Primer Of Politics Is For Texans

DALLAS, March 10 Un - A primer of politics, "voting Responsibili ty," was published here today as a book written especially for Texas voters. It outlines procedures of elections and how voters can have the most influence in political mat-

The book advocates active 'grassroots' participation of voters n precinct level politics.

David S. Switzer, a Dallas public former newspaperman, is the au-thor of "Voting Responsibility." He said he wrote the book because most voters do not realize they have a voice in politics except at the ballot boxes.

"This book tells them how they have a chance - a real chance to have a say in picking public of fice-holders." Switzer said.

The book an illustrated, 30-page. paper-bound edition, will be sold through the Lone Star School Book Depository in Dallas. It is the second low-cost book Switzer has re-leased under a copyrighted Citizenship Responsibility Series he began last fall. The first was a presentation of Texas' motor vehicle in-

Revenue Collector Appointments Should Be Taken Out Of Politics

The 64 internal revenue district comners are appointed by the President subject to confirmation by the Senate. In practice, this patronage belongs to senators, which means that they select the men for appointment, the president follows good party practice by playing along with the senator and appointing the man he chooses, and the whole Senate confirms the appointee for seldom does a senator interpose objections to a colleague's selec-tion. In pure, undefiled political appointments of this kind, the custom is to approve unanimously, for no senator wants to arouse the ire of a fellow senator by saying nay.

The Senate Expenditures Committee has reported unfavorably the President's bill to put all such commissioners under civil service, meaning they would no longer be appointive, no longer the special gravy of the senators. The Senate has get to act on it-it may override its comm tee if it sees fit-and Mr. Truman smells a mouse. He thinks the Senate, after all the hullabaloo about taking revenue com-

If the Senate rejects this reform, it will have a hard time justifying it to the taxpayers. For once Harry Truman is right, and the Scnate should go ahead and take a long step toward cleaning up an unsavory situation by taking revenue commissioners of out senatorial pockets, and giving the taxpayers a break.

One Of Surest Spring Signs Is That You Can Sleep Constantly

That maryelous mechanism, the human body, is at once the strongest and the weakest of all created things. It can take a lot of punishment for years, and then collapse without warning when some sudden demand is placed upon it. It is as delicate as a fine watch, and as rugged as a bulldozer, all at the same time.

This observation was prompted by a sud-den realization that an old familiar mental or somatic quirk is beginning to beset us again as spring approaches. This is the tendency toward deep sleep, and great and persistent difficulty in waking up of a morning. We do not know how many of our fellow humans are affected in this manner, but with us it has been going on for years. We wonder if others are affected the same way and what it could be in our cosmos that causes it.

It always comes with the approach of spring, and lasts pretty well through the summer. You sleep so "hard" that noth-ing short of a thunderclap can arouse you. You get out of bed feeling like you'd been run through a sausage mill. Your coordination is bad, and slow to mend even under the ministration of good, hot coffee. You do not wish to speak or be spoken to. In short, you feel like the hind wheels of destruction.

Now in early fall and throughout the winter you sleep lightly and bounce out of bed in the morning feeling fit and ready for the day's demands. You don't even set the alarm clock; you can count on waking on time without it. You awake cheerful and eager for the fray.

But as sure as the first intimation of spring arrives, you begin to sleep hard and awaken late. You face the day with misgiving and distaste. You are gloomy and pessimistic, you're off your feed, and you're all thumbs.

This is altogether puzzling to us, for springtime is our favorite dish, and by all rights we should hall the dawn with a flapping of wings and an urge to crow. Quite the contrary. Happily, however, the mood soon wears off and you forget all

President Truman Entered N.H. Primary To Save Doubtful Dems

WASHINGTON .- One of the paradoxes of politics is that President Truman allowed his name to be placed in the New Hampshire primary to save a Democratic national committeeman who consistently plays hall-with the Republicans. .

The committeeman, Emmet Kelley, was certain to lose his post and with him other organization Democrats, if the President so tight in New Hampshire that this little group of Democrats may lose out anyway.

Kelley, for whom Truman did this fav or, is so close to New Hampshire Republicans, that GOP Gov. Sherman Adams has consistently appointed him racing commissioner. In return, Kelley has fre-quently thrown his weight behind Republican policies in order to get Democratic members of the New Hampshire legislature to support the governor. Kelley is also backed by the banking interests through the First National Bank of Boston, the utilities through Lawrence Whitmore, and works for the stanchly Republican Brown Paper Company of Berlin, N. H. These are the same powerfur interests which used part of Kelley's machine to attempt to defeat Senator Tobey, though Tobey supported so many of Truman's policies that his GOP enemies called him a Demo-

Thus Truman bared his breast and let his name stand in the New Hampshire primary; to save a leader who has consistently opposed his basic principles; yet who, in order to save his political prestige, is now pulling out every card in the deck to put Truman across in the current pri-

To do so Kelley has done the following: 1. Liped up the s'ate's best Democratic vote-getters to run as Truman delegate, and the smartest politicians to manage the Truman campaign. In contrast Senators Kefauver's delegates are unknown, while his political workers are amateurs

2. Cracked the whip over federal job holders. Jim Farley once said that every federal worker was worth 40 votes, countint his friends and relatives, and, in a small state like New Hampshire, the 2,300 federal jobs are enough to swing a Democratic primary.

3. Swung the labor unions behind Tru man. This was accomplished by a 7-to-3 vote of the United Labor Policy Commitwhich includes the AFL, CIO, United Mine Workers and an independent shoe

Despite this, no AFL representative showed up at the recent Manchester meeting at the Rice-Varick Hotel featuring ex-Sen, Scott Lucas of Illinois and ex-Secretary of the Navy John Sullivan; while Adelard C. tey, chairman of the United Labor Policy Committee—though it may be denied—is a secret Kefauver supporter.

Despite these overhelming Truman odds, however, here is what has been hap-pening in the last week.

By getting out and meeting people, the senstor from Tennesseec has won rank-and-file support. Though not a stirring speaker, Kefauver's sincerity, modesty and honrety has made a deep imprint, and his whirlwind tour of the state has left a is whether it will be enough to offset the organized labor and machine vote.

Kefauver completely honplussed Emmet Kelley by sending a personal messenger to assure him that there would be no hard feelings after the primary. This was done so crietly that it didn't leak to the press, but one of Kefauver's sides march-ed right into Emmet Kelley's stronghold and delivered the message. Kelley was so flabbergasted that he almost sputtered.

In contrast, ex-Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas, still nursing a grudge agsinst Kefauver, has invaded New Hampshire to get revenge. Lucas poured out his bitterness at a secret meeting of Democratic leaders at the Rice Varick Hotel in

About 45 leading Democrats came in response to wires from ex-Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan, but the meeting was brief and dispirited, with Lucas whining about his defeat in Illinois instead of delivering a fighting, pro-Truman

Lucas, an able citizen when he is able too orget the past, complained that Kefauver wouldn't have embarrassed the Democratic party if he had been a good Democrat. Lucas concluded that Presi-dent Truman is "invaluable in this hour of peril" and "should be persuaded to run

Almost unnoticed in the military appropriations bill passed by Congress last year was $100,000,000 to be used for ander ground operations behind the Iron Curtain. This is something which this columnist has been urging for years.

Most Americans have sat back and followed the policy of letting Communists penetrate the USA, without penetrating the Iron Curtain in return. This was one reason for the freedom balloons launched over Czechoslovakia and Poland last Summer which had amazing results in giving hope to people who believed they were forgotten.

However, following the $100,000,000 appropriation by Congress last year, almost nothing has been done to use it for penetrating the Iron Curtain. It has been snarled, partly in a bureaucratic controversy er how the money shall be spent, partly in a controversy over Russian refugees. Recently, however, Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada has been applying pressure to break this stalemete. He has thrown his weight behind the Ukrainians, some of whose leaders are active in the USA. While other Russian refugees in the United States are opposed to the Ukrainians, claiming they are so rabid that they play into Stalin's hands, nevertheless it's a fact that, more than any other group inside Russia, the Ukrainians have the nationalist urge. For years they have sought to be independent of the Soviet. Last Winter, this writer, surveying conditions alongside the Iron Curtain, inter-viewed Ukrainian refugees who reported that the underground movement was still reasonably strong inside that part of the Soviet. While actual fighting against Sovi-et officials had been crushed, the reguless reported that resentment was still smouldering and could be fanned agin.

UN Police Force, Baruch Atomic Plan Are Long-Range Ideas To Secure Peace

By KEVIN McCANN President, The Defiance College

(These articles are based on the book, The Man From Abliens," by Kevin McCann, to be published by Double-day & Company.)

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, who proved himself a our supreme practitioner of military and science in Europe, hates war because he knows it settles nothing. His plan for peace, his strategy to win peace, is this:

i. In the immediate future: make of Western Europe a political, economic and military unit, aided by American and British military and industrial power.

2. In the long run: provide for international disarmament including atomic controls on the Baruch ture. This means courage in facing plan, create a United Nations po- up to sacrifice—both individual and lice force of defined powers, and national. seek international co-operation to promote justice, freedom and economic opportunity "for all men of good will."

At the end of his first year in Europe, organizing NATO, he was hopeful about peace, but, emphasizing his belief in Western European unfly as the foundation of security, he suggested something new: that the European countries officially call a constitutional convention to examine and cope with the problems of a great political and economic unit."

He had already put the case for European unity in these words to ondon six months before:

Doctor Says Jazz Music Is Not Good For You; It's Too Loud!

Whether or not you like jazz music, and there seems to be an unlimited number of people who do, it's not good for you. At least, so says the head of the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N. Y., Dr. Howard Hanson.

Dr. Hanson is critical of that highly nervous, agitated, raucous type of stuff you hear on the radio and juke boxes. He adds he doesn't even know whether it has a name but obviously thinks it should isolated, quarantined and exterminat-

Most Editors Convinced Truman Can Have Bid If He Wants It

Despite Senator Russell's candidacy, for the Democratic Presidential nomination, most editors continue to believe that President Truman can have the nomination if he desires it. - Opinion appears to be about equally divided now as to whether Russell's candidacy may be a major factor in influencing Truman not to run again .majority opinion inclines to the view that Russell would head a third party inevement against Truman, or a Trumanpicked nominee and platform not acceptable to the South. But a very large minority of editors thinks such a third party decision may also depend largely on the GOP's choice of a nominee.

WASHINGTON (D. C.) STAR (Ind.): "Senator Russell without any real cam-paigning won 263 votes in the 1948 Democratic convention. By committing himself earlier this year he almost certainly will enter the convention this summer in command of a sizeable Southern delegation. While there is little likelihood that the Georgian will win the party's first-place nomination, he may well be in position to block the renomination of Mr. Truman, if the President wishes to run again, and to force the choice of some other candidate who would be acceptable to the South."

DALLAS (Texas) MORNING NEWS (Ind.-Dem.): "Senator Russell was the southern choice in 1948 for the nomination. His announcement will probably make him the 1952 southern choice, although another Southerner, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, is a candidate. But southern strength in the Democratic convention will be no greater in 1952 than in 1948. The Truman faction will control the machinery, and will almost certainly nominate Truman if he will accept ... The northern Democrats will be found unwilling to go along with a Russell platform."

HARTFORD (Conn.) COURANT (Rep.): "In 1948 Russell carried the hopes of the Dixiecrats in the party convention. But he declined to walk out on his party. This year may be different if President Truman seeks re-election, ... Perhaps this may have more weight with the President than any other factor. For Russell could conceivably be the Achilles' heel of a thirdterm effort by Truman....Truman has had some kind words for Democratic Governor Stevenson of Illinois. If he interprets the Russell candidacy as notice to him not to split the party this year, it could be that the Truman political lightning will strike Governor Stevenson."

WILMINGTON (Del.) JOURNAL-EVERY EVENING (Ind.): "The situation, as it is now unfolding, is made to order for a President who openly says that he loves the game of politics... He is opposed by one man who has no use whatever for his program of civil rights or federal usurpation of power. He is opposed by another who is making honesty in government a fundamental campaign issue. Will the President not be inclined to believe that the best way to save his Fair Deal and the reputation of his Administration is to ask the Democratic Party and the electorate to give him a vote of confi-

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) TRIBUNE (Ind.): "The Russell candidacy might persuade the stubborn President Truman to run again. It is clearly a stop-Truman tactic, either to convince the President he should not seek renomination or to beat him at the Democratic convention if he tries. A Southern bolt after the convention split the north and south sufficiently to throw the election into the House of Representatives. This is considered unlikely, however... Aside from leading the fight against civil rights, Senator Russell has remained a party regular... keeping his state in the Truman-Barkley column ... in

TAMPA (Fla.) TRIBUNE (Ind.-Dem.); Senator Russell wisely refrains from declaring any intention to bolt the convention and refers to his unbroken record of party regularity. But he significantly adds: 'I do not put party above country.' In the practically certain event of a Truman or Trumanite nomination and the adoption of a platform in line with the Truman policies and program, Russell's candidacy will provide the spearhead for a convention walkout by Southern delegations and the nomination of a Southern Democratic 'ticket."

RICHMOND (Va.) TIMES-DISPATCH (Ind.-Dem.): "Senator Russell's course will also be affected by the Republican choice for President... If Senator Taft gets the GOP nomination, and is opposed by President Truman, the backers of Senator Russell may feel that their man would have to become an active third party candidate, in order to keep the South away from the President. If, on the other hand, Eisenhower is chosen by the GOP, the conservative Southern Democrats may conclude that 'Ike' can take care of himself in the region, and their potential third party effort may fold up.

Diamonds Fail To Burn In Fire

try to take good care of it. This stone is of high market value. Many diamonds have an extra value because they are set in engagement rings. Accidents do happen, however, and the question may be asked, "What would hap-pen if someone dropped a diamond in a fireplace and left it in the fire several

The answer is that the stone would be almost, if not quite, as good as new. Ordinary fires fall to make a diamond "burn

It would be a mistake, however, to suppose that a diamond never can be injured by fire. An extremely hot blaze can de-stroy one. If the temperature of a fire is above 1,400 degrees Fahrenheit, there is danger of loss.

A burning building may supply enough heat to injure diamonds. If a jewelry store burns, the diamonds may have smaller weight at the end. In one such fire, it was found that some of the diamonds weighed only one third as much when they were rescued from the ashes.

If a blowtorch is allowed to play on diamond, only graphite will be left in a ahort time. Graphite is a soft, black car-bon used for lead pencils and other purposes. What a fall in value-from diamond graphite!

Diamonds are the hardest stones in the world. They are harder than iron or any any other metal. It is possible, however, to use an iron hammer to split a diamond. A diamond has so-called "lines of cleavage." An expert can split a diamond easily enough, and this is done by gem cutters who work with rough diamonds to prepare them for the market . .

Long ago it was learned that glass, especially "lead glass," could be cut to look like diamond gems. When cut in the right way, lead glass will sparkle, and it may fool a person by making him suppose he is looking at a diamond. Jewelers can tell the difference with little trouble.

Many ways of testing have been used by the public. For example, a glass "gem" has been crushed when squeezed with the fingers between two silver dollars. A diamond will go through such squeezing without being crushed. If a false diamond, made of glass, is placed in water, it will tend to lose its sparkle. A true diamond, on the other hand, will gleam in the midst of water. For GENERAL INTEREST section of Butane-propane carburetion equipment on your tractor assures you of low cost, clean, efficient fuel that contains no harmful ingredients to foul up your engine.

Commissioned to do that type of work in this area is the S. M. Smith Butane Company, located on the Lamesa Highway near the northern city limits.

Use of butane-propane fuel in tractors means that there will be no sludge formation and no oil dilution. The result is not only a lower maintenance cost but a longer period between oil changes, The equipment available at the S. M. Smith Butane Company is easy to install and is the permanent-type carburetor. What with spring plowing just ahead, now would be the best time to change over the equipment The Smith concern also has in ek such household appliances as Tappan and Roper ranges, Dearborn heaters, Mission hot-water tanks and deep-freezes, all made to use in the rural as well as the urban home.

The Tappan and Roper models come in a wide variety of sizes and prices, made t service the largest size families. Personnel of the Smith company
