.

Lunch was served Saturday at noon to 215 boys and girls, approximately 70 more than were served last year at the encampment.

Everything on the program went off as scheduled, but no winners in the boys' stork, poultry and grain judging were announced because of the fact that several of the clubs had not completed raising funds to help defray expenses of the delegates to the short course in July. The winners will be announced later when it is decided who will go to College Station.

The only change in the plans was made when Miss Gertrude Brent of Coleman county could not be present to help in the girls' sewing and food preservation and preparation contests and Miss Nufflet Grimes of Graham was substituted to take her place.

Judge Clyde L. Garrett, county judge of Eastland county, made a short talk to the assembled boys and girls Saturday and after his talk he was unanimously elected an honorary member of the 4-H clubs of the county.

In the basketball games the Flatwood boys' team and the Dolin girls' team defeated all rival teams and then challenged other teams to pick an all-star team that could beat them. Both the boys' and girls' team then defeated the all-star team selected to play them. The games were played in the high school gymnasium.

Not only was the crowd larger than it had been in previous years, but the boys and girls seemed to enjoy themselves more than they have on previous years.

BOY TAKES 11,000 VOLTS

BY UNIVER PRESS

TREMONTON, Utah, June 27.—A 10-year-old boy here had something even better than an operation to tell his playmates about when he emerged with his life after an encounter with 11,000 volts of electricity. He was forced to remain in bed and receive treatment for severe burns, but he was proud to know that he had been touched by four times the amount of electricity used to execute criminals, and had been able to crawl to a house unaided.

Dean Yoder was a hero to his playmates after his experience.

The youth was playing on the roof of a barn near his home. He slipped, threw his arms up to regain his balance, and his arm hit a wire carrying 11,000 volts of electricity. The shock hurled him off the barn, to the roof of a slanting shed, and to the ground. He immediately started crawling to the back door of a neighbor.

Physicians and officials familiar with the effects of electric shocks were of the opinion that the fall from the barn acted as a counter-shock. They could think of no other factor that entered to save the boy's life.

Jake Hammon Team To Play At Cisco

The Jake Hammon Oilers will meet the Cisco Humble team this afternoon at Cisco. The game is to be called at 2:00 o'clock and will be played on Chesley Field, which is the Cisco High School baseball diamond.

The Jake Hammon team defeated the Coleman Bears last Sunday in a hotly contested game which ended in a 4-2 score, while Cisco defeated Mineral Wells on the same day by a 6-0 score. This should prove to be one of the most spectacular games held in the Oil Belt this year.

The lineup for Jake Hammon will be: Watson, 1b; T. Harbin, 2b; C. Henderson, s; Lemma, 3b; Coleman, lf; Miss, cf; Dabbs, rf;

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—Primary results are used to prove almost anything. The political lessons which various factions and individual analysts have drawn from the dozen or more primary elections this year have often been contradictory and in most such explanations of the results one man's guess as to the significance of the result has been as good as another.

Looking at all the results at once it can be said that the general thing thus far proved is that the big political machines are as strong as ever, that organization support is still the most important factor in politics and that the various states still seem "set" in their political ways. It is possible to draw the inference that the voters are not thoroughly satisfied with the set-up in Washington, but the conclusive demonstration of that theory will have to wait for the congressional election of November.

Dwight Morrow's smashing victory in New Jersey may be reasonably attributed to the facts that New Jersey is still very wet, that the G. O. P. organization which supported him is still very strong and that Morrow has built up great personal prestige. He might have won without any of the three factors, but each contributed importantly to his big majority.

Morrow was much the biggest man in the senatorial primary. The size of his majority indicates his election in November. He had all the Republican organization in the state, apparently, for although the Essex County G. O. P. was formally supporting Frelshuysen the fact that Morrow won by four to one in that section indicates that the support was unenthusiastic, if it existed.

Insurgents Win in West

Obviously, few Jersey Republicans were sufficiently worried about President Hoover's renomination problem to desire to spare him the anxiety created by Morrow as the one man talked of to oppose Hoover in 1932. Many voted for Morrow with the idea that they were giving him a boost toward the presidency.

Senator Schall's renomination in Minnesota was an endorsement of the western Republican insurgents, whereas the nomination of Governor Christman, his opponent and a close friend of White House Secretaries Akerson and Newton, would have been taken as an important victory for the administration. There haven't, however, been any decisive administration defeats or victories in the primaries to date. The White House keeps out of these fights and so avoids grief. Congressman White's defeat of former Governor Brewster for the Maine senatorial nomination was expected. White had the backing of the conservative state machine, which always wins with the aid of public utilities and other corporations. Brewster only had personal popularity and a good record as governor.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina would not have been licked by Josiah Bailey in the Democratic primary if he had not alienated nearly every working politician in his state by bolting Al Smith in 1928. Simmons had created a strong machine, but it turned on him and destroyed him after he had deserted his party. There was no popular uprising against Simmons. Neither was the Bailey victory anything in the nature of a wet victory, as some writers have suggested. The voters followed the guidance of their political leaders rather than that of their spiritual leaders: both sets of leaders are dry.

Pinchot an Exception

Puddler Jim Davis, who had all the organization support, was nominated by Pennsylvania Republicans for senator. The victory of Clifford Pinchot in the gubernatorial fight, despite machine opposition, may be considered an exception to the general rule that in big states the organization candidate always wins.

Senator McMaster's renomination in South Dakota last month is comparable to Senator Schall's in Minnesota; McMaster is an insurgent Republican.

Ruth Hanna McCormick's defeat of Senator Densen in Illinois was not a victory for anything in particular except the idea that most voters aren't afraid of having a woman in the Senate and the belief that Densen had never made himself popular. Both Ruth and Charlie had their own organizations.

Illinois has always been saturated with anti-World Court propaganda from the Chicago newspapers, but the importance of that issue in determining the outcome probably was considerably exaggerated.

THRILLS OF TIGER HUNT IN INDIA ARE TOLD BY EXPLORER

One hundred trained elephants and more than six hundred and fifty natives were only a part of the requirements for one day's tiger hunting in India, according to Commander G. M. Dyott, who is to be seen and heard at the Connellee theatre commencing Saturday in his adventure talkie, "Hunting Tigers in India."
 Some idea of the tremendous amount of labor and organization necessary to big game hunting is to be had from the Commander's talk, which carries throughout the showing of the picture. Days of preparation precede the actual hunt, he explains, to be followed by other days of travel and still further days of waiting while beaters and scouts search out the terrain surrounding the camp.
 Several tiger hunts are depicted in "Hunting Tigers in India" as well as many other jungle thrills, including the hunting down of a "roque" elephant and the slaying of the rarely photographed one-horned rhino.

Miss Dorothy Cox of Crane is visiting her aunt Miss Johnny Hightower and Miss Elizabeth Day.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

Devotional Reading—Isa. 26:1-9

In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah; We have a strong city; salvation will be appointed for walls and bulwarks.

Open ye gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in.

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee.

Trust ye in the Lord for ever; for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength.

For he bringeth down them that dwell on high; he layeth it low; he layeth it low, even to the ground; he bringeth it even to the dust.

The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy.

The way of the just is upright; thou, most upright, dost weigh the path of the just.

Yes, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early; for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 29. The Meaning of Christian Discipleship. Devotional Reading—Isa. 26:1-9.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of The Congregationalist.

The title of this lesson is apt and comprehensive in summing up the significance of the 13 lesson, including this one, which have constituted the story of the past quarter.

These studies began with the later stage in the life and ministry of Jesus, when the law of the cross was becoming emphasized in his teaching, and the shadow of the cross was beginning to fall very directly upon his earthly way. In these lessons the tenderness and beauty of the Christ life are strongly emphasized. In our second lesson we have the picture of Jesus rebuking those who would dismiss the little children, and taking these little ones up in his arms and blessing them, reminding his disciples that of such is the Kingdom of Heaven. The third lesson of the quarter broke in upon the continuity of the lessons to provide for Easter Sunday—a lesson on the reality of the Resurrection, but this in a sense has been the supreme theme of all the quarter's lessons.

A Stupendous Symbol

The lessons fortunately have emphasized the Resurrection not merely as a miraculous event, but as the symbol of a new spiritual life, a life characterized by supreme devotion to truth and righteousness in which all one's faculties and possessions come under the dominance of a new law of love and in which Christ's standard and ideal for the individual follower of the master.

The portrayal of Christ as king emphasizes the inwardness and power of his rule over the lives of those who would give themselves to him in love and service, and from his conception of the Christ life we have turned in our study to its application and in the realm of good citizenship and in practical experience in the life of today.

The lessons of Christian preparedness and of faithfulness in the stewardship of life have been emphasized in parables. In the closing lessons of the quarter we have come to the tragic experience of Gethsemane and Calvary which bring us not only into the holy of holies but into the realm where we are face to face with the supreme salvation that Jesus has brought to men through his suffering and death.

It is fitting that such a series of lessons have ended in a study of our own obligation and in what constitutes the glory of the Christian religion, namely, the fact that man is made at one with God in God's purpose of redemption, and in the proclamation and living of the Gospel in accordance with the great commission of the Master his presence and his power are forever assured.

Even Man's Opportunity

The magnitude and sweep of such lessons as these ought to bring into our lives a touch of the sublime. The lowliest Christian may live through Christ in a world of glory with the horizon of his life as broad as the universe and the height of his aspiration reaching to the very throne of God.

The devotional reading for the review lesson is well chosen. It is a gem of Old Testament prophecy which devout souls long for ages aspired to the things of which these lessons are the fulfillment.

As the prophet looked out upon a world of unrealized visions, so may not we in our age take heart? Can man progress so slow but ideals come to realities? Seeds of truth and love do come to fruition.

Will Rogers In 'So This Is London' At The Lyric

Will Rogers, humorist, comedian and commentator extraordinary on American life, creates the funniest role of his career in his new all-talking comedy, "So This Is London," an hilarious, laugh provoking screen adaptation of George M. Cohan's popular stage success.

In "So This Is London," Rogers is cast as a proud American mill owner who is commissioned by his associates to purchase several mills in London. Reluctantly, because he imagines he hates England, he agrees to go abroad, taking his wife and young son with him.

On the boat, going over, complications set in when Rogers' son meets and falls head over heels in love with a charming English debutante. To make matters even more confused, it develops that the girl's aristocratic parents are just as violently opposed to Americans as Rogers is to the English. So Will, Rogers in the English debutante, world, proceeds to discourage his son's love affair. But instead of straightening things out he merely succeeds in making matters worse, gaining for his well intentioned motives the scorn of his son.

Will, of course, has a sense of humor. And so when he gets to London and meets the girl's family, he sets out to fix things. The manner in which he goes about "fixing" things bring to the audible screen one riotous scene after the other, culminating in a climax that will pierce your ears anything like Will Rogers has ever done before. There seems little doubt that audiences who enjoyed "So This Is Paris," will find Rogers' newest effort even more amusing and entertaining than his first talking comedy.

Supporting Rogers in splendid fashion is Irene Rich, who again portrays his wife, Frank Albertson plays the son, and that thoroughly charming newcomer to the screen, Maureen O'Sullivan, who recently scored so favorably with John McCormack in "Song O' My Heart," is the English debutante.

John Blystone directed "So This Is London," which will be presented at the Lyric Theatre today and tomorrow.

A meeting of the legislature committee appointed to investigate deals in University of Texas mineral lands was postponed from today until June 20. Representatives Bob Long of Wichita Falls and Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg were the only members of the committee here.
