CANDIDATES ARE HEARD AT YELLOW MOUND

Joe Jones Arranges Meeting.
He and Opponent, Frank
Sparks, Discuss Efficiency in Office.

Candidates assembled at Yellow Mound Tuesday night in larger number than voters to hear them, and the voters missed a lot, too,
for all the speakers exerted themselves to do well and many of them made interesting talks. The meeting was held in the schoolhouse.
Beginning late, as seems to be the general rule with these meetings in the country, it was necessary that each speaker be brief in order that all might be heard before midnight. As it was, the night was well advanced before the last speaker was heard.

Leaders of Club 'Women of County' Get Their Wish

Representative women of the Eastland County Federation of Women's Clubs met with the County Commissioners' Court Monday and presented a plea that the salary of Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent, be made to correspond with salaries paid to such agents in neighboring counties. They represented that Miss Ramey is recognized as one of the most effective and efficient home demonstration agents in Texas, yet her salary was less than was being paid beginners in other counties.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF HIGHWAYS MAY BE NEXT.

The far-reaching control exerted by the federal government is now being more strikingly manifested in the supervision of rail-

To build a line from one point in Eastland county to another point in Eastland county would require permission from the interstate commerce commission.

We are informed that citizens in certain federal tax matters must go to Washington instead of requesting a hearing nearer home.

The next development will be the assertion by the national government of control over the highways.

Owners of cars in collisions are likely to find themselves haled into federal court. Men committing killings and robberies on the highways may become subject to prosecution in federal court.

The further away that power is removed from the people and the greater the number of bureaus and commissions, the less opportunity do the people have to observe near and by watchfulness, enforce efficiency and economy.

Consequently unless this tendency toward centralization is halted, taxes will increase and liberty will decrease. It is therefore to be hoped that the democratic party in this campaign will dedicate itself to bringing back to the state and county some of the powers that have been taken away.

RELIGION STILL GRIPS MANKIND.

It is a commonplace nowadays to say that religion no longer has a very great hold on the people.

There is an easy saying that men merely give lip service to the churches and are far more interested in money-making, sports, holidays, the theatre, dancing, love affairs. Maybe so, maybe so.

But what is one to make of the fact that for the second time within four months the British parliament has had a full dress debate on a revised prayer book for the Church of England and that some of the biggest men in public life made impassioned speeches on the subject?

There were no votes to be obtained by so doing. There was no special prestige to be secured.

So the speakers could have been impelled by only one motive—an intense devotion to their religion and the precepts they thought it ought to teach.

INVENTIVE WOMEN.

In the last five years the increase in inventions by women has been 35 per cent, according to figures released by the children's bureau of the department of labor.

During the same period, inventions by men increased only 17 per cent. While it is true that inventions by women constituted only 2 per cent of the whole, the important point is that the women are gaining as inventors on their male competitors.

There is nothing to do, we suppose, but for the men to feel aggrieved about it.

ONE-MAN ORCHESTRA FORT WORTH, July 7.—A huge crowd gathered here to take part or watch the recreational demonstration square dance.

The orchestra was missing, having departed to fill an out of town engagement.

John Dyer, a spectator, volunteered his services with a harmonica and set of "bones." A real square dance was held.

THOMAS-BUTLER WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

James Enos Butler, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Thomas were married in Fort Worth Saturday afternoon, and were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Day.

Mr. Butler is the son of Dr. Butler of Oak Cliff, Dallas, a capitalist who is largely interested in Eastland and Eastland county. The bride is the sister of Mrs. Day and also the niece of Mrs. Alcorn of this city.

Young Mr. Butler is connected with the insurance firm of George Handley & Son of Dallas.

The young couple will make their home at 702 Lakewood Boulevard, Dallas, where their new home is just completed.

BARRETT-WHALEY MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED

W. C. Whaley and Miss Ruby Barrett were married in Cisco Sunday afternoon by the Rev. T. W. Walthall, who pronounced the beautiful ring ceremony at the Christian church service, at the campment.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Barrett of this city. She was a graduate of Eastland Hi in 1926.

Mr. Whaley is a civil engineer, associated with his uncle, Joe A. Wright, city engineer.

The bride was charmingly attired in white, and wore a large white picture hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Whaley will be at home to friends after July 15th, at Court Apartments No. 1.

CHURCH OF CHRIST CLASS IN EVANGELISM

The class in evangelism of the Church of Christ was given a genuinely stirring lesson on two chapters in Revelations, by their teacher, the Rev. H. W. Wrye, at the session yesterday afternoon in the church. A background was laid for the lessons to be handled by Mrs. J. E. Bogress, during the absence of Rev. Mr. Wrye, who will be off on several days' vacation before the class convenes next week, when the new study will be broached, "How We Got Our Bible."

Completed plans were made for the open or public demonstration to be held Thursday afternoon in the church object rooms, which bids fair to be as interesting a demonstration as that of the first presentation.

The large table will bear in base relief the composition of Jacob's Dream. Guests will be received at the door of the church by a committee from the class, and other members will conduct the visitors through the demonstration rooms.

SCORPION WINS BATTLES WITH TARANTULAS

Warrior From Tropics Makes Short Work of Giant Spiders in Exhibition Bout.

MIDLAND.—In four rounds of the most furious fighting ever to grace the antagonism of the lesser biological kingdom, "Theodore," the pride of Midland—a dangerous tropical scorpion—whipped to death in 33 minutes three giant tarantulas, "Octopus," "Jesse James," "Lucretia Borgia," and ripped "Cobra" from mandibles to coxy so that his breathing is tremendous and has the ominous death rattle.

The Midland Daily Telegram and Abilene Plumbing Supply company, owners of the scorpion today issued Eastland's famous toad, "Old Rip," a challenge to an 8-round bout. Midland fans say "Rip" might find this an "eye-opener."

The bout has precedent with other events which have happened for the first time.

At any rate, the town turned out to see the fight—the first of its kind ever known to have been held. Over 400 men and women stood on tables and desks of the Midland Daily Telegram, sat perched high on the partition separating the editorial and composing rooms, and did the crane act behind the head and shoulders of those in front. A continual stream came in and out, everyone getting to see as much as one bout, while some who forgot themselves in the excitement saw all four.

No bout lasted beyond one round except the last, when "Theodore," who has been dubbed with the "addition," as Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, called it, of "The Great," expended all his poison and had to resort to his crab-like pinchers. This, however, appealing to his bellicose instinct, he proceeded to amputate one of the antennae of the thoroughly aroused "Cobra." This done, he retired to his corner and sagely waited for the count.

There was a look of doubt on Theodore's face as Octopus, instead of leaping across the aquarium ring at him, began to climb the smooth case. However, this might be a ruse what these North Americans might do—"Queen sabe?" The crowd grew excited and had to be cautioned not to get over the glass trough. A sort of unbreathing rigidity fell over the spectators, as the tarantula crept sinuously, cautiously forward. The scorpion lifted one threatening scissor-terminal paw. But this was only a feint, for the ugly spider leaped upon the South American and twined his tentacles in a constricting knot about him, only to find himself stabbed by three lightning lunges of the poisonous rapier tail. Low exclamations from the men and a general erodus of women resulted when the tarantula gave one spasmodic leap more, and then turned convulsively on its back, kicked futilely once or twice, and then fell into a coma which was soon pronounced death.

Bouts 2 and 3

Each of these bouts were identical with the first, with the exception that the scorpion was dealt a series of stings to his "case-hardened" body which made his tail drop. For a time it seemed, in the third bout, that fate had given him the "thumbs down," but he rallied gamely, using his pinchers.

Bout 4

This was not so scientific, but was marked with savagery as the scorpion took two stings in the face and, in return, ripped open the body of the clinging, threatening insect, enveloping him.

(Noe: The referee did not hold up the mitt of the winner, to signify the decision.)

It was discovered this morning that "Theodore" was feeling a bit cocky over last night's result, so another big tarantula was thrown in to him. There was no preliminary sparring. The big spider made a leap and was shaken off. Just one more, and as the hairy arms and legs locked about his body and the evil face of his adversary was seeking to inject a fatal poison into his eyes, the scorpion made just one lash with the tail that carries the sleep poison, and the fight was over. It lasted exactly five seconds.

"Theodore" has been reading the account of the challenge to "Old Rip" this morning, and spectators engaged in looking over the results of the carnage, say he smiled so slightly. His question is: "Will the toad live that many years longer?"

Superintendent Youngblood of the Cisco public schools was in Eastland today.

N. C. Cowley of Griggsby and H. E. McClesky of Hallmark, both school trustees, were in Eastland today on business with the county school superintendent.

A fishing party of E. C. Satterwhite and son, Colin Gray Satterwhite, J. M. Nunn and son, Richard Nunn, Dr. J. H. Caton, and J. A. Caton left yesterday morning for a week's stay on the Llano River near Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Badders and son, David, left this morning for a two weeks' visit in Vermont.

Mrs. W. A. Owen and her sister, Miss Catherine Jameson, leave Saturday for Austin, to spend two weeks with their mother in that city.

R. L. Morris, banker, merchant and capitalist of Chico, Texas, stopped over yesterday to visit the office of the Prairie Oil & Gas Co., and to meet with some of the boys, and also visited other friends.

Others present were Mmes. Shelby Smith, Harry Woods, J. H. Stewart, Alva Hayes, L. E. White, Anna Craig, J. R. Bogress, H. W. Wrye, E. H. Harris, H. E. Lawrence, S. E. Roper, Elle Hayes, R. L. Rowe, V. R. Shurman and S. A. Owen.

A shower will be given for Mrs. John Young by the class, in compliment to her small infant, the class visiting her home and presenting the gifts this afternoon.

Everyone expressed themselves as being very proud of their Cameron member, and glad she belonged to them.

R. D. Mahon joined her for the week-end in Cameron and they returned in their new car.

YOUNG FOLKS ENJOY MATINEE PARTY

A jolly little matinee party, that motored to Cisco, attended the picture show, and had luncheon afterwards, before returning in the evening, was made up of Miss Catherine Hoffman, Miss Adrean Parvin, Miss Bonita Hillyer, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Harris; Ralph Reaser, Robert Ferrell, Albert Le Claire, and Everett Ligon.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

About 50 members attended the meeting of the Royal Neighbors held in W. O. W. Hall last night, with initiation for Mr. M. Byrd, conducted by Aracel, Mrs. Tucker. Routine business transacted included the plans of the entertainment to be given on July 24 (Tuesday), at 8 p. m., in the hall. A box supper will be arranged for that date, and a program will be presented by the juveniles of the Royal Neighbors. Each member is notified to bring a box. Invitations will be sent the Ranger, Breckenridge and Flawood Lodges of Royal Neighbors and Modern Woodmen to attend. District Deputy Henry of Ranger will be present.

After Niagara Conquest

Here is Jean Laussier atop the giant rubber ball in which he rode the mighty cataract of the Horseshoe Falls of the Niagara river. Laussier is shown in the bathing suit, just after being taken from the ball in which he went over the falls. Thousands saw the spectacle.

park," he went on, "but you look too gorgeous for it."

"Nonsense. No one will notice me."

"Maybe not, if everyone has suddenly developed eye trouble," Nathaniel remarked. "We'll take a taxi to 59th street. I don't want to lead a parade into the park."

"All right," Virginia assented. "Don't try to patronize me, Cinderella," Nathaniel banttered. "How do you know I'm not a prince in disguise?"

Virginia looked at him with eyes that proclaimed him a prince as he was.

"The distance to the park was but a few blocks and shortly the two lovers were walking blissfully into the far, dim reaches of shaded paths.

"You know, Virginia, you should not have done it," Nathaniel said reproachfully when at last they had found a secluded bench. "Life isn't long enough."

Virginia drew away from the arm he put out to encircle her waist.

"Why didn't you?"

"Because I thought we can live every hour to please ourselves?" she asked.

"Well, if it didn't please you to go out with someone else why did you do it?" Nathaniel pressed. "Is there anyone who has a greater right to be with you than I have, Virginia?"

"Niel, I'm afraid you're trying to be difficult. We both acted foolishly. You shouldn't have been so disagreeable when I telephoned you, and I should have told you that I meant to come down to your studio after dinner."

"Why didn't you?"

"Because I was mad when you gave me a short answer. You wouldn't say whether you would be in or not."

"I'm sorry. I've been sorry all evening. But you haven't answered my question. I can't understand why you broke our date."

Virginia opened her mouth to speak, closed it, and sat silent, casting about in her mind for a safe reply.

"I met an old friend who was extremely depressed and wanted me to have dinner with him," she said at last. "I couldn't refuse because I am under obligation to him for a great kindness."

"Nathaniel sensed a reserve in her explanation that left him feeling vaguely dissatisfied. "Well, I hope he considers himself sufficiently repaid," he said crossly. "He's taken one good evening out of my life."

"I thought you wouldn't mind," Virginia replied soothingly. "Don't you want to help me pay my debts?"

"If you put it that way, what am I to say? But I hope you won't bankrupt our fund of time paying off old obligations," Nathaniel grumbled.

"We wouldn't be near quarreling so often if you would just realize that you haven't a monopoly on love, Niel," Virginia cautioned him tremulously. "I want to be happy as much as you do, only I can't turn my back on everybody else just to live for myself."

"Thanks."

"Niel, please don't be stupid. I don't mean I think you would do it either. I know you wouldn't, but you seem to want me to without realizing what you do."

"That's not quite right," Nathaniel protested. "I said I hoped you hadn't many bad debts to pay off."

"You seemed to think I minded

TOT EATS POISON; IS SAVED

Father Discovers 2-Year-Old Boy Eating Poison Tablets.

RANGER, Texas, July 11.—Buddie Younce, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Younce, Armstrong street, narrowly escaped death by poisoning this morning when his father found him eating bichloride of mercury tablets.

The tablets were in the pocket of the car and, in some manner, the child climbed into the automobile and extracted the bottle of tablets.

When discovered by his father, the child's mouth was seared by the tablets and it is not known how many he swallowed.

He was rushed to the West Texas Clinic and Hospital where his stomach was pumped in order to rid the body of the poison. The baby was taken to his home after he had received medical attention.

MATT HENSON, PIONEER, DIES AT AGE OF 74

Second Stroke Of Paralysis Fatal; Moved To County In 1872

(Ranger Times) An Eastland county pioneer passed on yesterday afternoon when Matt Henson, 74, died at his home on the West Bankhead highway, at 4 o'clock.

Two weeks ago Mr. Henson suffered a stroke of paralysis and had been in bed since that time. Another stroke yesterday afternoon caused his death.

The pioneer moved to Eastland county in 1872 and had resided in and about Ranger since that time. He settled at Colony when he came here. Later he moved to Merriman where he lived until 18 years ago when he moved to Ranger. He had lived on the Bankhead highway site since he moved to Ranger. He is the owner of a small farm one mile south of Ranger. He had been married for 55 years.

Mr. Henson was a member of the Church of Christ and of Ranger lodge No. 738, A. F. & A. M. He had been a member of the local order for 18 years.

He was born in Missouri, July 19, 1854. He moved to this county when he was 18 years old.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock, the Rev. O. G. Lanier, pastor of the Church of Christ, conducting. After the services, the members of the local Masonic lodge will take charge of the body and conduct the burial.

Besides his wife he is survived by six daughters and two sons. The children are Mrs. Winnie Wood, Holdenville, Okla.; Mrs. Minnie Tulley, Ranger; Mrs. Luffie Brewer, Ranger; Mrs. W. L. McCleskey, Weatherford; Mrs. Tom Burks, Ranger; Mrs. Walter Edgington, Ranger; K. H. Henson and Scott Henson, Ranger. Four daughters are dead.

Former Messenger Boy Is Manager Of Telegraph Office

RANGER, Texas, July 11.—From messenger boy to manager of the local Postal Telegraph office, is the story of 19-year-old Gene Borders, who yesterday assumed the management duties of the organization.

Two years ago young Borders joined the Postal Telegraph organization as messenger boy. Prior to that time he was messenger boy for the Western Union.

The click of the key and the regular "tum-tum" of the call, evidently caught the ear of the quiet young man, and he started in to learn the business.

During his regime as messenger boy he went into practically every business house in Ranger and delivered countless messages. He was known as just "Gene" to practically all of the business men here.

For the last few months he has been acting as clerk and operator and still retained his place as messenger boy. He went out and received the messages and despatched them with the speed of a veteran.

But the manager of the business was Miss Billie Doggett. Yesterday Miss Doggett was transferred to Dallas where she will have charge of a branch office in the Santa Fe building.

Young Borders was notified that he had been made manager of the business here and assumed his duties of his office at once.

The four met in Pago Pago, Samoa, on their way to the United States. Capt. Lancaster and Mrs. Miller are shown above.

Woman In Race For U. S. Senate Makes Speech In Ranger

Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator Saturday night severely attacked the water interests and lobbyists who are in Washington in the interest of developing the water power of the United States in a manner that would not be for the best interest of the people, when she addressed a crowd on North Rusk street.

Mrs. Cunningham was introduced by Mayor John Thurman. A few words were spoken by Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, friend of the senatorial aspirant for over 15 years. She spoke from a truck parked in the street, which was roped off.

"Everyone asks me two questions," Mrs. Cunningham said, "and I have quit waiting for them to ask them. I start in with answering them."

"First, they ask me if this is a real rabbits' foot I wear around my neck, and I assure them that it is." Mrs. Cunningham was referring to a rabbit's foot attached to a silver chain, which she wears constantly.

"Secondly, they ask me, why I am a candidate for United States senate. I tell them I am a candidate for two reasons, namely: to get elected and to revive an old custom—that of having speakers discuss the issues and their platforms, rather than each other."

Mrs. Cunningham spent a few minutes on the discussion of the public utilities and water rights of the nation and how "Washington lobbyists were endeavoring to usurp the whole business."

"I am for a water power program framed with an eye single to the development of these great natural resources for the public good," she said. "I am for an adequate flood control program based on scientific engineering principles applied to the problem."

She took each plank in the platform upon which she seeks the high position and analyzed it.

It is Mrs. Cunningham's belief that the farm relief problem can be worked out through tariff adjustment, through increased and improved transportation facilities, through extending service to the farmer in ways the city man is now served as a matter of course. She indicated that it was one of the foremost questions before the people.

Mrs. Cunningham stated she was for a reduction in taxes and believed that the tax experts of the United States is now treating Commerce have assembled facts and data which congress and the president would do well to consider.

"I am opposed to secrecy in government," she said, "whether it originates in the Ku Klux Klan or executive sessions of the United States senate."

Mrs. Cunningham stated she was for prohibition and strict law enforcement and was for a revision of the manner in which the United States now treating Central and South American countries. She said she would

The daughter (above) is a licensed pilot.

Star Athlete Is Seriously Burned

Mart Nunnally, star athlete, formerly of Eastland county, was badly burned when gasoline, with which he was cleaning clothes, ignited. He has a fighting chance for recovery, says a dispatch from Texon, where the accident occurred. He is right fielder for the Texon baseball team. He formerly starred in football, baseball and basketball at Howard Payne college, where he was basketball and baseball captain, all-conference forward in basketball and all-conference end in football.

If a boarded well, 20 feet deep and 2 feet in diameter, contains 400 gallons of surface water, what is the capacity of the local hospital?

Mrs. Cunningham spoke in Breckenridge Saturday afternoon and went to Abilene Saturday night after her address. She said she would not speak at Abilene, which is the home of Congressman Thos. L. Blanton, one of her opponents in the race.

THIS TIME IT WAS PETE GARRISON AND THE WAY THEY DID FISH.

It's a Neck and Neck Race With Plenty of Sport and Sportsmanship.

If any one doubts the enthusiasm being created at the Nemir Merry Go Round race, they ought to stand around and watch the great crowds enter the store. Especially on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. One minute you will say, "Ralph Crouch will surely win," then another crowd will enter, and you will say, "no I believe it's Lula Mae Smith." Then again you will change your mind and say "It's Jonnie May Murphy."

You'll watch the next crowd, a big bunch of them, all for Pete Garrison. Then you will say "I believe Pete will win." But look here, May Taylor, Billie Struck, and Neida Wood, who was so far behind, well they took such a leap yesterday, that would cause you to believe that even others not mentioned might dart out from the rear and cap the grand prize which will be given away one week from Saturday night.

The count ending Tuesday afternoon showed Pete Garrison leading the series, Dean Hair was second, and Jonnie May Murphy third. Yet the others mentioned were so close to them that a complete change could be expected any hour.

While You Wait and you don't wait long

LONG-DISTANCE telephone service is now about twice as fast as it was a year ago.

Now, when you place your call, in most cases the operator asks you to "Hold the line, please." Three times out of four she will complete the connection while you wait.

The average interval between the time when you place your call and the time the connection is completed or a report given is a little more than two minutes. A year ago it was about five minutes.

Your service will be even faster if you give the number of the distant telephone. Try it!

Socialists Select Eastland Countian For State Office

A Ciscoan, W. B. Starr, has been nominated for a state office on the socialist ticket, according to the Dallas News. The article follows: "As nominee for Governor, L. Rhodes of Grand Saline will head the Texas Socialist ticket in the November election, it was decided at a party convention Sunday at the Dallas Labor Temple. The platform and statement of principles were decided upon in substance and a committee on revision was appointed to make a final draft, which will be approved along with the party nominees at a convention in August. "The socialist ticket, in addition to the name of Mr. Rhodes, will include those of R. H. Preece of Fort Worth for Lieutenant Governor, George Clifton Edwards of Dallas, attorney general; H. H. Rooper, of Ennis, state treasurer; H. L. Bynum of Dallas, commissioner of agriculture; W. B. Starr of Cisco, superintendent of public instruction; Arch Judge of Justin, land commissioner; C. T. Lindsey, Roetz Are Starring

DALLAS, July 1.—Jim Lindsey has become the sensation of the Texas league this season with the Houston Buffs. The big right hander, who could not stick with Detroit this spring and was turned back to the Texas league, has made seven managers green with envy. Pancho Snyder, the robust backstopper and manager of the pennant winning Houstonians, only smiles. Lindsey was sent back to San Antonio, where he toiled half heartedly. Harry Ables discovered that he would rather have Tom Taylor, the happy third baseman that Houston possessed. The trade was consummated. Now Ables hates to glance at the Houston box scores. The blue-eyed thrower, with 17 wins and five losses, has been a main factor in the win column of the Buffs. Twenty-five or 30 wins this season won't be hard for him at the sensational rate he is going now. While Snyder grins triumphantly, Alvin Gardner, the cardinal owner of the Wichita Falls Spiders, is matching smiles with him. This ball magnate and oil well own or picked up a young fellow named Roetz during the winter. After a few days with the club at the beginning of the season, Roetz was shunted off to Wichita's team in the West Texas league, Abilene. The shifty infielder, Rabbit Benton, was injured. Roetz was called back. Now he is the biggest problem that an opposing team has. He is near impossible to keep off of base. He hits hard and his homerun record is becoming impressive. Roetz won't be back in the Texas league long enough for fans to become familiar with him—he is bound for better leagues and fatter pay checks. The Dallas Steers have picked also a prize winner. Homer Blankenship, pitcher extraordinary, was toiling quite awhile for the Shreveport Sports. A win for the Sports was about the rarest thing that Blankenship did.

OLYMPIC HOPES

MORGAN TAYLOR

When F. Morgan Taylor smashed the accepted time for the world's record in the 400-meter race recently, his performance left little doubt but that the winner of this event at the 1924 Olympic games would represent the United States again this summer.

BERNARD COOK VICTOR OVER JAP MARTIN

Wrestling Match In Elks Arena Gives Plenty of Thrills To Enthusiastic Fans.

The Elks had another thrilling match which Bernard Cook won from Jap Martin last Tuesday night at their arena.

The second was furious and Martin fought every inch of the way and Cook had to steam up at the last to overcome the slapping and quite a bit of roughing.

Red Jones of Shreveport and Amarillo Kid were on the semifinals and Amarillo won two straight falls.

Ralph Mahan has arranged with promoter Jimmie McLemore to bring in Matty Matsuda, the Japanese welterweight claimant to the welterweight title of the world in the near future.

Athletics is supposed to promote good will between nations. A year or two ago, a brilliant vaulter from northern Europe, having long desired to see the United States, brought his bride for a tour of America.

For instance, Helen Willis—greatest amateur tennis player in the world—is not allowed to meet Suzanne Lenglen, who turned professional.

Two years later, Bobby Jones and Willie MacFarlane went up to the eighteenth green of their second play-off all square.

At Olympia Fields, Farrell, with a one stroke advantage going to the thirty-fifth, had to shoot two birdies in a row and sink a seven-foot putt to win by a stroke.

Whoofus Whiffletree's Woolly Wonderings

For unadulterated durnfoolishness, the well-known palm should be awarded to some of the men high in the control of athletics in this country.

Do they think Charley is trying to vamp some of the spectators? He does wear a rather "dashing" style at that.

As for us, if Charley wants to run in a Chinese silk radio jacket, embroidered in pink ruffles, it's all right—just so he runs fast enough to defeat the foreign sprinters.

The committee, showing a flash of intelligence, overruled this objection and decided that Charley was eligible to take part in the Olympics.

The United States leads the world in athletics. Which is remarkable—especially when we consider the actions of some of the men in charge of athletics.

Cloudy Days and Old Sol All these many years this column conductor, and probably a great many others, have labored under that age-old belief that cloudy days tended to decrease a batter's effectiveness and at the same time make the pitcher a bit more the master of the situation.

However, this belief is all wet, according to Dazzy Vance, the star Brooklyn right-hander. He says it is just the opposite.

Vance's best games, says he, were pitched on days when Old Sol was bearing down in all its glory. And here's the why of it: "On a cloudy day, the batter has nothing to do but watch that ball and he naturally has a better chance to see it because of the slate background."

Customer: "I'd like to see something in the way of an enlarging device for a camera." Clerk: "For-er-fishing purposes?"

Hooks and Slides

Three Chances; Three Busts. The victim of an unusual break in bad luck against him, Erin Ward played in only three ball games with the Cleveland Indians this season and played himself right out of the major leagues.

Wardie played with Roger Peckinpaugh on the New York club and later was his teammate with the Chicago White Sox, and when Peck was made manager of the Indians he brought Ward with him in the expectation that an experienced hand would be a valuable utility man.

The occasion to use him as a substitute at third base came three times, and in three games that he played, Ward committed errors that were directly responsible for the loss of each one of the three games.

Waivers were then asked on him and no one claimed him. It wasn't so many years ago that Wardie was one of the most promising players in baseball, but he never came through.

Get Skinny, Big Boy! A veteran of three years on the Philadelphia bench, Jimmy Fox, who is a hardened campaigner at the age of 19, is now one of the most discussed players in the major leagues.

The youngster is one of the best hitters in the game. He is a star catcher and so good that only Mike Cochrane, the greatest catcher in baseball, can keep him out of a regular job. He is a great third baseman and is not being used there regularly because Sammy Hale has had more experience.

There is only one handicap facing the youngster, and that is his weight. He runs to fat and he hasn't the stature to carry it. If weight doesn't get him he ought to develop into one of the game's greatest players.

Cloudy Days and Old Sol All these many years this column conductor, and probably a great many others, have labored under that age-old belief that cloudy days tended to decrease a batter's effectiveness and at the same time make the pitcher a bit more the master of the situation.

However, this belief is all wet, according to Dazzy Vance, the star Brooklyn right-hander. He says it is just the opposite.

Vance's best games, says he, were pitched on days when Old Sol was bearing down in all its glory. And here's the why of it: "On a cloudy day, the batter has nothing to do but watch that ball and he naturally has a better chance to see it because of the slate background."

He Can Do This in 25 Seconds

Attorney General Dow can perform this feat of roping a calf in just 25 seconds. At the right, is a closeup of New Mexico's attorney general and his cowboy togs.

Saw Father Slain Bob Dow Is Real Son of the Old Bad Man West

SANTA FE, N. M.—The old days of the American west, when high state officials wore chaps and spurred boots to their offices in the capitol building, may have passed; but Attorney General Bob Dow still is a member in good standing of the great, informal brotherhood of working cowboys.

Meeting Bob Dow, you'd never think that the picturesque old west had passed. He is part and parcel of the old days, and shows it.

He was born in Carlsbad, where his father was sheriff. A New Mexico sheriff in those days wore his six-shooters all the time, and knew how to use them; the job wasn't just a title.

Bob Dow, for instance, can remember the time when his father overtook a gang of outlaws led by the famous, or notorious, Black Jack Ketchum, one of the worst bad men of the southwest.

This and similar exploits won the sheriff the enmity of a number of men. And the present attorney general can remember what happened one day when he was a boy of eight, in 1892.

Well, plenty of people may disagree with this, but these reasons will do until somebody better as a pitcher than Dazzy Vance comes along to disagree.

Long before the season opened, Goose Goslin of the Senators and Bill Terry of the Giants met and talked about their batting and each wagged the small sum of five dollars on his ability to compile a better average than the other this year.

This is just early July, but Terry may as well pay off now. The Goose is hitting far above the 400 mark and Terry is down around the 300 figure.

Goose won't stay up there until the end of the year, but it is doubtful whether the Giant's first-sacker will raise his average more than 30 points and the Goose won't fall that far down.

When Pat Malone, the Cubs' young pitcher, was a youngster and thinking about being a big league ball player, he had to take a lotta razzing because his name is really Perse and not Pat.

And he decided to make himself a tough baby because it was a time when you had to be tough to get along in the big leagues.

He likes to be thought a tough guy even today. He chews about a pound of tobacco every time he pitches. He sticks fast ones close to the batter and when they yell at him he sticks another about the same spot to make them like it.

Malone once tried out with the Giants. Perhaps that is where he learned about this matter of being tough because he had nice playmates in Cozy Dolan, Johnny Rawlings, Shuffling Phil Douglas, Pancho Snyder, Fred Toney and others.

Ty Cobb, the ball players say, is having the laugh of his life over the plight of the Detroit Tigers. And the time he was at the head of the Detroit club, Cobb had it thrown up to him that his nagging and riding of the players was ruining the chance of the ball club. But, according to gossip, Moriarty is giving his Tigers more "hard" than Cobb ever did and the team is in a much worse moral state.

Attorney General Dow

bad, and won first money, setting the remarkably fast time of 25 seconds for the feat. As a horseman he has few equals, even in this state of born horsemen; friends relate that up until a few years ago one of his favorite recreations was the riding and breaking of wild, savage bronchos.

Just now the attorney general is looking forward to the Chicago rodeo with great anticipation.

"What do you think your chances for winning are?" he was asked.

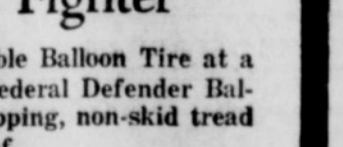

"Good," he replied. "I may not get as much practice as the other fellows who follow the business, but I have more natural ability."

That's Bob Dow all over—confidence. His friends believe he will make his boast good when the time comes.

Scenic Wonders To Be Viewed By The W. T. C. C. Caravan

STAMFORD, July 10.—Following a conference with President A. M. Bourland, Vernon, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Manager Homer D. Wade has announced several changes in the tentative itinerary of the third annual motorcade.

The route from Junction will not be determined by the motorcade party, as was first announced, but will officially lead the caravan to Sonora, where the annual Ranchmen's Round-Up will be attended during one of the two day sessions, August 14 and 15. From Sonora, the travelers will go to San Angelo where inspection of that scenic city will be made. This routing had not been decided upon fully at this time of the first report.

According to present plans, the motor caravan will break up at Brownwood, Texas, late Aug. 16, culminating a ten days tour covering many hundred miles.

The vacation land expedition will set forth from Snyder, Scurry county, the morning of August 6, and will reach its first destination point, Carlsbad, New Mexico, that evening. Following attendance at the Inter Mountain District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in the famed Carlsbad Caverns, 850 feet below the surface of the earth, the party will journey to McKittrick Canyon. A drive will be made around the peak, which is 9,500 feet high. From this canyon, the route will take the company between the Diablos and Delaware into the salt flats and into Van Horn.

The afternoon drive from Van Horn provides observation of the famous little Southern Pacific station, Lobo, which consists mainly of a huge stone hotel. The structure was the culmination of one of the first "blue sky" land deals. A real estate dealer sold land supposedly located near a fine mountain resort hotel. Buyers on visiting the section discovered the deceit and filed charges, only to be outwitted by the shark who borrowed money from relatives and superintended building of the hotel that today stands alone with the mountains back of it and the steel rails at its side for company.

Passing through Valentine, the towns of Marfa, Fort Davis, and Alpine, will lure different members of the assembly. August 9 will find the group gathered at Fort Davis, the famed Mile-High-Town, for the Big Bend District convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. This stop provides for scenic drives, and trips to camp grounds and noted ranch houses.

Or mix a cup of grated American cheese with a quarter cup of thousand island dressing, spreading the bread lightly with Nucoa before filling. The very thought sharpens picnic appetites.

Hard cooked eggs and water cross both chopped fine and mixed to a paste with relish spread on thin slices of dark bread spread with Nucoa make another peerless combination.

Washington Letter

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—The surest thing about the coming campaign, in view of the nomination of Governor Smith, is that the religious issue will be uppermost in the public mind.

And the most uncertain thing about the campaign is the extent to which religious prejudices will figure in the result.

It must also be borne in mind that this question is likely never to be satisfactorily answered. If Smith should be elected, it would be proved that most voters paid no attention to his religion. If he should be buried in a greater landslide than any democratic candidate heretofore it might indicate the opposite.

But if Smith is beaten by a comparatively small majority—something less than those cast against Cox and Davis—no one can ever prove that the balloting was along religious lines. He may be beaten just because he is a democrat running against a republican or a wet running against a theoretical dry.

The question of the effect of Smith's religion on the voters is a fascinating one for study, but extremely speculative. The democratic party is betting that the anti-Catholic vote won't be as large as some of its members fear it is going to be. Ordinarily no major political party would take such a chance; none ever has before. But Smith owes his nomination partly to the fact that no formidable opponent arose to fight him for it and partly because many party leaders long ago began to realize that to turn him down would cause many Catholic voters to quit the party in indignant disgust.

If Smith loses in November it seems likely that the size of the margin of votes against him will decide whether he is to be re-nominated in 1932 and whether it is smart politics to nominate any Catholic for the presidency under present conditions.

In fact, the important question whether the northern democracy will be permitted to dominate the party after this election, will depend largely on Smith's capacity for inspirational leadership—and the number of votes he gets.

The northern democratic machines are wet and Catholic; western and southern democrats are Protestants and dry. Whether these differences are to be submerged in a common cause big enough and broad enough to appeal to everyone concerned will depend on Smith and the kind of a campaign he make.

Neither of the candidates will dwell on the religious issue, except under extreme provocation. But if it isn't on the stump or radio it will surely be discussed everywhere else.

Last year's experience and the anti-Smith campaign which has been in progress for some time show clearly that a desperate under-cover campaign will be made to beat the Catholic candidate. The republicans can't afford openly to encourage this, and won't, but they won't have to.

Family Menu

By MARTHA ADAMS.

What is summer without picnics and what are picnics without sandwiches? Indeed what would our busy life today be without that ingenious and time saving invention, created by the inveterate old gamester the Earl of Sandwich to save time away from his precious cards. Few there are of us who at some time have not snatched a few priceless moments from eternity by substituting the sandwich for our regular meal. Millions of lunch boxes contain sandwiches every day in the year. Large companies pay fat dividends on the profits from uncountable sandwiches consumed at lunch counters. So when the home maker realizes that she must "say it with sandwiches" she sets her imagination to work to make her vocabulary as large as the resources of her imagination and the local market will permit.

Mayonnaise Adds to Sandwich.

Sandwiches are usually made of "what we have in the house." Meat and fish, egg and, cheese, vegetable, fruit and nuts—in a thousand guises the sandwich appears—between slices of white bread or dark, in rolls or substantial shells of Boston brown bread, rich with nuts and raisins. Sometimes two kinds of bread appear together.

But a sandwich needs more than food value. It needs snap, pep and zest. With best foods mayonnaise, thousand island dressing or relish spread in her sandwich equipment, the home-maker can calmly face the impromptu Sunday moor picnic, a hasty train lunch or an unexpected guest for tea. For she knows she can transform the most uninspired looking "left-overs" into dainty and toothsome morsels by the happy addition of these delicious dressings.

Delicious Combinations.

Try adding a few chopped blanched almonds to the chicken which you have chopped fine for that Sunday night supper. Moistened with mayonnaise and spread effective work as county attorney never before equalled in Eastland county.

Mr. Sparks recalled that it was a generally accepted principle in Texas that if an official did his work capably and faithfully he was entitled to an election for a second term. He declared, however, he was not asking the consideration of the voters on that score, but because his administration had been clean, effective and contributory to better conditions throughout the county.

Jones Voices Views.

Judge Jones denied that he was trying to climb into office by pulling down his opponent, but he was not satisfied with his opponent's work as county attorney and believed he could serve the county much more effectively in that office. Referring to the trials of some criminal cases during the last two years, he contended that the county attorney had not shown the best judgment in accepting some pleas of guilty and agreeing to concurrent terms for punishment. He recalled his service as county judge and spoke of his experience as a lawyer, and promised, if elected, to serve industriously and to the best of his ability.

W. B. Collier and Clyde Garrett, candidates for county judge, were the first speakers, each occupying about one minute. Other speakers during the evening were:

W. H. McDonald and J. K. Hendricks, for district clerk.
Mrs. Fanny Burkett, George Bryant, Elmer Collins and H. T. Hamrick, for tax assessor.
Miss Beulah Speer, H. A. Reynolds and J. C. Carter, for county school superintendent.
John S. Hart, Virge Foster and Loes Woods, for sheriff.
V. V. Cooper, J. T. Sue and Lon Tankersley for county commissioner of Precinct one.

REMEMBER 'WAY BACK WHEN...?

When a tire that lasted even 3,500 miles was a curiosity? (You can still buy that short-distance kind if you pay little enough.)

How times change! Now we're exhibiting a new type tire—Goodyear's 30th anniversary masterpiece, the DOUBLE EAGLE—that can reasonably be expected to last as long as a man usually keeps his car.

And they figure the odds at 1,000 to 1 against even a puncture, let alone blow-outs!

Only Goodyear, of course, is building such a Super-tire. And it's just too good to be needed by most motorists.

But it's interesting to look at—and talk about. And that's why we say "Come in and see it." No obligation, of course. It's a pleasure to show this Super-example of Goodyear endurance and beauty.

IDENTIFICATION:

On the sidewall of this tire you will find in silver silhouette the Double Eagle; world mark of superior quality and value, symbol of that Goodyear union of seasoned experience and youthful progress which has produced the tire of tires.
