Agreement On Oil Code Reached At White House Has Roosevelt Rules On Chief Controversial Matters

Ickes and Johnson Do Not Reveal Who Would Administer The New Charter For Industry; Production And Price Control Incorporated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agreement on principles of the oil industrial code was reached Thursday at a White House conference. President Roosevelt ruled on controversial points in a conference with Hugh Johnson and Secretary Ickes. The two were told by the president to put into written form their ideas for a code providing for shorter working hours and higher wages for the oil industry and also the principles decided upon in conference.

Neither Ickes nor Johnson would reveal who would administer the new charter for the oil industry. Johnson called the oil chieftains to meet him at 4:30 p. m. Johnson indicated the code would contain strong machinery for production and price control.

WASHINGTON By George Burno

Drive

Secretary of Interior Ickes and General Hugh Johnson, respectively by boosting Public Works and National Recovery, are getting one swell break.

Congress isn't in session. If the forum were open on Capitol Hill their jobs could be a lot tougher—if that is possible. As it is Ickes and Johnson are enabled to pursue their weary ways without plowing through the welter of critical words that would be their lot if the Honorables were meeting.

Roughhouse

Sooner or later both gentlemen undoubtedly will tangle with Capitol Hill. You can't dispense $3,300,000,000 of public money and inspire buy-outs where the Blue Eagle fails to fly without treading on a lot of toes.

Quite a few members of Congress probably will come back here next January foaming at the mouth and demanding the life blood of Ickes and Johnson. And Congress would be anywhere near as docile when it returns as it was while jumping through the hoops President Roosevelt held from March to June.

The boys are now back home. Publicans have been getting a load of poison for distribution at the first sign the administration might be faltering. Democrats in some localities are being fed a good dose of insidious propaganda by interests that think they ain't been done right by.

Chiselers

Secretary Ickes is going hot after the smart chiselers who would like to turn a few technically non-essential pennies from Public Works.

September 15 Legal Date For Sale Of 3.2 Beer If People Vote It On August 26, Attorney General Rules

Election Officials Required By New Law To Report Promptly

AUSTIN (AP)—Elbert Hooper, acting attorney general, in an opinion Thursday held that 3.2 per cent beer cannot be legally sold or transported before September 15 if the constitution is amended in the August 26 election to render it legal.

Prompt filing of returns on the national, state and local prohibition and beer balloting is assured by recently enacted election laws.

Should this county and the state vote for beer, the new laws will expedite return of the brew to Texas. In the opinion of local attorneys, no beer could be legally sold until the result of the election is officially declared by proper state officials.

Heretofore returns have straggled in from hinterland counties as long as two weeks after balloting and some times are never filed. Now heavy fines or imprisonment or both face an election judge for not filing with the county judge complete official returns within 72 hours after the polls close.

If the county judge fails to file complete official county returns within 48 hours after the canvassing court canvasses returns, he likewise is subject to fine of $50 to $200 or imprisonment in the county jail 30 days, or both.

County Judge H. R. Debenport said Thursday that the commission court of this county would convene August 29 to canvass returns and he would return official county results the same day with the secretary of state.

Just what procedure must be followed to sell beer if it is voted legal is not made clear by county officials or attorneys. However, it is thought that when the brew is declared constitutional, applications for licenses will be made through the county judge.

Cubans Riot As President Machado Leaves

A NEW RESPONSIBILITY OF BUSINESS LEADERS

One of the fortunate developments of the last few years is that we are able nowadays to look at extremely radical ideas in the face without getting the jitters.

A case in point is the suggestion which Donald Rieberg dropped before the Merchant Association of New York in his recent speech there—the suggestion that unless the directors and executives of big business recognize their social responsibilities and act on them, they will presently be elected by the general public and not by the several stockholders.

Here is a nation which would have earned a man in the indelible label of 'bolshhevik' if it had been voiced as recently as six months ago. Today we are able to look at it calmly and to see that there is a lot of good sense in it.

It comes down, that is to say, to this: we are awakening to the fact that the man who directs a large industry occupies a position of public trust just as much as does the politician who has been elected senator, judge or governor.

Accepting that simple fact carries us farther, perhaps, away from the philosophy of rugged individualism than any other thing that has happened to us.

The business executive is answerable, first of all, to his stockholders. That's money in his keeping; it's up to him to give them a return on it, and if he fails they quite properly will remove him. He is answerable, too, in a less direct way, to his employees. To be sure, they can't get at him if he fails them. But their jobs, their bread and butter, their chances to do something with their lives, rest entirely on him.

To these allied responsibilities we are now seeing the necessity of adding a third—responsibility to the public at large.

What the industrial executive does affects the whole country, sooner or later. We are in his hands, and if he is a cunningly incompetent we are apt to get dropped. Is it, after all, so far-fetched to suggest that we ought to be able to exercise some control over him? The incompetent business man is just as much a parasite on society as the incompetent politician, and society ought to have the power to dispose of him. It would have been the height of radicalism to say that a year or so ago, today it is nothing but plain common sense.

AMERICA UNITES UNDER THE NRA BANNEK

The encouraging thing about the program now being attempted by the National Recovery Administration is not so much that it is helping to beat the depression as that it is providing a rallying point for the emotional forces of the American people.

It is sometimes said that our country has grown too big—that its population is so large and its distances so vast that its people find it almost impossible to unite in one common cause.

At times, perhaps, this is quite true. What arouses the Pacific coast often leaves the middle west cold; what stirs the middle west is apt to be of small interest along the Atlantic. We are a people of diverse interests and, occasionally of divided loyalties.

But here is something that is taking hold everywhere. The blue

Yankees Take Beating From St. Louis As Gehrig Equals Consecutive Game Record

WASHINGTON—The Yankees took a 13 to 3 beating from the St. Louis Browns today in the first game of a double-header at Yankee Stadium.

Washington widens lead by beating Chicago five to one for eighth straight; ninth inning singles win for Cleveland

ST. LOUIS—While Lou Gehrig was tying the major league 'durability' record by playing his 1,307th consecutive game for the New York Yankees Wednesday, the Yankees took a terrific beating from the Browns. The final score was 13 to 3 and the defeat, coupled with Washington's victory over Chicago, sent the Yanks down 6 1/2 games behind the league leaders.

The Yanks had all kinds of trouble with the pitching of their former teammate, Ed Wells, while Charley Devens, who made his first start, was driven out in the third inning when the Browns made seven runs. Devens, Danny MacFadden, and George Uhle gave up 18 hits.

SENS MAKE IT 8 CHICAGO—Washington's eighth flying Senators kept up their swift pace Wednesday by taking another 5-1 decision from the White Sox and extending their winning streak to eight straight.

Earl Whitehill, the Senators' star southpaw, spread out seven Sox hits so that they did little damage and hereby accounted for his sixteenth victory of the season. He walked none and struck out six. A home run by Luke Appling, Sox shortstop, in the fifth inning accounted for the only Chicago tally. Manager Joe Cronin hit a home run for the Senators.

Oral Hildebrand, big right hander, and Merritt 'Sugar' Cain opposed each other on the mound at the start, but Hildebrand gave way to a pinch hitter in the sixth and Harder finished, getting credit for the victory.

DETROIT 5 BOSTON 5 DETROIT—Detroit made the best possible use of seven hits Wednesday and defeated Boston, 5-5, to take a one-game edge in the current series.

Three runs scored by the Tigers in the first inning were cancelled in the third when Bucky Walters got a home run with Brown and Warstler on base. Detroit got a couple more runs in the fifth.

Carl Fischer relieved Vic Frasier on the mound for Detroit in the eighth after two singles and a long fly had given the Sox a run.

Hitecock Leads Poloists Of East To Win Over West

Rube Williams, Western Star, Suffers Fractured Leg; Hopping New Sensation For Winners; Third Match Made Necessary

LAKE FOREST, Ill.—Tommy Hitecock shuffled his all-star Eastern polo lineup today, found another ace, and led the new band to a 12 to 8 triumph over the four wild riders from the far west to even up their inter-sectional championship series.

The West, not only lost the match, forcing the series into the third game, but lost its great back, Hubert W. (Rube) Williams. Williams, one of the most battered figures in high goal polo, was thrown in the seventh period and suffered a fracture of his right leg below the knee.

Hitecock's new ace was Earle A. S. Hopping. After taking a 15 to 11 beating from the Westerners Sunday, Hitecock decided to remove Michael Phipps from the lineup, sending Winston Guest from number three to number one and shifting himself to number three.

Raymond Guest remained at back and Hopping took over number two. The new combination, with Hopping being at a terrific clip, was on top from the start.

Hopping scored four goals, sharing top honors with Winston Guest. While Hitecock harassed the Westerners, storming into every play, Guest and Hopping followed him to pick up his passes and start goalward.

As they went up the field Hitecock tore on and in more than one play, rode Williams and Cecil Smith out of position to make saves.

The players rallied in the second and third chucks, but wild shooting, not a little of it caused by Hitecock's harsh riding into plays, kept them from scoring more than three goals.

Chicago Sox Buy Bonura From Dallas First Baseman Brings Large Amount of Cash, Three Players

DALLAS—The management of the Dallas baseball club Wednesday announced the outright sale of Henry (Zeke) Bonura, giant first baseman to the Chicago White Sox for a large sum of money and three players.

Bonura, who at present leads the Texas league in three departments of batting and has a batting average of .351 for the season, will go to the windy city at the start of the 1934 season.

The Sox agreed to send to Dallas Outfielder Norman now with Louisville of the American association, Ed Walsh, Jr., right handed pitcher now with Oakland in the Pacific Coast league, and another unnamed player.

Bonura, also the best defensive first baseman in the Texas league was purchased to plug a hole in the Sox inner works which has caused the club considerable difficulty in recent weeks.

HERE'S HOW TO SPEND LESS ON MOTORING! Do as over two out of every five buyers of low-priced cars are doing: SAVE WITH A NEW CHEVROLET! You'll spend less to begin with—because the Chevrolet base price of $445 is so much lower than the price of any other Fisher Body car! You'll make fewer stops for gas and oil, because the Chevrolet six-cylinder engine can go well over two hundred miles on a tankful! You won't have to be worrying about seeing the service man all the time, or paying a lot of repair bills because—well, Chevrolet just isn't that kind of car. It's built right and stays that way. Finally—you can look forward to getting a good price when you trade your Chevrolet in—its resale value is notably high. Can you say all these same things about any other low-priced car? Evidently America thinks not—from the way that America prefers to SAVE with a Chevrolet. CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN. Prices range from $245 to $545 F.O.B. Flint, Mich. Drilling Contractors Of Midcontinent Plan Code

Oklahoma And Kansas Drillers Organize At Tulsa, Merger With Texas-New Mexico Group Planned

DALLAS (UP)—Drilling contractors of Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico and Louisiana Wednesday were united in an association headed by M. J. Delaney, Dallas, in an effort to formulate an NRA code for drillers throughout the midcontinent oil areas.

Drillers of Oklahoma and Kansas organized at Tulsa last week. The two organizations plan to unite in presenting a uniform code for federal approval.

E. A. Showers, Houston, representing the Gulf coast field, was elected first vice-president at the drillers' meeting here. Other officers were A. F. Lanier, Shreveport, second vice-president; T. S. Schroeder, Dallas, third vice-president representing New Mexico; and George Barham, Shreveport, fourth vice-president representing Arkansas.

Directors elected M. L. Middleton, treasurer, and W. D. McBee, secretary. Both live in Dallas.

Oklahoma and Kansas drillers plan a code meeting next week when the code tentatively adopted here will be submitted for discussion. At the same meeting, plans to unite the Texas-Arkansas-New Mexico-Louisiana drillers with the Oklahoma-Kansas group to form a midcontinent drilling contractors association will be discussed.

Siege Guns Levelled For Final Wet-Dry Conflict

Garner Urges Repeal, Canadian To Speak For Drys Over Mexican Station; McDonald Predicts Wet Victory By 100,000 Majority

(By the United Press) Siege guns of the wet and dry forces are leveled in the final today drive before Texas vote on ratification of the 18th amendment and legalization of beer.

Vice President John Nance Garner, writing from Uvalde where he is vacationing, called upon the electorate to vote for repeal of the 18th amendment. It was the first public appeal of the vice president in connection with the wet and dry election.

William N. Wiggins, recording secretary in charge of the Dallas headquarters of the United Forces for Prohibition, announced that spokesmen for the drys were blanketing the state. Senator Morris Sheppard, author of the 18th amendment, traveled through south Texas which was long represented in the lower house of congress by Garner.

The dry forces announced Hon. Ben H. Spence, Toronto writer and economist, would speak Saturday and Sunday nights over station XEPN. He is internationally known as an author and according to the announcement of the United Forces for Prohibition will present a picture of liquor conditions in Canada.

While Garner's statement headlined events of the day there was other ammunition loaded into the wets' attack. C. C. McDonald, chairman of the central committee for repeal, and 32 beer, estimated Texas will vote for repeal by more than 100,000 majority and that beer would be legalized by a majority of 85,000 ballots. He estimated 313,008 votes would be cast at the special election August 26.

Senator Sheppard drove into the admitted stronghold of the wets when he entered the lower Rio Grande valley. He was to speak Wednesday night in Harlingen, at San Antonio Thursday night and the following evening at San Angelo. He will spend the week end at Fort Worth.

Other prominent dry leaders speaking over the Mexican radio station included Dr. Jessie P. P. Sewell, of San Antonio, who was scheduled to speak Wednesday night during the drys' half-hour broadcast period. Mrs. Claude de Van Watts of Austin, will speak Friday night.

Dallas Officials Turn Down Highway Quota

DALLAS (UP)—County Engineer R. H. Clinger and Commissioners Tom Field and Ed Vandervort refused to accept the $1,224,000 program of highway building approved by the state highway commission as Dallas county's complete allotment of federal funds.

"The commission has announced they have made allotments on the basis of $4 per capita, and if that is true Dallas county is due about $75,000 more," Clinger said.

The county has asked more than $600,000 for the construction of the North-Fort Worth highway.

Government Ownership Of Banks Seen

Continuation Of Present Policies Would Give U. S. 30 Per Cent

By RICHARD L. GRIDLEY, United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Government ownership of a large part of the capital of the country's banking system appeared to be a possible outcome of the administration's bank rehabilitation program.

If present policies are carried to the limit the government eventually would own from 25 to 30 per cent of the outstanding bank stock estimated now at approximately $3,000,000,000.

Jesse H. Jones, Houston, chairman of the government-owned Reconstruction Finance Corporation, has indicated the RFC stands ready to buy up to $1,000,000,000 worth of preferred stock to assist bank reorganizations and to help going institutions expand their capital to meet increasing business needs.

Government officials point out they do not intend to go into active public ownership or operations of banks, but it is notable that the government gradually is obtaining substantial stock interests in many commercial banks and engaging in banking activities.

Preferred stock purchases by the R.F.C. began in the spring and up to Aug. 12, a total of $79,255,500 had been paid out or authorized for purchase of stock in 79 institutions. When national banks made their last report on July 1, they had an aggregate outstanding capital of $1,597,369,675. A similar amount of non-national bank capital was outstanding. If the R.F.C. should add $1,000,000,000 in new capital the government would have a 25 per cent interest in the nation's commercial banks. Moreover banks still owe the R.F.C. $700,000,000 on direct loans.

Organized Labor, Aroused By Flareups In Steel And Coal, Adopts Aggressive Procedure

40-Hour Week Allowed In Some Modified Codes To Be Fought When Hearings Open On Permanent Agreements

WASHINGTON (UP)—Organized labor, aroused by developments in the steel and coal company union fights, adopted an aggressive attitude in the National Recovery drive, determined to make its power felt throughout the scope of the NRA program.

Labor leaders indicated they were displeased with the NRA's recurring approval of 40-hour maximum work weeks in various industries permitted to come under the Blue Eagle with modified reemployment agreements.

Organized labor, it was indicated, would accept tacitly without formal opposition the spread of 40-hour work week agreements, but was determined to wage a real drive for 35-hour work weeks when hearings on permanent codes begin. Coal, steel and lumber code conferences were in progress today as Johnson tried to whip into line disputing groups. The developments serve to emphasize brewing troubles in the NRA, such as came to a head Monday when Prof. William F. Ogburn resigned from the consumers' advisory board.

The flareup of labor members was said to have a shimmering counterpart in the industrial board headed by Walter Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Teagle's part in the recovery administration recently has been overshadowed by activities of James Moffett, former vice-president of the company. Moffett determined to wage a dispute with Teagle which had its inception in a disagreement over price-fixing for the petroleum industry. Moffett now is adding in formulating a compromise oil code.

Ask Us Another..

*Here are some of the questions people ask us about the President's Reemployment Agreement
sometimes called the "blanket code"*

Q. Who started all this?

A. President Roosevelt. It's one more step in his big plan that has already put more than a million men back to work.

Q. What's the big idea anyhow?

A. To end unemployment. To wipe out child labor (something the country's been trying to do for generations). And to restore the purchasing power of the richest country in the world.

Q. How's he going to do it?

A. Every employer is asked to split up existing work so that everybody will have a job, and to raise the hourly wage rate, where necessary, so that everybody will have a living wage.

Q. And that's what they mean by the blanket code?

A. Yes—it's called the "President's Reemployment Agreement."

Q. Does anybody HAVE to sign?

A. No. It's a gentlemen's agreement between President Roosevelt and every man, woman and child in the country. He is asking you to lend a hand.

Q. Why should the employer sign?

A. Because when everybody goes back to work, everybody will spend more money. And that will speed up business for every employer.

Q. What does the employee do?

A. You work less hours. You share your job with someone else. But you get a guaranteed minimum wage.

Q. How can the housewife help?

A. By signing a pledge to patronize the stores and industries that display the President's seal—they are SHARING to bring back prosperity.

Q. And one more question—what's all this talk about an industrial code?

A. The industrial code will be the rules and regulations adopted by each industry for its guidance. But the country can't wait for all these individual codes to be ironed out. We need the blanket code to put men to work, and raise wages, right now!

Lions Have Many Unusual Answers To Current Events Test Questions

Grande Was Italian Armada Commander, World Scout Jamboree Held In Big Spring, George Dern Leads National League In Triples, Some Say

Lions club members Wednesday paraded their knowledge of current events and history in an impromptu examination put to them. Feature of the program, however, was the playing of Miss Caroline Moreland, pianist who will open a studio here September 1. Miss Moreland was loudly applauded in three numbers, an English folk dance arrangement by Percy Granger, a Russian waltz, and "When Day Is Done." The latter number was done in her own arrangement.

Blankenship, a brother to W. C. Blankenship, was an entry in the Denton tournament.

Burke T. Summers, new manager of Barrow Furniture company, was club guest.

Lions submitting to a test of twenty questions touching on current topics scored an average of 37.3 per cent.

Lowest score on the score of questions was two correct or ten points, while highest was fourteen correct or seventy.

Some of the answers were unique and amusing. Only a few correctly gave the meaning of NRA—National Recovery Administration. Most everyone was right in saying General Hugh S. Johnson was head of NRA. Scarcely any recalled Walter McGee as the kidnaper given death penalty for abduction of Mary McElroy, daughter of the Kansas City city manager.

To the question, "Who won the Davis cup play this year?" these answers were received: Helen Jacobs, Helen Wills Moody, Australia, United States. England won it for the first time in 12 years.

One said Grande was commander of the Italian air armada which flew to Chicago. Italo Balbo was the man and most Lions answered correctly.

Frances Perkins, who is secretary of labor, was branded as a "screen star" by one participant. Another admitted she was "Mrs. Perkins' daughter."

Some few said the federal government's latest $500,000,000 issue of 3 1/2 per cent bonds met with failure when in reality they were oversubscribed six times.

Herb Pennock, Bob Grove, and Grover Alexander were popular choices in listing the major league pitcher who scored forty-six consecutive scoreless innings. Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants performed the feat.

A few knew Wiley Post had another notable physical defect besides his bad eye, but none knew it was a stone deaf ear. The man who scored highest said Post had a "wooden leg."

A majority were well informed concerning the Cuban situation, but only a few knew that Al Johnson and Walter Winchell had engaged freely in fistfights.

One Lion said the fourth World Jamboree for Boy Scout was held at Big Spring. It is being held near Budapest and is attended by 30,000 scouts from more than forty nations.

A true-false test was even more refreshing, although no accurate check could be obtained because some few ridiculous statements concerning club members were involved.

For instance: One member was the only one of twenty present who thought he possessed the voice of a mockingbird. Very few Lions knew minor club officials. About fifty per cent were confused as to whether Howard county will vote on all spirituous liquors August 27.

A few said it was a fact that Samuel Morse invented the telephone when Alexander G. Bell was the inventor. Five said George Dem is leading the national league in triples. He is secretary of war.

Four let go unchallenged the statement that Sweetwater had more population at the last census than Big Spring.

Several agreed that "laissez faire" was a Hebrew phrase meaning, "I should worry" when actually it is a familiar term applied to the "hands off" policy and means "let alone."

The program was in charge of Lion J. E. Payne's and was the first meeting since the club meeting date was moved up to Wednesday. Lion Tom Bergin's aide will be in charge of next week's program.

LOVE, PREFERRED By EDNA ROBB WEBSTER

CHAPTER II TWO WEEKS passed swiftly. Foster and Bonnie returned to New York. Even marriage could not curtail Foster's zeal for keeping his hand pretty well at the helm.

As she went around with her husband in his own circle, and met the younger members of that clique she formed new attachments that completely ruled out the old ones.

At first Foster humored his wife's insatiable desire for excitement and entertainment. It afforded him a certain pride and pleasure to present his pretty wife to those who long had accepted him as a confirmed bachelor.

Mary was a total... she had earned it, whether or not she was related by marriage to her employer.

Unaware of her embarrassment, however, Foster was thinking how like an angel of mercy she looked with the stary eyes that reflected the gleam of the silver star at the top of the tree.

Hurrying along the street in the early twilight, with white snowflakes swirling and zig-zagging about her like the rollicking spirit of holiday season, she checked over flats in her mind.

Even the grocery trucks that clanked and crunched along the icy streets, were festive with Christmas trees on their fenders.

Mary wore an apron over her office frock and her hair was changed from the usual bobbed style to the new wave.

Christmas had followed immediately upon their return to New York. His gift to Bonnie was a handsome town car for her own use.

Remission Of Sins Is Topic

'Can We All Understand The Bible Alike' Subject Tonight

The Church of Christ gospel meeting continues to grow in interest. Last night three responded to the invitation for baptism. The meeting is being conducted in the open air on the corner of Fourth and Johnson streets. Melvin J. Wise, local minister of this church is doing the preaching, and the congregational singing is under the direction of Claude Chelars. Mr. Wise will speak tonight at 8:15 p. m. on "Can we all understand the Bible alike?" He spoke last night on "Remission of Sins," using for a text Matt. 26:28. He said in part: "From our text we learn the purpose for the shedding of the blood of Christ. Jesus said it was for the remission of the sins of many. How intrinsic and wonderful then is the blessing that comes from the shed blood of Christ. Before Christ came the whole world was lost and undone, without hope and without God. Rom. 3:12, 23, Heb. 10:4.

"There is only one thing that can stand between God and man, only one thing that can keep man out of Heaven, and that is spelled with three letters—Sin. John 8:21, Rev. 21:27. The man who dies in sin is lost, is barred from the privilege of entering the Celestial city of God.

"But what is meant by the expression, 'Remission of sins'? First let us talk about what it is not. It is not a change of heart. It is not repentance. It is not a reformation of life. A man may have a change of heart, genuinely repent of his sins, and really reform his life, and still not have the remission of sins. That is obtained only by the blood of Christ. Suppose that it were possible for a man to entirely quit sin, so that he lives a pure life the rest of his days, what has become of those sins? If a man has been a thief for several years and is caught stealing an automobile, would any jury acquit him on the grounds that he has changed his heart, life, and quit stealing his neighbor's car?"

"Remission of sins is forgiveness. The same Greek word is translated forgiveness that is translated remission. Hence, the two English words remission and forgiveness are used interchangeably. We all know what forgiveness means. 'Remission means justification or pardoning. Literally it means to throw back, or away. That is what God does when He forgives our sins. He throws them away outside of all thought of concern in regard to them.

"Remission of sins means 'blot out.' Acts 3:19. When I was a child I had a slate upon which I wrote. When I had filled it full, I would take the eraser and blot it out. That is what God does when He blots out our sins. He forgives us and does not remember them against anyone forever. Jer. 31:34.

"Remission of sins is something that takes place in heaven for us, and not in our own hearts and lives. We will suppose that there is a man in the state penitentiary condemned to die in the electric chair at one minute past midnight tonight. All preparations have been made. The newspaper reporters are on hand, the undertaker is summoned, the electric chair is ready. But just one hour before time for his conviction a message comes from the office of the governor. It is a message of pardon. He has been pardoned by the governor. But where did the pardoning take place, within the prison walls, or in the office of the governor? Now for the application. I have seen some people who say, "I know I am saved, because I feel it right here," and then smile the left cheek. But pardoning takes place in heaven in the mind of God, not here on earth in our own hearts. Solomon says, (Prov. 24:26) "He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool."

"But how may we know beyond doubt that our sins have been forgiven? Some people live today in all sincerity trying to serve God in doubt. They sing:

"Tis a point I long to know,
 Oft it causes anxious thought:
 Do I love the Lord, or no?
 Am I his, or am I not?"

"This is a very dismal and pitiful life to live. I am sure that the Lord does not intend for us to live the Christian life in such uncertainty and doubt. There is a way for us to know about this vital question. God tells us what to bear, what to believe, what to do, and how to live, and He pledges His own word that when we do these things He will forgive us. When a man knows these things and complies with them to the very last point there can be no doubt. Christ tells us to believe, Mk. 16:15-16, Heb. 11:6; to repent, Lk. 13:3, Acts 17:30; to confess Christ, Mk. 10:32, Rom. 10:10; to be baptized, Matt. 28:19-20, Acts 2:38, and to remain faithful unto death, Rev. 2:10. But one says, "Where does the blood of Christ come in? First let me ask where did Christ shed his blood? You answer: In his death on the cross." Correct you are. But how do we get into the death of Christ? Paul says that we are baptized into the death of Christ, Rom. 6:3-4. Baptism alone will not bring you to the blood, but it takes faith and repentance before baptism.

"When the sinner has complied with these conditions, he isn't left to trust in the feelings of his own heart for remission of sins, but in the everlasting word of God.

lose in all the cities represented by the 30-odd bids for public money to finance low-cost housing programs.

For example, in New York City they have unearthed deals where speculators have taken six-month options on East Side property. Because the city originally tried to get money for slum rehabilitation from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation "smart money" knew where to tie up land.

The options cost comparatively nothing. The holders figured to cash in heavily. They won't lose much but they'll lose. "Lukes is going to take his cheap apartment houses 'way uptown somewhere and the same system will apply in every other city where the government can't acquire land at proper cost.

Cleavage—

When Dr. H. C. Taylor sails for Rome next month to represent the United States at the International Institute of Agriculture he won't find any bon voyage messages from President Hoover.

Taylor's appointment to this $5,000 job on the clearing house for world agricultural statistics has an interesting story back of it.

At the time Mr. Hoover was secretary of Commerce Dr. Taylor was chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Mr. Hoover wanted to transfer the Foreign Crop Reporting Board from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of Commerce.

Taylor protested vigorously. He enlisted the then Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace in the fight.

This was the beginning of the cleavage between Mr. Hoover and the farm interests.

Mr. Hoover's inroads on the Agricultural Department were a source of major grievance for Henry C. Wallace.

When he died in office his friends said it had a bearing on his passing. His son, Henry A. Wallace, deserted the Republican Party at the time.

This son is now Secretary of Agriculture in President Roosevelt's Cabinet.

Robert Fechner, General of the Forest Army, quit school in the fifth grade at the age of 15 to become an apprentice machinist.

CUBAN MOB SACKS HAVANA NEWSPAPER OFFICE

This Associated Press picture shows a mob of Cubans in front of the Havana newspaper Heraldo de Cuba, unofficial organ of the Machado government, after they had attacked the property and destroyed much of the paper's equipment. This scene was taken during the wild disorders which occurred during Machado's overthrow.

He spent ten or fifteen years as a "boomer" — which means he hoboed from place to place working all over Central and South America as well as the States. Then he settled down to become Vice President of the International Machinists' Union.

But ask any of the stenographers who take his dictation. They say it's easier and smoother than any they've ever transcribed.

Notes—

A caller rushed into Secretary Ickes' office the other day and protested vigorously about the "employees" he had just noticed playing cards. The caller had passed the press room. A few minutes later Ickes had a press conference and the newspaper men asked for a larger press room "so two pitch games could go on without interfering with anyone's work." They got a larger room. If you listen to those on the inside they laugh at you for marveling at the ideas put forth by the Brain Trust. They say it isn't the ideas accepted that should awe one but the ones that have been rejected.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

Cuba—

Smart people, these British. They were perfectly correct diplomatically in urging us to protect their nationals in Cuba. We have a Monroe Doctrine and a Platt amendment. If we fail to intervene and any Britisher gets hurt they have a legitimate cause to squawk. You may have heard that we are trying hard to build up trade relations with Latin America. We have a nice little commercial battle on with England in Argentina and at the moment we are gaining. Now will any bright little boy or girl tell the class what will happen to our Latin American trade if we intervene in Cuba? If you don't think England is well aware of the answer you don't know John Bull.

As one New Yorker puts it: "Britain will be happy to cooperate to help us lose our South American business."

And it's done without mirrors, too.

Sterling—

Financial circles hear that Britain is pushing plans for development of Empire paper currencies into a sterling union. This union would be open to other nations if they agreed to share its obligations and responsibilities. British financiers seek an ace in the hole in case international agreement on a reformed gold standard shouldn't come about as soon as desired. And they will be out front if managed currencies win the world.

Gold—

Some of the boys are whooping it up for a one-way gold market. This would mean that gold could be bought but not sold. It would be an enormous help to American gold miners and their stockholders—several influential Wall Streeters among them. Experts say it would not help anyone else, but perhaps that isn't necessary.

The gold people are pretty restive about the government's delay in giving them relief. They thought something would happen before now to enable them to sell at world prices.

There is some talk of getting a mandamus against the government for exports from the mines unless a market is created here. The government wouldn't care for legal proceedings on the subject. So insiders say that some form of restricted market has a good chance.

Financing—

The success of the August financing has left the treasury sitting pretty. It could pay off its September maturities out of cash over and above such September securities as may be exchanged for the current issue. Local sound money advocates have been dinging it into Washington's ears that absence of inflection talk made the big over-subscription possible.

New York bankers would not be surprised if a conversion issue were offered in October to lighten the interest charges on the Liberty bonds.

Roosevelt has been leery of baby bonds because they flopped under Hoover. They may come thick and fast later if analysis shows that the public did more than nibble at $5 allotments in the recent issue.

Revaluation—

Experts point out that the treasury would make a nice profit out of dollar revaluation. Cutting the grains from 22 to 16 would give a surplus of 6 grams for each dollar outstanding. That would be enough to amortize public works expenditures without issuing paper currency. This is one reason why we may get revaluation when the leaves start falling. Insiders are hopeful it would lead to tax reduction next year.

Hitler—

Sotlens Behn of the National City Bank and International Tel. and Tel. visited Hitler recently at the latter's mountain retreat in Bavaria. This is the first time anyone outside of his three most intimate friends has been permitted to intrude.

How come? Germany needs cash. "Sport" and "Labor" organizations—the Germans resent the term "military"—are very costly and revenues have fallen off badly.

Germany cannot get foreign credits and domestic financing is out of the question. The only way left to get cash quickly is by granting monopolies. International Tel. and Tel. is in a position to make a handsome loan in return for the German telephone monopoly.

Of course J. P. Morgan and Co. could hardly finance Germany directly under present conditions.

System—

Mussolini has a system all his own for financing public works. He gets the people to deposit their savings in the Postal Banks. Then he takes the cash and gives them government securities instead. They just have to like it.

Sidelights—

Of all people the Chinese have Fascists now. Their shirts are blue. These various breeds of Fascists will run out of colors pretty soon. Al Smith is getting interested in local politics again. He attended a meeting of the city democracy and stirred up trouble for Farley's man Flynn. Tammany wants Farley to know he isn't running the city yet. Comptroller Berry resigned just in time to escape being fired.

Central Power And Light May Soon Be Investigated

McALLEN (UP)—Records of the Central Power and Light Company, water, electricity and ice utility serving more than 100 South Texas cities, may soon be investigated by a committee representing 30 of those cities.

The investigation was planned at a meeting in Beville of representatives of McAllen, Victoria, Sabin, Edinburg, Alpine and Beville, which seek lower utility rates.

The utility has offered all its records for inspection and what ever statistics on its South Texas investments that may be desired.

The group of cities may employ engineers and accountants to study the company's records and financial organization, according to Mayor John W. Ewing of McAllen. The proposal will be considered at a meeting to be held soon in San Antonio.

Several South Texas cities have applied to the federal public works administration for funds with which to construct municipal electric plants.

Hound Dog Mascot Of Firemen Misses His First Alarm In 4 Years

MISSION (UP)—When Jack, the "hound dog" mascot of the Mission Volunteer Fire Department, tumbled from pumper No. 1 while it was answering a fire alarm, he made news.

Jack hasn't missed a fire alarm in four years. When he was thrown from the pumper as it rounded a sharp corner, firemen were surprised. They concluded it had been so long since there had been a fire in Mission that Jack had forgotten to "lean in" on the corners.

Fire Chief Ray Landry's records showed only two fires in Mission since January, 1933, with a total loss of only $10. The fire siren sounded this month for the first time in approximately 150 days. Last year 184 days elapsed between fire alarms.

'Trick' Checks Are Prepared

Millions In Cotton Benefits Drawn To Sidestep Prior Debts

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The agriculture department Wednesday prepared "trick" checks for immediate payment of about $100,000,000 to cotton planters on their crop reduction contracts, without deduction of debts they owe the government.

The check was designed to get around legal complications arising from the millions of dollars the farmers owe on government crop seed and mortgage loans. A typical check reads "Payable to John B. Smith and the Governor of the Agricultural Credit Administration." The later part of the phrase was rubber stamped on the check.

If John B. Smith owes nothing to a governmental agency, he will get cash in full just as though it were made out to him alone. And even if he does owe debts to one or another of the federal loaning bureaus, the chances are that he will be able to cash his check without deductions.

The complicated situation arises from the fact that the cotton farmers who have $130,000,000 coming to them owe the government about $40,000,000. The various governmental agencies have decided to waive deduction of all but $10,000,000 of these debts.

Collection of the $10,000,000 could not be put off because it was made up of loans which had private or semi-private endorsers. This class of debts includes crop liens given to the federal land banks and notes originally given to banks and later rediscouted by federal intermediate credit banks.

Farm credit administration officials admitted arrangement needed a Philadelphia lawyer to explain, but they said its effect was simple, namely:

"That cotton farmers will get all but $10,000,000 of their $130,000,000 processing tax payments in cash."

The decision to waive collection as far as possible was regarded as a precedent in the paying of forthcoming crop reduction benefits to wheat and hog growers.

Court Rules Favorably On NRA Validity

Petition Of Texas Refiners Refused In Quick, Brief Decision

By JULIUS FRANDSEN,
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Roosevelt administration's vast economic rehabilitation program was fortified today by victory for the government in the first court test of the constitutionality of the national recovery act.

The decision upholding the emergency law was handed down in District of Columbia Supreme Court on an application of 49 Texas oil producers and refiners for an order to restrain the government from enforcing orders prohibiting interstate shipment of "hot" oil—oil produced in violation of state regulations.

A section of the recovery act authorized the president to issue and enforce such orders. Counsel for the oil men contended congress had no power to delegate such authority to the president.

Justice Joseph W. Cox curtly dismissed the petition, saying: "Congress had declared that there is a national emergency and has granted the president broad powers to meet this emergency."

"In times of emergency even the constitution is subject to the laws of necessity."

"The promptness of the decision," the justice added, "is more important than the reasons for it or perhaps its correctness."

F. W. F. Fischer, counsel for the oil men, indicated he would appeal. It was expected the supreme court ultimately would be called upon to pass on the constitutionality of the recovery act and other new deal legislation.

Justice Cox's ruling, however, set a precedent which may have an important bearing on decisions in further test cases in the lower courts.

If other federal judges follow his decisions, the recovery program will be protected against legal objections at least until the time when the supreme court rules finally on the issue and this is likely to be a matter of many months.

Justice Cox's ruling upheld the contention of government attorneys that extraordinary grants of power to the president under the recovery act, farm relief law and other new deal legislation are valid as emergency legislation although perhaps not as permanent laws. In passing these laws, congress prefaced each with a declaration that a national emergency existed.

The oil suit was directed specifically against Secretary of Interior Ickes, who issued the orders in behalf of the president. In addition to annulling the constitutionality of the grant of power, Fischer charged the orders deprived his clients of use of their property without the due process of law guaranteed by the constitution.

Justice Cox deemed it unnecessary to rule on this phase of the question. Believing the grant of power valid, he held Ickes was acting directly for the president and hence could not be enjoined.

SAN ANTONIO (UP)—Demands of 100 bootblacks for shorter hours and more pay were met today as the shine boys took advantage of last night's rain and struck.

What the terms were was not revealed. The shine boys were obviously pleased.

Managers of all downtown shine shops tore their hair and thought unkind things as customers jammed their places to have muddied shoes from the downpour brushed up only to find bootblacks unwilling to work.
